officials protesting rent increases at housing project; and attempted legal recourse to USDC, Washington, DC in suit to protest unequal representation in Southern states. LNVC program demands equality on Negro percentage basis.

Tactics: In January 1963, JAMES LUSTIG attempted through contacts to have Newark Branch of NALC form an Unemployed Council. At that time no suitable person was found to head such a council. Wife of NJCP chairman urged Unemployed Council of Newark to picket Newark City Hall in support of people of Birmingham. JAMES LUSTIG made arrangements on 5/8/63 for preparation of leaflets calling for demonstration at Newark City Hall on 5/11/63 under auspices of Newark Branch of NALC. LUSTIG led about 10 or 12 persons who participated in demonstration at Newark City Hall on 5/11/63. JAMES LUSTIG and other CP members made plans for support of demonstration at Trenton, N. J., on 3/24/63 to secure publicity concerning struggle for school integration in Englewood. Twelve to fourteen NJCP members from Newark, NJ, participated in the demonstration at Trenton. LNVC has attempted to hold traffic "stall-in" at opening of New York World's Fair 4/22/64, and has held or attempted to hold LNVC rallies in Newark, Jersey City, Paterson, Elizabeth, Orange, Trenton, Camden, N. J., and Philadelphia, Pa., from 6/64 to 9/64.

SWP, Newark Branch, sent [redacted] to Trenton, N. J., to participate in picket line on 3/24/63 in support of integration of public schools at Englewood, N. J. b6 b7C

Approximately 100 persons participated in picket line at Newark City Hall on 6/10/63 under sponsorship of Newark Co-Ordinating Committee. This picketing was outgrowth of an idea pushed by JAMES LUSTIG. Two CP members participated in picket line.

Mrs. DANIEL FITZGERALD, Co-Chairman of North Jersey Coordinating Committee for the March on Washington 8/28/63 (MOW). 14 CP members observed departing for MOW. HARRY BLOKSBERG informed his CP club that MOW was successfully held but had lost its militancy and that bad part of MOW was the failure of participants to realize that civil rights and end to unemployment can come only with socialism.

7500 copies of "The Militant" were sold in Washington, D. C. on 8/28/63.

March on Trenton 10/26/63 attended by 4000 Negroes protesting job bias in industries in NJ. Participating were 25 members LNVC. BAYARD RUSTIN one of principal speakers. Four known CP members at Trenton rally. DANIEL and SOPHIE FITZGERALD identified as CP members participated in picket line at Paterson City Hall July 1963 protesting job discrimination on new city building construction.

Communist Penetration and Influence in Racial and Other Organizations:

LUSTIG succeeded in organizing UCN in April 1963. Purpose of UCN given as reducing of unemployment among Negroes and to achieve racial equality in unions and job retraining programs. Non-communist among UCN leadership became alarmed at influence of communists in UCN and over communist opposition merged UCN into Newark Branch of NALC where it became the Unemployed Committee of the NALC. LUSTIG was upset over this action. LUSTIG active in preparing Newark NALC press release and supporting Newark NALC leaflet distributions. [redacted] NJCP, very active member of Unemployed Committee of Newark NALC. Informant stated CP always trying to lead NALC and LUSTIG had keen interest in Newark NALC. Work of CP members stimulated Newark NALC activities and pulled it out of its doldrums of 1961 and 1962. [redacted] no longer active by Feb. 1964. Constitution of NALC excludes CP members from holding office in NALC but not from membership. Individual NALC chapters governed by own by-laws. b6 b7C

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

(A) COMMUNIST PARTY, USA (CP, USA)
New Jersey District (NJCP)

The NJCP compromises the geographical area of the State of New Jersey. C.P. member

At a meeting of the State Board of the NJCP on March 1, 1963, DAN FITZGERALD reported on the Englewood School integration problem. FITZGERALD stated that a committee called the Paterson Emergency Committee to Support the Englewood School Fight had been organized with offices at 176 Broadway, Paterson, New Jersey, and this committee had prepared a petition to be distributed, signed and presented to the Governor of New Jersey. FITZGERALD distributed copies of this petition to those present at the meeting of the State Board.

FITZGERALD claimed that the Englewood situation had become a national issue. FITZGERALD urged that contributions be given to the Paterson committee and suggested that the CP get behind this and circulate the petitions, but he warned that the CP should have no direct connection with this matter. N.J. C.P. member DAVID BERKOWITZ discussed the Englewood situation and stated that he had attempted to interest leaders of CORE in the Englewood matter but had been unable to do so.

GERT MANN criticized the form of the petition because it began, "We the people of Paterson" which would not look right if signatures were obtained in other areas of the state. N.J. C.P. member

GEORGE SHELDRICH stated that he had already distributed some of the petitions among unions.

The petition and the Englewood situation were the topics of further discussion. A proposal to invite a representative of the Paterson committee to address the reception for JAMES JACKSON, editor of the "Worker", scheduled for March 16, 1963, was refused because it would give opponents an opportunity to "red bait" and claim that the CP was involved in the Englewood situation.

C.P. member
NJ JAMES LUSTIG appointed DAVID BERKOWITZ and GERT MANN as a committee of two to attempt to have the petition of the Paterson committee retyped in a form more suitable for distribution in areas outside of Paterson.

"The Worker" is an East coast communist newspaper.

In June 1963, JAMES LUSTIG had in his possession a suggested plan of work for New Jersey in 1963, which included the following under the heading Negro Work:

Negro workers constitute the most exploited and most discriminated group. Work amongst them to alleviate their grievances is the most important part of our activity.

1. Through the NALC start to organize the unemployed Negro worker in Newark in co-operation with the Negro churches.

2. Also through the NALC approach the unions and trade schools to admit negro youngsters as apprentices and students in trade schools. Special attention to be paid to the building and printing trades.

3. Unions and chapters of the NAACP to co-operate to help negro unemployed secure jobs and learn jobs.

4. Housing conditions to be exposed and people organized to fight for lower rent, better sanitary conditions and more low cost housing.

BEN DAVIS of New York addressed an expanded State Board meeting of the NJCP on August 11, 1963. DAVIS spoke at length concerning Negro problems. DAVIS described the 1930's as a revolutionary period in the United States. DAVIS compared the 1930's with what he described as the current revolutionary period in the United States. DAVIS stated that the revolution in the 1930's was a defensive revolution consisting for a fight for bread, while the current revolutionary period consists of an offensive revolution involving a fight for status. DAVIS stated that many people are involved in the struggle today and these people can take part because of all the work being done by the socialist allies. DAVIS stated further that the socialist countries will isolate the warmongers and those holding back progress. DAVIS stated also that the growth of the nations of Africa will make for the deterioration of the capitalist system.

DAVIS pointed out that the bases of the present revolution is in the South and this revolution is a continuation of the revolution that began with the Civil War.

DAVIS said that the current revolution is a peaceful revolution without violence or arms. He stated that many different forces are working towards the same goal and this revolution will win freedom primarily by direct action of peaceful masses. DAVIS mentioned that the Muslim group in America was losing out due to their refusal to take a position on the recent strife in Birmingham, Alabama. DAVIS said that the primary appeal of the Muslims is to the middle classes and the CP must appeal to the working class. DAVIS said that there is actually no question but that the main enemy is still the capitalist system and not the Muslims. He observed that the CP recognizes that the Negroes must continue to work with the white people while the Muslims believe that the Negroes must go their own way.

DAVIS in his talk stated that the Negro rights movement must work with labor forces as the struggle is really on behalf of the entire working class, both white and Negro. DAVIS expressed the opinion that the NALC is the most important organization fighting for negro rights and is the organization that will fuse the Negroes with the labor movement.

At a meeting of a unit of the NJCP held August 21, 1963, LEW MOROZE delivered a report entitled, "Role of Party Members in Negro Struggle".

MOROZE said that the CP must change its way of working in the Negro struggle. He felt that CP members must play an intelligent role but must not isolate themselves. CP members, according to MOROZE, must raise the level of the struggle and identify the problems of the Negro people with the problems of America. To accomplish this, all CP units must work into the Negro civil rights struggle.

MOROZE suggested that because security did not permit the distribution of "The Worker" personally to Negroes, CP members should compile a mailing list and distribute " The Worker" to these persons by mail.

MOROZE urged that CP members surround themselves with "grass roots" elements of the masses involved in the Negro struggle. MOROZE stressed the need for Negro unity with labor and suggested that the NALC and CORE should visit every local union in the vicinity of Newark, New Jersey. He also suggested that NALC representatives visit white churches, city organizations and synagogues to build Negro-white unity.

MOROZE stated it is necessary for the rank and file of the CP to participate in all phases of the Negro struggle and recommended that the CP publish an information bulletin which would regularly include information concerning civil rights and Negro history.

At a meeting of a CP club in Newark, New Jersey, on September 17, 1963, a member reported that members of the Newark Branch of the NALC had met with a Negro minister on September 17, 1963, at which time a Negro CP member took the opportunity to raise some questions which JAMES LUSTIG desired to have discussed. The minister was asked what would be done as a memorial for the recent killings of the six Negro children in Birmingham, Alabama; and whether the minister would assume leadership of the "FREEDOM NOW" PARTY at Newark, which appeared to be an outgrowth of a gathering in Washington, D. C., following the MOW August 28, 1963, with the objective of forming an all-Negro third party in the United States.

The minister had no plans to memorialize the killings in Birmingham, but agreed to contact other ministers in Newark, New Jersey, to consider a march by their congregations as a memorial to the killings in Birmingham. The minister refused to assume leadership of the "FREEDOM NOW" PARTY, stating that he was a member of one of the two major political parties and that a third party at that time would tend to split the Negroes.

It was further reported to the NJCP club on September 17, 1963, that the NJCP member had also broached to the minister a suggestion originating with HARRY BLOKSBERG that Negros should begin forming "minutemen" groups in each community to act as strong-arm groups which would protect Negros from violence. The Negro minister strongly opposed the formation of such "minutemen" groups, stating his church could not be used as a meeting place for such groups because the Negro struggle is a peaceful struggle and should remain so.

IRVING POTASH, who was present at the CP club meeting, described the "FREEDOM NOW" PARTY as a Trotskyite-dominated group and stated the CP should not support the "FREEDOM NOW" PARTY. POTASH also felt that a third party was inadvisable.

JARVIS TYNER, East Coast Co-Ordinator of the WEB Du Bois Clubs of America, and MARTY CUCCHIARO both spoke on civil rights struggles in the south at a rally of the NJDBA, on August 15, 1964. They said that everyone should join in protest to insure law enforcement protection of civil rights workers in the South. It was stated that these protests would occur at the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City, New Jersey, on August 24, 1964. There was also some talk of police brutality. The claim was made that the riots in Harlem, New York, were not communist inspired but were due to tension among the people living there.

(2) THE SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY (SWP), NEWARK BRANCH

The SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

A characterization of the Newark Branch of the SWP appears in the appendix hereto.

The Newark Branch of the SWP prepared a six-page letter concerning the racial situation in the South, which was to be mailed in the near future to the President of the United States. This letter was to be signed by MURRAY ZUCKOFF, SWP candidate for the New Jersey State Senate, and by RUTH SHIMINSKY, SWP candidate for the New Jersey State Assembly. This letter amounted to vicious attacks on the President and called him a "paper tiger" for being inactive and indifferent to the cause of freedom in the United States.

The Newark Branch of the SWP planned a leaflet to be printed and distributed among the colored population in Newark, New Jersey. This leaflet was to urge the President to deputize colored people in the South to enable them to defend themselves.

MURRAY ZUCKOFF and RUTH SHIMINSKY are characterized in the glossary hereto.

LAWRENCE STEWART spoke concerning Negro leadership and problems in the South at an Educational Class of the Newark Branch of the SWP on May 19, 1963. STEWART stated that the present Negro leadership is bankrupt and does not represent the true Negro spirit. He said the time has come for the Negroes to fight with all available means for full equality and civil rights. STEWART said that passive resistence as advocated by Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING will not bring full equality to the Negroes in the United States. STEWART accused the President of being inactive and said the Negro people cannot rely on his promises or his law. STEWART declared further that if the use of guns, either gas guns or machine guns, will bring freedom to this country they should be used as well as any other weapons. He said these weapons are now being used against Negroes by the police.

In May, 1963, the Newark Branch of the SWP distributed a leaflet captioned "The Negro Community in Birmingham Should Be Deputized and Armed by the President for Self Defense". This leaflet was highly critical of President KENNEDY and the Administration and stated that a demand must be made of the President that the Negro community in Birmingham be deputized by the United States Government for self defense against the local and state authorities and armed thugs, hooded or otherwise.

LAWRENCE STEWART spoke concerning race riots during a membership meeting of the Newark Branch of the SWP on August 16, 1964. STEWART stated that the white capitalist is not going to let the Negro people have political independence until the leadership of the Negro movement wakes up and unites white labor and Negro labor, and these riots will continue. STEWART said there will be a "blood bath" in the future, that now it is cans and bottles, but the next time it will be guns. STEWART called this self defense of the Negroes.

(3) LABOR NEGRO VANGUARD CONFERENCE (LNVC)

A characterization of the LNVC is contained in the Appendix attached hereto.

On February 15, 1963, CLARENCE COGGINS, Chairman of the LNVC, at a LNVC sponsored commemoration of Negro History Week in Newark, said he had written a book, not yet published, which is entitled, "Taking the Tenth Man's Share". The program for the evening contained a quotation from COGGINS' book as follows:

> "We of the Vanguard are dedicated to the fight for equality. To us, equality means our just share of America. If the Negro is one-tenth of the population, then the Negro must have one-tenth of everything in the land, the mines, the mills, the gold, the natural resources. Yes, we even demand that Negroes have political control over one-tenth of the American territory."

NK T-11 on 2/18/63

A meeting of the LNVC on March 8, 1963, in Newark, New Jersey, concerned what action the LNVC would take to stop the proposed rent increase in low income housing projects in the Newark area. It was decided that the LNVC would see various councilmen of the City of Newark.

NK T-16 on 3/12/63

At a meeting of the LNVC held April 26, 1963, in Newark, New Jersey, CLARENCE COGGINS announced the recent work of the LNVC to stop rent increases in various housing projects had been unsuccessful and the rents had been increased.

NK T-16 on 3/29/63

On December 19, 1963, a news story in the "Newark Evening News", a daily Newark, New Jersey, newspaper, carried an article about an LNVC suit to drop Southern congressmen.

The article pointed out the action was filed that day in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia. The purpose of the suit was to deprive the South of 20 Congressmen and presidential electors. It was based on a charge that Negroes' right to vote is abridged below the Mason-Dixon line. The article stated the complaint is based on the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution which says when the right to vote is denied "to any male inhabitant of such state, being 21 years of age, and citizens of the United States are in any way abridged... the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion while the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens, 21 years of age in such state."

The article stated the complaint lists eight Southern states, their representation and the alleged percentage of potential voters denied their rights.

The article claimed Alabama denied the right to vote to 31 per cent of its citizens; Georgia 29 per cent; Louisiana 32 per cent; Mississippi 42 per cent; North Carolina 25 per cent; South Carolina 35 per cent; Tennessee 17 per cent and Virginia 21 per cent. The article described the LNVC as an unincorporated association of Negro and white citizens, tax payers, and voters organized and operated to promote and advance the causes of constitutional action and legal recognition of the civil rights of minority and laboring citizens of the U.S.

Records of the United States District Court, Washington, D.C., as of August 3, 1964, in Civil Action 3039-63, the LNVC and CLARENCE COGGINS, Plaintiffs, vs. RALPH R. ROBERTS, Clerk, United States House of Representatives, USA; et al, were checked by a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the records do not indicate any action since April 21, 1964, when the complaint was dismissed by the court with prejudice.

At a meeting of the LNVC in Newark, New Jersey, on September 27, 1963, CLARENCE COGGINS distributed pamphlets entitled "The Labor Negro Vanguards Model Plan for the Total Integration of Negroes into American Life by Clarence Coggins". The pamphlet defines "total integration" as meaning "the concept of a national minority attaining their just share of the total wealth of the nation. Total wealth includes everything of value -- land, buildings, industries, natural resources, financial institutions, luxuries, etc., as well as things of intrinsic value, such as dignity and culture. A just share is that percentage of the total wealth corresponding to the given minority's percentage of the total population. If the Negro comprises 10% of the general population, he should possess about 10% of the total wealth regardless of how that wealth is distributed."

The pamphlet sets out the following as the program of the LNVC:

1. As an immediate program the pamphlet sets forth a "compensatory preferential hiring" system which is defined as meaning that all employers hire Negroes at a greater rate than whites in order to obtain a racial balance in the work force.

2. Another method set out is to encourage and stimulate Negro business.

3. All public appointive boards should be adjusted to reflect the racial composition of the community.

A little further on, the pamphlet states, "One could not insist that the Negro who is 10% of the population, should be exactly in that proportion in every single sphere of life. The idea is to prohibit exclusion from any sphere".

The pamphlet concludes as follows:

> "In the main, our program has dealt with getting equal opportunity and skilled jobs in the economy. We have also indicated that the struggle for full employment is a good fight. However, it must be said that in the long run, you can never attain full employment under our present form of society. It takes a World War to put every one to work such as in 1941-1945. Our society in its best day has always operated, because of its very nature, with some unemployment.

"We urge Negro leadership to study more than what appears on the surface in the present problem of discrimination against Negroes. Many of the newly formed nations in Asia and Africa are studying the suitability of socialist type systems. Examples of this since the World War are China, Ghana, Cuba, Algeria, etc. These nations have discovered through bitter experience what we have claimed earlier: to wit -- the main cause of discrimination is the drive on the part of the monied class to increase their profit at the expense of the majority of people.

"Since these new independent colored states seek to eliminate all past inequalities, racial prejudices and other vestiges of imperialism through the medium of erecting classless societies, it follows therefore, that no sincere Negro leader can close his mind to the examination of this question (of erecting classless social societies)."

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

(A) DEMONSTRATION AT CITY HALL, NEWARK, NEW JERSEY, 5/11/63

Information concerning Communist penetration and influence in the UNEMPLOYED COUNCIL OF NEWARK (UCN) and the Newark Branch of the NEGRO AMERICAN LABOR COUNCIL (NALC) is set forth in part III of this report.

On May 8, 1963, JAMES LUSTIG made arrangements for the preparation and printing of 2000 copies of a leaflet calling for a demonstration at the City Hall at Newark, New Jersey, on May 11, 1963, under the auspices of the Newark Chapter of the NALC. The leaflet asked for support of the Negroes of Birmingham, Alabama, and asked that the Mayor of Newark call upon President KENNEDY to declare martial law in Alabama.

On May 10, 1963, JAMES LUSTIG was checking on arrangements for a demonstration at Newark City Hall to be held May 11, 1963. LUSTIG was arranging for a representative of the NALC to lead the demonstration.

JAMES LUSTIG lead a group of ten or twelve white persons who participated in a demonstration sponsored by the NALC at the Newark City Hall on May 11, 1963. LUSTIG's group consisted mostly of members of the NJCP. The LUSTIG group participated in the picketing of City Hall which lasted approximately one hour, after which the pickets conferred with a representative of the City of Newark concerning problems faced by Negroes.

B. DEMONSTRATION AT TRENTON, NEW JERSEY, 3/24/63 IN SUPPORT OF SCHOOL INTEGRATION AT ENGLEWOOD, NEW JERSEY

On March 16, 1963, JAMES LUSTIG conferred with LOTTIE GORDON, LEW MOROZE and BARNETT WALLACE, members of the NJCP, and CLARENCE HORTON, President of the Newark Branch of the NALC. Also among the group was an unidentified member of CORE. LUSTIG pointed out that a demonstration was to be held in Trenton, New Jersey, on Sunday, March 24, 1963, by leaders of a school boycott in Englewood, New Jersey. The purpose was to secure publicity concerning the struggle for school integration in Englewood. LUSTIG suggested that efforts be made to support the demonstration.

Following discussion, it was agreed that buses would be engaged to transport demonstrators to Trenton, New Jersey, from Newark, New Jersey, on March 24, 1963. It was further agreed that publicity would be arranged at Newark, New Jersey, in the "Afro-American" newspaper, and that contacts would be made with local ministers and civic leaders who might be willing to furnish assistance. LUSTIG also suggested that an individual active in New Jersey political affairs, who was interested in racial problems, be enlisted as spokesman for the demonstration.

HARRY BLOKSBERG reported to a meeting of a COMMUNIST PARTY unit at Newark, New Jersey, on September 4, 1963, concerning the MOW, August 28, 1963. BLOKSBERG stated that the MOW would not accomplish any great change in the attitude of the Congress and would not bring civil rights closer to realization, but that the MOW, August 28, 1963, was a success in that the march actually occurred. BLOKSBERG felt that President KENNEDY by his attitude toward the march had robbed the march of its militancy, and by endorcing the march, the President had attracted many persons who would not otherwise have attended.

BLOKSBERG stated that the bad part of the MOW, August 28, 1963, was the failure of persons participating to realize that the United States must have socialism to bring about civil rights and to end unemployment. BLOKSBERG felt that the majority of the participants in the MOW, August 28, 1963, were convinced that these gains will come under America's capitalist system and not with socialism.

At this same meeting PHIL KOHLBACKER told that he had recently been asked to leave a picket line at Barringer High School in Newark, New Jersey, by ROBERT CURVIN, one of the Essex County leaders of CORE. This, according to KOHLBACKER, created a little commotion at the picketing site and reporters came about KOHLBACKER, asking him why he had to leave. According to KOHLBACKER, CURVIN apparently had some knowledge of his background when he questioned him about his activities.

It was learned on July 30, 1963, that JAMES LUSTIG, of the NJCP, had been critical of ROBERT CURVIN, CORE leader, for removing PHIL KOHLBACKER from the Barringer High School picket demonstration which was protesting discrimination in hiring in the building trades. According to LUSTIG, PHIL KOHLBACKER had been approached by CURVIN and was asked if he was the individual who formerly distributed "The Worker" in the Central Ward of Newark. When KOHLBACKER answered yes, CURVIN told him to leave the picket line. LUSTIG stated that it was wrong for CURVIN to do this because everyone was fighting discrimination and KOHLBACKER was in this instance being discriminated against because of his political beliefs.

(L) LNVC WORLD'S FAIR ATTEMPTED TRAFFIC
"STALL-IN" IN NEW JERSEY
MARCH 21 - 22, 1964

The April 21, 1964, issue of the "Star Ledger", a daily Newark, New Jersey, newspaper, in a front page story reported the New Jersey Legislature on April 20, 1964, passed an emergency law with stiff penalties for civil rights demonstrators who "stall-in" their cars on state highways, toll roads, tunnels or bridges.

Passed unanimously by the Senate and Assembly, the bill was immediately signed into law by Governor RICHARD HUGHES, who earlier on April 20, 1964, had directly requested the legislation to cope with a threatened tie-up of roads and tunnels by demonstrators on April 22, 1964, at the opening of the New York World's Fair.

The article stated that at a press conference on April 20, 1964, Governor HUGHES said, "This bill grew out of a report which the Attorney General received that the New Jersey NEGRO LABOR VANGUARD plans to stall hundreds of autos in the tunnels." The Governor added that State Police intelligence had notified Attorney General ARTHUR SILLS of the planned "stall-in".

Governor HUGHES said the VANGUARD was headed by CLARENCE COGGINS of Gardner Avenue, Jersey City, New Jersey. Attorney General SILLS was quoted as saying that COGGINS "says he will have 225 cars and hopes to have as high as 500 and he says nothing will stop him."

On the evening of April 21, 1964, COGGINS said that the sole purpose of all his leaflets and statements to the press was merely a publicity stunt just to get publicity for the LNVC. He stated that he had been very well satisfied with all the publicity that he and the LNVC had received.

COGGINS said, however, that since the New Jersey Legislature passed a law prohibiting civil rights traffic "stall-ins" and since the law's swift passage was attributed to him and the LNVC, that he and AL/OLIVER, New Jersey State Chairman of the LNVC, were going to meet on April 22, 1964, to discuss how they could cancel the "stall-in" and save face in the newspapers.

COGGINS said he acted alone in this matter without consulting any LNVC members and did not actually intend to have any demonstration in the first place. He added that the publicity he and the LNVC had received might be the "break" the LNVC needs to get people interested.

Newscasts on April 22, 1964, over radio stations WPAT, Paterson, New Jersey, and WABC, New York City, both at 7:30 a.m. reported cancellation of the LNVC New Jersey "stall-ins". The report over WPAT stated the new law was a big factor in the cancellation. The news over WABC reported CLARENCE COGGINS and a group would assist the civil rights stall-in demonstrators in Brooklyn.

It was learned that the subject and nine LNVC members met in Newark on the evening of April 21, 1964, and discussed ways in which they could possibly circumvent the new law and still produce a traffic stall-in without it appearing to be a civil rights demonstration. Of the ten people present, only five owned automobiles. Nevertheless, COGGINS phoned the newspaper and claimed their meeting was a hugh success and that they had 200 cars to participate.

RALLY, NEWARK, NEW JERSEY
JUNE 27, 1964

On June 24, 1964, ED WALSH, "Star Ledger" reporter, Newark, New Jersey, made available a press release captioned "Police Brutality Rally". It was subtitled "Arrest of Huldah Clark, who has just returned from the Soviet Union where she has been attending school, and her two brothers".

The press release stated the protest rally was to be held at the Columbus Housing Project in Newark at 6:00 p.m. on June 27, 1964, and was sponsored by the LNVC. The name CLARENCE COGGINS, HE 4-0003, was on the release.

The press release stated "the open air meeting is the result of flaming resentment against the police for its flagrant violation of citizens rights..."

It recited, "Many unjust incidents, culminating in the arrest of Huldah Clark and her two brothers, had forced the community to take such public action to try to put a stop to police brutality".

A rally to protest alleged police brutality in the arrest of HULDAH CLARK on June 27, 1964, at the Columbus Housing Project in Newark attracted about 60 persons from the project. On July 30, 1964, an article in the "Star Ledger", mentioned above, reported that a voters registration rally by various civil rights groups was held quietly and without incident. (Q) LNVC ATTEMPTED RALLIES AT PATERSON, NEW JERSEY, JUNE 27, 1964, JULY 6, 1964, AND AUGUST 13, 1964

The June 18, 1964, issue of "The Morning Call", a Paterson, New Jersey, daily newspaper, carried a story reflecting subject would hold a LNVC rally to protest slum conditions in Paterson on June 20, 1964. The article pointed out the demand would be made that landlords make improvements or face a rent strike by tenants.

On June 23, 1964, the "Paterson Evening News", contained a front-page story reporting that CLARENCE COGGINS of the LNVC had said the LNVC would begin an around-the-clock picketing of the Paterson Mayor's East 42nd Street home on June 24 or 25, 1964. Also the LNVC was going to collect rats at ten cents per rat on June 27, 1964, on the City Hall steps unless the City of Paterson adopted a limited rent control law and repaired slum housing in "receivership".

"In that spirit they can picket until doomsday", said Paterson Mayor FRANK GRAVES.

The June 25, 1964, issue of the "Star Ledger", a daily Newark, New Jersey, newspaper, carried a short story headed "Court Snaps Trap on Rat Purchase".

The article reflected that Mayor FRANK X. GRAVES of Paterson sought and obtained relief in Superior Court, Hackensack, New Jersey: A temporary injunction prohibiting COGGINS from purchasing dead rats on the City Hall steps.

On June 27, 1964, the "Newark Evening News", a daily Newark, New Jersey, newspaper, carried an article relating that COGGINS's "rat rally" had been rescheduled for July 6, 1964.

On July 7, 1964, [redacted] Paterson, New Jersey, Police Department, advised that there was no activity regarding COGGINS and the LNVC on July 6, 1964, the day COGGINS had set for purchasing rats on the City Hall steps. b6 b7C

(R) LNVC RALLY IN ELIZABETH,
NEW JERSEY

A Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on August 25, 1964, observed CLARENCE COGGINS speak at a LNVC rally in Elizabeth, New Jersey.

COGGINS had his four-month old son in a baby carriage. The carriage had a United States flag attached to it. Alluding to the presence of his sleeping son, COGGINS said this was evidence of his faith that the people of Elizabeth were not rowdies but had recently rioted in Elizabeth because they had been "sold out" by their leaders.

COGGINS called for amnesty for all those arrested in rioting in New Jersey within the past month.

On August 25, 1964, at a meeting of COGGINS and a few LNVC members in Newark, New Jersey, immediately after the LNVC rally in Elizabeth, New Jersey, COGGINS discussed cancelling the planned rally in Trenton, New Jersey, on August 27, 1964, but it was decided to go through with it because they did not want to cancel it on such short notice.

(S) LNVC RALLY IN TRENTON,
NEW JERSEY
AUGUST 27, 1964

On August 27, 1964, a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation observed a LNVC rally in Trenton, New Jersey. CLARENCE COGGINS said the LNVC had come to Trenton to organize the Negroes to obtain their rightful share of prosperity.

[redacted], who identified himself as [redacted] of the LNVC, spoke on bringing rent control to Trenton. b6 b7C

A characterization of ALVIN OLIVER is contained in the Characterization of the LNVC attached hereto.

Both COGGINS and [redacted] were observed circulating in the Trenton crowd obtaining signatures. They promised to return to Trenton again, expressing satisfaction with the size of the crowd which had grown from about 25 to 150 people.

(T) LNVC RALLY IN NEWARK,
NEW JERSEY
SEPTEMBER 7, 1964

It was learned that CLARENCE COGGINS, National Chairman of the LNVC and [redacted] b6 b7C of the LNVC, were going to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on September 5, 1964, to look for a site to hold a LNVC rally there in the near future. The source advised COGGINS and [redacted] would travel in [redacted] 1961 light green Dodge Station Wagon, New Jersey License GRY 206. Source stated if COGGINS and [redacted] located a favorable site in a predominantly Negro neighborhood, they would probably distribute leaflets announcing the date and site of the rally.

The September 4, 1964, issue of the "Newark Evening News", a daily Newark, New Jersey, newspaper, on Page 29, reflects the LNVC announced it will hold a series of rallies protesting action of a grand jury in New York City which cleared Police Lieutenant THOMAS GILLIGAN of criminal misconduct charges when he shot to death JAMES POWELL, a fifteen year old Harlem youth last July.

On September 7, 1964, [redacted] b6 b7C Newark, New Jersey, Police Department, advised that the LNVC rally was held from 8:00 p.m. to 8:40 p.m. at 13th Avenue and Rutgers Street, in Newark, New Jersey. He said the crowd numbered about one hundred people. CLARENCE COGGINS and [redacted] spoke on police brutality, slums, voter registration, and urged organization of Negroes through the LNVC. He stated the Newark police had about seventy-five men in the area. He said there were no incidents or violence.

The September 8, 1964, issue of the "Star Ledger", a daily Newark, New Jersey, newspaper, contained an article reflecting the LNVC Labor Day rally drew a crowd of one hundred persons which proved to be a luke-warm audience.

CLARENCE COGGINS asked the crowd if they did not agree that Governor RICHARD HUGHES should grant amnesty to the jailed Negroes who participated in riots in Jersey City, Paterson, and Elizabeth, New Jersey. The article stated he drew a moderate response.

The article stated WILLIAM CLARK, father of HULDAH, who as a fourteen-year-old created a stir three years ago by going to Russia to study, spoke at the rally, saying, "Everything we have been taught we learned from Mr. CHARLIE (the white man). The reason my daughter has been so thoroughly condemned is that she knows something Mr. CHARLIE didn't teach her...."

CLARK was quoted as urging a Negro police chief and a Negro judge in Newark, New Jersey.

(U) LNVC RALLY AT ORANGE,
NEW JERSEY
SEPTEMBER 10, 1964

[redacted] of the Orange, New Jersey, Police Department, advised on September 10, 1964, that this rally of the LNVC was held on that evening at Central Place and Parrow Street, Orange, New Jersey, rather than at Center and Parrow Streets. Meeting lasted from 8:15 p.m. to 8:55 p.m.

The following information was obtained from [redacted] b6 b7C

[redacted] of the LNVC started the meeting and introduced LCARENCE COGGINS, Chairman of the LNVC. In his talk, COGGINS stated Negroes have nothing but since they represent 25% of the population in Orange, New Jersey, they should have 25% of the opportunities. He urged Negroes to seek their fair share. He stated Negro people should organize similar to labor organizations and he suggested that they do not have professional people in leadership since they do not know needs of the little people.

COGGINS also called for better schools in Orange and said Negro people should demand greater Negro representation in official positions. He added that police and public officials in New Jersey are afraid of him because he speaks up for what is right and he described his organization as one trying to get amnesty for people who have been arrested during recent racial demonstrations in New Jersey.

BILL CLARK, who was introduced as a member of the LNVC, also spoke. In his talk he identified himself as the father of HULDAH CLARK, a 16-year old girl who had returned to Russia to study where she is getting a fine education. He related her recent trouble in Newark, New Jersey, when she was arrested by the Newark Police and charged with interfering with a police officer. He was critical of the Newark Police Department's handling of this matter and also made special note of the presence of Orange Police in the vicinity of this rally.

At the end of the meeting, [redacted] invited people to join the LNVC. b6 b7C

No violence or disturbance occurred at this rally which was viewed on occasions from between 60 and 80 people.

(V) LNVC ATTEMPTED RALLY IN CAMDEN, NEW JERSEY SEPTEMBER 12, 1964

On September 12, 1964, [redacted] b6 b7C
[redacted] Camden, New Jersey, advised that at approximately 5:00 p.m. on September 12, 1964, a 1961 light green Dodge Station Wagon, known to be registered to [redacted] appeared at the intersection of Sixth Street and Kaighns Avenue, Camden, New Jersey. Occupants at that time were tentatively identified by police as CLARENCE COGGINS and [redacted] as well as an unidentified man and woman.

[redacted] advised that police authorities b6 b7C requested COGGINS and his party to move from their location to the intersection of Seventh Street and Kaighns Avenue. According to [redacted] COGGINS and his party stated that they did not wish to hold a rally at that location and added that they would return to Camden on September 19, 1964, at which time they would request permission to hold a rally at Sixth Street and Kaighns Avenue and would apply for a permit to use a loud speaker.

According to [redacted] no rally or demonstration was held in view of these facts.

the area and that units of the Camden, New Jersey, Police Department determined that they traveled to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and were last observed in the vicinity of 22nd Street and Vine Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

On September 19, 1964, [redacted] of Public Safety, Camden, New Jersey, advised that no rally b6 b7C or demonstration was held in Camden, New Jersey, on September 19. He advised that no application to hold such a rally or application for permission to use a loudspeaker was received by Camden authorities from either CLARENCE COGGINS or [redacted] or any other members of the LNVC. [redacted] advised that neither of these individuals or any other member of that group appeared in Camden on September 19 to the knowledge of the Camden Police Department.

(W) LNVC ATTEMPTED RALLY IN PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA
SEPTEMBER 12, 1964

It was learned that CLARENCE COGGINS of the LNVC would hold an LNVC rally in Philadelphia on September 12, 1964, at 7:00 p.m. at 17th and Columbia Avenue, Philadelphia.

NK T-6 on 9/11/64

On September 12, 1964, [redacted] Philadelphia Police Department, Civil Disobedience Unit, advised that CLARENCE COGGINS, National Chairman, LNVC, called the Philadelphia Police Department radio room at 6:20 p.m., asking permission to conduct a rally at 15th Street and Columbia Avenue. [redacted] met COGGINS on the street and advised him that because of the recent tense racial situation in Philadelphia in that area, his meeting could possibly be the source of a further outbreak of violence. COGGINS left the area without holding a meeting and was followed to Pennsauken, New Jersey, by the Philadelphia Police Department.

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

UNEMPLOYED COUNCIL OF NEWARK (UCN)

On January 3, 1963, JAMES LUSTIG conferred with [redacted] Newark Branch of the NALC and [redacted] a CP member active in the Newark Branch of the NALC. LUSTIG made suggestions to [redacted] and [redacted] concerning the formation of an unemployed council by the Newark Branch of the NALC. LUSTIG suggested that an unemployed person be appointed as the leader of such a council. Plans were made for [redacted] to convene a meeting of persons they are able to interest in this project. LUSTIG was to attend such a meeting and the meeting would establish the unemployed council. Further plans were made for the council to announce its formation by means of leaflets to be distributed in front of the Unemployment Office in Newark. LUSTIG had his wife type a request to the State Department of Labor at Trenton, New Jersey, for statistics on unemployment in New Jersey. The request was worded so that the information would be furnished to [redacted] LUSTIG instructed [redacted] that LUSTIG's contact with NALC must be kept confidential. LUSTIG stated that [redacted] were the only persons he would contact in the NALC.

LUSTIG, [redacted] conferred again on January 10, 1963, at which time no individual had been located who would be suitable to head an unemployment council.

NK T-2, 1/4/63; 1/10/63

The first public meeting of the UCN, a newly formed committee for unemployed Negroes, would be held on April 30, 1963, at the Mount Olive African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, 41 Stone Street, Newark, New Jersey. Mrs. FRANCES JOHNSON, President of the UCN, announced that the UCN would try to reduce unemployment for Negroes and would fight for racial equality in labor unions and in job retraining programs. Speakers at the first meeting would include the Pastor of the Mount Olive Church and CLARENCE HORTON, President of the Newark Branch, NALC.

On April 18, 1963, JAMES LUSTIG discussed with a few NJCP members a forthcoming mass meeting to be held by the UCN at the Mount Olive Church, Newark, New Jersey, on April 30, 1963. LUSTIG indicated that he was responsible for the formation of the UCN, but did not wish his name associated with the UCN for fear the UCN would be accused of being a communist organization. LUSTIG explained that his wife [redacted] had prepared a leaflet advertising the mass meeting. It was stated that the UCN was a newly organized group and had had only one meeting.

During the meeting of the UCN on April 30, 1963, attended by approximately 60 person, a Negro minister asked questions concerning the purposes of the UCN and the identities of the persons initiating the UCN. This minister proposed that to make the record clear and to protect all involved that a resolution be adopted that the meeting was opposed to fascism and communism. There was an immediate hostile reaction, but after lengthy discussion the resolution passed almost unanimously. [redacted] was among the persons opposing the resolution.

On May 28, 1963, [redacted] explained b6 b7C the formation of the UCN. She stated that JAMES LUSTIG and the minister of the Mount Olive Church in Newark, New Jersey, had discussed the need to help the unemployed and the need to remove discriminatory barriers to employment. The minister asked [redacted] to assist in forming an organization for this purpose; and, subsequently, LUSTIG contacted her and instructed her on the method of setting up the organization. [redacted] further explained that LUSTIG had stated that he would not attend many meetings of the UCN because he had been accused of being a communist. According to [redacted] LUSTIG said that he had appeared before the House Committee on UnAmerican Activities, but had established his innocence. [redacted] stated also that she was aware that HARRY BLOKSBERG and one other person active in the UCN were once CP members and that she knew one other person in the UCN was a member of the SWP.

[redacted] addressed a meeting of the UCN on b6 b7C
May 7, 1963, concerning the racial situation at Birmingham, Alabama. [redacted] asked that the UCN picket the Newark City Hall, Newark, New Jersey, in support of the people of Birmingham, and demand that the Mayor of Newark ask President KENNEDY to send troops to Alabama to protect the Negroes.

NK T-4, 6/3/63

Information concerning communist activities regarding a demonstration at the Newark City Hall on May 11, 1963, is set forth under heading II of this report.

On May 15, 1963, [redacted] and [redacted] b6 b7C discussed the problem created by the presence of communists in the UCN. They considered the possibility of merging the UCN into the Newark Chapter of the NALC. [redacted] seemed concerned about the number of communists in the UCN, and on the fringes of the NALC. [redacted] described JAMES LUSTIG as a Khrushchev communist and stated that there was also a Stalinist communist and two other people who were a third type of communist active in the UCN.

PHIL KOLHBACKER and HARRY BLOKSBERG were among 11 persons who attended a meeting of the UCN on May 21, 1963. At this meeting plans were reviewed for a mass rally on June 8, 1963, to be jointly sponsored by the UCN and the NALC for the purpose of securing funds and members. HARRY BLOKSBERG made a motion that the rally not be jointly sponsored, but that the UCN sponsor its own rally. This motion was met with an ultimatum from [redacted] that the rally would proceed as planned or the NALC would withdraw, which would result in the collapse of the UCN. BLOKSBERG's motion was voted down and plans were adopted for a joint rally. b6 b7C

JAMES LUSTIG was angry on May 25, 1963, when he learned of plans made by [redacted] and [redacted] to incorporate the UCN into the NALC. LUSTIG felt that the UCN was being pulled apart before it got started. LUSTIG immediately arranged to confer with [redacted] and HARRY BLOKSBERG and gave instructions concerning the UCN. LUSTIG finally agreed that the rally of the UCN set for June 8, 1963, could be jointly sponsored by the UCN and the NALC, although he feared this rally would not be a success. LUSTIG wanted the UCN to demand that the Mayor of Newark secure additional federal funds for job retraining programing in Newark. b6 b7C

LUSTIG also conferred with [redacted] on May 25, 1963, but took pains to assure that [redacted] would not be aware of LUSTIG's acquaintance with [redacted] and BLOKSBERG.

attended a meeting of the UCN held May 28, 1963. At this meeting, b7C
[redacted] announced that she would write a letter to the Mayor of Newark with certain demands for correction of unemployment in Newark, and that if these demands were not met, the Newark City Hall would be picketed. These ideas expressed by [redacted] had originated with JAMES LUSTIG.

[redacted] stated on June 2, 1963, that he had had b6
an argument with JAMES LUSTIG concerning the UCN rally scheduled b7C for June 8, 1963. During the argument, LUSTIG had criticized [redacted] for failure to maintain close contact with LUSTIG.

[redacted] also stated on June 2, 1963, that she likewise had experienced an argument with LUSTIG and did not desire to meet with LUSTIG again.

Among persons attending a UCN meeting on June 4, 1963, were HARRY BLOKSBERG and [redacted] During the meeting, a b6 difference of opinion appeared between BLOKSBERG and [redacted] b7C
[redacted] BLOKSBERG felt that the UCN should be interracial in character, while [redacted] wanted the UCN to be Negro orientated. It appeared that [redacted] was concerned about the white COMMUNIST PARTY (CP) members in the UCN. [redacted] attempted to conciliate the difference between [redacted] and BLOKSBERG.

On June 8, 1963, JAMES LUSTIG furnished eight signs for a rally of the UCN and NALC scheduled for that night. These signs were marked Unemployed Council of Newark. LUSTIG instructed that at the rally certain demands should be made, including a demand for a government subsidiary for unemployed persons just out of school who are ineligible for unemployment compensation.

Among the approximately 180 persons present at the rally of the UCN and NALC on June 8, 1963, at Newark, New Jersey, were the following:

During the rally on June 8, 1963, plans were made to picket City Hall, Newark, New Jersey, on June 10, 1963. LUSTIG was known to favor such picketing.

On June 10, 1963, [redacted] and [redacted] made plans to disband the UCN and incorporate it into the Newark Branch of the NALC. [redacted] and [redacted] expressed the belief that they would secure enough voting support to defeat the communist members of the UCN and dissolve the UCN. b6 b7C

HARRY BLOKSBERG and [redacted] were among eleven persons present at a meeting of the UCN on June 11, 1963. A motion was carried at this meeting to disband the UCN and for the group to become the Unemployed Committee of the NALC, Newark Chapter. HARRY BLOKSBERG spoke in opposition to this motion. After the vote was taken, HARRY BLOKSBERG paid $4.00 for membership in the NALC. b6 b7C

HARRY BLOKSBERG attended a joint meeting of the Newark Chapter of the NALC and another group known as the Negro Coordinating Council in Newark, New Jersey, on June 15, 1963. BLOKSBERG spoke concerning discrimination against youths and asked for unity in the fight against discrimination.

HARRY BLOKSBERG called a meeting on June 29, 1963, of five persons interested in the Unemployed Committee of NALC.

EWC:lp

BLOKSBERG presented several suggestions. The first was that the Unemployed Committee of the NALC should pressure Governor HUGHES to ask the federal government to declare the City of Newark a labor surplus area in order that federal money could be obtained to increase the job training program and to assist young people to obtain jobs. BLOKSBERG's second idea was that an effort be made to induce the City of Newark and the State of New Jersey to pass a law requiring a minimum wage of $1.50 per hour. HARRY BLOKSBERG's third suggestion was that the Unemployed Committee of the NALC create a committee to investigate discriminatory practices in housing. BLOKSBERG said this could be done in the same manner as was done by CORE; that is, a white couple would be sent to determine whether a vacancy exists, and a Negro couple would then be sent to apply for the vacant apartment. BLOKSBERG said that if the vacant apartment was offered to the white couple but not to the Negro couple, the apartment house involved could be picketed. BLOKSBERG's fourth suggestion was that the Unemployed Committee of the NALC make greater contact with the youth of Newark through the YMCA, PTA, Boys Clubs, the Youth Training Center, Unemployment Office, and social groups. BLOKSBERG's fifth suggestion was that the Unemployed Committee of the NALC give its support to the Co-ordinating Council of Newark in picketing sites where discrimination is practiced by building trade unions. BLOKSBERG also stated that he would like to see the Unemployed Committee of the NALC go back to its original form of the UCN.

Following the above meeting, [redacted] stated on June 29, 1963, that the UCN had been disbanded and reformed as the Unemployed Committee of the NALC because of the fear that members of the subversive elements might secure control of the UCN, which could not happen while the group was a part of the NALC. b6 b7C

On July 1, 1963, JAMES LUSTIG conferred with HARRY BLOKSBERG and [redacted] concerning the Unemployed Committee of the NALC. [redacted] informed LUSTIG that the NALC planned to permit the Unemployed Committee to operate in a largely independent manner, but that the Unemployed Committee would have to obtain its money from the treasury of the Newark Chapter of the NALC. At an organization meeting of a New Jersey CP unit, held at the residence of HARRY BLOKSBERG, Newark, New Jersey, on August 7, 1963, it was planned that a report on the Newark NALC and its Unemployed Committee be given at an expanded State Board meeting of the New Jersey CP on August 11, 1963.

NK T-2, 8/9/63.

A meeting of the Unemployed Committee of the NALC was held in Newark, New Jersey, on August 17, 1963. HARRY BLOKSBERG and his wife, VIVIAN BLOKSBERG, were present at this meeting. The whole tone of this meeting had been set previously by HARRY BLOKSBERG when he had called the NALC's attention to the job training progam currently used in Union County, New Jersey, for training school drop-outs. The meeting was concerned with BLOKSBERG's suggestion that a similar program should be adopted for Newark.

NK T-2, 8/20/63.

At a unit meeting of the New Jersey CP held at the home of HARRY BLOKSBERG, 114 Seth Boyden Terrace, Newark, New Jersey, on August 21, 1963, LEW MOROZE suggested that the CP help form committees in the NALC.

NK T-2, 8/22/63

[redacted] and HARRY BLOKSBERG are very active members of the Newark Branch of the NALC. [redacted] and BLOKSBERG are the only CP members in the Newark NALC. The CP is always trying to lead the NALC, and JAMES LUSTIG has taken a keen interest in the Newark Chapter. Early in 1963 the Newark NALC was largely a paper organization, but after JAMES LUSTIG took an interest in it, the work of the CP members stimulated its activities and pulled it out of its doldrums of 1961 and 1962. The efforts of the CP have not yet increased the membership of the Newark NALC, but their efforts have increased its activities. CP members' efforts have apparently kept the Newark NALC going when it would have collapsed.

The NALC national organization has a constitution which applies to each individual chapter. This constitution forbids CP members from holding office in the NALC, but does not restrict CP members from rank and file membership in the NALC. Each individual NALC chapter has its own set of by-laws to guide its own day-to-day operation. Membership of the Newark NALC, from January through June, 1963, was approximately thirty.

CONGRESS OF RACIAL EQUALITY (CORE)

The practice of using the name of CORE by local groups is very loose. Groups who have a particular matter that they desire to protest, without any approval or authorization from national headquarters of CORE, begin identifying themselves as a CORE group. After such a group has come into existence, they may then apply to CORE headquarters for a charter. If CORE national headquarters believes the group is directly representative and is willing to follow the aims and purposes of CORE, they will then be given a charter as an affiliated CORE group.

Membership in CORE in the State of New Jersey fluctuates highly. No one could give the exact number of members of CORE in New Jersey.

The national policy of CORE is to exclude participation in its activities by members of the CP, the SWP, or any subversive group. Every possible effort is made to keep such persons out of the organization, but at times CORE might not have been completely successful in this. Due to the loose use of the name CORE, groups using the name can be in many instances independent in their activities and in their membership.

The national constitution for CORE provides that no one holding a philosophy inimical to the philosophy of CORE may be an active member. This means communists can not be active members because the CORE philosophy is non-violence and contrary to communist philosophy.

A by-law of CORE in effect before a national constitution was adopted specifically stated that communists and fascists would not be active members of CORE.

CORE has three classes of members: one, probationary; two, associate; and three, active. It is the responsibility of each local CORE group to define the qualifications for its active membership, but these qualifications must be approved by the national office of CORE and must conform to the national constitution. Only active members have the right to vote in CORE.

NEWARK COMMUNITY UNION PROJECT, ALSO KNOWN AS NEWARK FULL EMPLOYMENT PROJECT, NEWARK COMMITTEE ON FULL EMPLOYMENT

A group of about thirteen students had recently come to Newark, New Jersey, and were operating the Newark Full Employment Project from an office at 716 Bergen Street, Newark, New Jersey. It appeared possible that this group might lay the groundwork for labor unrest, which could lead to disorders similar to those which have occurred in other cities. Subsequent to the arrival of these students in the Clinton Hill area of Newark, the Negro citizens of that area had become much more outspoken in their demands and during contacts with officials of the City of Newark. As an example, in early July, 1964, a group of persons came to the City Hall in Newark, New Jersey, under the leadership of two of these students and demanded that the city designate a certain area as a play street. The purpose of the Newark Full Employment Project is to establish a new and vigorous grass root movement around the issue of unemployment. The project will be undertaken in a section of the Clinton Hill area of the South Ward.

Among areas to be explored by the project is a campaign against discrimination. Four major groups are participating in the project:

(1) Newark Committee on Full Employment

(2) Students For a Democratic Society (SDS)

SDS is an active movement of students and young adults organized in campus chapters independently. About one dozen SDS volunteers are now in Newark and living with families in the Clinton Hill area.

It is expected that the project will last for several years and some of the volunteers will stay for the duration of the project.

EMERGENCY CIVIL LIBERTIES COMMITTEE

The EMERGENCY CIVIL LIBERTIES COMMITTEE (ECLC) has been described by the House Committee on Un-American Activities in the "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," revised January 2, 1957, as follows:

> "To defend the cases of communist lawbreakers, fronts have been devised making special appeals in behalf of civil liberties and reaching out far beyond the confines of the Communist Party itself. Among these organizations are the  Emergency Civil Liberties Committee. When the Communist Party itself is under fire these fronts offer a bulwark of protection".
> (Internal Security Subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee, Handbook for Americans, S. Doc. 117, April 23, 1956, pg. 91)

On June 12, 1961, a source advised that the New Jersey Advisory Committee was formed as a New Jersey counterpart of the New York ECLC in 1955 in Newark, New Jersey. The organization was organized under the direction of the ECLC and later became the New Jersey Division of the ECLC (NJDECLC). The NJDECLC looks to the ECLC for publications and literature on civil liberties and related causes and has, over the years of its existence, looked to the parent New York ECLC for leadership and for furnishing speakers at NJDECLC functions in New Jersey.

This source advised on December 13, 1961, that while there is literature being received from the ECLC at 421 Seventh Avenue, New York City, by members of the NJDECLC, there is no known activity at present or in the planning stage for the near future on the part of the NJDECLC. There is no formal headquarters for the NJDECLC, nor has there been in the past, and all activities, if any in the past, of the organization have been handled by the officers and members from their homes.

INDEPENDENT SOCIALIST LEAGUE (ISL)

FORMERLY WORKERS PARTY (WP)

"The May 4, 1942, issue of 'Labor Action,' then an official publication of the Workers Party (WP), carried an article which reflected that the WP was formed in April, 1940, as a result of a split within the leadership of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP). The article stated that when the Hitler-Stalin Pact was signed and Poland invaded, the minority group within the SWP, in proclaiming the formation of the WP, condemned the pact as being imperialistic in nature and stated it would not support either imperialist camp.

"The April 25, 1949, issue of 'Labor Action' contained an account of the Fifth National Convention of the WP, held March 24-27, 1949, in New York City, which reflected the change of name of the organization from the WP to the Independent Socialist League (ISL) in order to emphasize the character of the group as a propaganda group for the spreading of socialist ideas and not as a full-fledged political party.

"The July 14, 1958, issue of 'Labor Action,' an official publication of the ISL, contained an article captioned 'The ISL Program in Brief.' The article indicated: 'The ISL stands for socialist democracy and against the two systems of exploitation which now divide the world: capitalism and Stalinism. The ISL, as a Marxist movement, looks to the working class and its ever-present struggle as the basic progressive force in society. The ISL is organized to spread the ideas of socialism in the labor movement and among all other sections of the people. There can be no lasting and genuine democracy without socialism and there can be no socialism without democracy.'

"The September 22, 1958, issue of 'Labor Action' contained an undated statement signed by the Political Committee of the ISL which indicated that the ISL had been dissolved. The statement urged former ISL members to join the Socialist Party - Social Democratic Federation.

LABOR-NEGRO VANGUARD CONFERENCE,
Formerly known as the Labor-Negro
Vanguard Party

In a press release dated November 18, 1961, the LABOR-NEGRO VANGUARD PARTY (LNVP) stated:

"The growing influence of the irredentist forces upon the policies of our nation as indicated by the alarming drift towards war and the outlawing of the COMMUNIST PARTY (CP) has accentuated the need for all racial, progressive, and liberal forces to unite in a common party."

In a leaflet entitled, "Call to Progressive Minded America," issued by the LNVP, its founding convention was scheduled for November 25, 1961, in New York City. The aims and purposes were listed as:

1. For the resurgence of the American Labor Movement.

2. For the winning of the struggle for Negro rights.

3. For an end of the cold war.

4. For economic security and higher mass living standards.

5. For the end of the exploitation of man by man.

A source advised on December 19, 1961, that CLARENCE COGGINS is considered the Provisional Chairman of the LNVP. Other active members include [redacted] WILLIAM CLARK, and [redacted] b6 b7C

A second source advised on December 12, 1959, that CLARENCE COGGINS, [redacted] WILLIAM CLARK, and [redacted] were all members of the Harriet Tubman Section of the Essex County, New Jersey, CP, which was expelled from the Party with no right of appeal by action of the 17th National Convention, CP, USA, being held December 10-13, 1959.

A third source advised on March 7, 1962, that the SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY (SWP) and the LNVP are working closely in efforts to bring disgruntled CP members to their respective camps and are working jointly in the political field. FARRELL DOBBS, National Secretary of the SWP, has asked SWP members to support the LNVP.

The third source advised on June 26, 1963, that due to mutual suspicion, the drive toward unity between these two organizations has ceased.

On January 15, 1963, the first source advised that the LNVP is now using the name LABOR-NEGRO VANGUARD CONFERENCE (LNVC) and is the name the organization is now known by and under which name all leaflets are issued.

On June 28, 1963, the first source stated that the LNVC does not exist on a national scale, and although CLARENCE COGGINS, Chairman of the LNVC, has traveled through the eastern portion of the country to promote the LNVC, the only organized group to date exists in New Jersey.

On May 18, 1964, a fourth source advised that the LNVC has divided its New Jersey group into three branches, with one each in Newark, Jersey City, and Orange.

NATION OF ISLAM, formerly
referred to as the Muslim Cult of Islam, also known as Muhammad's Temples of Islam

In January, 1957, a source advised ELIJAH MUHAMMAD has described his organization on a nationwide basis as the "Nation of Islam," (NOI) and "Muhammad's Temples of Islam."

On May 8, 1964, a second source advised ELIJAH MUHAMMAD is the national leader of the NOI; Muhammad's Temple of Islam No. 2, 5335 South Greenwood Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, is the national headquarters of the NOI; and in mid-1960, MUHAMMAD and other NOI officials, when referring to MUHAMMAD's organization on a nationwide basis, commenced using either "Mosque" or "Temple" when mentioning one of "Muhammad's Temples of Islam."

The NOI is an all-Negro organization which was originally organized in 1930 in Detroit, Michigan. MUHAMMAD claims to have been selected by Allah, the Supreme Being, to lead the so-called Negro race out of slavery in the wilderness of North America by establishing an independent black nation in the United States. Members following MUHAMMAD's teachings and his interpretation of the "Koran" believe there is no such thing as a Negro; that the so-called Negroes are slaves of the white race, referred to as "white devils," in the United States; and that the white race, because of its exploitation of the so-called Negroes, must and will be destroyed in the approaching "War of Armageddon."

In the past, officials and members of the NOI, including MUHAMMAD, have refused to register under the provisions of the Selective Service Acts and have declared that members owe no allegiance to the United States.

On May 5, 1958, the first source advised MUHAMMAD had, upon advice of legal counsel, tempered his personal statements and instructions to his ministers concerning the principles of his organization in order to avoid possible prosecution by the United States Government; however, he did not indicate any fundamental changes in the teachings of his organization.

On May 7, 1964, a third source advised MUHAMMAD had, early in July, 1958, decided to de-emphasize the religious aspects of the teachings of Islam and to stress the economic benefits to be derived by those Negroes who joined the NOI. This policy change, according to MUHAMMAD, would help him acquire additional followers and create more interest in his program.

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA

A source has advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the COMMUNIST PARTY (CP), including National Functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates to this meeting were cautioned against the germ of anti-Soviet and anti-CP ideologies. These delegates were also told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second conference of over 20 persons met in Chicago on December 28-29, 1963, for the purpose of initiating a "call" to the new youth organization and planning for a founding convention to be held in June, 1964.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention. The aims of this organization, as set forth in the preamble to the constitution, are, "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful co-existence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that these solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anti-communism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people. As young people in the forces struggling for democracy, we shall actively strive to defeat these reactionary and neo-fascist elements and to achieve complete freedom and democracy for all Americans, thus enabling each individual to freely choose and build the society he would wish to live in. Through these struggles we feel the American people will realize the viability of the socialist alternatives."

The constitution further states that this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals or if five or more people so desire a chapter can be formed which shall in turn be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

The second source has also advised that at the founding convention it was voted that the organization should be temporarily headquartered in San Francisco, California, although no specific physical location was decided upon. This same source advised on June 29, 1964, that the temporary headquarters of this organization is 1007 Mc Allister Street, San Francisco, which is the headquarters of the W.E.B. Du Bois Club of San Francisco.

Both sources have advised that at the founding convention two officers were elected:

PHILIP CHAPIN DAVIS, President, and
CARL ELLENGER BLOICE, Publications Chairman.

A third source has advised that on October 26, 1962, PHILIP DAVIS attended a CP recruiting class held at 1579 Scenic Avenue, Berkeley, California.

A fourth source has advised that CARL BLOICE, reporter for the "People's World" newspaper, was, on April 3, 1964, elected to the newly organized San Francisco County Committee of the CP.

The "People's World" is a West Coast communist newspaper published weekly in San Francisco, California.

Title: COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS

Character: INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Synopsis:

Members of the Communist Party (CP) in Virginia have done considerable talking relative to the racial situation and the activities and events occurring over the past one and three-quarter years. On a Virginia level, they have concluded the CP has been left behind in the "Negro Liberation Movement," and there was not much the Party could do about it locally. Actual participation and/or influence by the CP in this area negative.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

(A) COMMUNIST PARTY, USA

1. Plans and strategy on a National level.

No information developed.

2. Plans at district and lower level meetings.

RH T-1 advised on January 16, 1963, that during a meeting of the State Executive Committee of the Communist Party (CP) held at Roanoke, Virginia, on January 13, 1963, [redacted] known to the informant as a member of the National Executive Committee of the CP, who was present, requested the state leadership to try and conduct an effective fight around reopening the public schools in Prince Edward County, Virginia, which had been previously closed rather than comply with the Supreme Court order to integrate. He urged the same course on the Voters Registration Movement.

RH T-1 again advised on January 28, 1963, that a meeting of the Richmond Club of the CP was held January 22, 1963. At this meeting, a discussion was had concerning the previous request made by [redacted] calling for direct action on the school situation in Prince Edward County, Virginia. The group decided to issue a leaflet on the matter.

RH T-2 reported on May 13, 1963, that the Richmond Club of the CP held a meeting May 7, 1963, and conducted a discussion on the racial question. LOUIS KALB, who was present and who is known to the informant as a member of the CP, related that while the Negro people were doing a terrific job and some leading Negroes were helping to a great extent in the freedom drive, the possible weakness was that the "white liberals" were not speaking out sufficiently nor giving open support. KALB advocated they should have white people such as labor leaders speak out on this issue.

KALB further felt that in Virginia certain leading white citizens could strengthen the racial fight in Birmingham, Alabama, by sending protests and making public statements. He proposed that the CP members try and initiate actions locally such as public demonstrations and a march on the State Capitol. It was decided that certain individuals would be seen in an attempt to secure these actions and to have various racial groups stage protests on the Birmingham situation.

RH T-1 again reported on June 3, 1963, that a meeting of the Richmond Club of the CP was held May 21, 1963. At the meeting, the group again discussed the current status of the Birmingham, Alabama, racial struggles.

LOUIS KALB stated that the Negro people were doing an outstanding job in their struggle for freedom but lacked a more dynamic position from all over the country by "white liberals." He also felt more demonstrations throughout the country by both Negro and white to support the Birmingham struggle was needed. He stated that the Virginia Council on Human Relations (VCHR) was the most important voice to come out in support, endorse and initiate local actions. He stated the VCHR did not do this on their own initiative but they, the CP members, could try to influence individual people they know toward this action.

> With respect to the VCHR, "The Richmond Times-Dispatch" newspaper in its issue of May 16, 1955, carried an article reflecting that the VCHR was formed in Richmond, Virginia in February of 1955 and was affiliated with the Southern Regional Council with headquarters in Atlanta, Georgia. The announced aim of this organization was the promotion of better relations for racial and economic groups through a program of educational activities throughout the South.

RH T-1 again reported on June 13, 1963, that members of the Richmond Club of the CP met on June 4, 1963, and further discussed the racial situation in Birmingham, Alabama.

LOUIS KALB again raised the question of the lack of white participation and the lack of local Negro activity in Virginia in support thereof. He analyzed the situation insofar as Richmond was concerned by pointing out that students had earlier conducted a drive against discrimination in downtown Richmond stores and after winning that battle had not seen the need for further action except for recent picketing of downtown Richmond theatres.

He pointed out that most of this activity occurred when schools were in session and had been conducted mostly by out-of-town students. He felt that as these students had now returned to their homes, it would be difficult to secure further action unless local students and adults could be influenced.

KALB also raised the question of white participation in public demonstrations and picketing and also whether or not CP members should join in this picketing.

VA. [redacted] who was present and who is known to the informant as a member of the CP in Virginia, raised the possibility of this doing more harm than good unless other white people besides CP members also participated. KALB agreed that they should not get into any public picketing demonstrations alone, but if other white people could be influenced to participate then they should certainly consider joining in also. b6 b7C

RH T-1 further reported on June 28, 1963, that on June 20, 1963, a meeting of the Richmond Club of the CP was held. The members again discussed issues around the Negro Liberation Movement for Civil Rights involving Danville, Virginia; Jackson, Mississippi; and Birmingham, Alabama.

LOUIS KALB stated that the situations in these various localities show that the Negro people are moving "without us" and he called for possible CP participation in Richmond demonstrations.

KALB pointed out that there was a need for this to the extent that they might even have to join the demonstrations at the risk of losing their jobs and possibly going to jail. He felt this action was necessary in order for the CP to regain the influence and leadership it once had in the Civil Rights Movement. He suggested they should issue a leaflet calling for more demonstrations thereby identifying themselves more closely with the Civil Rights fights.

RH T-1 reported on July 11, 1963, that several members of the Richmond Branch of the CP met in Richmond, Virginia, on July 2, 1963. At this meeting the group discussed the present day news concerning the Negroes' struggles in Danville, Virginia; Jackson, Mississippi; Birmingham, Alabama; and Cambridge, Maryland, as well as other parts of the country.

LOUIS KALB voiced the opinion there was a tendency on the part of some Negro leaders to go along with the current administration and "soften up on the demonstrations." He felt if this should happen, the CP should be ready to move in and strengthen the militant fight by seeking to keep the present demands and actions alive among the Negro people.

KALB analyzed the struggle as a complete revolution which was crumbling down the walls of segregation. He pointed out it was unfortunate "we find ourselves" dragging behind instead of leading. He stated the Negro people were going ahead but nevertheless he could see the fruits of the advance position the CP has taken over the years. He advocated that the Negro struggle and the possible need for the CP to move in, in the event the Negro leaders falter, be fully discussed at the next State CP Committee meeting scheduled for July 14, 1963.

RH T-1 reported that a State Executive Meeting of the CP was held in Roanoke, Virginia, on July 14, 1963. During the meeting, [redacted] from Baltimore, Maryland, who was present, reported concerning his trip to Danville and Lynchburg, Virginia, and he remarked as to the great difference observed between the two cities. He pointed out that in Lynchburg, Negro and white children were peacefully playing together on the streets while in Danville, there was hardly anyone on the streets. He related he had gone to a church in Danville where he found hundreds of Negro people and some white people, all of whom were softly singing the marching songs of the Negro freedom drive. He reported this meeting was largely taken up with young people telling of their experiences on picketing lines and on various marches.

[redacted] further stated he had talked to [redacted] b6 b7C of Lynchburg, concerning a defense committee on behalf of a Negro boy of Lynchburg, and that [redacted] had invited him to speak at his, [redacted] church in Lynchburg on Sunday evening, July 14, 1963, which he expected to do.

The informant further reported that [redacted] b6 b7C who is known to the informant as a member of the CP in Virginia, called for a discussion as to what the CP could do to enter this fight and strengthen the Negroes' demands and to develop support for the President's Civil Rights Bill.

LOUIS KALB, who was present, commented on the possible tendency by Negro leaders to slow down on their demands which brought up the need for the CP to get into the movement to strengthen its militancy. The informant reported the following proposals were made for actions by the CP in Virginia relative to the Negro activity:

1. Party leaflets on reopening the schools in Prince Edward County.

2. Work toward this school question being the center of the Negro struggle and that every demonstration have flags calling for reopening of the Prince Edward Schools.

3. Get white people moving on these questions and have the people in Virginia support the Negro liberation drive and demonstrations.

4. Party members should contact [redacted] b6 b7C of Norfolk, Virginia, to find out from him what the white people could do in Virginia on behalf of the Negro struggle.

5. Begin work to have Richmond delegates go to Washington, D. C., for the demonstrations scheduled for August 28, 1963, either as participants or onlookers.

With respect to [redacted] 1960 mentioned above, the February 27, 1960, issue of the "Journal and Guide," a Negro newspaper published weekly in Norfolk, Virginia, reflected that [redacted] Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), Executive Secretary, reported that [redacted] a third Field Secretary, would be sent to the scenes of sit-in demonstrations to assist in training students in non-violent direct action methods. Informant advised that [redacted] urged the Party group in Virginia to make this Prince Edward County School question the center of all the fights involving Negro demonstrations and picket lines. He felt that many white people such as church people, liberals and those interested in education could be rallied around this, which should make a joint effort for Negro rights much easier. b6 b7C Informant also related that [redacted] discussed the actions occurring in the racial demonstrations at Cambridge, Maryland. He related that he had not attended for fear of being recognized and possibly setting off a red baiting attack, but did say "we" had people there and also had representatives from the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), pointing out that they did not desire for us to join the demonstrations but would come to us for advice and discussions. "The Courier-Journal," Louisville, Kentucky, a newspaper of general circulation, on February 3, 1959, reported that CARL BRADEN had been sentenced to one year in prison on a charge of contempt of Congress on February 2, 1959, in Atlanta, Georgia. The story noted that he had been convicted under this charge on January 21, 1959, and that the charge arose from his refusal to answer questions before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

"The Louisville Times," Louisville, Kentucky, a newspaper of general circulation, on February 27, 1961, reported that the United States Supreme Court had, on that date, affirmed the contempt of Congress conviction of BRADEN.

"The Courier-Journal" on May 2, 1961, reported that CARL BRADEN had surrendered to the United States Marshal at Atlanta, Georgia, on May 1, 1961, to begin serving a one-year prison sentence for contempt of Congress.

"The Courier-Journal" on February 2, 1962, reported that CARL BRADEN had been released from the Federal Prison Camp at Allenwood, Pennsylvania, on February 1, 1962. BRADEN indicated that he would return to his home, Louisville, Kentucky.

On June 27, 1962, Mrs. CARL (ANNE) BRADEN and MRS. RH T-2 again reported on August 1, 1963, that a CP meeting was held at Baltimore, Maryland, on July 22, 1963.

[redacted] who was present, commented that when he had been in Lynchburg, Virginia, during the middle of July, he had talked to [redacted] concerning the situation in Danville, Virginia, and that [redacted] wanted young people from all over the country to participate in the Danville racial demonstrations. b6 b7C

[redacted] indicated he would like to talk to [redacted] more about the [redacted] case and that he would like to have several CP functionaries go with him to visit [redacted] b6 b7C

He named one member he felt might be able to play a successful role in the Danville situation as he was not known in that area.

RH T-1 also advised on August 2, 1963, that during a meeting of the Richmond Club of the CP on July 30, 1963, the group discussed certain activities of the demonstrators and marchers at Farmville, Virginia.

Also discussed were the proposals previously made by [redacted] at the State Executive Committee meeting. It was agreed that the group would try to form a state-wide front organization for the purpose of working toward opening the Prince Edward County schools and that this organization would try to tie in these demands with all Negro demonstrations elsewhere. b6 b7C

It was further agreed the CP would encourage all persons possible to form such a state-wide organization and finally, the CP would also mail out a leaflet concerning this same issue.

[redacted] who was present and who is known to the informant as a member of the CP from Richmond, Virginia, gave a report on a rough draft copy of the proposed CP leaflet on the Prince Edward County school issue. The group decided, however, that this rough draft as written was too general and did not call for specific actions nor did it propose specific reforms. The group also decided that after this rough draft had been revised, it would then be sent to [redacted] at Baltimore, Maryland, where the stencil for same would be made and 350 copies run off by the Party in Baltimore and would then be mailed to Virginia where 100 copies would be sent to the club in Roanoke, 100 to the club in Norfolk and the remainder to the club in Richmond.

At this same meeting, the group decided it would be unnecessary to take much action toward urging delegates to attend the proposed March on Washington on August 28, 1963, as this had already received wide publicity. It was felt, however, that the members of the Richmond Club of the CP would try to influence anyone they could to attend this march, either as observers or participants.

RH T-1 further related on September 17, 1963, that the Richmond Club of the CP again met on September 3, 1963, at which time the March on Washington was again discussed together with the Civil Rights Movement in general. The need for a continuation of the militant drive on the part of the Negro people was raised. The need for a broad front meeting of the white people who had gone to Washington was also discussed and LOUIS KALB, who was present, proposed that the CP in Richmond try and arrange to have leaders in the various churches who took part in the March on Washington to organize a united front to discuss not only the march itself, but means for continuing a broad front coalition on behalf of Civil Rights.

RH T-1 again reported on September 17, 1963, that a Southern Region meeting of the CP was held in Baltimore, Maryland, on September 14, 1963.

During this meeting, which was attended by ARCHIE NESTER, he informed the others present that the Negro people are spearheading a social revolution and "we've" been left behind. He stated they must find ways of giving leadership to this movement and to weld together the masses of white labor with the Negroes in a common struggle on economic issues.

Informant also related that BEN DAVIS, who was present at this meeting, said the CP problem was the fact that the militant Negro people were moving without CP leadership even to the point of saying that they did not need CP help.

DAVIS felt they would need such help and inquired "How else can they complete the bourgeoisie revolution in the south?"

DAVIS pointed out that the job was to give the Negro movement help in some way that would be acceptable to them and that they should weld the masses of the poor white class into a common economic struggle with the Negro.

He further pointed out that the trend of events has reached the point where masses of the white people in the south need the help of the Negro people and the white people need the help of the militant Negro leadership.

DAVIS stated he felt it was their job to see that the Negro people take up the fight for the white masses, thus joining the two groups in a mass economic struggle that would revolutionize the south. He said he felt this was coming and he was looking forward to seeing the south as the most beautiful part of the country to live in politically, economically and socially.

Informant further related that in discussing the March on Washington, MARY KALB, who was present and who is known to the informant as a member of the CP in Virginia, related she was the only one of the CP members who had attended this march and had done so with a Catholic interracial group. She stated it was her feeling their failure had been in not getting enough Virginia people to attend. The group itself felt it was a CP responsibility to see that the enthusiasm of this movement was increased and not allowed to diminish.

Informant further related that BENJAMIN DAVIS inquired of the Virginia members of the CP as to why it was they had so few, if any, Negroes in the CP in the south.

ARCHIE NESTER answered him, stating that in past years their work had been mostly among the Negro people and they had been told that the Negro people were ready to move, that the CP responsibility was to move the white people along with them. He related they had made the mistake of not maintaining consistent relationships with the Negro people while trying to work with the white people. This resulted in their finding themselves being left behind.

NESTER stated he felt the Negro people were still their friends, but the CP now found itself in the position of the Negro people apparently not wanting their help. He pictured the problem as one of finding out how the CP could reclaim the influence it once had.

DAVIS replied by saying they could accomplish this through efforts to make the people realize the need for an alliance with masses of poor whites. He pointed out that the CP was in a similar position in that the Negro leadership does not see the need for Communism. He advised, however, that when the CP brings about the bourgeoisie revolution, they would then find leading Negroes saying "Why, I'm a Communist myself."

RH T-1 again reported on October 15, 1963, that the Richmond Club of the CP held a regular business meeting on October 8, 1963. During this meeting the group discussed the Danville racial question and the question of legality was raised. In this respect, LOUIS KALB pointed out that the difference with "our Party" is that we must always recognize that human rights come before property rights. He stated even if it was not legal or if "legality" takes away human rights, they nevertheless stress human rights. It was decided to keep closely abreast of developments in the events occurring at Danville, Virginia.

With respect to Prince Edward County, Virginia, since matters there were at a standstill due to the opening of the free school at Farmville, there was not much the CP could do there. It was decided, however, that the Party should continue to stress the importance of re-opening the public schools.

RH T-1 further reported on October 15, 1963, that a regular State Executive Committee meeting of the CP in Virginia was held at Roanoke, Virginia, on October 12, 1963.

At this same meeting, a discussion was had relative to attempts to set up a committee protesting the Birmingham bombing. It was reported that this was a small though promising committee but its chances of survival were small due to the passage of time and would probably not contribute too much in this specific endeavor at this time. It was pointed out that currently Danville, Virginia, was the real area that they must keep fully informed on. It was characterized as the second capital of the Confederacy and the seat of the Byrd reactionary strength which is greatest in Southside Virginia.

In connection with actions which could be taken, it was pointed out that they had long tried to make the poor white working class recognize the need to work in alliance with the Negro people and also to see that civil rights and economic rights are one and the same. Since this had not been successful, it was felt that they must try a new tactic, namely, to get the Negroes to struggle to help the poor white working class.

RH T-2 reported on April 15, 1964, that a Virginia State meeting of the CP was held at Richmond, Virginia, on April 11, 1964. During this meeting, [redacted] who was present, suggested that the Virginia CP form a committee to petition for support of the President's Civil Rights program and he suggested they call the committee the Virginia Committee for Jobs and Freedom. He reminded those present how successful the August 28, 1963, March on Washington had been and suggested that the above proposed committee be set-up in such a way that it would not appear to be CP originated. There was some discussion on this subject but no real affirmative response or decision as to action.. b6 b7C

RH T-1 reported on May 11, 1964, concerning a Richmond Club meeting of the CP held May 5, 1964. During this meeting, the effect of the Richmond-Henrico County Annexation on the Negro balance of power in Richmond was discussed. In connection with the City Council elections, the group was more inclined to support individual candidates. It was proposed that one of the candidates, a Negro, who is pictured as representing the Voter's Voice, described as a new Negro organization, be contacted in an attempt to have him come out with a positive program which would also tend to win white labor support.

RH T-1 further advised on June 1, 1964, that during a Southern District Board Meeting of the CP at Washington, D.C., on May 31, 1964, [redacted] related he had received a note on a new Negro pamphlet which sought to tie in the needs of white labor with the Negro movement in order to win white labor support in the civil rights fight. b6 b7C

With respect to [redacted] during 1962, RH T-4 advised that he was the recipient of the publication "Pravda" during that year. b6 b7C

"Pravda" is the organ of the Central and Moscow Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. It is a central newspaper published in Moscow. This information is stated in the "USSR Information Bulletin," a publication of the Embassy of the Union of Soviet Socialists Republics, Page 265, in its issue of May 12, 1952.

In December, 1963, the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee issued a pamphlet captioned, "SNCC: Structure and Leadership". This pamphlet stated that the SNCC was not a membership organization but rather an agency attempting to stimulate and foster the growth of Negro protest movements. The Coordinating Committee itself consists of representatives of protest groups which meet regularly to form strategy. SNCC workers have organized and guided local protest movements which are never identified as SNCC projects. This is part of its program of developing, building, and strengthening indigenous leadership.

It was announced in Danville, Virginia, on June 21, 1963, that a similar indictment to the above had been returned against [redacted] Field Secretary for SNCC, Atlanta, Georgia, charging her with inciting the Negro population against the white people, a felony. b6 b7C

[redacted] Law Clerk to Federal Judge THOMAS J. MICHIE, Charlottesville, Virginia, advised on August 20, 1963, that a brief had been filed by Negro integrationists in Danville, Virginia, dated August 14, 1963. The brief was an action to enjoin as unconstitutional Section 108.1-422 of the Code of Virginia involving "conspiracy to incite the colored population to insurrection against the white people or the whites against the colored." (Code 1950, Section 18-353i;1960, C 358). b6 b7C

The brief was filed in preparation for a hearing before a three-judge court on Thursday, September 5, 1963.

The brief alleges the statute unconstitutional on its face and as applied; that as written and applied it represents an attempt to deprive plaintiffs and other citizens of their civil rights under the Thirteenth, Fourteenth, and Fifteenth Amendments; that it creates racial division in violation of the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments, as well as the civil rights statutes; and that this court has jurisdiction which under the authority should be exercised to protect the civil rights of the plaintiff and others and to enjoin the operation of a state law as unconstitutional.

The brief concluded that a permanent injunction should be granted by the court granting the relief sought by the plaintiffs. The attorneys of record listed there-on were VICTOR RABINOWITZ, LEONARD B. BOUDIN, both of 30 East 32nd Street, New York City. N.Y. VA. MICH.

(B) MARCH ON WASHINGTON, AUGUST 28, 1963

RH T-1 reported on September 17, 1963, the meeting of the Richmond Club of the Communist Party was held September 3, 1963. During the meeting MARY KALB made a report on her attendance at the March on Washington. She stated that she had traveled to Washington with a religious inter-racial group. She informed that while it was a great experience, they had been unable to get near the speakers' stand. She criticized the fact that there were not nearly enough people from Virginia attending the March. She agreed with her husband LOUIS KALB on the need for an organizational center to perpetuate the coalition of white "liberal church members and Negro leaders to continue to work on a united-front basis for civil rights."

MARY KALB related that "The Virginia Council on Human Relations" (VCHR) in Richmond should do this project but since the Communist Party had no contact with that organization, she thought possibly one of the Communist Party members might contact some individuals in the VCHR to ascertain when their next meeting was being held for the purpose of attending that meeting to ascertain if there would be a report given on the March on Washington.

RH T-1 again reported on September 17, 1963, that the meeting of the Southern District of the Communist Party was held in Baltimore, Maryland, on September 15, 1963. At this meeting, which was attended by some national officers of the Communist Party, MARY KALB, who was present, again reported on her attendance at the March on Washington, and that she felt the failure of the Party in this activity was not getting enough people from Virginia to attend.

[redacted] who was present, and in answer to a specific question, advised that none of the other Communist Party members from Virginia attended the March on Washington. b6 b7C

(C) BIRMINGHAM BOMBINGS

RH T-1 reported on October 2, 1963, that a Richmond Club meeting of the Communist Party was held on September 24, 1963. At this meeting, MARY and LOUIS KALB jointly gave a report on their attendance at, and participation in, a recent Richmond Branch Meeting of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). MARY KALB reported they had attended the meeting after hearing about it from a friend. She pointed out that they thought it was a special meeting relative to the Birmingham bombings, but had discovered on arrival it was a membership meeting with the principal discussion dealing with student demonstrations at City Hall in Richmond. KALB related she told those present at the meeting that she and her husband had attended because they thought it concerned the Birmingham bombings. She related they were invited to stay and sit at the meeting anyway. She related they had been able to get some people interested in actions on the Birmingham question, particularly through some white people who were present. She stated also that after the meeting they had discussed the need for action on this question on the part of white people, especially in the churches and all of them were anxious to get something done; and one action suggested was an advertisement signed by leading church people condemning the Birmingham bombings.

Informant further related that at this meeting LOUIS KALB had in his possession a leaflet entitled, "End Terror In The South," which had been sent to him by [redacted] He requested that [redacted] be contacted to ascertain whether this leaflet had been mailed out to various people in Virginia by the Communist Party in Baltimore, Maryland, or whether it was expected that the Communist Party in Virginia would do a mailing on this leaflet. b6 b7C

LOUIS KALB also had a copy of an editorial from the "Richmond Times Dispatch" newspaper, a local daily paper in Richmond, Virginia, which was dated September 17, 1963. He pointed out this editorial was placing the blame for the Birmingham bombings on the Communist Party. KALB requested this editorial be sent to [redacted] with a question as to how it should be answered, possibly by someone like GUS HALL in a radio speech or through some other action.

On October 7, 1963, [redacted] Richmond, Virginia, a member of the Virginia State Assembly, informed that several days prior there-to he had received a telephone call from an individual who identified himself as LOUIS KALB. [redacted] informed that he did not know KALB and to the best of his knowledge, he had never met him before. [redacted] informed that KALB related he was interested in organizing some type of group to protest the recent bombings of the church in Birmingham, Alabama, and would appreciate [redacted] participation in this group. [redacted] informed that KALB did not identify himself with any organizational group in Richmond. b6 b7C

[redacted] related that although he could not be specific, he was suspicious of KALB and had told him he did not feel any protest action in that area was necessary as it was obvious to him that all decent people abhor the bombings which led to the death and injury of several young Negroes in Birmingham. He related that KALB had made no other significant statements and the conversation terminated quickly after he, [redacted] had made the above observations. b6 b7C

RH T-1 reported on November 4, 1963, that the Richmond Club of the Communist Party held a meeting on October 29, 1963. During this meeting, MARY KALB reported on a protest committee she was trying to start concerning the bombings in Birmingham. She informed she had met with a minister locally who had told her he had received word she was close to the Communist Party and that trying to work with her in any organization, such as the one she was trying to initiate, would call forth attacks to the effect that the organization is Communist dominated. KALB reported she had replied she believed what she believed in was her right but she could not see that this made any difference when she was opposed to something like the bombing of innocent Negro children in Birmingham. She stated further that she had offered to withdraw from the group but nothing further was said. It was indicated that at least MARY KALB had made some individual contacts even though she might be "washed up" insofar as initiating the protest committee was concerned.

RH T-1 reported on October 1, 1963, that a Richmond Club meeting of the Communist Party was held September 24, 1963. At this meeting the National Convention of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) scheduled for September 24-27, 1963, at Richmond, Virginia, was discussed. LOUIS KALB raised the question of Communist Party participation in this Conference in line with previous plans and he made the following proposals with respect to such participation:

1.) That MARY KALB attempt to attend one of the meetings of the Conference during the morning session of September 25, 1963.

2.) That [redacted] attempt to have members of the local Democratic Party attend the Wednesday night meeting of the Conference and that [redacted] himself, attend both this meeting and the one the following evening. b6 b7C

3.) That LOUIS KALB would also attend the Wednesday night meeting and would attempt to talk with individual people at the meeting.

4.) That MARY KALB would attend the closing meeting on Friday night.

5.) That all the Communist Party members attempt to influence other people to attend this Conference, especially white people.

RH T-1 advised on October 15, 1963, that a Virginia State Executive Meeting of the Communist Party was held at Roanoke, Virginia, on October 12, 1963. At this meeting a report was made concerning the Communist Party's participation in the SCLC Convention recently held at Richmond. It was decided the Communist Party would make a complete evaluation of this convention which would then be forwarded to [redacted] in Baltimore, Maryland. SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE (SCLC)

The November 19, 1960, issue of "The Richmond Times-Dispatch" reported that approximately sixty Negro church, professional and lay leaders throughout Virginia met on November 18, 1960, in Petersburg, Virginia, and organized the Virginia Christian Leadership Conference (VCLC) for the purpose of "bringing about civil rights for all."

It was pointed out that VCLC is an affiliate of the SCLC of Atlanta, Georgia.

The purpose of SCLC was reported to "redeem the soul of America by creating the beloved community through organization, by consent of population, for the purpose of creative protest by education, training, developing leadership based on Christian nonviolent principles."

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE EDUCATIONAL FUND, INC.

"The Southern Patriot," a monthly publication, shows that it is published by the SOUTHERN CONFERENCE EDUCATIONAL FUND, INC. (SCEF).

"The Southern Patriot" was cited as an "organ" of the SOUTHERN CONFERENCE FOR HUMAN WELFARE (SCHW) by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 592, on the SCHW, June 12, 1947.

The SCHW was cited as a communist front by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 592, June 16, 1947.

An amendment to the charter of the SCHW changed the name of that organization to the SCEF, and listed its purpose as being to improve the educational and cultural standards of the Southern people in accordance with the highest American democratic institutions, traditions, and ideals. The amendment was dated April 26, 1946.

A source advised on March 2, 1961, that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, a Communist Party functionary, stated at a meeting of the Communist Party in Baltimore, Maryland, on February 25, 1961, that the Communist Party is not connected with any progressive movement but indirectly they do have some influence in the SCEF.

A second source, who is familiar with some phases of Communist Party activity in the New Orleans area, advised on June 2, 1964, that during the time the SCHW was in existence, Communist Party (CP) members have not been encouraged to work in the SCEF. The source stated the SCEF is a progressive, liberal organization, which he considers a CP front organization because it has gone along with the Communist Party on certain issues, particularly on the racial question.

On June 2, 1964, the second source advised that in the past he has considered JAMES DOMBROWSKI, the Executive Director of the SCEF, to be a communist, if not an actual Communist Party member, because he followed communist principles.

The second source also advised on May 27, 1963, that many people who are officials and members of the SCEF, while liberal in their views, are by no means communists.

W. E. B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA

A source has advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party (CP), including National Functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist Oriented Youth Organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates to this meeting were cautioned against the germ of anti-Soviet and anti-CP ideologies. These delegates were also told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second conference of over 20 persons met in Chicago on December 28-29, 1963, for the purpose of initiating a "call" to the new youth organization and planning for a founding convention to be held in June, 1964.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 1950 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W. E. B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention. The aims of this organization, as set forth in the preamble to the constitution, are, "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful co-existence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that these solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anti-Communism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people. As young people in the forces struggling for democracy, we shall actively strive to defeat these reactionary and neo-fascist elements and to achieve complete freedom and democracy for all Americans, thus enabling each individual to freely choose and build the society he would wish to live in. Through these struggles we feel the American people will realize the viability of the socialist alternatives."

APPENDIX

The constitution further states that this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals or if five or more people so desire a chapter can be formed which shall in turn be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

The second source has also advised that at the founding convention it was voted that the organization should be temporarily headquartered in San Francisco, California, although no specific physical location was decided upon. This same source advised on June 29, 1964, that the temporary headquarters of this organization is 1007 McAllister Street, San Francisco, which is the headquarters of the W. E. B. DuBois Club of San Francisco.

Both sources have advised that at the founding convention two officers were elected:

PHILIP CHAPIN DAVIS, President, and
CARL ELLENGER BLOICE, Publications Chairman

A third source has advised that on October 26, 1962, PHILIP DAVIS attended a CP recruiting class held at 1579 Scenic Avenue, Berkeley, California.

A fourth source has advised that CARL BLOICE, reporter for the "People's World", newspaper, was, on April 3, 1964, elected to the newly organized San Francisco County Committee of the CP.

The "People's World" is a West Coast Communist newspaper, published weekly in San Francisco, California.

Character: INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Synopsis:

HENRY WINSTON met with local CP leaders, St. Louis, Mo.; 10/18/64; stated CP desires its members become active in civil rights movement while retaining close contact with the Party. Asserted major problem is "security". Advice being solicited from local Party organizations for guidance of National Office. Local CP leaders have repeatedly urged members to become active in Negro mass organizations. In January, 1964, ARNOLD JOHNSON advised local leaders CP participation in demonstrations is necessary to make them more than just protests. CP has endeavored to effect joint conferences between CORE and St. Louis Chapter NALC regarding civil rights and job rights without success. CP paid for six seats on bus to March on Washington, August, 1963. HERSHEL J. WALKER, Chairman, Missouri District CP, among those who attended. CP members participated in CORE sponsored picketing, Jefferson Bank and Trust Co., fall, 1963. Objective to force bank to hire more Negroes. Also participated in CORE sponsored picketing, Federal Building, St. Louis, Mo., June, 1964. Local CP leaders have transferred interest in NALC to CORE because it is "more militant". "The Worker" being mailed to CORE members. EUGENE TOURNOUR, Midwest Field Director, CORE, reportedly CP member. He conferred with local CP leaders for advice during picketing, Jefferson Bank and Trust Co. CP exerts no influence in local branches NALC and NAACP. Organizer, St. Louis Branch SWP contacting CORE members for possible recruitment YSA.

DETAILS: AT ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. Communist Party, USA

During February and March, 1963, the Communist Party (CP) made an effort to have a jointly sponsored city-wide conference on civil rights and equal job rights. It endeavored to have the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), St. Louis, and the St. Louis Chapter, Negro American Labor Council (NALC) as the sponsors. This did not materialize because the President of the St. Louis Chapter NALC was not interested.

(SL T-1 April 2, 1963)

At a meeting of a CP group in early August, 1963, there was a general discussion regarding the attitude of the so-called moderate Negro leaders in St. Louis who feel that Negro problems can be settled "across the table". Members of the CP group felt the issues will be settled in the streets and not by negotiation.

(SL T-2 August 8, 1963)

In a discussion with local CP leaders August 17, 1963, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT praised the March on Washington, which was scheduled to be held in Washington, D.C., August 28, 1963, as a step toward Negro-White unity. He commented the Negroes can never gain full equality through demonstrations alone. He said the task ahead is for Communists to work for Negro-White unity on a broad basis.

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT was elected to the National Committee, CP-USA, at its 17th National Convention held in December, 1959.

(SL T-3 December 13, 1959)

At a CP meeting in November, 1963, the question of Negro unity in St. Louis was discussed. HERSHEL J. WALKER, Chairman of the Missouri District CP, asserted the Negro community is more divided than ever; that this is because the present freedom struggle is in the hands of Negro politicians and Negro ministers and both are "unstable". He declared CP members in Negro mass organizations should strive to bring about "Negro unity".

(SL T-1 November 18, 1963)

In May, 1964, HERSHEL J. WALKER instructed a veteran CP member to become more closely aligned with CORE and to be helpful to them in any way possible. He said one of the handicaps CP members work under is that they have little time for mass organizational work. He said that if a few CP members could be kept working with an organization in the field of civil rights and equal employment opportunities, it would not be a great problem to develop CP influence.

(SL T-4 May 19, 1964)

The interest of the leaders, Missouri District CP, in exercising influence within the St. Louis Chapter NALC appears to have waned. Although two CP members have been assigned for sometime to work in the chapter, the CP has not been successful in achieving any measure of influence. The St. Louis Chapter NALC has concentrated its efforts on attaining better job opportunities for Negroes. CP leaders have transferred their interest to CORE apparently because it is a "more militant" organization. CP members have been urged to become active in CORE.

(SL T-1 July 14, 1964)

At a CP meeting in July, 1964, a leader told other members of the group that it is the special task of "White progressives" and Communists to build a base of White support directed toward the expansion of Negro-White unity.

(SL T-5 July 10, 1964)

On January 11, 1964, ARNOLD JOHNSON met with members of the Missouri District CP State Committee and specially invited veteran members. He said CORE demonstrations in St. Louis have made headlines throughout the nation and offer a golden opportunity for Communist participation; that it would take the CP's participation in these demonstrations to make them more than just protests as they have been in the past.

(SL T-1 January 22, 1964)

ARNOLD JOHNSON is National Legislative Director, CP-USA.

(SL T-3 January 13, 1964)

At a CP group meeting in early February, 1964, WILLIAM E. DAVIS, Industrial Area Leader, said that copies of "The Worker" are being mailed to CORE members whose names appeared in the St. Louis newspapers.

(SL T-6 February 6, 1964)

"The Worker" is an East Coast Communist publication.

On October 18, 1964, HENRY WINSTON met with local CP leaders. He discussed the civil rights movement, saying that while on a national tour, of which St. Louis was a part, he had met CP members who are very active in this movement. They want to retain a close contact with the CP so they can relay their experiences and get support and suggestions. WINSTON said such individuals, however, have a serious "security problem". He said that should their CP affiliations become known their influence within the mass organization would be harmed.

OFFICER No.

WINSTON asked the local leaders why the CP in Missouri is not getting "more involved" in the Negro movement. He asked what can be done to give better leadership to the movement and how can this be done in such a way that it will not be harmful to either side.

WINSTON then wanted to know what the CP in Missouri is doing on the youth front. He asked if there are any ties with CORE and then further asked what the CP can do to help CORE in its projects.

He then discussed the Negro-labor alliance, saying the CP nationally would like to know what part the labor movement is playing toward securing better job opportunities for Negroes.

He then summarized by requesting that a written report be submitted to the National CP Office by the end of November, 1964, so that the National Office can formulate a concrete program by the end of the year. He stated that the National Office is soliciting opinions from CP units throughout the country; that it feels there is the same opportunity for organizing the masses and bringing them around to the Party as existed in the 1930's. He conceded the CP is on a decline and cannot seem to break out of its stagnation. He said it must do so and become active in different streams of activities without harming other organizations or itself.

(SL T-7 October 19, 1964)

At a meeting of the National Committee, CP-USA, on August 13, 1961, HENRY WINSTON was elected a member of that committee and also to the National Executive Committee and National Board. He was made Vice Chairman of the Party.

(SL T-8 August, 1961)

B. Other Communist Groups

1. Socialist Workers Party (SWP)

In June, 1964, RICHARD H. CLARKE, Organizer, St. Louis Branch SWP, stated that he is contacting members of CORE for possible recruitment into the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA).

(SL T-9 June 30, 1964)

YSA is characterized in the attached appendix.

At a SWP meeting in early September, 1964, CLARKE stated he had visited CORE headquarters in St. Louis and left copies of "The Militant".

(SL T-9 September 16, 1964)

"The Militant" is an East Coast publication of the SWP.

✓ The St. Louis Branch SWP and the SWP are characterized in the attached appendix.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

A. March on Washington (MOW)

At a meeting of local top level CP leaders during late July, 1963, HERSHEL J. WALKER announced he had a notice from the National CP Office instructing him to encourage White persons to participate in the MOW scheduled to be held in Washington, D.C., August 28, 1963; that the instructions stated Negroes would attend because of self-interest, but Whites would need encouragement.

Both WALKER and another veteran local leader expressed disgust at the apathy of the local civil rights leaders toward the MOW. A CP member was instructed to attempt to instill enthusiasm in the St. Louis Chapter NALC for the MOW. WALKER said if the local Negro organizations fail to mobilize, the CP would endeavor to get several carloads of participants.

(SL T-1 July 24, 1963)

At a CP meeting in late July, 1963, WALKER again said every effort should be made to get local Negro "civil rights groups" to support the MOW. He said an effort should be made to set up joint sponsoring committees of the NALC, CORE, and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). He said the Negro community should be flooded with handbills informing people of the MOW and a select group of trade unions should be mailed notices asking for support. He further said that churches, Negro and White, should also be contacted for financial aid and other support. CP members agreed with WALKER's suggestion regarding the joint sponsoring committee. WILLIAM E. DAVIS said White CP leaders should get as many members of their race to attend the MOW as possible because this will show the true spirit of democracy and keep the March from having a "nationalistic racial slant".

(SL T-1 July 29, 1963)

The St. Louis Chapter NALC sponsored two buses scheduled to leave St. Louis August 27, 1963, for the MOW. A representative of the CP paid $138.00 of CP funds for six seats on a bus. The CP was not successful in getting NALC, CORE, and NAACP to work together as a joint sponsoring committee.

(SL T-1 September 4, 1963)

Among the six who rode in CP seats on the NALC sponsored bus was HERSHEL J. WALKER.

(SL T-2 September 4, 1963)

Another veteran CP member who also rode on the bus was [redacted] b6 b7C

(SL T-10 September 16, 1963)

The other four individuals who utilized the CP seats were teen-age children of veteran CP members.

(SL T-1 September 4, 1963)

At a CP meeting August 29, 1963, a veteran CP member stated the CP might not get credit for its part in inducing many people to attend the MOW, but if it had not helped organize the demonstrations, there would have been far fewer people. In reviewing his trip to Washington, D.C., HERSHEL J. WALKER said he was impressed with the display of Negro-White unity. He asserted churches, unions, and the CP were responsible for the White people who participated. WILLIAM E. DAVIS suggested the CP consistently point out the role the trade unions play in getting White people to take part in the MOW. He said this is a major step in the direction of a "Negro-labor alliance" which must be formed if Negroes are to attain first class citizenship.

(SL T-2 September 3, 1963)

B. Picketing, St. Louis Board of Education, June, 1963

On June 20, 1963, an organization composed primarily of Negroes called "Committee for Parents of Transported Pupils" picketed the central offices of the St. Louis Board of Education, 911 Locust Street, St. Louis, Missouri. The picketing was done to protest the transporting of students in the local public schools and against what the committee called "resegregation". At a top level meeting of local CP leaders in late June, 1963, there was an evaluation of this picketing. Three White CP members participated in the peaceful demonstration. One leader commented that more CP members should have been there. A leading CP official said the Party made a mistake in not distributing some type of literature as, for example, possibly printed pamphlets or copies of "The Worker". It was decided that ELLIOTT WAXMAN, Press Director, Missouri District CP, be given authority to distribute "appropriate" material at any future demonstrations.

C. Picketing, Jefferson Bank and Trust Company, St. Louis, Missouri, October, 1963

In September, 1963, HERSHEL J. WALKER and another local CP leader walked in a picket line sponsored by the St. Louis Chapter of CORE at the Jefferson Bank and Trust Company, 2600 Washington Avenue. This picketing was in support of a CORE protest demonstration which began August 30, 1963, against the bank for its alleged failure to hire more Negroes in white collar jobs. The demonstrations resulted in the arrest of nine CORE leaders for violating an injunction prohibiting interference with the business of the bank.

(SL T-1 September 25, 1963)

At a meeting of a CP group in early October, 1963, the major discussion concerned CORE and its picketing of the Jefferson Bank and Trust Company. Two veteran local CP leaders led the discussion and said assistance should be given CORE in its efforts. They further said it is not necessary to actually become a CORE member, but CP members could engage in sympathetic picketing as private individuals. It was decided that as many CP members as possible would attend a mass meeting called by CORE at 5625 Wells Avenue for October 6, 1963. It was further agreed that additional efforts would be made by the CP to work out techniques for helping CORE in its drive to get the bank to hire more Negroes.

(SL T-4 October 8, 1963)

During early October, 1963, a CP member was dispatched by HERSHEL J. WALKER to pick up youths at Soldan High School and bring them to the Jefferson Bank and Trust Company so they could participate in the picketing.

(SL T-2 October 8, 1963)

During early October, 1963, [redacted] advised fellow CP members that her teen-age daughter, [redacted] had participated in the picket line at the bank; that she had been arrested, but not charged. b6 b7C

(SL T-5 October 11, 1964)

An article appeared in the "St. Louis Globe Democrat" October 15, 1963, stating that ELLIOTT WAXMAN, an admitted representative of "The Worker", which is a "Communist newspaper", had been identified as a key figure in an organization that recently joined the campaign for more Negro jobs at the Jefferson Bank and Trust Company. Furthermore, he is "behind" the "Freedom of the Press Committee" which recently distributed leaflets supporting CORE in the bank controversy. The article further identified WAXMAN as having refused to testify before a subcommittee of the House Committee on Un-American Activities several years ago.

The St. Louis Freedom of the Press Committee (SLFPC) is characterized in the attached appendix.

During early November, 1963, SLFPC decided to send a financial contribution to CORE.

D. Picketing of Federal Building, St. Louis, Missouri, June, 1964

Approximately twenty members of CORE held a demonstration at the U. S. Court and Customs House (Federal Building), 12th and Market Streets, on June 26, 1964. Signs were carried which read, "CORE Demands Martial Law in Mississippi" and "Federal Protection for Civil Rights Workers". HERSHEL J. WALKER was among the pickets.

(SL T-11 June 28, 1964)

At a CP group meeting in late June, 1964, HERSHEL J. WALKER spoke of the CORE demonstration scheduled for June 26, 1964, at the Federal Building. He said it would last 48 hours and he urged CP members to participate. He said if it is inconvenient to go the first day, then the members should go on the second.

(SL T-7 July 10, 1964)

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

A. NAACP

The St. Louis Branch NAACP has headquarters at 3529 Franklin Avenue and approximately six thousand persons are members. Seven CP members also have membership in this branch.

(SL T-4 October 2, 1964)

In spite of the large membership, only 35 to 50 persons attend regular NAACP meetings. A great majority of members merely pay their annual dues and this is the only support they give the organization.

Leaders of the St. Louis Branch NAACP have repeatedly announced that Communists cannot hold office. CP members do not attend meetings of the NAACP with any degree of regularity and exert no influence within the organization. However, CP leaders in the past urged active membership in the NAACP. CP members who do attend are more or less observers.

(SL T-5 October 22, 1964)

There are other branches of the NAACP in the eastern half of Missouri. These are located in St. Louis County and at Cape Girardeau. The branches are smaller than the St. Louis Branch and the CP exerts no influence in them.

(SL T-4 October 2, 1964)

B. St. Louis Chapter NALC

There are approximately 150 dues-paying members of this organization, but only about 35 attend meetings. The chapter meets at 2719 North Taylor Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri. Two CP members have been assigned by the CP to attend meetings and become affiliated. These two individuals do not exert any influence within the organization. A provision in the constitution of the St. Louis Chapter NALC prohibits Communists from holding office.

(SL T-1 July 14, 1964)

As previously indicated, interest of the local CP leaders has shifted from the St. Louis Chapter NALC to CORE because they believe the latter organization "more militant".

(SL T-1 July 14, 1964)

C. CORE

On October 1, 1964, [redacted] St. Louis CORE member, [redacted], St. Louis, Missouri, advised SAs [redacted] b6 and [redacted] that the St. Louis Branch of CORE b7C has approximately 100 members and these members include [redacted] Chicago, Illinois; [redacted] St. Louis, Missouri, and ORVILLE LEACH, 2120 Rosebud Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri.

ORVIL T. LEACH is a veteran member of the CP in St. Louis.

(SL T-1 October, 1964)

[redacted] b6
State Committee, b7C
Missouri District CP, and Press Director.

(SL T-2 October, 1964)

In June, 1964, a CP official stated that EUGENE TOURNOUR is a CP member.

(SL T-12 June 22, 1964)

In early June, 1963, HERSHEL J. WALKER asserted that the CP "has three people in CORE".

(SL T-11 June 18, 1963)

An article in the "St. Louis Globe Democrat" December 27, 1963, by Staff Writer DENNY WALSH quotes an interview with EUGENE TOURNOUR. It states that TOURNOUR authorized the following statement as an expression of his views: "An individual's past, present or future political beliefs are not a matter of concern to CORE as long as that individual adheres in CORE demonstrations to CORE procedures. The tenets he professes, whether Fascist, Communist or Bircher, are not to be considered as prohibitive of his participation, and active participation, in CORE demonstrations seeking CORE objectives. CORE has no such political goals itself. There is no screen, as such, of members for Communist background or Communist associations. There, in my recollection, has never been any such screening of individuals. Our concern is not with such things, but with the performance of the individual while working in behalf of and under the name of CORE. If we knew that an individual had a background of association with what the Congress has termed 'subversive groups', this again does not enter into consideration unless and until he abandons CORE policies when working under the name and for the goals of CORE. Extremists' ultimate goals cannot be achieved through organizations such as ours, because civil rights organizations will disappear with the problem of discrimination."

As of June, 1963, TOURNOUR was a Field Representative of CORE with offices in St. Louis.

(SL T-4 June 4, 1963)

As of January, 1964, TOURNOUR was Midwest Field Secretary of CORE and resided at 5780 Westminster Place, St. Louis, Missouri. At a meeting of top level CP leaders for the Missouri District CP on January 10, 1964, WILLIAM E. DAVIS said he had talked with TOURNOUR recently and the latter believed he had made a mistake in allowing the arrest of certain CORE leaders at the Jefferson Bank and Trust Company during their demonstrations in the fall of 1963. He said that with the progressive leadership of CORE in jail, the running of the organization was left to the conservative leadership in the person of former National Chairman CHARLES R. OLDHAM; that as a result there was divided opinion among the membership as to whether it was fighting a losing battle at the bank and whether the correct tactics were being used.

(SL T-1 January 22, 1964)

On October 20, 1963, ELLIOTT WAXMAN attended a CORE meeting. Shortly after the meeting started, CHARLES R. OLDHAM came up to him and asked if he was WAXMAN. On receiving an affirmative reply, OLDHAM said it would be a mistake for him to remain at the meeting. OLDHAM suggested he leave and he did so. WAXMAN was at the meeting to read a leaflet the SLFPC had prepared in support of CORE's demonstration against the bank. He had also planned to talk about the loss of his job as a printer which resulted from the notoriety he secured in the press while picketing outside the bank.

(SL T-7 November 4, 1963)

On January 18, 1964, WILLIAM E. DAVIS announced at a CP group meeting that he had recently talked to TOURNOUR and the latter expressed disappointment at the way the Negro community seemed to disregard a boycott of downtown department stores called by CORE in late 1963. He was also disappointed over the failure of other civil rights groups to support this endeavor. There was a discussion over CORE tactics and it was agreed by the CP members that it was a mistake to have only a handful of people arrested in the bank demonstrations; that this would only be effective if two to three hundred were arrested. If this could not be accomplished, then the picketing should be peaceful. DAVIS commented that TOURNOUR admitted he made mistakes, but this is the way he has to learn.

(SL T-1 January 22, 1964)

At a CP group meeting in February, 1964, DAVIS again stated he had met with TOURNOUR and got the impression the local CORE leadership was confused as to whether it should endeavor to cause more arrests or work on a massive voter registration. DAVIS said he pointed out to TOURNOUR a major weakness of the civil rights groups locally and nationally lies in the lack of participation by large segments of organized labor.

(SL T-1 February 28, 1964)

At a CORE rally in January, 1964, TOURNOUR made it a point to introduce WILLIAM E. DAVIS to a national staff member of CORE who was visiting from New York City. HERSHEL J. WALKER also attended the rally.

(SL T-1 January 31, 1964)

At a CP group meeting February 23, 1964, DAVIS reported on a recent conversation with TOURNOUR, who he said had just returned from Louisiana where he attended a meeting of CORE Field Directors. TOURNOUR said there had been a discussion about field directors being farther "left" in their thinking than the national directors of CORE. TOURNOUR said he pointed out that field directors are closer to the masses than national staff members; furthermore, the most important matter facing CORE is not one of being to the "left", but welding together a Negro-labor alliance.

(SL T-1 March 2, 1964)

In late April, 1964, WILLIAM E. DAVIS advised another CP leader that [redacted] a Field Secretary for CORE, had renewed her subscription to "The Worker". DAVIS said this is somewhat humorous since the first time she received "The Worker", which had been sent gratuitously to her through the mail, she reported the matter to the FBI, however, her husband has talked to her since then and she has changed her attitude. DAVIS observed that [redacted] is not a CP member, but is "close to it". DAVIS then commented further "The Worker" is being mailed to about six CORE members. He said he is meeting regularly with [redacted] a CORE member, in an effort to get her to build a Communist youth group in St. Louis. He has spoken to her from time to time about getting members from CORE interested in such a group, but he concluded "she cannot be pushed". b6 b7C

(SL T-1 May 14, 1964)

[redacted] St. Louis Police Department, advised that in June, 1964, EUGENE TOURNOUR moved to Chicago, Illinois, to assist in CORE activities there. b6 b7C

The CP helped pay the expenses of [redacted] St. Louis member of CORE to the National Youth Convention held in San Francisco, California, in late June, 1964. This convention resulted in organization of the W. E. B. DuBois Clubs of America.

(SL T-13 July 16, 1964)

W. E. B. DuBois Clubs of America is characterized in the attached appendix.

YOUNG SOCIALIST ALLIANCE

The May, 1960, issue of the "Young Socialist" (YS), page 1, column 3, disclosed that during April 15-17, 1960, a national organization entitled "The Young Socialist Alliance" (YSA) was established at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. This issue stated that this organization was formed by the nationwide supporter clubs of the publication YS.

The above issue, page 6, set forth the Founding Declaration of YSA. This declaration stated that the YSA recognizes the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) as the only existing political leadership on class struggle principles, and that the supporters of the YS have come into basic political solidarity with the SWP on the principles of revolutionary socialism.

A source advised on May 6, 1964, that the original YSA was an organization formed during October, 1957, in New York City by youth of various left socialist tendencies, particularly members and followers of the SWP. The leaders of this group were the guiding forces in the establishment of the national organization.

SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY
ST. LOUIS BRANCH

In October, 1960, a source advised that the St. Louis Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) was organized in 1938 and has functioned continuously since that time as an affiliate of the National SWP. Its aims and purposes are the same as the National SWP.

In May, 1964, another source stated that the St. Louis Branch SWP is still functioning as an affiliate of the National SWP.

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

ST. LOUIS FREEDOM OF THE PRESS COMMITTEE

On October 29, 1951, a source advised that the Freedom of the Press Committee was organized in St. Louis in the fall of 1951 for the purpose of increasing the circulation of "The Worker" and the "Daily Worker".

On March 8, 1954, Reverend OBADIAH JONES, who was a witness for the Government in the St. Louis Smith Act trial in March, 1954, advised that the principal activities of the Communist Party in the St. Louis area at that time were concentrated in various front organizations of which the Freedom of the Press Committee was one.

In May, 1964, a second source advised that the Freedom of the Press Committee is one of the front organizations in the St. Louis area in which the activity of the Communist Party is concentrated; that the Committee's purpose continues to be distribution of "The Worker"; and that the organization has been continuously under the complete control and domination of the Communist Party in the St. Louis, Missouri area since he became acquainted with it in 1955.

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist newspaper which suspended publication on January 13, 1958.

"The Worker" is an East Coast Communist newspaper.

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA

A source has advised that on October 26-27, 1963 a conference of members of the Communist Party (CP), including National Functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates to this meeting were cautioned against the germ of anti-Soviet and anti-CP ideologies. These delegates were also told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second conference of over 20 persons met in Chicago on December 28-29, 1963 for the purpose of initiating a "call" to the new youth organization and planning for a founding convention to be held in June, 1964.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964 at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention. The aims of this organization, as set forth in the preamble to the constitution, are, "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful co-existence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that these solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anti-communism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people. As young people in the forces struggling for democracy, we shall actively strive to defeat these reactionary and neo-fascist elements and to achieve complete freedom and democracy for all Americans, thus enabling each individual to freely choose and build the society he would wish to live in. Through these struggles we feel the American people will realize the viability of the socialist alternatives."

The constitution further states that this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals or if five or more people so desire a chapter can be formed which shall in turn be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

The second source has also advised that at the founding convention it was voted that the organization should be temporarily headquartered in San Francisco, California, although no specific physical location was decided upon. This same source advised on June 29, 1964 that the temporary headquarters of this organization is 1007 McAllister Street, San Francisco, which is the headquarters of the W.E.B. DuBois Club of San Francisco.

Both sources have advised that at the founding convention two officers were elected:

PHILIP CHAPIN DAVIS, President, and
CARL ELLENGER BLOICE, Publications Chairman.

A third source has advised that on October 26, 1962, PHILIP DAVIS attended a CP recruiting class held at 1579 Scenic Avenue, Berkeley, California.

A fourth source has advised that CARL BLOICE, reporter for the "People's World" newspaper, was, on April 3, 1964, elected to the newly organized San Francisco County Committee of the CP.

The "People's World" is a West Coast communist newspaper published weekly in San Francisco, California.

COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS
INTERNAL SECURITY - C

My memorandum dated October 19, 1964, captioned "Current Racial Developments" furnished information to you concerning a planned tour of the country by Martin Luther King, Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and other civil rights leaders. It was reported that the purpose of the tour would be to encourage voting.

The October 27, 1964, edition of the "Los Angeles Times," a Los Angeles, California, daily newspaper, reported that King spoke in Los Angeles on October 26, 1964, and stated that civil rights demonstrations will resume after the November 3, 1964, election, "in situations that demand them." King was quoted as stating "We did call a moratorium on demonstrations for the campaigns, but naturally after the election there will be a renewal of demonstrations in situations that demand them as long as the evils are there."

This information is also being furnished to the Honorable Bill D. Moyers, Special Assistant to the President.

Character: INTERNAL SECURITY - C

APPROPRIATE AGENCIES AND F... ADVIS... SLIP ( ) DATE 7/15/69

Synopsis: Individual CP members in Indiana have expressed criticism of the CP's failure to play a more active role in the current racial struggle. A national Negro leader of the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA) spoke before a YSA group in Bloomington, Indiana, in March, 1963, and called for either "violence or nonviolence to achieve our aims." CP members and individuals with a history of Party activity or affiliation have participated in the following events in Indiana subsequent to January, 1963: memorial march and service for MEDGAR EVERS on 6/15/64 in Gary, Indiana, sponsored by the Gary Chapter, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP); March on Washington on 8/28/63; appearance of Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., on 10/18/63 in South Bend, Indiana, sponsored by Citizens Civic Planning Committee of South Bend; Boycott of public schools in Gary, Indiana, on 4/17/64, sponsored by the Civil Rights Coordinating Committee of Gary; protest march in Richmond, Indiana, on 5/11/64, sponsored by the Richmond Chapter, NAACP; peace march in Richmond, Indiana, on 5/17/64, sponsored by the Wayne County Human Rights Council of Richmond. Informants have advised that none of the above events were under Communist direction or influence; Party members, former Party members, and sympathizers participated on an individual basis however, not as representatives of the CP. I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. COMMUNIST PARTY, USA

1. Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at national meetings, including expressions by national and other functionaries

No information developed.

2. Plans, et cetera, made at District and lower level meetings, including expressions by local leaders and rank-and-file members

Confidential informant IP T-1 advised on May 27, 1963, that on May 20, 1963, [redacted] were overheard commenting that, in their opinion, the main movement in this country today was the current Negro struggle; and both lamented the fact that the white leadership within the CP had failed miserably in this movement. [redacted] feel that the CP is far behind other groups in the current Negro struggle. (U) b6 b7C

[redacted] SECRET (U)

Confidential informant IP T-2 advised on June 26, 1963, that on June 1, 1963, [redacted] were overheard discussing the possibility of the Party in South Bend, Indiana, sending a colored Party member to Birmingham, Alabama, for the purpose of looking over the racial situation in that city and, thereafter, bringing back to South Bend a firsthand report on the racial situation for future discussions at Party meetings. (U)

b7C

Confidential informant IP T-3 advised on August 2, 1963, and again on September 24, 1964, that [redacted] was Chairman and Financial Secretary for the Indiana CP District. (U)

IP T-3 characterized [redacted] as Chairman of the CP for the South Bend-Elkhart, Indiana, area and Literature Director for the Party in the State of Indiana. (U)

IP T-3 advised on August 2, 1963, that the above proposition discussed by [redacted] was never carried out by the Indiana CP. (U)

Confidential informant IP T-4 advised on August 4, 1963, that [redacted] was in conversation with [redacted] on that date, at which time they discussed the part the CP could play in the current Negro movement. [redacted] predicted that the current Negro drive for civil rights could possibly be the movement which could lead eventually to Socialism in this country. [redacted] was particularly critical of CP leadership's failure for not taking a more active role in the current Negro movement. (U)

IP T-4 advised on August 4, 1963, that [redacted] was Chairman of the Elkhart, Indiana, CP Club. (U)

Confidential informant IP T-5 advised on September 6, 1963, that [redacted] at a meeting of the CP Women's Club, South Bend, held September 3, 1963, talked about the role the CP was playing in bringing about changes in this country. [redacted] predicted that there would be a revolution in the United States in the not too distant future which would stem from the current Negro struggle. She continued that accomplishments in the field of civil rights, in her opinion, could not have come about had it not been for the work of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and the CP. She stated that the Party has been working on the civil rights issue for many years and is finally seeing results. She, nevertheless, feels that the national Party leadership should be taking a more active stand and that the opportunity is now present and should be promoted more effectively by Party leadership. (U)

IP T-5 advised on September 6, 1963, that [redacted] was Chairman of the CP Women's Club at South Bend, Indiana. (U) b6 b7C

3. Plans, et cetera, as revealed in Party publications and other propaganda media, such as written directives, press releases and the like

B. OTHER COMMUNIST GROUPS

1. Young Socialist Alliance (YSA) Bloomington, Indiana

A characterization of the YSA is located in the appendix pages attached hereto. U

Confidential informant IP T-7 advised on May 23, 1963, that local officers of the YSA at Bloomington, Indiana, were as follows:

[redacted] - President
[redacted] Vice-President and Secretary (U) b6 b7C
[redacted] - Treasurer
[redacted]

The May 1, 1963, issue of the "Daily Herald Telephone," a Bloomington, Indiana, daily newspaper, contained an article setting forth that [redacted] described as National Organizational Secretary of the YSA in Philadelphia, at the invitation of the U

Bloomington YSA Chapter, had appeared at a YSA meeting in Bloomington, Indiana, on March 25, 1963. According to the newspaper account, [redacted] spoke on Negro rights and in his speech called for either "violence or nonviolence to achieve our aims." [redacted] speaking for the YSA, commented that there would be eventual unity of the Negro movement and the Socialist movement in the United States and declared, "We are for fundamental change and identify ourselves as revolutionary Socialists." He stated that the Negro is tired of gradualism and tokenism, which has characterized the integration battle to date. (U) b6 b7C

The above newspaper account set out that the above-listed three YSA officers at Bloomington, Indiana, all students at Indiana University, had been indicted by the Monroe County, Indiana, Grand Jury on May 1, 1963, charging violation of the Indiana 1951 Anti-Subversive Statute in that these officers had arranged for [redacted] appearance and had participated in the March 25, 1963, meeting mentioned above. Subsequent newspaper accounts in the "Daily Herald Telephone" set out that on March 20, 1964, Judge of the Monroe County Court in Bloomington declared Indiana's 1951 Anti-Communist Statute unconstitutional and, accordingly, ruled in favor of the defendants, namely, [redacted] The Monroe County Prosecutor, thereafter, appealed the Court's ruling to the Indiana Supreme Court. This case has not been resolved to date. (U) b6 b7C

Confidential informant IP T-6 advised during September, 1963, that at the Third National Conference of the YSA held August 31-September 2, 1963, in Chicago, Illinois, [redacted] was elected to the National Committee of the YSA; and [redacted] were named alternate members to the YSA National Committee. (U) b6 b7C

IP T-6 made available information June 7, 1963, reflecting that the YSA Chapter at Bloomington, Indiana, as of that date, had 15 members plus 3 members-at-large. (U)

IP T-7 advised September 24, 1964, that the YSA, as of that date, as an organization was not in existence and had not submitted an application for recognition as a campus organization at Indiana University for the academic year 1964-65. (U)

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

A. MEMORIAL MARCH AND SERVICE FOR MEDGAR EVERS ON JUNE 15, 1963, GARY, INDIANA, SPONSORED BY THE GARY CHAPTER OF THE NAACP

Confidential informant IP T-8 advised on June 17, 1963, that on June 15, 1963, the Gary Chapter of the NAACP had sponsored a memorial march and service at Gary, Indiana, for MEDGAR EVERS, slain Mississippi NAACP leader. According to IP T-8, this event was attended by approximately 200 Negro and 10 white individuals who participated in a march up Broadway Street in Gary, Indiana, to the Gary City Hall where the group held a memorial and prayer service for EVERS. (U)

IP T-8 continued that observed among the participants in this march were [redacted] and [redacted] IP T-8 advised there were no incidents or arrests in connection with the above, and the affair was entirely peaceful. The above-named individuals merely participated in the march and took no active role in the memorial ceremonies, with the exception of [redacted] who was observed placing black arm bands on some of the participants in the march prior to the commencement of the demonstration. (U)

b7C

IP T-1 advised on March 25, 1963, that [redacted] was considered a CP member in Gary, Indiana, from the mid-1950's until about January, 1961, at which time he disassociated himself from active participation in Party affairs due primarily to the lack of organized Party activity in that area. During the period from approximately 1955 to January, 1961, [redacted] was an active member and considered a Party leader in the Youngstown Sheet and Tube CP Club in Gary. (U)

b7C

IP T-1 advised on March 25, 1963, and IP T-8 advised on December 19, 1957, that [redacted], wife of [redacted] was considered a member of the CP in Gary, Indiana, in 1954 and 1955, during which period she associated with known Party members and attended Party meetings. (U)

b7C

Confidential informant IP T-9 advised on April 2, 1963, that [redacted] as of that date, were considered Communists by the State CP leadership, however, not carried as actual members. Both associate with known members of the Party in Gary, Indiana; however, neither has actively participated in CP affairs since late 1960. (U)

b7C

Confidential informant IP T-10 advised on October 26, 1956, that [redacted], father of [redacted], supra, was considered a CP member in Lake County, Indiana, and had attended a meeting of the Community Division composed of Party leaders from the Illinois and Indiana CP Districts held October 25, 1956, in Chicago, Illinois. [redacted] attended this affair as a representative of the Indiana CP. (U)

b7C

Confidential informant IP T-11 advised on November 1, 1953, that [redacted] was a CP member in the late 1930's and had been expelled from the Party in about 1942 for embezzling funds from the International Workers Order (IWO) and was reinstated in the Party in about 1951. (U)

b7C

The IWO has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

IP T-8 advised on June 17, 1963, that [redacted] was, as of that date, a CP member in Gary, Indiana, active in the steel industry. (U)

b7C

Confidential informant IP T-12 advised on February 20, 1953, that [redacted] husband of [redacted] as of that date, was considered the attorney for the CP in Gary, Indiana. (U)

Confidential informant IP T-13 advised in July, 1961, that [redacted] were affiliated with the Fair Play for Cuba Committee (FPCC). (U)

A characterization of the FPCC is set forth on the appendix pages of this report.

B. MARCH ON WASHINGTON, AUGUST 28, 1963

On August 28, 1963, [redacted] b6 b7C Trans-World Airlines, Chicago, Illinois, advised that the Chicago area committee for the March on Washington August 28, 1963, had chartered a Trans-World Airlines plane, scheduled to leave Chicago the morning of August 28, 1963, for Washington, D. C., and return to Chicago same date upon completion of the March. [redacted] made available the passenger list for the above flight, which included the following individuals from Gary, Indiana:

CP MEMBERS

On October 2, 1963, [redacted] reporter for the "Gary Post-Tribune," 1065 Broadway, Gary, Indiana, advised that each of the above-named individuals actually went to Washington, D. C., as indicated above, and had participated merely in a passive way as individuals. (U)

[redacted] 4 CP MEMBERS

Confidential informant IP T-14 advised that in 1945 [redacted] transferred their CP membership from Chicago, Illinois, to the West Los Angeles Branch of the CP. (U)

IND D.C.

[redacted] b6 b7C advised in 1953 that for several years the [redacted] had held CP meetings in their home under the guise of social gatherings. (U)

IP T-8 advised on August 28, 1963, that during August, 1963, [redacted], supra, known to IP T-8 as CP members in Gary, Indiana, had attempted unsuccessfully to raise sufficient funds for [redacted] of Gary, Indiana, to attend the March on Washington August 28, 1963. (U)

IP T-8 advised on August 28, 1963, that [redacted] was a CP member at Gary, Indiana. (U)

C. APPEARANCE OF REVEREND MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., SOUTH BEND, INDIANA, ON OCTOBER 18, 1963, SPONSORED BY CITIZENS CIVIC PLANNING COMMITTEE OF SOUTH BEND

Confidential informant IP T-15 advised on October 23, 1963, that the Citizens Civic Planning Committee of South Bend (CCPC), a legitimate Negro organization at South Bend, Indiana, was formed specifically for the task of bringing Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., to South Bend to speak. This organization, according to IP T-15, has no subversive taint and was dissolved following KING's appearance. (U)

IP T-15 continued that KING, introduced as President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), spoke before an estimated crowd of approximately 3,500 persons, of which approximately 60 per cent were Negro and 40 per cent were white, at Stepan Hall, University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Indiana, on October 18, 1963. KING gave a history of the Negro movement in this country, where it is today, and obstacles which must be overcome, such as elimination of gradualism. KING compared his theory with that of Communism, pointing out that Communism uses violence whereas he advocates that only through love can integration ever be achieved. It appeared to IP T-15 that KING was making a public statement for the record that he opposed Communism. (U)

In attendance at this affair, according to IP T-15, were [redacted] b6 b7C all previously characterized. In addition, according to IP T-15, the following, who are known to this informant as CP members in South Bend, were also present: [redacted] IP T-15 commented that the attendance of CP members at this affair was unknown to KING or to the sponsoring committee. (U)

IP T-15 further advised on the above date that [redacted] b6 b7C and one other CP member from South Bend had served on the Door Committee at the above function and, further, that [redacted] and two other Party members from South Bend had served on the Advertising Committee. IP T-15 stated that, other than the above, CP members from South Bend did not participate in the above function. (U)

IP T-15 continued that a dinner was given for Reverend KING at the First Methodist Church in South Bend preceding his speech that same evening at the University of Notre Dame. Five Party members (U) from South Bend were observed in attendance at this dinner, including [redacted] and [redacted] (U)

D. BOYCOTT OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS, GARY, INDIANA, APRIL 17, 1964, SPONSORED BY CIVIL RIGHTS COORDINATING COMMITTEE OF GARY, INDIANA (CRCC)

IP T-1 advised on April 18, 1964, that the CRCC of Gary, Indiana, conducted a boycott of the Gary Public Schools in protest of de facto segregation in the Gary Public Schools. This boycott took place on April 17, 1964, with approximately 16,000 students staying away from the Gary schools. The CRCC sponsored "Freedom Day" classes in conjunction with the boycott. Classroom sites were set up in various churches and other sites throughout Gary, and volunteer instructors supervised activities and spoke on Negro history and explained the purpose of why the boycott was being held. According to IP T-1, several adults demonstrated on April 17, 1964, by carrying signs relating to segregated schools. The demonstration was orderly and peaceful; and, according to officials of the Gary Police Department, no arrests were made. (U)

[redacted] In connection with above school boycott, [redacted] Gary, Indiana, attorney, leader of the boycott plan, announced in the March 14, 1964, issue of the "Gary Post-Tribune" that, among others, the following individuals had been assigned to work with him in planning the boycott scheduled to take place April 17, 1964:

[redacted] IND, supra, were co-chairmen of the Sign Committee. [redacted] and [redacted] IND, supra, would be in charge of publicity and public relations for the boycott. [redacted] was named chairman of a committee to distribute handbills.

IP T-8 advised on May 6, 1963, and confidential informant IP T-16 on May 31, 1955, that [redacted] had been closely associated with Party members in Gary, Indiana, in connection with his union activities; however, is not known to either informant to have ever been a CP member. (U)

IP T-8 advised on September 23, 1963, that the CRCC of Gary is composed of representatives of 22 Negro, civic, and religious organizations in Gary, Indiana, among which are First AME Church, Muigivithania, Frontiers Club, Calumet Chapter of the Indiana Civil Liberties Union (ICLU), NAACP Adult Group, NAACP Youth Group, Combined Citizens Committee on Open Occupancy, Urban League, Catholic Information Center, Pilgrim Baptist Church, Fellowship of Gary Ministers, Fair Share Organization, Gary Community Council, Gary Council of Catholic Women, and others. The Committee's letterhead reflects Chairman of the CRCC as [redacted] wife of [redacted] supra. Address of the organization is in care of the Gary Branch, NAACP, 69 Broadway, Gary, Indiana. (U) b6 b7C

MRS. NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF THE COLORED PEOPLE

According to IP T-8, [redacted] is also Chairman of the Gary Chapter of the NAACP and, according to this source, is not known to have ever been affiliated with the CP in Gary, Indiana. (U)

IP T-8 and confidential informant IP T-17 furnished information on September 23 and September 16, 1963, respectively, reflecting that CARL WINTER, of Detroit, Michigan, had been in contact with [redacted] supra, in Gary on an unrecalled date in September, 1963, at which time [redacted] had stated that the CRCC of Gary had forwarded telegrams to Representative RAY J. MADDEN of Indiana, Attorney General ROBERT KENNEDY, and Governor WALLACE of Alabama protesting bombing of the 16th Street Baptist Church in Birmingham, Alabama. (U) b6 b7C

IP T-8 advised on September 23, 1963, that [redacted] was not officially connected with or active in the CRCC inasmuch as she was confined to her home with an incurable illness. IP T-8 related that Party members in Gary hold no positions of leadership within the CRCC and in no way dominate its actions; however, some individual Party members and others with a history of Party activity are affiliated with certain participating groups within the CRCC. b6 b7C

IP T-8 stated [redacted] is the only permanent officer of the CRCC and that other individuals, including various committees, are named by the affiliated groups for the various projects sponsored by the CRCC in Gary. (U) b6 b7C

IP T-17 advised September 16, 1963, that CARL WINTER is Chairman, Michigan District of the CP. (U)

CP MEMBER IND.

E. PROTEST MARCH HELD RICHMOND, INDIANA, MAY 11, 1964, SPONSORED BY RICHMOND CHAPTER, NAACP

Chief of Police, Richmond, Indiana, [redacted] advised on May 11, 1964, that on that date approximately 40 Negro members of the local NAACP Chapter in Richmond, led by [redacted] President of the local NAACP Chapter, participated in a peaceful protest march against General Motors Corporation at Richmond, Indiana, which had been accused of unfair hiring practices. According to [redacted] this protest march was peaceful, there were no incidents, and no arrests were made. In addition to [redacted] advised that [redacted] was also observed participating in the march of NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF THE COLORED PEOPLE

IP T-3 advised on September 26, 1963, that [redacted] was considered a member of the CP in Richmond, Indiana, as of January, 1961; however, as of December, 1961, he was not considered a member of the CP leadership in Indiana, however, considered entirely sympathetic to the CP cause. (U)

b7C

IP T-3 advised on August 12, 1964, that [redacted] was a member of the CP at Richmond, Indiana, and had been a member for the past several years. (U)

F. PEACE MARCH, RICHMOND, INDIANA, ON MAY 17, 1964, SPONSORED BY THE WAYNE COUNTY HUMAN RIGHTS COUNCIL

On May 18, 1964, Mayor EDWARD CORDELL, Richmond, Indiana, advised a peace march had been held in Richmond May 17, 1964, under the sponsorship of a private group in Richmond known as the Wayne County Human Rights Council. The march commemorated the tenth anniversary of the U. S. Supreme Court decision abolishing school segregation. The march, according to Mayor CORDELL, was entirely peaceful, no incidents occurred, and no arrests were made.

The march was aimed at an expression of Negro hopes for future equality, according to Mayor CORDELL, and as such should not be considered a protest march. Approximately 700 individuals, both white and Negro, participated.

According to Mayor CORDELL, the Wayne County Human Rights Council is a local Richmond, Indiana, organization headed by [redacted] a local Negro attorney in Richmond and member of the NAACP branch in that city. Various civic and religious groups were represented in the march, including representatives from both the leading Protestant and Catholic churches in Richmond. (U)

Captain of Detectives, Richmond, Indiana, Police Department, [redacted] advised on May 18, 1964, that [redacted] supra, and [redacted] supra, were observed participating in the above march. (U) b6 b7C

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

A. GARY CHAPTER, NAACP

IP T-8 advised on April 8, 1964, that an estimated membership of the Gary Chapter of the NAACP was approximately 1,000 members. (U)

IP T-8 advised on April 8, 1964, that [redacted] who is characterized under Section II of this report, is the local President of the NAACP Chapter in Gary. [redacted] supra, is Vice-President of the above chapter of the NAACP. (U) b6 b7C

IP T-8 further advised on April 8, 1964, that [redacted] and [redacted] known to this informant as CP members in Gary, Indiana, are, likewise, members of the Gary Chapter of the NAACP. (U)

IP T-8 advised on April 8, 1964, that, to his knowledge, the CP exerts no influence whatsoever over the Gary Chapter of the NAACP and has no plans to infiltrate or control this organization. IP T-8 advised that the Party in Gary, Indiana, has been relatively inactive for some period of time, and there have been no instructions from Indiana State CP leadership relative to infiltrating the NAACP in Gary. (U)

The above was confirmed by IP T-1 on April 17, 1964. (U)

B. CITIZENS CIVIC PLANNING COMMITTEE OF SOUTH BEND, INDIANA (CCPC)

IP T-15 advised on October 23, 1963, that the CCPC of South Bend, Indiana, was a legitimate Negro organization, composed of leading Negro citizens in South Bend, organized for the specific purpose of arranging for Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING's visit to South Bend on October 18, 1963. According to IP T-15, the CP in South Bend had no representatives in a leadership position within this organization. (U)

As set out under Section II of this report, certain individual Party members in South Bend served in a minor capacity on certain arrangement committees prior to KING's appearance. IP T-15 stated that participation by Party members was unknown to Reverend KING or to the CCPC. (U)

C. CIVIL RIGHTS COORDINATING COMMITTEE OF GARY, INDIANA (CRCC)

IP T-8 advised on September 23, 1963, that the CRCC is an organization at Gary, Indiana, composed of representatives of approximately 22 Negro civic and religious organizations from the Gary area. Chairman for this group is [redacted] supra, who is also Chairman of the Gary Chapter of the NAACP. (U) b6 b7C

IP T-8 has advised that the Party in Gary, Indiana, did not in any way participate in the formation of the CRCC; further, the Party has no members currently in leadership positions within this organization. IP T-8 further advised that individual Party members and others with a history of CP activity have participated in various functions sponsored by the CRCC through their affiliated or participating groups. It is the understanding of this informant that [redacted] is the only permanent officer of the organization and that other officers and committee members are named for each activity representing the various participating organizations. (U)

D. WAYNE COUNTY HUMAN RIGHTS COUNCIL, RICHMOND, INDIANA

Mayor EDWARD CORDELL, Richmond, Indiana, advised on May 18, 1964, that captioned organization is a local group composed of prominent Negro and white leaders in Richmond, Indiana, who are interested in the current Negro problem. He stated the organization is headed by [redacted] a Negro attorney in Richmond, who is also a member of the NAACP. b6 b7C

E. RICHMOND, INDIANA, CHAPTER OF THE NAACP

[redacted] Chief of Police, Richmond, Indiana, on May 11, 1964, estimated membership of the Richmond NAACP Chapter as being between 40 and 50 members. He advised the President of the Richmond Chapter was [redacted], supra, and, further, that [redacted] supra, was a member. (U) b6 b7C

On April 8, 1964, [redacted] Richmond, Indiana, member of the Richmond Chapter of the NAACP, volunteered information reflecting that the NAACP in Richmond was relatively inactive due to insufficient funds and the lack of good leadership. (U) NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF THE COLORED PEOPLE

~~IP T-3 advised on June 29, 1964, that CP State leadership~~ in Indiana has issued no instructions to infiltrate or control the Richmond Chapter of the NAACP; however, the President of this Chapter, [redacted] considered a CP member by the State leadership as of January, 1961, is still considered sympathetic to the CP cause and is a current subscriber to "The Worker." By virtue of his position, [redacted] would be in a position, to at least a certain extent, to control and dominate policy of the Richmond NAACP Chapter. (U) b6 b7C

"The Worker" is an East Coast Communist newspaper. (U)

APPENDIX SECRET (U)

FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE

The April 6, 1960, edition of "The New York Times" newspaper contained a full-page advertisement captioned "What Is Really Happening in Cuba," placed by the Fair Play for Cuba Committee (FPCC). This advertisement announced the formation of the FPCC in New York City and declared the FPCC intended to promulgate "the truth about revolutionary Cuba" to neutralize the distorted American press.

"The New York Times" edition of January 11, 1961, reported that at a hearing conducted before the United States Senate Internal Security Subcommittee on January 10, 1961, [redacted] identified himself and [redacted] as organizers of the FPCC. b6 b7C He also testified he and [redacted] obtained funds from the Cuban Government which were applied toward the cost of the afore-mentioned advertisement.

On May 16, 1963, a source advised that during the first two years of the FPCC's existence there was a struggle between Communist Party (CP) and Socialist Workers Party (SWP) elements to exert their power within the FPCC and thereby influence FPCC policy. This source added that during the past year there had been a successful effort by FPCC leadership to minimize the role of these and other organizations in the FPCC so that their influence as of May, 1963, was negligible.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

On May 20, 1963, a second source advised that [redacted] b6 b7C FPCC National Office Director, was then formulating FPCC policy and had indicated that he had no intention of permitting FPCC policy to be determined by any other organization. This source stated that [redacted] believed that the FPCC should advocate resumption of diplomatic relations between Cuba and the United States and should support the right of Cubans to manage their revolution without interference from other nations. [redacted] did not advocate supporting the Cuban revolution per se.

The November 23, 1963, edition of "The New York Times" reported that Senator THOMAS J. DODD of Connecticut had called FPCC "the chief public relations instrument of the Castro network in the United States." It is to be noted that Senator DODD was a member of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee which twice conducted hearings on the FPCC.

The December 27, 1963, edition of "The New York World Telegram and Sun" newspaper stated that the pro-Castro FPCC was seeking to go out of business and that its prime activity during its lifetime had been sponsorship of pro-Castro street rallies and mass picket lines, and the direction of an active propaganda mill highlighting illegal travel-to-Cuba campaigns. Its comparatively brief span of life was attributed to mounting anti-Castro American public opinion, the 1962 Congressional hearings which disclosed FPCC financing by Castro's United Nations Delegation, and ultimately, the bad publicity which the FPCC received from disclosure of activities on its behalf by suspected Presidential assassin LEE H. OSWALD.

On February 6, 1964, the previously mentioned second source advised that [redacted] had recently remarked that the FPCC was dead and that there were no plans to organize another similar organization. b6 b7C

On April 13, 1964, a third source advised that there had not been any FPCC activity in many months and that the FPCC had been dissolved.

APPENDIX

YOUNG SOCIALIST ALLIANCE

The May, 1960, issue of the "Young Socialist" (YS), Page 1, Column 3, disclosed that during April 15-17, 1960, a national organization entitled "The Young Socialist Alliance" (YSA) was established at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. This issue stated that this organization was formed by the nationwide supporter clubs of the publication YS.

The above issue, Page 6, set forth the Founding Declaration of YSA. This declaration stated that the YSA recognizes the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) as the only existing political leadership on class struggle principles, and that the supporters of the YS have come into basic political solidarity with the SWP on the principles of revolutionary socialism.

A source advised on May 6, 1964, that the original YSA was an organization formed during October, 1957, in New York City by youth of various left socialist tendencies, particularly members and followers of the SWP. The leaders of this group were the guiding forces in the establishment of the national organization.

The source further advised on May 6, 1964, that the YSA is dominated and controlled on a national basis by the SWP through having SWP members comprise exclusively the National Executive Committee (NEC) and through an official SWP representative at all YSA NEC meetings. The YSA, in reality, is the youth and training section of the SWP and the main source of new SWP members.

The headquarters of the YSA are located in Room 631, 41 Union Square West, New York City.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

Synopsis: Attempts at communist influence in racial matters in Chicago area centered in the Communist Party (CP) of Illinois, Chicago Branch Socialist Workers Party (SWP). Also in Chicago area a new revolutionary organization known as RAM (Revolutionary Action Movement) in formative stages. CP of Illinois has an organized and continuing policy in racial area and implements this policy through CP of Illinois Negro Commission and subcommittees. CP of Illinois also influences racial area through its caucuses and/or collectives in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), Negro American Labor Council (NALC), Coordinating Council of Community Organizations and Congress on Racial Equality. Degree of influence exercised by CP of Illinois varies, however, CP effective in influencing program of Chicago Chapter NALC. CP, USA, program relative to current Negro civil rights struggle although not revolutionary has a revolutionary character and is tied to the concept of the decline of capitalism. CP's role in Negro struggle is to combat racism and chauvinism and clarify for working class the idea that working class interests lie in an identification with the aspirations of the Negro people. The formation of a Negro-labor coalition over-all strategic goal of CP. Historical significance of this alliance is found in the Marxist-Leninist concept of the unity of the working class, the most advanced class in society, which has as its objective the defeat of imperialism, prevention of war, and ultimately, of obtaining the goal of socialism. CP conceives the Negro as a main part of the working class and the basis for Negro-labor unity. Aim of this coalition is to combat the common enemy--the big business--dixiecrat control of U.S. economy. Chicago Branch SWP program not ideologically defined. Chicago Branch SWP has primarily influenced the Negro struggle Chicago area by affording direct action support by its members and Young Socialist Alliance members to pickets and demonstrations, particularly those of Chicago Area Friends of Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee. No indication RAM effective in racial matters Chicago area as yet. RAM presents greatest potential threat since RAM program thoroughly anti-white, revolutionary in character, and organization secret. RAM proposes to follow Marxist-Leninist principles advanced by Chinese communists rather than Soviets. Pickets, demonstrations, etc., supported by communists Chicago area noted and set forth. Officers and members of racial and other organizations Chicago area interested in advancement of Negro rights struggle set forth. Communist affiliations, officers and members of these organizations noted where pertinent. CP of Illinois leaders' statements relative to violence in racial matters set forth.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

(A) Communist Party (CP), USA

1. Plans, Strategy, Party Line, and the Like, Made at National Meetings, Including Expressions by National and Other Functionaries

On July 27, 1963, a CP of Illinois meeting was held at 333 West North Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, to hear GUS HALL speak on important political and ideological issues confronting the CP. The meeting was chaired by CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT who introduced GUS HALL, General Secretary - C.P. USA - NY ILL. (U)

HALL opened his speech by discussing the Nuclear Test Ban Treaty recently concluded between the U.S.S.R. and the United States and the United Kingdom. (U)

During the course of his remarks, HALL referred himself to the "miracle of Birmingham". HALL stated that a Democratic revolution is taking place in the United States and that, henceforth, the Negro movement would affect every election in the country. HALL said there were, of course, no miracles processed. HALL stated that these new developments centering around the Negro revolution were strengthening Democracy and socialism and weakening the ruling class. (U)

HALL continued and noted that, in order for Communists to adjust to these new developments, the CP must assess the situation with precision. HALL said that strategy and tactics of the Party must stem not from fantasy but from facts. (U)

HALL stressed the point that the world was entering into a new epoch--a new phase of history. HALL noted that he did not agree with President KENNEDY who held the view that the tide is running against Communism in the world. HALL stated that the facts were just the opposite, and that the tide of socialism will completely engulf capitalism. (U)

HALL next mentioned the current struggle for Negro civil liberties and what he termed the Democratic upsurge of the Negro people. HALL stated that this condition was making possible the unity of the Negro and the white working class, thereby removing a barrier to further expansion of Democracy and socialism. HALL said that this movement by the Negro people would increase the possibility of a peaceful transition to socialism in the United States. (U)

HALL cautioned those present that the Party must not forget that economics was the central issue of the Negro struggle. He stated that the unity of Negro organizations must first be solved and then the unity of Negro and white, followed by the unity of the Negro movement with the labor movement. (U)

HALL said that the economic question would be a factor which the ruling class will try to use to split the Negro and the white. (U)

At this point, HALL left the Negro question and discussed the Party program relative to the defense budget and the struggle for peace and the Party's role in political strategy; however, he again returned to the Negro civil liberties movement and stated that the role of the CP is appreciated in the Negro movement, for it is a force which does not take sides among Negro factions, but instead attempts to keep splits from occuring among Negro organizations. HALL stated that Negro CP members know that the CP and its members are responsible. (U)

HALL stated that at the 17th CP, USA, National Convention held in December, 1950, the CP dropped the slogan of self-determination for the Negro people in the Black Belt. He noted that, had the CP persisted with this policy, the CP would have been in the same company as the Muslims today, but instead the CP changed its approach and today the Party is able to be in the mainstream of the Negro movement. (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

Following GUS HALL's report, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT spoke briefly and called upon the CP to do everything possible to promote Negro-white unity. LIGHTFOOT noted that in the 1930's, the CP organization was able to rally 40,000 white workers in support of the Negro cause in Chicago. LIGHTFOOT noted that the CP in Illinois should do all possible to get 500 white people to participate in the March on Washington scheduled for August 28, 1963. (U)

Negro question which had been set forth by the CP, USA, Negro Commission under the leadership of CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT. DAVIS stated that under LIGHTFOOT's leadership, the Commission had developed a correct approach to the Negro-American Labor Council (NALC) and that this accomplishment had reflected a serious change in the Commission's work. DAVIS also noted that under LIGHTFOOT's leadership, the Commission had taken a look at the Black Muslim movement and had developed a correct approach to that movement. DAVIS also noted that in the past the Commission under LIGHTFOOT's leadership paid special attention to the convening of the Negro people's movement. DAVIS stated that the new commission should expand those developments and also include some of the new developments in the Negro people's struggle. (U) Nation of Islam U.S

DAVIS proposed that the agenda for this meeting be a report from himself dealing with the elections and the South. He also noted that three reports would be given in three geographic areas, one from New York on the rent struggles and the school boycott; one from the West Coast on jobs and Negro youth, and one from Chicago on jobs and relief. (U)

DAVIS then gave his report and opened with the background of the Negro movement in which he stated the main feature was the fact that the revolution had come to the North. DAVIS described the revolution around the Negro question in the North as centering itself on three issues and that these three issues were jobs, education and housing. He also noted that in New York there had developed a mass movement for a $1.50 per hour minimum wage. He stated that plans were already prepared for a march to Albany, New York, to fulfil this demand. The other question he noted was the school desegregation question which has hit all of the major northern cities. He stated that in reference to housing there were questions of open occupancy and rent strikes. (U)

DAVIS continued and noted that the Administration's opening of the drive against poverty has a tremendous significance for the Negro movement. DAVIS stated that there are new elements in the movement, such as, the school boycotts giving a timetable for desegregation, thereby rejecting new approaches toward gradualism. (U)

DAVIS noted that secondly, there is a movement for national coordination of the movement against the schools which, if achieved, will spill over into other movements. DAVIS noted that a third feature is the unity of the Negro and Puerto Ricans achieved in the school boycott in New York. He stated another feature is that white liberals and the trade union movement are beginning to give organized support to the Negro people's struggle. DAVIS stated that included in this is the role the white churches are playing in the community. DAVIS' summation was that there is a basis for making tremendous strides in the freedom movement. (U)

DAVIS next asked the question, "Is this a revolution?". He answered his own question by indicating that the Negro people's struggle has a revolutionary character but there is not a revolutionary crisis in the United States. DAVIS stated the demand of the Negro people is to complete the bourgeois Democratic revolution following the Civil War, but noted this is taking place in a different stage of capitalist development. DAVIS stated that, during the Civil War, capitalism was progressive, but now capitalism is dying and anti-progressive. DAVIS noted, therefore, that the Negro movement today tends to merge the social economic revolution. DAVIS said the Negro movement and, the people's movement have a common enemy and, therefore, this becomes a part of the general American revolution and part of the social revolution. How well it will be processed depends to a great extent on the role of the CP. (U)

DAVIS continued by referring to the Civil Rights Bill then pending in the United States Senate. DAVIS indicated there has been a considerable letdown in the movement since the March on Washington, that is, the concern for the Civil Rights Bill has been absent in the movement and there seems to be no doubt the Southern Senators are preparing to water down or destroy this bill. DAVIS stated, therefore, militant action is necessary to stop the southern filibuster. (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

DAVIS pointed out that the CP's role is to cement Negro-white unity in this fight. He said the whole Democratic process is on trial. If the Senate does not pass the Civil Rights Bill, it will expose the fallacy of the Democratic process professed by the Administration. DAVIS said that the CP must fight for this bill in every way possible, both through pressure on the Congress itself and, if necessary, direct action, such as, demonstrations, marches, and so forth. (U)

DAVIS next referred to the election program of the CP and described it as being three pronged. He stated the election program should first influence the general outcome of the elections and then, secondly, advance the independent activities of the people and, thirdly, build the influence of the CP and its Press. He stated that the main blow by the CP must be dealt against the ultra-right. He said that at the present, no candidate of the Republican Party escapes this category. DAVIS said the most dangerous of the Republican candidates was ROCKEFELLER because he covers his ultra-right position with a facade of liberalism. (U)

DAVIS continued and noted that the Negro people in the main are an essential part of the JOHNSON camp. He noted, however, that the CP should attempt to develop independent activities to pressure President JOHNSON into breaking completely with the Dixiecrats. DAVIS stated that the Supreme Court is playing an historic progressive role in regard to the Negro people's struggles and generally in the struggle for progress. The CP, according to DAVIS, must concern itself with how it can help change the composition of Congress and must bring in more trade union Negro and Puerto Rican representatives. (U)

DAVIS noted that the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) has indicated the desire to enter the political arena. DAVIS said the CP must find ways for this development. DAVIS noted that one of the major tasks that the CP must assist in is the registration campaign. The other is to try and develop independent political action committees in the Negro community to improve the quality and quantity of Negro representation. DAVIS said that this can be (U) done by independent activities and also by trying to influence both major Parties to slate Negro candidates. He also noted that the CP, wherever possible, should seek to build Negro labor committees. (U)

DAVIS next called for a program by the CP to build the unity of the left during the elections. He said that wherever possible, the CP should run CP candidates. DAVIS also noted that in the South, the CP must demand that every qualified voter be given the protection of the Federal Government to exercise their right to vote. DAVIS noted that the South is still basic to the political struggle in the United States and it is necessary for progressives to realize that a basic change in the political alignment in the South is essential to progress in the country. DAVIS said that the Supreme Court decisions have been revolutionary in terms of helping set the stage for progress in the political arena. He noted that in 1954, there was the decision to desegregate the schools which opened the door to all desegregation in the South. He stated recently the decision of redistricting the Congressional Districts makes it possible to break the role of the minority in the South and give it to the majority by demanding equal population in Congressional Districts. DAVIS said the CP must develop independent movements in support of these decisions and guarantee that redistricting takes place. (U)

In conclusion, DAVIS discussed the role of the CP. He noted that the CP is not in a position to solve the many organizational questions facing the Negro movement. It would be good if there was a consolidated Negro people's organization nationally but such is not in the cards. DAVIS said the CP can establish a secure base in this movement if it develops and demonstrates a sound CP line and policy. DAVIS asked the question, "Why must the CP always be discussing how to associate with existing movements?". He answered his own question by noting that the CP must take more initiative and organize independent movements around the people's needs. (U)

DAVIS said that the CP must re-establish its revolutionary traditions among the Negro people. He said the CP must develop a sound program for the poor farmers in the South and must also develop the ideological position of taking the profit out of the JIM CROW system. (U)

DAVIS concluded by noting that the CP must act more boldly in the people's movement in order to win the working class to the Negro people's struggles. DAVIS called on the entire CP to be involved in this struggle and stated that the CP must also concentrate on developing a cadre training program. He also called for the further development of an ideological struggle against white chauvinism and nationalism. (U)

During this first day session, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, Chairman, CP of Illinois, also spoke and indicated his agreement with DAVIS' report. LIGHTFOOT also noted that one of the main questions for the CP, USA, Negro Commission is a discussion of the vanguard role of the CP. LIGHTFOOT felt that, although there are tremendous movements going on, the CP in the main is not in a position of directing and influencing too well. LIGHTFOOT also stated there should be included somewhere in their discussion room for the relationship of self-defense of the Negro people to the non-violent position that the Negro movement now has. He noted that this position was being debated in the Negro community and, although the non-violent leadership of the Negro community is most respected, there is still question as to how much of the violence the Negro people have to take in this struggle. (U)

Other CP of Illinois representatives to this first session also spoke and JACK KLING, one of these representatives, noted that there were several positive experiences in the white community in regard to the civil rights movement. KLING referred to several conferences that had recently been held in Chicago in the white community beginning with a "Conference on Race and Religion" and going through several others. (U)

JIM WEST, another CP of Illinois representative of this meeting, noted that in Chicago the CP was winning support in the white communities and stated that what the CP should realize is that there is a big ideological struggle taking place (U) in the white communities. WEST recommended that the CP should participate in this debate. WEST also noted that in the labor movement, although it was not fully involved, there were certain beginnings. He noted that the labor delegate on the Chicago School Board has taken a positive position. He also noted that the AFL-CIO Chicago Council had taken a good position. WEST further noted that in the suburbs of Chicago, committees had been formed on open occupancy which was encouraging. (U)

EARL DURHAM, Chairman, CP of Illinois Negro Commission, then spoke and noted that he agreed with BEN DAVIS' estimate and felt that the CP must jump into the ideological debate taking place on the civil rights movement. DURHAM said a much deeper assessment of the relationship of the Negro struggle to the general social revolution must be forthcoming. He noted that in every area of issues there is an unclarity for helping fight the disunity, as an example, the struggle for jobs. DURHAM stated that the CP must explain how it was possible for the Negro people to achieve their just number of jobs in an economy that is becoming automated and developing larger pockets of unemployment among both white and Negro workers. (U)

DURHAM concluded by noting that in the Party struggle for jobs the Party slogan has to be preferential hiring with the correct ideological approach of that slogan. DURHAM stated that the struggle for unity with Negro and white must become a major feature for the CP's work in the civil rights movement. He noted at the same time the CP should not appear to be opposed to direct action although it does not have the support of the white community. (U)

The second session of the CP, USA, National Negro Commission meeting was held on February 23, 1964, at 306 East 43rd Street, Chicago, Illinois. The CP of Illinois representatives to this meeting who were absent on this date were the following: (U)

[redacted]

EDWARD HIGGINS (U)

b6
b7C

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT chaired this session and one of the main reports for this session was given by EARL DURHAM, Chairman, CP of Illinois Negro Commission. (U)

DURHAM's report was on the struggle for jobs and relief. DURHAM stated that the CP of Illinois State Board had made a suggestion that CP members should center their attention on developing the struggle for jobs through the instrument of the NALC. DURHAM noted that as a result of this effort, after many months of struggle, the NALC opened a campaign for jobs at the Motorola Corporation and at the Railroad Center. DURHAM noted that in reference to Motorola, the NAIC had developed a united front approach but that it was the leading organization pushing for this struggle. DURHAM noted that the NALC was successful in causing the company to take a position of preferential hiring and, as of the time of the meeting, approximately 100 jobs had been given to Negroes. (U)

DURHAM noted that the same general approach was taken with the railroad industries and that about 60 jobs had been obtained. DURHAM said that the struggle still requires more breadth and, particularly, getting support from the trade union movement. (U)

DURHAM noted that on the relief front, whereas the CP did not have an overall leadership of this movement, through the efforts of one or two comrades the relief march that was held in Chicago was organized through almost a year of activity in that area. DURHAM noted that the issues were the question of food for the relief recipients and the approach was to organize the recipients themselves to participate in the struggle. DURHAM noted that these efforts by CP members resulted in the hunger march. He concluded by noting that the approach should be to broaden and expand this movement. (U)

Also at this day's session LESTER DAVIS, a member of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission who was in attendance, spoke and said that in Chicago there exists a united front which is the movement in the struggle against JIM CROW. DAVIS said that (U)

this struggle was represented by the ~~Chicago~~ Council of Coordinating Organizations (CCCO). He said that the CCCO came into being originally around the school questions several years ago but only recently began to take a more advanced position. (U)

DAVIS continued and noted that there was tremendous resistance to the school boycott proposed by the CCCO, particularly by the Democratic Party machine in Chicago. DAVIS noted that the CP failed after the last boycott to discuss and organize a specific plan of work. He said that the CP must not fail to develop perspectives following this boycott. DAVIS noted that, although the CP was losing members, at no time in the past has there been possible more influence available to the CP. DAVIS noted that, if the CP fights correctly to organize their forces and their friends, the CP should be in a much more influential position. (U)

ISHMAEL FLORY, a CP of Illinois representative to this meeting, also spoke and stated that the CP must begin to raise the question of socialism in the Negro community. He noted that there is no firmer solution to the Negro question than socialism. FLORY stated he agreed with the report of BEN DAVIS but the report should recognize the weakness of the Negro movement in the struggle for civil liberties. (U)

FLORY also asserted that the CP's vanguard role is not being fulfilled and that the CP should be more self-critical in this regard. FLORY noted that the face of the CP is hidden too much and there must be more open activity by the CP. (U)

The remainder of this CP, USA, National Negro Commission related primarily to organizational work and, during the course of a discussion of this work, BEN DAVIS indicated that the CP, USA, National Negro Commission was to establish regional commissions. He described one of these regional commissions as covering the Far West, another to be in the Midwest, and the third in the East. In identifying the members of these regional commissions, DAVIS noted the Midwest Regional Commission would be under the leadership of CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT. Also mentioned as a member of this Midwest Regional Commission was EARL DURHAM. (U)

The "Chicago Tribune" issue of February 29, 1964, page 8, column 3, carried an article entitled, "Red Leader Urges Civil Rights Strike". This article revealed JAMES E. ~~X~~ JACKSON, New York City, the Editor of "The Worker", the CP newspaper, held a press conference on February 26, 1964, at the Hamilton Hotel, 20 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois. The article stated that JACKSON, a CP spokesman, urged civil rights groups to stage a nationwide work stoppage in key industries, should a Senate filibuster break out on the proposed Civil Rights Act. According to the article, JACKSON asserted the idea for the stoppage already was under discussion by civil rights groups and he stated the Communists merely would assist the strike if it is called.

"The Worker" is an East Coast Communist newspaper.

The "Chicago Sun-Times" issue of February 27, 1964, page 32, column 3, also carried an article entitled, "Red Leaders Urge Negro Work Stoppage". This article, in addition to JACKSON's statement regarding the Negro work stoppage in the event of a filibuster in the Senate, also stated that at the press conference Illinois Communist leader CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT announced he would be a candidate in November against Representative WILLIAM L. DAWSON of Illinois. This article further revealed that SIDNEY FINLEY, a Regional Field Secretary for the NAACP, accused the Communists of "trying to force their way into the civil rights movement".

In connection with the JACKSON press conference, it is to be noted that MARTY O'CONNOR, a reporter for the "Chicago's American", attended this conference and, when interviewed, O'CONNOR furnished a press release issued by JAMES JACKSON at the press conference and this release stated that JAMES E. JACKSON of New York is Editor of "The Worker", the national newspaper that represents the Communist point of view. This release stated that the previous week there was a consultation among a number of leading Marxists on problems besetting the movement to secure "freedom now" for the Negro citizens of our country, both North and South of the Mason-Dixon line. The release noted that this meeting, which took place in Chicago with CLAUDE M. LIGHTFOOT, leading Illinois Communist in the chair, discussed a report by BENJAMIN J. DAVIS, the former member of the Council of the City of New York and a leading spokesman of the CP, USA. The release continued that DAVIS analyzed the new developments in connection with the further unfolding in the struggle to secure the full equality of the rights of the Negro people.

The release noted that, as a conclusion to the consultation, those present foresaw the estimation of the tactics of direct mass action in the war against discrimination from withholding their children from schools, from withholding their consumer dollars from merchants and landlords, to withholding their labor power from the factories. Specifically, those present from several parts of the country reported that the mode of the Negro workers in key industries is to participate in work stoppages, should the Dixiecrats carry out their plans to filibuster the civil rights act pending before the Senate.

The release continued that, should the southern states act to filibuster the Civil Rights Act to death, a national work stoppage by the Negro workers would open a new and decisive front of struggle against the segregation system. It would be a confrontation at the production level with the power struggle itself. The release continued that a further action of the consultation was to welcome the action of the Illinois Organization of the CP in putting forth CLAUDE M. LIGHTFOOT as a candidate in the First District, in opposition to the conservative incumbent DAWSON who has been undistinguished in the great upsurge of the Negro people for freedom now.

In connection with making the press release available, O'CONNOR also advised that following the press conference, SIDNEY FINLEY, State Field Secretary of the NAACP, 431 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, who had been in attendance at the JACKSON press conference, called an immediate press conference of his own. FINLEY stated at this press conference that the NAACP wanted nothing to do with the Communists and did not desire the Communists support. FINLEY had stated that at one time the NAACP had Communists in its ranks; however, the NAACP got rid of all the Communists and wanted nothing further to do with them.

On May 16 and 17, 1964, the CP, USA, National Negro Commission held a meeting in New York City. Among those attending this meeting was CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT. During a discussion of the Negro question, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT spoke and stated that the Commission was assembled that day for the purpose of discussing one of the most concrete problems facing the country; namely, the struggle of unifying white and Negro to achieve a better America. (U)

LIGHTFOOT stated that powerful forces are at work seeking to prevent this coalition. He noted that these forces operate among Negroes as well as among whites. LIGHTFOOT stated to achieve unity requires that all obstacles and roadblocks be removed. (U)

LIGHTFOOT said that the struggle must be waged on two fronts. He said that while it is true the main obstacle to Negro and white unity is to be found among the white masses, there are also problems and attitudes in the Negro community which require change. LIGHTFOOT noted that white chauvinism, the doctrine of white superiority and certain forms of Negro nationalism, are the idealogical weapons of the white ruling class. LIGHTFOOT noted that it was these elements which are utilized by reactionary elements to prevent unity of these two great forces. LIGHTFOOT said that Negro Americans, in their overwhelming majority, have and are seeking unity with their white brothers and sisters. LIGHTFOOT asserted that the Negro American is resisting forces which speak the doctrine of the separation of the races. (U)

LIGHTFOOT continued and stated that the Negro movement has been advancing step by step into a revolutionary force. He noted that the Negro movement launched many struggles almost alone, and in the struggle to integrate schools there has been only token integration. He stated that the United States has maintained a high level of employment throughout the 16 years of cold war through a continued war economy. He said one of the problems the country would no doubt face in the next few years is how to adjust this economy to peacetime production. (U)

LIGHTFOOT continued and noted that the United States, which has been the main showcase of world capitalism, will face a serious challenge from the Soviet Union in providing a better living standard for its own people and in assisting backward areas to achieve a better life. LIGHTFOOT noted a real program to tackle the United States economic problems will require an aroused public and labor movement. He also noted it would require a political change in Government. He noted that it is not a setting such as this that a civil rights program for the Negro will be waged. He noted that it is not a setting such as this that the objective conditions will become more favorable for a working class movement against JIM CROW and for a wider mobilization of white masses. LIGHTFOOT stated he recommended that the civil rights movement should set goals for each stage of the struggle. He said that, if the JIM CROW system can be smashed in the next ten years, this would be a realization of the slogan, "freedom now". (C) (U)

LIGHTFOOT continued and stated that the Negro liberation movement did not rise overnight. He said it has grown from one stage to another. He said there have been increasing changes taking place in the attitude of churches toward the civil rights struggle and he also noted that labor had made a significant contribution to this struggle. (C) (U)

In regard to tactics, LIGHTFOOT stated that the CP is not called upon to identify itself with every form of struggle, no matter how militant it may start off. He noted that the thing to consider is what tactic will get the best results in terms of mass mobilization. He said the issue is and should be an ever-widening base of unity of the Negro people, a unity of Negro and labor and a unity of Negro and white. He said that this is the road to a substantial breakdown in the JIM CROW system. He said there is no other road possible in the United States. (C) (U)

At the Sunday session of this National Negro Commission meeting held May 17, 1964, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, during a discussion on the role of CP youth, commented that he had sat in at an informal gathering two or three weeks ago with some very important people, including a member of the Ghana Cabinet, and other important leaders of the African Continent. LIGHTFOOT noted that there were people attending this meeting who were also very prominent in the Muslim movement as well as trade union CP members. He noted that, during this meeting, he had a difficult time on the question of Negro-white unity. He mentioned that the CP was not dealing on this Negro-white unity question with the Muslims per se but were dealing with progressives who were working with the Muslim movement. (U)

LIGHTFOOT noted that some of the Africans in attendance at this meeting did not see how it could be worse for the black Americans. LIGHTFOOT noted that in order to offset their critical comments, he had to indicate how difficult it would be to sit in such a meeting and discuss matters as they were discussing if there were a fascist America. He also noted that he had pointed out to this group that there must be unity in the 1964 elections in opposing Senator GOLDWATER. (U)

LIGHTFOOT continued his remarks and noted that he believed that GUS HALL's proposal on the Negro question was the best proposal he had heard given by either a white or black man. He noted that the CP was fortunate in having a white leader like HALL who could comprehend the Negro problem. (U)

LIGHTFOOT continued speaking and noted that one of the great problems in the Negro civil liberties movement was the lack of unity among the leaders of this movement. He noted that each leader had his own force and each pushed his own force. LIGHTFOOT said that the CP has a role to play in unifying the various forces. He described the NAACP as not playing the proper role in the Negro movement. He noted that it was his view the NAACP had acted as strike breakers on a number of issues, such as, the last boycott of schools in Chicago. (U)

LIGHTFOOT stated that the only criticism he has is that the CP should document its contributions in the Negro liberation movement. He said that the CP must not be scared off by the statements of some civil rights leaders that they do not want Communists to participate in the movement. He said that he has credentials to participate in this movement and no one is going to tell him otherwise. He cautioned, however, that the CP must not antagonize civil rights leaders but must work with them because they need the CP. (U)

a) General

The ideological basis of the need for the Illinois CP's participation in the Negro labor movement was summarized by the CP of Illinois leadership as follows in late 1962:

Ideologically, the responsibility of the Party is to combat racism and chauvinism and clarify for the working class that their self-interests lie in identification with the aspirations of the Negro people. The formation of a Negro-labor coalition is the overall strategic goal of the CP. The historical significance of this alliance is to be found in the Marxist-Leninist concept of the unity of the working class, the most advanced class in society, which has as its objective the defeat of imperialism, prevention of war, and ultimately of obtaining the goal of socialism. The Negro people's movement is a key factor in the struggle for socialism due to the existence of an all class government; the Negro is in the main part of the working class. The sound basis for Negro-labor unity is to combat the common enemy - the big business-Dixiecrat control of the economy.

[(CG T-3, 12/19/62)] (U)

As of August 21, 1963, the CP of Illinois' struggle on behalf of the Negro civil liberties movement is being processed through the CP of Illinois Negro Commission. The CP of Illinois Negro Commission has the task of mobilizing (U)

Party forces who are currently active in Negro mass organizations. In addition, the CP of Illinois as a whole is attempting to influence the course of the Negro civil liberties movement by its writings in "The Worker" and by mailing material written by Negro CP members, such as CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, Chairman, CP of Illinois, and BEN DAVIS, CP, USA leader. (C) (U)

At the present time in Chicago, Illinois, the CP of Illinois is concentrating on trying to influence the direction of the Negro American Labor Council (NALC) in which there are three active CP of Illinois members, who are on the Executive Board of NALC. (C) (U)

Also, at present in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), there are three CP of Illinois members who are also members of the NAACP Chicago Branch Executive Board, Within the NAACP, Chicago Branch, the CP of Illinois is trying to accomplish the same influence. Also, at this time, the CP of Illinois is attempting to concentrate on the mobilization of youth into the NALC and the NAACP. Also, the CP of Illinois is attempting to mobilize Negro workers into these organizations. The general objectives of the CP are; (C) (U)

1) To participate in ideological discussions influencing the Negro movement.

2) To try and influence Negro workers to participate more in the movement.

3) To try to organize more people, particularly young people to participate in the movement.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

In addition to the above objectives, the CP of Illinois is attempting to influence the general labor movement wherever CP of Illinois members are active in order to have mobilized an organized labor movement in support of the programs of these existing organizations. The tactics utilized by the CP of Illinois are implemented through caucuses of Party membership in the particular mass organization and to particular contact between CP leaders and sympathizers. (X) (U)

As of August 21, 1963, the numerical strength of CP of Illinois members in the leadership of various civil rights organizations in Chicago, Illinois, is as follows: (X) (U)

Within the NAACP, Chicago Branch, there are three CP of Illinois members, all of whom are on the Executive Board of the NAACP, Chicago Branch.

NALC (X) (U)

Within the NALC, Chicago, there are three CP of Illinois members, all of whom are on the Executive Board of this organization.

Congress of Racial Equality (CORE)

Within CORE, Chicago area, there are from five to six CP of Illinois members, one of whom serves on the West Side CORE Executive Committee.

CONFL (U)

In regard to other main civil rights organizations in Chicago, such as The Temporary Woodlawn Organization (TWO), The Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), or the Chicago Urban League (CUL), it is to be noted that at this time there are no CP of Illinois members in these organizations in a leadership capacity. (U)

In those organizations where there are no CP of Illinois members, the CP of Illinois through its Negro Commission and particularly through EARL DURHAM, Chairman, CP of Illinois Negro Commission, is attempting to establish talking relationships with non-Party leaders in these organizations. As an example, EARL DURHAM discusses problems with HAROLD BARON, who is a former member of the CP and who is in the CUL. (U)

In regard to TWO, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT attempts discussions with the [redacted] a non-Party leader in the TWO. (U) b6 b7C

In addition, EARL DURHAM generally encourages the CP of Illinois membership to establish relationships with non-Party individuals who are active in the various civil rights organizations in the Chicago, Illinois area. Thus far in the past year and a half, the numerical strength of CP members in the civil rights organizations has not increased. (U)

The CP, USA approach to the Negro question in general is based on the CP estimate of the capitalist system in the United States and the Party, therefore, concludes that the current struggle for Negro rights is objectively a struggle for socialism in America. Therefore, both by its (U) written word and its current method of operation, the CPUSA supports the program and activities of current civil rights organizations because it is the opinion of the CP that through the course of struggles of the Negro people, the Negro will learn that capitalism restricts their development. Further, the CP attempts through its own writings and publications to guide the Negro struggle to become anti-capitalist. In conclusion, the CP believes that the Negro struggle advances the cause of socialism and communism because it is the CP's estimate that the struggle for civil rights sooner or later will come into a head-on collision with the capitalist system and that, therefore, the Negro people will see that the final solution to their problem is socialism. (U) b6 b7C

The concept of combined CP and non-CP members on various bodies organized by the CP of Illinois is based on the fact of the current status of CP membership, that is the CP membership itself is small. There are in the mass movements former members of the CP who left the CP for one reason or another. It is the hope of the CP to win back those people who have dropped out, therefore, there is an approach on the part of the CP to include in certain mass organization committees CP personnel and at the same moment, non-CP personnel. In the CP of Illinois Negro Commission, the application of this concept is limited due to the fact that such individuals as [redacted], [redacted] and [redacted] are not members of a CP club. This concept is not such a broad concept as to allow non-Marxists to sit on committees of the CP, but in this case because of the status of CP clubs and the weakness of the organization itself, the feeling is that these individuals if they are willing, should sit on the Negro Commission. (U)

Regarding sub-committees of the Negro Commission which act as arms of the Negro Commission, the concept in application is even broader. The sub-committees will, on occasions, have activities around various mass organizations such as the Chicago Coordinating Council of Community Organizations (CCCO), the NALC, and the NAACP, as well as others and where the CP will actually attempt to set up committees that will even include non-Marxists, that is these sub-committees will include people who are friendly toward the CP but have not accepted the ideology or accepted the CP programs. So far, this has not materialized to any great extent with the exception of [redacted], who is not now or ever has been a CP member but she does sits on the sub-committee of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission, which deals with the NALC. (U) b6 b7C

EARL DURHAM, a member of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission, recently met with [redacted] and [redacted] both of whom are considered to be current CP members and these individuals discussed the possibility of organizing a committee based upon the problems of the CCCO. During this discussion, various names were suggested for the (U) b6 b7C

CCCO committee, such as [redacted] and [redacted] to sit on this sub-committee along with the individuals engaged in the discussion. These three people mentioned are not at present members of the CP and, in fact, are in one form or another in disagreement with either personnel or policies of the CP. It was felt, however, that the three would agree to sit on a committee of Marxist-Leninists led by DURHAM to discuss common Marxist outlook for the CCCO. (U)

This then is the basic concept and has not reached any further elaboration in any field as far as is known. There was some discussion at a CP of Illinois State Board meeting about establishing such an approach in the peace movement and in the political action field. As far as is known, this has not happened. (U)

The CP of Illinois District, including its Chairman, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, follows the announced CP national policy of condemning racial violence but maintains its position of encouraging Negroes to speak for the legitimate demands of Negroes, including housing, desegregation of schools, voting rights, etc. (U)

The CP of Illinois, following the Harlem riots, issued a press release disclaiming any responsibility for the violence in Harlem, which specifically described WILLIAM SEPTON, who played a prominent role in Harlem riots, as an "ex-Communist" for whom the CP, USA had no responsibility. (U)

The question of how to prevent violence in Chicago has been the subject of discussion in the CP of Illinois leadership because it is felt that violence in Illinois (U)

could cause a "white backlash" in the November elections which might cause the voters to elect Senator GOLDWATER. (U)

The CP, USA, is concerned particularly about young Negroes who are anti-white and nationalists because they are not subject to discipline by any organized group on the question of violence. The CP is attempting to reach some of these youths to encourage them to attend community meetings where leaders of these meetings are calling for non-violence in the approach to racial matters. (U)

In the CP of Illinois, two CP members have been sent into the ACT organization in Chicago with the specific assignment of trying to convince people in this group to demonstrate peaceably. This was done because the CP of Illinois received rumors that [redacted], a leader of ACT, may have one or two of the so-called "Negro gang" representatives in his ACT organization. As of August, 1964, this allegation had not been verified by the CP of Illinois. (U)

The CP of Illinois currently has two CP members who are working in CORE as National Task Force leaders of CORE. These individuals are [redacted] and [redacted] however, [redacted] and [redacted] instructions are to operate within the framework of the aims and objectives of CORE. The Task Force consists of sixteen organizers and the CP of Illinois has been unable to reach any of the other fourteen organizers (U)

In regard to CORE itself, it has been learned that several months ago, CORE felt that it would try to develop a relationship with Negro gangs in Chicago, however, source has no (U) knowledge that this thinking was carried out as to whether CORE was successful in this endeavor. (C) (U)

In regard to general racial conditions on the south side of Chicago, general racial tensions on the south side continues to be on a "touch and go basis". The south side Negro community is concerned about how the young Negro youths who are not members of organizations will react to a given situation since no one can say they have any control or influence over them. (C) (U)

With regard to these youths, the Chicago Police Department, particularly Captain HARKNESS, the ministers of all faiths, the CUL, and other such organizations have initiated community meetings to attempt to dispell any outbreaks of violence. Whether these attempts have reached the Negro youth is questionable, however, the general concensus of the community is that these meetings which are continuing have reduced tensions. These community leaders are using statements of Communist national leaders that violence is not the answer. It is hoped that the statement such as that made by JAMES FARMER of the National Office of CORE, which was released August 5, 1964, to the effect that the bodies of two whites and one Negro were found in Mississippi will have some effect in convincing the "hot heads" that not all whites are bad and that some whites have even given their lives for Negro freedom. During the aforementioned meeting, EARL DURHAM, Chairman, Illinois Negro Commission, indicated that the purpose of calling the meeting was to discuss the fact that CP youth had not built a solid collective around Negro youth or had carried out the agreements reached at a CP Executive meeting several weeks ago. DURHAM stated he wanted a well rounded critical and self-critical collective that works together to exchange ideas, debate each other's ideas, and grow together in the work. DURHAM indicated that if this cannot be accomplished, the project should be given up and the individuals involved should stop wasting each other's time. During the discussion that followed, [redacted] a CP of Illinois member active in youth work, pointed out that he had attempted to work in ACT but that he could not make heads or tails of what ACT was doing. [redacted] indicated that he had met with [redacted] and discussed how he could participate in the anti-GOLDWATER campaign. [redacted] a leader in Protest at the Polls movement, told him that he had freedom to participate in whatever form he felt necessary to win first voters in the campaign against GOLDWATER. It is noted that a small group had agreed to participate in this campaign and that they would remain a small group and would have an ideological program where they would discuss any and all projects. For their mass work, they would work in the campaign against GOLDWATER through Protest at the Polls. (U)

[redacted] a CP of Illinois youth member who also attended this meeting, stated during the discussion that he wanted clarification as to his role in the CP's program because he was being torn by responsibility from the W. E. B. DuBois Club Executive, as well as by [redacted] and [redacted] as to what he should be doing in the Negro youth field. (U)

In answer to [redacted] complaint, DURHAM stated that [redacted] must have some relationship with Negro youth in the community and that others active in CP youth work must help [redacted] develop this relationship. DURHAM also pointed out that if [redacted] has to be an officer of the W. E. B. During this meeting, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, Chairman of the CP of Illinois, discussed a recent trip he had taken to Springfield, Illinois, as part of a protest lobby that went to Springfield to protest the State of Illinois Legislature's handling of the relief crisis. (U)

During his comments, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT indicated that both he and [redacted] had participated in this lobby at Springfield, Illinois, and that both had gained the impression that the lobby was a positive demonstration on the part of the people who were fighting for adequate relief from the State of Illinois. consideration of the problems of the poor. LIGHTFOOT also indicated that there were approximately 800 to 1,000 in Springfield for both the relief lobby, and on the following day, the lobby for open occupancy. (U)

LIGHTFOOT was critical of the fact that the dominant group in the lobby was the ministers and was critical of the fact that there was not more trade union representation. (U)

LIGHTFOOT's remarks concerning the lobby indicated that the leadership for direct action at the lobby was taken by youth. LIGHTFOOT indicated it was these youth who in spite of the appeals, called for a sit-in demonstration and ignored the appeals of the leadership of the lobby to disperse. (U)

Among those present for this meeting were the following: (U)

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT

JACK KLING
[redacted] (U) b6 b7C
GUS HALL

One of the reports on the agenda for this meeting was a report by JACK KLING on how to organize white workers in the fight for Negro rights. (U)

KLING reported that in various mass freedom walks throughout the country the best estimate was that only 10% of the participants were white. KLING stated that in his opinion one of the major instruments for mobilizing white support is through the Race and Religion conference that was held in Chicago and which has since established community councils. KLING stated that in his opinion the outstanding religious force active in the civil rights struggle is the Catholic Church in Chicago; particularly the Catholic Interracial Council which was playing a dominant role. (U)

KLING further indicated that a second possible instrument for the mobilization of the white community on behalf of the Negroes civil rights was the AFL-CIO. KLING reported that the AFL-CIO recently established a new civil rights committee. KLING indicated that this action had been taken because of the fact the unions had been pressured by the mass struggles of the Negro people. KLING noted, however, that the AFL-CIO was beginning to at least give lip service to civil rights and has stated that they are going to undertake a program in approximately 30 cities to end Jim Crow. (U)

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

KLING indicated that the CP has no illusions about the aggressiveness of this new committee; however, it should be recognized as a possible area for activating the trade union movement in the struggle for Negro rights. (U)

KLING continued and noted that there exists in many communities several organizations that are concerning themselves with housing. In this connection KLING mentioned that on Saturday, July 27, 1963, a conference was to take place at the Allerton Hotel sponsored by the Roman Catholic Church. The theme of this conference, according to KLING, would be on the responsibilities of the community for new move-ins. (U)

KLING reported that because of a gap between the leadership of the various organizations in the white communities and the rank and file who are mainly apathetic and confused about civil rights, the Party faced a big ideological problem. In this connection KLING said there are certain tasks that lie before the party in Chicago. KLING recommended that pressure be put on Illinois Senators DOUGLAS and DIRKSEN on civil rights with the main direction being against Senator DIRKSEN. (U)

Secondly, KLING said the party must support the March on Washington which was to be held August 28, 1963. Lastly, KLING said the party must organize participation in the hearings before the Chicago City Council on Open Occupancy. (U)

KLING stated that the role of the CP can make a big difference in the outcome of the struggle to get white participation in the civil rights fight. (U)

It was at this point of the meeting that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT asked EARL DURHAM to give a report on a conference held Saturday, July 20, 1963, by the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations (CCCO). (U)

EARL DURHAM indicated that the conference was called by some 13 organizations which have been in existence for about six months and that the purpose of the council was to act as a coordinating council of these organizations in the fight for civil rights. (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

DURHAM stated that the main driving organization in the councils appeared to be the Chicago Urban League. The conference itself, said DURHAM, was called by the CCCO in an attempt to coordinate future activities in the field of civil rights. (U)

DURHAM reported that the speakers at the conference emphasized the theme of direct action and called for responsible leadership for the struggle. (U)

DURHAM reported that after the speakers the conference broke up into various panels including housing, legislation, schools and so forth and that in each panel the delegates discussed direct action. DURHAM stated that after the panel discussions the reporters for the panels made their decisions known to the general session. (U)

DURHAM reported to the State Board that it was his impression that the conference was a positive conference but lacked strong organizational approach to follow up matters. DURHAM noted that as a result many of the decisions, particularly the one dealing with the March on Washington, was still not clear as to who was to be responsible for coordinating the March on Washington plans in Chicago. DURHAM further reported that in his opinion there is a need for much more ideological content as to the direction of the struggle and as to the political organization itself. (U)

Following DURHAM's comments, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT and GUS HALL both commented and both indicated that the CP should make strong efforts in the mobilization of CP members in order to send representatives to the March on Washington and both indicated that future CP meetings at all levels should have the March on Washington issue on their agenda. (U)

(CG T-3, 7/24/63) (U)

On August 20, 1963, a meeting of the CP of Illinois State Board was held in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

The main question to be discussed at this meeting was a roundup of the Negro organizations in Chicago and their programs. The main report on this question was to be delivered by EARL DURHAM. (U)

EARL DURHAM stated that his report would not include any major estimate of the international or national situation as it affects the Negro movement. DURHAM stated that his main concern would be to try and analyze the current status of Negro freedom in Chicago. (U)

At the outset of his report DURHAM stated that a coalition on Negro freedom was currently functioning in Chicago through a community coordinating council which was now composed of 26 organizations. DURHAM stated that the main and most influential of these organizations are the following: (U)

National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP)

Negro American Labor Council (NALC)

Congress on Racial Equality (CORE)

Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) (U)

The Chicago Urban League

Temporary Woodlawn Organization (TWO)

The Catholic Interracial Council

DURHAM advised that this coalition has been strengthened greatly by virtue of their collective participation relative to the March on Washington scheduled for August 28, 1963. DURHAM noted that this joint action had brought the organizations closer together and presents the possibility of a permanent coalition as a very realistic outlook; however, within the coalition there is still not the mobilization of the rank and file members of the organizations represented. (U)

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

DURHAM stated that the lack of mobilization of the rank and file members was one of the coalition weaknesses. DURHAM also stated that there are only four trade unions represented on the coalition: (U)

District Number 1 of the United Packing House Workers of America

Region 4 of the United Auto Workers

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workers

Joint Council of Dining Car Employees

DURHAM noted that these unions do not play a dominant role within the council as yet; however, he noted the Packing House Union was extremely active in the March on Washington. (U)

DURHAM stated that in view of the developments it was necessary for the CP to have a specific estimate of the various components of the Negro peoples' movement in Chicago so that the CP's program could be based on specific trends. (U)

DURHAM noted that the first Negro civil rights organization he desired to discuss was CORE. (U)

DURHAM indicated that CORE, although extremely active in the school struggle in Chicago, is perhaps the smallest and most disorganized organization of the coalition. (U)

DURHAM stated that within CORE there was a tremendous amount of "Trotskyite" influence particularly among the young people. This influence is detrimental because it is undisciplined and because it is provocative. DURHAM said if this influence was not curbed it will weaken the struggle for Negro rights. DURHAM stated that overcoming this influence was a task that the CP must undertake. DURHAM stated that CORE has a tremendous (U)

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

potential of winning the working class youth if it developed a healthy core within the organization that will overcome the undisciplined "Trotskyite" element. (U)

The second organization DURHAM discussed was SNCC. (U)

DURHAM advised that SNCC has a student background mainly centered around the University of Chicago. He stated that there was a tremendous white liberal influence in SNCC of which there are a few ex-CP members among its leaders. DURHAM stated that although SNCC is not as large as the NAACP or other organizations, its leadership is more articulate and the organization is better organized. DURHAM stated that SNCC has a problem of Negro leadership and this too becomes a task for the CP in trying to win the youth to participate in SNCC. (U)

The third organization discussed by DURHAM was the NAACP. (U)

The NAACP, according to DURHAM, is undergoing a change due to the pressure of the Negro peoples' struggles. He advised that there has been appointed within the Executive Board of the Chicago Branch of the NAACP a Direct Action Committee. This committee is designated to organize the NAACP members into direct action struggles. DURHAM noted that there has been very little activity within the NAACP in behalf of the March on Washington. DURHAM stated that the decisive question for the party in regard to the NAACP is to help stimulate the development of a youth division in this organization. It was DURHAM's opinion that by assisting in the development of a youth division within the NAACP, the CP could assist in positioning the NAACP into the forefront of a militant struggle in Chicago. It was DURHAM's conclusion that the NAACP is still not fulfilling its potential. (U)

The fourth organization discussed by DURHAM was the TWO. (U)

DURHAM indicated that the main control of TWO is from the Ministry. DURHAM stated that the TWO has a working class base and in the past participated in many mass action movements. He stated, however, that there was an attempt to pull in the horns of TWO at the present time and thereby reduce its effectiveness; however, DURHAM noted that at present this attempt has failed. (U)

The fifth organization discussed by DURHAM was the NALC, (U)

DURHAM stated that in his opinion the NALC has all of the prerequisites for becoming the leading organization in the Negro freedom movement in Chicago. According to DURHAM there have been certain splits in the leadership of the organization. These splits have not been successful in destroying the NALC. DURHAM advised that the present organization is moving toward unity and is participating in the March on Washington. DURHAM also noted that the NALC has been unsuccessful in its negotiation with the Motorola organization in forcing that company into hiring Negroes and they also have been unsuccessful in negotiations with the Railroad industry in getting Negroes hired. (U)

The sixth organization discussed by DURHAM was the Chicago Urban League. (U)

DURHAM noted that the Chicago Chapter of the Urban League differs from its sister chapters in other cities in that it stimulates wherever possible mass direct action. However, DURHAM noted the Urban League itself does not participate in this mass direct action because of its charter. DURHAM stated that the Urban League leadership in Chicago also has been acting as a unifier for other organizations by setting itself up as a consultant for all the other organizations participating in the Negroes' struggle. (U) [redacted]

DURHAM next reported that there were two other significant organizations in operation or coming into operation. He identified one of these as an independent political action grouping centered around [redacted] and [redacted] DURHAM noted that this (U) b6 b7C

grouping has had several meetings and are projecting a conference sometime in December to discuss political action activities in the Negro communities. (U)

The second organization was identified by DURHAM as the 71st and Stewart group under the leadership of [redacted] who has been conducting struggles around the "WILLIS Wagons". DURHAM indicated that this group is an excellent example of how community struggles can lead to organizations and militancy and perhaps the CP should look closer at this example and perhaps the CP can duplicate it in other communities. (U)

DURHAM then indicated his conclusions and stated that in his opinion the line of the CP is correct when it states that the Negro peoples movement is affecting the entire direction of the working class and socialists struggle in this country. DURHAM noted that the CP is also correct when it states that there are still scattered unclarified questions being presented by the Negro Peoples Movement and the party is also correct in emphasizing the necessity to struggle for the unity of the Negro movement and for Negro labor unity. (U)

DURHAM then indicated that the CP's concentration should be as follows: (U)

1. Strengthen the working class components of the Negro Freedom Movement.

2. Strengthen the youth component of the movement within this framework in every organization where party members are working. (U)

DURHAM also noted that the CP must have an objective of establishing left groupings within the mass organizations which will come together to provide deeper ideological questions of the day. (U)

DURHAM then reported the CP strength in the various organizations mentioned as follows: (U)

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

DURHAM reported that in the NAACP the CP of Illinois has three CP members who are also members of the NAACP, Chicago Branch, Executive Board. (U)

DURHAM reported that in CORE there are three to five CP members now in the leadership of the city-wide organization. (U)

DURHAM reported that in the NALC the CP of Illinois has three members on the NALC Executive Board. (U)

DURHAM reported that in the Chicago Urban League, in TWO, and in SNCC some CP members are on speaking terms with some of the leadership of these organizations, but that the party has no active members in these organizations. (U)

DURHAM further reported that [redacted], who is leading the 71st and Stewart struggle, was in the party, although she has not been seen since her struggle reached its peak. DURHAM indicated that this would be corrected. (U)

DURHAM closed his remarks by proposing the following tasks for the CP of Illinois: (U)

1. That the party issue at least two pieces of material per month to be mailed to a select mailing list of Negro leaders.

2. That the party assign someone to work with LOU DISKIN, CP of Illinois State Board member in developing a Negro part of the left youth group. (U)

3. That sometime in September there be a meeting of all forces in the civil rights struggle to plan an overall outlook for the party to strengthen the collective of the party in the struggle.

4. To present points of concentration for the party.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

Following DURHAM's report those in attendance commented. CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT stated that he thought there should be a broader functioning of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission with more attention paid to white comrades who should be actively in the civil rights fight. LIGHTFOOT also indicated that sometimes CP members use the term "revolution" too loosely and at this juncture they might speak of the Negro struggle as "revolutionary." LIGHTFOOT cautioned that the CP should not try and classify the Negro struggle this early. LIGHTFOOT stated that the CP role can be decisive in helping to give ideological and practical leadership to the Negroes struggle. (U)

JAMES WEST, a member of the CP of Illinois State Board, who was present also commented and indicated that the upsurge among the Negro people involves all classes of the Negro people with the lowest economic category beginning to play a major role. WEST noted that the old guard leadership of the civil rights organizations have not fully understood this new upsurge and they are tending to try and contain the movement. WEST stated that in his opinion there is an opportunity for more political action within the Negro movement and that the possibility existed for the beginning of a real movement against the Dawson organization. (U)

WEST also stated that the new youth organization established with the help of the party should begin immediately reacting to issues and not relying on classes alone. (U)

WEST further stated that he thought it was significant that EARL DURHAM in his report left out the Afro-American Heritage Association (AAHA) in his roundup. WEST stated that in his opinion there should be a discussion on the perspectives around AAHA and put it in correct perspective as far as AAHA's role in the current movement is concerned. WEST said that the CP has to have an estimate of this organization. WEST said the AAHA is not a Marxist-Leninist organization and the movement has certain nationalistic overtones. WEST maintained that at any rate the AAHA could not be a substitute for the Marxist-Leninist left in the Negro movement. (U)

Following the various comments EARL DURHAM indicated that he did not want to summarize, but stated there are a couple of questions he would like to mention as follows: (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

1. That the City Housing Authority has announced they are building housing for the aged in several places in the city and that the CP should be aware that a struggle will be necessary to have some of this housing placed outside of the Negro ghetto.

2. That early in September a conference of CP forces be set up to meet on the civil rights movement.

3. Following this September conference the CP of Illinois should establish an enlarged CP of Illinois Negro Commission. (U)(C)

4. That the CP accept the concentration on the NALC and take steps to fight for winning the Negro youth.

5. To establish a mailing list for circulation of party material within the Negro movement.

All of the above proposals were accepted and the meeting was adjourned. (C) (U)

During this meeting JAMES WEST, Organizational Secretary, CP of Illinois, who was in attendance, advised that a recent meeting of the CP, USA National Committee had been held in New York City and that he had planned to prepare a report for this meeting giving an estimate of the National Committee meeting; however, he did not have his notes organized and therefore would try to give an outline of a report delivered by GUS HALL at the National Committee meeting. WEST then proceeded to point out that at the National Committee meeting there had been a two day discussion on the civil rights struggle and that HALL during his report indicated that the CP must place more emphasis on the economic and political aspects of the civil rights struggle. WEST indicated that HALL in his report stated that the civil rights struggle can be linked to the 35 hour week and other such issues facing white workers. WEST stated that HALL reported bread and butter questions must become dominant in the civil rights struggle. WEST reported that according to HALL the party must concentrate on three fronts: (C) (U)

1. The struggle for Negro rights.
2. Economic questions.
3. The struggle for peace.

(C) (U)

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, Chairman, CP of Illinois, opened the meeting and indicated the main topic for discussion was a report from the CP, USA National Committee which was given by BEN DAVIS at a National Committee meeting. (U)

LIGHTFOOT stated that BEN DAVIS' report concentrated on problems in the Negro Movement and did not concentrate on how to win the white masses to the program. LIGHTFOOT advised that DAVIS' report dealt with three stages of the Negro civil liberties movement in the last year. According to LIGHTFOOT, DAVIS reported that the first stage of the movement was the fight in Birmingham, Alabama which set the tone and removed the fear for the Negro movement. The second stage was culminated by the August 28, 1963, March on Washington. The third stage, according to DAVIS' report, was increased terror which was currently being taken against the Negro movement by the Chauvinist elements in the country. (U)

LIGHTFOOT reported that DAVIS indicated that the stage prior to Birmingham was the opening of the voter registration drive in the south. LIGHTFOOT reported that this drive met with stiffened resistance in the south and as a result the Negro civil liberties movement moved into the stage of direct action particularly in Birmingham. From this point the struggle then flowed into the north urban areas and the Negro civil liberties movement then began to develop in the north through mass action and struggles around the people in the north which culminated with the August 28, 1963 March on Washington. (U)

LIGHTFOOT noted that following these demonstrations and actions a certain frustration has taken place due to the fact that no major concentrations have been won in this period. LIGHTFOOT stated that DAVIS indicated that the question now before the CP as well as the mass movement is what are the next steps necessary to maintain these facilities. (U)

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

LIGHTFOOT reported that DAVIS' report reflected this frustration and inability to come up with a specific program. DAVIS' report indicated that the movement has been misdirected by the civil rights leaders to a certain extent particularly when these leaders have allowed the Executive Branch of the Government to get off the hook and strip the movement of a major addition in the passage of meaningful civil rights legislation. (U)

LIGHTFOOT stated the problem is now not one of more militancy since militancy is already present, but what is needed is a more definitive program and forms of struggle which will attract more than just the advanced section of the Negro movement. LIGHTFOOT stated that a boycott of the schools on October 22, 1963, gave Chicago a tremendous lift forward in the struggle for civil rights. LIGHTFOOT stated that this boycott has Mayor DALEY's political machine on the spot and has forced the Negro Aldermen to more positive positions. LIGHTFOOT said the task of the CP is to help channelize these activities into the political arena. LIGHTFOOT said the slogan for the ouster of Superintendent of Schools [redacted] must highlight a campaign devoted to guarantee a victory on this front. (U)

b7C

Following a discussion of LIGHTFOOT's remarks LIGHTFOOT summarized and stated that the struggle around Superintendent of Schools [redacted] must be a central task for the CP and the party must strengthen itself in relationship to this question. (U)

[(CG T-3, 10/~~22~~23/63)] (U)

On January 14, 1964, a meeting of the CP of Illinois State Board was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. During a discussion at this meeting concerning the Negro civil liberties movement EARL DURHAM indicated that the CP of Illinois organization has to be changed to meet the needs of developing independent political action under the CP's leadership. DURHAM noted that it would not be easy to transform the current civil rights struggle in Chicago away from the Chicago Board of Education toward a mass campaign in support of the National Civil Rights Bill in Congress. DURHAM stated, therefore, that the CP should discuss this question more completely and suggested that the CP should try and meet more regularly with those forces (U) willing to meet with them which are part of the regular Democratic party organization. (U)

LIGHTFOOT then commented and stated that he felt that although it was difficult they should try and get action or a mass support of the civil rights bill. LIGHTFOOT proposed that a committee of the State Board be established to work out deals on such a mass action. LIGHTFOOT proposed the following individuals to be members of the committee: (U)

GIL GREEN
EARL DURHAM
CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT
MILT COHEN

The names as proposed by LIGHTFOOT were approved as members of this committee. (U)

On January 22, 1964, a meeting of the Subcommittee of the CP of Illinois State Board designated to work on issues of civil rights held a meeting in a private home in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

EARL DURHAM
CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT
MILT COHEN

At the outset of this meeting inquiry was made as to why RICHARD CRILEY was not present. LIGHTFOOT stated that he had not invited CRILEY. When asked if CRILEY had not been suggested for this committee, LIGHTFOOT stated emphatically "No." (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

LIGHTFOOT next proposed that those present discuss the agenda for the CP of Illinois Negro Commission meeting to be held January 23, 1964, and also its changed ideas on the Chicago School Board situation and the National Civil Rights Bill in Congress. (U)

LIGHTFOOT next proposed that the agenda for the CP of Illinois Negro Commission meeting include the following three questions: (U)

1. Fight for unity in the U. S. Civil Rights Movement and a discussion of problems that will be present.

2. A question of political action with emphasis on the Protest at the Polls Movement. (U)

3. What issues should be projected in the current civil rights struggle in Chicago.

LIGHTFOOT pointed out that in regard to point three the following issues should be included. (U)

1. The fight around the School Board.

2. The program advanced by President JOHNSON on the struggle against poverty with emphasis on the distribution of surplus food to the needy. (U)

3. The Civil Rights Bill in Congress.

In the discussion that followed it was reported that the school boycott issue had split the CCCO with the NAACP, the Chicago Urban League, the Catholic Interracial Council and the Presbyterian Council voting against it. (U)

It was decided on the school boycott question that although there was some disagreement as to whether the CP should support this boycott it was decided that the CP would support the boycott in order to make it a success. (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

Regarding the national civil rights bill, LIGHTFOOT pointed out that a vacuum had developed in this question and he suggested that a petition campaign be instituted directed at Senator DIRKSEN demanding DIRKSEN's support for the Civil Rights Bill. LIGHTFOOT also indicated that on the Congressional level the CP should be sensitive enough to link the school struggle to the passage of the Civil Rights Bill. He also stated that the CP should prepare itself to assist in the blocking of a filibuster if a filibuster developes over this question in Congress. (U)

[(CG T-3, 1/23/64)] (U)

On January 28,1964, the CP of Illinois State Board held a meeting in Chicago, Illinois. During this meeting the main report on the Negro civil liberties movement was given by EARL DURHAM. During the report DURHAM stated that the Chicago civil rights movement at the present time is being centered in the CCCO. He reported that as of this meeting there were 22 major organizations affiliated with this body. He noted that at the present time half of these organizations are at least either white or interracial. DURHAM pointed out that the main concern of the CCCO from its inception has been the struggle for integrated schools. DURHAM noted that the CCCO has received the major part of all publicity and is without doubt the leading group in the Chicago civil rights fight. DURHAM stated, therefore, the CP must have an estimate and a program concerning this organization. DURHAM stated that it is possible at this point for the CP to move from a position of supporting and keeping up with the civil rights movement to a position of beginning to assert some influence in the movement. DURHAM noted that this was possible because some CP members are in positions to begin influencing the movement. DURHAM stated that this was also possible because the movement itself reflects a unified and coordinated program. (U)

DURHAM stated it is the responsibility of the CP at this time to fight for a unified approach and the united front approach which will allow all participants to take part in spite of disagreements on key questions. (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

DURHAM pointed out that there are several weaknesses in the CCCO both in its composition and the programatic point of view. (U)

He noted that no major organizations are affiliated with the CCCO and member organizations are at present not mobilizing their membership to function in the program outlined by CCCO. (U)

DURHAM advised that the current split in the CCCO came about due to the proposal for a school boycott. He explained that the lineup within the organization consists of the so called militants on the one hand such as SNCC, CORE and NALC and on the other side the conservative grouping around the NAACP and the Chicago Urgan League. (U)

DURHAM stated that the struggle for unity must include an approach to make it possible for all forces in the organization to participate without binding the existing organizations to any one program. DURHAM noted that if the boycott is agreed upon and does take place the party must give its fullest support to the struggle. (U)

[(CG T-3, 1/30/64)] (U)

On February 25, 1964, a meeting of the CP of Illinois State Board was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

The main report delivered at this meeting was a report by EARL DURHAM who gave a preliminary evaluation of the school boycott. During this report DURHAM stated that in his opinion this boycott was even more significant than the first, namely because in this boycott the political establishment was clearly and sharply opposed to the action. DURHAM stated the victory of the boycott indicated a trememdous independence in the Negro community and placed the Mayor DALEY political machine in a very untenable position. DURHAM noted that prior to the boycott there had been many dangers of spliting the united front, but noted that one of the powerful factors that brought about unity was the opposition of the Board of Education to the proposition and also the active intervention by the DALEY administration. (U)

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

DURHAM recommended to the Board that an immediate followup take place by the CP and that this followup must be quick and deep. DURHAM indicated that the leadership of the civil rights movement should immediately issue some form of evaluation and perspective for the future. Secondly DURHAM felt there should be some type of organizational follow-up on a community basis by the leadership of the CCCO. (U)

DURHAM also recommended that the problem around the national Civil Rights Bill in Congress should be injected into the united front at this stage. (U)

c) CP of Illinois Negro Commission

On January 11, 1964, leading members of the CP of Illinois held a meeting at a private home in Chicago, Illinois. Among those attending this meeting were CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT and EARL DURHAM. The purpose of this meeting was to finalize the personnel and the organization for a future meeting of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission. (U)

At the outset of this meeting, those present discussed the CP members who should be selected to serve on a newly revised CP of Illinois Negro Commission. During this discussion, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT indicated that as representative a group as possible should be selected so that the new Negro Commission could keep its fingers on the various developing trends in the Negro civil liberties movement, as well as develop some form of coordination. LIGHTFOOT then read a list of names which he proposed for membership on the Negro Commission. These names are as follows: (U)

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT
EARL DURHAM
[redacted]
MILT COHEN
ISHMAEL FLORY
[redacted]

CP members (U)

b7C

At this point, EARL DURHAM interrupted LIGHTFOOT and indicated that although the CP of Illinois did not have a full movement of Negro youth, perhaps it would be a good idea to include on the commission [redacted] so that the (U) commission would have the benefit of TATE's knowledge in developing an approach in the Negro youth movement. (U)

Following discussion on this point, TATE was added as a member of the newly organized Negro Commission. (U)

It was during this meeting that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT announced that EARL DURHAM had been nominated to serve as a member of the CP, USA National Negro Commission to represent the CP of Illinois on that commission. (U)

The meeting closed with the announcement that the newly organized CP of Illinois Negro Commission would meet in late January, 1964, and that at that meeting, each member should be prepared to give a rundown as to how they saw the status of the civil rights movement in Chicago and following these reports, the new commission should then project, based upon their opinions, a program of activity and concentration for Chicago. (U)

On January 23, 1964, the CP of Illinois Negro Commission held a meeting at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois, and among those present for this meeting were the following: (U)

It was also announced that [redacted] had called and advised that another meeting conflicted with the Negro Commission meeting and that she would be unable to attend that evening. It was also announced that it had been impossible to contact [redacted] and she was unaware of the meeting. (U)

EARL DURHAM chaired the meeting and indicated that this meeting was the official formation of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission which had been ordered established by the CP of Illinois State Board. DURHAM indicated that when this commission was properly constituted, it would reflect all that the CP of Illinois is able to muster in the civil rights field. He noted, however, that one of the main objectives of the newly organized group was to assert and strike the influence of the CP of Illinois in the civil rights movement. DURHAM further indicated that the CP of Illinois Negro Commission is expected to reflect the trends and developments in the civil rights movement and that the members of the commission have the responsibility of guaranteeing that the commission would reflect the realistic trends in the movement. DURHAM also stated that the members of the commission would have to accept discipline and the commission meeting would take precedent over other meetings in the Negro civil liberties movement. (U)

EARL DURHAM continued and explained that it was the decision of the CP of Illinois State Board that the newly organized commission would organize several sub-committees to act as arms of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission. DURHAM indicated that it was planned that the sub-committees could be composed of CP and non-CP people who are active in the various civil rights organizations. DURHAM indicated that whether these sub-committees will allow CP of Illinois leaders to be in attendance will be determined by the composition (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

of the sub-committees and the feeling of the members of these sub-committees. (U)

DURHAM further stated that the newly organized CP of Illinois Negro Commission had the responsibility of developing policy for the CP of Illinois in its work among the Negro people, therefore, the commission had to be an ideological group and not one confined to the discussion of tactics in any particular facet of the Negro civil liberties movement. (U)

At this point the floor was opened for discussion by the various individuals present and after this discussion, EARL DURHAM once again spoke and summarized. (U)

DURHAM indicated that a smaller committee of the Negro Commission was needed to go into the specifics of how the CP's influence can be organized in the civil rights movement. DURHAM stated that the commission needed to know the "line-up" in the CCCO and the CP caucus that exists in CCCO. DURHAM also stated that the commission needed to know more of how the caucuses are forces in SNCC and CORE. DURHAM proposed a sub-committee of himself, [redacted], JAMES [redacted] and [redacted] meet and work out these details. This proposal was accepted and the committee was told to meet on January 30, 1964. (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

At the outset of this meeting, it was stated the purpose of the sub-committee was to try and organize the CP of Illinois and progressive forces so that they might be able to be in a position of developing more influence in the direction of the civil rights movement. (U)

At the outset of this meeting, LESTER DAVIS, who was present, indicated he had been elected a delegate from the NAACP to the CCCO. (U)

From DAVIS' remarks, it was then indicated that the delegates to the CCCO who are now in the CP are LESTER DAVIS, [redacted] and one other person. (U) b6 b7C

It was then announced that [redacted] should take the responsibility of contacting [redacted] and the other CP members, active in CCCO, and set up a meeting where the outlook should be suggested that these individuals establish themselves as a permanent committee to discuss problems of the CCCO. It was stated that this would include an approach to the existing caucuses in the CCCO of which [redacted] was supposed to be a member. (U)

[redacted] next indicated that at the present, he was leading the chapter of SNCC at the University of Illinois, Navy Pier. [redacted] also indicated that he was active in CORE and in the South Side Chapter of CORE. (U) b6 b7C

It was then decided that [redacted] pick one area of concentration and begin to develop an approach. In response, [redacted] advised he felt SNCC should be his concentration. [redacted] was also told that he was to get in touch with CP members [redacted] from the West Side Chapter of CORE and try by working through them to establish a sub-committee (U) b6 b7C

in CORE. It was stated that if it is not possible at this time to organize anything in SNCC, then [redacted] should keep in mind that this was one of the objectives. (U)

[redacted] next spoke of the weaknesses in SNCC. He noted that there were a number of problems in this organization because there is a weakness in Negro leadership. He noted that the Executive Board of SNCC is almost entirely white. Further he stated that there has been a slight change in the South Side CORE with the establishment by the Young People's Socialist League of an organization called Metropolitan CORE, which had its headquarters at 51st and Michigan Avenue. [redacted] advised that Metropolitan CORE is a separate and a distinct group apart from the Chicago Chapter of CORE. [redacted] stated that the Chicago Chapter of CORE has branches on the south, north, and near north sides and one campus chapter at the University of Chicago. According to [redacted] there was a confused situation within CORE and SNCC due to the CORE organizational setup. [redacted] stated that the greatest CP influence is in the South Side Chapter of CORE and that is where the CP should try and concentrate. (U)

(CG T-3, 1/30/64) (U)

It is to be noted that the Young People's Socialist League is publicly known to be the youth group of the Norman Thomas Socialist Party.

[redacted]

(U)

EARL DURHAM chaired this meeting and spoke on the purposes and aims of the Negro Commission of the CP of Illinois. As previously, he stressed the need for the members of the commission to become active in different civil rights organizations in Chicago. DURHAM mentioned that there were from twenty-one to twenty-two civil rights organizations active in the Negro civil liberties movement in the Chicago area most of which belonged to the CCCO. DURHAM stated that some members of the CP of Illinois are members of three or four of these organizations, while others are not active in any of the civil rights organizations. (U)

DURHAM continued and noted that in the NALC there were two CP of Illinois members playing leading roles. These individuals were [redacted] and [redacted] DURHAM indicated that through the work of these two members, the Negro employee in the railroad industry had been upgraded and that these two members had been successful in getting the Negroes into formerly lily white unions on the Milwaukee Railroad. DURHAM also indicated in regard to the NALC, that the NALC had been successful in forcing the Motorola Company in Chicago to give Negroes equal job opportunities. DURHAM explained that this accomplishment was made through the efforts of [redacted] and [redacted] in that they were the ones who influenced the NALC to form a committee and contact the officials of the Motorola Company. DURHAM noted that even (U)

though this accomplishment was made directly by the Party, the CP could not take credit for it at this time because to do so would ruin the Chicago Chapter of NALC. DURHAM next referred to the NAACP and noted that LESTER DAVIS, a member of the Executive Board of the NAACP, had worked well within this organization but has been unable to gain the necessary influence within the organization. DURHAM stated that for this reason, the CP of Illinois must strengthen its group within the NAACP. (U)

DURHAM also noted that the CP of Illinois must now consider organizations such as CORE and SNCC as organizations which can use the assistance of the CP of Illinois. DURHAM stated that the CP at the present time has little contact and plays a very small role in the activities of these organizations because there are no CP members participating in the activities of these organizations. (U)

DURHAM next mentioned the CUL and characterized this organization as a very important civil rights organization but noted that unfortunately, the CP only had a talking relationship with some of the members of this organization and because of this situation, could not expect to influence the Urban League's thinking or activities. (U)

DURHAM then referred to the boycott of the Chicago schools and pointed out that originally, the CP would have opposed this boycott but since the sponsoring groups decided to go through with the boycott, the Party then decided it would support the boycott 100%. DURHAM instructed that CP members must attend the boycott and must attempt to mobilize other people to be active in the boycott. (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

The meeting was closed with the announcement that in the future, the CP of Illinois Negro Commission was going to assign specific persons to the various civil rights organizations and that when a CP member received this type of assignment, it would be necessary for that person to work within the organization with the thought in mind of making contacts in order to gain influence. It is to be noted that [redacted] who attended this meeting, is not a member of the commission; however, he had asked to sit in on the meeting. (U) b6 b7C

The initial issue discussed at this meeting was the school boycott. It was stated that the CP of Illinois leadership had come to the conclusion that the school boycott was positive and that it apparently had more significance than the first boycott since the second boycott was conducted in active opposition to the DALEY political machine. (U)

It was also emphasized during this meeting that the CP of Illinois Negro Commission desired to maintain the struggle for unity of forces within the CCCO. It was stated (U)

that the approach must be to organize within the CCCO a grass roots movement with emphasis on the parents' council in the political arena through the registration drive. (U)

Also discussed during this meeting was the Protest at the Polls movement which was represented by the candidacy of [redacted] and [redacted] the latter a member of the CP. (U) b6 b7C

d) Other CP of Illinois Leadership Meetings

On September 25, 1963, the CP of Illinois Industrial Club Chairmen's Council held a meeting at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. Among those present for this meeting were the following: (U)

[redacted] CP members. (U) b6 b7C

FRANK ROSEN

During this meeting, it was stated that the CP's policy toward the NALC has been correct and has borne fruit. It was indicated that the CP of Illinois must continue to support the NALC and at the same time fight off splinter groups which are trying to destroy the Chicago Chapter of NALC. It was stated that the present NALC Chapter leadership is pursuing a correct policy in fighting the economic problems of the Negro people in Chicago and that there had been some success. The success was the upgrading of the Negroes in the Milwaukee Railroad and Motorola situations. Also mentioned was the fight against the policy of the Chicago School Board. (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

During this meeting, [redacted] characterized the NALC as the labor arm of the Negro liberation movement and it was also recommended that in the coming elections of officers of the Chicago NALC Chapter, the CP members active in NALC should try and see to it that the most militant nominees are elected. CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT attended this meeting and reported on a recent series of meetings of the CP, USA National Committee. Following LIGHTFOOT, JAMES WEST, a member of the CP of Illinois staff, gave a report and during this report, WEST indicated that during the 1964 elections, the CP would concentrate on three main issues, which will be civil rights, jobs and fight against poverty. During his comments, WEST indicated that since the Negro civil rights organizations are working on various fronts involving these three issues, the CP of Illinois must actively support these Negro civil rights organizations. WEST also stated that the CP must utilize every avenue to make sure that Congress passed the national Civil Rights Act. Also during his report, WEST indicated that a hunger march was to be held Thursday, January 30, 1964, at the State of Illinois Building, 160 North LaSalle, Chicago, Illinois, and WEST indicated that the CP must support this hunger march. On January 29, 1964, a meeting of the CP of Illinois Industrial Club Organizers' Council was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, who was in attendance at this meeting, spoke in connection with the activities of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission. LIGHTFOOT noted that the commission had met the previous week for the first time in several months and that the new commission represented a broader selection of personnel and was designed to include a collection of Party and non-Party people who were particularly active around the civil rights movement. (U)

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT was critical during his remarks concerning the gains which the Negro civil liberties group had made in 1963 and concluded generally that there were not many gains actually made. LIGHTFOOT stated that one accomplishment in 1963 was the fact that complete unity among the Negro leaders of various organizations was accomplished in relation to a program and procedures. He also said that there was a greater degree of Negro-white unity accomplished in 1963. (U)

LIGHTFOOT continued and noted that in 1964, however, there is already some indications of disunity among the leadership of the Negro civil liberties movement in Chicago. He stated that the CCCO already showed disunity around the second school boycott which was to be held in Chicago. He stated that CP of Illinois members active in the NAACP were the individuals responsible in preventing the NAACP from pulling out of the CCCO over the school boycott issue. He noted, however, that CP members in the NAACP could not prevail upon the NAACP to support the second school boycott. He further noted that there essentially were three major groups (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

within the CCCO not supporting the second school boycott, namely, the NAACP, CUL, and TWO. (U)

LIGHTFOOT noted, however, that although the possibility existed the second school boycott would fail, he believed it was incumbent upon the CP to assign itself to the task of convincing the young militants who were supporting the boycott to reconsider their plans. LIGHTFOOT noted that the first boycott was made up of a total of 250,000 pupils. He said that if the second boycott is only made up of 75,000 students, then the second boycott would be considered a failure. LIGHTFOOT noted that Leninist teachings tell the CP that it should stay with the masses, however, LIGHTFOOT indicated that the CP leadership would try and help find a way out of a bad situation. (U)

During his remarks, LIGHTFOOT indicated that there were twenty-five to thirty key CP members in the civil rights organizations active in Chicago and these individuals were in such organizations as SNCC, CORE, NAACP, and NALC. (U)

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT chaired this meeting and reported on a series of meetings recently held by the CP, USA National Board. LIGHTFOOT also reported on a symposium held by an expanded CP, USA Negro Commission which heard reports from HENRY WINSTON, a member of the CP, USA National Committee, and from GUS HALL on the question of white community support for the Negro freedom movement and the unity of that community. LIGHTFOOT also indicated that at the National Negro Commission meeting he, LIGHTFOOT, delivered a report on the problem of the negative national aspects within the Negro community and there was a report from JAMES JACKSON on the problem of unity within the Negro civil liberty movement itself. During his remarks, LIGHTFOOT stated that the National CP Board and Commission were concerned over the growing concern within the Negro community over the militant aspects of the Negro civil liberties struggle as opposed to the building of mass support. LIGHTFOOT stated that this incorrect emphasis within the movement arose from the belief that the white masses cannot be mobilized to support the Negro civil liberties movement and that the only way to win is through militant tactics. LIGHTFOOT indicated that this type of reasoning within the Negro community is responsible for such incidents as the New York World's Fair stall-ins. LIGHTFOOT stated that the problem, therefore, is to show that white America can be mobilized. (U)

LIGHTFOOT then went on to show that there had been conflict between the Negro and labor movements over the past ten to twelve years. He indicated that this situation had begun to change with the independence gained by the forty-five African nations and with the 1954 Supreme Court decision. LIGHTFOOT stated that conversely over the past decade, there had been a period of a rise in conservatism (U) within the labor movement. He stated that this was exemplified by the "left" unions being purged from the CIO and the merging of the CIO with the AFL. He stated that the "left" unions' purged had led the Negro-labor unity and that when the merger of the AFL-CIO occurred, the more militant CIO accommodated itself to the conservative AFL. (U)

LIGHTFOOT continued and indicated that certain objective conditions which precipitated and perpetuated the Negro-labor conflict over the past decade are disintegrating. He noted that the war economy of the United States had about spent itself and the conversion to a peace-time economy is imminent. He further noted that unemployment crises are multiplying and poverty is on the increase. LIGHTFOOT said that American imperialism must now face the great competitors in the world markets and must answer the economic and social challenge of the Soviet Union. LIGHTFOOT also stated that the United States also faces constitutional challenges. LIGHTFOOT said that as United States imperialism loses its capacity to effectively bribe and bully, it will resort to increased reaction. LIGHTFOOT indicated that there is on the scene at the present time a coalescence of these reactionary forces amd these forces have created the current crisis in the Republican Party. LIGHTFOOT indicated that the result of the crises within the Republican Party may cause re-alignment of force which would cause the GOP to disappear and a third progressive party to erupt. (U)

LIGHTFOOT indicated that the aforegoing developments would create and are now creating the objective conditions necessary to propel broad masses into the struggle. (U)

LIGHTFOOT's conclusion was that these situations involving the masses present a possibility for better labor-Negro unity and Negro-white unity in the Negro civil liberties struggle. (U)

e) CP of Illinois Clubs [redacted] (U)

On February 7, 1964, a meeting of the Austin Club, CP of Illinois, was held at a private home in Chicago, Illinois. The main item on the agenda was a discussion on the Negro question and EARL DURHAM delivered the main report. (U)

According to DURHAM, the current upsurge in the Negro civil liberties struggle began shortly after the Supreme Court decision of 1954 outlawing segregation in the schools. Following this decision, it became obvious to the Negro people that this decision implied that all JIM CROW should be and could be outlawed. For a short time following the 1954 Supreme Court decision, a reliance on legal proceedings was followed in an effort to solve the problem. This process was too slow and a mass movement developed beginning with the Montgomery, Alabama, boycott. This boycott set a new stage in the struggle for Negro rights in the United States. Also, for the first time this movement developed mass direct action in the country and developed the ideology of non-violence and peaceful resistance. It also developed an all-class unity in the movement with a demand for freedom now. (U)

DURHAM continued and noted that the beginnings of the movement was quickly followed by an increased tempo in other areas of the South with sit-ins, freedom rides, boycotts, struggle for integration in institutions of higher learning, and so forth. DURHAM advised that all of this direct action culminated in the South in Birmingham, Alabama, where the defiance of the state against the Negro people became a citadel of reaction and, therefore, received the concentrated attention of the entire Negro freedom movement. The fact that the Negro people were able to storm these walls of JIM CROW right in the stronghold of JIM CROW gave courage and impetus to the entire freedom movement. (U)

DURHAM continued and noted that in 1963 there came into being the Negroes in the North and they participated in mass demonstrative action which was culminated by the March on Washington in 1963, and the freedom parades that took place in every major urban city. (U)

(U)

DURHAM noted that with the Negro civil liberties movement moving to the North, new organizations were brought into being with new leadership and such organizations as SNCC and CORE were created to give competition to the established organizations, such as, the Urban League, NAACP, and so forth. (U)

DURHAM stated that during 1963, Chicago was slow in participating in this mass upsurge. This was mainly due to the grip of the Democratic Party machine on the established organizations and also due to weakness of the labor movement in terms of participation in the civil rights fight. (U)

DURHAM concluded by noting that the most positive development in the civil rights field in Chicago was the formation of the CCCO and the activities it conducted. DURHAM cautioned, however, that there were many areas necessary for the building of unity in the Negro community and that this must be fought for by the CP. DURHAM also stated that another area which was most important in terms of the Negro civil liberties struggle was the need for Negro-white unity and a fight for labor to play a more important role. (U)

During the course of this meeting, various civil rights organizations in the Chicago area were discussed and it was pointed out that each CP of Illinois member should be active in at least one of these organizations. It was stated that this activity should consist of gaining influence with the leadership of the organization in order to wherever possible influence the activities of the organization. It was also announced during this meeting that the CP of Illinois is giving full support to the boycott of Chicago schools which was scheduled to take place in February. (U)

On March 1, 1964, a meeting of the Hansborough Club, CP of Illinois, was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

During the course of this meeting, a report was given on the Negro liberation movement and it was stated during this report that the CP of Illinois Negro Commission had recently held a meeting and had discussed the liberation movement thoroughly. It was stated that the Negro Commission had, in fact, agreed upon a program to be followed by the CP people as follows: (U)

1. CP members were to become active with civil rights groups in order to continue the fight for equal job opportunities for Negroes.

2. CP members were to campaign for the passage of the National Civil Rights Act now before Congress. (U)

3. CP members were to fight to maintain justice for Negroes and other minority groups in the United States.

On March 15, 1964, a meeting of the Hansborough Club, CP of Illinois, was held at a private home in Chicago, Illinois. Among those present for this meeting was [redacted] (U) b6 b7C

During the course of this meeting, various civil rights organizations were discussed and the necessity for each CP member working in at least one civil rights organization was stressed. It was also stated that the CP of Illinois prefers that primary consideration be given to the NALC and the NAACP as these two organizations were the main organizations at this time. It was also stated that it was the CP of Illinois' aim to have at least one Party member active in each and every civil rights organization in the Chicago area. (U)

It was stated that CP members in a civil rights organization would have the responsibility of influencing the particular civil rights organization in playing a leading role in the civil rights struggle. D CP Caucus Active in African-American Heritage Association (AAHA)

On December 18, 1962, a meeting of the CP of Illinois South Side Club Executive Board was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. (X)(X)(C) (U) C.P. members and

Among those present for this meeting were ISHMAEL FLORY, [redacted] CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT and [redacted] (X)(X)(C) (U) b6 b7C

The agenda for this meeting centered around the role of the African-American Heritage Association (AAHA) and the proposed merger of this group with the CP of Illinois South Side Club. (X) (U)

ISHMAEL FLORY, who was in attendance at this meeting and who is the Director of the AAHA, spoke first and stated that, before the role of the AAHA could be discussed, a clear and precise picture must be given concerning the role of the AAHA at that time. (X)(X)(C) (U)

FLORY then proceeded to review the past six years of AAHA and noted the AAHA had suffered heavily the loss of membership. FLORY then criticized himself as head of the organization and indicated that the only place the blame could be placed was on himself due to his own weakness. FLORY stated that, (X)(X)(C) (U)

as far as he was concerned, the affiliation of AAHA with the CP South Side Club was an opportunity to strengthen both groups. He said that both groups have common goals and that this in itself would act as the vanguard force to insure success. He noted, however, that the CP of Illinois South Side Club would not have to function under some alias but would be in the open to spread the word concerning Negro history. FLORY assured the South Side CP Club that the Club could expect all the cooperation necessary to carry out the affiliation of the two groups. (U)

Following FLORY's remarks, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT made a short speech in which he praised ISHMAEL FLORY's efforts and noted that FLORY was due a great amount of appreciation. LIGHTFOOT admitted that FLORY had faults but stated that without FLORY, the AAHA would not be functioning. (U)

(CG T-11, 1/8/63) (U)

On February 19, 1963, a meeting of the CP of Illinois South Side Club Executive Committee was held at Chicago, Illinois. During this meeting, it was disclosed that a chapter of the AAHA had been set up in the 8th Ward. It was reported that this chapter of AAHA would bear the name "Crispus Attucks Club". Also during this meeting, it was reported that chapters of the AAHA had been established in the 2nd and 3rd Wards and that this chapter was to be called the "First Settlers Club". (U)

During the meeting, it was also re-emphasized that the CP members could work effectively within AAHA and that the members should support the additional AAHA chapters wholeheartedly. (U)

(CG T-12, 3/4/63) (U)

On March 5, 1963, a meeting of the CP of Illinois South Side Club Executive Committee was held in Chicago, Illinois. During this meeting, it was reported that an evaluation was to be made of the AAHA constitution in order to clarify the cooperation between the South Side Club and AAHA. It was reported that ISHMAEL FLORY had embarked on a program to replace the Negro identity with an Afro-American identity. It was stated that FLORY's efforts tended to create confusion in the struggle for Negro liberation. It was pointed out that the main issue is not changing the Negro identification but to identify the Negro with the need to know his history and heritage in fighting the evils of oppression. (U)

Others present discussed the fact that changes were necessary in the AAHA constitution if AAHA was to play an active role within the Negro movement. It was pointed out that ISHMAEL FLORY must come to grips with the fact that the Negroes were fighting for the freedom of Negroes in the United States and not in Africa although there was a relationship between Africans struggle for independence and the Negro civil liberties struggle in the United States. (U)

It was concluded that, although the South Side Club had elected to work in AAHA, the Club would have to work within the context of their own policy rather than AAHA. It was also suggested and approved during this meeting that the South Side Club appoint a committee to draft material on the purpose of the AAHA relative to the Negro struggle. (U)

On March 19, 1963, a meeting of the CP of Illinois South Side Club Executive Committee was held in Chicago, Illinois.

During this meeting, [redacted], a member of the CP of Illinois South Side Club Executive Committee, reported that the Organizing Committee which had been appointed to draft material for the AAHA program and the Negro civil liberties movement, had failed to arrive at a collective decision regarding the question of the Negro American vs. the Afro-American. It was recommended during the meeting that a firm stand against using the term Afro-American in referring to the American Negro be taken. It was stated that, in order to mobilize the Negro masses around any program of action, it is a must that the term Negro be used for this is the identity which the Negro has accepted. To refer to the American Negro in any other term would add insult to injury. (U)

It was also reported that the question of Negro American vs. Afro-American has created some confusion within AAHA in its struggle for Negro liberation and the final decision regarding the term Afro-American should be left to the CP of Illinois leadership. (U)

[(CG T-12, 3/26/63)] (U)

The AAHA with Headquarters at 306 East 43rd, Chicago, Illinois, was known as Afro-American Heritage Association until February, 1961. It was founded by ISHMAEL FLORY for the ostensible purpose of teaching African history and culture to American Negroes. AAHA is strongly influenced by the CP of Illinois. It has a Governing Board represented by both Communist and non-Communist members and some individuals with strong nationalistic tendencies. This Board decides policy, reflecting CP policy on some issues and opposing CP policy on other issues; for example, the CP rejects the concept of Afro-American as a reference term to the American Negro and rejects aspects of nationalism, both of which are reflected in the AAHA program. (U)

ISHMAEL FLORY is a member of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission and theoretically under the discipline of the CP. He continues to be the guiding force in AAHA. (U)

[(CG T-3, 5/8/63)] (U)

On May 7, 1964, a meeting of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

During the course of this meeting, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, who was in attendance, indicated that he wished to raise some question with regard to AAHA. LIGHTFOOT noted that there appears to be a conspiracy in the press to prevent the CP forces from becoming active in the civil rights struggle. LIGHTFOOT stated that AAHA is an organization that has tremendous potential in Chicago and one in which there is no red baiting either in its program or among its members. LIGHTFOOT said that he felt (U) there should be a concentrated drive to make AAHA a mass organization and to try to build a center so that AAHA may expand its facilities. LIGHTFOOT proposed a goal of $10,000.00 combined with a membership drive for AAHA to begin in the fall. (C) (U)

ISHMAEL FLORY, who was also in attendance at this meeting, indicated his agreement with LIGHTFOOT's approach and stated that, in his opinion, AAHA could play an outstanding role if it received the full support of the CP of Illinois. (C) (U)

[(CG T-3, 5/11/64)] (C) (U)

The South Side Club, CP of Illinois, during 1962 worked with ISHMAEL FLORY to organize AAHA chapters under the leadership of CP members. The aims of this program included the reactivation of former CP members and the recruitment of new CP members. (C) (C) (U)

As a result of this drive, two chapters were organized; however, they were short-lived and became defunct in 1963. The CP of Illinois has been using AAHA Headquarters to hold CP meetings. Many South Side Club CP members are also members of the AAHA and are active in the affairs of AAHA. South Side CP Club members have been working closely with AAHA, especially in regard to Negro matters. (C) (C) (U)

g) CP of Illinois Caucus in ACT

Concerning the organization ACT which recently came into existence, the CP of Illinois regards ACT as composed mostly of "leftists". Insofar as the Chicago organization of ACT is concerned, as of May, 1964, there is no CP of Illinois infiltration, domination, or control and in fact, the CP as of May, 1964, is very critical of the group as they are considered to be too far to the left. It is also the opinion of the CP of Illinois that ACT has no program and is merely a loose group of agitators. (U)

(CG T-3, 5/13/64) (U)

In early July, 1964, [redacted] CP of Illinois member, was in contact with JESSE GRAY of New York City, who was then currently active in ACT and as of that time was one of the leaders of ACT and probably the most important person in ACT since he was the only one who had a mass base. GRAY's visit to Chicago, Illinois was in order to attempt to develop a long range perspective of trying to move to Chicago, Illinois from New York City. GRAY was critical of the national organization of ACT, particularly several of its Chicago leaders in that GRAY insisted the Chicago leaders of ACT did not have an organizational outlook. GRAY in early July, 1964, indicated that there was a struggle within ACT to try to obtain a consistent grass roots project and that the only basis for the existence of ACT is if the organization continued to try and organize the most impoverished and militant sections of the Negro people. During GRAY's stay in Chicago, Illinois, he was placed in touch with representatives of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission by [redacted] and GRAY indicated to these representatives that he desired to establish a (U) relationship but that he was not going to be too close to the CP because he did not wish to jeopardize his base among the masses, particularly in New York City. In this connection, GRAY indicated that CP people in New York City were trying to involve him in a way in which he would not get involved and he had to be ruthless with the CP people. (U)

During his stay in Chicago, JESSE GRAY attempted to obtain financial assistance from the CP of Illinois and in this connection CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, Chairman, CP of Illinois, was contacted and LIGHTFOOT indicated there was no money available for GRAY. (U)

[(CG T-3, 7/6/64)] (U)

During early July, 1964, while JESSE GRAY of New York City and the national representative of ACT was in Chicago, leading members of the CP of Illinois met and discussed GRAY's visit. During this meeting it was developed that JESSE GRAY is a former member of the CP but as of July, 1964, was not in the CP. It was indicated that GRAY is an organizer for ACT and was in Chicago in order to develop an outlook for ACT in this area. It was explained that GRAY had indicated that New York City was too limited for ACT's type of activities among Negroes and especially among the Negro youth who are unemployed. It was stated that GRAY is attempting to organize the unemployed Negro youth and that it was in this area which ACT would concentrate. It was stated that GRAY wanted to concentrate among these youth on South State Street, Chicago, in the high rise public housing developments, and in the playgrounds of that area where the unemployed Negro youth hung out. It was further (U) stated that GRAY had indicated that he had mobilized around two thousand Negro youth in New York City. (U)

During the aforementioned CP of Illinois meeting, it was stated that the reason ACT was attempting to step into the unemployed Negro youth field is because the unemployed Negro youth was one area which was not being utilized by other civil rights organizations. For example, the members of CORE are mostly middle class and young educated Negroes with jobs. The NAACP is mostly made up of educated and professional people, most of whom also have jobs. SNCC is made up mainly of college students or those who are professional people and plan to be such and few are unemployed. It was stated it was ACT's opinion that most of the major civil rights organizations have ignored the Negro youth, the dropouts, high school students, and the unemployed and it was these individuals now being mobilized by ACT and upon whom ACT relies for its mass base. (U)

During the aforementioned meeting, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, Chairman, CP of Illinois, indicated that he had met several times with JESSE GRAY and that he was generally in agreement with GRAY's program. LIGHTFOOT also indicated that he had raised some money for GRAY and even utilized CP of Illinois' dues to assist GRAY financially. LIGHTFOOT also advised the meeting that he had contacted ISHMAEL FLORY of AAHA and had told FLORY to become involved in ACT and to even get himself arrested. LIGHTFOOT also noted that there were indications that GRAY had been in contact with some people in the NALC and that the NALC people had agreed to cooperate with GRAY and ACT. (U)

On July 11, 1964, CP members active in the civil rights struggle held a meeting in Chicago, Illinois. Among those in attendance for this meeting were: (U)

EARL DURHAM

During this meeting discussion was held as to how the CP of Illinois could concentrate on building a corps of "progressive kids" in ACT so that this corps could give leadership to the ACT movement. (U)

It was decided during this meeting that [redacted] would contact the leadership of ACT in Chicago and determine what kind of an organizational setup exists for ACT in Chicago. It was noted during this meeting that as of the time of the meeting, there was no CP of Illinois group in ACT as such and only [redacted] and [redacted] were aware of the CP of Illinois' interests. (U) b6 b7C

During this discussion, [redacted] advised those present that he was not so sure that ACT had anything in existence. He also stated he understood that meetings of ACT were secret. This meeting was closed with the understanding that [redacted] would take the necessary steps to determine the organizational setup of ACT and would also attempt to organize a group of young people to work in ACT based upon what they determined concerning the organization. (U) b6 b7C

(CG T-3, 7/13/64) (U)

In late July, 1964, members of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission met with [redacted] in order to determine [redacted] investigation of the organization known as ACT. (U) b6 b7C

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

During this meeting, [redacted] indicated that they had managed to attend an ACT meeting and that at this meeting only four or five individuals other than themselves were present. [redacted] indicated that there apparently was an "inner circle in ACT" because the individuals in attendance at the meeting he went to did not commit themselves to any definite program or activity and the individuals who attended the meeting kept indicating that they would have to discuss any suggestion for a program with the leaders of ACT. (U)

It was concluded during the meeting that ACT was just wholly disorganized and that there was not, in fact, any such inner clique. The discussion concluded that there actually was no purpose for any inner clique and those present were unable to see such purpose an inner clique would serve since the CP did not have any dominant influence in the organization. (U)

It was concluded during this meeting that the CP of Illinois would not make any more attempt to infiltrate ACT but would wait until JESSE GRAY returned to Chicago and at that time, the CP would be in a position to discuss the full implications of ACT with GRAY. (U)

(CG T-3, 7/31/64) (U)

As of early August, 1964, the CP of Illinois, including its Chairman CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, follows the announced national policy of the CP, USA in condemning racial violence but maintains its position of having Negroes speak for the legitimate demands of Negroes, including housing, desegregation, voting rights, and desegregation of schools. (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

The CP of Illinois, following the Harlem riots in New York City, issued a press release disclaiming any responsibility for the violence in Harlem. The CP of Illinois in its release specifically described WILLIAM EPTON, who played a prominent role in the Harlem riots, as an "ex-Communist" for whom the CP had no responsibility. (U)

In this connection, it is to be noted that two CP members have been directed to go into the ACT organization in Chicago with the specific assignment of trying to convince people in this group to demonstrate peaceably. This was done because the CP of Illinois heard rumors that the leadership of ACT may have one or two of the so-called "Negro gang" representatives in ACT. As of August 6, 1964, this allegation had not been verified by the CP of Illinois. (U)

[(CG T-3, 8/6/64)] (U)

On August 24, 1964, a CP of Illinois caucus held a meeting to discuss the problems of the Negro youth movement and during this meeting [redacted] who had been assigned to join ACT, advised the group that he could not make heads or tails of what ACT was doing, therefore, he had contacted other organizations in order to determine how he could participate in the anti-GOLDWATER campaign. In early February, 1964, a meeting of some members of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission held a meeting in (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

Chicago, Illinois. The purpose of this meeting was to bring [redacted] up to date on the CP of Illinois' approach to all of the various problems in the civil rights struggle. (U)

EARL DURHAM, Chairman of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission who attended this meeting, was self-critical of his relationship to [redacted] DURHAM noted that the CP of Illinois had re-organized its work in the Negro field and as a result, organized a larger Negro Commission of which [redacted] was a member. He explained that on the basis of the re-organization of the Negro Commission, the CP of Illinois also planned to establish sub-committees to function in the various civil rights organizations. He stated the civil rights organization that concerned [redacted] was the committee active in the CCCO. DURHAM further stated that there would be an attempt to organize a meeting of at least four CP members active in the CCCO and that in addition to LESTER DAVIS, a member of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission, and [redacted] they would try to get [redacted] and [redacted] both of whom were active in the CCCO. (U)

DURHAM noted that if such a meeting could be organized of CCCO CP members, the CP of Illinois could begin to exert influence in a more positive direction in the CCCO. (U)

DURHAM noted that the present CP approach was to do everything possible to preserve the existence of the CCCO. DURHAM noted that this was important because CCCO at that time represented the most important united front committee in the Negro civil rights field. He noted that as of the meeting, the CCCO had developed a split but that it was a split only on the tactics to be utilized and that if this split continued, (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

it could set back the civil rights movement in Chicago. (U)

The remainder of this meeting concerned itself with the CP's position on the school boycott, which was scheduled for February 25, 1964, and it was indicated to [redacted] during the meeting that attempts should be made to hold the boycott in abeyance for the purpose of continuing negotiations with the Chicago School Board and Mayor DALEY. (U)

[(CG T-3, 2/7/64)] (U)

On February 5, 1964, some members of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission held a meeting at a private home in Chicago, Illinois, and discussed ways and means of obtaining unity in the CCCO relative to the split which had developed within that organization as to whether the February 25, 1964 scheduled boycott should or should not be held. It was generally agreed at this meeting that the CCCO should return to its original purpose as a clearing house for civil rights activities and should not become an active organization on the civil rights question itself. Those in attendance were instructed to inform the CCCO members who were also members of the CP that this was the CP of Illinois' approach and should attempt to develop this approach within the CCCO. (U)

[(CG T-3, 2/6/64)] (U)

On March 5, 1964, a meeting of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. During this meeting, those in attendance discussed the recent school boycott and the split which had developed between the conservatives in the CCCO and the militant element. (U)

This meeting decided that the best way to overcome the split which had developed within the CCCO was to create new issues which the CCCO could support and develop in the Negro civil liberties struggle. In this connection, it was suggested that the CP members in the CCCO develop ideas for mass action in regard to the Civil Rights Bill. (U)

(CG T-7, 3/12/64) (U)

On April 1, 1964, members of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission held a meeting with [redacted] and [redacted], CP members active in the CCCO in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

b7C

During this meeting, it was indicated that the purpose of the meeting was to try and get some semblance of order among the CP of Illinois members who were active in the CCCO. It was stated that the meeting was long overdue because the first approach by the CP of Illinois was to try and have CP of Illinois members organize a corps of Negro comrades active in the civil rights movement in order to combat a serious nationalist trend in the civil rights movement. It was stated that such steps had been fairly successful although many of the CP of Illinois members were still not in a position of major influence. It was further indicated that the CCCO was still the major instrument of progress on the Negro question in Chicago and, therefore, the CCCO must be preserved. (U)

[redacted] during the discussion, stated he had been very critical of the CP for not calling together or organizing a force in the CCCO. He noted that those CP members active in the organization were split on many questions and he himself did not know who was who on many occasions. (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

[redacted] spoke and said he felt very strongly that the CCCO must be preserved and expanded and he believed the CP of Illinois could help. He also noted that there were forces active in the CCCO who were attempting to disrupt the unity of the organization. [redacted] also was critical of the role of [redacted] in the CCCO, noting that she had taken a forthright position in the CCCO and that at most times was critical of the militant leadership rather than helping this leadership consolidate against the conservative element within CCCO. (U)

b7C

EARL DURHAM, who was present for this meeting, indicated that he had met with [redacted] and other members of her Parents' Councils and that [redacted] and the members of the Parents' Councils were convinced that they should not join the CCCO, at this time. DURHAM stated they were of the opinion the Parents' Councils should consolidate their own position and organization in the civil rights movement before they took this move. (U)

[redacted] continued and noted that a meeting of the various white organizations active in CCCO was scheduled to take place on May 2, 1964, and that an attempt would be made at that meeting to further consolidate the relationship of the CCCO with other white organizations in the city. (U)

EARL DURHAM again spoke and indicated that it was his opinion there were no more important meetings planned than the meeting scheduled for May 2, 1964. DURHAM directed that this meeting should receive the fullest support from all of the progressives in CCCO. DURHAM then turned to the question of how the CP of Illinois could best function in this CCCO movement. He indicated that there are other CP (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

members who are also delegates to the CCCO and that there should be some means of coordination between these members. DURHAM stated that he recognized the security problem of the people involved and would try and not make any moves that were contrary to this security. (C) (U)

[redacted] then spoke and indicated that a meeting should be held to include [redacted] along with [redacted] and [redacted] It was also suggested that LESTER DAVIS, a member of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission, attend this meeting. EARL DURHAM at this point indicated that [redacted] were not members of the CP at that time. (C) (U)

[redacted] stated that the reason [redacted] are not members should not hinder the CP from forming a Marxist-Leninist collective. [redacted] stated that [redacted] are not members of the CP because they do not agree with certain CP leaders; however, they are still Marxists. (C) (U)

On April 22, 1964, a meeting was called by the CP of Illinois Negro Commission to discuss the establishment of a CP of Illinois collective in the CCCO. Among those present for this meeting were [redacted] b6 b7C and [redacted] (U)

During the outset of this meeting, the necessity was stated for establishing a collective of CP members within the CCCO. [redacted] immediately following began to list a series of grievances against the CP. The essence of her complaint was her lack of respect for the current CP of Illinois leadership and her personal opinion and impressions that the CP was not concerned about the civil rights movement and the impression that individuals in the CP of Illinois gave wrong estimates and further, that the CP of Illinois leadership was making decisions without consulting the individuals in the civil rights movement. (U)

During her comments, [redacted] indicated that she herself felt that there was a tremendous frustration and demoralization in the Negro community. She believed that the militant crackpots were the only ones getting the attention. She stated unless there was direction given by the progressives of more advanced militant action, the Negro masses would not be attracted to the movement. (U) b6 b7C

EARL DURHAM, who attended this meeting, indicated to [redacted] that the position of the CP is to struggle for a united front approach to the civil rights movement with emphasis on winning the white community in support of or at least not opposed to the struggle for Negro rights. (U)

i) CP of Illinois Collective in CORE

As of September 23, 1963, the CP of Illinois has been unsuccessful in placing any CP members in policy making positions in the leadership of the Chicago Branch of CORE. (U)

As of September, 1963, the CP of Illinois is continuing to make efforts to place CP members in a position to influence the leadership of CORE because the organizational structure of CORE changes so frequently and the officers and the composition of CORE membership are in the main beatniks and undisciplined students, the CP continues to experience difficulties in this program. CP members on the instructions of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission have even gone to the CORE offices to attempt to learn of the CORE organizational structure and have been unable to ascertain this information because of the disorganization of the CORE offices. Further, demonstrations of CORE are in many cases decided upon by small informal groups within CORE and very little attention is paid to the purposes or objectives of these demonstrations. (U)

The CP of Illinois as of September, 1963, is relying on the following individuals in its attempts to influence CORE, but to date the CP has had little concrete results in influencing the CORE leadership. (U)

[redacted] b6 b7C

[redacted] is a current West Side CP of Illinois member who is also a member of CORE and who was active for CORE around its efforts in behalf of the "March on Washington". [redacted] does not hold any policy making positions but her husband, [redacted] who quit the CP of Illinois five or six years ago, is either the Education or Labor Director of the West Side unit of CORE, [redacted] through her husband, is, therefore, in a position to influence to a limited extent policy making in the West Side unit of CORE. b6 b7C

[redacted]

[redacted] is a current CP of Illinois youth member who is Chairman of the South Side unit of CORE. However, the CP of Illinois leadership considers [redacted] as a "Negro nationalist" who is undisciplined and his value to the CP in CORE is questionable for these reasons. b6 b7C

[redacted]

[redacted] is a current CP of Illinois youth member who is active in CORE only as a member and who has no policy making positions nor is he known to be in a position to influence CORE policy for the CP of Illinois.

[redacted] b6 b7C

[redacted] is a current member of the CP of Illinois and is a member of the South Side unit of CORE. However, [redacted] has no influence on Chicago Branch CORE policy.

The above individuals are the main CP base in CORE as of September, 1963. These are also the individuals with whom the CP of Illinois is attempting to influence CORE policy. The results to date are negative as far as the CP of Illinois is concerned.

Former CP members who are known to be active in CORE but who are not working for the CP of Illinois in CORE are as follows:

[redacted] b6 b7C

[redacted] is reportedly active in CORE demonstrations, however, [redacted] was expelled from the CP of Illinois several years ago and is not known to have rejoined the CP of Illinois.

On the evening of October 15, 1963, a meeting of the Campus Club of the CP of Illinois was held in Chicago, Illinois. The main purpose of this meeting was to discuss recent developments in CORE and influences in this organization by the CP and the Young Peoples Socialist League (YPSL). (U)

According to [redacted], Chairman of the Campus Club, an election was to be held on October 17, 1963, by CORE to elect a chairman and in order to influence the results of this election, the YPSL has recruited approximately 200 new members for CORE who will vote in this election for a candidate selected by the YPSL. (U) b6 b7C

In order to counter this YPSL influence, [redacted] a youth who has been attending CP youth meetings but who is not a formal member of the CP of Illinois, has, with the help of the West Side Unit of CORE of which he is a member, recruited a large number of new members for CORE who will also vote in the CORE election. (U) b6 b7C

The following outline of the organizational structure of the Chicago Chapter of CORE was given at this meeting: (U)

South Side Unit

Englewood Unit

West Side Unit

Far North Unit

Near North Unit

There is also a University of Chicago Unit of CORE but this group is not formally affiliated with the Chicago Chapter.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

The Chicago Chapter of CORE is governed by an Executive Council made up of its chairman plus two members from each unit. At the present time, the Executive Council is composed of 11 members. From the CP of Illinois' viewpoint, four of these 11 are all right, their positions agree with that of the CP and in fact, [redacted] a representative from the West Side Unit of CORE to the Executive Council, is a member of the CP of Illinois. Four of the 11 are neutral and the CP is not sure of the positions which these individuals may take on any given issue. Three of the 11 are members of the YPSL. The remaining member of the Executive Council was not accounted for in this rundown but it is noted that the election for chairman is yet to be held. (U) b6 b7C

It was also mentioned that [redacted] a member of the CP Campus Club, is Membership Chairman of the South Side Unit of CORE and that [redacted], a member of the North Side CP Youth Club, CP of Illinois, is a member of the Far North Unit of CORE. (U) b6 b7C

The discussion at this meeting brought out that the main problem is not so much that the CP necessarily disagrees with the tactics of the YPSL in CORE, but that the YPSL members of CORE take various actions without the approval of the Executive Council or CORE membership. This is accomplished through the Action Committee of CORE which is under the chairmanship of a member of the YPSL who calls meetings of the Action Committee where plans are made and subsequently carried out without the knowledge or consent of the Executive Council. (U)

The candidates in the election for the position of chairman of the Chicago Chapter of CORE on October 17, 1963, are the following: (U)

1) [redacted] - anti-YPSL (U) b6 b7C

2) [redacted] - anti-YPSL, anti-CP. [redacted] knows the identities of the CP members who are active in CORE.

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

3) [redacted] who the CP believes can be manipulated by the YPSL if elected. (U)

4) [redacted] a member of the Socialist Party who is the candidate proposed by the YPSL.

On October 13, 1963, [redacted] and [redacted] also a member of the Campus Club of the CP of Illinois, spent the entire day talking to people about the upcoming election in CORE. At the end of the day, this group conferred with JIM WEST, a leading member of the CP of Illinois. During this discussion, it was determined that the CP does not want to work so that the YPSLs are thrown out of CORE, but rather so as to control the YPSLs. An idea was discussed to bring up at the election meeting the fact that Negro-white unity is necessary for the success of CORE's aims, but that the YPSL does not believe that Negro-white unity is needed. However, it was decided that this would put the Negroes on the side of the YPSL automatically and would probably create chaos at the meeting. (U)

Therefore, it was decided that the CP would take no action on the CORE election meeting and that CP members should join CORE's units and fight in these units on specific plans, demonstrations, and so forth. It was determined that it would be desirable to achieve the merging of some units of CORE which have a large number of YPSL members with other units having few YPSL members and thus minimize YPSL influence in CORE's activities. No specific plans were made to implement this idea. (U)

As a result of the above CP club meeting on October 15, 1963, it was decided that the Campus Club of the CP of Illinois will be responsible for keeping informed on CORE's activities on the South Side of Chicago and the North Side Youth Club, CP of Illinois, would be responsible for keeping informed on CORE's activities on the North Side of Chicago. (U)

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

Members from both groups are to join their respective CORE units, find out what the problems are in those units, and work from there. It was felt that the best way to combat YPSL influence in CORE and replace it with CP influence was to combat the YPSL in their individual units. (U)

Also, during the meeting, [redacted] was delegated to contact [redacted] members of the West Side CORE Unit, and have them get in touch with [redacted] to get his Far North CORE Unit officially authorized. Indications were that [redacted] is going to be chairman of the Far North Unit of CORE. (U)

DURHAM indicated that the CP of Illinois was interested in developing a progressive group in CORE that would relate to the general civil rights struggle. (U)

[redacted], who were in attendance, reviewed their individual experiences in CORE to date in working for the objectives of CORE and after receiving their reports, EARL DURHAM indicated that the task force, represented (U) b6 b7C

[redacted] reported to the Commission that the problem was serious because in order to clean up the situation, some of the young people who had been participating in Metropolitan CORE's activities would be alienated. It was learned on August 13, 1964, that [redacted] b6 b7C
[redacted] had reported to the CP of Illinois Negro Commission on the Metropolitan CORE and the CORE Task Force active in Chicago, Illinois. It was learned that [redacted] had reported on a national action committee meeting of CORE held in New York City the weekend of August 9, 1964, which [redacted] believed would help the CORE Task Force, Chicago, in general and the CORE organization in particular. [redacted] explained to the commission that CORE was conducting wholesale firings of various individuals and that with the support of the national office of CORE he had returned to Chicago and had fired the entire Task Force section on the south side and had re-organized the Wilson Junior College Chapter as the base of the Task Force. (U)

It was further understood that [redacted] during b6 b7C his report, indicated that the CORE Task Force was opening a new community center in Chicago and was going to sponsor a concert by [redacted] a well known Negro comedian in September, 1964, to raise funds both for Chicago and the national office of CORE. (U)

[redacted] also reported that he was having difficulty b6 b7C
with [redacted] and that he had asked her to help establish a children's program at the new community center, however, she had not given him a definite answer. [redacted] indicated subsequent to this meeting that the Negro Commission of the CP of Illinois had instructed him to urge [redacted] to establish her children's program in connection with the new community center as quickly as possible before representatives of the Socialist Party who were also opening a new community center as part of the CORE Task Force got their children's program under way. (U)

According to [redacted] the CP of Illinois Negro Commission had called for a meeting between members of the Commission and himself and [redacted] an individual active in CP of Illinois youth, in order to have a discussion because of certain problems which were developing in the Freedom Centers of CORE on the red baiting issue. [redacted] also indicated that he had been instructed by the Commission to fight for an ideological approach in order to win long range perspectives for the CORE Task Force such as a leader training program. In this connection, [redacted] indicated that he was instructed by the Commission to contact the Rev. WILLIAM T. BAIRD of TWO and try to get BAIRD's help in organizing such a program. [redacted] also indicated that he was instructed by the Commission to contact ERNEST DE MAIO and ask DE MAIO for help from trade unionists to participate in the CORE Task Force educational program. (U)

[(CG T-3, 8/14/64)] (U)

On August 19, 1964, representatives of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission met with [redacted] of CORE Task Force and [redacted] of CP of Illinois youth. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss problems that had arisen in relation to the W. E. B. DuBois Club in Chicago and the CORE Task Force. (U)

During this meeting it was explained to [redacted] that the W. E. B. DuBois Club in Chicago was just getting underway and did not have a history of struggles in the youth movement but was trying to develop a legitimate trend in the youth movement. It was stated that the W. E. B. DuBois Club was attempting to establish an open and above-board relationship to various legitimate youth organizations and the young people in general in the country in order to discuss political discussions with young people. It was stated that the CP of Illinois did not wish the W. E. B. (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

DuBois Club to be narrowed down to the status of a Communist sect in the sense that it will withdraw from the youth movement and only develop an independent program without a united front approach. It was also indicated that the CP of Illinois was trying to make a substantial dent in the Negro community by trying to organize independent Negro youth organizations, which, during the course of the struggle, could become a part of the W. E. B. DuBois Clubs. (U)

It is understood that during this meeting [redacted] explained to the representatives of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission that some difficulty had developed around the CORE North Side Freedom House in that certain forces from the YPSL began circulating rumors that the DuBois Club was trying to subvert CORE Task Force of the North Side Center. [redacted] also advised the Commission that [redacted] head of Chicago CORE, had entered into this controversy and had added much confusion to the situation on the side of the red baiting of the DuBois Clubs. [redacted] indicated that some of the Negro youth had picked up this red baiting and had demanded that [redacted] put a stop to the outside activities of the DuBois Clubs. (U)

[redacted] advised the individuals attending this meeting that one of the problems around this red baiting issue was the fact that the DuBois Clubs have not as yet developed an independent program and activities due to the weakness of lack of forces. [redacted] advised the meeting that the DuBois Clubs were planning activities which they hoped would attract certain of the young people. (U)

During the course of the aforementioned meeting, it was stated that a major contribution could be made by the DuBois Club if the club could get the trade union movement (U) active in the unemployment struggle and the organization of unemployed youth, particularly white youth. During his report to the committee, [redacted] indicated that he had personally met with ERNEST DE MAIO and [redacted] of the trade union movement but both had generally given him a negative outlook regarding the organization of unemployed white youth and had even indicated that the Negro unemployed were not in a position to be organized effectively. [redacted] advised the Commission that [redacted] indicated that if he ran across unemployed white youth from his union, he would try and put [redacted] in touch with them to see if they could be organized. (U)

Also discussed during the course of this meeting was a problem which was developing around [redacted] wherein [redacted] had been approached by [redacted] and asked for assistance with his program within CORE, however, she was sticking with the Socialist Party forces in CORE. j.) CP of Illinois Caucus
Active Within the NAACP

On Wednesday evening, January 9, 1963, a meeting of the CP of Illinois NAACP Club was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. Among those attending this meeting were [redacted] and [redacted] (U)

Early in the discussion at this meeting, it was announced that [redacted] a member of the CP Club, is now employed in the evenings and would not be attending meetings regularly. It was also announced that a meeting that evening would discuss the various committees of the NAACP and some of the problems relating to [redacted] state-wide position as a Vice Chairman of the NAACP. (U)

b7C

The first matter discussed at this meeting was the necessity of finding a CP member who was active in the NAACP who could be appointed to the Executive Board of the NAACP and who would be responsible for the youth work of the NAACP. Those present discussed several individuals as possibilities, however, all were rejected and it was decided that [redacted] and [redacted] would act as a committee to find a suitable candidate for this position. (U)

b7C

[redacted] next reported to the meeting that he was having a certain amount of difficulty in his position as Vice Chairman in the State organization of NAACP. He explained that the difficulty was because some of the downstate leaders of NAACP are weary of Chicago personnel. [redacted] also indicated that he would like to head up a committee of the Chicago Chapter of the NAACP on which he could either lead or function in a leading capacity. He indicated he would like (U)

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

to consider the Community Coordinating Committee of the NAACP which committee had not functioned in the past but if allowed to function, it would serve a purpose in mobilizing Party support to the program of the NAACP. It was agreed by those present that [redacted] should undertake an attempt to obtain a position on this committee and revitalize it. (U)

b6

It was also indicated during this meeting that [redacted] should make an attempt to become a member of the NAACP Financial Committee since it was the most powerful committee in the NAACP Chicago Chapter and by virtue of its function, actually controlled the NAACP program through its control of the distribution of funds. It was also agreed by those present that HYMER should undertake this position. (U)

Also discussed during the course of this meeting was the fact that [redacted] a member of this NAACP CP Club, was Assistant Secretary to the Chicago Chapter of the NAACP and was in a position to function effectively since the regular secretary of the NAACP did not function on a full-time basis. (U)

On February 27, 1963, representatives of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission held a meeting at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. During the course of this meeting, some of the over-all problems of the CP of Illinois work in the Chicago Chapter of the NAACP were discussed. During this discussion, it was indicated that after two years of CP of Illinois work in the Chicago Chapter of the NAACP, it could only be said that the CP of Illinois has not lost its small foothold in the leadership of the organization, however, as far as the CP developing any positive struggles within the NAACP or moving the organization toward a more (U) mass policy, the CP of Illinois had to confess no progress. It was stated that this difficulty had been encountered due to the fact that the NAACP not only does not have a mass program but did not allow the bulk of its membership to participate in either policy or activities. It was stated that committees which do exist within the NAACP are run by two or three individual "big shots" with no attempts at mass participation by these committees. (U)

It was indicated that CP of Illinois members [redacted] and [redacted] have been on the Executive Board of the NAACP Chicago Chapter for one and one-half terms and other than general agitational activities on the Board, there had been no major success achieved by these individuals. It was also pointed out that [redacted] had recently been elected to the State Executive Board of the NAACP and had performed some activities outside of the Chicago area. It was the summation of this discussion that the CP of Illinois should be content that it is able to maintain its present position in the NAACP in Chicago but should concentrate on outside pressure for mass activity. On March 9 and 10, 1963, a meeting of the CP caucus within the NAACP and members of the CP, USA National Negro Commission was held in the Henry Hudson Hotel in New York, New York. The purpose of this meeting was to formulate CP strategy within the NAACP. (U)

At the March 9, 1963 session of this meeting, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT acted as Chairman. Another CP representative to this meeting from Chicago was [redacted] (U)

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

He stated that in connection with the NAACP, he did not believe it would do any good for the CP of Illinois members active in the NAACP to embarrass the NAACP leadership because of its failure to adhere to the slogan "Free by '63", however, LIGHTFOOT stated that the CP could point out that the NAACP never really meant to do anything about it. LIGHTFOOT also indicated it would be better to have the CP members active in the NAACP to take the approach that the NAACP leadership was honest and that the slogan was unrealistic because of objective factors. (U)

LIGHTFOOT continued and noted that the CP, however, must realize that there are prerequisites for the achievement of freedom of Negroes in America and in order to achieve this freedom, there must be a basic re-alignment of political forces in the United States. It was LIGHTFOOT's opinion that the NAACP must take a more decisive opinion on the question of political action. (U)

Also during this meeting, [redacted] spoke and stated that he had found his work within the NAACP in most instances most frustrating. He stated there was a long standing need for political evaluation of the NAACP relative to its strength, its direction, its content, and its significance in the Negro liberation movement. [redacted] was of the opinion that from such an evaluation could flow valuable tactical approaches to the above problem. [redacted] noted that to date, the CP had not really established the need, the significance, or worth of concentrated efforts within the NAACP. He stated that there must be clarity given on the labor question, noting that the NAACP in the past had attacked various segments of organized labor which, in his opinion, created confusion of thought within the NAACP. He (U)

b7C

felt that the blame had been placed on the wrong shoulders inasmuch as the real problem lay with management and not with labor. (U)

[redacted] further stated that he thought it would be wise if the proposals advanced by the CP concerning the NAACP should not be published in any form which would identify these proposals with the CP. He noted that to do this would negate any possibility of making these proposals part of the NAACP program. (U)

(CG T-6, 3/12/63) (U)

b7C

During the past six months, one change has taken place with respect to CP of Illinois influence in the NAACP in Chicago. This change is that [redacted] was elected a Vice President of the State NAACP and [redacted] position permits him the possibility of influencing to some degree the State policies of the NAACP. In addition, [redacted] recently attended a National CP NAACP caucus meeting in New York City where certain proposals were made as to CP policy in the NAACP. These proposals included an intensified fight for jobs, action against segregated schools, and aid to the Southern Negro voters registration drive. To date, [redacted] has not influenced the NAACP State organization in any specific direction as far as CP policies are concerned, however, there is a potential.

Setbacks for the CP of Illinois caucus within the Chicago Chapter, NAACP, can be summarized as follows: (U)

[redacted] a CP of Illinois member, is no longer a member of the Chicago South Side Youth Chapter of the NAACP.

The CP of Illinois Youth Club that exists on the south side of Chicago has severed its relationship with the Youth Chapter of the NAACP contrary to the desires of the Chairman of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission. However, the facts are that the CP youth on the south side of Chicago are no longer in a position of influence in the South Side Youth Council of the NAACP. Also, there are no longer any CP members in the South Side Youth Council of the NAACP. (X) (U)

The CP of Illinois' policies as pursued by its CP Negro Commission are to continue to influence where possible the policies of the NAACP in the direction of jobs for Negro workers. [redacted] then stated that the main problem confronting the CP is that the Party membership on the Board of the Chicago NAACP are not fighting together for a more advanced line. [redacted] indicated that part of the problem was the fact that the CP of Illinois group in Chicago are not attached to any CP organization where they could have an opportunity for over-all ideological discussion. [redacted] indicated that if the group had such discussions, they would be in a better position to have answers to some of the problems that arise in the NAACP. (U)

EARL DURHAM, who was in attendance at this meeting, indicated that the CP of Illinois was at that time going through a process of re-grouping and part of this process included the ideological program of the CP to acquaint its (U) members with the CP line and outlook. DURHAM noted that the situation in the CP of Illinois on the south side of Chicago is in such a weakened condition that it would be undesirable to attach the CP of Illinois NAACP members to the CP of Illinois South Side Club. (U)

DURHAM continued and proposed that during the next three weeks the CP of Illinois NAACP caucus would try to do two things: (U)

1) Enlarge the group with two or three people, one of whom would be working in the NAACP and one or two, if possible, oriented to working in CORE. (U)

2) That the discussions of this group no longer deal with the tactical problems of the NAACP and CORE but rather the meetings be devoted to ideological discussions of the general outlook of the CP.

DURHAM recommended that the general tactical problems be handled separately by the CP members communicating with each other and keeping each other up to date. (U)

On June 26, 1963, a meeting of the CP of Illinois NAACP sub-committee was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

At the outset of this meeting, it was announced that a blanket was being placed on the Negro civil rights struggle in Chicago by certain forces and that the CP of Illinois State Board had directed that this particular sub-committee play a leading role in helping break the blanket. It was explained that the forces referred to were taking the position that it is possible to win token integration in Chicago without mass action. It was indicated that the CP of Illinois State Board proposed that this sub-committee encourage a mass demonstration which would help to transform the city and change the relationship of the forces in the established Negro organizations. (C) (U)

[redacted], who was present for this meeting, indicated that in connection with mass demonstrations, that the NAACP National leadership had become conscious of the necessity for NAACP participation in more direct mass action. [redacted] stated that the National leadership of the NAACP was preparing plans for a mass march and rally on July 4, 1963, in connection with the holding of the NAACP convention in Chicago. In view of [redacted] statements, it was the decision of this sub-committee to await the outcome of the NAACP plans before launching any separate demonstrations of their own. (C) (U)

On October 17, 1963, a meeting of the CP of Illinois sub-committee active in the Chicago Chapter of the NAACP, held a meeting in Chicago, Illinois. (C) (U)

Among those present for this meeting was CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT. LIGHTFOOT spoke during the meeting and reported (C) (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

on his characterization of the Negro civil liberties movement. LIGHTFOOT stated that in spite of the tremendous upsurge, the victories of the Negro people still represented tokenism. LIGHTFOOT stated secondly that the resistance against the Negro people's movement had become worse in the past few months. LIGHTFOOT also stated that it was a characteristic of the Negro people's movement at the present time that it was confused and the Negro movement did not have a class perspective as to the next steps in the freedom struggle. (U)

LIGHTFOOT also noted that in white community areas there are significant movements of white organizations interested in participating in the freedom movement and the leadership of these white organizations, particularly the religious organizations, have not fully mobilized their rank and file membership in support of the civil rights campaign. LIGHTFOOT also indicated that in the Negro communities, a grass roots movement had not yet developed. He stated that the demonstrations that have been taking place are mainly geared for the more sophisticated and articulate Negro section and have not as yet involved the masses or the rank and file Negroes. LIGHTFOOT stated that these two weaknesses reflect the character of the issues that the Negro people in Chicago have been fighting for. He stated that it is questionable whether the struggle around the Superintendent of Schools and the Chicago Board of Education is essential, however, this opinion did not really matter because the School Board issue is the main target of the civil rights movement in Chicago. (U)

LIGHTFOOT recommended that the CP should move toward developing its struggles which would involve the (U)

masses who are willing to participate in demonstrations. He indicated such activities as petition campaigns and other types of activities should be encouraged to get depth into this campaign. Lastly, LIGHTFOOT indicated that the CP must push to translate the struggles of the Negro people into concrete political activities. LIGHTFOOT noted that there is a danger that unless the masses participate in elections and organize to defeat the racists, all of the activities will go down the drain. (U)

Following LIGHTFOOT's remarks, it was mentioned that the last convention of the NAACP had passed a resolution encouraging political action among its members. It was announced that the CP would like to have this resolution processed. (U)

The next item discussed at this meeting was the State Convention of the NAACP. (U)

[redacted] who was in attendance, addressed himself to this issue and indicated that there are forces in Chicago and in the State NAACP that have encouraged him to run for the Presidency of the State Chapter of the NAACP in Illinois. [redacted] indicated that he would like to have a discussion now in order to determine his position relative to that office. (U) b6 b7C

During the discussion that followed on this issue, LIGHTFOOT stated that it was his opinion it was too risky for [redacted] to run for State President of the NAACP. He noted that it was one thing for [redacted] to be a member of (U) b6 b7C the Executive Board of the Chicago Chapter of the NAACP and to participate in its activities, but it is another thing to have a policy making position which could be exposed by the FBI. It was LIGHTFOOT's opinion that the FBI could go to the head of the NAACP and confront him with a dossier on [redacted] and immediately the NAACP would move to remove [redacted] were he elected. (C) (U)

The meeting concluded that [redacted] should fight to maintain his position as a Vice President of the State NAACP and after another year had passed, the issue would be re-assessed and re-evaluated. It was also indicated that CP members in the Chicago Chapter of the NAACP should push for the re-election of the present head of the State NAACP because [redacted] had a good working relationship with him. (C) (U)

(CG T-3, 10/18/63) (C) (U)

It was learned on October 19, 1963, that the outgoing President of the State NAACP had not slated [redacted] as an officer in the State elections of the NAACP. With this development, [redacted] contacted the CP of Illinois leadership and recommended a change in the opinion of this leadership that [redacted] should not run for the Presidency. It was learned that at the time of [redacted] contact, the CP of Illinois' position against his running for the Presidency was reiterated and after some argument, [redacted] reluctantly agreed not to run. It was also subsequently learned that at the convention, [redacted] did announce he was a candidate for the Presidency of the State NAACP and that this announcement caused the convention to reconsider candidates for this (C) (U)

On January 15, 1964, the sub-committee of the CP of Illinois active in the Chicago Chapter, NAACP, held a meeting at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

The main item on the agenda at this meeting was the problem which had developed within the CCCO over the School Board question between the conservative and militant elements within the CCCO. It was stated that the CP of Illinois' position in this fight was that unity must be maintained in the CCCO. During this meeting, those CP members active in the NAACP were cautioned that in their work in the NAACP they should avoid the head-on collision in the Executive Board of the NAACP on the question of whether the NAACP should or should not support the suggested school boycott. It was stated that although the NAACP does not agree that the boycott of the schools is advisable, they will not take any action that will be detrimental to those who will conduct the boycott. (U)

It was announced at the outset of the meeting that the meeting was called to discuss the opinions and estimates by the CP of Illinois of the local NALC leadership. It was also pointed out that during the discussion, the CP's program in connection with the NALC would also be discussed. (U)

During the meeting, a report was given on the latest developments of activities within the Chicago NALC and it was reported that the Grievance Committee of the Chicago NALC had agreed to undertake a program to fight the discriminatory hiring practices at the Motorola Corporation and Reynolds Aluminum Companies. It was also reported that the NALC would continue to fight all businesses that discriminate and had among others selected the shopping area at 63rd Street and Halsted where there were such businesses. (U)

It was stated at this meeting that the proposed program of the NALC was indeed a broad program and that it could not be accomplished without the aid and cooperation of white trade unionists as well as aid from white progressives. (U)

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, who attended this meeting, spoke on the NALC program and stated that the CP of Illinois and its members must learn to work correctly in a situation such as had been explained and that the CP of Illinois members in the NALC must direct the thinking of the NALC leadership into correct channels. LIGHTFOOT stated that the CP should use all of its efforts to assist the Chicago Chapter of the NALC and their program in order that the NALC could single out specific labor unions that discriminate against the Negro as well as work out solutions for these specific unions. On January 17, 1963, a meeting of the CP of Illinois subcommittee active in the Chicago NALC was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

During this meeting, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, who was in attendance, indicated that he had recently returned from New York City where he had met with CP forces who were active in the NALC in that area and he advised that the New York forces were concerned with getting certain projects off the ground, particularly the proposed March on Washington which had been instituted by the NALC. (U)

LIGHTFOOT, in his remarks, noted that in the CP of Illinois there was a task for the various Party members in the local chapter of the NALC to influence NALC thinking in regard to the March on Washington in order that the March on Washington plans could develop and take the direction of the proposals advanced in New York City. LIGHTFOOT proposed that the CP members active in the NALC Executive Board in Chicago influence the Executive Board in designating a delegation to visit Governor KERNER and Mayor DALEY and urge these leaders to use their official positions to fight discrimination among the many people with whom the state and city were doing business, particularly to place emphasis on those contractors who are guilty of discriminatory hiring practices. LIGHTFOOT also proposed that this delegation insist that the Governor sign a statement which would indicate the State of Illinois opposes discrimination in its hiring practices. (U)

[(CG T-7, 1/29/63)] (U)

On March 12, 1963, the CP of Illinois subcommittee active in the NALC held a meeting at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. The meeting was called for the purpose of attempting to try and win an immediate victory at the Motorola plant in Chicago, Illinois, relative to that plant's discriminatory hiring practices against Negroes. (U)

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

At the outset of the discussion during this meeting, some criticism was voiced as to the fact that the NALC had not organized sufficient broad forces to insure success in this campaign. It was pointed out that the local Chicago NALC Executive Board objected to the idea of involving other organizations in this particular fight. It was suggested during the meeting that a specific subcommittee of the NALC be created to work on the Motorola issue and it was suggested that this subcommittee, made up in part of CP members, could then contact the various other civil rights organizations in Chicago and obtain their assistance. (U)

[(CG T-7, 3/29/63)] (U)

On October 31, 1963, the CP of Illinois subcommittee active in the NALC met at a private home in Chicago, Illinois. EARL DURHAM, who was in attendance at this meeting, stated that those present should discuss the trends within the NALC leadership and, secondly, the program and activities of the NALC. (U)

DURHAM then stated that the CP of Illinois wanted to re-emphasize that the NALC is probably the major organization in the civil rights field and should receive the Party's intensified attention. DURHAM noted that the special contribution to the civil rights movement by the NALC is in its consistent militant struggle on the economic problems facing the Negro workers. DURHAM also stated that, if the NALC could bring into the civil rights movement an organized force of Negro workers, it would help to strengthen the entire coalition. (U)

DURHAM then criticized the role the NALC was playing in the CCCO and noted that the NALC is not forceful in projecting programs or fighting for more unified action. DURHAM instructed the CP members present to attempt to get the NALC Chicago Executive Board to delegate regular responsibility to a select delegation that will report back to the NALC on actions taken in the CCCO. DURHAM also recommended that the NALC should issue a programatic brochure that could be circulated in the Negro community and in the labor movement. This brochure should set forth in capsule form the program of the NALC which would include the fight for jobs and, particularly, the long-range approach of federal intervention in the unemployment crisis. According to DURHAM, the brochure should also include support for labor's demands in general for a shorter work week. (U)

It was recently learned that FRANK EVANS, National NALC Board member from Cleveland, Ohio, was responsible for the issuance of a press release concerning the NALC before the National Baptist Convention held in Cleveland, Ohio, during September, 1963, wherein it was stated that the leadership of the Chicago NALC Chapter has been infiltrated by Communists. (U)

As a result of EVANS' charges, the enlarged National NALC Board meeting was held in Detroit, Michigan, on November 9, 1963. The representatives of the Chicago NALC Chapter attempted to obtain an apology from the National Board regarding EVANS' charges; however, the Chicago Chapter received none. (U)

Relative to these charges, it is to be noted that an NALC investigating committee composed of three National NALC Board members was sent to Chicago in April, 1963, to investigate these charges. It was learned on November 9, 1963, that the National Board granted clearance to the Chicago Chapter to continue as before over and above the objections of A. PHILIP RANDOLPH, National President of the NALC, who reportedly continues to believe that there are some Communists in the Chicago Chapter. (U)

On October 7, 1963, a meeting of the CP of Illinois subcommittee active in the Chicago Chapter of the NALC was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

During the discussion which occurred, it was pointed out that some of the candidates for position on the Executive Board of the NALC were individuals who were attempting to split the NALC. DURHAM instructed those present that CP members active in the NALC must find a way to work in unity with these people. DURHAM instructed that all efforts possible should be taken to discourage further efforts by the group which was trying to bring about the split in the membership of the NALC without losing the friendship of these individuals toward the Party. (U)

This meeting concluded with the plan that the subcommittee would meet following the NALC elections and outline a new CP plan of work which then could be introduced at the next NALC Executive Board meeting. (U)

On October 31, 1963, a meeting of the CP of Illinois subcommittee active in the work of the Chicago Chapter of the NALC held a meeting at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

EARL DURHAM, who was in attendance at this meeting, was the first speaker and advised the group that he desired to apprise those in attendance of the latest CP policy for those members who were active in the Chicago Chapter of the NALC. DURHAM advised that the main point was the CP policy relative to a National NALC meeting or conference which was to be held in Detroit, Michigan. DURHAM stated that all CP members who possibly could should attend the meeting in Detroit for the purpose of making sure that the Chicago Chapter of the NALC does not make a move to withdraw from the National NALC. (U)

DURHAM instructed that the CP of Illinois members should use the influence they possess with other members of the Chicago Chapter of the NALC to attend the meeting in Detroit and also do whatever they could individually and as a group to prevent the Chicago Chapter from withdrawing from the National organization. On January 20, 1964, the CP of Illinois subcommittee active in the Chicago Chapter of the NALC held a meeting at a private home in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

During this meeting, EARL DURHAM, who was present, spoke of the problems of the civil rights movement as viewed by the CP. The main theme of DURHAM's remarks was that there was not as yet a concentrated effort to make the civil rights movement reflect the problems of the working class. DURHAM also criticized the fact that the civil rights movement had failed to develop struggles dealing with the overall economic problems of the Negro people. DURHAM stated that, because of these conditions, the CP of Illinois felt very strongly that there should be some reorganization of the CP's efforts in these areas. (U)

DURHAM continued and noted that it was the opinion of the CP of Illinois that the civil rights movement in Chicago had boxed itself in over the School Board question. DURHAM noted that it was a legitimate struggle but, as a result of the reaction of the "ultra right" against any approach in the integration of Chicago's schools, all civil rights organizations have become too concerned with this central problem. DURHAM instructed that the CP felt there should be an attempt to deepen the civil rights movement both with a deeper analysis of the problem and also with more concrete organization of the masses of the Negro people. (U)

DURHAM concluded his remarks by noting that in line with the CP of Illinois' opinion, the CP of Illinois State Board had already discussed the reorganization of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission and had indicated that it would try to coordinate the CP's efforts toward developing a more concentrated approach. (U)

In the discussion that followed DURHAM's remarks, it was stated that the NALC was having some difficulty in the Negro struggle because the NALC did not have a complete program. This was attributed to the fact that several organizations who were represented in the NALC were still not pulling their full weight in the struggle. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

DURHAM then remarked that it was the proposal from the CP of Illinois State Board that the character of the CP of Illinois subcommittee on the NALC be changed to include Party and non-Party people. DURHAM instructed the members present at this meeting to consider various individuals for membership on the new NALC subcommittee and that eventually a plan of work for the NALC would be discussed at a Party caucus that would detail some of the problems within the NALC, such as, the Negro apprenticeship program. On February 17, 1964, a meeting of the CP of Illinois subcommittee active in the NALC was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

EARL DURHAM, who attended this meeting, announced that the purpose of the meeting was to discuss the participation of the NALC in the proposed school boycott in Chicago, Illinois. DURHAM noted that there was not as yet an individual organizational expression by the NALC on the boycott although there had been several actions taken by some of the organizations supporting the boycott. DURHAM pointed out that the success of the boycott is necessary from the standpoint of the CP in order to prevent the right wing conservative element from splitting the civil rights movement in Chicago. (U)

DURHAM instructed the CP members active in the NALC to explore the possibility of a small picket line against one of the Chicago City Aldermen over the following weekend. Also, he urged them to have the NALC speak out independently on the boycott. (U)

On April 9, 1964, a meeting of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

EARL DURHAM, who attended this meeting, led a discussion on the "Crisis in Labor" conference sponsored by the NALC at the University of Chicago on April 4 and 5, 1964. (U)

During this discussion, it was pointed out that the conference had been very successful and had outlined some of the aims that the CP of Illinois has tried to make successful within the NALC. It was also stated that the conference had (U)

(U)

presented a means of bringing A. PHILIP RANDOLPH, National Head of the NALC, closer to the Chicago Chapter, NALC. It was stated that this was of great significance to the Chicago Chapter, NALC, even though the CP disagrees with many of the opinions and policies of RANDOLPH. (C) (U)

It was suggested during this discussion that the CP members active in NALC immediately begin to work on the preparation of resolutions for the next NALC conference which will coincide with RANDOLPH's ideas on policies for the NALC. It was stated that the CP of Illinois should draft three or four resolutions to be introduced to the local NALC chapter in order that the local chapter could then present these resolutions at the next NALC conference. It was pointed out that it would be up to the CP of Illinois forces working with the Executive Board of the Chicago Chapter, NALC, to draft these resolutions so that the local chapter would want to introduce them. (C) (U)

Also discussed during this meeting was the fact that the National NALC Convention would be held May 29, 30, and 31, 1964, at Cleveland, Ohio. It was stated that it had not been decided by the Chicago Chapter, NALC, how many delegates and alternate delegates from the chapter would be allowed to go to this convention. (C) (U)

EARL DURHAM stated that at least one person from the CP of Illinois group should be present at the NALC Convention as a regular delegate. He also stated he was in favor of having as many observers from Chicago as possible in attendance at this convention. It was suggested that [redacted], a member of this CP subcommittee, should be the regular delegate as he was the most active person the CP had in the NALC and had been able in the past to get excellent support from the NALC Chicago Chapter Executive Board. b6 b7C (C) (U)

During the meeting, [redacted] proposed that the Chicago Chapter draft a resolution on jobs for the National Convention. (U)

Also during this meeting, a proposed resolution was presented relative to the anti-Communist clause in the Constitution of the National NALC. (U)

When this resolution was proposed, strenuous objections were introduced relative to the resolution inasmuch as it was felt nothing should be said by the Chicago Chapter relative to the anti-Communist clause in the Constitution because it was felt this would only tend to open an old "wound" and create friction between the national leadership and the leadership of the Chicago Chapter. (U)

(CG T-5, 5/14/64) (U)

On April 19, 1964, it was learned that on that date, [redacted], and the CP of Illinois subcommittee active in the Chicago Chapter of the NALC, had discussed the CP's plans for the NALC Convention scheduled for Cleveland, Ohio, May 29, 30, and 31, 1964. During this discussion, [redacted] was instructed, as a member of the Resolutions Committee of the Chicago Chapter, NALC, for this convention, to prepare three resolutions for the convention. One of the resolutions was to be on jobs, one on peace, and one on the civil rights issue. Also, it was learned that during this discussion, [redacted] was again told to be sure he was one of the voting delegates to this convention from the Chicago Chapter, NALC, and that, if other CP of Illinois members could not be a delegate, [redacted] was to see that it was suggested that a large number of observers from the Chicago Chapter be sent to the convention and, in that manner, other CP of Illinois members active in the NALC could be present at the convention. On April 28, 1964, a meeting of the CP of Illinois subcommittee active in the Chicago Chapter, NALC, was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

During this meeting, discussions centered around the coming NALC Convention to be held in Cleveland, Ohio. During this meeting, it was suggested that the CP of Illinois representatives from the Chicago Chapter, NALC, to the convention attempt to have the convention create a program which would call for better jobs for Negroes, a shorter work week, more Federal work programs, such as, for schools, roads, houses, and so forth. It was stated that the program should also provide for educational jobs throughout the United States. The CP members at this meeting were instructed that this program created for the NALC should be raised from the floor of the convention by the Chicago delegates rather than by resolution. (U)

[redacted] who was present for this meeting, was told that she should raise these questions from the floor if she were a delegate. (U) b6 b7C

Also during the discussion, it was pointed out that the president of the local Chicago Chapter desired to write a resolution on the anti-Communist clause in the Constitution of the NALC. It was stated that the proposed resolution would delete the anti-Communist clause entirely from the Constitution. (U)

The CP members present at this meeting were instructed to see to it that such a resolution was not introduced if possible. It was pointed out that the resolution had already been written and that it would be difficult to forestall its introduction at the convention. It was stated that more consideration would be given before a final decision would be reached by the Party relative to this resolution. (U)

On May 21, 1964, a meeting of the CP of Illinois subcommittee active in the NALC Chicago Chapter was held in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

During this meeting, [redacted] who was in attendance, gave a report in which he stated the plans by the Chicago Chapter, NALC, for the coming convention of the NALC were very poor insofar as the Chicago Chapter was concerned. He reported that the Chicago Chapter had only agreed on two resolutions which were resolutions on jobs and a resolution that attacked the anti-Communist clause of the NALC Constitution. [redacted] reported that the resolution to eliminate the anti-Communist clause of the NALC Constitution was prepared by the Chicago Chapter, NALC, so that it would be made clear at the convention that the national leadership of the NALC would not again put any other NALC Chapter in an embarrassing position as the Chicago Chapter was previously. [redacted] reported that the resolution states that no officer of the NALC will bring charges against any individual or chapter without first having a hearing. (U)

On May 28, 1964, it was learned that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT had met with CP members active in the Chicago Chapter, NALC, and discussed the NALC National Convention scheduled to be held in Cleveland, Ohio. LIGHTFOOT also noted that [redacted] of the CP of Illinois subcommittee active in the Chicago Chapter, NALC, had agreed to run for National Vice-President of the NALC and LIGHTFOOT stated that CP people at the convention had been instructed to give [redacted] all possible support. On May 30, 1964, there was a CP caucus of CP members in attendance at the Fourth Annual Convention of the NALC which was held in the Pick-Carter Hotel, Cleveland, Ohio. (X) (U)

Five CP members, three from New York and two from Chicago, attended this meeting. COLEMAN YOUNG of Detroit, Michigan, was to have been present at this meeting and was to have been responsible for planning strategy which the CP forces were to follow at this convention. Among those individuals in attendance for this meeting was [redacted] a member of this subcommittee who was now a National NALC Vice-President. During the meeting, [redacted] read a letter which had been prepared by A. PHILIP RANDOLPH which called for a meeting of the National Executive Board of the NALC. In this letter, RANDOLPH proposed to call a national civil rights summit meeting to be held in Washington, D. C., in either September or October, 1964. Those in attendance then discussed ways and means of how [redacted] could possibly influence the National Board of the NALC in connection with this proposed civil rights meeting. Also during the course of this meeting, [redacted] raised the question that the finances of the Chicago Chapter, NALC, were in very bad order and that the current financial secretary of the chapter was either failing to deposit the money she received or else was using it for her own purposes. (U)

On July 25, 1964, a meeting of the CP of Illinois subcommittee active in the Chicago Chapter, NALC, was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

At the outset of this meeting, a report was given wherein it was stated that a document had been drawn up which reported the result of a CP caucus meeting at the NALC Convention. It was stated that this document indicated that something new was needed in the NALC in terms of the civil rights struggle or the organization would fold. According to the report, the document called for a new type of organization with emphasis on winning the working class Negroes to the civil rights struggle. It was indicated there was no disagreement at this caucus meeting regarding the necessity for organizing Negro workers into the civil rights struggle; however, there was widespread disagreement within the NALC as to the tactic in bringing this about. (U)

It was further reported that the leadership of the Chicago NALC was in agreement with this new outlook. (U)

EARL DURHAM, who was in attendance, then indicated that at the present time there were many complications present in the Negro civil rights struggle and that it was not just simply a matter of calling for the Negro workers to join this struggle. He stated that it was the feeling of many at this time that the existing civil rights organizations involved in the civil rights struggle are inadequate. He indicated that the experience in Harlem in New York City proves that many of these civil rights organizations do not have a base in the Negro community. DURHAM indicated that no organization or individual was able to influence the direction of the disorder in Harlem in spite of all of the efforts. DURHAM stated that the Harlem participants were not part of the organized civil rights movement; therefore, it was important to discuss how the basic elements of the Negro community could be organized. DURHAM stated that, in view of the experience in Harlem and of the awareness of some of the inadequacies of the existing civil rights organization, the group in attendance at this meeting as "progressives" must develop an approach on how to expand the beliefs of the NALC and at the same time influence already existing working class groups in the Negro community. 3. Plans, Etc., as Revealed in Party Publications and Other Propaganda Media, Such as Written Directives, Press Releases, and the Like

On October 17, 1963, representatives of the CP of Illinois contacted the "Chicago Sun-Times" and the City News Bureau, Chicago, Illinois, and issued the following press release:

"This is a statement by Mr. Claude Lightfoot, spokesman for the Communist Party of Illinois, on the 'school crisis' as a result of [redacted] re-election to the School Board. Public education in Chicago has suffered a terrible setback. The School Board, by permitting the return of [redacted] has bowed to pressure of the pro-segregationist forces.

"Mayor Daley cannot escape the responsibility for this. One is either for the segregation policies of [redacted] or against them. The Board of Education has failed in its responsibility and the Mayor and City Council should demand the resignation of [redacted] and the resignation of the Board."

(CG T-10, 10/17/63) (U)

"The Worker" issue of August 18, 1963, page six, carried an article entitled, "New Era Dawns for Negro People After Century of Struggle." This article carried the by-line of CLAUDE M. LIGHTFOOT.

At the outset of this article, LIGHTFOOT made note of the fact that the Century of Negro Progress Exposition was to be held at Chicago's McCormick Place August 16 through September 2, 1963, and characterized this exposition as a powerful medium to help combat racist ideology in America. LIGHTFOOT then reviewed the last hundred years of the Negro struggle for equality in the United States and, during this review, noted that the Negro people were still 100 years away from real freedom. He stated that the best illustration of this point is school desegregation because, in the nine years since the Supreme Court decision of 1954, only 7.6 per cent of Negro students in the South have been integrated. LIGHTFOOT noted that based on these figures, it would take another 100 years to carry out what the Court rules should be done with "all deliberate speed."

During his review LIGHTFOOT also discussed the economic status of the Negro worker and after his review concluded that it was not necessary for the Negro to wait another 100 years because a major breakthrough against JIM CROW is possible now.

LIGHTFOOT outlined his reasons for believing such a breakthrough was possible now in the following manner:

1. Negro people's movement was becoming more militant and more unified and would settle for nothing less than freedom now.

2. A large segment of white Americans were in the process of changing old established attitudes and were becoming more sensitive to the need of combating JIM CROW.

3. The United States faced an impasse on many other major problems if it failed to solve the Negro question.

4. America was isolating itself from the entire world as a result of its vicious racism.

According to LIGHTFOOT, all of these checks combined to lay a basis for a realistic estimate that "freedom now" is possible.

LIGHTFOOT continued in his article and noted the necessary steps to bring about what he termed "freedom now":

1. A deepening consciousness of the interrelation of the Negro question to every effort for social progress in the United States.

2. Recognition that in solving the Negro question, special measures are required.

3. An acceleration of the break on the part of the progressive whites and the labor movement with practices of gradualism and tokenism.

4. Deepening and broadening of Negro-white unity, especially of Negro-white labor unity because of their common problems.

5. Further acceleration of the process of unification of the Negro people.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

6. Based on the above process, a foundation must be laid for a fundamental realignment of political forces in the country.

LIGHTFOOT concluded that the fundamental realignment of political forces is essential to success of the Negro freedom struggle and of all other social progress.

LIGHTFOOT in his article next recommended what he termed a tactical approach in order to implement the strategic concept of the problem. He recommended that every conceivable form of struggle must be waged, combining such methods as: legal action; direct action; negotiations; sit-ins; political action; pressures on Government officials; economic action (select buying, work stoppages, and so forth); education and propaganda to combat racist ideology, such as, the Century of Negro Progress Exposition.

The remainder of LIGHTFOOT's article referred to such matters as the need for voter registration in the political action field, the necessity to smash decisively the Dixiecrat - Republican alliance; the all-out support of and participation in the August 28, 1963, March on Washington for jobs and freedom, the protection of the Negro masses in the South as they struggle for the right of the ballot, the initiation of a comprehensive job program of training and placement for Negro youth and the upgrading of the Negro worker generally, the outlawing of Government financial support to JIM CROW in all areas to reduce representation in Congress of states where Negroes are disenfranchised, the securing of passage of a Congressional resolution and the issuance of a Presidential Proclamation outlawing all JIM CROW institutions as incompatible with the Constitution, the appointment of a Negro to the President's Cabinet and the naming of a Negro to the next Supreme Court vacancy, and, finally, the pressing of a political action program in every city and state for a substantial breakthrough in appointments and election of Negro officials at every level of Government.

LIGHTFOOT noted in conclusion that Communists will contribute everything they possibly can to forging unity in the struggle for the goals of the Negro freedom movement. He stated that Communists would make their maximum possible contribution as they have done through several decades.

On July 30, 1964, a press release was issued jointly by CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT and JAMES WEST, Chairman and Organizational Secretary of the CP of Illinois, respectively. In this release, LIGHTFOOT and WEST declared that they accused the United States of "violence, adventurism, and anarchistic methods" in civil rights demonstrations.

The statement issued by LIGHTFOOT and WEST sets forth, "individuals have been expelled from the CP previously because they advocated adventurism, violences, anarchistic methods in violation of the CP program and Constitution. It was the use of violence by an off-duty New York Police Lieutenant of murdering a 15 year old boy which touched off the Harlem disturbances. In most cases, the original violence comes from the forces of reaction and racism, often compelling the victims to defend themselves.

"It may be that there are ex-Communists and possibly even provocateurs who parade under false colors by calling themselves Communists, such as, EPTON in New York, a member of the group known as 'Progressive Labor', who were expelled from the CP years ago. The CP bears no responsibility for the actions or statements of these people."

In summation, it is to be noted that the CP of Illinois spokesman categorically rejected Illinois State Attorney General WILLIAM CLARK's charge that Communists seek to promote violence in civil rights demonstrations. It states, "Attorney General Clark may think he can gain votes by indiscriminate and unproven charges of violence by Communists. If so, he is no less irresponsible than the ultra-rightists and other provocative elements."

B. Other Communist Groups

1). Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM)

US

a. Origin

Mimeographed sheets captioned, "The Colonial War at Home" furnished by one who claims to be a Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM) member, reflect the following:

"RAM was officially organized in the winter of 1963 by Afro-Americans who favored ROBERT F. WILLIAMS and the concept of organized violence.

[(CG T- 14, 9/21/64)] (U)

A Federal warrant was issued August 28, 1961 at Charlotte, North Carolina charging ROBERT FRANKLIN WILLIAMS with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for the crime of kidnapping.

Cuba

RAM follows the writings of ROBERT F. WILLIAMS exiled in Cuba, who is publisher of the monthly newsletter "The Crusader" at Havana, Cuba.

[(CG T-15, 9/21/64)] (U)

b. Aims, Objectives and Ideological Orientation

RAM's ideology follows the Chinese-oriented Marxist-Leninist line and hopes to replace imperialism with socialism. It is dedicated to the overthrow of the white man in the United States through a minority revolution. To accomplish these aims a three-stage plan has been formulated:

The first stage consists of ideological warfare carried on through education and recruitment.

The second stage involves expropriation to secure funds, legal or illegal, by any means whatsoever.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

The third stage will be concerned with direct action and an attempt will be made to replace the existing system of government by any means including violence.

The first stage is currently in operation having originally been scheduled to take one year. However, it is anticipated that this stage may be speeded up to meet the necessity of the times.

It is planned that the second and third stages will be implemented through the use of teen-age youth groups in large cities.

[(CG T-15, 9/17 and 21/64)] (U)

The mimeographed sheets referred to above also reflect the following:

"RAM philosophy may be described as revolutionary nationalism, black nationalism, or just plain blackism. It is the black people of the world (darker races, black, yellow, brown, red, oppressed peoples), [who] are all enslaved by the same forces. RAM philosophy is one of the world...revolution of oppressed peoples rising up against their former slave masters."

The followers of RAM believe that there are no such things as property rights and ownership of private property. It is felt that all rights and powers should be vested in the state including the care and responsibility and use of children. Capitalism is seen as evil while socialism is regarded as the only moral system of government and the only one through which imperialism may be avoided. Soviet Russia is regarded as neo-capitalistic and described as traveling along the same relative path as the United States. The Soviet Union is referred to as revisionist. On the other hand, Chinese communists are seen at present as the only true interpreters of Marxism-Leninism and are the leading power in what is referred to by RAM members as the "Bandung World", that is, non-white. There is no allegiance on the part of RAM members for Chinese communists as a national entity; the main allegiance is directed to the ideal of the non-white world.

c. Organization

The literature referred to above contains another section which reads as follows:

"During the summer of 1963, RAM...sent field organizers throughout the North to help local groups organize demonstrations. Through our experience we have developed an organization on three levels of involvement: 1) Field organizers who are full-time organizers with a period of orientation and training in the movement;

"2) Active members who cannot be full time, but actively support RAM by physical, financial and other help and have also been through a period of orientation;

"3) Associate members who have been through a period of orientation but, for reasons approved by the movement cannot give physical support, but do pledge financial support."

d. Leadership

RAM has a collective leadership with officers in Boston, Massachusetts; Chicago, Illinois; Cleveland, Ohio; Detroit, Michigan; New York City, New York; and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

e. Membership

The membership of RAM is small, selective and secret. It is entirely Negro, however, it plans to expand through the building of a hard core membership of intelligent, militant Negroes. They will eventually enlist the aid of juvenile youth gangs to enlarge their membership and effect their goals.

[(CG T-15, 9/17/64)] (U)

f. Related Groups

The leadership of RAM recently formed the African American Youth Committee (AAYC) to act as a front group for RAM and RAM planned to eventually obtain its membership through AAYC.

RAM started another "front group" called the African American Student Movement (AASM) with chapters in colleges, universities and junior colleges throughout the United States.

(CG T-15, 9/17/64 and 9/21/64) (U)

RAM later decided to change the name of AAYC to African Student Movement (ASM). The purpose of this move was to coincide with the chapter of ASM currently in existence at Roosevelt University, Chicago, and a chapter of ASM to be organized at Crane Junior College, Chicago.

(CG T-14, 10/7/64) (U)

g. Plans

ASM is planning a huge gathering at Nashville, Tennessee, over the Halloween week end and they intend to bring youthful prospective members to Nashville from large northern cities for this affair (1964).

(CG T-15, 9/21/64) (U)

In connection with the Nashville conference, members of RAM and ASM have obtained tentative commitments from at least four individuals, all of whom are youth gang members in the Chicago area, to attend.

2) CHICAGO BRANCH
SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY (CBSWP)

A meeting of the CBSWP was held in Chicago, Illinois, on February 10, 1963. During this meeting, [redacted] New York SWP member and National Organizational Secretary of the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA), stated that the only policy of the YSA in connection with SNCC was to give financial aid to SNCC. He also advised on this occasion that one YSA member was the "contributing reporter" with the SNCC publication "Student Action". [redacted] also reported on this occasion that the CP had no interest in SNCC to any degree and that SNCC was not friendly toward the CP. (U)

(CG T-16, 2/11/63) (U)

Appended hereto is a characterization of the YSA, Chicago, as well as a characterization of the National YSA and the CBSWP.

On March 22, 1963, a Socialist Forum was held at SWP Headquarters, Chicago, Illinois. During this meeting a panel discussion was held on civil rights, North and South. Speakers were [redacted] and [redacted] [redacted] is from Mississippi and gave the story of the civil rights struggle in the South. He is a field secretary of SNCC. During his remarks, he said that before he became a member of SNCC, he was not opposed to violence and noted that, in fact, he still is not opposed to violence. [redacted] told of police brutalities and injustices toward the Negroes in Mississippi and told of his experiences in fighting for equality in Mississippi and of being in jail.

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

[redacted] spoke on civil rights in the North. His report in essence was the social and political aspects of the Negro struggle, which he described as only cover-ups for the real cause, which is economic oppression. b6 b7C

On March 31, 1963, a meeting of the CBSWP was held at Branch Headquarters, Room 210, 302 South Canal Street, Chicago, Illinois. (U)

During this meeting, [redacted] a member of the CBSWP who was present, gave a youth report. During this report, [redacted] reported on a SNCC demonstration which was held at the Federal Building, Clark and Adams Streets, Chicago, on March 30, 1963. [redacted] reported that after this demonstration, approximately twenty-five individuals came over to CBSWP Headquarters. He reported that as a result, the CBSWP had developed some contacts from Wright Junior College at this meeting. b6 b7C (U)

On April 21, 1963, a meeting of the CBSWP was held at Branch Headquarters, Room 210, 302 South Canal Street, Chicago, Illinois. (U)

During the course of this meeting, [redacted] who was in attendance at this meeting, reported on a SNCC conference which was held April 11 - 13, 1963, at Atlanta, Georgia. [redacted] reported that most of the participants at this conference were students and were evenly divided between black and white. He stated that the main emphasis made at this conference was in connection with the Negro voter registration drive in the South and the need for desegregation. [redacted] also reported that in addition to himself, LEROY b6 b7C (U)

[redacted] attended this conference. (U)

On May 19, 1963, a meeting of the CBSWP was held at Branch Headquarters, Room 210, 302 South Canal Street, Chicago, Illinois. (U)

During this meeting, [redacted] who was in attendance at this meeting, reported on a Militant Labor Forum meeting. During this report [redacted] stated that forty-one individuals had attended the meeting and eight of those in attendance were Negro youth contacts. [redacted] also reported that at this meeting, $13.00 in literature was sold and $8.00 was paid to [redacted] field secretary for SNCC, who was the speaker at this meeting. (U)

(CG T-16, 5/21/63) (U)

On June 24, 1963, the Executive Committee of the YSA, Chicago, held a meeting at 302 South Canal Street, Chicago, Illinois. The only topic discussed at this meeting was what role the YSA should play in the civil rights movement in coordination with SNCC. (U)

As a result of the discussion at this meeting, the general feeling of the Executive Committee was that the members of YSA would be too busy with "T School" this summer to participate fruitfully with another group. (U)

Another view presented was that the YSA could not afford to fail to join forces with SNCC since the civil rights issue is uppermost in society today. It was pointed out that YSA would possibly be able to increase its Negro (U)

membership by making such a move. (U)

Since dissension developed over this issue at this meeting, the issue was tabled so that a decision might be made before the next meeting of SNCC, which was scheduled for the coming week. It was further decided that if this move is made, only a few YSA members should be sent to the SNCC meeting. These members should take caution in imposing socialistic ideas on individuals in SNCC groups too rapidly. (U)

(CG T-18, 7/22/63) (U)

On July 28, 1963, a meeting of the CBSWP was held at Branch Headquarters, 302 South Canal Street, Chicago, Illinois. (U)

During the course of this meeting, [redacted] who was in attendance, reported on the success of the "anti-DALEY" rally held July 4, 1963. [redacted] reported that this rally was organized by [redacted] of SNCC and the Independent Voters of Illinois (IVI). [redacted] reported that there were only 100 demonstrators at this rally along with a few members of the IVI. [redacted] reported that most of the IVI backed out of this demonstration when the signs prepared for the demonstration were too severe. (U)

[redacted] also reported that over 500 copies of "The Militant" and 200 copies of other SWP literature were sold at the rally. He reported that the demonstrators were about half Negro and half white. (U)

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

A) PICKET LINE, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS MARCH 30, 1963

On March 30, 1963, a Special Agent of the FBI observed a picket line which formed at 11:00 AM under the auspices of the Chicago Area Friends of SNCC. This picket line formed at Michigan Avenue and Congress Street, Chicago, and marched until 1:15 PM through Downtown Chicago to the Old United States Post Office Building (United States Court House), 219 South Clark, Chicago.

The demonstrators numbered approximately 300, which were evenly divided between white and Negro, with youth of college age comprising the majority. The picket line was orderly and no speeches were made. Leaflets were distributed which listed the statistics of the Civil Rights Commission Report, January, 1961, Leflore County, Mississippi. This leaflet reflected that 13,567 Negroes were eligible to vote with only 163 registered. The leaflet noted that on March 27, 1963, ten voter registration workers for SNCC were jailed for leading 150 Negroes to Leflore County Court House to exercise their right to vote. The leaflet set out eleven items of violence which occurred in which was termed a reign of terror to break the SNCC voters' registration drive, at Leflore County, Mississippi, during the past eight months, with the culminating event being on March 28, 1963, when dogs were loosed on 50 of these individuals after they applied to register.

The leaflet further noted that in all of these cases, Federal authorities were notified and protection was requested.

The leaflet in question stated that the current demonstration was part of a national effort calling on the Federal government to exercise its power to protect rights of all citizens to vote in Mississippi. The leaflet urged all to write Attorney General ROBERT KENNEDY to intercede immediately and to free arrested SNCC leaders. The leaflet also requested protection for those individuals attempting to vote and for prosecution of those who were obstructing the voting rights. The leaflet also requested that letters and telegrams be sent to President KENNEDY and [redacted] Civil Rights Commission, Washington, D. C., United States Congressmen, local newspapers and radio stations. b6 b7C

Also observed participating in this demonstration was ISHMAEL FLORY, who carried a placard "Black Americans Want Citizenship Now", as well as other individuals who carried placards identified with the AAHA. Also, [redacted] was observed coordinating the picket line. [redacted] was also observed as a member of the demonstration. b6 b7C

On April 1, 1963, CG T-20 (C) (U) advised that he had also attended the protest march and picket demonstration held March 30, 1963, in the Loop area and that this demonstration was under the auspices of the Chicago Area Friends of SNCC.

In addition, CG T-20 advised that FLORY led a group of the persons who participated in the picket who carried banners indicating the group was under the sponsorship of the AAHA. Also, CG T-20 advised that an unidentified group was represented by the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA), 302 South Canal Street, Chicago, Illinois, and that this group distributed leaflets inviting the pickets to have refreshments at 302 South Canal Street after the demonstration.

In connection with the YSA mentioned above, it is to be noted that on April 3, 1963, CG T-16 made available a leaflet which had been obtained at the picket held on March 30, 1963, and this leaflet was entitled, "Come to the Picketeers Oasis". According to CG T-16 this leaflet was distributed at the picket line by members of the YSA and invited the pickets to receive free refreshments at YSA Headquarters, 302 South Canal Street, Room 210, Chicago, Illinois, following the demonstration. B) DEMONSTRATION AT THE ILLINOIS STATE LEGISLATURE, MAY 7, 1963, SPRINGFIELD, ILLINOIS

The Illinois Legislature had been stalemated for six weeks concerning various aspects of the administration and the appropriation for the Illinois Public Aid Commission. The Illinois Senate scheduled a hearing on this matter for noon, May 7, 1963. After hearing a few bills not pertinent to this question, the Senate arbitrarily adjourned until 4:00 PM, May 7, 1963. The Senate reconvened at 4:00 PM, May 7, 1963, and within a period of five or ten minutes, adjourned until 10:00 AM, May 8, 1963.

The Illinois Legislature was considering House Bill 755, entitled "Fair Housing Practices Commission". On May 7, 1963, approximately 500 individuals assembled at the Capitol Building apparently being led by an organization referred to as ~~"Englewood Committee for Community-Action"~~. A Special Agent of the FBI observed CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT and [redacted] arrive on the third floor of the Capitol at about 2:20 PM, May 7, 1963. Neither of these individuals made any effort to contact any members of the Legislature and were observed mingling with the crowd in the Rotunda outside the Senate and House chambers. When the Senate adjourned shortly after 4:00 PM, a meeting was observed on the east lawn of the Capitol Building under the supervision and leadership of an unknown minister. There were approximately 150 people in this group. CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT and [redacted] were observed standing on the fringe of this group and were not noted to actively participate in the meeting.

b7C

b6
b7C

[redacted] a reporter for the Peoria, Illinois "Journal Star" who covered these meetings, subsequently advised as follows: b6 b7C

On May 8, 1963, [redacted] who stated he was connected with the Settlement House in Chicago and was interested in the Englewood Committee for Community Action and who was also a professional social worker, approached [redacted] and told her the following story: b6 b7C

The group that met on the lawn of the Illinois Capitol Building, Springfield, Illinois, the afternoon of May 7, 1963, was trying to arrange for demonstrations, both at the Capitol Building in Springfield and in Chicago on the morning of May 8, 1963. In addition, they were planning a "sit-in" at the Capitol Building for those people who were staying over in Springfield. [redacted] advised that he became aware of the fact that there were about four or five individuals in the group from an Afro-American organization (AAHA), [redacted] also advised [redacted] that in the group was approximately thirteen or fourteen individuals who allegedly represented SNCC. [redacted] advised that he also became aware of the presence of CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT. [redacted] advised [redacted] that he then approached LIGHTFOOT and inquired if LIGHTFOOT was staying over in Springfield that night. Upon receiving an affirmative answer, [redacted] immediately went to the leaders of the group and had a discussion with them. [redacted] advised they would call all demonstrations off and would abandon the "sit-in", as they did not want it to be said that LIGHTFOOT, a Communist, had anything to do with their movement. b6 b7C

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

At 3:30 PM, May 8, 1963, the hearing of the Executive Committee of the House commenced and LIGHTFOOT was observed in the Rotunda outside of the House chambers being interviewed by the press. At no time was he observed within the House chambers during this committee meeting.

However, regarding [redacted], it is to be noted that a Special Agent of the FBI observed [redacted] admitted to the House chambers based upon an assertion by [redacted] to a House page that he was a newspaper man. [redacted] was observed in the back of the House chambers taking notes as to the name and identity of each person who appeared and testified for the Fair Housing Practices Commission Bill. [redacted] and LIGHTFOOT were observed to leave the Capitol Building at approximately 5:20 PM and proceed to the Illinois Central Railroad Station where they boarded a train for Chicago, Illinois, at approximately 5:45 PM. b6 b7C

Concerning CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, it is to be noted that he has been identified in an earlier portion of this report as Chairman of the CP of Illinois.

Concerning [redacted], it is to be noted that CG T-3 on May 6, 1963, advised that [redacted] was a member of the CP of Illinois staff and the Midwest representative of "The Worker". (U) b6 b7C

As previously indicated, "The Worker" is an East Coast Communist newspaper.

C) PICKET DEMONSTRATION,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, MAY 13, 1963

On May 13, 1963, at approximately 4:30 PM, a picket-demonstration march was sponsored by SNCC at the Federal Building, 218 South Clark Street, Chicago, Illinois. Approximately 1,000 demonstrators took part and many of these demonstrators carried placards. Some of the placards read as follows:

"Birmingham is Everywhere"

"Civil Rights North and South"

"Enforce the Law of the Land"

"Human Dignity at Any Cost"

"Jim Crow Must Go"

"American Freedom for All Americans"

At approximately 5:30 PM, the march proceeded six blocks to the Congress Plaza, located at Michigan Avenue and Congress Street, Chicago, Illinois, where an open air public rally was held from 6:15 PM to 7:15 PM. The main speaker at this rally was the prominent Negro comedian [redacted] who spoke about twenty-five minutes to a crowd estimated at 1,500 persons. [redacted] spoke of problems of Negroes in both the North and South and stated that the Southern Negroes are leading the Negroes' fight for human dignity and the right to be an American. He criticized President KENNEDY for not sending troops to Birmingham, Alabama two weeks sooner. He also praised the Southern Negroes whom he stated would eventually win their freedom. He commented that the Negro also has problems in the North, alleging that Chicago is probably the most segregated city in the United States. He remarked that the Northern Negro has greater problems because at least the Southern Negro knows where he stands. He explained his reason for going to Birmingham, Alabama, stating that the Southern Negroes were fighting for his family and he felt obligated to them. In closing, he appealed to the crowd to make America the great country the founding fathers meant it to be. (U)

There was no violence nor disturbance observed and the demonstration and rally were generally peaceful in character and no arrests were made. (U)

E. Racial Disturbances in Morgan Park Section, Chicago, Illinois, July, 1963

In July, 1963, demonstrations and violence had erupted in the Morgan Park Section of Chicago between whites and Negroes over the residency of three Negro families in this previous all white area. The CORE sponsored several demonstrations during this period in the Morgan Park Section, and on August 2, 1963, a group of these CORE demonstrators had been arrested and were taken to the Chicago Police Station located at 61st Street and Racine, Chicago. One of these participating CORE individuals was [redacted] (U)

Also on August 2, 1963, a meeting of a group of initiators of a new citywide Marxist youth group was being held at the home of [redacted], Chicago, Illinois. During this meeting, it was learned that some of the CORE demonstrators had been arrested and taken to the police station. This group of "initiators of the new city-wide Marxist youth group" then went to the police station [redacted] (U) located at 61st Street and Racine in order to locate [redacted] b6 b7C

[redacted] was not located; however, at the police station RICHARD CRILEY of the CCDBR was observed at the police station posting bail for the CORE members arrested. (U)

The Marxist Youth Group eventually located [redacted] b6 b7C in the early morning hours of August 3, 1963, at a meeting of CORE in an apartment building at 73rd and Lowe next to a construction site in the Morgan Park area which was also the scene of some racial demonstrations. At this construction site, a large number of Negro and white CORE demonstrators were dumping garbage, broken glass, and so forth, on the construction site in order to hinder the construction of mobile classrooms, the use of which by the Chicago School Board was being protested by Negro citizens on the South Side of Chicago. [redacted] returned with the above group to the [redacted] apartment and, during the meeting that followed, [redacted] reported on the demonstrations and stated that the white parents in the area around 57th Street and Morgan have been stirring up the neighborhood against the Negroes moving in and that the white teenagers then took the initiative and moved out into surrounding Negro areas and had begun attacking Negroes who were found walking singly or in pairs. Word of this spread to CORE and thence to Negro and white gangs on the North and West Sides of Chicago. [redacted] who is a member of the leadership of a gang b6 b7C known as the Egyptian Cobras, stated that it was the intention of these Negro gangs to go down to the South Side of Chicago with shotguns and switchblades and clean up the situation. (U)

The group in attendance for this meeting then held a discussion with [redacted] and [redacted] tentatively agreed to a plan, b6 b7C after a discussion with [redacted] who was present, which was designed to help stop the violence in this neighborhood without resorting to the use of street gangs. The essense of the plan was for this group which was holding the meeting and [redacted] to try to get together Negro and white groups of about 20, among which would be a minister for each group. This group would then go into the area and try to talk these white teenagers out of their violent action. At the same time, the white teenagers would be informed that, if the violence was not stopped, the Negro and white gangs from the North and West Sides of Chicago would move into the area and some real violence would occur. (U)

(U)

In regard to the aforementioned plan, it was subsequently learned the following morning, August 3, 1963, there was to be a meeting of a group of ministers on the South Side of Chicago on the afternoon of August 3, 1964, and, therefore, the above plan was held in abeyance until the outcome of this meeting became known. (U)

During the meeting of the group of initiators mentioned above and outside the presence of [redacted] was heard to state that he believed the local chapter of CORE was falling under the influence of the Young People's Socialist League which was responsible for the violent action taken by the local chapter of the CORE at the construction site at 73rd and Lowe. (U) b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that the Young People's Socialist League is the source of these violent ideas within CORE and that [redacted] a leader of one of Chicago's street gangs, is also a pretty violent person himself. (U) b6 b7C

[redacted] indicated that the reason for locating [redacted] and talking to him was so that he could gain the friendship or [redacted] remove him from the influence of the Young People's Socialist League, and try to use [redacted] because of the influence he has upon his large following, both in CORE and in his street gang. [redacted] indicated he would like to use the people being led by [redacted] in various demonstrations and projects initiated by the CP and other progressive movements. At the time the group went looking for [redacted] stated that he would not accompany the group because it would not be a good idea for him to be seen at CORE Headquarters since he, [redacted] is a well known Communist. F. March on Washington,
Washington, D.C.
August 28, 1963

The "Chicago Sun-Times," a Chicago daily newspaper, issue of August 7, 1963, page 16, carried an article entitled, "Area Marchers on Washington to go in Group."

The aforementioned article indicated that on August 28, 1963, from 1,500 to 2,500 Chicagoans would participate in a civil rights march on Washington, D.C.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

The article indicated that the Chicago Branch, NAACP, had stated that the Chicago group would leave en masse for Washington, D. C., sometime on August 27, 1963, and return to Chicago the evening of August 28, 1963. The article further indicated that various civil rights organizations in Chicago were taking part in this mass effort and that the Chairman of the Chicago Committee for the march was [redacted] b6 b7C President of the NALC.

On July 27, 1963, a meeting of CP of Illinois actives, that is, so-called active members of the CP of Illinois, was held on that date at 333 West North Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. The purpose of this meeting was to hear a lecture by GUS HALL.

During this meeting, GUS HALL called for the mobilization of the entire CP membership in support of the March on Washington. HALL instructed that as many as possible should go to the march.

[(CG T-42, 7/28/63)]

On July 31, 1963, a meeting of the NAACP, CP of Illinois subcommittee, was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois.

During the discussion at this meeting, it was proposed that LESTER DAVIS see to it that a special committee of the NAACP in Chicago be set up to help organize the March on Washington.

[(CG T-3, 8/1/63)]

The "Chicago Sun-Times", a Chicago daily newspaper, issue of August 6, 1963, page 18, columns 1 and 2, carried an article entitled, "March on Washington Unit Meets". The "Chicago Daily News" of August 30, 1963, page 1, column 1, carried an article captioned, "The Story of a Protest March Here". This article reported that upon return from the March on Washington, Chicago marchers proceeded to the Sun-Times Building, office of the Sun-Times daily newspaper, and proceeded to picket the building, chanting "Hey, Hey, what do you know? The Sun-Times has got to go".

The article indicates that among the leaders of this delegation were [redacted] and [redacted] who met with members of the Sun-Times Editorial Staff to express their grievance that the white press does not understand the civil rights revolt and the marchers do not expect it to understand. Specifically, they felt the Sun-Times editorial, referring to the March on Washington which appeared in the paper on the preceding day, did not show understanding of the purpose of the March on Washington. According to the article, the delegation said the editorial insinuated the March leaders were not responsible. b6 b7C

G.) RACIAL INCIDENT, BEALE SCHOOL, 6006 SOUTH PEORIA, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, SEPTEMBER 4, 1963

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS ~~UNCLASSIFIED~~ (U) EXCEPT WHERE SHOWN OTHERWISE

The "Chicago Daily News" Red Streak Edition issue of September 4, 1963, page 1, contained an article entitled, "13 Are Arrested Here In School Picketing".

The aforementioned article indicated that on September 4, 1963, a group of twenty-five persons staged a "lie-down" in front of a police squadrol in connection with protest picketing at the Beale School, 6006 South Peoria Street, Chicago, Illinois. The article indicated that the police removed thirteen demonstrators from the school and placed them under arrest. Included in the group arrested was EDWARD HIGGINS. The article stated that the demonstrators had urged the removal of the school's principal and the transfer of their children from the school. All those arrested were charged with criminal trespass on a complaint filed by the school principal, WILLARD JOHNSTON.

The "Chicago Sun-Times" in its Four Star Final Edition, on September 6, 1963, page 20, column 1, carried an article entitled, "Embattled South Side Principal Says He Won't Quit". This article states that WILLARD A. JOHNSTON, Principal, Beale School, 6006 South Peoria, Chicago, was interviewed by "Sun-Times" reporters on September 5, 1963. During this interview, the article states, JOHNSTON asserted his unwillingness to resign his position to conform to the wishes of those persons demanding his resignation and picketing the Beale School.

The article indicated that "Johnston attributed the racial turmoil to a group of 'dissidents' clustered around the leadership of the Reverend Leon M. Jackson, co-pastor of Holy Trinity Baptist Church, 5435 South Wentworth." The article further stated that the Reverend JACKSON and EDWARD HIGGINS, "Chairman of the South Side Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality, cited what they termed racial statements by Johnston". Included among these were the following statements, according to HIGGINS:

Chicago

"I'm free, white, twenty-one, and I'll run this school as I see fit."

"'You people are candidates for the relief roles. You are stupid and ignorant.'"

The article indicated that EDWARD HIGGINS had charged that Principal JOHNSTON was not capable of running this school because of his racist attitude and because JOHNSTON could not work effectively and efficiently with the community.

The article further indicated that Principal JOHNSTON in the interview had insisted that most of the protestors were not parents and for the next month he would not talk to anyone except parents of the youngsters in the Beale School.

I) ECONOMIC BOYCOTT OF "LOOP BUSINESSES"
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, CHRISTMAS, 1963

An economic boycott of "Loop businesses" in Chicago, Illinois, by a portion of the Negro community was reported in Chicago newspapers during December, 1963.

On December 13, 1963, the "Chicago Daily News" carried an article on page 46, column 4, entitled, "State Reds Back Loop Boycott". This article stated that the CP of Illinois, through its spokesman CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, had pledged itself to "fully support" the boycott initiated by SNCC for the purpose of effecting the discharge of [redacted] Superintendent of Chicago schools.

LUKE CARROLL, Managing Editor, "Chicago's American" newspaper, on December 13, 1963, furnished information which indicated that the CP of Illinois had pledged full support to the boycott of Chicago Loop stores, restaurants, amusements, and other enterprises through its spokesman, CLAUDE M. LIGHTFOOT. This boycott, he advised, is scheduled to continue until [redacted] is removed as Superintendent of Schools because of his obstruction to desegregation. CARROLL further advised that leading Loop businessmen, according to SNCC in Chicago, have insisted that [redacted] remain as Superintendent. The text of a press release furnished "Chicago's American" by CLAUDE M. LIGHTFOOT, according to CARROLL, is set forth below:

"After careful consideration and consultation, I have been authorized to state that the Communist Party of Illinois fully supports the Chicago Area Friends of the Student Non-violent Co-ordinating Committee and the other organizations which are picketing and urging a shopping boycott of the Chicago Loop.

"Powerful Loop businessmen who rushed to Supt. Willis and urged him to withdraw his resignation as superintendent thereby declared themselves to be on the side of those who could keep Negro children and parents in ghettoes.

"In doing so, they no doubt will claim that they exercised their Constitutional right to oppose the quarter million children and their parents who went on a one-day school boycott to express their disgust with Supt. Willis and to demand that he be ousted.

"Therefore, the Loop merchants should be equally tolerant of those children and parents and the thousands who wanted desegregated schools for refusing to buy from them and urging others to do likewise.

"A point has been made that leaders of some Negro organizations have not endorsed the boycott, or even oppose it. This simply shows that on rare occasions there are differences on tactics among Negro leaders, just as there are in any other sector of the population. Those supporting the boycott certainly would have liked 100 per cent backing of the Negro leadership, but lacking such unity notwithstanding, we are confident that the mass of the people will be united in their determination to make this boycott an effective instrument in their struggle for simple justice, and in their immediate objective."

"The Worker" issue of January 12, 1964, page 4, column 4, carried an article entitled, "Sales Figures Show Effect of Chicago Loop Boycott". This article indicated that the boycott of the Chicago Loop urged by civil rights forces was increasingly effective. According to this article, figures of the Federal Reserve Bank show that sales in Loop area increased less in December, 1963, compared to December, 1962, than in the rest of the Chicago Metropolitan area.

The article explained that the Chicago Loop had been boycotted because leaders of the State Street Council, representing the largest Loop establishments, have given support to Superintendent of Schools [redacted] whose "segregation policies" resulted in a one day school boycott on October 22, 1963, which was participated in by 225,000 school children. b6 b7C

The article also noted that the Chicago School Board Nominating Commissions recommendations to Mayor DALEY of eight nominees, all of them white and some favorable to Superintendent [redacted] from which DALEY was to pick two individuals to fill School Board vacancies, had brought bitter resentment. b6 b7C

J) PICKET OF STATE OF ILLINOIS OFFICE BUILDING, 160 NORTH LA SALLE STREET, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, JANUARY 30, 1964

"The Worker" issue of February 9, 1964, page 2, column 1, carried an article entitled, "Hunger March, Sit-In in Chicago Result in Pledges of Relief". This article indicated that in January, 1964, a demonstration of around 200 persons had been held in Chicago, Illinois, demanding government surplus food to make up for the cut of ten per cent in welfare checks. The article indicated that a sit-in had been held in the offices of the State Public Aid Department of the State of Illinois office building in the Loop for a period of three hours and after this time, the [redacted] of "The March for Jobs and Surplus Food" had arranged for meetings of public officials and had secured promises that these officials would act promptly in the emergency.

b7C

The article took note of the fact that the Communist issue was injected into this picket on the excuse that CLAUDE M. LIGHTFOOT, spokesman for the CP of Illinois, was present as an observer of the demonstration. The article noted that news media had claimed that LIGHTFOOT was forcibly removed from the scene by the police but noted that these news media had changed their stories when LIGHTFOOT issued a public statement declaring such stories were false.

The article also noted that the AAHA had issued circulars supporting the march for surplus food.

On January 31, 1964, it was learned that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT on that date was expressing concern over an article which had appeared in "Chicago's American" newspaper on [redacted] (U)

CG 100-41324

January 30, 1964, relating to a hunger march held in the Downtown Chicago area. According to LIGHTFOOT, the "Chicago's American" story was a complete falsehood and he in no way participated in the hunger march nor did the police ever talk to him that day. ~~S~~ (C) (U)

LIGHTFOOT noted that he had been in the area of the march but on the opposite side of the street and had in no way participated in any of the activities. It was LIGHTFOOT's opinion that although the story was a falsehood, it would not do the CP any harm but could do it some good by giving the CP credit for the leadership of the march where, in fact, they had failed to participate because the CP had feared it would interfere with the march's success. ~~S~~ (C) (U)

The "Chicago Daily News," a Chicago newspaper, carried an article in its April 22, 1964, issue entitled, "Stall-In at the Fair Backed by ACT" which referred to [redacted] as the Chairman of ACT. The article noted that ACT is composed of "about thirty Northern civil rights chiefs but no Indians, according to its Chairman."

This news article also noted that the organization was founded on March 14, 1964, in Chester, Pennsylvania, by [redacted] and other boycott leaders, such as [redacted] of New York. The article further noted that ACT has three consultants, Congressman ADAM CLAYTON POWELL of New York, comedian [redacted] and MALCOLM X.

The March 13, 1964, edition of "The New York Times," a daily newspaper published in New York, New York, contained an article on page 20 which indicated that MALCOLM X (LITTLE), former national official of the Nation of Islam (NOI), who had broken with the NOI on March 8, 1964, publicly announced in New York City on March 12, 1964, that he had formed the Muslim Mosque, Inc.

The "Chicago Daily Defender," a local Chicago newspaper in its edition of June 29, 1964, on page three, reported a meeting of the "leaders" of ACT, which was held in Chicago on June 28, 1964. This article named the following persons in attendance at this meeting:

HOBSON also stated that ACT groups in the various cities have their own individual projects which may differ from projects in other cities. (C) (U)

This source advised that LAWRENCE LANDRY continues to be National Chairman of ACT, which is a "name" and not an organization. The name ACT serves as a platform for LANDRY to "make noise" in the civil rights field. The Carter G. Woodson School, a school of AAHA, was organized in 1963 and operated for several months. This school was organized to teach Negro history, heritage and culture; however, the school was never really successful and around the beginning of 1964 it ceased to hold classes due to a lack of attendance.

AAHA currently operates the Afram Bookstore. This bookstore is maintained at AAHA Headquarters. The bookstore sells books and pamphlets dealing mainly with the Negro struggle for equality. Most of the books are by prominent Negro authors.

The Afram Bookstore features a considerable amount of literature dealing with Communism and written by people who reportedly have Communist contacts. Books are on sale authored by Dr. W. E. B. The Chicago Chapter of CORE located at 608 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, has an estimated membership of around 200 people. Around 50 to 60 of these members attend membership meetings and can be considered active members.

The Chicago Chapter is broken down into five units. They are as follows:

1. Near North Side unit
2. Far North Side unit
3. South Side unit
4. West Side unit
5. Evanston unit

During the summer of 1964, the summer project or CORE Task Force was organized, which operates independently of the Chicago Chapter.

Policy Regarding CP
Participation in CORE (U)

On December 13, 1963, during a closed business meeting of the Executive Committee of the Chicago Chapter of CORE, a resolution was introduced regarding membership qualification, which provided that membership would not be approved of any one who advocated the overthrow of government by force or violence. This resolution was rejected by [redacted] the current chairman, who would not allow it to be taken up for a vote because, as [redacted] put it, politics should not be a qualifying factor for membership. "An individual's past, present, or future political beliefs are not a matter of concern to C.O.R.E. as long as that individual adheres to C.O.R.E. procedures in C.O.R.E. demonstrations.

"There is no screening, as such, of members for communist background or communist associations. There has never been in my recollection any such screening of individuals. Our concern is not with such things but with performance of individuals while working in behalf of and under the name of C.O.R.E.

"Extremists' ultimate goals cannot be achieved thru organizations such as ours because civil-rights groups will disappear with the problem of discrimination."

COORDINATING COUNCIL OF COMMUNITY ORGANIZATIONS (CCCO)

The CCCO, as its title indicates, is a council which is composed of delegates from various community organizations in Chicago who meet to formulate plans and activities related to the civil rights movement in Chicago. For example, the CCCO in October, 1963, was the prime initiator of the school boycott in Chicago which was termed a success by civil rights leaders. The issue of holding a second boycott, however, created differences among the various organizations within the CCCO as to whether such a boycott would be successful. The second boycott held in February, 1964, was not supported by some of the organizations although LAWRENCE LANDRY was the acknowledged boycott chairman in both events.

[redacted] is known as the "convener" of the CCCO.) b6 b7C

PARENTS COUNCIL FOR INTEGRATED SCHOOLS

Location

The Parents Council for Integrated Schools is located at 7326 South Stewart Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

(CG T-20, 8/19/64) (U)

Origin, Organization, and Officers

The Parents Council for Integrated Schools was organized some time in early 1964 by [redacted] b6 b7C terms herself over-all Council Chairman and indicated in early March, 1964, that there are approximately five Parents Council groups. One of these groups is in the Oakwood-Kenwood area and is under the leadership of [redacted] A west side group is headed by [redacted] Another group is located in the Chatham-Avalon area and is headed by [redacted] There is a Near North Side Council in which [redacted] are active. The Parents Council groups as [redacted] are a very loosely formed organization and in early March, 1964, [redacted] was trying to consolidate these groups into a more formal type of organization and to create a more consolidated program. [redacted] was making this effort in order that the groups could create a constitution and then determine the feasibility of joining the CCCO as an affiliated group.

As of early March, 1964, [redacted] was of the opinion that conditions within the CCCO were such that it was inadvisable for the Parents Council to become involved in the b6 b7C

(U)

(U)

CCCO. According to [redacted] the CCCO seemed only interested in her coming into the CCCO so that the CCCO could say they had a grass roots organization in their setup. (U)

In early March, 1964, because of the problem that was in existence between [redacted] Parents Council groups and CCCO, [redacted] consulted with a representative of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission concerning her problem and received the opinion that she should not affiliate with the CCCO and that the CP of Illinois would take the initiative in contacting members of the CCCO in order to see if the Party could not influence the CCCO members to unify around [redacted] position. It was stated that if it became necessary, the CP of Illinois would call a special meeting of all the individuals involved and determine the policy and then hold everyone to it. (U)

In addition to the individuals mentioned above, who are active in the Parents Council groups in early March, 1964, [redacted] stated that [redacted] had agreed to help her in working out a program for the Parents Council. (U)

CP Interest and Influence in Protest at the Polls

As of December, 1963, the attitude of the CP of Illinois toward Protest at the Polls was one of recommending the organization and being in favor of it. The direction of the CP influence was through individual meetings with [redacted] and [redacted] who agreed to meet with the CP. This was effected through CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT as a representative of the Party. These meetings were not scheduled regularly, but were to occur periodically. b6 b7C

((CG T- 3 , 12/5/63))

In March, 1964, [redacted] a CP of Illinois Club Chairman, reportedly was trying to get [redacted] a current CP member, to work with Protest at the Polls; however, WYATT claimed that she was already active in that organization.

((CG T-23 , 3/6/64))

In early March, 1964, [redacted] and [redacted] attended a meeting of the Negro Commission, CP of Illinois, wherein the meeting dealt with, in part, activity of Protest at the Polls. They discussed, among other things, the lack of progress being made by [redacted] as a Congressional candidate. b6 b7C

((CG T-3 , 3/6/64))

On August 16, 1964, during a meeting of leading CP members held on Chicago's West Side, it was stated that CP members in planning their activity relative to the coming election, should consider working through established organizations. Protest at the Polls was mentioned as one organization through which the CP should work.

PROVISIONAL COMMITTEE FOR FREE ELECTIONS IMMEDIATELY IN THE SOUTH

The Provisional Committee for Free Elections Immediately in the South (PCFEIS) was active in Chicago, Illinois, during the period April, 1963, through February, 1964, but is now dissolved. The group was formed in late April, 1963, by Reverend G. W. HESTER and [redacted] Chairman and Secretary of the Baptist Ministers Conference of Chicago, respectively. Its activities were generally limited to the issuance of public statements to the press regarding the need for free elections in the South and the raising of funds to be donated to the Negro voter registration drive in the South.

Reverend HESTER, in speaking at the first mass fund-raising meeting held by the organization in Chicago on May 1, 1963, emphasized that the character of the organization was to be non-violent and non-communist in nature and its main interest was to be in the securing as Americans the constitutional rights of the Negro people.

The officers of the organization as of February 7, 1964, were:

Chairman..... Reverend G. W. HESTER
Co-Chairman..... [redacted]
Co-Chairman.....
Co-Chairman.....
Secretary.....
Treasurer.....

b6

STUDENT NON-VIOLENT COORDINATING COMMITTEE

Origin and Scope

A pamphlet entitled, "Chicago Area Friends of SNCC (Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee)", obtained in March, 1963, reflected that SNCC grew out of the first wave of student protests which swept the South in the Spring of 1960. It was stated that SNCC was conceived initially as simply a means of communication between different protest areas. Thereafter were enumerated some of the projects which the organization has undertaken.

The item also reflected that the Chicago Area Friends of SNCC was formed "by a diverse group of people in the Chicago area who had in common a deep concern for the denial, in practice, of basic civil rights to the Negro in the United States...".

((CG T-16, 3/25/63) (U)

A letterhead of the Chicago Area Friends of SNCC, 1316 East Madison Park, Chicago 15, Illinois, reflected in part that late in January, 1963, a group of two dozen or so Chicagoans met together and formed the Chicago Area Friends of SNCC. Thereafter were reflected activities of the organization, including a project entitled, "Food and Funds for Freedom". It was also stated that the Chicago Area Friends of SNCC is a membership body governed between membership meetings by an Executive Committee of about 25.

THE WOODLAWN ORGANIZATION (TWO) — Temporary Woodlawn Organization

Origin and Scope — Chicago

The "Chicago Daily News" issue of April 27, 1963, carried an article captioned "Woodlawn Group Growing Up". The article stated that the Second Annual Convention of the TWO was being held and the group was described as a growing up group that has been nationally acknowledged to be the first strong Negro community organization in the country. The article continued that through the three years of TWO's existence, there had been rumors that the organization would expand out of the Woodlawn District in Chicago and the current convention marked the first time there had been an attempt to do so. The article stated that before its first convention, held the previous year, TWO was dramatically in the spotlight by picketing slum lords, discrimination in various forms, credit abuses, and vice. The article stated during the past year, the organization had been "lying low".

W. E. B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA - CHICAGO DIVISION

Origin, Scope, and Participation in Racial Matters

On June 30, 1964, following the founding of the W. E. B. Du Bois Clubs of America (DCA) in San Francisco, California, June 19-21, 1964, a Chicago Club was formed for the stated purpose of initiating direct action on issues concerning the youth of America and for the purpose of studying Socialism as a possible solution to the political and economic problems of American society.

To this end, the Chicago DCA will engage in direct action and rally support to the united effort of all democratic elements in this country, composed essentially of the working class people, allied with the Negroes and other minorities. The Chicago DCA has supported the Negro rights struggle through a picket demonstration held in Chicago, Illinois, on July 20, 1964, calling for the sending of Federal troops to Mississippi to aid in the voter registration drive.

(CG T-8, 10/20/64) (U)

Membership

As of October 1, 1964, the Chicago DCA was made up of two clubs located on the Near North Side of Chicago and on the Far Southwest. Total membership of these two clubs is estimated between 30-35 young people from throughout the Chicago area. The temporary headquarters of the Chicago DCA is located at the residence of its President, 1808 North Cleveland Avenue, Chicago. (U)

Concerning some of the individuals mentioned above, the following is noted:

SAUL ALINSKY

The "Southtown Economist," a Chicago neighborhood newspaper, of August 16, 1959, reported a controversy then raging around the work of SAUL ALINSKY, who was Executive Director of the Industrial Areas Foundation and an officer of the Chicago Back of the Yards Council. In answer to the charge that he was a communist, ALINSKY noted that "Communists were making the most of the depression-tortured community" and that the Back of the Yards Council offered an alternative "which broke the stranglehold the Communists had on the Packinghouse Workers Union." To the charge that ALINSKY had spoken and sponsored the JAMES KUTCHER February, 1956, meeting and in which KUTCHER was described as a "very strong and active Communist," ALINSKY admitted that he was on the list, but added that KUTCHER was "a very active anti-Communist."

ACTION FOR JOBS, Formerly Action Committee for Peace and Friendship

A source advised on January 14, 1963, that the Action Committee for Peace and Friendship was formed on January 6, 1963, to work for world peace and fight prejudice against race and creed throughout the world.

A second source advised on September 18, 1963, that on September 15, 1963, the organization adopted the new name Action for Jobs and new policy of work in the struggle for a higher standard of living for all people. Action for Jobs is a membership organization which does not have a headquarters but does maintain Post Office Box 4363, Chicago, Illinois.

This source advised on May 13, 1964, that Action for Jobs is the "legal outlet" of an "illegal organization," as yet unnamed, in the Chicago area following the MAO Tse-tung Communist Party line of Red China.

AFRICAN AMERICAN HERITAGE ASSOCIATION,
Formerly known as Afro-American Heritage Association

A source advised on May 11, 1964, that the African American Heritage Association (AAHA) with headquarters at 306 East 43rd Street, Chicago, Illinois, was known as the Afro-American Heritage Association until February, 1961. It was founded by ISHMAEL FLORY around 1958 and incorporated in the State of Illinois as a non-profit organization. It was founded ostensibly for the purpose of teaching African history and culture to American Negroes. AAHA is strongly influenced by the Communist Party (CP) of Illinois. It is represented by both communist and non-communist members, and some people with strong nationalistic tendencies. This organization reflects CP policy on some issues and opposes CP policy on others; for example, the CP rejects the concept of Afro-American as a reference term to the American Negro and rejects aspects of nationalism, both of which are reflected in the AAHA program. FLORY is a member of the Negro Commission, CP of Illinois, and theoretically under the discipline of the CP. He is the guiding force in AAHA and controls policy and decisions in AAHA.

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, Chairman, CP of Illinois, in May, 1964, indicated that AAHA has tremendous potential; that there has been no "red-baiting" in its program or its membership; that the CP should organize a concentrated drive to make AAHA a mass organization and try to build a core so that it could expand its facilities. He proposed a goal of $10,000 combined with a membership drive to begin in the fall of 1964. FLORY concurred with LIGHTFOOT and believed that with the support of the CP, AAHA could play an outstanding role. &(U)

A second source advised on May 11, 1964, that in 1962, the south side area of the CP of Illinois worked with FLORY to organize AAHA chapters under the leadership of CP members. The aims of this program included the reactivation of ex-CP members and recruiting of new CP members. The program was shortlived and became defunct in 1963. However, the CP has currently been using AAHA headquarters for CP meetings. Many south side CP members are members of AAHA and are active in AAHA affairs. South side CP groups have been working closely with AAHA, especially on Negro matters.

AMERICAN FORUM FOR SOCIALIST EDUCATION,
Also known as American Forum

According to an article appearing in the May 13, 1957, issue of the "Daily Worker," page 1, column 2, A.J. MUSTE, "well known pacifist," announced the formation of the American Forum For Socialist Education (AFSE). According to this article, the American Forum seeks to promote "study and serious untrammeled political discussions among all elements that think of themselves as related to historic socialist and labor traditions, values, and objectives...however deep and bitter their differences may have been." The article reflects that among other purposes, the AFSE seeks to call attention to the various publications of the groups whose people engage in discussion; to publish bulletins or pamphlets; to organize regional and national conferences; contribute to the building of new morale and ethic, a spirit of fair play, labor militancy, determination and hope among the progressive and radical forces in this country.

The "Daily Worker" is an East Coast communist daily newspaper which suspended operations on January 13, 1958.

On May 24, 1960, [redacted] Chairman, AFSE, Chicago, Illinois, was interviewed under appropriate pretext by an agent of the FBI. [redacted] stated the Chicago AFSE is not guided or directed by the New York group but has been guided by the precepts of that group. b6 b7C [redacted] stated that the AFSE is a broad forum which includes members from various "liberal groups" on its executive committee, including such persons as FRED FINE and JACK SPIEGEL.

On May 23, 1961, and February 14, 1962, [redacted] was again contacted under pretext and advised the AFSE continues to hold public meetings at various times in Chicago, and has no official headquarters in Chicago.

A source, who is familiar with AFSE activities in Chicago, advised on June 21, 1961, that there have been no activities held by the AFSE since November, 1961, that no activities are planned for the immediate future and that there has been no formal dissolution of the AFSE.

According to a second source, FRED FINE is a former member of the National Committee, Communist Party, USA (CP) who resigned in October, 1958, from the CP because of policy differences. (U)

According to a third source, JACK SPIEGEL was a member of a shoe workers group in the Johnstone Section, CP of Illinois, until the latter part of 1955, at which time he officially dropped out of the Party because he had signed a non-communist affidavit with the National Labor Relations Board.

AMERICAN SOCIALIST CLUBS, formerly known as the Socialist Union of America

A source on November 8, 1954, advised the Socialist Union of America (SUA) was formed by a minority group which broke away from the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) primarily because the minority group believed the SWP should enter the Communist Party (CP) and other left-wing groups with the intention of swinging those groups "right or left," thereby making a revolution possible in a shorter time. The SUA was formerly organized at the Midwest Founding Conference held November 21, 1953, at Detroit, Michigan.

A second source on May 4, 1959, advised that during a conference of the SUA held in Chicago, Illinois, on June 1 and 2, 1957, the SUA was dissolved and the American Socialist Clubs (ASC) was organized as its successor.

The conference adopted a statement of purpose indicating its objectives were the education and organization of new socialist forces to prepare the way for building a new movement of democratic socialism in the United States and to support its monthly magazine, the "American Socialist" (AS), as a prime force in such education.

A third source advised on November 24, 1959, that at an ASC meeting held in Detroit, Michigan, in November, 1959, it was decided to abolish the ASC and discontinue publishing the AS.

A fourth source advised on January 5, 1960, that the office of the ASC located at 857 Broadway, New York 3, New York, was closed as of December 3, 1959.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

CHICAGO COMMITTEE TO DEFEND THE BILL OF RIGHTS

The Chicago Committee to Defend the Bill of Rights (CCDBR) maintains headquarters in Suite 424, 431 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois.

A source advised in July, 1960, that RICHARD CRILEY, then a member of the Civil Liberties Commission, Communist Party (CP) of Illinois, met with key leaders of the CP of Illinois and discussed with them the fact that the climate in the United States on civil liberties and civil rights issues had changed to the extent that it was now possible to proceed to form a new organization with broad mass support. By doing so, CRILEY believed that people who would not associate themselves with an organization of narrow scope would join a civil liberties and civil rights organization built around a broader issue such as the abolishment of the House Committee on Un-American Activities (HCUA). The CP leaders, after receiving assurance from CRILEY that any new organization that might evolve would protect the Party interests, authorized CRILEY to proceed with his plan to form a broader organization. (U)

A second source advised on October 31, 1960, that a new organization known as the Chicago Committee to Defend the Bill of Rights was formally launched in Chicago at a meeting on October 26, 1960. The stated primary purpose of the new organization was to seek the abolition of the HCUA, and RICHARD CRILEY was named as its Executive Secretary, after having been the guiding force in arranging the October 26, 1960, meeting. (U)

The first source in October, 1960, advised that CRILEY again attended a meeting of the Illinois District CP leadership on October 28, 1960, at which time he reported on the organizational meeting of the CCDBR. CRILEY stated the immediate purpose of his organization is to obtain mass support to abolish the HCUA, but the new Committee purposes will also include defense of Smith Act and Taft-Hartley victims. He said there will be no formal affiliation with any national organization of similar purpose; however, the CCDBR, according to CRILEY, will consult and have liaison with national organizations having the same purpose. According to the source, the CP leadership agreed with the general direction of the CCDBR as outlined by CRILEY. (U)

A third source advised on May 11, 1964, that the CCDBR continues to adhere to the same aims and purposes, with RICHARD CRILEY as Executive Director; however, its Board of Directors has been expanded to include additional members of the clergy, educators and labor representatives, not known to be CP members.

CHICAGO COUNCIL OF AMERICAN-SOVIET FRIENDSHIP

EDWIN GORDON FOX, 7147 Jeffrey Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, (now deceased) made available in January, 1954, the "First Annual Report CCASF," an undated publication which stated that the Chicago Council of American-Soviet Friendship (CCASF) was incorporated in July, 1943. This document stated, "The Council's affiliation with the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship (NCASF) was validated August 11, (1943). The present name was adopted to conform to standard national practice. It should be noted, however, that the Chicago Council is entirely autonomous; the government of its affairs rests exclusively in the hands of its Chicago Executive Board."

A source advised on May 8, 1964, that the CCASF remains affiliated with the NCASF for the purpose of implementing its stated aims of peaceful coexistence and friendship with the USSR but continues to consider itself autonomous in the government of its affairs and program for achieving these aims. Although the CCASF considers itself autonomous in this regard, the leaders of the CCASF are frequently in contact with and its program closely follows that of the NCASF.

This source stated that the CCASF plans to vacate its offices at 32 West Randolph Street, Chicago, during June, 1964, and obtain desk space at another location, not yet determined. There is a lack of leadership in the organization at this time, and some question exists as to the future of the organization.

The NCASF has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

CHICAGO SCHOOL OF SOCIAL SCIENCE (U)

A source advised on May 7, 1962, that the Chicago School of Social Science (CSSS), located at 333 West North Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, was organized by the Communist Party (CP) of Illinois Educational Commission in late 1960. A School Committee consisting of eight CP members of the Educational Commission was formed to conduct the day-to-day activities of the School. At that time, [redacted] CP of Illinois, had over-all responsibility in forming policy of the operation of the School. b6 b7C

During the summer of 1961, the Educational Commission and School Committee of the CP of Illinois were dissolved as a result of the Supreme Court decision on the Internal Security Act of 1950. Since that time, LOU DISKIN, member, CP of Illinois, and leadership representative of the West Side area, CP of Illinois, and [redacted] have been primarily responsible for the operation of the CSSS.

The aims of the school to instruct communists in Marxism-Leninism and to provide a basis of contemporary subjects which would attract non-communists had not changed, and classes were taught by members of the CP of Illinois.

A second source advised on July 11, 1963, that at a CP State Board meeting, CP of Illinois, held in Chicago, it was decided to give up the rental space of the CSSS at 333 West North Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Classes are not being scheduled for the future. As of the present and near future, the CSSS will not be in operation. (U)

On May 11, 1964, [redacted] Secretary, McKey and Poague, 111 West Washington Street, Chicago, Illinois, rental agents of the building located at 192 North Clark Street, Chicago, advised that the Chicago Sobell Committee (CSC) rents Room 714, 192 North Clark Street, Chicago, Illinois. b6 b7C

A source advised on April 19, 1962, that the CSC, which is also known as the Chicago Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell and was formerly known as Chicago Rosenberg-Sobell Committee and Chicago Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case, is a small group of volunteers who do Sobell fund raising and programming in the Chicago area. The Chicago Committee, since its inception in 1952, has been an affiliate of the Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell, which is also known as the National Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell and was formerly known as the National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case, with headquarters in New York.

A second source advised on May 8, 1964, that [redacted] b6 b7C [redacted] appeared to be the guiding force behind this Committee and is assisted by [redacted] his wife.

A third source advised on May 7, 1964, that the CSC maintains a bank account at the Amalgamated Trust and Savings Bank, 111 South Dearborn, Chicago, Illinois, and that [redacted] b6 b7C [redacted] is listed in this bank account as the Secretary of the CSC.

The above information cannot be made public except in the usual proceedings following issuance of a subpoena duces tecum.

The files of the Special Committee on Un-American Activities, House of Representatives, as reviewed in August, 1943, reflected that the names of [redacted] appear as signers of the Communist Party (CP) Election Petition submitted to the State of Illinois in 1940.

A fourth source in 1943 advised that [redacted] as of 1943 was a member of the CP.

"The Jewish Fraternalist" dated October, 1947, self identified as the official publication of the Jewish People's Fraternal Order (JPFO) of the International Workers Order (IWO), on page 6, contained an article which reflected that the [redacted] Division (ELD) of the JPFO was to hold its first national convention in New York City on November 15 and 16, 1947, after having been first established at a National Women's Conference called three years previously by the JPFO.

The "Morning Freiheit" on January 25, 1951, contained a report of the National Convention of the ELD of the JPFO which took place in New York City on January 20 and 21, 1951. At this convention it was noted that the ELD changed its name to [redacted] Federation of Jewish Women's Clubs (ELF) and adopted a new constitution.

The source stated that the ELF claims to be for peace and interested in protecting the rights of the foreign born. It is against the BEN GURION Government of Israel, bomb testing, anti-Semitism, Negro discrimination, and the rearmament of West Germany.

The source related that the ELF renders support to and receives support from the "Morning Freiheit" and other Jewish progressive organizations.

The source also stated that the ELF is recognized by the CP, USA, as an important progressive national organization of women.

The address of the national office of the ELF is 160 Fifth Avenue, Room 911, New York City.

FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE,
CHICAGO CHAPTER

A source advised in October, 1960, that the Chicago Chapter of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee (FPCC) was formed during the summer of 1960 at Chicago, Illinois, under the direct guidance and leadership of RICHARD CRILEY, a member of the State Committee, Communist Party (CP) of Illinois.

A second source in August, 1960, furnished a leaflet entitled, "What Is Really Happening in Cuba?" distributed by the FPCC in Chicago. The aims and purposes of the FPCC as set forth in this leaflet include the following: "To disseminate the truth, to combat untruth; to publish and distribute factual information which the United States mass media suppresses. In general, to contribute to foundations for peace, friendship, and understanding between ourselves and the Cuban people." The leaflet reflects the FPCC plans to accomplish these aims: "By mailing of informational bulletins; organizing public meetings and forums; providing speakers, movies, and slides for meetings of interested organizations, placing ads in newspapers; to visit Cuba and see for themselves what conditions really are."

A third source advised on March 9, 1964, that there has been no activity of the FPCC in Chicago since late November, 1963, and for all intents and purposes the organization is defunct.

The mailing address for the FPCC, Chicago Chapter, is Post Office Box 4474, Chicago 80, Illinois.

FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE

The April 6, 1960, edition of "The New York Times" newspaper contained a full-page advertisement captioned "What Is Really Happening in Cuba," placed by the Fair Play for Cuba Committee (FPCC). This advertisement announced the formation of the FPCC in New York City and declared the FPCC intended to promulgate "the truth about revolutionary Cuba" to neutralize the distorted American press.

"The New York Times" edition of January 11, 1961, reported that at a hearing conducted before the United States Senate Internal Security Subcommittee on January 10, 1961, [redacted] identified himself and [redacted] as organizers of the FPCC. He also testified he and [redacted] obtained funds from the Cuban Government which were applied toward the cost of the aforementioned advertisement. b6 b7C

On May 16, 1963, a source advised that during the first two years of the FPCC's existence there was a struggle between Communist Party (CP) and Socialist Workers Party (SWP) elements to exert their power within the FPCC and thereby influence FPCC policy. This source added that during the past year there had been a successful effort by FPCC leadership to minimize the role of these and other organizations in the FPCC so that their influence as of May, 1963, was negligible.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

On May 20, 1963, a second source advised that [redacted] FPCC National Office Director, was then formulating FPCC policy and had indicated that he had no intention of permitting FPCC policy to be determined by any other organization. This source stated that LEE believed that the FPCC should advocate resumption of diplomatic relations between Cuba and the United States and should support the right of Cubans to manage their revolution without interference from other nations. LEE did not advocate supporting the Cuban revolution per se. b6 b7C

APPENDIX

The November 23, 1963, edition of "The New York Times" reported that Senator THOMAS J. DODD of Connecticut had called FPCC "the chief public relations instrument of the Castro network in the United States." It is to be noted that Senator DODD was a member of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee which twice conducted hearings on the FPCC.

The December 27, 1963, edition of "The New York World Telegram and Sun" newspaper stated that the pro-CASTRO FPCC was seeking to go out of business and that its prime activity during its lifetime had been sponsorship of pro-CASTRO street rallies and mass picket lines, and the direction of an active propaganda mill highlighting illegal travel-to-Cuba campaigns. Its comparatively brief span of life was attributed to mounting anti-CASTRO American public opinion, the 1962 Congressional hearings which disclosed FPCC financing by CASTRO's United Nations Delegation, and ultimately, the bad publicity which the FPCC received from disclosure of activities on its behalf by suspected presidential assassin LEE H. OSWALD.

On February 6, 1964, the previously mentioned second source advised that [redacted] had recently remarked that the FPCC was dead and that there were no plans to organize another similar organization. b6 b7C

On April 13, 1964, a third source advised that there had not been any FPCC activity in many months and that the FPCC had been dissolved.

INDEPENDENT SOCIALIST LEAGUE,
Formerly Workers Party

The May 4, 1942, issue of "Labor Action," then an official publication of the Workers Party (WP), carried an article which reflected that the WP was formed in April, 1940, as a result of a split within the leadership of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP). The article stated that when the Hitler-Stalin Pact was signed and Poland invaded, the minority group within the SWP, in proclaiming the formation of the WP, condemned the pact as being imperialistic in nature and stated it would not support either imperialist camp.

The April 25, 1949, issue of "Labor Action" contained an account of the Fifth National Convention of the WP, held March 24-27, 1949, in New York City, which reflected the change of name of the organization from the WP to the Independent Socialist League (ISL) in order to emphasize the character of the group as a propaganda group for the spreading of socialist ideas and not as a full-fledged political party.

The July 14, 1958, issue of "Labor Action," an official publication of the ISL, contained an article captioned "The ISL Program in Brief." The article indicated: "The ISL stands for socialist democracy and against the two systems of exploitation which now divide the world: capitalism and Stalinism. The ISL, as a Marxist movement, looks to the working class and its ever-present struggle as the basic progressive force in society. The ISL is organized to spread the ideas of socialism in the labor movement and among all other sections of the people. There can be no lasting and genuine democracy without socialism and there can be no socialism without democracy."

The September 22, 1958, issue of "Labor Action" contained an undated statement signed by the Political Committee of the ISL which indicated that the ISL had been dissolved. The statement urged former ISL members to join the Socialist Party-Social Democratic Federation (SP-SDF).

A source advised on October 10, 1958, that the Chicago Branch of the ISL, which was an affiliate of the national organization, was dissolved in September, 1958, and all active members joined the SP-SDF on October 9, 1958.

The SWP has been designatedpursuant to Executive Order 10450.

JEWISH CULTURAL CLUBS OF CHICAGO

A source advised on December 7, 1961, that the Jewish Cultural Clubs of Chicago (JCCC) which initially rented space at 177 North State Street, Chicago, Illinois, during 1956, moved to 3300-3314 West Lawrence Avenue, Chicago, on December 1, 1961.

A second source advised on May 12, 1964, that the JCCC is not responsible to any other organization of a similar character. It pays no dues or receives directives from a national office. The JCCC does request speakers and suggestions for programs from their counterparts in other midwestern cities and especially New York City. A loose-knit coordinating committee in the midwest operates with delegates from the larger midwestern cities.

This source advised on May 12, 1964, that the JCCC has nine affiliated clubs. The membership of the club includes many former members of the Jewish People's Fraternal Order-International Workers Order (JPFO) (IWO).

This source on October 25, 1961, made available a copy of the Perspectives and Proposals presented at the annual JCCC conference held October 22, 1961. The aims and purposes set out in the Perspectives and Proposals are as follows:

As a progressive Jewish organization, it is our task to be alert and to react to all matters concerning the welfare of our people and our country. The question of peace, civil rights and growing anti-Semitism, the rising pro-Nazi tendencies and organizations...are of paramount importance to our organization. In presenting our program, we urge active support and cooperation with peace movements against the threat of a third nuclear war; an all-out campaign to help expose and eradicate organized anti-Semitic groups; to study bills pertaining to the health, security and welfare of our senior citizens; to intensify our cultural activities and to support Jewish children's schools as a means of perpetuating this heritage. On May 12, 1964, this source advised that the aims and purposes of the JCCC continue to be the same.

This source advised that as of May 12, 1964, [redacted] was President of the JCCC and SAM CHEIFETZ was Executive Secretary. b6 b7C

A third source advised in March, 1962, that [redacted] was one of three Communist Party (CP) members who are attorneys in the City of Chicago.

The same source advised on March 26, 1964, that SAM CHEIFETZ was then a member of the Illinois CP.

The JPFO and IWO have been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

KUTCHER MEETING COMMITTEE, CHICAGO

A source advised on June 26, 1957 that the Kutcher Meeting Committee was initiated by the Chicago Branch Socialist Workers Party (SWP) solely to promote the February 10, 1956, JAMES KUTCHER meeting. The committee was formed because it was believed by the Chicago SWP Branch that a greater attendance could be had at the meeting if the sponsors were prominent individuals who were "liberals" rather than if the meeting was held under the direct sponsorship of the SWP. According to the source, this committee ceased to exist immediately after the February 10, 1956, meeting.

KUTCHER in his book, "The Legless Veteran", published in August, 1953, states that he was dismissed from government employment because of SWP membership.

The Midwest Committee for Protection of Foreign Born (MCPFB) since the latter part of March, 1962, has maintained an office in Room 422-424, Manhattan Building, 431 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois.

On July 16, 1947, [redacted] a member of the Communist Party (CP) from 1944 to about 1948, advised that the MCPFB was founded at a conference held in Chicago, Illinois, on May 25, 1947, and the MCPFB was to operate as the midwest organization of the American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born. (ACPFB). b6 b7C

On May 5, 1955, a source advised that in a "Statement of Principles" issued in April, 1955, by the MCPFB, it was noted that "The purpose of the Midwest Committee shall be to seek to perpetuate for the foreign born the fundamental concepts of equality, regardless of race, color, creed, nationality, political belief or place of birth, and to preserve the basic ideals of liberty and hospitality which serve as the guarantees of democracy for all Americans."

A second source as of May 15, 1964, advised that the MCPFB continued to function as the midwest organization of the ACPFB and still adhered to its "Statement of Principles" last published in 1955.

The ACPFB has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

MODERN TEENS

A source advised on August 1, 1960, that the Modern Teens (MT) started approximately January, 1957, as an outgrowth of a youth club which was known as the CAPS, a Club Against Prejudice, which became active in the Chicago area just after the Labor Youth League (LYL) disbanded.

On April 25, 1960, a second source advised that in April, 1960, [redacted] Chairman of the Youth Commission, Communist Party (CP) of Illinois, and a member of the National Committee, CPUSA, described the MT as a discussion group of socialist-minded youth, which is sponsored by the CP of Illinois, and a point of concentration for the future formation of a national Marxist youth organization. b6 b7C

According to a third source in May, 1961, the MT are under the guidance and sponsorship of the CP of Illinois, and it is the responsibility of the adult advisor to help obtain speakers for the group who will influence their political thinking. It is also the duty of this adult advisor to consider certain members of the MT for membership in the CP when they have reached their 18th birthday. b6 b7C

A fourth source advised in May, 1964, that [redacted] is the adult advisor of the MT. This source advised that the MT is a group of young people who meet in the homes of its members once a month during the school months to discuss current events and gather for social functions.

A fifth source advised that as of May, 1962, [redacted] was a member of the Education Commission of the Illinois CP. b6 b7C MUSLIM MOSQUE, INC.

The March 13, 1964 edition of "The New York Times", a daily newspaper published in New York, New York, contained an article on page 20 which indicated that MALCOLM X (LITTLE), former national official of the Nation of Islam (NOI) and Minister of NOI Mosque No. 7, New York, who broke with the NOI on March 8, 1964, publicly announced in New York City on March 12, 1964, that he had formed the Muslim Mosque, Inc. (MMI). The MMI, according to the article, would be a broadly based, politically oriented black nationalist movement for Negroes only, financed by voluntary contributions. In this public statement MALCOLM X urged Negroes to abandon the doctrine of non-violence when it is necessary to defend themselves in the civil rights struggle, and he also suggested that Negroes form rifle clubs to protect their lives and property in times of emergencies in areas where the government is unable or unwilling to protect them.

Incorporation papers of the MMI filed on March 16, 1964, the Business Section, Clerk of Courts, New York County, New York, New York, reflect that the MMI was incorporated under the Religious Corporation Law of the State of New York to work for the imparting of the Islamic Faith and Islamic Religion in accordance with "accepted Islamic principles". The principal place of worship to be located in the Borough of Manhattan, New York, New York.

During an appearance over KYW - Television, Cleveland, Ohio, on April 7, 1964, MALCOLM X stated that the MMI does not stand for integration but for complete freedom, justice, and equality for Negroes. He stated that Islam was the religious philosophy of the MMI, while the political, economic and social philosophy was black nationalism.

On May 15, 1964, a confidential source advised that the headquarters of the MMI are located in Suite 128, Hotel Theresa, 2090 Seventh Avenue, New York City, where they were established on March 16, 1964.

NATION OF ISLAM, Formerly Referred to as the Muslim Cult of Islam, Aka. Muhammad's Temples of Islam

In January, 1957, a source advised ELIJAH MUHAMMAD has described his organization on a nationwide basis as the "Nation of Islam" and "Muhammad's Temples of Islam."

On May 8, 1964, a second source advised ELIJAH MUHAMMAD is the national leader of the Nation of Islam (NOI); Muhammad's Temple of Islam No. 2, 5335 South Greenwood Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, is the national headquarters of the NOI; and in mid-1960 MUHAMMAD and other NOI officials, when referring to MUHAMMAD's organization on a nationwide basis, commenced using either "Mosque" or "Temple" when mentioning one of "Muhammad's Temples of Islam."

The NOI is an all-Negro organization which was originally organized in 1930 in Detroit, Michigan. MUHAMMAD claims to have been selected by Allah, the Supreme Being, to lead the so-called Negro race out of slavery in the wilderness of North America by establishing an independent black nation in the United States. Members following MUHAMMAD's teachings and his interpretation of the "Koran" believe there is no such thing as a Negro; that the so-called Negroes are slaves of the white race, referred to as "white devils," in the United States; and that the white race, because of its exploitation of the so-called Negroes, must and will be destroyed in the approaching "War of Armageddon."

In the past, officials and members of the NOI, including MUHAMMAD, have refused to register under the provisions of the Selective Service Acts and have declared that members owe no allegiance to the United States.

On May 5, 1958, the first source advised MUHAMMAD had, upon advice of legal counsel, tempered his personal statements and instructions to his ministers concerning the principles of his organization in order to avoid possible prosecution by the United States Government; however, he did not indicate any fundamental changes in the teachings of his organization.

On May 7, 1964, a third source advised MUHAMMAD had, early in July, 1958, decided to de-emphasize the religious aspects of the teachings of Islam and to stress the economic benefits to be derived by those Negroes who joined the NOI. This policy change, according to MUHAMMAD, would help him acquire additional followers and create more interest in his programs.

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications" issued December 1, 1961, by the Committee on Un-American Activities, U.S. House of Representatives, page 115, contains the following citation regarding the National Committee to Abolish the Un-American Activities Committee. (NCAUAC).

"Cited as a 'new organization' set up in the Summer of 1960 to lead and direct the Communist Party's 'Operation Abolition' campaign. Seven of the national leaders of this group have been identified as Communists."

(Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 1278 on the Truth About the Film "Operation Abolition," Part 1, October 3, 1961, p. 5.)

A source has advised that the NCAUAC changed its name on March 3, 1962, to include the word "House" in its name, thereby becoming known as the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee (NCAHUAC). PROGRESSIVE LABOR MOVEMENT, Aka.
Progressive Labor Party,
"Progressive Labor"

A source advised on July 2, 1962, that Progressive Labor Groups held a conference in New York City on July 1, 1962, where MILTON ROSEN acted as chairman. He read a statement at this conference setting forth their intention to form a new Marxist-Leninist party in the United States. ROSEN stated that a more formal organization was necessary, one which would provide a framework for all who wanted to join in a united effort to build an American vanguard. The forces of this new organization are to consolidate all existing forces, and organize additional forces, expand and improve political activities, win additional forces to an outlook of Marxism-Leninism and increase the open advocacy of socialism, develop a significant Marxist-Leninist program for the new party, and organize a collective organization of leaders and members.

"The Worker," an east coast communist newspaper, issue of January 7, 1962, page ten, column three, reported the expulsion of MILTON ROSEN, former Labor Secretary of the New York State Communist Party, USA.

A second and third source advised in February, 1963, that this new Marxist-Leninist party had not yet been organized on a formal basis, but that Progressive Labor groups had been formed in several localities in line with the proposals of MILTON ROSEN. The sources advised as of February, 1963, that the leaders of this group were referring to it as the Progressive Labor Movement.

A fourth source advised on March 15, 1964, that the Progressive Labor Movement follows, supports and is politically orientated toward the Communist Party line of Red China rather than that of the Soviet Union.

A fifth source advised on March 28, 1964, that at a Progressive Labor Movement meeting held in New York City on that date, it was announced that the Progressive Labor Movement would try to hold a national convention in New York City in September, 1964, to organize the Progressive Labor Movement on a more formal basis into a Progressive Labor Party.

The fifth source also advised that the Progressive Labor Movement publishes a monthly magazine called "Progressive Labor" and also a quarterly theoretical publication called the "Marxist-Leninist Quarterly." The source also advised that starting June 1, 1964, the Progressive Labor Movement would start publishing a weekly newspaper in New York City.

The March, 1964, issue of "Progressive Labor" sets forth that it is published monthly by the Progressive Labor Company, General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn 1, New York.

On May 14, 1963, the State Board of the Communist Party (CP) of Illinois voted to underwrite expenses for a meeting of Chicago area youth for the purpose of organizing a collective among youth and to begin to work for the building of a new PYOC affiliate in Chicago.

A second source advised on August 13, 1963, that on August 11, 1963, a group of students and working class youth met at a Chicago hotel to form a city-wide Marxist youth organization, which club voted to affiliate with the PYOC and adopted the name Chicago Call for Youth.

On March 2, 1964, this source advised that CALL had maintained a clubhouse at 333 West North Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, where membership meetings and social affairs were held; however, as a result of a brawl which occurred at a CALL party January 4, 1964, the organization was evicted and as of March, 1964, was meeting at the residences of various members.

On February 9, 1961, a source advised that the Progressive Youth Organizing Committee (PYOC) was established at a national socialist-oriented youth conference held in Chicago, Illinois, December 30, 1960, through January 1, 1961. This conference was the result of a mandate issued by the National Executive Committee, Communist Party, USA, calling for a youth conference to establish an organizing committee whose objective would be to set up a national socialist-oriented youth organization. The conference scheduled a convention to be held within a year to found a new national socialist-oriented youth organization.

On June 18, 1962, AARON COHEN, a member of the Communist Party (CP) from 1947 to 1957 and from December, 1961, to October, 1963, advised it was reported at the meeting of the National Council of the PYOC held New York, New York, June 16 and 17, 1962, that although it had been planned to form a Marxist-oriented youth organization by the Fall of 1962, it would not be possible to form such an organization for the next few years.

"1. Found to be 'a new Communist splinter group.' The Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party 'also known as the POC * * * was formed in August 1958 by a number of Communist Party members who were dissatisfied with the trends and policies of the party and, while within it, had referred to themselves as the Marxist-Leninist Caucus.'

" 'The leaders and participants in the Provisional Organizing Committee group had been expelled from the Communist Party on the technical charge of 'disruptive, factional, anti-party activities.'

" 'The POC group is composed largely of extreme left-wing elements from the Communist Party. Throughout the party's history, there have been contending right- and left-wing factions which, in periods of turmoil such as the party has gone through in the recent past, have fought for control. The POC elements lost out in this recent struggle within the U.S. party * * *.'

" 'The one fact that is completely clear today is that the POC group is made up of hard-core, dedicated, and extremist Communists who, despite their present differences with the Communist Party leadership, are intent upon doing all within their power to speed the achievement of the goals of international communism.'

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE EDUCATIONAL FUND, INC.

"The Southern Patriot," a monthly publication, shows that it is published by the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc. (SCEF).

"The Southern Patriot" was cited as an "organ" of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare (SCHW) by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 592, on the SCHW, June 12, 1947.

The SCHW was cited as a communist front by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 592, June 16, 1947.

An amendment to the charter of the SCHW changed the name of that organization to the SCEF, and listed its purpose as being to improve the educational and cultural standards of the Southern people in accordance with the highest American democratic institutions, traditions, and ideals. The amendment was dated April 26, 1946.

A source, who is familiar with some phases of Communist Party (CP) activity in the New Orleans area, advised on May 25, 1962, that during the time the SCHW was in existence, CP members were members of and worked actively in the SCHW. However, since the formation of the SCEF, rank and file CP members have not been encouraged to work in the SCEF. The source stated that the SCEF is a progressive, liberal organization, which he considers a CP front organization because it has gone along with the CP on certain issues, particularly on the racial question, and through the years certain CP members in the New Orleans area have been assigned to work in the organization to further CP principles.

On May 25, 1962, the source advised that in the past he has considered JAMES DOMBROWSKI, the Executive Director of the SCEF, to be a communist, if not an actual CP member, because he followed communist principles.

The source also advised on May 25, 1962, that many people who are officials and members of the SCEF, while liberal in their views, are by no means communists.

Another source advised on March 2,1961,that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, a CP functionary, stated at a meeting of the CP in Baltimore, Maryland, on February 25, 1961, that the CP is not connected with any progressive movement but indirectly they do have some influence in the SCEF.

The CFC was then composed of three local branches, the North Side, the South Side and the West Side branches and was the Chicago affiliate of the United States Festival Committee (USFC). The North Side and West Side Committees later merged and became known as the Northwest Chicago Festival Committee. The purpose of the CFC was to publicize and encourage participation in the Eighth World Youth Festival which was to be held in Helsinki, Finland, July 27 - August 5, 1962, and to organize a delegation to the Festival.

This source also advised on October 24, 1961, that [redacted] was one of the participants of the organizing conference of the CFC. He was also in attendance at the initiating conference of the USFC held in Chicago on October 14-15, 1961. b6 b7C

A second source advised on April 18, 1962, that [redacted] is the Youth Organizer of the Communist Party (CP) of Illinois and that during April, 1962, he was actively engaged in obtaining delegates to attend the Festival from CP youth members in the Chicago area.

A third source advised on March 16, 1962, that the CFC did not maintain a headquarters in the Chicago area and it was not a membership organization. It welcomed all those who wished to attend the Eighth World Youth Festival. This source advised on January 6, 1963, that pursuant to the constitution of the CFC, the organization dissolved November 1, 1962; however, a new autonomic group was formed by the Northwest Chicago Festival Committee using the constitution of the Northwest Chicago Festival Committee but dedicating its energies to work for world peace and fight prejudice against race and creed throughout the world. This new organization adopted the name Action Committee for Peace and Friendship and was formed at a meeting held January 6, 1963.

The third 1961 issue of "World Youth," a publication of the World Federation of Democratic Youth (WFDY), reported that the first meeting of the International Preparatory Committee (IPC) took place at Helsinki, Finland, on February 20-22, 1961, to prepare for the Eighth World Youth Festival to be held in Helsinki in 1962. At the meeting, the IPC elected a permanent commission composed of representatives of a number of countries including Canada, the United States, as well as representatives of WFDY and the International Union of Students (IUS).

The IUS with headquarters in Prague, Czechoslovakia, and the WFDY with headquarters in Budapest, Hungary, are cited as communist organizations in the "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications" dated December 1, 1961, published by the Committee on Un-American Activities, U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., pages 91 and 177.

A source advised that in April, 1961, DANNY RUBIN, National Youth Director, Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), advised that CP districts should concentrate on getting broad groups to sponsor the United States Festival Committee (USFC).

A pamphlet issued by the USFC described the program for the Festival and advised that the USFC was organized by students and youth leaders at a founding conference at Chicago, Illinois, October 15, 1961, to publicize and encourage participation in the Helsinki Festival. The USFC had been recognized by the IPC, the sponsoring body of the Festival, as the United States Committee to administer United States participation in the Festival.

WASHINGTON PARK FORUM, Aka.
Washington Park Open Forum

A source advised on June 11, 1954, that the Washington Park Forum (WPF) started in the 1930s as a spontaneous group of unemployed persons interested in discussing current events. In the late 1930s, the Communist Party (CP) penetrated and took over the WPF. From 1936 to 1940, the CP penetration was so great that it secured and maintained control of the WPF at that time.

A second source advised in May, 1957, that the Chairman of the CP of Illinois expressed the need for the CP to regain control of the WPF which had recently been taken over by the Trotskyites.

A third source advised on January 16, 1963, that the "purpose and objectives" set forth in the WPF constitution include: "To discuss and educate on the issues of the day through presentation of speakers on different subjects, with free discussion by people in attendance at the forum; to aid in the realization of the Declaration of Independence,...to aid civil liberties and charitable organizations interested in expanding freedom..."

A fourth source advised on April 13, 1964, that the CP of Illinois in the past had been active in WPF using it as a platform to implement its program; however, there was no clear cut control of the WPF by the CP or any other organization. During the past year the only apparent CP interest in the WPF was in the nature of a few speeches at WPF meetings by individuals connected with the CP.

A fifth source advised on April 15, 1964, that currently the CP of Illinois does not consider the WPF to be one of the main mass organizations in the Negro community. Although some WPF leaders were formerly CP members, they were not currently active in the CP and did not currently function with the CP. The CP of Illinois currently had no control over the policies of the WPF and had no program directed toward the WPF. As of April, 1964, the CP of Illinois policy would be to continue to furnish speakers for appearances at WPF meetings if invited.

A source has advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party (CP), including National Functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates to this meeting were cautioned against the germ of anti-Soviet and anti-CP ideologies. These delegates were also told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second conference of over 20 persons met in Chicago on December 28-29, 1963, for the purpose of initiating a "call" to the new youth organization and planning for a founding convention to be held in June, 1964.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention. The aims of this organization, as set forth in the preamble to the constitution, are, "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful coexistence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that these solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anti-communism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people. As young people in the forces struggling for democracy, we shall actively strive to defeat these reactionary and neo-fascist elements and to achieve complete freedom and democracy for all Americans, thus enabling each individual to freely choose and build the society he would wish to live in. Through these struggles we feel the American people will realize the viability of the socialist alternatives."

The constitution further states that this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals, or if five or more people so desire a chapter can be formed which shall in turn be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

The second source has also advised that at the founding convention it was voted that the organization should be temporarily headquartered in San Francisco, California, although no specific physical location was decided upon. This same source advised on June 29, 1964, that the temporary headquarters of this organization is 1007 McAllister Street, San Francisco, which is the headquarters of the W.E.B. DuBois Club of San Francisco.

Both sources have advised that at the founding convention two officers were elected:

PHILIP CHAPIN DAVIS, President, and
CARL ELLENGER BLOICE, Publications Chairman.

A third source has advised that on October 26, 1962, PHILIP DAVIS attended a CP recruiting class held at 1579 Scenic Avenue, Berkeley, California.

A fourth source has advised that CARL BLOICE, reporter for the "People's World" newspaper, was, on April 3, 1964, elected to the newly organized San Francisco County Committee of the CP.

The "People's World" is a West Coast communist newspaper published weekly in San Francisco, California.

YOUNG SOCIALIST ALLIANCE-CHICAGO,
Aka. Young Socialist Supporters, University Young Socialists

A source advised in late November, 1959, that the Young Socialist Alliance-Chicago (YSA-C), formerly known as Young Socialist Supporters, had its origin in a series of informal discussions held in Chicago prior to June, 1959, among individuals who were close to the Socialist Workers Party (SWP).

The YSA-C as of November, 1959, proclaimed itself to be a city-wide revolutionary youth organization designed to build socialism in America and aimed toward youth on college campuses in the Chicago area and as being independent of all adult groupings.

According to a second source in May, 1964, the YSA-C, also known as the University Young Socialists, was considered the youth group of the Chicago Branch SWP and affiliated with the national organization of the YSA in New York. The YSA-C officers as of May, 1964, were current members or sympathizers of the Chicago SWP.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

YOUNG SOCIALIST ALLIANCE

The May, 1960, issue of the "Young Socialist" (YS), page 1, column 3, disclosed that during April 15-17, 1960, a national organization entitled "The Young Socialist Alliance" (YSA) was established at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. This issue stated that this organization was formed by the nationwide supporter clubs of the publication YS.

The above issue, page 6, set forth the Founding Declaration of YSA. This declaration stated that the YSA recognizes the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) as the only existing political leadership on class struggle principles, and that the supporters of the YS have come into basic political solidarity with the SWP on the principles of revolutionary socialism.

A source advised on May 6, 1964, that the original YSA was an organization formed during October, 1957, in New York City by youth of various left socialist tendencies, particularly members and followers of the SWP. The leaders of this group were the guiding forces in the establishment of the national organization.

The source further advised on May 6, 1964, that the YSA is dominated and controlled on a national basis by the SWP through having SWP members comprise exclusively the National Executive Committee (NEC) and through an official SWP representative at all YSA NEC meetings. The YSA, in reality, is the youth and training section of the SWP and the main source of new SWP members.

The headquarters of the YSA are located in Room 631, 41 Union Square West, New York City.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

I. - COMMUNIST STRATEGY [redacted] (U)

(A) COMMUNIST PARTY, USA

1) Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at national meetings, including expressions by national and other functionaries

A meeting was held on March 9, 1963, at the residence of CONRAD KOMOROWSKI, 2632 Glendale, Detroit, Michigan, to hear Dr. HERBERT APTHEKER speak on "One Hundred Years of Emancipation Proclamation". This affair was sponsored by the William Mc Kie Memorial Library and Educational Center (WMMLEC). Approximately 31 individuals, who paid $1.00 each, attended this affair. (U)

CONRAD KOMOROWSKI stated, "We are here tonight to hear a person who is an authority on Negro History. I know Dr. APTHEKER is very tired because he was speaking all evening to a group of youths at Reverend Cleage's church. I now give you Dr. APTHEKER." (U)

Dr. APTHEKER stated, "Yes, I spoke to a grand bunch of youth today at Reverend Cleage's Church. We got underway about 11:30 a.m. and it lasted until 3:15 p.m. and several school teachers attended. One school teacher brought his whole class and we broke them down into groups of five and all seemed interested in what they were doing. (U)

"My subject tonight is the Emancipation Proclamation and let me say that in these 100 years the Negro people have come a long way. (U)

"Since ABRAHAM LINCOLN freed the slaves 100 years ago there have been a lot of misunderstandings among the races of people. (U)

"I am sure that some of the stands that ABRAHAM LINCOLN took, if he was living today, he would be accused of being a Communist. (U)

"Most of the slaves could not read or write but many of them had what is known today as being leaders that led their people in the right direction. At that time (U)

SECRET (U)

"we had many an Uncle Tom as well as we still have many of them today. But today they are fading away." (U)

"You would really be surprised to know how many of the slaves were treated, and many of them were killed; and after slavery many persons continued to have plantations where they worked these people for practically nothing." (U)

"Many Negroes in the 1800's were fortunate in helping be the driving force to help free their people." (U)

"The Negro has invented many things in which not too many know, and he has always been a law abiding people." (U)

"During World War I, the Negro played an important part in this war. He has always been known to be the last to be hired and the first to be fired, but today, the Negro is educating himself just as any other people are doing." (U)

"There is only one race of people that know where they stand and that is the Negro. He doesn't have to guess." (U)

"Through the help of the progressive organizations, the Negro is asking more and more the rights that were given to him 100 years ago." (U)

"Everywhere one travels, people tell me the question is why do you treat the Negro the way you do. Now if America wants to gain world attention, she must be prepared to answer these questions by doing away with Jim Crow completely and make this a land of the free and home of the brave." (U)

Dr. APTHEKER continued, "The Negro is the most oppressed people and each of you should understand the Negro Question in the U. S. The Negro is doing something for himself but he also needs help from all other people who are willing to help him fight his battle. Our problem will never be solved as long as his is unsolved." (U)

March 18, 1963] (X) (U) [redacted] (U)

Dr. HERBERT APTHEKER recently appeared at Reverend ALBERT B. CLEAGE's church in Detroit, Michigan, where he spoke for approximately 15 minutes. He spoke about various phases of myths concerning the Negro people, such as the myth of the new Negro. APTHEKER stated that in every generation the white people discover there is a new Negro. He told the audience a little about the colonial period and then went into a little of the new; the new sense of confidence, the new relationship of forces here in the world, and a certain sense of contempt the Negro people had now, for "Jim Crow" operators. He said there is much less fear now; there is greater contempt and greater confidence. APTHEKER said that more and more people in the South were finding it impossible to live with their own conscience, knowing as they increasingly do, that racism is a lie. He talked a little about the myth of moderation, of what moderation is and what it is not, why it does not work, and what is wanted is equality.

There were about 120 youngsters from five churches between the ages of 14 and 19. One high school teacher brought 45 students, comprising his whole class. About 15 adults were in charge.

After APTHEKER's talk, the group broke up into five sections. One section discussed job opportunities; another section discussed how they can help the struggle in the South; another section discussed segregation in the North, in education and housing, and what they are to do about it. The African liberation and what it means to the Negro people was discussed by another section. All the children were Negro; they were very articulate, and a good discussion was held for about 1¼ hour. Everybody participated. Each of the five sections had a summarizer, and Reverend CLEAGE called upon them to talk for five minutes. Then the assembly voted that they wanted to have come out of this meeting a city-wide Negro Youth Conference on employment. Reverend CLEAGE took that up, put it to a vote which was practically unanimous; and he promised that through his church, this would be organized on the basis of this group, and felt sure it would come about. (U)

The "Ann Arbor News", a daily newspaper published at Ann Arbor, Michigan, in its March 9, 1963, edition, on Page 11, Section 2, contained an article captioned "Red Editor To Speak on Tuesday".

Instant article disclosed that HERBERT APTHEKER, editor of "Political Affairs", was to deliver a lecture on the subject of "Emancipation Proclamation and Its Meaning In History", on March 12, 1963, on the campus at the University of Michigan (U of M), Ann Arbor, Michigan.

The "Michigan Daily" a U of M campus student newspaper published at Ann Arbor, Michigan, in its March 13, 1963, edition contained an article captioned "Aptheker Cites Risk of Negro Question".

Instant article states in verbatim as follows:

"'The failure of the United States to resolve the Negro question in the 19th Century almost destroyed us and if it fails in the 20th Century we will be destroyed', Herbert Aptheker said yesterday speaking on 'The Emancipation Proclamation Now and 100 Years Ago.'

"Aptheker, editor of Political Affairs magazine, spoke at the University on the invitation of Voice Political party and the Graduate Student Council. Political Affairs is the theoretical organ of the Communist Party in the United States.

"Beginning with an account of the Proclamation's history, Aptheker moved into a discussion of ideas suggested to him by the Proclamation.

"Invalid Assumption

"Despite the fact that it is usually the dissenters and the radicals who are charged with treason, Aptheker said

SECRET (U)

(U)

"he believed the Proclamation clearly showed this to be an invalid assumption. 'Exploitative systems when challenged by social developments seek, if there is no other way out, to drown the future in a blood bath,' he said. 'The source of treason is thus from the right and reactionaries.'

"The third lesson to be learned from the Proclamation is that it represents a vindication and a culmination of the rejection of moderation, gradualism, and tokenism, Aptheker said. 'A policy of gradualism is geared toward acquiescence to the status quo.'

"Negro Contribution

"He pointed out that both the Proclamation and the Civil War hammer home the decisive quality of the Negro people's own contribution to the emancipation.

"'The salvation of the republic and the freeing of the slaves are intertwined,' he said. 'The image of the slave as a docile unimaginative creature is completely false.'

"Aptheker concluded his talk with a plea for what he called 'A second Emancipation Proclamation.' He said it remains for our generation, the American workers, the Negroes, and the youth to bring Lincoln's great work to fruition in this century."

The aims and purposes of Voice Political Party are to present to the campus of the U of M controversial speakers in programs to stimulate student interest in controversial affairs of the day.

The U of M Graduate Student Council is the officially recognized group voice of graduate students enrolled at the University. The Graduate Student Council has no known Communist infiltration or direction.

The "Ann Arbor News" in its March 13, 1963, edition, contained an article captioned "Lessons of Civil War Good Today, Red Says".

Instant article states in verbatim as follows:

"Americans living in this century should be able to draw two major lessons from the Civil War and Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation, Communist editor Herbert Aptheker said in Ann Arbor yesterday.

"First: 'The Proclamation was a willy-nilly expression - mostly nilly - from the government of its knowledge of the centrality of the Negro question in American development and history.'

"Second: 'Historically, it is reaction which is the seedbed of treason. The source of social violence comes from reaction . . . The basic cause of the Civil War was an 1860 plot by a slaveholding oligarchy.'

"Aptheker is editor of 'Political Affairs' magazine, an organ of the U. S. Communist Party. He spoke in Rackham lecture hall as a guest of two University of Michigan student groups, Voice and Graduate Student Council, to an audience of approximately 125 students.

"He said 'The cancer (of Negro slavery) grew with the republic and in less than 100 years reached the point where it had to be removed or the republic would be destroyed. We will not survive through the 20th Century as a great republic if we do not solve this "question of questions", to use John Brown's phrase.'

"Aptheker said that Lincoln's Proclamation of Jan. 1, 1863 'represented confiscation by the government of the United States of private property, about twice as much as the terrible Fidel has confiscated, if you figure at $1,000 per slave.

"'This is a rather interesting precedent, I think. The justification was that this form of private ownership was socially unhealthy. It is possible that at some future

~~SECRET~~ (U)

"'time the American people in their majesty will decide that other forms of private property are socially unhealthy, and will take care of it as they took care of slavery. (U)

"'The President has collosal powers in our system if he chooses to use them.

"'A President who signs an executive order stating that it is contrary to the public interest that there be within the territorial limits of the United States any segregation in any form will be close to immortality and will go a long ways toward saving the nation's soul.'

"Aptheker drew laughter from his audience at one point, when he said that Lincoln had corresponded with the secretary of the First Communist International, providing 'prima facie evidence that the Republican Party was born as a criminal conspiracy.'"

A "Marxist Studies Class" of the Michigan District Communist Party (MDCP) was held on March 27, 1963, at 2632 Glendale, Detroit. The lecturer of this class was CARL WINTER. He stated that the main problem in these studies would be the examining of the world Communist movement and revolutionary tactics. During this meeting a discussion was entered into concerning the Negro question. Individuals present at this class were of the opinion that there was not enough attention being devoted to the Negro question; and in the Communist movement in the United States of America, this is an indispensable thing. WINTER proposed that an additional lesson be devoted to study of the Negro question, but it was decided that additional studies by this class were not possible. (U)

A panel discussion and workshop on Civil Rights, sponsored by the MDCP, was held on June 28, 1963, at 6300 Hartford Avenue, Detroit. At this affair CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, one of the panelists, stated it was the American Communist who helped the world movement, both the colonial and socialist sectors, to understand the American Negro question, and in so doing helped rally them to support "our" struggles. LIGHTFOOT said the Negro cannot win freedom by himself, but must have help from whites and progressives who will stand up and speak for the rights of all persons. (U)

"The DCHR wants to form the Northern Christian Leadership Council as an equivalent to Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Council, which has been an active leader in the civil rights struggle in the South.

"Rev. C. L. Franklin, chairman of the DCHR, said he hopes his group, Dr. King's group and a similar group in the West will combine into a nationwide organization.

A meeting of the National Board, CP, USA, and invited guests was held on November 13, 1963, at CP Headquarters, in New York City. At this meeting BENJAMIN J. DAVIS, JR., reported on his recent trip to Detroit (November 8 - 10, 1963). In regard to his visit, he said that there was an atmosphere of emotionalism, adding that he thought it is still possible to effect Reverend (MARTIN LUTHER) KING and to effect some of the union people. DAVIS said that the Political Action Committee of the conference (described above) made a resolution which stated that the conference must consult with all political groups including the Communists. According to DAVIS, this resolution was put to a vote resulting in 11 in favor and 11 against. He said it was decided to leave this resolution out altogether. The Reverend (C. L.) FRANKLIN got up and said he did not want any political alliance with the Communists, but that he had the greatest respect for BEN DAVIS. According to DAVIS, he talked with Reverend FRANKLIN, and the latter appeared to be "thirsty" to get any kind of help. DAVIS said the CP has an opportunity there as never before, and getting in there means the beginning of a long relationship. (U)

A meeting of the MDCP club representatives was held on November 18, 1963, at 6300 Hartford Avenue, Detroit. CARL WINTER spoke on problems and discussions which took place when he visited with CP leaders in New York during October, 1963. He remarked that no definite conclusions were reached in regard to the civil rights struggle, and that "they" were unable to reach any decision on how to aid the Negro. WINTER said "they" did discuss job opportunities for the Negro, housing problems and preferential treatment in hiring Negroes for jobs. WINTER added that this situation demands much more discussion and analyzing. (U)

WINTER further stated that due to the lack of guidance by the Party, the civil rights movement has bogged down. He said that unless the Party can reorganize itself, and aid the Negro in the civil rights struggle, a national Negro party will be formed and that this would be undesirable. WINTER said there must be a better understanding by the whites of the need for integration and civil rights reforms; that (U)

this could result through economics and political motivation of the masses; and that this was the only way a successful Negro civil rights movement could be attained. (U)

WINTER mentioned how many Negro splinter groups are now being formed, and stated that this could be corrected if the civil rights movement had proper guidance by the Party. He said all this points out the absolute need to build the Party to such strength that "they" will be able to move into this area and guide the movement. WINTER stressed that the Party should use discreet methods in guiding and influencing the Negro civil rights movement. (U)

A meeting sponsored by the WMMLEC was held on February 22, 1964, at the Unitarian Church, located on Cass and Forest Avenues in Detroit. CONRAD KOMOROWSKI opened the meeting and introduced the speaker, Dr. HERBERT APTHEKER, who spoke on the Negro civil rights fight. He said this fight was the American third revolution; the first being against the British, and the second was the Civil War. Neither gave freedom to all, and this was to be the country's third chance. According to him, if they did not win, the country would be taken over by the extreme right-wing. He said no people in history (except Haiti, and they were 95 per cent of the population), revolted from slavery by themselves and won. Revolts were only successful when the slaves and others united; therefore, he said, extreme militance should be encouraged and complete unity of the whites and Negroes should also be encouraged. (U)

February 27, 1964] (U)

Dr. HERBERT APTHEKER was interviewed on February 22, 1964, by BOB BILLIPS of Radio Station WCHB, Detroit, Michigan. This interview took place between noon and 12:30 p.m. on a program entitled "Week in Review". Other prominent figures in the news were also interviewed on this program.

The following questions were asked by BOB BILLIPS and answers were by APTHEKER. They are set out verbatim: (U)

Question: As one who was a very close associate of Doctor WILLIAM E. B. DUBOIS, Dr. APTHEKER, perhaps you can clear up a point about his renouncing his American citizenship and desiring to live out the rest of his life in Africa. Do you think he turned his back on America out of bitterness? (U)

Answer: No, I don't think so, and when he went to Africa finally, he was still an American citizen, of course. He traveled on a United States passport, but after he was there for some time and it became necessary for him to renew his passport and he sought to renew it. The embassy in Ghana told him that because of his politics they would not renew his passport and he would have to return to the United States and request such a renewal. He knew very well that if he did that he would not get a renewal and was in Ghana at the request of the government editing the Encyclopedia Africana. This incensed him, as it ought to after 75 years of service to this country, and he repeated his request and got the same denial. He then, and only then, renounced his citizenship, and was asked by the President of Ghana to become a citizen of Ghana, and he did so.

Question: You say that the Ghana officials were concerned about his politics. Does this mean then that Dr. DUBOIS had become a Communist?

Answer: I said that the United States officials were concerned about his politics. Yes, Dr. DUBOIS announced joining the CP in 1961.

Question: Why did he do this do you think? He said that early in his life he had warned American Negroes about the disadvantages of the CP.

Answer: I don't think that that is accurate. I think that he joined the CP for the same reason he did everything, that is he believed in it, and once Dr. DUBOIS believed something was right neither hell nor high water could keep him from doing what he thought was right, but Dr. DUBOIS was a socialist his whole adult life. He joined the Socialist

(U)

SECRET (U)

Party in 1904. Dr. DUBOIS hailed the Russian Revolution publicly certainly by 1919. Now he had differences with Communists, and rather severe differences, and that was clear in 1930, but they were not vindictive. Dr. DUBOIS never felt that Communists were enemies of things in which he believed. He had differences with them and with their tactics at that time. It is not accurate to say that Dr. DUBOIS ever warned anybody about Communism. He expressed his differences with Communism, which was in the crisis, but if there is a difference of people fighting, in his view for essentially the same thing that is to say equality and freedom.

Question: In your conversation with him did he ever mention any solution that he saw to the race problem in America?

Answer: I think so, not only in conversations with me, but in public writings Dr. DUBOIS thought the solution to racism was socialism.

Question: You will be handling most of the recent writings of Dr. DUBOIS, do you plan to have any of them published?

Answer: I am the literary executor of all his writings, not simply the recent writings. I have in my physical possession his letters, both letters to him and copies of his replies. He kept copies of all of his replies and he estimated there were about 250,000 letters to and from him, also many unpublished papers and essays. He had a world of correspondence, as you must imagine. He corresponded with all the leading figures in the world from EINSTEIN to FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT, SCHWEITZER and GHANDI. He corresponded with most of the leading scholars, poets, writers, and dramatists, and also the ordinary and plain people, working people, and especially Negro working people. He took those matters as seriously as matters from EINSTEIN. His answers to letters are remarkable. The care that he puts into writing to a sharecropper in Mississippi was the same as his writing to the President of the United States.

Question: You mentioned his great concern for people, the working people. Tell us about his activities in

SECRET (U)

Africa, the hopes he may have had for the newly emerging African nations.

SECRET (U)

Answer: Dr. DUBOIS was the conceiver and the organizer of the Pan African movement. Several of the Prime Ministers of present new African states, for example KENYATTA, HAZAKIWI, and NHKRUMAH were his pupils, his disciples, and physically his pupils sat at his feet and studied with him. They all considered him and called him father. He was their guide and inspiration. When he went to Ghana at the invitation of the President NHKRUMAH, he served in Ghana as the elder statesman of the Ghana republic, and in International African Conferences Dr. DUBOIS was always the honored presiding officer, would always make the opening speech, and was considered as the guiding light. So from that point of view historically, everyone would ask who was the single person most important in the fruition of the African National Liberation Movement, the answer would have to be, I think, WILLIAM EDWARD BURGHART DUBOIS.

Question: Moving on to another subject, as you know, Dr. DUBOIS wrote a great deal on the Negro, the Negro in Africa, and the Negro in America. You, yourself, have done quite a bit of writing on the Negro, tell us just a bit about it.

Answer: I have written in several areas, mostly in history, and in history the majority of my books have been the history of the Negro people in the United States. The first such was a little work which appeared early in 1938, and was called "The Negro in the Civil War". Since then there have been 10 books in that field. The most recent publication in that field was "Toward Negro Freedom", and was published in 1956. A new book of mine called "Soul of the Republic", which deals with the Negro movement today, will appear around March 1, 1964.

Question: Speaking of the Negro today, the Civil Rights Bill is now before the Senate. Most observers say it will be a long drawn-out fight, and probably the bill will emerge from the Senate Chambers either watered down or softened up. Do you see any solution to the immediate race problem, demonstrations, or more pressure by the various Civil Rights organizations? Have you studied this enough to comment?

Answer: Well, I'm not sure I studied this enough to comment, but I'm going to comment. My view is that there is no way in which a Negro people can achieve any advances in the history of the United States except through intense strength and the bringing to bear of the most colossal pressure that they have been able to bring to bear. They have never been given anything. If they have gotten anything it is because they fought for it hard and got it. I don't mean that they did it alone, they normally were allied with people of some modicum of common sense or decency; nevertheless, whatever they have achieved, including liberation from a shackled slavery or the right to vote or the right to walk on the street or the right to drink a cup of coffee, or to send their kids to school, have been achieved through hard battles, demonstrations, pickets, conventions, articles, speeches, seeking, demanding, and fighting.

S., movements at home and abroad, and how is it that you are able to remain dedicated to Communism, particularly to the Party through these various upheavals?" (U)

FLYNN answered: "Well I don't think the Communist Party has experienced anymore upheavals and gyrations, as you call it, than other organizations who are involved in political and industrial struggles. I remain dedicated to the basic principles of the Communist Party, irrespective of differences that one might have on passing tactics, or with temporary personnel. The basic principles of the Communist Party are to fight for the full democratic rights of the American people. We were pioneers in the struggle for the rights of the Negro people. Rights of the Negro people to fight for better living and working conditions of the workers of our country, and to advocate and help to build a socialist America. So that with basic principles of such importance as these the other matters become, more or less, incidental. And can be straightened out, and we hope have been straightened out, to a very great extent, in our party."

They say that the only revolutionary movement in the United States is the Negro Movement and, therefore, all efforts should be directed to this movement to bring the United States to socialism. LUMER stated that he rejected this idea because it divides the worker along race and national lines. LUMER said that the CP should be self-supporting and become more involved in the Civil Rights Movement, because it is a cause that we should not become confused over and expect to bring about socialism through this movement. He said the capitalists presently have the advantage, but that the civil rights movement will have a series of victories. DENNIS added that final victory in the civil rights movement will not be had until the leaders of the movement realize that the movement has a class struggle to fight. He said the only way the Negro struggle can succeed is to have the white and Negro forces join together. (U)

A reception and buffet dinner was held on July 25, 1964, at the Hartford Avenue Baptist Church, 6300 Hartford Avenue, Detroit, in honor of HENRY WINSTON, a leading Communist spokesman. The affair was sponsored by "The Volunteers".

There were approximately 100 individuals in attendance at this affair and they paid $1.50 each for tickets. TOMMY DENNIS was Chairman, and introduced as the first speaker, Reverend CHARLES HILL, Pastor of the Hartford Avenue Baptist Church, and called Reverend HILL a real champion of civil rights and a person who has been in the forefront of all fights where people's rights are involved.

Reverend HILL told the crowd that he was very happy to be a part of this affair and was glad to be a part of any group that is fighting for the rights of all people.

Reverend HILL said he had received threatening calls about having this affair at the church and even received (U) some calls from the trustees of the church. He said he told his trustees that he would attend the affair himself and if anything happened they would all go together. Reverend HILL stated that people today are not afraid to stand up for what they believe is right.

TOMMY DENNIS introduced the main speaker. DENNIS said we are to the point where everyone has been waiting to hear HENRY WINSTON, who is a champion of civil rights, peace and socialism, and the founder of many Negro organizations. DENNIS said that WINSTON is suing the Federal Government for a million dollars because of the Government's refusal to dismiss him from prison so that he could get medical attention to treat a brain tumor which caused him to become totally blind. DENNIS said this case will pave the way for many civil rights fighters to sue the State in which they are arrested and beat up. DENNIS said that HENRY WINSTON was one of the first Communists to be indicted under the Smith Act. He said that since WINSTON's release from prison, WINSTON has spent quite some time in Europe and the Soviet Union getting medical attention and now is taking therapy, hoping to regain his sight. DENNIS said that we will now listen to HENRY WINSTON.

HENRY WINSTON then spoke and made the following remarks:

WINSTON said he was happy to be in Detroit as it has been about 15 years since the last time he was in Detroit. He said let me thank each of you for the part you played in helping me get my release from prison. WINSTON said he would talk to the group tonight on the Civil Rights Revolution. He said civil rights are the rights that are granted every American under the Constitution. The Negro is getting tired of being misused throughout the country and this is the reason so many things are being caused to happen.

WINSTON said in New York a policeman killed a Negro boy for no reason whatsoever and because of that the Negroes in New York are retaliating against the New York Police Department. He said in Harlem they are using live bullets, not dogs or clubs which have been used in Mississippi and Alabama. WINSTON said this is the first time live bullets have been used. WINSTON said the use of live bullets is being done in Harlem by the police department for the reason of setting a precedent and giving other cities the opportunity for doing the same.

WINSTON said the Republican Convention has just nominated Senator GOLDWATER for their Presidential choice, and GOLDWATER is the most Fascist minded man that could have ever been nominated. He said GOLDWATER represents the extremist in its worst form, and if a man like that is elected President of the United States, we all know that this country could be in a war. He said GOLDWATER's most immediate thought is war as he does not believe in peace, civil rights, or anything that would benefit America and her people.

WINSTON said we will do all in our power to see to it that the Federal Government allows the Negroes throughout the South to register and vote for the man of their choice. WINSTON said if the Negroes throughout the South register we can guarantee more Negro representation in Washington, D. C., especially from the South, which has had no representation since the reconstruction.

WINSTON said he was afraid that the violence in New York City by Negroes against the police department will spread to other cities unless the Negro is more represented in his neighborhood by more of his own people. He said we should also see to it that anyone, from the police commissioner on down, should be dismissed if they do not want to enforce the laws of the land.

WINSTON said to maintain peace, we must fight to see that the United States trades with Cuba and other Socialist countries. He said this country is too far advanced not to help the Negroes achieve their goal, which is freedom and equality. He said the eyes of the rest of the world are on what is happening now in America in regard to civil rights.

WINSTON said the United States form of capitalism has always had a policy to discrimination, and we must continue to fight the ideological poison of racism.

CARL WINTER had given a report on the Negro movement today in the United States, and that WINTER divided the Negro organizations into three groups as follows: (U)

1. The Moslem Group (Nation of Islam) which is not for civil rights.

2. The Group such as Reverend CLEAGE and his Freedom Now Party.

3. The NAACP and its sit-ins and marches by people such as MARTIN LUTHER KING.

CHAIT said that according to WINTER, the first group is a threat to civil rights; that the Moslems do not believe in integration; and that this group is getting larger because Negroes are getting tired of being pushed around by whites. WINTER believes it is "our" place to try and understand the Moslem movement so "we" can show these people that this movement is not the group to get their rights; that people in the Moslem movement must be shown that a person like MARTIN LUTHER KING, and people like him, should be their leader instead of the individuals presently leading the Moslem movement. (U)

CHAIT said that according to CARL WINTER's report, the second group is a group represented by opportunists who are not sure of what they want to do. This group can be a threat to the civil rights movement because its representatives are the big talkers who sometimes instigate violence, but do nothing to help win equal rights for all. (U)

CHAIT continued that the third group discussed by WINTER is made up of groups such as the NAACP and MARTIN LUTHER KING. This group primarily includes the middle class people, but they are the best group or groups in the Negro movement. KING has helped the Negro people stand up for their rights. CHAIT said WINTER reported that, of course, the true organization for civil rights is the CP, USA, which must show more interest in the civil rights movement than ever before. The CP must give a helping hand even though "we" may not be able to join in the marches and sit-ins. (U)

MAX CHAIT further reported that this club must delegate two people to attend a Negro conference which will be held on August 1, 1964, at Nowak Hall in Detroit. He said this club must also prepare a report on what experience members have had in Negro work during the past few years and what they are doing in Negro work at the present time. CHAIT also stated that all clubs will be asked for suggestions as to what "they" can do to speed up the fight for Negro rights. (U)

GEORGE BREITMAN stated on October 22, 1963, that the most important Freedom Now Party development has been in Detroit. He said the reason for this is not because the political climate in Detroit is more favorable; that the reason is mainly because the Detroit Branch of the SWP has responded more promptly in a realistic way and with enthusiasm.

BREITMAN also stated that the Freedom Now Party does not as yet amount to much, and in most areas is primarily just an idea. He said that the participation and initiative of "our" Negro comrades, if properly understood and applied, can make the difference between existence and non-existence of the Freedom Now Party in Detroit, and even possibly on the national level as well.

BREITMAN further stated that in his opinion the future of the Freedom Now Party is very uncertain; that the obstacles are enormous, but that "we" have nothing to lose from the effort, even if it does not succeed. He added that at the very least, "we" will lay the ground work for more successful attempts at a later date. BREITMAN stated that although he believes "our" initiative and participation is very important to the success of the Freedom Now Party, yet it is necessary to understand the limits of the role "our" comrades can play. He said "they" can help get it started locally; that "they" can give it a certain political stamp, but that "they" cannot do the job by themselves alone, no matter how active and dedicated.

BREITMAN continued by stating that "they" do not have the forces to sustain a political party, even a small one; that if its future depends on "our" people alone; it cannot survive, even if "we" are able to give it the push to get it started.

The speaker was CLIFTON DE BERRY who spoke about the Freedom Now Party, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), and the NAACP policy of non-violence. DE BERRY said that this served as a start in the field of equal rights for Negroes and brought about much attention to the plight of the Negro, but also left the Negro open to ridicule, degradation, and much physical abuse. Next he spoke of the theory of self-defense, and used as an illustration the Negroes who armed themselves in Monroe, North Carolina, and elsewhere. DE BERRY said that this served notice to all racists that the Negro could and would, if pressed, defend his home and family to the death if necessary. He said that the only real answer to the Negro problem was in having a political voice of its own. The only way being the forming of a third major political party in which only Negroes could belong.

A meeting of the FNSF of the Detroit Branch, SWP, was held on May 22, 1964, at 3737 Woodward Avenue, Detroit. The main speaker was MILTON R. HENRY, who spoke on "Proportioned Underground Guerrilla Warfare". HENRY said there are many (U)

Negroes who believe that in order to gain their freedom they must do it with love. They still believe everything must be done within the boundaries of law. But, this is a questionable procedure, for Negroes have been trying for over 150 years to gain their freedom and be heard both by violent and by peaceful means, and neither method has worked well. (U)

HENRY gave examples of Negro people petitioning the legislature and of Negro violence incidents, all of which were shown to be failures. HENRY then read a lengthy speech which had been given over one-hundred years ago. The essence of this speech was the calling of Negroes to action because there was no other way to gain freedom from slavery than by force.

HENRY further stated that the recent New York "stall-in" did not succeed, but that a stalled subway at 42nd Street showed the havoc that could be caused by a saboteur. He said Negroes do not have to bear arms in the form of guns; that a match could do more damage if thrown in the correct place. This, according to HENRY, would be proportional action. He said there is no intent to aimlessly kill people, white or any color, as would be done if guns were used; that the amount of damage inflicted would be in proportion to the amount of reason given by white supremists for this action.

HENRY continued by stating that the damage or warfare would be aimed at buildings and property, and not at people. He said, as an example, that if the court houses of Mississippi were targets of the guerrilla attacks, then there would be more understanding of these attacks because the court houses have been the stages for inhumane action against Negroes.

HENRY further stated that if the job of attacking by guerrillas were done by a secret order, or done quickly and efficiently, the havoc could be accomplished and there would not be enough police around to be able to stop the action. He referred to a huge gas tank, which would certainly make a loud explosion. HENRY added that even if police were to kill 15 Negroes in attempting to blow up the gas tank, this action would not stop the one who is finally able to get through.

(U)

(U)

A summary of MILTON HENRY's speech would be that he is trying to show that a well disciplined underground of all black guerrillas could cause pandemonium, and in this way let everyone know that the Negro aims to gain his absolute, complete freedom. The sabotage of buildings, gas tanks, grain storage elevators, etc. would be for the purpose of waking everyone up to the fact that Negroes want to be heard. The group would be all black, well disciplined, anddedicated. It was repeated often that there is no desire to kill people for the sake of killing, but the aim would be at property.

There is not recalled anytime when HENRY gave a direct call for this to be actually done, but rather he attempted to attach a big "if" to his talk. Thus, he implied that such and such would happen "if".

Also, it was not gathered from his speech that the aim was to ultimately destroy the government, but rather to make freedom gains under the existing system.

"Unlike the labor movement, the Negro community is in ferment and in motion. Because whites cannot play leading roles in this movement, our main task is the recruitment of individuals for a party Negro cadre that can play such a role, and the activities of our white members in Negro organizations should be consciously and systematically directed to facilitate this aim. (U)

"Prospective members of our future Negro cadre will be found inside all existing Negro organizations, outside of them, on the campus, in the unions and in block clubs. Without (U) (U)

"attempting to set down a rigid blueprint for the whole year, because the situation remains fluid, we think the best prospects will be found in the tendency of which Rev. "The Reverend Albert B. Mr. Cleage, who headed up the Planning Committee for the Northern Negro Leadership Conference stated that he could not accept the limitations which the Rev. C. L. Franklin, Chairman of the DCHR arbitrarily sought to impose upon the Conference and the planning committee...

"At the DCHR Board meeting the Reverend Mr. Franklin voiced his fears that the Leadership Conference might be infiltrated by 'black nationalists and other radical groups' from the East who would hold positions on social, political and economic issues with which he could not agree. 'This must be prevented at all costs', he insisted. When inquiry was made as to the mechanics by which he hoped to control the actions of delegates to the conference, he had no answer, but replied that it must be done to prevent any conference endorsement of the Freedom Now Party, because as DCHR Chairman he 'could not afford to be labeled a black nationalist like Marcus Garvey'. Rev. Cleage pointed out that he belonged to the Freedom Now Party and had invited Atty. Conrad Lynn and William Worthy, national Leaders of the Freedom Now Party, to the Conference with the consent of the Board. Mr. Franklin insisted that the conference could not consider the Freedom Now Party nor could it criticize the philosophy of non-violence. Mr. Cleage pointed out that Negroes everywhere are questioning

"the practicality of a philosophy of non-violence which precludes the possibility of self-defense...

"In renouncing the independent black political action represented by the Freedom Now Party and the new Negro image which is called "black nationalism", the DCHR has renounced any reason for its existence' Mr. Cleage concluded.

"A STATEMENT TO THE VOTERS OF THE 23RD STATE LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT

"BY RICHARD T. DAVID (U)

"I have been running for the post of State Representative in the 23rd District on the ticket of the Socialist Workers Party. As a candidate of this party I did not have to run in the primary and was sure of a place on the ballot Nov. 3. (U)

"However, I have decided to withdraw from this contest in favor of the Freedom Now Party candidate in the 23rd District, Hugh Cleage. (U)

"I want to explain publicly why I am withdrawing and why I hope my friends and supporters in the 23rd District will help to elect Hugh Cleage. (U)

"The formation of the Freedom Now Party, in my opinion and in the opinion of the Socialist Workers Party, is an important step forward for the black people of this state. It represents the beginning of independent political action. It is a breakaway in the right direction from the two-party system of exploitation and oppression. It is a blow at both the Democratic and Republican parties, both of which are responsible for Jim Crow, unemployment, poverty and the danger of war. (U)

(U)

"As long as working people and black people remain tied to either of the old parties, there can be no real progress toward racial equality, jobs for all, economic security or peace. (U)

"The unions ought to break with the old parties and create an independent labor party, instead of being a tail on the Democratic donkey. The Negro people ought to turn their backs on the old parties too, create their own party, and run their own representatives for office who will be independent of the old party machines and responsible only to the Negro community. (U)

"The Freedom Now Party has taken the first step in this direction by winning the right to appear on the Nov. 3 ballot and by running their own candidates in many districts against both Democrats and Republicans. (U)

"I welcome this step and want to encourage it. I am withdrawing from the 23rd District race in order to unite the anti-Democratic and anti-Republican vote behind the Freedom Now Party candidate. It so happens that there is no Republican in this race. When I withdraw there will be only the Freedom Now Party candidate, Hugh Cleage, and the Democratic Party candidate, Maxine Young. Mrs. Young represents a party that has betrayed the Negro people over and over again. I urge the voters to vote for and elect her Freedom Now Party opponent on Nov. 3." (U)

An undated throwaway concerning the SWP attitude toward the Freedom Now Party states as follows:

"SUGGESTED ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS ABOUT OUR ATTITUDE TOWARD THE FREEDOM NOW PARTY

"QUESTION: Since you support the FNP, why are you running a full state ticket?

"ANSWER: Both the SWP and the FNP realize that neither of our candidates for statewide offices, like Governor or U. S. Senator, will get elected this year. These campaigns are primarily of an educational nature, designed to bring the ideas of the parties before large numbers of people.

"We are running for statewide offices not because we want to compete with the FNP but because we want to take advantage

~~SECRET~~ (U)

"of the valuable free radio and TV time available to such candidates in order to spread our socialist ideas. Our campaign is directed against the Democrats and Republicans, just as is the case with the FNP. We felt that it would be better to have two candidates speaking over radio and TV attacking the Democrats and Republicans instead of just one. That will double the amount of education in favour of independent political action and opposed to the two parties responsible for racism, unemployment, and the danger of war.

"If there were any change of Rev. Cleage, Earnie Smith, etc. getting elected we would not have run against them. In areas where Negroes are a majority or a large minority and where FNP candidates have a chance to be elected we either deliberately withdrew or decided not to run our own candidates in order to fully support the FNP candidates. In addition we are supporting FNP candidates for many statewide educational offices where radio and TV time is not a major consideration. Actually we are giving active endorsement to 32 out of the 37 candidates on the FNP ticket.

"QUESTION: Who should I vote for, the SWP or the FNP?

"ANSWER: (In addition to the above) In almost all instances there will be no choice involved. For offices like President, Vice President, county offices, State Senate, State Representative, etc., there are candidates for only one of the two parties on the ballot. In such cases we urge everyone to vote for Clifton De Berry for President, Milton Henry in the First Congressional District, Henry Cleage for Wayne County Prosecutor, Richard David in the 13th Congressional District, etc.

"As far as the five statewide posts are concerned, naturally I (we) would like your vote. But the main thing is to roll up as big as possible a protest vote against the Democrats and Republicans. A vote for the Democrats and Republicans is a vote for the status quo. In our opinion a vote for either the SWP or the FNP is a protest against the status quo.

"GENERAL STATEMENT ON THE FNP (CAN BE WORKED INTO TV TALKS, ETC.)

"I also want to say a few words about the Freedom Now Party, my attitude to it and the attitude of the Socialist Workers

(U)

~~SECRET~~ (U)

"Party. The Freedom Now Party is a new party in this state, composed of Negro citizens running their own slate for office the first time. We welcome its appearance as a new political force, and although its program is not socialist, we have endorsed around 30 of its candidates for posts where the Socialist Workers Party does not appear on the ballot. We are opponents of the Republicans and Democrats -- harsh opponents because they are responsible for unemployment, insecurity, conformity, racism and the danger of war. But we take an entirely different attitude to the Freedom Now Party -- a sympathetic attitude -- because they have recognized the bankruptcy of the two major parties and have entered the road of independent political action, independent of the big business parties and opposed to them. We think they are setting a good example by breaking with the two party system. We think the unions should do the same thing and start a labour party of their own. Because the Democrats and Republicans are the major obstacles to progress, peace, equality and security. The urgent need, the crying need, of our country is to break the stranglehold of the Democrats and Republicans on our economic and political structures. Any steps that contribute to this are, in our opinion, progressive and should be encouraged. Naturally as a candidate for..... I would like your vote. But the main thing we are trying to get across in this campaign is that a vote for the Democrats or Republicans is a vote for the status quo -- a vote to keep things substantially the way they are. A vote for the Socialist Workers Party or for the Freedom Now Party is a protest vote -- a vote to make fundamental changes in the way this country develops. You can indicate your desire for fundamental change by helping us to get the maximum protest vote, which in this election means voting for the independent candidates of the Socialist Workers Party and the Freedom Now Party. (If FNP candidate is on the same program, can begin...I am glad we have with us tonight a candidate from the FNP_____, and I want to say a few words about his party...etc.)"

"...demands full use of federal power to enforce all laws and court orders against segretation and discrimination; supports voter registration and unionization in the South.

"...supports compensation for disadvantages suffered by minorities under the 'private enterprise' system, through preferential hiring and training of the most exploited sections of the population.

The Facing Reality Publishing Company issued a letter on June 20, 1963, addressed to "Dear Friends". This letter states as follows:

"The events of recent weeks in Birmingham, Jackson and elsewhere have brought the struggle for Negro freedom in the United States to a stage never before reached. In the national scope of the struggle, in the range of methods used, in the totality of the challenge to American society, the Negro people have demonstrated their revolutionary capacity to force the government of the United States into a complete reversal and retreat.

"No one can guage, as yet, the ultimate consequences of the fight now taking place. We can be sure, however, that it will be deepened and broadened and, sooner or later, will extend its force and its methods to other sections and classes of American society.

The June 5, 1963, edition of "The Detroit Free Press", a newspaper published daily at Detroit, carries an article which states:

"The Rev. Martin Luther King will lead a march down Woodward June 23 sponsored by the Trade Union Leadership Council (TULC). King, who has spearheaded the fight for Negro rights in the South, will then address a rally in Cobo Hall.

"The 'March to Freedom' will leave Woodward and Vernor at 2;30 p.m. Several organizations, both Negro and white, are expected to participate.

"Willie Baxter, chairman of the march, said: 'We are marching to demonstrate support for Dr. King and to show that the struggle in the South is our fight too.'

"TULC will also raise funds for food, clothing and legal fees for the participants in the Birmingham (Ala.) demonstration."

The Detroit Freedom March on June 23, 1963, was held under the auspices of the Detroit Council for Human Rights (DCHR), a newly formed Negro organization supported by religious, business and labor leaders, such as TULC, CORE, The Cotillyon Club, National Lawyers Guild, Friends of the South, the 15th District Young Democrats and the majority of the local trade union leaders.

(D) DEMONSTRATION AT CITY-COUNTY BUILDING, DETROIT, JULY 25, 1963

Approximately 100 persons picketed the City-County Building, Woodward and Jefferson Avenue, Detroit, Michigan, from approximately 2:00 p.m. until 6:00 p.m. on that date. The picket line was sponsored by GOAL and protested the decision of Wayne County Prosecutor SAMUEL OLSEN and State Attorney General FRANK J. KELLY not to obtain a murder warrant against Detroit police officer [redacted] who fatally shot CYNTHIA SCOTT, a Negro prostitute, as she resisted arrest. The pickets also carried signs requesting Mayor CAVANAGH of Detroit to reopen the investigation in this matter. b6 b7C

The leaders of the demonstration set up a public address system and several speakers stated during the demonstration that Mayor CAVANAGH, Prosecutor OLSEN and Attorney General KELLY would be defeated at the polls at the next election unless Patrolman [redacted] is brought to trial.

"The Detroit Free Press", a Detroit daily newspaper of general circulation, in the July 27, 1963, issue, contains an article titled, "100 March in Scott 'Protest'", which states as follows:

"Policemen far outnumbered the demonstrators Thursday afternoon when about 100 persons picketed the City-County Building to protest the fatal shooting of a Negro prostitute by a Detroit police officer.

"The protest demonstration was organized by the group on Advanced Leadership (GOAL), a Negro civil rights group.

"GOAL has been fighting for an investigation of the July 5 shooting of Miss Cynthia Scott, 24, of 83 Edmunds, by Patrolman Theodore Spicher.

"Spicher said he shot Miss Scott when she slashed him with a knife as he tried to arrest her.

"Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel Olsen and State Attorney General Frank J. Kelly have refused to reopen the case. GOAL leaders Thursday urged a public investigation.

"There were more than 300 policemen on hand when the demonstrators began picketing at 3:27 p.m.

"The demonstrators, who marched peacefully along Woodward between Jefferson and Larned, carried signs criticizing Mayor Cavanagh.

"Milton Henry, GOAL attorney, failed in several attempts to start the demonstrators singing.

"The Rev. Albert B. Cleage, Jr., a member of the executive body of GOAL, said GOAL would start circulating petitions next week to recall Olsen for his refusal to act in the Scott case.

"Cavanagh kept up his normal business routine as the demonstration took place below.

"Everybody has a right to picket peacefully,' he said."

Reverend ALBERT CLEAGE opened the meeting, told several off-color jokes, before presenting Mrs. HENRY, who served as mistress of ceremonies. Reverend CLEAGE said all white people are not bad, just most of them. He said no white person should play a role in the freedom struggle or the leadership of Negroes. Reverend CLEAGE said the Negroes have had enough of good white folks who lead Negroes nowhere. (U)

Attorney MILTON HENRY spoke. He said Police Commissioner GEORGE EDWARDS erred when he said a private citizen did not have the right to resist illegal arrests by local police. He cited many cases as precedent cases and indicated none of the cases involving citizens who resisted illegal arrests were found guilty and none of the cases were ever reversed by a higher court. Attorney HENRY said GOAL was considering a suit in Federal Court against Commissioner EDWARDS and Mayor CAVANAGH in that they obstructed justice and the due process of law by denying a warrant in the CYNTHIA SCOTT case. MILTON HENRY pointed out that the Circuit Court had worked on a Sunday and gone to great length to serve injunctions to prevent the playing of the tape of [redacted] b6 b7C statements. He said if there was not any truth in the claims of GOAL, then there should be no objections to an open trial. He said the tape recording would not be played because the one million dollar suit of CYNTHIA SCOTT's mother might be thrown out of court. But for that fact, HENRY said the tape would be played. He promised to play the tape if and when the court case is heard.

Before [redacted] appeared, it was learned he had not been served by the process servers. According to the "Flint Journal", a daily newspaper serving the Flint, Michigan, area, in an article on August 19, 1963, captioned "Bank Hiring Discrimination Charged In NAACP Picketing", pickets marched outside both locations of the MNB in Flint on August 19, 1963, charging discrimination in hiring practices by that bank. FRED A. LAVERY, Senior Vice-President in charge of the bank's Flint Office, denied that the bank engages in discrimination in employment. RICHARD TRAYLOR, President of the Flint NAACP Branch, said the organization seeks employment of Negroes in teller, secretarial, clerical and trainee positions. He reported the Flint Office has no Negro employees.

The article continues, stating that a statement issued by the NAACP Branch on August 19, 1963, said that it wants ten Negroes hired within 90 days. TRAYLOR said that picketing will continue until the organization is satisfied.

On August 19, 1963, approximately 50 persons, predominantly Negro, men and women, marched from approximately 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. in front of both MNB locations in downtown Flint, carrying placards indicating that the MNB is unfair in their employmentpractices. On Tuesday, August 20, 1963, the organization referred to as UHURU sponsored a street rally at Pingree and 12th Streets in the City of Detroit. The UHURU movement is composed of a young interracial group, mostly all of them students at Wayne State University. They refer to themselves as a "direct action group" and have been in the forefront protesting the fatal shooting of CYNTHIA SCOTT, a convicted prostitute, by a Detroit Police officer. At no time during this street protest meeting were there more than 180 persons in the crowd, approximately 50 of whom appeared to be teenagers and younger children from the immediate vicinity of 12th and Pingree Streets. Approximately ten per cent of the overall crowd was composed of white people. The street rally was held in an orderly manner with no unusual incidents.

There was a short meeting of the CP members from Detroit, and it was brought out at this meeting that "we" should reverse the march; that is, persuade the people to march to Capitol Hill instead of the Lincoln Memorial, because this appeared to be a better place to present the Negroes' grievances. ART MC PHAUL was very vociferous in backing this point of view. However, upon closer examination, this idea was abandoned as not being feasible, as there were too many marshals and Military Police (MP) deployed around Capitol Hill. (U)

BILLY ALLAN stated that the marshals and MP's would not hesitate for a moment to use their guns. Everybody marched peacefully to the Lincoln Memorial. (U)

TOMMY DENNIS, at this short meeting, said that "we" should have brought a determined group of young people who could stampede the individuals attending the march into reverse; that is, to have them proceed to Capitol Hill rather than the Lincoln Memorial. DENNIS also stated that this demonstration is only the beginning and "we" have won a point just by having such a demonstration. DENNIS said that the next time, maybe in two or three years, "we" will have another march, and this will be a march upon Congress. (U)

The Constitution of Detroit CORE states verbatim as follows:

Constitution of DETROIT CORE, A Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality

ARTICLE I. NAME

The name of this group shall be DETROIT CORE, A Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality, (Detroit Chapter).

ARTICLE II. PURPOSES

CORE is a national multiracial organization with affiliated local groups, working to abolish discrimination based on skin color, race, religion or national origin, and stressing direct nonviolent action. It shall represent the groups locally and give voice to their convictions and to those of its associate (contributing) members.

ARTICLE III. MEMBERSHIP

Any person vitally interested in the program of CORE and who meets its qualifications is eligible for membership in CORE.

a. To become an Active Member of CORE a person must (1) have been a Probationary Member for a period of 8 weeks or an Associate Member attending meetings and demonstrations for 8 weeks, (2) be sponsored by a member and be interviewed and instructed by the membership committee, (3) agree to abide by the Constitution and the CORE Rules for Action, (4) must be accepted by a majority vote taken by secret ballot of the members present and voting.

b. The CORE group shall consist of Active Members, Associate Members and Probationary Members. Active Members are dues paying Members who regularly attend CORE meetings and who participate in the demonstrations and other activities planned by the group. Associate Members of CORE are those persons who participate in demonstrations, or other activities or attend meetings or give financial assistance, but do not wish to become Active Members. (U) c. Only Active Members of CORE may hold office. Only Active Members may vote.

d. Membership may be revoked in the following manner: If three Active Members question the continuance of the membership of another Active Member, they may request a hearing by stating their grounds in writing to the Executive Board. After a fair hearing before the Executive Board at which time the Member may explain his actions, the Executive Board shall make recommendations to the membership. Active Members may expel the Member by a vote of two-thirds of the Active Members present. Any person so expelled may appeal within thirty days to the National Office.

e. Any Active Member who fails to participate in projects or attend meetings for a period of eight weeks shall have the question of his Active Membership referred to the membership Committee. The recommendation of the membership committee shall be adopted or rejected by a majority vote.

f. Probationary Members shall in the period of their probation attend meetings and participate in at least one action project.

ARTICLE IV. DUES AND FINANCES

1. Dues shall be in the amount of $1.00 each month or the amount pledged by each member.

2. The fiscal year shall begin on June 1st and end on the following May 31st.

3. Additional funds shall be raised through fund appeals, donations, social and other activities.

ARTICLE V. OFFICERS AND ELECTIONS

1. The officers of DETROIT CORE shall consist of Chairman, Vice Chairman, Recording Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, and Treasurer.

2. All officers of DETROIT CORE and Chairmen of Standing Committees shall be nominated at the annual meeting and shall be elected to their respective offices by a majority vote of the vote cast by secret ballot. The annual meeting shall be held during the month of October.

3. The duties of the officers shall be as follows:

a. The Chairman shall preside at meetings and shall have the authority to appoint special committees, to appoint spokesmen for the group action projects, and to cast the deciding vote in the event of a tie.

b. The Vice Chairman shall take over the duties of the Chairman in the event of his absence.

c. The Recording Secretary shall take minutes of the meetings and keep a record of all CORE activities.

d. The Corresponding Secretary shall be responsible for all correspondence. The Corresponding Secretary shall be responsible for sending out notices of meetings and notices of elections.

e. The Treasurer shall be responsible for keeping a financial record and making reports at every meeting, for keeping dues records and collecting dues from each member, and for maintaining a bank account and issuing checks with the counter-signature of another officer appointed by the Chairman.

4. Notice of elections must be announced at the previous meeting and written notice must be sent to the membership before said election. (U)

(U)

5. There must be a quorum present before action can be taken over any matter which requires the vote of Active Members. The quorum shall consist of fifteen (15) Active Members present at a regularly announced meeting. Roberts Rules of Order shall govern the proceedings at all meetings.

6. In the event an office becomes vacant it shall be filled by special election unless a regular election will be held in six weeks. In the latter case, the Chairman may appoint a person to fill an unexpired term.

ARTICLE VI. MEETINGS

1. CORE meetings are not open to the public and only Active Members, Probationary Members, Associate Members and individuals invited by a member have the right to attend. During discussion of any application by a Probationary Member for Active Membership, all persons not Active Members in good standing shall be asked to leave the room.

2. The distribution of literature of other groups is prohibited immediately before, during or immediately after CORE meetings and demonstrations unless approved by the Chairman. However, any representative of another organization invited to speak before CORE may distribute the literature of the organization he represents.

ARTICLE VII. COMMITTEES

1. The Executive Board shall consist of elected officers and Chairmen of Standing Committees. It shall exercise such powers and control in the management of the affairs of the organization and shall, in the interim between meetings of the organization, have control of the affairs of the organization with power to act in its behalf. No elected officer of the organization shall serve as Chairman of a Standing Committee.

(B) FREEDOM NOW PARTY

The August 24, 1963, issue of the "New York Times" Page One, a newspaper published daily in New York, in an article captioned "An All-Negro Party for '64 is Formed", states in part, a national all-Negro political party is being organized. It hopes to run its first slate in the Congressional and local elections next year.

A tentative national committee, said to number about 100 persons, has opened an office at 81 E. 125th Street, Harlem, under the acting chairmanship of CONRAD L. LYNN, Negro lawyer who specializes in civil rights cases. MLCH.

A leaflet entitled, "A Call for a Freedom Now Party", was publicly circulated in the summer of 1963, and called for the formation of a Freedom Now Party "with an all-black slate and a platform for liberation".

"The Journal News", a newspaper published in Nyack, New York, issue of May 8, 1963, contained an article entitled, "Lynn Not Impressed by Congress Probe". The article revealed in part that LYNN had appeared before the House Committee on Un-American Activities (HCUA) concerning his trip to Cuba in 1962, which he had made in order to take deposition from a client who had fled from this country.

The article revealed that LYNN had announced he would not "take the Fifth Amendment".

(U)

The article stated that at the hearing, LYNN said that he had been a member of the Young Communist League from 1928 to 1931, and had been a member of the CP from 1934 to 1937. LYNN said he had left the CP because he had been expelled after a trial because of his stand during the Trinidad oil workers strike of February, 1937, which he said went against the Party line. LYNN characterized himself as "being on the left", according to the article.

The October 12, 1963, edition of the "Detroit News", a newspaper published daily at Detroit, Michigan, contained an article captioned "Negroes - Only Party Drafts Plan for Chaos". This article states in part that "leaders of a move to form an all-Negro 'Freedom Now Party' in Michigan made their first pitch for public support last night on an announced 'strategy chaos'."

"We'll get what we're after or we'll tear it up", vowed the Reverend ALBERT B. CLEAGE, JR.

The September 21, 1964, edition of "The Saginaw News", a newspaper published daily in Saginaw, Michigan, in an article entitled "Party Aim: 'Vote Black, Buy Black'", states in part, "We need a program....not a Martin Luther King-type of a dream.

"Vote black and buy black. That's a program. That's something you and I can do. It's no dream."

Those were the words of Reverend ALBERT B. CLEAGE, JR., head of the infant Freedom Now Party as he kicked off his campaign for the governorship of the State of Michigan Sunday afternoon at Mt. Olive Baptist Church.

CLEAGE, who was nominated Saturday to be the first Negro candidate ever to be placed on the final ballot for the office of governor in any of the 50 states, blasted present Negro civil rights programs as being too idealistic and not practical enough.

"The Freedom Now Party", he said, "advocates a policy of 'vote black' and 'buy black'. If we can't work at a store, don't buy there", he continued.

Taking a swipe at both the Republican and Democratic parties, he said, "If you Negroes think that there is any difference in the way the Republicans and Democrats feel about us, all I can say to you is 'Wake up'. Those parties are controlled by and for the white man."

Organizers were a small group of Negro men and women, most of whom are now officers of the organization, who felt that there were many things not being done that could, and should, be done to hasten the Negroes achievement of full human rights and full human responsibilities. (F) NEGRO AMERICAN LABOR COUNCIL (NALC), DETROIT CHAPTER, ALSO KNOWN AS TRADE UNION LEADERSHIP COUNCIL (TULC), NALC (TULC), DETROIT CHAPTER

The TULC was organized during November, 1958, in Detroit, Michigan. It was the Detroit area sponsoring group for the founding convention of the NALC which was held May 27-29, 1960, in Detroit.

At a meeting of the TULC held on June 5, 1960, in Detroit, it was decided to merge the TULC with the NALC as the Detroit Chapter, which would be known as the NALC (TULC), Detroit Chapter. The September, 1963, issue of the "Young Socialist" contained the following article, captioned, "Militant Stand Taken by New All-Black Youth Group":

"The following interview was given to the 'Young Socialist' in late July this year by Luke Tripp, leader of the militant Negro youth organization, UHURU (which means 'Freedom' in the East African language of Swahili).

"How was UHURU formed?

"We formed this past spring. For about a year previously, a group of Negro students on Wayne State University in Detroit had met at lunch and held discussions concerned with black people and our struggle in this country. This spring we decided to set up an informal discussion group. For about six weeks we remained just that, but we started drawing more people and needed a structure.

"We set up a regular seminar which engages in both text and empirical study. We drew up a reading list for all members to follow to become more aware of the institutional relations and their position in this society, to see what hinders their progress and what can be most effective in bringing down the walls.

"The list includes 'Black Reconstruction' by W. E. B. DuBois, 'The Power Elite' by C. Wright Mills, an

SECRET (U)

"anthology of Mao tse Tung's writings, 'Black Bourgeoisie' by Frazier and Lenin's 'State and Revolution'.

"What sort of activities does UHURU engage in?

"Our first action was a demonstration of about 50 students May 15 and 16 in front of a police station to protest the hypocrisy of 'National Police Week'. In our leaflet we pointed out that 'all over the nation unbridled Gestapo-like violence has been unleashed by police upon the Afro-American citizenry'. That was right after Birmingham.

"Then we decided to support a picket line CORE had called against job discrimination by Krogers Super Market. We came down with 20-25 people; CORE had three or four. They wanted us to adhere to their discipline. We told them when UHURU pulls a demonstration, UHURU acts as it wants.

"CORE called the cops to let them know 'the wild kids is not us'. We bluntly told the cops, who threatened arrest, that we were going to continue.

"This so-called 'liberal' Edwards is police commissioner in Detroit. He doesn't want to make arrests at this time. He wants to dissipate the fervor. That's how we were able to use a hard line.

"Our next demonstration came when Cynthia Scott was shot in the back. The papers had already set the mood by covering the story. A cop shot down a Negro woman when she refused to get in his police car. He shot her while she was walking away.

"We printed up pamphlets, went around the Negro neighborhoods with sound trucks. We used the tactic of channeling the mood of the Negro masses into action when an incident like that was right up in their minds.

"1200 came down to the police station. Some more conservative leaders tried to run the demonstration. They called for one to start earlier, and had what white people call

SECRET (U)

"an 'orderly demonstration' going. Then the people showed up in response to our call. When the conservatives saw the composition of the crowd -- you know, the nitty-gritty people from the ghetto, the lowest rung of the ladder -- they tried to thin it out, to keep control of the group.

"But when the ghetto people come out, they don't just stand orderly. They took the streets. This jammed up traffic. The police wanted normal traffic as though there wasn't any demonstration, but they still didn't come out hard. They tried to get the conservative black people to do what they wanted for them.

"The cops let the line go around the corner, then set up barricades to stop them on the next turn and had the conservatives speak. They managed to regroup the people and keep them in an L-shape along two streets but they couldn't get them onto the sidewalks.

"We brought down very vicious and bloody signs, the hardest we could think of, and the people weren't reluctant at all to pick them up. Things like 'We Want Blood'. 'We Want Spicher's Head (that's the cop who shot Mrs. Scott),' 'Negroes With Guns Will Overcome', 'We Believe in a Tit for Tat Struggle' and 'The Police Dept. is A Paper Tiger'.

"Some of the people brought down their own signs, like 'Don't Turn Your Back on A Cop'. Some had targets drawn on their backs and they hung Spicher in effigy. That was the latest action we pulled.

"Since this interview, UHURU has held more demonstrations and continued its hard-hitting campaign against police brutality.

"What is UHURU's program?

"We don't come out with any blue print. For this to be our group we have to go through our own bumps and learn as we go along. This way, we can construct a program designed for us.

SECRET (U)

(U)

"Now, on the international scene our orientation is Mau-Mau Maoist. We are strong supporters of the Chinese. If you're in doubt on any position we have, look it up in 'Peking Review'. Maybe not 100% but that's the general drift. And we support the Cuban Revolution 100%.

"At home we don't present a socialist program. That isn't talking the people's language. Any institution we want to hit we can hit from the position that we're black. You white socialists have to take a broader ideological position. All I have to do is say I'm a black man. And about being a black man, we know best, better than anyone, and we don't need any guide.

"Does that go for the Chinese too?

"Certainly.

"One last comment. The only way we're going to get freedom is through mass action, not through self-appointed 'leaders' making appeals to Kennedy and that sort of action.

"We hold no illusions about the institutions and the power structure out there. We know this whole society is an anti-Negro machine."

The October 19, 1963, edition of the "Michigan Chronicle", a Negro newspaper published weekly in Detroit, contains an article captioned, "Must Crush White Man" which states:

"Luke Tripp, the youthful leader of Uhuru, has become an unwitting victim of the frustrations of being black in a white-dominated society.

"He is outwardly and inwardly hostile and bitter toward the hypocrisy of American democracy, to the extent of saying, with a sombre face, that 'as far as the needs of man, communism is a superior way of life'.

"Luke Tripp sits on the edge of his seat and talks rapidly. He speaks with fervor, in absolute terms, in stereotypes, and generalizations. He has definite views about most things. These views, most of which are unconventional, serve as mirrors reflecting the bitterness bordering on hate, the turmoil, the militant restlessness, the frustration that boils in his insides.

"Tripp says frankly that white society must be destroyed before the Negro can claim freedom in America.

"'I think white society owes the Negro something. If we can't get what the whites have, I think we should enjoy the psychological satisfaction of destroying what they, the whites, have,' Tripp says.

"He admits having a childhood ambition to blow up Mississippi. He doesn't believe in non-violence and "religion. Says he, 'If a white man steps on my toe, he won't step any more'. He is a firm believer in the old law of lex talionis--an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth, etc.

"On the subject of Christian conscience, he says, with obvious disgust, 'Man, I don't operate out of a religious bag. I was baptized a Catholic....but now you can say I am a free thinker'. Continuing his discussion of the 'sinister' white society, Tripp says, 'Ninety-seven percent of whites are racists in varying degrees, and the other three percent have been defined as crazy and are in an insane asylum. The black man can't trust any whites'.

"When questioned about the objectivity of his conclusions, Tripp reports, 'My conclusions are based on history, scientific investigation, and personal experience. Negroes who trust whites are nothing but Black Bourgeoisie Uncle Toms'.

"Uhuru, according to Tripp, was formed in March, 1963, by 'militant black students' at Wayne State University. He is a senior student at Wayne State, majoring in mathematics and physics.

"Purpose of Uhuru are: 'To seek the closest possible alliance of militant black groups and from the broadest possible united black front to wage a tit-for-tat-struggle against the anti-Negro machine that is America; to fight for 'uhuru quita' (which means freedom now, in Sawhilli) and to affirm the principle of self-defense in the Negro freedom struggle'.

"Uhuru's activities, thus far, have included summer street rallies in protest of the police shooting of Cynthia Scott and 'anti-Negro brutality of the "brutes in blue".' The group picketed the Trade Union Leadership Council headquarters in protest of Mayor Cavanagh's appearance before Operation Negro Equality (ONE) to discuss employment bias. Just last week, Uhuru members caused a stir at the Olympic rally in front of City Hall when they booed the Star Spangled Banner and all speakers, Negro and white.

"A present project is a petition campaign against the Olympics coming to Detroit in 1968.

"'We have several thousand signatures and we hope to get about 10,000', Tripp relates. 'We plan to send them to members of the International Olympic Committee in Baden-Baden, Germany.'

"Membership in Uhuru is limited to 'blacks', states Tripp. 'Whites can demonstrate but they can't belong. I feel white people can't lead black people. Our group is to provide militant correct leadership, the type where you have your ear to the ground and know the pulse of the people.'

"Tripp admits reading extensively about communism and he indicated that his talents will probably be better utilized elsewhere, in Cuba, China, or Russia.

"As a deferred student, he is not looking forward to serving in the Army because, 'I don't want to fight in the white man's army.'

"Tripp, who lives with his parents at 3963 Richter, closed the interview by describing the NAACP as an 'Uncle Tom' organization and the 'Michigan Chronicle' as an 'Uncle Tom' newspaper.

"He is 22 years of age...has been as far as Canada...and became involved in the civil rights two 'long' years ago. He believes he speaks for the black masses.

"What he doesn't realize is that he is a severe victim of the racial ills of society."

A pamphlet distributed by UHURU captioned "The Agitator vs. The Apologist" states as follows:

"UHURU makes no apologies for what black people do to obtain freedom. We are agitators and we make no apologies for not being apologetic. We are not careful and we are not diplomatic. We do not intend to be. Our only objective is FREEDOM and JUSTICE. We leave the apologies to those gradualists who in one breath condemn the oppressor and in another apologize for having condemned him. We do not attempt to run both hot and cold water from the same fountain simultaneously. The white American racist is a savage and we believe in calling a spade a spade. Some timid souls say that our attitude borders on fanaticism, but can truth and justice be handled in any other way than as truth and justice? Can sincere and honest lovers of justice really find a level of compromise that will meet the approval of both the slave and the master? There are those who say that a hard line on the race issue will alienate many white friends and potential allies. What kind of friend is it that can stand to see a friend or brother suffer abuses and indignities like a dog and insist that he endure like a passive lamb led to slaughter? Such a person is not a friend, he is a hypocrite giving aid and comfort to the very enemy of the person he pretends to befriend.

"Such a hypocrite is more concerned with maintaining the status-quo under the false pretense of living peace than he is of eliminating social evils of a living hell worse than death. NO! We are not apologists. WE ARE AGITATORS. We want to stir those of human conscience to the point wherein they will rise to abolish all forms of evil social injustice. For 400 years the Afro-American has been oppressed and de-humanized in America. Now just who is the dogmatic fanatic? The savage who has persisted for 400 years in de-humanizing the Afro-American or the downtrodden Black man who says FREEDOM NOW? We know the pain and sorrow of brutal racist oppression because we have lived it. This is why we are agitators and damn proud of it!"

The June 13, 1964, edition of the "Detroit News", a newspaper published daily in Detroit, on Page One, contained an article entitled "Detroiter Defies U.S. in Havana". The article, in part, states:

"A militant Negro leader from Detroit denounced the U. S. government here yesterday and said it 'must be destroyed'.

"Luke S. Tripp Jr., 23, president of the group known as Uhuru (from the SwahiIi word meaning 'freedom'), issued the statement jointly with three other Negroes among a group of 73 Americans visiting Cuba in defiance of U.S. State Department restrictions.

"The statement denounced the 'North American racist government' and added, 'We realize the United States government is the biggest farce in history and must be destroyed.'

"STUDENT AT WSU

"Six other among the 73 men, women and children who arrived here yesterday by way of Prague, Czechoslovakia, are Negroes. They did not sign the statement.

"Tripp, a student at Wayne State University, was one of five persons charged with disturbing the peace at last fall's Olympic torch relay ceremonies in Detroit. The case ended in a mistrial.

"Police said the men booed and hooted during the playing of 'The Star Spangled Banner' by the Detroit Police Band. All five identified themselves as members of Uhuru.

"Tripp and the other Americans came to Cuba, according to a spokesman, to demonstrate their opposition to U.S. travel restrictions.

"RED IS 'LEADER'

"A 23-year-old New Yorker, Ed Lemansky, identified himself as group leader and a Communist.

The June 14, 1964, edition of the "Detroit News" on Page 15, contained an article entitled, "Detroit Police Files Tag WSU Student in Cuba". The article states:

"Luke S. Tripp Jr., whose words that the Unites States 'must be destroyed' resounded Saturday from Cuba where he is visiting, has been active with extremist Negro organizations in Detroit since last summer, officials say.

"The 23-year-old Wayne State University student is president of Uhuru (from the Swahili word meaning 'freedom'), a small and loosely knit organization of Negroes.

"Tripp and Uhuru took part in the sit-in staged in Mayor Cavanagh's office Aug. 1. Tripp was arrested Oct. 11 for disturbing the peace when he and a group of Uhuru followers staged a noisy demonstration during the Olympic Torch relay ceremony at the City-County Building.

"BOOED ANTHEM

"A number of demonstrators booed during the playing of the national anthem.

"Tripp made his statement concerning the United States with three other Negroes in Havana. They are with a group of 73 Americans visiting Cuba in defiance of U.S. State Department restrictions.

"The statement denounced the 'North American racist government', and added, 'We realize the United States government is the biggest farce in history and must be destroyed'.

"His father, Luke Samuel Tripp Sr., lives at 9363 Richter, with other members of the family. While attending Wayne State, young Tripp has not been living at home. According to his family, he has been staying with an uncle.

"STUDIED AT WSU

"Tripp was born in Atoka, Tenn., and came to Detroit, where he graduated in 1959 from St. Catherine's High School. He attended St. Benedict College in Atchinson, Kan., then returned to Detroit where he entered WSU in September, 1950.

"He switched from chemical engineering to major in physics. His minor is in mathematics.

"Although Tripp's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Tripp, had no comment on her son's activities, a brother said 'other members of the family are active and interested in civil rights actions. However, we express our ideas in a different manner.'

"Mrs. Tripp said the family is catholic and that her husband is unemployed.

"A brother said none of the family had heard from Tripp and that their only knowledge that he might be in Cuba was through newspaper reports.

"City records show that Tripp worked part time during 1962 and 1963 as a swimming aide with the Department of Parks and Recreaion.

"His first contact with police was last June 29, when Uhuru picketed a Kroger Co. supermarket at 2450 West Grand Boulevard. Tripp identified himself as a picket captain.

"KNOWN TO POLICE

"Tripp was also active, police said, in a mass demonstration at Police Headquarters July 13 and urged demonstrators to rush the building and break through police lines.

COMMITTEE TO AID THE MONROE DEFENDANTS (U)

A source advised on October 10, 1961, that the Committee to Aid the Monroe Defendants (CAMD) was formed during September, 1961, by the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) in New York City.

Source advised on May 6, 1963, that the aims of the CAMD are to afford financial support and counsel for ROBERT F. WILLIAMS and four other defendants who were involved in a racial incident on August 27, 1961, at Monroe, North Carolina. The SWP hopes to dramatize this incident nationally and internationally through the CAMD and thus attract individuals to the SWP aims and principles by playing a leading role in the integration struggle. The CAMD is also active in promoting the philosophy of utilizing counter-violence to achieve integration as espoused by WILLIAMS.

According to the source, the organization and impetus of CAMD activities throughout the various parts of the United States, such as obtaining sponsors and the raising of funds, are the results of the efforts of various SWP branches.

The above source advised on May 6, 1963, that the headquarters of the CAMD are located at 168 West 23rd Street, New York City.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

DETROIT LABOR FORUM

On July 8, 1958, a source advised the Detroit Labor Forum (DLF), which was organized approximately in November, 1953, has been the name used by the Detroit Branch, American Socialist Clubs (ASC), formerly the Socialist Union of America (SUA). The source stated that the purpose of the DLF is to attract those persons to attend affairs who would otherwise be repelled by the name "Socialist." The source advised the DLF is the Detroit Branch of the ASC.

A second source on November 8, 1954, advised that the SUA was founded by a minority group which broke away from the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) primarily because the minority group believed that the organization should enter the Communist Party (CP) and other left-wing groups with the intention of swinging these groups right or left, thereby making a revolution possible in a shorter time. The SUA was formally founded at the Midwest Founding Conference, held November 21, 1954, at Detroit, Michigan.

The July, 1957, issue of "The American Socialist" contained the following information concerning the ASC:

The ASC was organized in Chicago, Illinois, on June 1 and 2, 1957, at a conference sponsored by "The American Socialist." At the conference, the SUA voted to dissolve and participate in the ASC.

The conference adopted a statement of purpose indicating that its objective is the education and organization of new Socialist forces in order to prepare the way for the building of a new movement of democratic socialism in the United States and will support "The American Socialist" as a prime source in such education.

A third source stated on May 4, 1959, that "The American Socialist" is a monthly publication which was controlled by the SUA from January, 1954, to June, 1957, and has been controlled by the ASC since July, 1957.

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

A fourth source advised on May 23, 1963, that the DLF in Michigan has been inactive since March, 1961. This source further advised that there appears to be no intention by former members of the DLF to resume activity of the DLF at this time.

The fourth source advised on May 25, 1964, that the DLF in Michigan is defunct.

FACING REALITY PUBLISHING COMPANY AND CORRESPONDENCE

A source who has furnished reliable information in the past on August 1, 1958, stated that as a result of the split in the Johnson-Forest Group (JFG), which occurred in 1955, two factions emerged, the Johnson Faction and the Forest Faction. According to the source, the Johnson faction was composed of the followers of C.L.R. JAMES, also known as James Johnson and the Forest Faction was composed of the followers of RAE DWYER, also known as Freddie Forest. The co-founders of the JFG were C.L.R. JAMES, known as Johnson, who was deported from the United States as an undesirable alien in 1953, and RAE DWYER, known as Forest.

The JFG has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

A second source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on November 26, 1962, that subsequent to the split in the JFG, the Johnson Faction took the name Correspondence Group, which continued until February, 1962, when this group again split with the majority aligning themselves with JAMES behind the leadership of MARTIN GLABERMAN of Detroit, Michigan.

On May 8, 1962, this source furnished material in which JAMES BOGGS, the National Chairman of the Correspondence Group, stated that the Correspondence Group had made a clear and clean break with C.L.R. JAMES, and the 19th Century development of Marxism. He stated that the Correspondence Group was trying to provide a center or basis where workers, technicians and intellectuals, Negroes and whites, women and men, the young and not so young, the common and the uncommon and all those alienated from one another in today's society, can speak their minds freely, cooperating where possible and clashing where necessary; however, at all times breaking down barriers and accepting responsibility for working out in action and in thought the fundamental problems of the total re-organization of society.

This source reported on July 18, 1962, that the group of individuals at Detroit, Michigan, who formerly belonged to the Correspondence Group there had taken the name Facing Reality Publishing Company or Committee, while the three former members of the Group at New York had met informally in support of the Detroit group, which had issued neither directions nor instructions. The New York Group has no officers or headquarters.

On March 7, 1963, the same source advised that the Facing Reality Publishing Company or Committee seeks to create a Marxist society based on the dialectical concepts of Marxism-Leninism as interpreted by C.L.R. JAMES, establishing government by workers rather than government by a Marxist political party. The prime movement in securing the support of the people is considered to be a publication to be used by the workers in their daily fight against capitalism. This group rejects the vanguard party concept of Marxism and has established the theory that trade unions keep the workers under subjugation by preventing their channeling of their own efforts to take over the means of production and through this to in turn take over governmental processes. This group rejects all present forms of governments, except those new nationalist governments, as capitalist, or in the case of Russia, State Capitalist.

On April 6, 1964, the same source advised that the Facing Reality Publishing Committee continues to meet at 3513 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Michigan.

FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE

The April 6, 1960, edition of "The New York Times" newspaper contained a full-page advertisement captioned "What Is Really Happening In Cuba", placed by the Fair Play for Cuba Committee (FPCC). This advertisement announced the formation of the FPCC in New York City and declared the FPCC intended to promulgate "the truth about revolutionary Cuba" to neutralize the distorted American press.

"The New York Times" edition of January 11, 1961, reported that at a hearing conducted before the United States Senate Internal Security Subcommittee on January 10, 1961, Dr. Charles A. Santos-Buch identified himself and Robert Taber as organizers of the FPCC. He also testified he and Taber obtained funds from the Cuban Government which were applied toward the cost of the aforementioned advertisements.

On May 16, 1963, a source advised that during the first two years of the FPCC's existence there was a struggle between Communist Party (CP) and Socialist Workers Party (SWP) elements to exert their power within the FPCC and thereby influence FPCC policy. This source added that during the past year there had been a successful effort by FPCC leadership to minimize the role of these and other organizations in the FPCC so that their influence as of May, 1963, was negligible.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

On May 20, 1963, a second source advised that Vincent "Ted" Lee, FPCC National Office Director, was then formulating FPCC policy and had indicated that he had no intention of permitting FPCC policy to be determined by any other organization. This source stated that Lee believed that the FPCC should advocate resumption of diplomatic relations between Cuba and the United States and should support the right of Cubans to manage their revolution without interference from other nations. Lee did not advocate supporting the Cuban revolution per se.

[redacted] (U)

The November 23, 1963, edition of "The New York Times" reported that Senator Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut had called FPCC "the chief public relations instrument of the Castro network in the United States." It is to be noted that Senator Dodd was a member of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee which twice conducted hearings on the FPCC.

The December 27, 1963, edition of "The New York World Telegram and Sun" newspaper stated that the pro-Castro FPCC was seeking to go out of business and that its prime activity during its lifetime had been sponsorship of pro-Castro street rallies and mass picket lines, and the direction of an active propaganda mill highlighting illegal travel-to-Cuba campaigns. Its comparatively brief span of life was attributed to mounting anti-Castro American public opinion, the 1962 Congressional hearings which disclosed FPCC financing by Castro's United Nations Delegation, and ultimately, the bad publicity which the FPCC received from disclosure of activities on its behalf by suspected presidential assassin Lee H. Oswald.

On February 6, 1964, the previously mentioned second source advised that V.T. Lee had recently remarked that the FPCC was dead and that there were no plans to organize another similar organization.

On April 13, 1964, a third source advised that there had not been any FPCC activity in many months and that the FPCC had been dissolved.

The "New York Times", August 24, 1963, page 1, carried an article entitled, "An all-Negro party for '64 is formed". The article related that a national all-Negro political party was being organized. It hoped to run its own slate in the congressional and local elections in 1964. A tentative national committee had opened offices at 81 East 125th Street, New York City.

A leaflet entitled, "A Call for a Freedom Now Party" was publicly circulated in the summer of 1963 and called for the formation of a Freedom Now Party "with an all-Black slate and a platform for liberation".

FRIDAY NIGHT SOCIALIST FORUM

On May 12, 1964, a source advised that the Friday Night Socialist Forum (FNSF) is a name used by the Detroit, Michigan, Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) in sponsoring forums, socials and other functions which are open to the public. Primarily, FNSF pertains to weekly public forums held at SWP headquarters, for the purpose of spreading propaganda of the SWP, developing contacts, facilitating recruitment of members into the SWP, and presenting subjects of a controversial nature in the social, political and economic fields. Usually speakers are members of the SWP and they give the socialist viewpoint of the subject discussed. The money collected at these FNSFs goes into the Detroit Branch, SWP treasury.

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

INDEPENDENT SOCIALIST YOUTH (ISY) AND INDEPENDENT SOCIALIST CLUB (ISC) ~~SECRET~~ (U)

A Source at various times from April to December, 1958, advised that the Independent Socialist Youth (ISY) was organized in March, 1958, at Detroit, Michigan, in part by efforts of members of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP). The ISY was referred to by SWP members as an "IBM" group (independent, broad, and militant). The ISY emphasized that it welcomed persons from all political tendencies who were interested in socialism. The ISY membership was comprised of individuals who belonged to the Communist Party (CP), SWP, Young Socialist Club of Wayne County (YSC), and independent socialists. The ISY had no definite program for political action; however, members of the YSC, who made up the majority of the ISY membership, tried to influence the ISY toward being a revolutionary socialist group. In an attempt to extend this influence, the YSC was officially dissolved on August 18, 1958, and the members urged to join the ISY.

By November, 1958, the SWP members in the ISY found they could not introduce the program for political action they wanted; therefore, they withdrew their support from the ISY, which caused it to become defunct. Part of the reasoning behind this action was the belief on the part of the SWP members that the ISY could not serve any useful purpose, but a similar-type group organized on the campus of Wayne State University, Detroit, could be of value in furthering the SWP youth movement.

An SWP member who was a student at Wayne State University was assigned to attempt to get a socialist youth group organized on the campus of that school. This member, together with assistance from a former member of the ISY and ISY contacts at the university, were successful in getting a group organized on the campus of Wayne State University in December, 1958, under the name Independent Socialist Club (ISC). The club was organized under the Political Science Department of the University. Officers were elected and a new constitution

YOUNG SOCIALIST CLUB OF WAYNE COUNTY (YSC), also known as, Wayne University Young Socialist Club; Wayne Young Socialist Club; Young Socialist Club

A Source advised in 1955, 1956, and 1957, that the Young Socialist Club of Wayne County, also known as Wayne University Young Socialist Club, Wayne Young Socialist Club, and Young Socialist Club (YSC) was organized on the campus of the Wayne State University, Detroit, Michigan, in the fall of 1954 through the efforts of the Detroit Branch, Socialist Workers Party (SWP). As a result of the University's action in banning the YSC from the campus in the spring of 1956, the YSC adopted the name Young Socialist Club of Wayne County and continued to function by using the facilities of the SWP for its headquarters.

This Source advised that the YSC has been controlled and directed by members of the SWP from its inception to the present time. The purpose of the YSC was to afford the SWP an opportunity to make contacts, recruit members into the SWP, and spread propaganda among the students and other young people.

The constitution of the YSC states its purpose "shall be to unite young students, workers, and members of minority groups who wish to build and participate in an independent, militant, socialist group. It shall engage in a broad program of political, educational, and social activities, bringing socialist ideas to young people in an atmosphere of free and open discussion."

Another Source advised on August 20, 1958, that the YSC was officially dissolved on August 18, 1958, as a tactical move by the youth fraction of the Detroit Branch SWP.

NATION OF ISLAM, formerly referred to as the Muslim Cult of Islam, also known as Muhammad's Temples of Islam

In January, 1957, a source advised Elijah Muhammad has described his organization on a nationwide basis as the "Nation of Islam," (NOI) and "Muhammad's Temples of Islam."

On May 8, 1964, a second source advised Elijah Muhammad is the national leader of the NOI; Muhammad's Temple of Islam No. 2, 5335 South Greenwood Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, is the national headquarters of the NOI; and in mid-1960, Muhammad and other NOI officials, when referring to Muhammad's organization on a nationwide basis, commenced using either "Mosque" or "Temple" when mentioning one of "Muhammad's Temples of Islam."

The NOI is an all-Negro organization which was originally organized in 1930 in Detroit, Michigan. Muhammad claims to have been selected by Allah, the Supreme Being, to lead the so-called Negro race out of slavery in the wilderness of North America by establishing an independent black nation in the United States. Members following Muhammad's teachings and his interpretation of the "Koran" believe there is no such thing as a Negro; that the so-called Negroes are slaves of the white race, referred to as "white devils," in the United States; and that the white race, because of its exploitation of the so-called Negroes, must and will be destroyed in the approaching "War of Armageddon."

In the past, officials and members of the NOI, including Muhammad, have refused to register under the provisions of the Selective Service Acts and have declared that members owe no allegiance to the United States.

On May 5, 1958, the first source advised Muhammad had, upon advice of legal counsel, tempered his personal statements and instructions to his ministers concerning the principles of his organization in order to avoid possible prosecution by the United States Government; however, he did not indicate any fundamental changes in the teachings of his organization.

[redacted] (U)

On May 7, 1964, a third source advised Muhammad had, early in July, 1958, decided to de-emphasize the religious aspects of the teachings of Islam and to stress the economic benefits to be derived by those Negroes who joined the NOI. This policy change, according to Muhammad, would help him acquire additional followers and create more interest in his programs.

On February 9, 1961, a source advised that the Progressive Youth Organizing Committee (PYOC) was established at a national socialist-oriented youth conference held in Chicago, Illinois, December 30, 1960, through January 1, 1961. This conference was the result of a mandate issued by the National Executive Committee, Communist Party, USA, calling for a youth conference to establish an organizing committee whose objective would be to set up a national socialist-oriented youth organization. The conference scheduled a convention to be held within a year to found a new national socialist-oriented youth organization.

On June 18, 1962, a second source advised it was reported at the meeting of the National Council of the PYOC held in New York, New York, June 16 and 17, 1962, that although it had been planned to form a Marxist-oriented youth organization by the Fall of 1962, it would not be possible to form such an organization for the next few years.

THE PHYSICIANS FORUM INCORPORATED

Records in the office of the Clerk, New York State Supreme Court, Foley Square, New York, reflect that The Physicians' Forum, Inc., (PF) was issued a Certificate of Incorporation on April 27, 1944, under the laws of the State of New York, to operate as a non-profit, membership organization principally in the United States. The PF, under the name of the New York Physicians' Forum, had been in existence as an unincorporated association since about 1939.

A source, on September 13, 1954, furnished a folder of PF entitled "What is the Physicians' Forum?" which stated in part that to maintain freedom of thought and expression in medicine, the Forum opposes the imposition of "loyalty oaths" as a prerequisite for licensure, for hospital appointments or privileges, in medical schools, or hospital staffs and against patients; to re-establish the freedom of the medical press, the Forum urges medical society publications to open their volumes to diverse views on controversial subjects; and to provide a forum wherein socially liberal doctors may express their views in opposition to the policies of organized medicine.

The report of the Sub-Committee to Investigate the Administration of the Internal Security Act and other Security Laws of the Committee of the Judiciary, United States Senate, 82nd Congress, 1952 on "Subversive Influence in the Educational Process" on page 37 sets out the testimony of BELLA DODD, member of the National Committee of the Communist Party from 1944 to 1948. DODD testified that the PF was established primarily by the Communist Party (CP) and although not all members of the PF were Communists, the "initiative for organizing the PF came from the CP, came from the ninth floor (35 East 12th Street, New York City), where the National Committee of the CP existed."

On April 24, 1963, the above source advised that the PF is opposed to the resumption of nuclear testing and is against compulsory membership for physicians in the

On September 10, 1958, a second source advised that the Communist Party (CP), in order to promote sales of the "Michigan Edition - The Worker" newspaper and to raise funds for the paper had established the "Press Committee," which is divided into two sections. One section is known as "The Volunteers." This is a public group open to both Party members and non-Party people interested in "The Worker" paper sales and fund-raising. The source stated the officers of "The Volunteers" are CP members.

YOUNG SOCIALIST ALLIANCE

The May, 1960, issue of the "Young Socialist" (YS), page 1, column 3, disclosed that during April 15-17, 1960, a national organization entitled "The Young Socialist Alliance" (YSA) was established at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. This issue stated that this organization was formed by the nationwide supporter clubs of the publication YS.

The above issue, page 6, set forth the Founding Declaration of YSA. This declaration stated that the YSA recognizes the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) as the only existing political leadership on class struggle principles, and that the supporters of the YS have come into basic political solidarity with the SWP on the principles of revolutionary socialism.

A source advised on May 6, 1964, that the original YSA was an organization formed during October, 1957, in New York City by youth of various left socialist tendencies, particularly members and followers of the SWP. The leaders of this group were the guiding forces in the establishment of the national organization.

The source further advised on May 6, 1964, that th YSA is dominated and controlled on a national basis by the SWP through having SWP members comprise exclusively th National Executive Committee (NEC) and through an officia representative at all YSA NEC meetings. The YSA, in rea is the youth and training section of the SWP and the ma of new SWP members.

The headquarters of the YSA are located in R 41 Union Square West, New York City.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. COMMUNIST PARTY, USA

1. Plans, Strategy, Party line Made at National Meetings, Including Expressions by National and Other Functionaries

On February 14, 1963, NH T-1 advised (U) that on February 13, 1963, at 7:30 p.m., GUS HALL appeared as a speaker at Strathcona Hall, Yale University, New Haven, Connecticut, under the sponsorship of the Dwight Hall Campus Council, a religious and social group at the University. A total of four hundred tickets were issued without charge to students and faculty members at Yale University who applied for them through the sponsoring group. Informant said that GUS HALL spoke for approximately thirty to forty minutes, the theme of his speech pertaining to the modern conflict between two great "world systems", capitalism and socialism. During his remarks HALL stated that the eventual dominance of the socialist system over capitalism was inevitable and he claimed that only socialism could fulfill the needs of the American Negro and other citizens of the newly formed independent nations of oppressed people elsewhere.

On October 14, 1964, NH T-2 advised (U) that GUS HALL is General Secretary of the Communist Party, USA. U.S.A.

NH T-3 advised on April 23, 1963, (U) that ARNOLD JOHNSON was scheduled to speak at a meeting which was opened to the public and sponsored by the Independent Students Organization of the University of Connecticut, Storrs, Connecticut. Informant said that the Independent Students Organization is one of two student groups on the campus at the above mentioned university, is composed of non-fraternity students and is not known as a subversive group.

"The Worker", September 22, 1964, ~~edition~~, page 7, column 1, described ARNOLD ~~X~~ JOHNSON as National Public Relations Director of the Communist Party, USA. U.S.A.

"The Worker" is an east coast communist newspaper.

(U)

On May 6, 1963, NH T-4 advised ~~X~~ that on the night of April 23, 1964, ARNOLD JOHNSON spoke to approximately three hundred to three hundred fifty persons, mostly students, in the auditorium of the University of Connecticut, Storrs, Connecticut. JOHNSON was introduced as "current Director of the Communist Party in New York City". He presented to those present the communist viewpoint on various "current problems" pointing out that the partisan viewpoint should be heard from an authoritative source. During his address JOHNSON said that "our worst scourge open for criticism is racism which continues to poison the minds of people". He said the white people are not doing enough to find new ways to approach the problem of racism.

(U)

On May 14, 1963, NH T-4 advised ~~X~~ that JAMES EDWARD ~~X~~ JACKSON spoke at the University of Connecticut, Storrs, Connecticut, on May 8, 1963, concerning the Marxist version of the Negro problem in the United States today. JACKSON said the "Negro wants a share of the whole capitalist base and political superstructure of this multi-powered state apparatus and, therefore, a full social share in this whole country". According to the informant, JACKSON stated that the Negro controls the labor force of key industries upon which the economy depends and, as the major force within the working class, the Negro holds the destiny of this country. He said, "We can stop Ford Motor Company any day we wish; U.S. Steel in Birmingham, Alabama can be shut down; trains from a safety standpoint would be a hazard; perishables on the docks would be left to rot". JACKSON said that the sympathies by the Communist Party for the Negro is enormous and that he could attest to this fact from his own experience.

On October 14, 1964, NH T-2 advised that JAMES EDWARD JACKSON is a member of the National Committee, Communist Party, USA. (U)

~~SECRET~~ (U)

~~SECRET~~ (U) (U)

On May 13, 1963, NH T-5 advised that on May 8, 1963, a panel discussion was held at the Student Union, University of Connecticut, Storrs, Connecticut, one of the participants in which was JAMES EDWARD JACKSON, who was introduced as Editor of "The Worker", and spokesman for the Communist Party, USA.

According to the informant JACKSON delivered a technical description of the history of the Negro and a sociological statement concerning the Negro problem which he pictured as that of the Negro people as a whole versus the white ruling class. He stated that the Negro provides "no small part of the capital of the United States" and the Negro problem is an "indictment of the capitalistic society in this country". He said that integration today will bankrupt, devastate and outmode the ruling class which would be a good thing. JACKSON said Negro oppression is in effect a form of class oppression. He described the Negro as the working class and added that the strategic goal of the working class is socialism and that the exploiter of the Negro working class is the white monopolist. During a question and answer period JACKSON stated that the Negro resists attempts by the Communist Party, USA to recruit him because of fear of reprisal by their capitalistic employers.

The December 12, 1963, issue of the "Yale Daily News", a daily newspaper published at Yale University, New Haven, Connecticut, contained an article on page one, entitled "Aptheker Places Racial Burden On America's Ruling Classes". This article reveals that HERBERT APTHEKER, "a leading U.S. Marxist" spoke at the Yale Law School auditorium on the evening of December 11, 1963, before a meeting of the "Yale Socialist Union", a student organization at Yale University, New Haven, Connecticut.

APTHEKER stated that suppression of the Negro in America is the "greatest single stain on our republic and, if allowed to persist, will make our country a pariah like South Africa". He attributed the problem of Negro oppression in the United States to six underlying factors as follows:

1. Capitalism and enslavement as manifested in the "rape of Africa by the enslavement of her peoples" are historically and "organically" interrelated.

2. Human oppression itself is of direct economic benefit to the ruling classes in the U.S., since it means the payment of low wages.

3. The oppression of Negroes is of indirect economic benefit to the ruling classes since racism is the most significant obstacle to the growth of labor union organization.

4. The ruling classes find it useful to consolidate their political power through voting disenfranchisement and any other means of limiting Negro influence.

5. The subjugation of the Negro helps to preserve the two-party system.

6. The Negro oppression is "the source of the ideological-moral-ethical poison in the bloodstream of the United States".

APTHEKER concluded by stating that with respect to the significance of his analysis taken together dialectically, these six adequately explain the roots of Negro oppression and the maintenance of institutionalized Jim Crow in the United States.

NH T-6 advised on December 13, 1959, that HERBERT APTHEKER was elected to the National Committee of the Communist Party, USA at its 17th National Convention, held 12/10-13/59. (U) CONN.

A characterization of the Yale Socialist Union is set forth in the appendix section of this report.

On March 9, 1964, NH T-7 advised that on March 8, 1964, HENRY WINSTON and ARNOLD JOHNSON met at New Haven, Connecticut with [redacted] and [redacted] among others. (U) b6 b7C

On August 12, & 13, 1961, NH T-8 advised that at a meeting of the National Committee (U) of the Communist Party, USA held on aforementioned dates, HENRY WINSTON was elected a member of that Committee, the National Executive Committee and Vice Chairman of the Party. Conn. Communist (U)

On January 2, 1964, NH T-9 stated (U) that [redacted] is a member of the State Board, Communist Party of Connecticut. b6 b7C

On January 2, 1964, NH T-9 advised (U) that [redacted] is in charge of the distribution of Communist Party literature within the Communist Party of Connecticut.

During above mentioned meeting, [redacted] and [redacted] told HENRY WINSTON and ARNOLD JOHNSON about the Negro movement in the New Haven, Connecticut, area. They said that no Negroes had been employed by the Andrew B. Hendrix Company until there had been a strike at the company by the union representing company employees. [redacted] said that the company had brought in almost one hundred percent Negroes to work as strike breakers. The union then lost out and as of that time the plant was non-union. Both [redacted] and [redacted] pointed out that the union involved appealed to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) concerning the Negroes being employed in the non-union shop, however the NAACP replied that when they had attempted to obtain jobs for Negroes at the Andrew B. Hendryx Company, the union had resisted their efforts in that regard. They said that [redacted] wanted the NAACP to urge Negro employees not to work in a non-union shop, however, the NAACP has refused to do this. Informant said that with respect to the strike situation at the Andrew B. Hendryx Company at New Haven, Connecticut, HENRY WINSTON said that he wanted a detailed report about the strike from [redacted] He said that this activity is very important because it bears out the Party position that there must be unity between the Negro movement and the labor unions. B. OTHER COMMUNIST GROUPS

1. Plans, Strategy, Party line Made at National Meetings, Including Expressions by National and Other Functionaries

a. SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY

The Socialist Workers Party (SWP) has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

On March 4, 1963, NH T-10 advised that the Connecticut Branch, Socialist Workers Party (CBSWP) sponsored a forum on the evening of March 3, 1963, at New Haven, Connecticut, at which the principal speaker was CLIFTON DE BERRY, who spoke on the topic, "The Socialist Road to Negro Equality" in which he summarized the Negro movement from pre-Civil War days to the present time. DE BERRY said the Civil War in the United States was fought to eliminate slavery and discrimination and pointed out that after the Northern troops were withdrawn (U) from the South, discrimination and lynchings as we know them today had there beginning. DE BERRY claimed that as long as we have a capitalistic society that aims for profit as opposed to a socialist society which aims are "each according to his needs", then the struggle for Negro equality will continue. DE BERRY concluded that the only solution; peace, equality and security for everyone, is in a socialist society. (U)

The CBSWP is characterized in the appendix section of this report.

On November 6, 1962, NH T-11 identified CLIFTON DE BERRY as a member of the Political Committee of the SWP in New York City at that time. (U)

Informant said that [redacted] was one of the persons who had participated in this picket line. (U)

3. NHC,CORE Demonstration, New Haven, Connecticut, May 16, 1963

On May 17, 1963, NH T-12 advised that on May 16, 1963, a demonstration of Negro high school students was held at New Haven, Connecticut. The students marched to the New Haven, Connecticut, Green arriving there at approximately 5:00 p.m. where a meeting of those assembled was held. (U)

Songs were sung and several of the students made speeches calling for support of the Birmingham, Alabama, integration movement and for equality for the Negro. According to the informant, [redacted] was observed in attendance at the rally on the New Haven, Connecticut, Green. b6 b7C

4. NHC, CORE Concert, Middlefield, Connecticut June 22, 1963

(U) On June 24, 1963, NH T-16 stated that on June 22, 1963, a concert was held at the Powder Hill Ski Area, Middlefield, Connecticut, and sponsored by the NHC, CORE as well as the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy. [redacted] was among the approximate 1,500 persons in attendance at the affair, the majority of whom were young people. Informant said that during the concert songs for "peace" were sung, however, it was believed that this concert would have been "better" had more liberal songs been selected by the performers. During this occasion, SIDNEY TAYLOR was given credit for having set up the lighting for the concert. During the intermission, LOUIS ZEMEL requested that contributions be made to help CORE in its struggle "down South". b6 b7C

(U) On June 21, 1963, NH T-17 advised that [redacted] traveled to Europe [redacted] of the Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell (CSJMS) in an effort to develop support for the CSJMS.

NH T-10 on October 8, 1963, and NH T-12 on October 7, 1963, advised that at [redacted] meeting [redacted] (U)

3. NHC,CORE Demonstration, New Haven, Connecticut, November 2, 1963

NH T-12 on November 4, 1963, advised that a meeting of NHC,CORE was held on October 31, 1963, at the Winchester School, New Haven, Connecticut, which was attended by CBSWP organizer WILLIAM WINNICK and three other members of the CBSWP, at which plans were made for an NHC,CORE massive demonstration to be held on the afternoon of November 2, 1963, on Dixwell Avenue, New Haven, Connecticut, to protest the slum housing conditions and to support the demand of the NHC,CORE that the New Haven Redevelopment Agency establish a fund from rents collected by the Agency and use this fund to relocate tenants. At this meeting WINNICK discussed preparations for a strike by tenants against the New Haven Redevelopment Agency and reported on an agreement reached by the NHC,CORE Housing Committee and (U) landlords of buildings on Dickerman Street, New Haven, Connecticut. WINNICK further reported that the New Haven Redevelopment Agency had rejected his proposal that the Agency set aside a portion of the rent money paid by their tenants which would be used to pay the moving expenses of the tenants when they are relocated. (U)

The November 3, 1963, edition of the "New Haven Register", a daily newspaper published at New Haven, Connecticut, contains articles reflecting that on the afternoon of November 2, 1963, the NHC, CORE held a five hour massive demonstration on Dixwell Avenue, New Haven, Connecticut, in protest to slum housing condition. According to these articles, a surging crowd of 350 people joined CORE pickets as the demonstration was nearing its end, and battled fifty New Haven, Connecticut, policemen, during which flying bottles smashed against police cars and passing buses. During the demonstration CORE pickets entered the street, detaining cars and buses, and one of the marchers sat down in the street in front of a car, was arrested for disorderly conduct, whereupon he broke from police and fled.

Police attempted to disburse the crowd when WILLIAM WINNICK, CORE Housing Committee Chairman, began to lead groups of demonstrators back and forth across the street, while police held traffic back to permit the demonstrators to pass. The police warned against further crossings, formed a wedge, and forced the crowd onto the sidewalks. According to the articles, "fists flew" at this point, resulting in two policemen being injured and six persons being arrested.

Following the demonstration, New Haven Chapter CORE issued a statement blaming the disturbance on the reaction of spectators to the large concentration of policemen. Officials of the New Haven Chapter, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) issued a statement condemning the violence, condemning the demonstration, and claimed that WILLIAM WINNICK, CORE Housing Committee Chairman, was directly responsible for the violence, and demanded his arrest for inciting violence and riot.

On November 4, 1963, Captain [redacted] Detective Bureau, New Haven, Connecticut, Police Department advised that WILLIAM WINNICK was arrested by the New Haven, Connecticut, Police Department, on November 4, 1963, and charged with Breach of Peace and disorderly conduct in connection with his participation in the above demonstration. Investigation by the New Haven Police Department disclosed that WINNICK, during the demonstration, led a group of NHC,CORE demonstrators back and forth across Dixwell Avenue which resulted in traffic being halted. WINNICK, according to this investigation, yelled to those participating, "Lets make the police work," and after several crossings, all led by WINNICK, the police on the scene attempted to contain the group whereupon physical contact developed between NHC,CORE demonstrators and the police resulting in injury to two policemen. WINNICK was arraigned in the Sixth Circuit Court of New Haven, Connecticut, on November 4, 1963, and released on $500.00 bond. b6 b7C

The December 6, 1963, edition of the "New Haven Journal-Courier", a daily morning newspaper published at New Haven, Connecticut, contains an article reflecting that WILLIAM WINNICK, age 50, 242 Grandview Avenue, Hamden,Connecticut, was found guilty on December 5, 1963, by Judge IRVING LEVINE, Sixth Circuit Court, New Haven, Connecticut, of Breach of Peace and disorderly conduct on November 2, 1963, and fined $25.00 on each count.

4. NHC,CORE Demonstration, New Haven, Connecticut, March 25, 1964

On the afternoon of March 25, 1964, Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation observed a picket line conducted by the NHC,CORE at the Olin Corporation, 273 Winchester Avenue, New Haven, Connecticut. Twenty-five individuals participated in this picket line and carried placards protesting the forthcoming lay-off of Olin Corporation employees. Among those observed to participate in this picket line were [redacted] and [redacted] identified previously as CBSWP members. b6 b7C

5. NHC,CORE Demonstration, New Haven, Connecticut, June 4, 1964

The June 5, 1964, edition of the "New Haven Register" contains an article reflecting that seven NHC,CORE members were arrested by the New Haven, Connecticut, Police Department on June 4, 1964, during a demonstration at the New Haven Green protesting the eviction of Mrs. KATHERINE MC CLEESE and her children from their apartment at 24 Scranton Street, New Haven, Connecticut on June 2, 1964. According to this article the NHC,CORE demonstrators attempted to erect a tent and set up furniture on the New Haven Green to point out that Mrs. MC CLEESE had no better available shelter.

This article listed the NHC,CORE demonstrators arrested including ALBERT MORGAN, age 38, 110 Livingston Street, New Haven, Connecticut, described in this article as treasurer of the NHC,CORE.

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

A. COMMUNIST PARTY

No information developed.

B. SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY (SWP)

The following information is set forth concerning the extent of CBSWP infiltration of the NHC,CORE which supplements information reported in Section IB2.

1. Headquarters

On October 15, 1964, NH T-21 advised (U) that the headquarters of the NHC,CORE are located at 154 Dixwell Avenue, New Haven, Connecticut.

2. Officers

On October 7, 1963, November 18, 1963 and January 23, 1964, NH T-12 advised (U) that WILLIAM WINNICK served as chairman, Housing Negotiating Committee of the NHC,CORE during 1963 - 1964.

On October 23, 1963, NH T-10 identified WILLIAM WINNICK as CBSWP organizer in 1963 and on February 5, 1964, NH T-12 identified WILLIAM WINNICK as CBSWP organizer in 1964. (U)

On January 23, 1964, NH T-12 advised that at a meeting of the NHC,CORE [redacted] New Haven, Connecticut, it was decided that [redacted] identified by the source as a member of the CBSWP at that time, would serve as [redacted] of the NHC,CORE [redacted] At this time [redacted] identified by the source as [redacted] of the CBSWP at that time, stated that until recently he had held the position, [redacted] Committee of the NHC,CORE. The May 8, 1964, edition of the "New Haven Journal-Courier", a daily morning newspaper published at New Haven, Connecticut, contains an article reflecting that new officers of the NHC,CORE were elected at a meeting held on the evening of May 7, 1964, and among those listed in the article as the new officers was ALBERT MORGAN, Treasurer.

NH T-12 on August 17, 1964, advised that [redacted] b6 b7C WILLIAM WINNICK, CBSWP organizer, stated that CBSWP member [redacted] of the NHC CORE had recently [redacted] (U)

3. Evidence of Influence by CBSWP Members

On various dates during the period October 4, 1963 - November 4, 1963, NH T-12 advised that during the period September, 1963 - November, 1963, CBSWP organizer WILLIAM WINNICK and several other members of the CBSWP, participated in picket lines, including a sit-in demonstration on October 4, 1963, all held in the Dixwell Avenue area by the NHC, CORE in protest to the poor housing conditions in that area. WINNICK served as Housing Committee Chairman of NHC,CORE during the above demonstrations and as such represented the NHC,CORE in its negotiations with landlords in reaching agreements to improve the housing conditions. (U)

NH T-10 on October 23, 1963, and NH T-12 on various dates during the period November 5, 1963, and December 31, 1963, advised that during the period October, 1963 - December, 1963 some NHC,CORE members attempted unsuccessfully to oust WILLIAM WINNICK from the NHC,CORE accusing WINNICK of trying to take over the NHC,CORE, of holding down Negro leaders in the group, of not giving the Negro leadership in the group an opportunity to assume leadership, of being a member of a subversive organization; namely the SWP, and of attempting to inject his principles into certain illiterate members of the NHC,CORE. WINNICK, according to the sources, rallied support for himself from other NHC,CORE members some of whom were CBSWP members and as a result WINNICK was not expelled from the NHC,CORE. (U)

NH T-12 on various dates during the period November 18, 1963 - May 18, 1964, advised during the period November, 1963 - May, 1964, that members of the CBSWP participated in activities and demonstrations of the NHC,CORE which demonstrations were held to protest slum housing conditions (U)

in New Haven, Connecticut, and the layoff of employees by Olin, Inc., New Haven, Connecticut. CBSWP organizer, WILLIAM WINNICK, who served as chairman of NHC,CORE Housing Negotiating Committee, 1963 - 1964, engaged in a dispute with [redacted] during December, 1963 - January, 1964, during which [redacted] demanded WINNICK's resignation from the organization and WINNICK questioned [redacted] qualifications [redacted] the NHC,CORE. In February, 1964, WINNICK stated the NHC,CORE Housing Negotiating Committee which he had been chairman, had been voted out of existence by the NHC, CORE, that he had been stymied in NHC,CORE and that his activities in the NHC,CORE were fruitless. b6 b7C

On May 8, 1964, NH T-12 advised that a meeting of the NHC,CORE was held on May 7, 1964, at the Dixwell Community House, 98 Dixwell Avenue, New Haven, Connecticut, at which WILLIAM WINNICK led a discussion on the organization by the NHC,CORE of a rent strike on behalf of Mrs. KATHERINE MC CLEESE, 24 Scranton Street, New Haven, Connecticut, who was being evicted by her landlord. It was proposed during this discussion that the other tenants in the building be organized to form the rent strike in which each tenant would pay their rent money to NHC,CORE who would hold the rent money until the property was improved and the eviction proceedings against Mrs. MC CLEESE dropped. WINNICK urged that this rent strike be organized and his proposal received full support at this meeting from [redacted] and the NHC,CORE membership voted in favor of the motion to organize this rent strike. (U) b6 b7C

(U) In September, 1964, NH T-11 advised that in [redacted] WILLIAM WINNICK contacted the National Headquarters of the SWP in New York City informing them that [redacted] which resulted in the opponent of the CBSWP and the NHC, CORE having a powerful weapon against the CBSWP members in the NHC,CORE. b6 b7C

COMMITTEE TO SECURE JUSTICE FOR MORTON SOBELL

"Following the execution of atomic spies Ethel and Julius Rosenberg in June, 1953, the 'Communist campaign assumed a different emphasis. Its major effort centered upon Morton Sobell,' the Rosenbergs' codefendant. The National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case - a communist front which had been conducting the campaign in the United States - was reconstituted as the National Rosenberg-Sobell Committee at a conference in Chicago in October, 1953, and 'then as the National Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell in the Rosenberg Case'..."

("Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications" dated December 1, 1961, issued by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, page 116.)

In September, 1954, the name "National Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell" appeared on literature issued by the Committee. In March, 1955, the current name, "Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell," first appeared on literature issued by the Committee.

The Address Telephone Directory for the Borough of Manhattan, New York City, as published by the New York Telephone Company on April 20, 1964, lists the "Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell" (CSJMS) as being located at 940 Broadway, New York, New York.

EMMA LAZARUS FEDERATION OF JEWISH WOMEN's CLUBS, NEW HAVEN BRANCH

A source reported on August 16, 1953, that included in a listing of local clubs of the Emma Lazarus Federation of Jewish Women's Clubs, which had been formed and were currently active, there was a club listed for New Haven, Connecticut.

A second source advised on May 20, 1964, that the Emma Lazarus Club of New Haven, Conn., holds regular meetings during the period from fall through late spring or early summer. Cultural-type meetings are held separately and feature national speakers who talk on Jewish culture and national issues.

This organization holds one or two rummage sales each year to raise funds. The regular cultural-type meetings for the 1963-64 season have been completed, but some of the members continue to meet on a weekly basis, usually for a social affair. During the summer months, the members meet in an informal manner for the purpose of social picnics and outings. The membership of this club consists of approximately fifteen or sixteen elderly Jewish women.

A third source advised on May 25, 1964, that the New Haven Branch of the Emma Lazarus Federation of Jewish Women's Clubs is affiliated with the national organization of the Emma Lazarus Federation of Jewish Women's Clubs. The source stated the leaders and members of the New Haven Branch are persons who he knows to be in sympathy with the aims and purposes of the Communist Party, USA (CP). Source stated that each year the New Haven Branch of this organization sponsors or co-sponsors meetings which are open to the public. These meetings provide a ready platform for CP and pro-Communist speakers, on a national and local level, to espouse the CP line.

EMMA LAZARUS FEDERATION OF JEWISH WOMEN'S CLUBS

"The Jewish Faternalist" dated October, 1947, self-identified as the official publication of the Jewish People's Faternal Order (JPFO) of the International Workers Order (IWO), on page 6, contained an article which disclosed that the Emma Lazarus Division (ELD) of the JPFO was to hold its first national convention in New York City on November 15 and 16, 1947, after having been first established at a National Women's Conference called three years previously by the JPFO.

The "Morning Freiheit" on January 25, 1951, contained a report of the National Convention of the ELD of the JPFO which took place in New York City on January 20 and 21, 1951. At this convention it was noted that the ELD changed its name to Emma Lazarus Federation of Jewish Women's Clubs (ELF) and adopted a new constitution.

On April 25, 1963, a source advised that the ELF is one of several mass organizations comprising the Jewish cultural progressive movement. June Gordon, ELF Executive Director, who is a member of the New York State Communist Party (CP) Board and Committee, is the leading force in the organization, whose leadership is largely made up of communists.

The source stated that the ELF claims to be for peace and interested in protecting the rights of the foreign born. It is against the Ben Gurion Government of Israel, bomb testing, anti-Semitism, Negro discrimination, and the rearmament of West Germany.

The source related that the ELF renders support to and receives support from the "Morning Freiheit" and other Jewish progressive organizations.

The source also stated that the ELF is recognized by the CP, USA, as an important progressive national organization of women.

The address of the national office of the ELF is 160 Fifth Avenue, Room 911, New York City.

The IWO and JPFO have been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," revised and published as of December 1, 1961, to supersede Guide published on January 2, 1957, prepared and released by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., contains the following concerning the "Morning Freiheit":

"1. A 'Communist Yiddish daily.'
(Attorney General Francis Biddle, Congressional Record, September 24, 1942, p. 7686).

"2. 'The Freiheit has been one of the rankest organs of Communist propaganda in this country for almost a quarter of a century.'

On February 20, 1964, a second source advised that the YSU is a student organization formed at Yale University, New Haven, Connecticut, in May, 1963, which publicly describes itself as "the focal point for radical student activity on the Yale campus."

The March 13, 1964, edition of the "Yale Daily News", a daily student newspaper published at Yale University, New Haven, Connecticut, contains an article concerning the YSU which reported that activities of the YSU were limited to a "series" of appearances by various radical spokesmen and discussions of Marxist thought."

According to the second source, and articles in the April 24 and 27, 1964 editions of the "Yale Daily News", the YSU sponsored a meeting on April 25, 1964, at which a "propaganda film" entitled, "Vietcong", advertised as "American atrocities in Vietnam," was shown and at which meeting the YSU adopted a resolution calling for withdrawal of U. S. troops and aid from South Vietnam and self-determination for South Vietnam.

~~SECRET~~ (U)

YALE SOCIALIST UNION

During 1963-1964, the YSU, according to the second, third and fourth sources, sponsored meetings featuring as principal speakers national officers of the Communist Party, Socialist Workers Party, Young Socialist Alliance, and Fair Play for Cuba Committee.

The second source on March 30, 1964, and the fifth source on April 2, 1964, advised the CB, SWP does not have any present interest in the activities of the YSU and is not currently attempting to infiltrate, dominate or control the YSU.

The Socialist Workers Party has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

On May 18, 1964, a fifth source advised the CB, SWP is affiliated with and follows the aims and purposes of the SWP.

The Socialist Workers Party (SWP) has been designated by the Attorney General pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

A characterization of the Denver Branch, SWP is part of the Appendix hereto.

1. Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at national meetings, including expressions by national and other functionaries.

No information developed.

2. Plans, et cetera, made at District and lower level meetings, including expressions by local leaders and rank-and-file members.

A Militant Forum meeting was held in Denver on February 13, 1963, at 1227 California Street, Denver, Colorado. LEROY MC RAE, National Secretary of the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA) was the principal speaker. This meeting was attended by and primarily sponsored by the Denver Branch, SWP.

A characterization of the Militant Forum and the YSA is a part of the Appendix hereto.

The topic of MC RAE's speech was "Black Revolt in America." He first outlined the role of the Muslim Movement in those areas where it is the most active. He pointed out with what part of their program the Socialists disagree. These points are:

The building of a black state; not accepting white money; and not accepting as allies white people who are for

"This very night while we're sitting here, if some Spanish-American or Negro isn't shot in the back or the stomach by a sadistic or nervous white cop - and it doesn't make much difference to the victim which he is - then there will surely be a dozen or so arrested, cuffed around and insulted, just because of the color of their skin. And because it is the unwritten policy of the police force to keep all minority people - and all poor people - in their places through fear."

YOUNG SOCIALIST ALLIANCE

The May, 1960, issue of the "Young Socialist" (YS), page 1, column 3, disclosed that during April 15-17, 1960, a national organization entitled "The Young Socialist Alliance" (YSA) was established at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. This issue stated that this organization was formed by the nationwide supporter clubs of the publication YS.

The above issue, page 6, set forth the Founding Declaration of YSA. This declaration stated that the YSA recognizes the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) as the only existing political leadership on class struggle principles, and that the supporters of the YS have come into basic political solidarity with the SWP on the principles of revolutionary socialism.

A source advised on May 6, 1964, that the original YSA was an organization formed during October, 1957, in New York City by youth of various left socialist tendencies, particularly members and followers of the SWP. The leaders of this group were the guiding forces in the establishment of the national organization.

The source further advised on May 6, 1964, that the YSA is dominated and controlled on a national basis by the SWP through having SWP members comprise exclusively the National Executive Committee (NEC) and through an official SWP representative at all YSA NEC meetings. The YSA, in reality, is the youth and training section of the SWP and the main source of new SWP members.

The headquarters of the YSA are located in Room 631, 41 Union Square West, New York City.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

(U) Communist Party (CP) members urged during 4/62 to join mass organizations, to maintain close contact with leaders of these organizations, to get them to follow CP line and to get members of organizations registered to vote. CP members instructed in event schools in E. Baton Rouge, Iberville and Pointe Coupee Parishes integrated, to contact parents of Negro children to persuade them to register their children in a white school. Subsequently, during 7/63, it was decided CP should take direct action re integration of schools in East Baton Rouge Parish by contacting Negro members of Bi-Racial Committee formed by Mayor. SARGEANT CAULFIELD, CP member, reportedly worked with CORE in setting up Bi-Racial Committee, Pointe Coupee Parish and reportedly elected to Bi-Racial Committee. CP members urged to join CORE for purpose of getting CORE to send CAULFIELD to National Democratic Convention. CAULFIELD subsequently claimed elected by CORE to attend National Democratic Convention, but stated did not attend because CP had forbidden him to go. CI stated CAULFIELD is not known to be member of CORE and believes CAULFIELD's claims of activities in CORE was for purpose of persuading CP to do mass work in other organizations. CAULFIELD met with HUNTER PITTS ODELL in Atlanta in 5/62 and CAULFIELD offered position as full time organizer for MARTIN LUTHER KING, Jr.'s Organization in getting Negroes registered in Pointe Coupee and East Carroll Parishes, Louisiana. 1) Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at national meetings.

No information developed.

2) Plans, et cetera, made at District and lower level meetings.

Confidential informant NO T-1 advised on May 28, 1962 that at a Communist Party (CP) meeting held in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, on April 4, 1962, SARGEANT CAULFIELD, known to the informant as a member of the CP, announced that every member of the CP should join mass organizations, such as the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), the Capital Chamber of Commerce, (for Negroes) or the Voters League, the purpose being to attempt to urge each and every member of these organizations to register to vote. CAULFIELD said that in addition, the CP members should try to maintain close contact with the leaders of these organizations and try to get them to follow the CP line wherever possible, without the organization's leaders knowing the identities of the CP members as such. CAULFIELD also stated that the CP members (C) (U) should be on the alert to avoid any "sell out" by the leaders of these Negro organizations to the white people's interest. CONFIDENTIAL (U)

NO T-1 advised on May 28, 1962 that HOSEA HERMAN HUDSON attended a Communist Party meeting in Baton Rouge, Louisiana on May 26, 1962. HUDSON announced that he came to Louisiana to arrange for full time CP workers to do both CP and mass organization work. He stated that the main purpose of his visit was to encourage the registration of more members in the CP and to get all eligible Negroes registered to vote. HUDSON said that the CP members present at the meeting should pass the word along that Negroes should not accept free transportation to northern cities, which was being encouraged by the Citizens Council. (A) A voter registration drive, Pointe Coupee and East Carroll Parishes, Louisiana by CORE, 1963-64

Confidential informant NO T-1 advised on September 18, 1963, that at a CP meeting held in Lettsworth, Louisiana, on August 7, 1963, CAULFIELD announced that he had been requested by a representative of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) to participate in a voter registration drive in Pointe Coupee Parish, Louisiana, but he declined to do so. (C) (U)

Confidential informant NO T-1 advised on September 18, 1963, that during the CP meeting held in Baton Rouge, Louisiana on August 26, 1963, a discussion was held regarding the voter registration drive and demonstrations being conducted by CORE in Clinton, Louisiana, Hammond, Louisiana and Plaquemine, Louisiana. It was decided by those in attendance that the CP should follow these activities very closely. SARGEANT CAULFIELD said he would check on the activities in Clinton and Plaquemine, Louisiana and he designated [redacted] a CP member, to follow and report on activities in Port Allen, Louisiana and (U) (C) b6 b7C

New Roads, Louisiana. (C) (U) ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

Confidential informant NO T-1 advised on September 18, 1963, that SARGEANT CAULFIELD attended a meeting sponsored by CORE in Plaquemine, Louisiana on September 2, 1963. At the conclusion of the meeting, CAULFIELD remained in Plaquemine, Louisiana to [redacted] (C) (U) b6 b7C

Confidential informant NO T-1 advised on November 13, 1963, that at a CP meeting held in Lettsworth, Louisiana on October 4, 1963, SARGEANT CAULFIELD announced he had joined with CORE in Pointe Coupee Parish and was assisting them when CORE representatives had to contact Parish officials. CAULFIELD said that a committee was to be organized to go before the Parish Police Jury and request that a Bi-Racial Committee be organized. CAULFIELD indicated he would probably be a member of this committee. (C) (U)

Confidential informant NO T-1 advised on November 13 1963 that a CP meeting was held in Smithfield, West Baton Rouge Parish, Louisiana, on October 25, 1963. CAULFIELD announced he was going to work with CORE in Pointe Coupee Parish. CAULFIELD said that he had to "fight" the local ministers in order to be appointed to the committee which would call on the Pointe Coupee Parish Police Jury concerning the formation of a Bi-Racial Committee. (C) (U)

Confidential informant NO T-1 advised on November 13, 1963 that at a meeting of the CP held in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, on November 12, 1963, CAULFIELD announced that a meeting was held in New Roads, Louisiana, on November 11, 1963 for the purpose of selecting one Negro from each ward in Pointe Coupee Parish for membership on a Bi-Racial Committee, which was to be formed by the Police Jury. CAULFIELD stated he was elected to represent his (CAULFIELD's) ward on the Bi-Racial Committee and he thought he could "manuever" the Negro members of this Committee. (C) (U)

Confidential informant NO T-1 advised on February 26, 1964, that SARGEANT CAULFIELD went to Greensburg, Louisiana, on February 1, 1964 intending to meet with CORE representatives from all over the State of Louisiana who had called a "spring board" meeting to encourage an organizational drive throughout (C)

Confidential informant NO T-1 advised on May 26, 1964, that during a CP meeting held in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, on April 26, 1964, SARGEANT CAULFIELD urged CP members in attendance to join CORE for the purpose of endeavoring to get CORE to send CAULFIELD to the National Democratic Convention during the summer. (U)

Confidential informant NO T-1 advised on June 23, 1964, that at a CP meeting held in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, on June 21, 1964, SARGEANT CAULFIELD reported he had attended a CORE meeting in Plaquemine, Louisiana on June 13, 1964, at which meeting he was one of three "freedom delegates" elected to go to the National Democratic Convention and to ask that the Democratic Convention recognize them as delegates to the Convention. When CAULFIELD is able to obtain transportation, he attends CORE meetings in Plaquemine, New Roads and Greensburg, Louisiana, as part of mass work for the CP. The informant stated that CAULFIELD holds no position in CORE and that CAULFIELD had not participated in any picketing or any demonstrations conducted by CORE. (U)

Confidential informant NO T-1 advised on August 25, 1964 that to his knowledge, SARGEANT CAULFIELD stated that he was not a member of CORE, but that CAULFIELD did attend meetings sponsored by CORE. The informant advised that to his knowledge, CORE did not have any membership as such in the State of Louisiana and [redacted] was the only member of CORE he knew [redacted] was also the only officer of CORE in the State of Louisiana that he knew. Congress of Racial Equality

An article in the Baton Rouge, Louisiana, newspaper, "Morning Advocate", dated November 6, 1963, and entitled "Red Propaganda Expected to Figure in Move on CORE", stated that a box with several books written by communists and notes and letters referring to "The Revolution" were seized in a raid on Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) Headquarters in Clinton, Louisiana, last month. The town and parish hope that the material in the box will help get an injunction in state court against CORE and its agents. Publications inside the box include works of MARX, LENIN and other communist philosophers. The publications include "Critique of the Gotha Programme" by KARL MARX and FREDERICK ENGELS. The book was published by the Foreign Languages Publishing House in Moscow. Also published in Moscow was a copy of "Marx--Economic and Philosophic Manuscripts of 1844." Other publications seized include "Paths in Eutopia" which carries chapters on Leninist and Marxist philosophies and "Philosophy and Myths--Karl Marx." The notes include such messages as "Let us make the Civil Rights Revolution a peoples revolution" and "Please don't get caught by the cops with your

The article further states that Clinton and East Feliciana Parish want to place all this material into the record and question more than twenty CORE witnesses regarding the town's application for an injunction. The Federal U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals has ordered all proceedings halted until it decides whether it has jurisdiction over the Clinton case but state plans are to proceed on November 12, 1963, in spite of the state order.

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

(A) SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

Confidential informant NO T-1 advised on May 28, 1962, that at a CP meeting in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, on May 27, 1962, HOSEA HERMAN HUDSON announced that there should be at least two full time workers in each parish in Louisiana who would devote all of their energy to get all eligible Negroes to vote. HUDSON said that workers would be paid $75 per week plus expenses, however, he said he did not know that this amount of money could be raised. HUDSON explained to CP members present that the CP had appropriated some money for mass work in the South, however, he told an individual attending the meeting who was not a member of the CP, that the money would come from MARTIN LUTHER KING, Jr.'s Group. HUDSON said that CAULFIELD had agreed to accompany him to Atlanta to meet with HUNTER PITTS ODELL to find out how much money could be raised for full time registration workers in Louisiana and that ODELL would decide who should be designated to lead the voter registration movement in Louisiana. (X) (U)

MARTIN LUTHER KING is President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC).

Confidential informant NO T-2 on June 1, 1962, advised that SARGEANT CAULFIELD announced on May 30, 1962 that he had visited HUNTER PITTS ODELL in Atlanta, Georgia, and that ODELL was second in command in the organization of MARTIN LUTHER KING, Jr. CAULFIELD stated that ODELL offered him $1,000 per month, which would include cost of living expenses, to organize Pointe Coupee and East Carroll Parishes and get every Negro in these Parishes registered to vote. CAULFIELD indicated that in Pointe Coupee Parish, he would have to re-activate the NAACP and that it would be difficult in other parishes because there were no chapters of the NAACP in some areas. (X)

Confidential informant NO T-1 on July 26, 1962 advised that SARGEANT CAULFIELD had not mentioned anything about going to work getting Negroes to vote through activities in the MARTIN LUTHER KING movement and had not been doing very much in that regard since CAULFIELD was employed full time for a swimming pool company. (X) (U)

Confidential informant NO T-1 advised on October 3, 1962 that he had received information on September 23, 1962 that SARGEANT CAULFIELD had gone to West Baton Rouge Parish for the MARTIN LUTHER KING, Jr. movement to get Negroes registered to vote. (X) (U)

Confidential informant NO T-1 advised on October 26, 1962 that at a CP meeting at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, on October 23, 1962, SARGEANT CAULFIELD discussed the MARTIN LUTHER KING (X) (U)

CAULFIELD reported that he had been the guest speaker at a meeting in Port Allen, Louisiana, where he discussed the MARTIN LUTHER KING movement and that several of the persons in attendance disagreed with the MARTIN LUTHER KING movement. As a result of this, CAULFIELD stated he had decided not to work on the MARTIN LUTHER KING movement for a while in West Baton Rouge Parish, but would confine his activities to Pointe Coupee Parish. (U)

Confidential informant NO T-2 advised on July 21, 1964, that [redacted] SARGEANT CAULFIELD instructed CAULFIELD to combine the Voters League in the Lettsworth area which covers nineteen districts with the Peoples Defense League and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). CAULFIELD was instructed to take an active part in policymaking but not to assume an active part in an open leadership position. SOUTHERN CONFERENCE EDUCATIONAL FUND, INC.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

"The Southern Patriot", a monthly publication, shows that it is published by the SOUTHERN CONFERENCE EDUCATIONAL FUND, INC. (SCEF).

"The Southern Patriot" was cited as an "organ" of the SOUTHERN CONFERENCE FOR HUMAN WELFARE (SCHW) by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 592, on the SCHW, June 12, 1947.

The SCHW was cited as a communist front by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 592, June 16, 1947.

An amendment to the charter of the SCHW changed the name of that organization to the SCEF, and listed its purpose as being to improve the educational and cultural standards of the Southern people in accordance with the highest American democratic institutions, traditions, and ideals. The amendment was dated April 26, 1946.

A source advised on March 2, 1961, that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, a Communist Party functionary, stated at a meeting of the Communist Party in Baltimore, Maryland, on February 25, 1961, that the Communist Party is not connected with any progressive movement but indirectly they do have some influence in the SCEF.

A second source, who is familiar with some phases of Communist Party activity in the New Orleans area, advised on June 2, 1964, that during the time the SCHW was in existence, Communist Party (CP) members have not been encouraged to work in the SCEF. The source stated the SCEF is a progressive, liberal organization, which he considers a CP front organization because it has gone along with the Communist Party on certain issues, particularly on the racial question.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

On June 2, 1964, the second source advised that in the past he has considered JAMES DOMBROWSKI, the Executive Director of the SCEF, to be a communist, if not an actual Communist Party member, because he followed communist principles.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

The second source also advised on May 27, 1963, that many people who are officials and members of the SCEF, while liberal in their views, are by no means communists.

COMMUNIST PARTY POLICY AND STRATEGY

CP policy in this area in all matters, including racial matters, is made in Baltimore. The CP in this area, for all practical purposes, as far as organized CP activity is concerned, is limited to one man, WILLIAM S. JOHNSON, the CP Chairman for Washington, D. C. There has been one CP club here, including JOHNSON and two others. However, one of the other members has been [redacted] and the other is [redacted] JOHNSON meets regularly with the District Board in Baltimore. In reporting to the Board on the status of the CP here, however, he admitted that there is no CP here except him. In April, 1964, in evaluating the CP in Washington, D. C., for the District Board, JOHNSON said that most of the comrades were either dead or had moved away. He said others are not taking part in anything. He thought that maybe with more time and with more talk the CP will get moving in Washington, D. C. In May, 1964, GEORGE MEYERS, the CP District Chairman, came to Washington, D. C., to discuss the distribution of a CP leaflet in Washington, D. C. The CP members in Washington, D. C., were unwilling to publicly distribute the literature with the exception of JOHNSON, who did participate with CP members in Baltimore in the distribution of the CP leaflet on poverty in Washington, D. C., on May 31, 1964.

MEYERS has also lamented the lack of response he gets in Washington, D. C., in his efforts to get funds. WILLIAM S. JOHNSON, as a matter of fact, has been attacked for his procrastination and lack of activity to the point of a recommendation to remove him from the District Board. However, MEYERS ruled that JOHNSON had been duly elected to the Board and would stay.

In regard to this tendency on the part of JOHNSON "sit tight" and do nothing, on January 14, 1963, [redacted] b7D advised that GEORGE MEYERS instructed that the CP in Washington, D. C., should discuss the "race riot" which had taken place at D. C. Stadium on Thanksgiving Day, 1962. MEYERS wanted the CP in Washington, D. C. to come up with a CP statement for the public about this incident.

"The Evening Star" newspaper, 11/29/62, Page D1, reflected that on Thanksgiving Day, 1962, a brawl broke out at a football game at D. C. Stadium after an Eastern High School player ran out on to the field after being ejected from the game which St. John's High School won, 20 - 7. The article stated that St. John's is virtually all white while Eastern High School is predominately Negro. An "outside committee" was named to investigate the causes of the brawl. The article stated that more than 40 persons were hurt in the violence at the stadium, several of them seriously.

Neither [redacted] nor [redacted] knew of any b7D discussion about the incident by the CP in Washington, D.C., and knew nothing about an attempt at making a statement concerning the incident. No public statement appeared in the press.

Perhaps MEYERS' instructions were not carried out because of the report of the special investigating committee on the incident. More than likely, however, it was the result of the procrastination and lack of activity of the leadership and membership of the CP in Washington, D. C.

Concerning the report of the special committee, mentioned above, "The Washington Daily News," 1/9/63, Page 2, contained an article about the report on the Thanksgiving Day riot at D. C. Stadium by a special committee. The article reported that the committee report criticized the D. C. Police, the public schools, and the sponsors of the game. On the issue of racism, the report disclosed that "there was evidence of racial prejudice among attackers during the riot... the hoodlums who went on a rampage would have attacked supporters of any victorious team. Yet, fostered by the hoodlums who were a very small minority of the city's Negro population, the stadium fracas loomed as a serious racial conflict - pitting angry Negroes against whites - and impaired the city's community relations."

Because of the status of the local CP, described above, there is no communist policy or strategy in racial matters, or in anything else, except what instructions JOHNSON individually received from GEORGE MEYERS or the District Board.

Therefore, there is no info on communist policy or strategy in racial matters being reported by WFO. Baltimore's report will cover these items for WFO, too, because that is where the policy and strategy for this area comes from.

III. Communist Penetration and Influence in Racial and other Organizations

A. March on Washington, August 28, 1963

"The Sunday Star" newspaper, August 25, 1963, Page A1, contained an article concerning the March on Washington, August 28, 1963. The article stated that Washington, D. C., was about ready to receive an estimated 100,000 or more persons coming to Washington to march under a banner calling for equal job rights and freedom for Negroes.

The leaders of the March on Washington stated that the purpose of the March was to redress racial grievances and to help resolve an American crisis. This crisis, they said, was born of the twin evils of racism and economic deprivation... which rob all people, Negro and white, of dignity, self respect and freedom. The leaders stated that these evils impose a special burden on the Negro, who is denied the right to vote, economically exploited, refused access to public accommodations, subjected to inferior education, and relegated to substandard ghetto housing. They also stated that discrimination in education and apprenticeship training renders Negroes, Puerto Ricans, Mexicans and other minority helpless in our mechanized industrial society.

The article stated that the leaders of the March stated that the March was to demonstrate, massively and dramatically, their unalterable opposition to these forces - and to their century-long robbery of the American people.

The article stated that the marchers had ten demands. Top on the list was "comprehensive and effective civil rights legislation to guarantee all Americans access to all public accommodations, decent housing, adequate and integrated education and the right to vote."

The article continued that the marchers also demanded withholding of federal funds from all programs in which discrimination existed; the desegregation of all school districts in 1963; the reduction of congressional representation for states where citizens are disenfranchised; a new executive order banning discrimination and all housing supported by federal funds; authority for the Attorney General to institute injunctive suits when any constitutional right is violated; a massive federal program to train and place all unemployed Negroes and white workers "on meaningful and dignified jobs at decent wages."

The article stated that there were additional demands for a National Minimum Wage Act that "will give all Americans a decent standard of living"; a Broadened Fair Labor Standards Act to "include all areas of employment which are presently excluded"; and a Federal Fair Employment Practices Act barring discrimination by employers, contractors, employment agencies and trade unions as well as government units.

WF T-1, August 24, 1963

WF T-2, on April 20, 1963, advised that [redacted] was cooperating with HERBERT APTHEKER in a project called the American Institute for Marxist Studies (AIMS). APTHEKER wanted to establish AIMS for the purpose of giving "Marxism a status in the United States like it has in England."

b6

WF T-3, on May 13, 1964, stated that HERBERT APTHEKER attended an enlarged meeting of the National Executive Committee, Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), held in New York City on May 13, 1962. The March, 1963, edition of "Political Affairs," self-described as the theoretical organ of the CP, USA, identified APTHEKER as its editor.

WF T-5 advised on June 19, 1963, that [redacted] were current members of the CP.

GEORGE MEYERS planned to meet at the home of [redacted] b6 b7C [redacted] Together with [redacted] he planned to proceed downtown in Washington, D. C., to a point where they could observe the March on Washington on August 28, 1963.

WF T-1, August 17, 1963

WF T-4, on April 5, 1963, advised that GEORGE MEYERS was Chairman of the Maryland-District of Columbia District of the CP, USA and was a member of the National Committee of the CP, USA. Md. DC

CHARLES GIFT and BURTON FELTER attended the March on Washington on August 28, 1963. They did not participate in the activities but merely observed the proceedings.

WF T-6, August 30, 1963

WF T-5, on June 18, 1963, identified CHARLES GIFT and BURTON FELTER as current CP members in Washington, D. C.

B. Jewish Culture Society Meeting, October 8, 1963.

The Jewish Culture Society has been designated by the Attorney General pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

Records of the District of Columbia reflect that the Jewish Culture Society occupies the premises at 4402 Georgia Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. The building at 4402 Georgia Avenue, N. W., is identified on its exterior with the words, "Culture Center."

WF T-7 has advised that the Jewish Culture Society is also known as the Center Committee and that the Center Committee is the "main body or focus of activity at the Center."

WF T-8 advised on October 8, 1963, that the Center Committee would sponsor a cultural meeting on October 16, 1963, at the Culture Center. The speaker would be MORRIS U. SCHAPPES, Managing Editor of "Jewish Currents."

"Jewish Currents" publication is described in the appendix.

WF T-7 advised in late October, 1963, that about 50 to 60 persons gathered at the Culture Center, 4402 Georgia Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C., on the evening of October 16, 1963, to hear MORRIS U. SCHAPPES speak on the topic, "Problems of the Jewish - Negro Relations."

SCHAPPES was introduced by [redacted] of the Center Committee. In introducing SCHAPPES [redacted] stated SCHAPPES was the editor of "the most heroic Jewish publication that I know, 'Jewish Currents'."

b7C

[redacted] identified [redacted] as being known to her to be a Communist Party member as of 1949.

b6
b7D

The following is a summary of SCHAPPES' speech:

There are problems of Jewish-Negro relations. Negro problems are problems of the Jews. Not all Jews and Negroes get along together and conflicts naturally arise. There are those who can also mislead and divert the Negro people from concentration on the target-equality. Jews must understand the Negro people and their problems. ". . . it is to some of these problems we need to turn."

The Jewish community as a whole has been slow to recognize that there is a Negro freedom movement which is stepping up the pace for equality. "The Negro people have stepped up their pace and our answer has to be that we must keep step with you."

Approximately a year ago an article was published concerning the image of the Jew in the Negro community which provoked thought and caused a stir in "progressive circles." It caused a stir because of the way "progressive Jews had allowed themselves . . . to get soft on the Negro question, on the relationship of militant, progressive Jews to the . . . Negroes' problems."

Even before the great event of the March on Washington, August 28, 1963, "there had already begun to appear signs of the fact that the Jewish Community was beginning to do the only thing that could possibly be done in this situation, and that was to step up its activity and support the Negro people . . ." As evidence of this, there was active Jewish participation in the March on Washington from the beginning and at all levels. This participation was very conspicuous in Washington. It had a beneficial effect in awakening the Jewish press and community.

". . . I think that first of all we need to remember that whatever problems there are, whatever weaknesses we, ourselves, over the years have shown, in relation to the overall struggle of the Negro people, we were among the first. We progressive Jews of the progressive movement were among the first to see better results going back to the Twenties, to the founding of the NAACP . . . we progressive, secular, radical Jews were not afraid to be conspicuous on the side of Negro equality."

Speaking of the awakening, "while we welcomed and recognized the significance" of Jewish religious groups in the support of the Negro people, leadership came from the "unaffiliated Jews . . . non-synagogue Jews . . . had been involved in civil rights issues prior to the awakening of Jewish religious groups. And the reason I call attention to this is that while we will back and support . . . the Rabbis who have been involved in the struggle . . ., we yield to nobody" in "our" traditional approach to the problem.

The traditional approach, ". . . It is based on the basic belief that social progress in the United States in the last 30 to 40 years has been achieved only through a loose political coalition formed on picket lines, and in sit-ins, and in class struggles, and in demonstrations. . . through a coalition (of) labor, and liberal and Jew and Negro. . . and in this coalition not only have we learned politically in the last 30 years, we have learned this, that this coalition is still indispensable to progress." Neither the Jews, nor the Negroes, nor the working class can make any kind of gain unless they pool their forces in active, militant struggles together for common objectives.

When and if the coalition becomes threatened by internal conflict, then is the time to hold a "consultation" to reunite, for there are common interests of the American people which can not be advanced separately.

The Negro freedom movement is not seeking progress, for the Negroes have steadily progressed since the Emancipation Proclamation was issued 100 years ago. The Negro people are struggling for freedom and equality.

The "racists" have built a roadblock to force and humiliate the Negro, continually and unendingly, which affects living conditions and the level of civil liberties. ". . . So long as (Senator) EASTLAND heads the (Senate) Judiciary Committee, what possible justice to Negro folks can there be in our land? And, how are we going to unseat EASTLAND? . . . How are we going to replace EASTLAND? . . . So it is, you see, it is a roadblock for everybody..."

Negroes expect more of Jews than of white Christians because they know Jews have faced discrimination and persecution. The "progressive" Jewish community has always championed the cause of the Negro people for equality.

Jews as individuals should participate more generally than ever before. Jews can help Negro-Jewish relations by self-policing their actions to minimize friction. Jews can help the Negro cause by attacking "JIM CROW" local unions which practice giving preferential treatment and privileges to white workers.

They can help Negroes secure their right to vote in southern states. They can insist on equality of job opportunities for Negroes. They can help to relieve the high level of Negro unemployment in relation to white workers, and insist that more jobs are created, and better housing provided. They can insist that the Federal Government institute a crash program to help the Negro in his struggle for equality.

The Negro is not asking for preferential treatment or special privileges. All he is asking for is special attention to his problem.

C. Meeting on Civil Rights at American University, October 10, 1963

The Executive Board of the Washington Area Committee for the Abolition of the HCUA House Un-American Activities Committee (WACAHUAC), met on September 29, 1963, to decide whether the WACAHUAC should hold a planned meeting on October 10, 1963, at American University or at some local church. The meeting had been discussed by one of those present with the President of the American University Student Council who had suggested that the meeting be held at American University.

WF T-5, September 29, 1963
WF T-9, October 1, 1963

The WACAHUAC is described in the appendix.

It had been decided that the October 10, 1963, meeting at American University would be officially sponsored by the American University student group. WACAHUAC was not to officially sponsor the meeting but was to do most of the organizing work.

WF T-6, October 1, 1963

The National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee (NCAHUAC), the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Incorporated (SCEF), and the American Nazi Party (ANP) are all identified in the appendix.

WFO 100-43710

"The Evening Star," a daily newspaper published in Washington, D. C., on Page B-1 of its October 10, 1963, issue carried an article captioned "Contributions' Barred at AU Rights Talks." This article stated that Dr. HURST R. ANDERSON, President of American University (AU), had declared there would be no admission charge at a civil rights discussion to be held on the campus on October 10, 1963. The article continued that Dr. ANDERSON had said he was unaware until October 10, 1963, of any proposal to charge a "contribution" for the meeting, with the proceeds going to the WACAHUAC. According to the article, he stated, "We will not permit ourselves to be used by any agency or group for the sale of tickets or raising of money for any activity of a political character."

WF T-6, on October 11, 1963, advised that WACAHUAC officials had been notified by the AU president that the university would underwrite all expense involved with the meeting, including an honorarium for JAMES FORMAN, one of the speakers. Informant said WACAHUAC had been advised that there were to be no collections at the door.

The informant continued that WACAHUAC officials were apprehensive about the possibility of members of the ANP creating a disturbance at the meeting and had taken steps to arrange for people to be on the door in order to keep possible trouble makers out of the meeting. WF T-6 stated that AU authorities would not permit this, saying that the meeting was open to all.

Southern Conference Educational Fund

WF T-6 and WF T-9, on October 11, 1963, advised that a meeting featuring AUBREY WILLIAMS, President Emeritus of the SCEF, FRANK WILKINSON, Executive Secretary of the NCAHUAC and JAMES FORMAN, Executive Secretary of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), as speakers, was held on October 10, 1963, at the gymnasium at AU. Informants advised this meeting was attended by in excess of 500 people, most of whom were students.

AUBREY WILLIAMS

JOHN BUTLER, of Dallas, Texas, identified in testimony before the United States Senate Internal Security Subcommittee on March 19, 1954, at New Orleans, Louisiana, as a former Communist Party (CP) member, testified that he was introduced to AUBREY WILLIAMS in 1952 as "Comrade WILLIAMS;" that he participated with WILLIAMS in a "Conference" of communist affairs about one month later, and that he heard WILLIAMS mentioned often as a communist.

PAUL CROUCH, identified at the same hearing as a former CP organizer, testified that he was introduced to WILLIAMS by HERBERT BENJAMIN, whom he identified as a charter member of the CP, as one of the "chief national leaders." CROUCH testified further that he would not have made statements to WILLIAMS unless "I had been informed that he was a secret member."

WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, a self-confessed communist, in testimony on August 3, 1948, before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, stated he did not know AUBREY WILLIAMS, but that he had heard communists mention WILLIAMS as a friend of the CP.

At the New Orleans Senate Subcommittee Hearing, mentioned above, WILLIAMS denied ever having been a member of the CP. At this hearing, WILLIAMS was cooperative with the Committee and answered questions pertaining to his past associations.

DC FRANK WILKINSON member of the National Committee to Abolish the HCUA b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] a CP member from approximately [redacted] advised on [redacted] that FRANK WILKINSON was a member of the Los Angeles County, California, CP as of September, 1952.

The first speaker was AUBREY WILLIAMS, who did not complete his speech due to incessant heckling on the part of members of the ANP. WF T-9 stated these individuals were spotted around the audience and several of them were ejected from the meeting after the Chairman appealed for police assistance. WF T-9 stated the heckling began by loud coughing and was followed by shouts of "Heil, Hitler" and "You communist."

WF T-6 and WF T-9 advised the next speaker was FRANK WILKINSON, who was also heckled by members of the ANP. Informants stated WILKINSON's speech attacked the House Committee on Un-American Activities (HCUA) and in it, he indicated that the success of the civil rights movement goes hand in hand with the abolition of the HCUA. WILKINSON made a long speech in which he gave biographical sketches of the members of the HCUA and in which he pointed to specific cases in the South to back up his argument.

WF T-9 stated that at one point during his speech, WILKINSON was attacked on the platform by a young woman and that it was necessary for several people to pull her off of him. This person was ejected by the police, as were several other individuals who heckled him from the floor.

WF T-6 and WF T-9 advised the third speaker, JAMES FORMAN, reviewed the activities of the SNCC and called for abolition of the HCUA. During his speech, he said HCUA is afraid of a transfer of political power in the South which would come about in certain areas where Negroes form the majority of the population.

Informants stated that FORMAN's speech was well received and that he received a standing ovation. WF T-2 added that FRANK WILKINSON's speech was rather long and many students walked out of the meeting while he was talking.

"The Washington Post and Times Herald," a daily newspaper published in Washington, D.C., in its issue of October 11, 1963, Page A-8, carried an article captioned, "14 Seized as Hecklers at Civil Rights Debate." This article referred to the above meeting and stated that 13 men and a girl had been arrested "in what appeared to be a well-planned attempt to sabotage a Student Association-sponsored panel discussion on 'Civil Rights and Civil Liberties'."

D. Party on April 25, 1964, to Raise Money For the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee

"The Washington Post," April 27, 1964, on the first page of the Appendix Section, contained an article entitled "Gregory Predicts Social Revolution." The article stated that comedian DICK GREGORY spoke at a pre-show cocktail party on Saturday, April 25, 1964, at the home of Mr.. and Mrs. LUKE W. WILSON on the grounds of the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Maryland, (9100 Rockville Pike, Bethesda, Maryland). The article stated that the WILSONs, who donated the National Institutes of Health site to the Government, asked friends - many of whom were members of the Friends of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Comiittee or the Women's Strike for Peace, both of which Mrs. WILSON is associated with - to meet GREGORY and the Freedom Singers and to help raise money for the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC). GREGORY and the Freedom Singers were in Washington to appear in a show Saturday, April 25, 1964, to benefit the SNCC's Mississippi summer project.

In September, 1955, [redacted] was identified by WF T-22 as a current member of the CP. The source further advised that [redacted] was [redacted] CP Committee.

WF T-15 advised in 1962, that [redacted] in [redacted] was a financial contributor to the CP.

WF T-15 advised in October, 1954, that [redacted] was a contributor of money to the CP in the amount of [redacted] to [redacted] and was a secret member of the CP. The above information about [redacted] applies to the period sometime in [redacted] The source previously stated in [redacted] that the source heard that [redacted] was not then a member of, or a contributor to, the CP.

E. National Association for the Advancement Of Colored People (NAACP) Convention, Washington, D. C., June, 1964

On June 23, 1964, at 3:15 p.m. at the 55th Annual NAACP Convention in Washington, D. C., a political action workshop took place in the form of a panel discussion. Following the panel discussion, questions were allowed from the floor. CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT was observed to enter the room and walk down a side aisle to the rear of the room. When people began lining up at a microphone to ask questions, LIGHTFOOT got in line. However, time ran out before he got to the microphone. He was not observed with anyone else and it did not appear that he was recognized by more than four people present.

He said one of the primary objectives of SNCC is to ensure voting rights for the Negroes.

On July 18, 1963, WF T-14 advised GEORGE MEYERS has urged CP members in Virginia to contact [redacted] whom he described as not a communist but who is willing to talk to anyone who wishes to help in the struggle for Negro rights.

HAL WITT, Washington, D.C., attorney, Md. then spoke and said Negroes in Mississippi are beaten up when they endeavor to register to vote. For this reason, the Negro did not want to register to vote. He also said that the police in Mississippi appear to actually enjoy molesting the Negroes. He said money is needed to provide educational facilities there in order to obtain the rights for Negroes and that people in Mississippi working for this cause are paid a meager sum of $9 per week, which presents a problem in trying to get others to go to Mississippi to help.

Following the speeches, [redacted] Md. b6 b7C and [redacted] took up a collection. Over $1,200 was collected. The money is to be turned over to the local SNCC office for transmittal to SNCC in Mississippi.

G. Meeting to Support the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party (MFDP), August 12, 1964

[redacted] believed to be [redacted]

On August 12, 1964, WF T-9 advised that an informal meeting was held on the evening of August 11, 1964, at the home of [redacted] ETHEL WEISSER, [redacted] This meeting was attended by approximately 30 to 35 people and featured two young people who have been active in integration work in the State of Mississippi. They were [redacted] and a young white man by the name of [redacted] (phonetic). b6 b7C

Both [redacted] and [redacted] spoke of their experiences in working with the [redacted] in [redacted] Mississippi. They stated they are working with the MFDP in [redacted], temporarily. b6 b7C

WF T-9 continued that [redacted] main theme centered around the difficulty they experienced in carrying on their integration work. She told of acts on the part of white people in Mississippi designed to intimidate both the integration workers and the Negroes, such as the electricity being shut off, telephones being tapped, and integration workers being surveilled by various white people. With regard to this latter point, [redacted] stated that when traveling by automobile b6 b7C the integration workers carry two-way radios for protection so they can call for help in the event of any incident. She stated there were only three white people in her section of Mississippi who will openly work with the MFDP. She said there is no support given the organization by Negro teachers, as they have been informed that they could lose their jobs by doing this.

WF T-9 continued that [redacted] stated people in the North have no understanding of the intimidation of Negroes in Mississippi by white people. He said that the Negroes cannot leave because they have no funds to leave with and they have no education. [redacted] stated the MFDP wants to unseat the regular Democratic delegation from Mississippi at the National Democratic Convention to be held this month in Atlantic City, New Jersey. He said the MFDP is working for support for their position among individuals and organizations. He requested that President LYNDON B. JOHNSON be deluged with telegrams on August 21, 1964, in support of the MFDP. [redacted] made no mention of any other plan of action of the MFDP. b6 b7C

The source stated that a collection was taken from among those present, but no announcement was made as to the amount collected. Informant added that the following were among those present at this meeting:

[redacted] HELEN WINIK
[redacted] ETHEL WEISSER
[redacted] b6 b7C

[redacted] advised that [redacted] was transferred to [redacted] CP [redacted] would be assigned to a local Community Club of the CP. b6 b7C b7D

AMERICAN NAZI PARTY OF THE WORLD UNION OF
FREE ENTERPRISE NATIONAL
SOCIALISTS, ALSO KNOWN AS THE
GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL PARTY

In his book "This Time the World," copyrighted in 1961, George Lincoln Rockwell identified himself as Commander, American Nazi Party of the World Union of Free Enterprise National Socialists (ANP - WUFENS), Arlington, Virginia.

The April 4, 1963 issue of "The Richmond News Leader," a Richmond, Virginia daily newspaper, reported that George Lincoln Rockwell had, on the previous day, again applied for the American Nazi Party to be chartered in the State of Virginia, but this request was turned down by the Virginia State Corporation Commission. This action was taken pursuant to an act of the 1962 Virginia Assembly which prohibits use of "Nazi" or "National Socialism" in a Virginia charter. This article further pointed out that Rockwell's party is presently chartered in the State of Virginia as the George Lincoln Rockwell Party.

On August 19, 1963, a source advised that the ANP - WUFENS was organized by George Lincoln Rockwell at his residence in Arlington, Virginia, on February 26, 1959, as an international "National Socialist" movement based on the German Nazi Party headed by Adolf Hitler. He added that Rockwell is the dominant force and personality in this party; that he is espousing a "line" of hatred against the Jews and Negroes; and that he is seeking, through speeches, distribution of literature and picketing, to establish a cohesive and dominant political party in the United States and in foreign countries.

On December 13, 1963, this source advised that in about September, 1960, the ANP initiated the Fighting American Nationalists (FAN) as a front group for the ANP although it has never been a separate organization. The source said the FAN name is merely used on occasion instead of the ANP name and there are no separate officials for FAN, the FAN officials being identical with the ANP officials. He stated that George

SOCIALISTS, ALSO KNOWN AS THE
GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL PARTY

Lincoln Rockwell has informed him the FAN name was originally used as a device to attract supporters to his organization who might rebel at the use of the swastika and at being labeled as a Nazi.

He added that the ANP has operated under the FAN name throughout the country with the exception of a group operating under the FAN name in Baltimore, Maryland. He said the FAN group in Baltimore is now, and always has been, a separate organization and not a part of the ANP.

On October 3, 1963, [redacted] of the FAN group [redacted] advised that the Baltimore FAN, which was organized in the Spring of 1961, has no official connection with the ANP although until December, 1962, it received all its literature from George Lincoln Rockwell's ANP. b6 b7C

According to the "Stormtrooper's Manual," an official publication of the ANP, the phases of ANP struggle for power are fourfold, namely, first "to make ourselves known to the masses"; second "the dissemination of our program and the truth about the Party"; third "organizing the people who have been converted to our propaganda" and fourth "the attainment of power through the votes of the newly-won masses."

"JEWISH CURRENTS"
Formerly known as "Jewish Life"

"Jewish Life" for October, 1957, announced that after the October issue, and with the next issue to be published in January, 1958, the magazine was changing its name to "Jewish Currents" because of the claim of the name "Jewish Life" by the magazine "Orthodox Jewish Life".

The May, 1961, issue reported that "Jewish Currents" is published by Jewish Currents, Inc., Room 601, 22 East 17th Street, New York City.

Concerning "Jewish Life", the Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications, dated December 1, 1961 and prepared by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, stated:

> "(1) Cited as a Communist front which first appeared in November, 1946, as a monthly published by the Morning Freiheit Association, publishers of the Yiddish Communist daily, 'Morning Freiheit'... The first issue contained this announcement of policy: 'Jewish Life dedicates itself to strengthening the friendship of the Jewish people with the Soviet Union...'

NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO ABOLISH THE HOUSE UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," issued December 1, 1961, by the Committee on Un-American Activities, U. S. House of Representatives, Page 115, contains the following citation regarding the National Committee to Abolish the Un-American Activities Committee (NCAUAC).

"Cited as a 'new organization' set up in the Summer of 1960 to lead and direct the Communist Party's 'Operation Abolition' campaign. Seven of the national leaders of this group have been identified as Communists."

"(Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 1278 on the Truth About the Film 'Operation Abolition,' Part 1, October 3, 1961, p.5)"

A source has advised that the NCAUAC changed its name on March 3, 1962, to include the word "House" in its name, thereby becoming known as the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee (NCAHUAC). A national meeting of this organization was held in Chicago, Illinois, on April 27 and 28, 1963.

APPENDIX

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE EDUCATIONAL FUND, INC.

"The Southern Patriot," a monthly publication, shows that it is published by the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc. (SCEF).

"The Southern Patriot" was cited as an "organ" of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare (SCHW) by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 592, on the SCHW, June 12, 1947.

The SCHW was cited as a communist front by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 592, June 16, 1947.

An amendment to the charter of the SCHW changed the name of that organization to the SCEF, and listed its purpose as being to improve the educational and cultural standards of the Southern people in accordance with the highest American democratic institutions, traditions, and ideals. The amendment was dated April 26, 1946.

A source advised on March 2, 1961, that Claude Lightfoot, a Communist Party functionary, stated at a meeting of the Communist Party in Baltimore, Maryland, on February 25,1961, that the Communist Party is not connected with any progressive movement but indirectly they do have some influence in the SCEF.

A second source, who is familiar with some phases of Communist Party activity in the New Orleans area, advised on May 27, 1963, that during the time the SCHW was in existence, Communist Party (CP) members were members of and worked actively in the SCHW. However, since the formation of the SCEF, rank and file CP members have not been encouraged to work in the SCEF. The source stated that the SCEF is a progressive, liberal organization, which he considers a CP front organization because it has gone along with the Communist Party on certain issues, particularly on the racial question.

On May 27, 1963, the second source advised that in the past, he has considered James Dombrowski, the Executive Director of the SCEF, to be a communist, if not an actual Communist Party member, because he followed communist principles.

The second source also advised on May 27, 1963, that many people who are officials and members of the SCEF, while liberal in their views, are by no means communists.

WASHINGTON AREA COMMITTEE FOR THE ABOLITION OF THE HOUSE UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE

A source advised during June - August, 1961, that the Washington Area Committee for the Abolition of the House Un-American Activities Committee (WACAHUAC) was founded at a public meeting in Washington, D.C., on June 8, 1961, to campaign for the abolition of the House Committee on Un-American Activities (HCUA). [redacted] was elected [redacted] WACAHUAC on [redacted] and the organization's policy statement, as rewritten by Joseph Forer, was accepted by the WACAHUAC Executive Board in August, 1961. Source advised on [redacted] that [redacted] had been appointed [redacted] to replace [redacted] who had resigned, and would be assisted in his duties by [redacted] On April 14, 1964, this source furnished information showing [redacted] works closely with Ethel Weisser in conducting the affairs of the WACAHUAC. b6 b7C

A second source, on September 12, 1962, advised the WACAHUAC is affiliated with the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee (NCAHUAC). On April 14, 1964, the first source advised the WACAHUAC is still in existence and continues to be affiliated with the NCAHUAC.

A third source has identified [redacted] and Ethel Weisser as Communist Party (CP) members during the period 1953 - 1954. b6 b7C

Joseph Forer is one of the attorneys who has represented the CP-USA before the United States Court of Appeals and the United States Supreme Court. In September, 1959, a fourth source advised that a member of the National Committee of the CP-USA had recently referred to Forer as "one of the most important communists in Washington, D.C."

The NCAHUAC is characterized separately in the Appendix.

Title: COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS

Character: INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Synopsis:

San Diego Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (SDB-SWP) started work in the Negro movement in San Diego, California, on 7/16/63. SDB-SWP participation to date has consisted of a few members attending Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) meetings and demonstrations. There is no evidence that the SDB-SWP exerts any influence on racial matters in San Diego. The San Diego chapter of CORE was organized in June, 1961, and until 12/4/61 was controlled by the San Diego Communist Party (CP). Only two San Diego CP members are currently members of CORE, but other CP members take part in CORE meetings and demonstrations. There is no evidence that the San Diego CP exerts any influence on racial matters in San Diego. The San Diego chapter of CORE is the only racial group active in the San Diego racial movement.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

(A.) COMMUNIST PARTY, USA
SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA DISTRICT,
SAN DIEGO DIVISION

At a San Diego Communist Party (CP) club meeting on July 23, 1963, San Diego, California, [redacted] a regular member of the San Diego CP, suggested that a united civil rights organization be formed. He said that labor leaders should be contacted, as well as representatives of civil rights organizations, to get their views on a united organization. b6 b7C CALIF

(SD T-7, July 25, 1963)

No steps have been taken to date by the San Diego CP to carry out the above-mentioned plan for a united civil rights organization.

SD T-3, August 29, 1963)

At a regular meeting of the San Diego CP held [redacted], at the home of [redacted] of the San Diego CP, [redacted] advised that he had attended a recent Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) meeting with [redacted], another regular member of the San Diego CP, and he had volunteered for direct action along with [redacted] another regular member of the San Diego CP. There was a discussion of what part the San Diego CP should play in connection with CORE and its activities. It was the general feeling that the San Diego CP should stay on the fringes and give what assistance and leadership they could. [redacted] another regular member of the San Diego CP, said that if it comes to the point where they need money, then the San Diego CP should make an effort to give whatever they could to render financial assistance. [redacted] b6 b7C CALIF commented on [redacted] and [redacted] participation and said this was the sort of thing that was good, and that with [redacted] connection with [redacted] of the [redacted] CORE, he was able to influence him on organization.

b6

(SD T-3, November 25, 1963)

On March 31, 1964, SD T-7 advised that the San Diego chapter of CORE was organized in June, 1961, and until December 4, 1961, was controlled by the CP. Since that date, although several of its members have attended CORE meetings and participated in its functions, the CP has not exerted any appreciable influence over the activities or policies of the organization.

On November 14, 1963, at a meeting of the San Diego CP, there was a discussion about CORE picketing the San Diego Gas and Electric Company. [redacted] said that the club should support CORE and, if possible, San Diego CP members should participate in the picketing. Nobody present, however, would agree to do anything on the picket line which would result in their being arrested.

(B.) SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY
SAN DIEGO BRANCH

The Socialist Workers Party has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

A characterization of the San Diego Branch of the Socialist Workers Party appears in the appendices hereto.

At a meeting of the San Diego Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (SDB-SWP) held on July 16, 1963, the branch decided that efforts should be concentrated on the current Negro struggle and that more members should join CORE and possibly the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

An article in "The Daily Aztec," a newspaper self-described as published by and for the students of San Diego State College, under date of November 20, 1963, reflected that CLIFTON DE BERRY, a Negro, had spoken on the San Diego State College campus on November 19, 1963, and had advocated the formation of an all-Negro political party as a necessary change in the American social structure for the obtaining of more civil rights for Negroes. DE BERRY was described in the article as a member of the Socialist Workers Party.

CLIFTON DE BERRY, from Brooklyn, New York, who was a Socialist Workers Party candidate-at-large for the city council in New York City in November, 1963, was the principal speaker at an open meeting held in San Diego on the evening of November 19, 1963. Approximately 50 persons were present. DE BERRY spoke for the creation of a new third party, referred to as the Freedom Now Party. He stated that the only means for Negroes to gain equal rights was through politics, and he suggested that a third party was necessary. There were speakers from other groups representing a racial minority on the same program, and one of these speakers was HENRY X MIMS of Muhammad's Mosque No. 8 (MM#8) of the Nation of Islam (NOI) in San Diego. MIMS spoke for segregation and against integration.

SD T-8, November 21, 1963
SD T-10, November 26, 1963)

Characterizations of MM#8, the NOI, and the Freedom Now Party appear in the appendices hereto.

A meeting of the SDB-SWP was held on December 17, 1964. There was discussion concerning a plan to bring WILLIAM WORTHY, JR. to San Diego to speak on January 14, 1964. [redacted], a regular member of the SDB-SWP, read a letter from WORTHY in which WORTHY said he wanted $100 for two days in San Diego plus expenses. [redacted], a regular member of the SDB-SWP, proposed that WORTHY be given $50 for one day. A call was made to New York and WORTHY agreed to the [redacted] for one day. [redacted] said that WORTHY told him on the telephone that he, WORTHY, wanted a neutral meeting hall and a joint sponsorship so that his appearance to speak in San Diego would not look like a Socialist Workers Party activity completely. [redacted] related to the branch members that this was a prudent move, because he said the word is getting out that the Freedom Now Party is just an SWP front. b6 b7C

SD T-8, December 20, 1963)

WILLIAM WORTHY, JR., who traveled to Cuba and Red China despite the U. S. State Department bans and who was introduced as a leader of the Freedom Now Party in New York, addressed a meeting of approximately 50 persons at the Church of the Brethren, San Diego, on the night of January 14, 1964. This affair was sponsored by the San Diego Committee for a Freedom Now Party. WORTHY stated that the struggles of the American Negro were a part of the anti-colonial movement in the world and that the American Negro has the status of an "internal colony." He said it was necessary for American Negroes to take independent political action, because of the corruption of American society and the major political parties. CALIF

(SD T-2, January 30, 1964
SD T-8, January 16, 1964
SD T-10, January 21, 1964)

There is no such organization or committee as the San Diego Committee for a Freedom Now Party. The name and committee are fictitious and were originated by the SDB-SWP in an effort to conceal SWP sponsorship of WORTHY's speaking engagement in San Diego.

(SD T-1, January 18, 1964
SD T-2, January 18, 1964)

CLIFTON DE BERRY, the SWP candidate for President of the United States in 1964, addressed a group of 24 persons at the Adams Avenue Assembly Hall, San Diego, on the evening of May 5, 1964. The meeting was sponsored by the San Diego

Labor Forum (SDLF). DE BERRY declared, "Freedom, justice, and equality are incompatible with the capitalistic system." DE BERRY lauded Cuba and the upsurge of racial equality being practiced there. DE BERRY stated, "It is under a democratic regime that we view in horror police brutality to our people by unleashing of dogs, fire hoses, and cattle prods."

At the meeting of the SDB-SWP held on September 15, 1964, there was continued discussion concerning CORE. [redacted] made a motion which was passed unanimously that a CORE faction be formed within the SDB-SWP to handle further CORE activities by SWP members in CORE. There was then discussion concerning the location of a headquarters for the San Diego Branch. [redacted] said that [redacted] had a tentative location in mind which was near Sampson and Harrison Streets in the Logan Heights, or Negro section of southeast San Diego. The branch then became engaged in a very heated discussion as to locating the branch in the Negro "ghetto" or as to whether the branch headquarters should be located in a white neighborhood. The matter was left open pending recommendations by several comrades on what could be found in the way of a suitable headquarters location.

(SD T-8, September 16, 1964)

At a regular meeting of the SDB-SWP on August 25, 1964, after much heated discussion, it was decided to hold an educational, covering several meetings, to outline the SWP's position in penetrating and working with the Negro movement.

(G.) CORE Demonstration, San Diego, California, August 7, 1964

On August 7, 1964, the San Diego chapter of CORE staged a demonstration at the main office of the Bank of America, San Diego, in protest of alleged discriminatory hiring practices, in violation of a preliminary injunction issued in San Diego Superior Court on August 6, 1964. Approximately 60 persons participated in the demonstration, which consisted of picketing and sit-ins outside the entrance to the bank. Minor violence occurred which consisted of bystanders and picketers shoving for a few moments, but there were no arrests at this time. Observed participating in the sit-in in front of the entrance were [redacted] and [redacted] b6 b7C

Inspector O. J. ROED, San Diego Police Department, advised that bank officials intended to attempt to obtain arrest warrants for contempt of court for the people participating in the sit-in.

On August 12, 1964, Inspector O. J. ROED advised that Superior Court Judge VINCENT A. WHELAN had ordered the arrest of 23 persons who had participated in the demonstration in violation of a preliminary injunction. Bail was set at $300 and the persons were ordered to appear on August 20, 1964, to show cause why they should not be cited for contempt of court.

On August 14, 1964, Captain [redacted] San Diego County Sheriff's Office, advised that among those arrested was [redacted] b6 b7C

On August 28, 1964, Captain [redacted] San Diego Police Department, advised that on that date in Superior Court, San Diego, [redacted] was among 11 CORE demonstrators found guilty of willful contempt for mass picketing, stand-ins, and sit-ins on August 7, 1964, at the Bank of America, Main Office, San Diego. [redacted] was sentenced to five days in the [redacted] with four of the five days suspended on condition there be no further violation of the court order. b6 b7C

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

San Diego CP members had organized and controlled CORE in San Diego until early in December, 1961, at which time CORE was reorganized, and since then San Diego CP members no longer exercise any appreciable influence on a policy level.

(SD T-5, October 2, 1963
SD T-6, October 2, 1963)

On October 14, 1963, SD T-5 and SD T-6 advised that CORE still remains free of CP domination.

A CORE meeting was held November 7, 1963, in one of the public school gymnasiums in San Diego. Approximately 150 people were present, among whom three San Diego CP members were recognized: [redacted] and [redacted] former CP member, was present. b6 b7C

(SD T-3, November 25, 1963)

A leaflet had been publicly distributed in San Diego, and this leaflet pointed out that JOHN PORTER, attorney, who had been active in CORE, is a past member of the CP. This leaflet caused both San Diego CP members and CORE leaders some concern. PORTER offered his resignation, but it was not accepted. It was decided that PORTER would not be active in CORE affairs, but he would be kept for legal advice.

(SD T-3, January 30, 1964)

On May 7, 1964, the bi-monthly meeting of CORE was held, and about 60 people were present. Three San Diego CP members were present: [redacted] and [redacted] b6 b7C

A source advised on May 5, 1964 that Muhammad's Mosque Number 8 (MM#8), San Diego, California, of the Nation of Islam, was organized on or about August 1, 1950, in San Diego, California, and has been active since that time. MM#8 was formerly referred to as Muslim Temple of Islam Number 8 (MTI#8). It is the San Diego mosque of the Nation of Islam (NOI), which has its headquarters in Chicago, Illinois. MM#8 follows the doctrines and teachings of the NOI and is dominated and controlled by the NOI, which approves its membership and supervises its activity. This source advised that since October of 1959, MM#8 has been located at 2575 Imperial Avenue, San Diego, California.

APPENDIX

NATION OF ISLAM, formerly referred to as the Muslim Cult of Islam, also known as Muhammad's Temples of Islam

In January, 1957, a source advised Elijah Muhammad has described his organization on a nationwide basis as the "Nation of Islam," (NOI) and "Muhammad's Temples of Islam."

On May 8, 1964, a second source advised Elijah Muhammad is the national leader of the NOI; Muhammad's Temple of Islam No. 2, 5335 South Greenwood Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, is the national headquarters of the NOI; and in mid-1960 Muhammad and other NOI officials, when referring to Muhammad's organization on a nationwide basis, commenced using either "Mosque" or "Temple" when mentioning one of "Muhammad's Temples of Islam."

The NOI is an all-Negro organization which was originally organized in 1930 in Detroit, Michigan. Muhammad claims to have been selected by Allah, the Supreme Being, to lead the so-called Negro race out of slavery in the wilderness of North America by establishing an independent black nation in the United States. Members following Muhammad's teachings and his interpretation of the "Koran" believed there is no such thing as a Negro; that the so-called Negroes are slaves of the white race, referred to as "white devils," in the United States; and that the white race, because of its exploitation of the so-called Negroes, must and will be destroyed in the approaching "War of Armageddon."

In the past, officials and members of the NOI, including Muhammad, have refused to register under the provisions of the Selective Service Acts and have declared that members owe no allegiance to the United States.

On May, 1958, the first source advised Muhammad had, on advice of legal counsel, tempered his personal statements and instructions to his ministers concerning the principles of his organization in order to avoid possible prosecution by the United States Government; however, he did not indicate any fundamental changes in the teachings of his organization.

NOI Con't.

On May 7, 1964, a third source advised Muhammad had, early in July, 1958, decided to de-emphasize the religious aspects of the teachings of Islam and to stress the economic benefits to be derived by those Negroes who joined the NOI. This policy change, according to Muhammad, would help him acquire additional followers and create more interest in his programs.

"FREEDOM NOW PARTY"

The "New York Times", August 24, 1963, page 1, carried an article entitled, "An all-Negro party for '64 is formed." The article related that a national all-Negro political party was being organized. It hoped to run its own slate in the congressional and local elections in 1964. A tentative national committee had opened offices at 81 East 125th Street, New York City.

A leaflet entitled, "A Call for a Freedom Now Party" was publicly circulated in the summer of 1963 and called for the formation of a Freedom Now Party "with an all-Black slate and a platform for liberation".

Confidential informants of this Bureau who have furnished reliable information in the past recently supplied the following information. b6 b7C

Martin Luther King, Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), and some of his representatives have been negotiating with "The Saturday Evening Post" concerning the publication of an article in that magazine which will carry King as the author. Such an article [redacted] submitted to the "Post" for publication in King's name. The article reportedly will deal with such matters as the Poverty Bill, elections, riots and the so-called "backlash." b6 b7C [redacted] Labor Youth League, an organization which has been designated as subversive pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

Recently, a number of King's associates, including attorneys representing him, have been negotiating with the "Post" in an effort to have a portion of the article which had been submitted for publication changed. The "Post," however, has indicated a reluctance to make the requested change. It is reported that the article contains some criticism of other civil rights groups and leaders and that inasmuch as King recently received the Nobel Peace Prize, the article should not be critical, but instead should try to unite all civil rights movements. It has also been indicated that King does not want to go too far in the article in condemning civil disobedience because if Senator Barry Goldwater is elected President, King may call for sit-ins and other forms of protest. There is concern in the King camp that the article, if published as originally submitted, would cause certain difficulties in the civil rights movement.

RE: COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS

The records of the New York Secretary of State, Albany, New York, show that the certificate of incorporation of Freedomways Associates, Incorporated, was filed on March 2, 1961.

The Spring, 1964, issue of "Freedomways" is self-described as "A quarterly Review of the Negro Freedom Movement" published by Freedomways Associates, Incorporated, 799 Broadway, New York City.

On May 24, 1961, a third ~~confidential~~ (U) informant, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that a report was given on "Freedomways" at a meeting of the National Board, Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), held on May 24, 1961. It was stated that the original plan called for the publication to be openly Marxist, but that it was later decided it would not be avowedly a Marxist publication. Editorials are in the hands of a mixed group of Marxists and non-Marxists. It was stated that the central purpose of "Freedomways" is to develop a theory and positive criticism of currents in the Negro movement, as well as to raise the level of understanding and discussion taking place in Negro life today and to project a socialist and pro-Soviet orientation.

On May 25, 1961, a fourth ~~confidential~~ (U) informant, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that "Freedomways" was set up for the CPUSA by James Jackson, a member of the National Committee of the CPUSA.

Dear Mr. Moyers:

My memorandum dated October 19, 1964, captioned "Current Racial Developments" furnished information to you concerning a planned tour of the country by Martin Luther King, Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and other civil rights leaders. It was reported that the purpose of the tour would be to encourage voting.

The October 27, 1964, edition of the "Los Angeles Times," a Los Angeles, California, daily newspaper, reported that King spoke in Los Angeles on October 26, 1964, and stated that civil rights demonstrations will resume after the November 3, 1964, election, "in situations that demand them." King was quoted as stating "We did call a moratorium on demonstrations for the campaigns, but naturally after the election there will be a renewal of demonstrations in situations that demand them as long as the evils are there."

ReBulet 8/31/64 which discussed the possibility of the next meeting of the National Negro Commission of the Communist Party (CP), USA, taking place around or shortly after Labor Day, 1964. Instructions were given concerning the necessity for effecting coverage of any such meeting.

The most recent information available concerning the next meeting of the Commission is that in Baltimore airtel and letterhead memorandum, copies to New York, 9/11/64 "CPUSA Organization, IS -C." It was then reported that the Commission meeting originally scheduled for 9/19-20/64 had been postponed until after the November elections.

This communication is for the purpose of emphasizing the necessity for remaining on top of the situation and insuring that your coverage of the Party will alert you to the plans for the next Commission meeting so that you will in turn be able to effect coverage of the meeting. Keep the Bureau and other interested offices promptly advised of pertinent developments.

Reurtel 10-26-64 which reported information concerning a possible demonstration in Montgomery, Alabama, 11-2-64. It was stated that Reverend Abernathy had advised Martin Luther King, Jr. that he, Abernathy, had been in touch with a [redacted] (phonetic) concerning this matter. b6 b7C

Buairtel 10-27-64 referred to your teletype 10-26-64 and, among other things, instructed you advise of any information available identifying the [redacted] (phonetic) referred to previously. b6 b7C

Reurairtel 10-27-64 and enclosed letterhead memorandum (LHM) of same date which reported, with some elaboration, the same information contained in your original teletype of 10-26-64. The LHM, however, referred to [redacted] There was no indication in the LHM that the name was reported phonetic thus giving the impression that there was no doubt as to the accuracy of the name. This would appear to be inconsistent with the first reporting in the teletype although it is recognized that information may have been developed to establish the name positively as [redacted] rather than [redacted] (phonetic). b6 b7C

On the basis of the information available, the individual in question is not identifiable in Bufiles. Furnish advice as to whether or not this individual is known to your office and whether it has been definitely established that his name is [redacted] b6 b7C

It is also noted that reairtel 10-27-64, although a definite follow-up to your teletype of 10-26-64, did not contain any reference. In the future, insure that a reference, as required, is set out as it greatly facilitates the handling of correspondence at the Bureau.

Title: COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS

Character: INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Synopsis: In February, 1964, Communist Party, USA, leaders branded kidnaping trial of MAE MALLORY and her co-defendants in Monroe, N. C., 2/17/64, as a "dastardly racial frame-up" and called for support of the defendants. However, no CP members observed in Monroe during trial. In Summer of 1963 members of Progressive Labor Movement, [redacted] came to Monroe and established headquarters called Freedom House. Their purpose reportedly was to organize Negro workers and to integrate schools. This group planned and led school boycott in Monroe 8/30/63. Also participated in March on Washington 8/28/63. Unsuccessful attempt to boycott Negro school in Monroe, 2/17/64, as a protest of kidnaping trial, led by CLARENCE SENIORS, Chairman of Monroe Defense Committee. SENIORS led picketing of local theater in Monroe on 6/4/64.

DETAILS:

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

(A) COMMUNIST PARTY, USA

1. Plans to Support Monroe Kidnaping Defendants

CE T-1 advised on January 29, 1964, that GEORGE MEYERS from Baltimore, Maryland, spoke at a meeting of Communist Party (CP) officials in New York City on January 29, 1964. MEYERS stated the trial in Monroe, North Carolina, is coming up February 17, 1964, and "The Worker" should have a reporter to cover it and there should be as many observers as possible from churches, the labor movement, and the Negro press.

ILL

CE T-2 advised on August 21, 1964, that GEORGE MEYERS is a member of the National Executive Committee, CP, United States of America (USA).

"The Worker" is an East Coast communist newspaper.

Chief of Police A. A. MAUNEY, Monroe, North Carolina, advised SA [redacted] b6 b7C in August, 1961, that true bills of indictment were returned by a Union County Grand Jury, Monroe, on August 28, 1961, against ROBERT FRANKLIN WILLIAMS, [redacted] and WILLIE MAE MALLORY charging two counts of violation of the North Carolina State Kidnaping Statute in connection with the kidnaping of [redacted] at Monroe on August 27, 1961, following a race riot at Monroe on August 27, 1961. Chief MAUNEY advised that [redacted] and [redacted] were in custody and that WILLIAMS and MALLORY had fled.

C.P. Member

Ohio

MAE MALLORY

Chief MAUNEY advised in January, 1964, that MAE MALLORY had been returned from Cleveland, Ohio, to Monroe in January, 1964, and that the trial of MALLORY, [redacted] and [redacted] was scheduled for the term of Superior Court in Monroe beginning February 17, 1964. b6 b7C

On August 28, 1961, an authorized complaint was filed before United States Commissioner ROBERT L. SCOTT, Charlotte, North Carolina by SA GORDON S. CARR charging WILLIAMS with Unlawful Flight to Avoid Prosecution in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1073, in that WILLIAMS fled the State of North Carolina to avoid prosecution for the crime of kidnaping. On August 28, 1961, ROBERT L. SCOTT issued a Federal warrant charging the above violation and forwarded same to the United States Marshal, Western District of North Carolina, Asheville.

Chief of Police MAUNEY subsequently advised that according to information received by him, WILLIAMS had fled to Cuba, where he is still living.

CE T-3 advised February 17, 1959, that [redacted], while addressing a meeting of [redacted] the Communist Party [redacted] identified WILLIE MAE MALLORY as a Communist Party member. b6 b7C

CE T-4 advised March 6, 1959, that as of March, 1959, [redacted] was [redacted] of the [redacted] Communist Party. NY b6 b7C

CE T-5 advised in 1963 that [redacted] b6 b7C is a follower and loyal supporter of ROBERT FRANKLIN WILLIAMS and was a close associate of WILLIAMS prior to August 27, 1961, when WILLIAMS fled to Cuba and [redacted] NC He said [redacted] on behalf of the Committee to Aid the Monroe Defendants (CAMD) and during the summer of [redacted] was closely associated with members of the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM) in Monroe.

A characterization of CAMD and PLM appears in the Appendix to this report.

T-5 advised in 1963 that [redacted] has been a follower and supporter of ROBERT FRANKLIN WILLIAMS for [redacted] years. He stated since [redacted] he has been working on behalf of CAMD and in the [redacted] he went on a nation-wide speaking tour under the sponsorship of CAMD. NC b6 b7C

CE T-6 advised on [redacted] that during [redacted] a closed membership meeting of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) [redacted] NC b6 b7C SWP has been designated by the United States Attorney General pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

Chief MAUNEY advised February 27, 1964, that about 5:00 p.m., on that day the jury returned a verdict of guilty against MAE MALLORY, [redacted] and [redacted] on two charges each of kidnaping [redacted] All four received prison sentences. He stated subsequently in March, 1964, that all four were released on bond pending appeal of their cases. b6 b7C

The February 4, 1964, issue of "The Worker" carried an article entitled, "CP Spokesmen Urge All-Out Aid to Mrs. Mallory." This article carried statements by GUS HALL and BENJAMIN J. DAVIS, branding the scheduled trial of MAE MALLORY on February 17, 1964, in Monroe as a "dastardly racial frame-up" and "an attempted legal lynching aimed at intimidating the militant Negro people's movement in the Deep South," and they called for all-out support to Mrs. MALLORY's struggle for freedom.

CE T-7 advised May 7, 1962, that GUS HALL is General Secretary of the CP, USA.

CE T-8 advised on May 7, 1962, that BENJAMIN DAVIS stated on May 6, 1962, that he is National Secretary of the CP, USA.

CE T-9 advised on February 24, 1964, and February 25, 1964, that a meeting of the National Negro Commission of CP, USA, was held at 306 East 43rd Street, Chicago, Illinois, on February 22 and 23, 1964. At the session on February 22, 1964, GEORGE MEYERS of Baltimore, Maryland, who was present, stated he attended the trial of MAE MALLORY.

WILLIAM PATTERSON stated at this session that he had attended the opening day of MAE MALLORY's trial in Monroe. PATTERSON stated the basic issue was the right to defend "your" life. He felt the CP must give its support to this trial and to the freedom of MALLORY.

T-9 stated at the session on February 23, 1964, BEN DAVIS stated the National Committee of the CP took the position that they must defend MAE MALLORY and the defendants at all cost in spite of the fact that there are fundamental differences between MALLORY and the CP.

CE T-10 advised on February 18, 1964, that WILLIAM L. PATTERSON was Chairman of the CP, District of New York, and was a member of the National Committee, CP, USA.

NC

T-5 advised February 27, 1964, that no information had come to his attention that WILLIAM L. PATTERSON or any other CP member had attended the Kidnaping trial of MAE MALLORY and her co-defendants in Monroe, North Carolina. He stated there had been no public appearances of any CP members in Monroe.

Chief of Police A. A. MAUNEY and Sheriff D. C. GRIFFIN, Monroe, North Carolina, both stated February 27, 1964, they had received no information from their sources that any CP members had attended the trial of MAE MALLORY.

(B) PROGRESSIVE LABOR MOVEMENT

1. Racial Integration Plans, Monroe, North Carolina

In August, 1963, T-5 advised that racial integration activities in Monroe, North Carolina, have been carried on during the summer of 1963 under the [redacted] and [redacted] who came to Monroe in the early [redacted] and joined forces with [redacted] They have set up headquarters in a house at [redacted] in a Negro residential section of Monroe, which they have named Freedom House. Their first activity consisted of contacting various groups of Negroes in Union County, North Carolina, and in the Pageland, South Carolina, area in an effort to organize maids, cooks and domestic help into a union in order to strike for better pay and working conditions. In the Freedom House they have a mimeograph machine on which they have prepared leaflets demanding better pay for domestic workers, integration of Union County schools, better job opportunities for Negroes and better conditions and pay for sharecroppers. In addition, the group has begun publication of a newspaper entitled, "Freedom." Two issues, on July 15, 1963, and August 15, 1963, have been published.

Characterizations of Freedom House and PLM appear in Appendix to this report.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

(A) CAFETERIA PICKETING, GREENSBORO, NORTH CAROLINA, OCTOBER, 1962

On October 15, 1962, Captain [redacted] b6 b7C Greensboro, North Carolina, Police Department, advised he had been observing the picketing of the S & W Cafeteria on East Market Street in downtown Greensboro, North Carolina, for several days. This picketing was by members of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) opposing segregation of this restaurant. In the picket line on one occasion was a [redacted] female whom he accosted and asked her name. She stated to him she was [redacted] and that she was [redacted] at [redacted] in Greensboro. Captain [redacted] positively identified a photograph of [redacted] as the individual who had stated to him that she was [redacted]

The "Greensboro Daily News," a Greensboro, North Carolina, daily newspaper, in its issue dated October 18, 1962, quoted ARMISTEAD W. SAPP, JR., Attorney for the S & W Cafeteria, as saying Mrs. JEROME had participated in the picketing of the S & W Cafeteria and described her and her husband as known communists and said Mrs. JEROME's husband had served a prison term for violation of the Smith Act.

On August 15, 1962, CE T-11 advised that a a meeting of the Forbes Club, Lower East Side Section of the Communist Party, at which [redacted] was present, held on [redacted] commented [redacted] and that [redacted] was going to [redacted] According to this informant [redacted] was a member of this club. b6 b7C

The "Greensboro Daily News" October 21, 1962, Page B 16, stated that ALICE JEROME, a faculty member at Bennett College, named by a local attorney as a "known Communist" was discharged by action of the Bennett College Board of Trustees. The article went on to state that investigation revealed that her husband had been convicted and sentenced for Federal offenses and that her services would be subject to misinterpretation and embarrassment to the college.

The article continued by stating that Mrs. JEROME, while not denying Communist Party membership, did deny she had attempted to assume any leadership in CORE activities. However, CORE officials admitted Mrs. JEROME was active with picket line in front of the S & W Cafeteria for about two weeks earlier this month.

(B) DEMONSTRATION, RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA, MAY 9, 1963

In its issue of May 10, 1963, "The News and Observer," a Raleigh, North Carolina, daily newspaper, revealed that 60 more demonstrators were arrested on the night of May 9, 1963. A total of 22 were arrested at the S & W Cafeteria, and other arrests were made at the Ambassador Theater, Sir Walter Hotel Coffee House, and Gino's Restaurant. Sixteen of those arrested were placed in the Wake County Jail while the remaining 44 were taken to the Raleigh Police Department, booked, and cited to City Court on May 18, 1963. The article revealed that in the group arrested at the Ambassador Theater was a 34 year old white man who was identified as CLYDE ROBERT APPLETON, Shaw University.

B-[redacted]X

b7C

On March 26, 1956, CE T-12 advised that [redacted] a party in Tucson, Arizona, honoring CLINTON JENCKS. At this party, a Communist Party leader made an appeal for funds.

CLINTON JENCKS was convicted on January 21, 1954, in United States District Court, El Paso, Texas, for violation of the Labor Management Relations Act in that he falsely signed a non-Communist affidavit. JENCKS appealed his conviction to the United States Supreme Court and on June 3, 1957, a new trial was granted by the United States Supreme Court.

On May 13, 1963, CE T-13 advised that massive student demonstrations protesting segregated facilities had been going on in Raleigh, North Carolina, since the first part of May, 1963. He stated that there were no outside individuals influencing the participants, which were composed mostly of Negro students from Shaw University and Saint Augustine's College in Raleigh, with the exception of MARTIN LUTHER KING, whose non-violent movement is a model for the students at these two schools. He stated that the leaders of these demonstrations are the two presidents of the student bodies at those two schools. This source further stated that [redacted] is not a leader in the demonstrations and has no influence on the group. b6 b7C

(C) INTEGRATION ACTIVITIES AND SCHOOL BOYCOTT, MONROE, NORTH CAROLINA SUMMER OF 1963

In connection with another matter, [redacted] b6 b7C was interviewed on [redacted] in [redacted] He stated that he and several associates have been going to [redacted] as they were returning from [redacted] they were followed by [redacted] cars containing [redacted] He alleged that these [redacted] at their car and also [redacted] however, no one was injured. He alleged that about [redacted] prior to this time when he and some of his associates were returning from [redacted] men followed them and [redacted] at their car. He added that [redacted] were continually being harrassed and insulted by persons in the [redacted] areas.

[redacted] stated [redacted] work in the racial field in the [redacted] area commenced in about [redacted] and they are using the names of several organizations to operate under. He stated [redacted] formed an organization known as the Monroe Youth Action Committee, [redacted] b6 b7C

He described this organization as being local and having approximately 200 members. He stated there is a similar organization that was organized by [redacted] associates in Chesterfield County, South Carolina, but this organization has no name. He stated that the Monroe Youth Action Committee is not an organization as such since it has no officers but is a name they are using in connection with their work. He stated the purpose of this group is to carry on racial demonstrations and picketing in Monroe and they did have racial demonstrations in Monroe for several days approximately one month ago. In addition, the purpose of this organization is to encourage and assist in integrating public schools, to obtain better employment and job integration for Negroes and equal work performed by the Negroes. He stated that they believe in a peaceful approach to this problem but would use violence if necessary. He stated [redacted] associates have instructed their members and followers that they should use violence as a means of self-defense and protection and consequently he stated [redacted] his associates and followers have [redacted] to use if necessary. At this point [redacted]

The members of these two organizations consist mostly of Negro domestic workers such as maids and cooks. In addition, other members are Negro women who are engaged in unskilled work. The purpose of these organizations is to obtain better employment conditions and better pay; also to give them a better status. [redacted] stated [redacted] and the other [redacted] are preparing [redacted] Negroes to register to vote, integrate the public schools, and in general improve the living and working conditions of the Negroes in the area. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that in addition to the members of the women's organizations, they have approximately 200 to 300 followers who are providing financial support as well as assisting them in their work. [redacted] pointed out that it is true [redacted] and his associates do not advocate complete non-violence but quite the contrary, they advocate that they should use violence if necessary. In this regard, he stated that [redacted] He also stated that [redacted] to use if necessary. He stated that they would not resort to violence unless it became necessary as a means of self-defense. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated [redacted] his associates had requested [redacted] but were refused. He stated in his opinion the members of the Monroe Police Department and Union County Sheriff's Office have failed to provide them protection for their legal conduct and activities in the civil rights field. He stated that as a result of the failure of the local law enforcement authorities to provide them protection they are continuing to carry on their work in the civil rights field in danger of death. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated [redacted] his associates have started publishing a newspaper which they refer to as "Freedom." The first edition was published under the date of July 15, 1963. This newspaper is to be published in the future on a bi-monthly basis and [redacted] is devoting most of his time in connection with [redacted] for this paper. He stated that their program in Monroe will continue for an indefinite period. He stated their program in Monroe is permanent and he expects that it will become stronger in the near future. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that their local organizations which they have established in the Monroe area as well as their work in the racial field at Monroe is not connected with any other racial organizations; however, [redacted] group in Monroe are receiving financial assistance and advice from other racial organizations. NC NY

On August 28, 1963, T-5 advised that this group at Monroe, [redacted], and [redacted] who identify themselves as [redacted], have been holding mass public meetings at various Negro churches in Monroe for the past ten days to formulate plans for the Negro school children to boycott the Negro school in the City of Monroe on August 30, 1963, the first day of school and instead report to one of three white schools in Monroe on that date for the purpose of attempting to enroll. b6 b7C

T-5 advised the integration group is encouraging the school children to continue this boycott next week and continue to try to enroll in the white schools.

According to T-5, large numbers of Negro parents are attending the nightly meetings and have pledged their cooperation, and the source anticipates several hundred Negro children will participate. The source stated demonstrations are planned in the vicinity of the white schools on August 30, 1963, and next week.

On August 30, 1963, Chief of Police A. A. MAUNEY, Monroe, North Carolina, Police Department, advised as follows:

At 7:45 a.m., 25 to 30 Negro students began picketing at Winchester School, a Negro School in Monroe, and at the same time another group [redacted] went to the John D. Hodges white elementary school where the Negro youths in the group attempted to register for the school year. The school authorities refused to register the group and no incidents occurred. b6 b7C

Simultaneously, another group of approximately 15 Negroes went to the Walter Bickett Elementary School in order to register and this group was also refused by the school authorities. A fourth group of about five Negroes went to the Monroe Senior High School, a school for white students, and attempted to register at this school. The school officials at Monroe Senior High refused to enroll any of the individuals. The above schools comprise all of the schools in Monroe, North Carolina.

Following the attempted enrollment at the schools, the entire group then proceeded to the City Board of Education Office at approximately 9:30 to 10 a.m., where they again attempted to enroll in the white city schools. Officials of the Board of Education had the attorney for the Board present and he examined the details of the North Carolina Pupil Re-assignment Law known as the Pearsall Plan and as a consequence of this law, none of the Negroes were permitted to enroll in the white schools on this date.

The entire demonstration was [redacted] who have previously been identified in connection with the organized effort to boycott Winchester School and integrate the other Monroe schools. b6 b7C

Following the demonstration at the Board of Education, the demonstrators disbanded and returned to Freedom House, Negro racial headquarters at 605 Brown Street, Monroe.

On September 3, 1963, Chief of Police A. A. MAUNEY advised that during the previous evening a meeting was held at the Negro recreation park, which meeting was [redacted] attended by approximately 200 Negroes. The purpose of the meeting was to encourage Negro students to continue boycotting and striking at the Negro school and also to request the students to report to the City Board of Edcuation office on September 3, 1963, and request transfers to white schools. b6 b7C

On September 4, 1963, Chief of Police A. A. MAUNEY, Monroe, North Carolina, Police Department, advised that a public rally was held on the night of September 3, 1963, at the Winchester Recreation Center attended by approximately 200 Negro students. [redacted] instructed the students to discontinue the boycott and strike at the Winchester Negro School temporarily since it has served its purpose. He further instructed the students to commence attending school. [redacted] stated [redacted] will request the Negro group to participate in boycotts and strikes at various times in the immediate future. b6 b7C

T-5 advised on October 1, 1963, that [redacted] b6 b7C left Monroe for New York City on [redacted] and is not expected to return for at least [redacted] months. [redacted] is also in [redacted] having left Monroe [redacted] Consequently, the activities of this group, under the leadership of [redacted] and [redacted] have been extremely curtailed. There have been no further attempts at school boycotts and although [redacted] have attempted to hold a few public meetings in recent weeks on school integration, these meetings have been very poorly attended and they have gained practically no support from the responsible Negro element in Monroe.

T-5 advised May 21, 1964, that [redacted] b6 b7C [redacted] PLM member at Freedom House, returned to [redacted] He stated that with the departure of [redacted] Freedom House was closed and there has been no further PLM activity in Monroe. NC

(D) MARCH ON WASHINGTON
AUGUST 28, 1963

On August 26, 1963, T-5 advised that [redacted] b6 b7C has chartered a Queen City Trailways bus at Charlotte, North Carolina, in order to take a group from Monroe to Washington, D. C., for the March on Washington of August 28, 1963. T-5 advised that the bus is scheduled to leave Monroe at 10 p.m. on August 27, 1963, and return to Monroe at 6 a.m. on August 29, 1963. T-5 stated there will be a total of 39 passengers including approximately 10 individuals from Pageland, South Carolina. However, the identities of those making the trip are not known.

On August 26, 1963, [redacted] Queen City b6 b7C Trailways Bus Company, Charlotte, North Carolina, advised that [redacted] has chartered one bus for travel to Washington, D. C., on August 28, 1963, and that the full amount of the contract, $490.30, has already been paid by [redacted] advised that it is [redacted] recollection that the amount paid consisted of two checks, one in the amount of $400. drawn on the Manufacturers Hanover Trust Company, New York City, from the account of the "March on Washington" and signed by two persons, names not recalled. The second check, according to [redacted] was in the amount of $90.30 and was a personal check on the account of [redacted] drawn on the [redacted] b6 b7C

(E) ATTEMPTED SCHOOL BOYCOTT AND PICKETING MONROE, NORTH CAROLINA, FEBRUARY, 1964

T-5 advised on February 5 and 10, 1964, that CLARENCE SENIORS, Chairman of the Monroe Defense Committee, 605 Brown Street, Monroe, North Carolina, and [redacted] had planned some picketing and demonstrations in downtown Monroe prior to the kidnaping trial of [redacted] and MAE MALLORY in Superior Court in Monroe on February 17, 1964. They also planned a student boycott of Winchester School, a Negro school in Monroe, on February 17, 1964. This activity was planned by SENIORS to create support for the kidnaping defendants and to protest against the trial; however, T-5 advised February 18, 1964, that no downtown demonstrations had taken place. b6 b7C

CE T-14 advised in September, 1963, that CLARENCE SENIORS was a member of the National Committee of the Workers World Party.

Characterizations of the Workers World Party (WWP) and the Monroe Defense Committee (MDC) appear in the Appendix to this report.

On February 14, 1964, T-5 stated that SENIORS, [redacted] distributed a leaflet in Monroe entitled "Let's Demonstrate on the 17th." This leaflet contained a drawing of a judge and jury bearing the labels "KKK." This leaflet stated: b6 b7C

"ALL FORCES OUT! THE BLACK PEOPLE OF MONROE ARE ON TRIAL!

"RICHARD CROWDER, HAROLD REAP AND MAE MALLORY ARE ON THE DICKET FOR TRIAL.

"ALL BLACK BROTHERS AND SISTERS COME OUT. JOIN FORCES WITH YOUR SISTERS AND BROTHERS.

"NOW IS OUR CHANCE TO SHOW THE WORLD THE MONROE BIGOTS IN ACTION.

"BOYCOTT SCHOOL ON THE 17TH"

T-5 stated on February 17, 1964, that the planned boycott of Winchester School, a Negro school in Monroe, which was to be a protest against the kidnaping trial, was a complete failure and not more than a dozen students remained out of school. There were no pickets and only [redacted] were in the area. This source stated that this group has practically no local Negro support in Monroe. b6 b7C

(F) PICKETING IN MONROE, NORTH CAROLINA, JUNE 4, 1964

On the evening of June 4, 1964, T-5 advised that approximately twelve Negro youths began picketing in front of the Center Theater in Monroe, North Carolina, on the evening of June 4, 1964. Some of the pickets were carrying placards urging integration of this theater. The picketing activities were being led by CLARENCE SENIORS, Chairman of the Monroe Defense Committee, and [redacted] and who are being supported in [redacted] by the [redacted] This informant advised that the picketing was orderly and there appeared to be no unusual interest and no incidents were observed. b6 b7C

Sergeant [redacted] Monroe, North Carolina, Police Department, advised June 5, 1964, that about twelve Negro youths led by CLARENCE SENIORS, picketed the Center Theater in Monroe on the evening of June 4, 1964. He stated that the movie, "Lillies of the Field," was being shown at this theater and this movie [redacted] He stated the pickets were protesting the segregation policy of this theater which was showing a film featuring a Negro actor. He stated that there was little interest in the picketing among the townspeople and that the picket was quiet and there were no incidents. b6 b7C

PROGRESSIVE LABOR MOVEMENT, also known as Progressive Labor Party
"PROGRESSIVE LABOR"

A source advised on July 2, 1962, that Progressive Labor groups held a conference in New York City on July 1, 1962, where MILTON ROSEN acted as chairman. He read a statement at this conference setting forth their intention to form a new Marxist-Leninist party in the United States. ROSEN stated that a more formal organization was necessary, one which would provide a framework for all who wanted to join in a united effort to build an American vanguard. The forces of this new organization are to consolidate all existing forces around Progressive Labor and organize additional forces, expand and improve political activities, win additional forces to an outlook of Marxism-Leninism and increase the open advocacy of socialism, develop a significant Marxist-Leninist program for the new party, and organize a collective organization of leaders and members.

"The Worker," an east coast communist newspaper, issue of January 7, 1962, page ten, column three, reported the expulsion of MILTON ROSEN, former Labor Secretary of the New York State Communist Party, United States of America.

A second and third source advised in February 1963, that this new Marxist-Leninist party had not yet been organized on a formal basis, but that Progressive Labor groups had been formed in several localities in line with the proposals of MILTON ROSEN. The sources advised as of February 1963, that the leaders of this group were referring to it as the Progressive Labor Movement.

A fourth source advised on March 15, 1964, that the Progressive Labor Movement follows, supports and is politically orientated toward the Communist Party line of Red China rather than that of the Soviet Union.

A fifth source advised on March 28, 1964, that at a Progressive Labor Movement meeting held in New York City on that date, it was announced that the Progressive Labor Movement would try to hold a national convention in New York City in September, 1964, to organize the Progressive Labor Movement on a more formal basis into a Progressive Labor Party.

PROGRESSIVE LABOR MOVEMENT (CONTINUED)

The fifth source also advised that the Progressive Labor Movement publishes a monthly magazine called "Progressive Labor" and also a quarterly theoretical publication called the "Marxist-Leninist Quarterly." The source also advised that starting June 1, 1964, the Progressive Labor Movement would start publishing a weekly newspaper in New York City.

The March, 1964, issue of "Progressive Labor" sets forth that it is published monthly by the Progressive Labor Company, General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn 1, New York.

COMMITTEE TO AID THE MONROE DEFENDANTS

A source advised on October 10, 1961, that the Committee to Aid the Monroe Defendants (CAMD) was formed during September, 1961, by the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) in New York City.

Source advised on May 6, 1964, that the aims of the CAMD were to afford financial support and counsel for ROBERT F. WILLIAMS and four other defendants who were involved in a racial incident on August 27, 1961, at Monroe, North Carolina. The SWP hoped to dramatize this incident nationally and internationally through the CAMD and thus attract individuals to the SWP aims and principles by playing a leading role in the integration struggle. The CAMD was also active in prompting the philosphy of utilizing counter-violence to achieve integration as espoused by WILLIAMS.

According to the source, the organization and impetus of CAMD activities throughout the various parts of the United States, such as obtaining sponsors and the raising of funds, were the results of the efforts of various SWP branches.

The March 23, 1964, issued of "The Militant," a weekly SWP newspaper, stated the CAMD suspended activities. This article related that this action was taken following the rejection of this committee by the defendants just prior to the trial held February 18-28, 1964, at Monroe, North Carolina, which resulted in the conviction of all of the defendants, except ROBERT F. WILLIAMS.

ROBERT F. WILLIAMS has fled the United States and is reportedly residing in Cuba.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

RE: FREEDOM HOUSE

A source advised on May 28, 1963, that Freedom House was established in Monroe, North Carolina, in May, 1963 as a headquarters for racial integration activities in the Monroe area. Although there is no formal organization as such, the activities of this group of four racial organizers are under the leadership of JACOB ROSEN, Southern Editor of "Progressive Labor".

This source advised on July 18, 1963, that Freedom House publishes a monthly newspaper entitled "Freedom" which carries articles primarily concerning local integration activities. Editor of this publication is JACOB ROSEN.

[redacted] advised Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on July 31, 1963, that the purposes of his group at Freedom House are to integrate the public schools, encourage Negro voter registration and, in general, to improve the living and working conditions of the Negroes in the area. He stated [redacted] the use of violence, if necessary, as a means of self-defense.

This source advised on October 8, 1963, that the activities and operations at Freedom House are being directed and financed by Progressive Labor in New York City and that [redacted] organizers are all working for and under the control of Progressive Labor. The source stated on October 22, 1963, that Freedom House headquarters was moved on that date from 605 Brown Street to 308 Hudson Street, Monroe, North Carolina. The mailing address is Post Office Box 84, Monroe, North Carolina. The source added that the future activities of Freedom House in Monroe are questionable as [redacted] organizers have lost much of the local Negro support and the general feeling in the Negro community is that they are not wanted in Monroe.

This source advised May 21, 1964, that the last remaining member of Progressive Labor at Freedom House returned to New York City on May 14, 1964. He stated there is no Progressive Labor activity in Monroe at the present time and that Freedom House is now closed.

A source advised on February 16, 1962, that [redacted] a member of the Workers World Party (WWP) from [redacted] was sent to Cleveland, Ohio, [redacted] by the Monroe Defense Committee of New York to [redacted] MDC in Cleveland, and that [redacted] with the aid of TED [redacted] DOSTAL, members of WWP, and WILLIE MAE MALLORY, organized an MDC in Cleveland, with headquarters at 1289 East 115th Street.

On March 3, 1964, this source related that the purpose of the MDC in Cleveland was to aid in the support of WILLIE MAE MALLORY in her fight against extradition to Monroe, North Carolina. Following her extradition in January, 1964, headquarters of MDC was moved from Cleveland to Monroe, North Carolina.

A second source advised March 12, 1964, that the purpose of MDC is to obtain support and funds to aid in the continued defense of WILLIE MAE MALLORY, [redacted] who were convicted in Superior Court, Monroe, North Carolina, February 27, 1964, on charges of kidnaping [redacted] in Monroe on August 27, 1961, following a race riot in that city.

This source stated on May 21, 1964, that headquarters of MDC is located at 605 Brown Street, Monroe, North Carolina, with CLARENCE SENIORS as chairman.

A third source in September, 1963, identified CLARENCE SENIORS as a member of WWP.

WORKERS WORLD PARTY

On April 17, 1959, a source advised that on February 12, 1959, a Socialist Workers Party (SWP) minority group, under the leadership of National Committee member SAM BALLAN, split from the SWP.

The source stated that this minority group, referred to as the Marcyites, after many years of program and policy differences on varied issues concerning tactics and interpretation of political events, split from the SWP on the grounds that the Party was liquidating itself by departing from the Marxist precepts of LEON TROTSKY and retreating from the fight for the world socialist revolution. The final issue which ultimately forced the split was the minority's opposition to the SWP regroupment policy which involved cooperation with the Communist Party (CP) periphery--individuals characterized by the minority as petty-bourgeois.

The minority program, according to the source, advocated unconditional defense of the Soviet Union and has as its goal the building of a revolutionary party with a complete proletarian orientation for the purpose of overthrowing capitalism in the United States and throughout the world.

On May 12, 1960, the source advised that this minority group had chosen the name Workers World Party.

On April 27, 1964, a second source advised that the Workers World Party, which maintains headquarters at 46 West 21st Street, New York, New York, supports the People's Republic of China in its ideological dispute with the Soviet Union.

The SWP and the CP have been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

On March 4, 1964, CARL and ANNE BRADEN were observed by Special Agents of the FBI participating in a demonstration lead by Bishop C. EWBANK TUCKER, A.M.E. Zion Church, and Chairman of the Louisville Branch of the Congress of Racial Equality at the State Capitol, Frankfort, Kentucky. The demonstrators numbering about 35, marched from their bus, parked near the Capitol grounds, to the Capitol rotunda where several persons including Bishop TUCKER and CARL BRADEN spoke. ANNE BRADEN took no part in the demonstration other than to be present.

Characterization of CARL and ANNE BRADEN

Mrs. ALBERTA AHEARN, 2311 Payne Street, Louisville, Kentucky, a self-admitted former member of the Communist Party (CP), Louisville, Kentucky, in testifying on December 11 and 13, 1954, in Jefferson County, Kentucky, Criminal Court, in state sedition prosecution against CARL JAMES BRADEN, identified BRADEN, and his wife, ANNE BRADEN as having been known to her as members of the CP, Louisville, Kentucky, from January, 1961, to shortly prior to the time of her testimony.

PENN' CARL BRADEN GA. 4403 VIRGINIA AVE. MRS. CARL JAMES BRADEN

The Courier-Journal, Louisville, Kentucky, a newspaper of general circulation, on February 3, 1959, reported that CARL BRADEN had been sentenced to one year in prison on a charge of contempt of Congress on February 2, 1959, in Atlanta, Georgia. The story noted that he had been convicted under this charge on January 21, 1959, and that the charge arose from his refusal to answer questions before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The Louisville Times, Louisville, Kentucky, a newspaper of general circulation, on February 27, 1961, reported that the United States Supreme Court had, on that date, affirmed the contempt of Congress conviction of BRADEN.

The Courier-Journal, on May 2, 1961, reported that CARL BRADEN had surrendered to the United States Marshal at Atlanta, Georgia, on May 1, 1961, to begin serving a one-year prison sentence for contempt of Congress.

The Courier-Journal, Louisville, Kentucky, on February 2, 1962, reported that CARL BRADEN had been released from the Federal Prison Camp at Allenwood, Pennsylvania, on February 1, 1962. BRADEN indicated that he would return to his home, Louisville, Kentucky.

On October 2, 1964, LS T-1 advised that CARL BRADEN and his wife ANNE BRADEN continue to reside at 4403 Virginia Avenue, Louisville, Kentucky, and they are still employed as Field Secretaries of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc. (SCEF).

The Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc. is characterized in the appendix of this report.

On March 19, 1958, Mrs. ALBERTA AHEARN, Louisville, Kentucky, self-admitted member of the Communist Party, Louisville, Kentucky, between January of 1951, and December of 1954, advised that [redacted] was active in the Wade Defense Committee (WDC) an organization formed in the summer of 1954 to assist ANDREW WADE, IV, a Negro, to maintain ownership, and live in a house in a white residential area near Louisville, Kentucky, which house had been purchased for him by CARL and ANNE BRADEN. b6 b7C

Mrs. AHEARN said that the WDC was Communist inspired and influenced from the time of its formation until she ceased her affiliation with it in December of 1954. She said that both CARL and ANNE BRADEN, who were prominent in the organization, were known to her as members of the CP, but that [redacted] was not known to her to be a CP member. She said that [redacted] conduct was such that it seemed to indicate that he was not a CP member. b6 b7C

On April 13, 1964, LS T-2 advised as follows:

Allied Organizations for Civil Rights (AOCR), is an association of over 100 local Kentucky organizations interested in promoting integration. AOCR's function is the coordination of the activities of its affiliates. AOCR is [redacted] by [redacted], and was the sponsoring organization for the March 5, 1964, March on Frankfort, a demonstration on behalf of Public Accommodation Legislation. b6 b7C

AOCR refused to let the SCEF affiliate with it because of CARL and ANNE BRADEN. The source said regarding the BRADENS, "Their name is trouble".

The March on Frankfort by AOCR drew an estimated 10,000 people. Source recalled that the BRADENS participated in another demonstration at Frankfort on March 4, 1964, [redacted] b6 b7C

Shortly prior to the AOCR March on Frankfort, ANNE BRADEN "raised hell" with AOCR officials because a representative of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) was not allowed to apeak at an AOCR meeting on the campus of the University of Louisville.

Also just before the AOCR, Frankfort, demonstration, in connection with a SNCC demonstration in Memphis, Tennessee, CARL BRADEN requested that AOCR issue a statement supporting the Memphis SNCC demonstration. AOCR felt they could not issue the statement as requested, and refused. Later ANNE BRADEN told AOCR officials that she had sent a telegram on behalf of AOCR officials making such a statement as had been requested. AOCR officials had to take immediate steps to stop the publication of this statement.

On May 28, 1964, LS T-3 furnished a mimeograph leaflet captioned "SSA News, published by Students for Social Action", which had been distributed on the campus of the University of Louisville on that date. This leaflet announced that ANNE BRADEN, author of "'HUAC; Bulwark of Segregation'", "'The Wall Between'" and editor of the "Southern Patriot", would speak on May 28, 1964, at 8:00 p.m. in the library lecture lounge at the University of Louisville.

On May 29, 1964, source advised that at 8:35 p.m., May 28, 1964, there were only five people in the lecture lounge including CARL and ANNE BRADEN. ANNE BRADEN had not talked at that time.

On June 1, 1964, Major [redacted] (NA), Assistant Chief, Louisville Police Department, advised as follows:

On May 31, 1964, at about 4:00 p.m., about 15 individuals, including CARL and ANNE BRADEN, participated in a demonstration at the gate of the swimming pool of Fontaine Ferry Amusement Park in Louisville, Kentucky. The weather was bad and the swimming pool was empty. The park management, after the Louisville police refused to arrest the demonstrators without warrants, had private police carry the demonstrators from the premises one by one.

Major [redacted] identified the demonstrators as [redacted] male, age [redacted] who was CARL and ANNE BRADEN at 4403 Virginia Avenue, Louisville Kentucky said he was from [redacted] where he had worked

Handbills passed out at the park at the time of the demonstration called for admissions of all races to the amusement park's swimming pool. The handbill indicated that it was issued by "CORE, SNCC, SCEF and SDS". (SDS is Students for Democratic Society.)

On June 7, 1964, Lieutenant [redacted] b6 b7C Louisville Police Department, advised as follows:

As a result of the demonstrations at Hasenour's Restaurant, 1028 Barrett Avenue, Louisville, Kentucky, on the afternoon of June 7, 1964, in which the demonstrators blocked doorways to the restaurant, seven juveniles and four adults were arrested. Among the adults arrested were [redacted] b6 b7C age [redacted] address [redacted] and [redacted] and [redacted] female, age [redacted] also of [redacted]

As previously indicated, 4403 Virginia Avenue, Louisville, Kentucky, is the residence of CARL and ANNE BRADEN.

On June 7, 1964, Captain [redacted] b6 b7C CO, Fourth District, Louisville Police Department, advised as follows:

Following a demonstration against alleged racial discrimination at a restaurant in the West End of Louisville immediately preceding the demonstration at Hasenour's, mentioned above, which demonstration was also [redacted] b6 b7C sixteen demonstrators were observed in the front yard of CARL BRADEN's home at 4403 Virginia Avenue, Louisville.

Among those arrested at the Hasenour demonstration, mentioned above, was [redacted] b6 b7C

The Courier-Journal, Louisville, Kentucky, a newspaper of general circulation, on June 10, 1964, reported that the AOCR would meet at 5:30 p.m., June 10, 1964, at its headquarters at 301 West Main to discuss the recent civil rights demonstrations here. FRANK STANLEY, JR., Chairman of the organization representing 102 social action groups in the state, said that the demonstrations have created a crisis, according to the story. The story also noted that none of the organizations, which are members of the AOCR, have taken part in the recent demonstrations against two restaurants and the Fountaine Ferry Park swimming pool.

On June 11, 1964, [redacted] advised as follows:

ANNE BRADEN, who had demanded to be permitted to attend a meeting of AOCR on the afternoon of June 10, 1964, because she thought she and her husband would be discussed at this meeting, did not attempt to attend the meeting. [redacted] indicated there were two reasons that she did not attempt to attend. A daughter of the BRADENS died on the evening of June 9, 1964. In addition, [redacted] was contacted by ANNE BRADEN and was in favor of letting her attend the meeting. Although [redacted] did not agree to letting ANNE BRADEN attend the meeting, it was agreed that [redacted] would meet with ANNE BRADEN at some future date to discuss the conflict between the BRADENS and the AOCR. b6 b7C b7D

Allied Organizations for Civil Rights

At the meeting of AOCR on the afternoon of June 10, 1964, the dispute between the BRADENS and AOCR was not discussed as such. [redacted] indicated he felt that critics of the BRADENS were restrained because of the fact that the BRADENS had just lost a daughter. b6 b7C b7D

The meeting adopted resolutions setting up guide lines for responsible conduct in racial demonstrations. A resolution urged that anyone desiring to promote integration of such places as Hasenour's Restaurant, Louisville, Kentucky, first attempt to obtain service for a small, peaceful, integrated group, and if refused, thereafter file complaint under the Louisville Anti-Discrimination Ordinance. The meeting decided that AOCR would not participate in demonstrations started by a group in which the BRADENS are interested nor would they issue any condemnation of the group or any members of the group. The AOCR also passed a resolution asking that persons supporting integration not patronize restaurants or other places following a policy of racial segregation.

On July 8, 1964, [redacted] advised as follows: [redacted]

On the evening of July 1, 1964, a meeting was held between CARL and ANNE BRADEN, Mr. and [redacted] and [redacted] at the [redacted] Louisville, Kentucky. This meeting had been arranged by [redacted] who is [redacted] early in June, 1964, when ANNE BRADEN had demanded that she be permitted to attend a meeting of AOCR to air the differences between the BRADENS and AOCR, in connection with the integration movement in Louisville, Kentucky. [redacted] had temporarily pacified ANNE BRADEN by promising this meeting. [redacted] and a member of the [redacted] of AOCR, was originally scheduled to be present at the meeting, but for some reason was not invited by [redacted]

At the meeting, ANNE BRADEN did practically all of the talking as between she and CARL BRADEN. CARL BRADEN had very little to say.

ANNE BRADEN gave [redacted] copies of her new pamphlet entitled, "House Un-American Activities Committee: Bulwark of Segregation", mentioned above. b6 b7C

She was somewhat apologetic for [redacted] who has been staying with the BRADENS and leading integration demonstrations at two Louisville restaurants and a swimming pool. She indicated [redacted] was in Louisville "by accident" and that [redacted] was trying to carry out a program [redacted] for a Democratic Society in getting poor Negroes and poor whites acquainted. b6 b7C

[redacted] complained that [redacted] being from out-of-state, gave a bad impression and opened the integration movement in Louisville to the charge of "importing outsiders" [redacted] indicated also that the demonstrations were badly timed and that resort should have been had to the Human Rights Commission set up by the Mayor of Louisville. ANNE BRADEN accused AOCR of failing to organize youths and give youths an opportunity to engage in activity of some importance to the integration movement. She indicated [redacted] was helping in this respect. She made the statement that the young people she had helped organize had been given a reason for living by being permitted to engage in activity in connection with the integration movement. b6 b7C

Mrs. BRADEN demanded to know what action [redacted] would take if AOCR was attacked as a Communist front. [redacted] replied that he would deny such an accusation vigorously and defend the organization against such charges, ANNE BRADEN said this was the wrong action to take, stating that a negative cannot be proven. b6 b7C

ANNE BRADEN's main argument centered around the proposition that AOCR or any organization in the integration movement should not bother to deny charges of Communist infiltration or control, but should ignore them. It is to be noted that her pamphlet, previously mentioned, advances this same argument.

The argument between [redacted] and Mrs. BRADEN became heated and Mrs. BRADEN lost her temper and stated to [redacted] "Neither you nor anyone else is going to stop me from getting this community to understand what we are trying to do". Mrs. BRADEN again demanded that the question of the support of CARL and ANNE BRADEN by AOCR or their being permitted to affiliate with AOCR to put to a vote within the AOCR. Mrs. BRADEN indicated that she wanted to learn who her enemies were within AOCR so that she could "go to work on them". b6 b7C

A story in the Courier-Journal, Louisville, Kentucky, on July 24, 1964, captioned "BILL DADY and the Grandhi Corps" concerns a group apparently led by WILLIAM FREDERICK "BILL" DADY, a white male, native of Rochester, New York, nineteen years old. The Gandhi Corps is characterized in the story as a "social action group" of about 25 whites and Negroes...mostly young". "The Corps", DADY is quoted as stating, "evolved from a group of young people he met who lived near the home of Mr. and Mrs. CARL BRADEN, 4403 Virginia Avenue, where DADY was staying when he first came" (to Louisville).

The story continues, "Although Dady was the leader of the Corps' first sit-in and had coached the demonstrators in the tactics of non-violence, he says he has now relegated himself to single membership and is frequently overruled on the organization's decisions".

The story noted that the AOCR had appointed a committee to advise the Gandhi Corps.

The Courier-Journal on June 9, 1964, in a story regarding the filing of racial discrimination complaints with the Louisville Human Relations Commission, reported that Third District Congressman M. G. SNYDER had entered the controversy with a charge that much of the city's racial unrest is due to outsiders whom SNYDER linked to CARL BRADEN, "a longtime worker for integrationist causes". SNYDER, the story said, identified the outside "agitators" as WILLIAM DADY and Miss ANITA SMITH, 20, white, who had been arrested in the recent integration demonstrations.

BRADEN, the story continued, a former Louisville newspaperman, now a field organizer for the "Integrationist Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc." was out of the city. His wife said that DADY and Miss SMITH are living temporarily at the BRADEN home but that Miss SMITH has spent most of her life in Louisville, attended Louisville schools and is now a student in a Louisville business college.

Mrs. BRADEN said that DADY, whom she met in Atlanta, came to Louisville to work on a Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) project and she invited him to stay at her home until he could find permanent quarters. Miss SMITH moved to the BRADEN home for purely personal reasons, Mrs. BRADEN said.

According to the story, SNYDER recalled that CARL BRADEN had been convicted in Jefferson County Circuit Court in 1954 on a state charge of advocating sedition, which conviction was set aside by the Kentucky Court of Appeals after the U.S. Supreme Court had ruled in another case that states lacked authority to bring such charges.

Commenting on SNYDER's reference to CARL BRADEN's conviction, ANNE BRADEN is reported as stating, "'Ten years ago Louisville segregationists were able to divert attention from the evil of discrimination by calling CARL and me and other integrationists names... It is inconceivable that in this late hour of 1964--with racial issues so crucial to survival-- that these bankrupt tactics should be tried again! '".

On August 24, 1964, LS T-4 advised he has heard that the Gandhi Corp was started by ANNE BRADEN, [redacted] b6 b7C [redacted] It at one time had about twenty-five members, but has just about fallen apart.

PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY, PROGRESSIVE LABOR MOVEMENT, "PROGRESSIVE LABOR"

A source advised on July 2, 1962, that Progressive Labor groups held a conference in New York City on July 1, 1962, where MILTON ROSEN acted as chairman. He read a statement at this conference setting forth their intention to form a new Marxist-Leninist party in the United States. ROSEN stated that a more formal organization was necessary, one which would provide a framework for all who wanted to join in a united effort to build an American vanguard. The forces of this new organization are to consolidate all existing forces around Progressive Labor and organize additional forces; expand and improve political activities; win additional forces to an outlook of Marxism-Leninism and increase the open advocacy of socialism; develop a significant Marxist-Leninist program for the new party; and organize a collective organization of leaders and members.

"The Worker", an East Coast Communist newspaper, issue of January 7, 1962, Page Ten, Column Three, reported the expulsion of MILTON ROSEN, former Labor Secretary of the New York State Communist Party, from the Communist Party, United States of America.

A second and third source advised in February, 1963, that this new Marxist-Leninist party had not yet been organized on a formal basis, but that Progressive Labor groups had been formed in several localities in line with the proposals of MILTON ROSEN. The sources advised as of February, 1963, that the leaders of this group were referring to it as the Progressive Labor Movement.

A fourth source advised on March 15, 1964, that the Progressive Labor Movement follows, supports, and is politically orientated toward the Communist Party line of Red China rather than that of the Soviet Union.

A fifth source advised on March 28, 1964, that at a Progressive Labor Movement meeting held in New York City on that date, it was announced that the Progressive Labor Movement would try to hold a national convention in New York City in September, 1964, to organize the Progressive Labor Movement on a more formal basis into a Progressive Labor Party.

The fifth source also advised that the Progressive Labor Movement publishes a monthly magazine called, "Progressive Labor" and also a quarterly theoretical publication called the "Marxist-Leninist Quarterly". The source also advised that starting June 1, 1964, the Progressive Labor Movement would start publishing a weekly newspaper in New York City.

The March, 1964, issue of "Progressive Labor" sets forth that it is published monthly by the Progressive Labor Company, General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn 1, New York.

APPENDIX

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE EDUCATIONAL FUND, INC.

The Southern Patriot, a monthly publication, shows that it is published by the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc. (SCEF).

The Southern Patriot was cited as an "organ"of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare (SCHW) by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 592, on the SCHW, June 12, 1947.

The SCHW was cited as a Communist front by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 592, June 16, 1947.

An amendment to the charter of the SCHW changed the name of that organization to the SCEF, and listed its purpose as being to improve the educational and cultural standards of the Southern People in accordance with the highest American democratic institutions, traditions, and ideals. The amendment was dated April 26, 1946.

A source, who is familiar with some phases of Communist Party activity in the New Orleans area, advised on May 15, 1961, that during the time the SCHW was in existence, Communist Party (CP) members were members of and worked actively in the SCHW. However, since the formation of the SCEF, rank and file CP members have not been encouraged to work in the SCEF. The source stated that the SCEF is a progressive, liberal organization, which he considers a CP front organization because it has gone along with the CP on certain issues, particularly on the racial question, and through the years, certain CP members in the New Orleans area have been assigned to work in the organization to further CP principles.

On May 15, 1961, the source advised that in the past he has considered JAMES DOMBROWSKI, the Executive Director of the SCEF, to be a Communist, if not an actual CP member, because he followed Communist principles.

The source also advised on May 18, 1960, that many people who are officials and members of the SCEF, while liberal in their views, are by no means Communists.

APPENDIX

Another source advised on March 2, 1961, that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, a CP functionary, stated at a meeting of the CP in Baltimore, Maryland, on February 25, 1961, that the CP is not connected with any progressive movement, but indirectly they do have some influence in the SCEF.

Synopsis:

Communist influence in racial matters in Oregon 1/63 to 10/64 reported. [HYMAN LUMER, national educational secretary, CP, USA, in April, 1963, informed Oregon CP of national CP interest in Negro civil rights movement.] (U) Summer 1963, Youth Club, CP, Portland, made plans to implement CP directives re involvement in Negro civil rights movement with hope of Negro recruitment in CP youth clubs. CP Youth Club members infiltrate and influence policies of Friends of Student Non-Violent Co-ordinating Committee (FSNCC), a local organization. Through new organization, Portland W.E.B. Du Bois Club, CP members hope to gain support from and closer ties with Negroes. Du Bois Club activities aimed directly at Portland Negroes. Through influence in FSNCC, CP members organize or largely responsible for five racial demonstrations in Portland. Through an "Ad Hoc Committee" CP members organized a sixth racial demonstration. As of September, 1964, CP members had lost influence in FSNCC but now operating through Du Bois Club. Communists have no influence in other Oregon racial organizations.

DETAILS: AT PORTLAND, OREGON

I - COMMUNIST STRATEGY

(A) COMMUNIST PARTY (CP), USA

In a conference with Oregon leaders of the CP on April 12, 1963, HYMAN LUMER inquired as to what the Oregon Party was doing relative to civil rights of Negroes in the community and what part the CP was playing in seeking improved conditions for Negroes. He also questioned what the Party was doing toward publicizing and promoting concern among the people relative to abuses of Negroes in the South. (U)

[PD T-1, 4/13/63] (U)

HYMAN LUMER is national educational secretary of the CP, USA.

[PD T-2, 3/7/63] (U)

During the early summer of 1963, the Youth Club CP, Portland, decided to take action in response to national directives from the National Youth Commission, CP, USA, and the National Committee, CP, USA, to do everything possible to spur the Negro "liberation" struggle in this area and this was of key priority. There were also national directives for a 20 per cent recruitment of Negroes in the youth clubs, CP, so it was important to become active in the Negro civil rights to enhance recruitment.

During this period, early summer, 1963, the Youth Club, Portland CP, after a series of conferences decided to contact a [redacted] who was interested, according to local newspaper articles, [redacted] local group to be called Portland Friends of Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (FSNCC) [redacted] were to [redacted] help as "interested individuals" and not as persons connected with the CP. b6 b7C

According to an article in the July 3, 1963, issue of the Oregonian, a Portland daily newspaper, four young Portland youths, including Reverend RALPH MOORE, pastor of the Highland Congregational Church, Portland, recently returned after having attended a church forum in Atlanta, Georgia. They will form an anti-segregation committee to support national civil rights legislation and integration in Portland. They will attempt to aid the southern integration move by forming a FSNCC.

[During January, 1964, PD T-3 advised ~~(C)~~ (U) that FSNCC was informally organized in Portland on August 3, 1963, with about 35 participants. It is not connected officially with the National Student Non-violent Co-ordinating Committee. The group was started to co-ordinate arrangements for sending representatives from the Portland area to the "March on Washington, August 28, 1963." After being successful in that effort the FSNCC has attempted to remain a Portland focal point for activities on behalf of integration.

(B) PORTLAND W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUB (PDC)

The PDC is described in the appendix attached hereto.

1) There was no information developed concerning PDC plans, strategy, and Party line on a national level.

2) Plans and strategy made at the local club level. Portland.

PDC is a Marxist-oriented youth organization active in the fight against racial discrimination, for peaceful co-existence between world powers and measures to combat the growing problem of unemployed youth.

[PD T-3, 8/4/64] ~~C~~ (U)

On July 7, 1964, at a PDC meeting at 4636 SE 28th Avenue, Portland, discussion was led by [redacted] and concerned civil rights demonstrations. Both pointed out the need to acquaint the Negro population in Portland with the national problems of Negroes and how the Du Bois Club needs more support and closer ties in the Negro community. b6 b7C

There was a discussion concerning police brutality and a case was discussed concerning a Portland police officer who shot and killed a Negro.

A committee was set up to form an "Ad Hoc Committee to End Police Brutality" with [redacted] to serve on the committee. No specific plans were made at this time. b6 b7C

At meetings of the PDC on September 3, September 15, and September 28, 1964, plans were discussed for expanding contact with Portland Negroes. [redacted] of the Youth Club, CP, and dominant member of PDC, mentioned he had met with about 20 Negroes to help him hand out flyers announcing a public meeting to consider police brutality. [redacted] said he had obtained three youthful male Negroes to read cases of police brutality at the meeting. b6 b7C

These leaflets are to be passed out in the Negro community. [redacted] pointed out that the idea is to get young Negroes active in PDC. b6 b7C

[redacted] at the September 3, 1964, meeting said he has been looking for a store front in the Negro area for use as a PDC club house. b6 b7C

At the meeting on September 15, 1964, [redacted] suggested that PDC meet with Negroes, including welfare and social workers to discuss ways of increasing welfare for Negroes. He also discussed a mobile registrar to work in the Negro area on voter registration. b6 b7C

At the meeting on September 28, 1964, held in the new PDC club house in the Negro area, [redacted] discussed the Knott Street Community Center, which is chiefly for Negroes and trying to force the board to allow social dances there again. b6 b7C

(A) MARCH ON WASHINGTON (MOW), 8/28/63, FSNCC ARRANGING FOR TRANSPORTATION OF NORTHWEST PARTICIPANTS, PORTLAND, OREGON

The initial project for FSNCC was the organizing of a bus for participants in the MOW to publicize the Negro drive for civil rights. The bus project was largely the result of efforts by the Youth Club, CP, Portland. b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] 3/20/64

At a meeting of the leadership of the CP on July 27, 1963, to plan a state board meeting for the following day, arrangements were made for [redacted] to tell at the state board meeting of a scheduled Negro March on Washington to be held late in August, 1963. He said that funds were available for use of those who could take part and that anyone who could attend and needed funds should contact him or [redacted], who also is a member of the Youth Club of the CP. He did not explain the source of these funds. (C) (U) b6 b7C

[PD T-1, 7/29/63] (C) (U)

On August 9, 1963, [redacted] discussed with the top leaders of the Party the efforts of a group of young people through [redacted] had been trying to organize a delegation to the MOW, now set for August 28, 1963. He referred to the group as the FSNCC. [redacted] complained that to date this group had been unable to get any support from the Portland branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). He could not understand why the NAACP had not shown any interest in supporting any group promoting such an undertaking. (C) (U) b6 b7C

[PD T-1, 8/12/63] (C) (U)

During this same period [redacted] CP of Oregon, expressed concern at the lack of interest on the part of the Portland NAACP. He commented that [redacted] could not seem to get any participation from the NAACP in the planning (C) (U) b6 b7C for the Portland delegation. He noted that any information concerning plans for the trip should be provided to [redacted] b6 b7C [redacted] CP members. (U)

[PD T-4, 8/20/63] (U)

On August 20, 1963, [redacted], member of CP [redacted] said that MILFORD SUTHERLAND, organizational secretary, CP of Washington, was in Portland to help in completing arrangements for a chartered bus which was to transport the Portland group to Washington. [redacted] expressed some concern that the CP was not going to be well represented in the delegation. Later the same date at a meeting of CP members, [redacted] also was considerably disturbed because of the lack of cooperation by NAACP. In discussing funds necessary for the trip [redacted] said that all former CP members and friends of the Party were being solicited for contributions and [redacted] commented that members of the Youth Club had done a good job in raising money. (U)

b6 b7C

[PD T-1, 8/21/63] (U)

During early August, 1963, FSNCC arranged to charter a Greyhound bus for approximately 33 passengers for transportation to and from Washington, D. C. around August 28, 1963, with the cost to be about $3,100.

[PD T-3, 8/63] (U)

During August, 1963, the CP in Portland and the CP in Seattle, Washington, agreed to share responsibility for raising the cost of a chartered bus to Washington, D. C. to leave from Portland but to have participants from Seattle as well. The Seattle Central District CP Youth Club was to raise $1,000 and the Portland CP to raise $2,000. (U)

[PD T-5, 8/24/63] (U)

During August, 1963, Youth Club members working under the name of FSNCC, helped raise funds for the chartered bus. Contributions were raised by these individuals as well as by other non-communist members of FSNCC and came from various individuals, organizations, and churches. Some of the passengers were paying their own fares. The CP background of some solicitors was not known to the contributors.

[PD T-3, 8/63] (C) (U)

The FSNCC chartered bus left Portland on August 25, 1963, en route to Washington, D. C. with 36 passengers and two men to board in Idaho. Of the 36 aboard 21 were from Oregon, mainly Portland, and 15 from Washington State. Of those passengers from Oregon, ten listed themselves as connected with FSNCC, one from the Oregon Federation for Social Action (OFSA), five from the NAACP Youth Council, five from Catholic Council on Human Relations, one from the Methodist Church and one from the Fellowship of Reconciliation, a pacifist group. Some passengers listed more than one affiliation.

(B) BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA, CHURCH BOMBING SYMPATHY DEMONSTRATION HELD IN PORTLAND, OREGON, 9/16/63

The Oregonian, Portland daily newspaper, edition of September 16, 1963, contained an article which stated that FSNCC will have a mass demonstration on the evening of September 16, 1963, at the Federal Courthouse, Portland, to protest the bombing of a Birmingham, Alabama, church on September 15, 1963. The article continued that JASON SMITH, "spokesman for the organization," said the group will demand Federal intervention to protect the lives of the people of Birmingham and prosecution of officials of Birmingham who incited the violence.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

At a meeting of FSNCC on September 15, 1963, in Portland, participants decided to hold a public demonstration on the following day at the U. S. Courthouse, Portland, over the bombing of the 16th Avenue Baptist Church in Birmingham and the shooting of Negroes which followed.

[PD T-12, 9/16/63] (U)

The Portland Reporter, edition of September 16, 1963, contained an announcement of a mass demonstration by Portland FSNCC at the U. S. Courthouse on the evening of September 16, 1963. This article, however, stated that one DENISE JACOBSON was a "spokesman for the committee" and had made the announcement.

The Portland Oregonian, edition of September 17, 1963, in an article concerning the above demonstration stated that some 150 persons called for immediate Federal intervention into Birmingham during an hour and a half demonstration at the Federal Courthouse. The participants carried placards bearing slogans such as "Intervene Now" and "Take Troops from Viet Nam and Send to Birmingham." The demonstrators paused half way through the demonstration to hear Reverend RALPH MOORE, HAROLD BROWN and JASON SMITH plead for Federal action. Reverend MOORE was described as pastor of the Highland Congregational Church and a leader in the Portland FSNCC movement. HAROLD BROWN was described as a Negro who is president of the Youth Council of the local NAACP.

The release went on to outline the time and location for the march, the route to be taken, as well as the program schedule at the public meeting to be held at the Federal Courthouse, 620 SW Main Street. The release noted that speakers at the beginning rally would be Reverend WENDELL WALLACE and ALVIN BAILEY, NAACP vice-president. Other speakers were identified as Reverend WILLIAM CATE, executive secretary, Greater Portland Council of Churches, the Reverend PAUL S. WRIGHT, president, Citizens League for Equal Opportunity, State Representative BERKELEY LENT, State Senator ALFRED CORBETT, SHELTON HILL, executive director, Portland Urban League, and Mr. RICHARD CELSI, Catholic Council on Human Relations. The press release referred to the march in Portland as a part of "nationwide demonstrations called for by the Committee for the March on Washington." The release was concluded with the statement that the announcement for the march, "circulated by Friends of SNCC, terms the bombing 'an inevitable result of the refusal of Alabama's public officialdom to obey and enforce the laws of the U. (D) DEMONSTRATION PROTESTING GOVERNOR GEORGE WALLACE, PORTLAND, OREGON 1/12/64

The Portland Oregonian, edition of January 10, 1964, contained an article which stated that FSNCC would conduct a demonstration around the Hilton Hotel, January 12, 1964, to protest the racial segregation policies of Governor GEORGE C. WALLACE during his visit to Oregon.

The Portland Oregonian, edition of January 13, 1964, contained an article which stated that Governor WALLACE was greeted by 300 pickets in Portland on January 12, 1964. Some militant youths joined the marchers, chanting "WALLACE go home," contrary to instructions of DON GIVENS, march leader who had requested all picketers to remain silent. GIVENS who is director of religious education at Parkrose Community Church, Portland, stated after the march, of those who failed to obey instructions, "These are the radicals. PORTLAND W. E. B. DU BOIS CLUB (PDC)

A source advised on August 4, 1964, that the Portland W. E. B. Du Bois Club (PDC), Portland, Oregon, was originated and organized during July, 1964, by DONALD LEE HAMERQUIST with the assistance of other youthful Communist Party (CP) members in the Portland, Oregon, area.

A second source advised on August 12, 1964, that DONALD LEE HAMERQUIST is Oregon CP state executive secretary and member of the Oregon CP state board.

The first source advised on August 4, 1964, that PDC is a Marxist-oriented youth organization active in the fight against racial discrimination, for peaceful coexistence between world powers and measures to combat the growing problem of unemployed youth. PDC is a chapter of W. E. B. Du Bois Clubs of America (DCA) and operates within and is guided by the policies set forth in the constitution adopted June 21, 1964, at the DCA founding convention.

On October 4, 1964, the first source advised that Portland CP youth members have dominated and controlled the policies and activities of PDC since its inception. PDC is currently active as a membership organization and schedules meetings about every other week. As of September 28, 1964, the club used a rented store front at 3552 North Mississippi Street, Portland, Oregon, as its headquarters and regular meeting place.

A source has advised that on October 26-27, 1963 a conference of members of the Communist Party (CP), including National Functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates to this meeting were cautioned against the germ of anti-Soviet and anti-CP ideologies. These delegates were also told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second conference of over 20 persons met in Chicago on December 28-29, 1963 for the purpose of initiating a "call" to the new youth organization and planning for a founding convention to be held in June, 1964.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention. The aims of this organization, as set forth in the preamble to the constitution, are, "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful co-existence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that these solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anti-communism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people. As young people in the forces struggling for democracy, we shall actively strive to defeat these reactionary and neo-fascist elements and to achieve complete freedom and democracy for all Americans, thus enabling each individual to freely choose and build the society he would wish to live in. Through these struggles we feel the American people will realize the viability of the socialist alternatives."

INTRODUCTION

The following is being set forth by way of background:

The Central Area, which includes the majority of Seattle's Negro population, runs from Lake Washington to the Freeway, and from Lake Union to the Floating Bridge approach, altogether about four square miles.

There are approximately 27,000 Negroes in the Seattle population of 560,000. The 1960 census disclosed that 4.8% of the Seattle population was Negro. The percentage is now higher and estimated to be close to 5%. Seattle has a total minority population of approximately 8½%. The other groups have problems, but are not associated to any extent in organized civil rights activities.

Compared with other areas of the country, the racial situation in Seattle is good. The problems in Seattle are similar to those elsewhere; however, the symptoms are different. There are no symptoms of racial riots or the deep frustrations arising out of the large "ghetto" areas in other metropolitan cities.

The Human Rights Commission of the City of Seattle conducted a conference at the University of Washington, October 3, 1964, on the subject, "The Law Enforcement Officer and Civil Rights." Not all the civil rights organizations were represented.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. Communist Party, USA (CP)

1. Plans and Strategy on National Level

An enlarged meeting of the District Committee, Northwest District CP, USA (NWDCP), was held at Washington Hall, Seattle, on May 16-17, 1964. BURT NELSON spoke regarding the Negro struggle in the USA. He stated that Red China had sent a telegram to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) in support of the latter's actions in the fight for civil rights. NELSON berated this action of the Red Chinese as being of no help to the NAACP. On the other hand, NELSON said that the March on Washington (MOW) of August 28, 1963, demonstrated a much better way to help the NAACP and the fight for civil rights. (U)

ROBERT S) THOMPSON, speaking on the CP, USA, program, stated this program should not be just for propaganda effect, but should be for action in the civil rights field and others. He said that the fight goes beyond the Negro freedom struggle, although important in itself, and that winning the Negro struggle is not enough. He claimed that the actual fight for equality today is not merely a Negro revolution but really a struggle striking a blow at the very heart of the economic and social control of life in the USA and at monopoly itself. He pointed out how many individuals outside the CP in the USA are now becoming convinced that the solutions to today's problems lie outside the framework of capitalism and are looking for answers elsewhere. (U)

[SE T-1 (May, 1964)] (U)

2/ BURT GALE NELSON was afforded a hearing before the Subversive Activities Control Board (SACB) in Seattle on November 26, 1962, for failure to comply with the membership provisions of the Internal Security Act of 1950. Testimony was given at this hearing to the effect that

SE 100-27267

NELSON was at that time a member and officer of the NWDCP. Based on this hearing, the SACB ordered NELSON to register as a member of the CP and he is presently appealing this order.

A meeting of the Southwest Washington Section Committee of the CP was held August 2, 1964, at Hoquiam, Washington. BURT NELSON, District Chairman, NWDCP, stated that on his recent trip to New York, he secured first-hand news as to the Harlem and Rochester (New York) riots. He said that a group of men called the "Bureau of Secret Service" (BOSS) and dressed as civilians were leading the rioting and looting by the Negro Muslims. He compared this group to HITLER's Storm Troopers. He said that the BOSS was discovered when a New York policeman arrested a BOSS member, who was in civilian clothes. He stated the regular New York Police did not know about BOSS. (U)

NELSON urged that all Party members take some kind of role in fighting for civil rights. (U)

"II. Subjects Needing More Coverage and Information from Everyone Possible:

"1. Operation Dixie * * * Civil Rights, Youth and Indian Affairs.

"1. Have PW publicity on Indian and Civil Rights fights by on-the-spot reporters.
2. See that the Indians and Negro people get the PWs that carry the reports of their problems.
3. Get papers that carry items of special interest to all groups that are backing the Civil Rights fight. Get the paper to all of the Civil Rights leaders.

CORE has set up a screening process whereby it is necessary for a prospective member to attend several meetings and to be sponsored by a member who has previously been screened. Regarding CP attempts to take part in civil rights demonstrations, source noted that in demonstrations such as those picketing real estate offices during the past year, it is very difficult to control a one-shot demonstration as there is no way of determining the affiliation of those who appear. Source stated it was possible CP members could have engaged in some of these picket lines but he was certain that they had no way of getting into the policy meetings of the sponsoring civil rights organizations. Sources noted that the passage of the Civil Rights Bill had slowed down the demonstrations for civil rights, and that more recent interest in the Anti-Poverty Bill had also taken away from the incentive to engage in these demonstrations.

Organizations Assembly Delegate [redacted]

The purpose was stated to be "to educate and activate the campus community in the cause of civil rights through a program of investigation, discussion, and nonviolent action in cooperation with other civil rights groups in the Seattle area." The above CRAG application listed 29 members.

[SE T-32 (10/24/63)] (U)

CRAG resulted largely from the efforts of [redacted] and [redacted] who had previously participated in activities of the [redacted] Chapter of CORE. [redacted] desires for a campus civil rights group were opposed by [redacted] of the CORE organization who felt that communists would undoubtedly infiltrate and possibly capture such an organization. When CRAG was first formed on the University of Washington Campus, several KCYC of CP members joined and attempted to mold it into a militant organization of picketers and demonstrators. Many projects of this nature were proposed in the beginning. Leadership, however, was won by the more conservative "liberals" who could not be overrun by the "left" group. Control of CRAG does not seem to have been gained by KCYC of CP members at anytime in the past. While there is some talk of moving CRAG to a more militant position and getting rid of the present leadership on the part of the KCYC members, there is nothing to indicate that any progress has been made in this direction. The Militant Labor Forum is the name currently used by the Seattle Branch, SWP, in promoting public functions at SWP Headquarters, 3815-5th Avenue Northeast, Seattle.

[SE T-12 (10/8/64)] (U)

Activities of SNCC in connection with the SWP are set forth in Section I, Heading B, wherein plans of the SWP with regard to influencing civil rights organizations are set forth.

The purpose of SNCC in Seattle appears to be to raise funds and recruit college students to participate in various programs such as the MSP. It is not a membership organization and appears to be represented primarily by [redacted] is not known to be under CP influence although source is of the belief that at [redacted] referring to the young communists, had attempted to effect a connection, although without success. b6 b7C

The MSP appeared to be mainly an activity of SNCC which sent approximately 20 students from the Seattle area.

[SE T-30 (10/23/64)] (U) b6 b7C

SNCC in Seattle seems to be mainly a fund-raising activity [redacted] Source has heard a claim SNCC has a couple hundred members in the Seattle area but has no information to substantiate this claim. There is also the Seattle Friends of SNCC, which appears to be an extremely loose organization. Source could furnish no information regarding structure or organization of Seattle Friends of SNCC, which he stated was apparently a title used to cover almost any group or activity undertaking to work with SNCC. Source furnished a SNCC leaflet dated August, 1963, which was distributed by Seattle Friends of SNCC, 3744 Brooklyn Avenue Northeast, Apartment 102, which stated in part, "The SNCC is not a membership organization, but rather an agency attempting to stimulate and foster the growth of local protest movements."

Attempts were made to bypass [redacted] and become a SNCC Chapter. These attempts failed. SNCC [redacted] were often discussed in KCYC of CP meetings [redacted] CDYC eventually lost its ties with SNCC, primarily through [redacted] but also as a result of the fact that CDYC was failing to function. Early in [redacted] and [redacted] visited the Director of the Jackson Street Community Council, one of the affiliated organizations in the CACC, with the objective of finding a meeting place and sponsorship for what they described as a "youth club." Source is of the opinion this activity was connected with the organizing [redacted] of the CDYC. [redacted] indicated they desired little or no control to be exercised by adults over this group. The matter was taken up with the Jackson Street Community Council board, who later met with [redacted] and refused their request. b6 b7C

The Leschi Improvement Council is also included among the organizations represented in the CACC.

[SE T-35 (10/22/64)] (U)

The CP has been very frustrated in its attempts to develop militancy within the Negro community. The CACC is made up of conservative Negro ministers (conservative in the eyes of the CP). There is a general desire to get away from "middle class" leadership on the part of the CP, and to promote leadership among working class Negroes. The present CACC leadership has made any real action program very difficult and has been responsible on many occasions for completely frustrating the efforts of the CP to rally the Negro community to a militant position. W. E. B. DuBois Clubs of America

A source has advised that on October 26 - 27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party (CP), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist - oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates to this meeting were cautioned against the germ of anti-Soviet and anti-CP ideologies. These delegates were also told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second conference of over 20 persons met in Chicago on December 28 - 29, 1963, for the purpose of initiating a "call" to the new youth organization and planning for a founding convention to be held in June, 1964.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention. The aims of this organization, as set forth in the preamble to the constitution, are: "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful coexistence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that these solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anti-communism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people. As young people in the forces struggling for democracy, we shall actively strive to defeat these reactionary and neo-fascist elements and to achieve complete freedom and democracy for all Americans, thus enabling each individual to freely choose and build the society he would wish to live in. Through these struggles we feel the American people will realize the viability of the socialist alternatives."

APPENDIX

The constitution further states that this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals, or if five or more people so desire a chapter can be formed which shall in turn be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

The second source has also advised that at the founding convention it was voted that the organization should be temporarily headquartered in San Francisco, California, although no specific physical location was decided upon. This same source advised on June 29, 1964, that the temporary headquarters of this organization is 1007 McAllister Street, San Francisco, which is the headquarters of the W.E.B. DuBois Club of San Francisco.

Both sources have advised that at the founding convention two officers were elected:

Philip Chapin Davis - President
Carl Ellenger Bloice - Publications Chairman

A third source has advised that on October 26, 1962, Philip Davis attended a CP recruiting class held at 1579 Scenic Avenue, Berkeley, California.

A fourth source has advised that Carl Bloice, reporter for the "People's World" newspaper, was, on April 3, 1964, elected to the newly organized San Francisco County Committee of the CP.

The "People's World" is a west coast communist newspaper published weekly in San Francisco, California.

A second source advised that a meeting of the Communist Party [redacted] in Seattle was held on October 30, 1958. [redacted] a Communist Party member, stated that [redacted] of the Young Political Explorers. [redacted] stated there were [redacted] groups in Washington and the Seattle group had [redacted] active members. The age limits were from twelve to twenty years of age. The purpose of the group was to examine all political ideas, including socialism.

A third source also reported on the CP [redacted] meeting on October 30, 1958. [redacted] stated that the youths had chosen the name of Young Political Explorers, which is a statewide Communist Party organization and was formerly known as the Labor Youth League. [redacted] stated it is directly supported and directed by the Communist Party.

The Labor Youth League has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The second source advised on December 23, 1960, that the Young Political Explorers League was the teenage group of the youth organization in Seattle.

1 SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY -- SEATTLE BRANCH

In May, 1941, a source advised that during the month of May, 1941, the Seattle Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) was reorganized and received official recognition as a branch of the Party from the national office of the SWP in New York, New York.

On May 6, 1964, another source advised that the Seattle Branch, SWP, with headquarters at 3815 5th Avenue N.E., Seattle, Washington, is a present active affiliate of the National SWP, following the aims and principles of the National SWP. According to source, membership in the Seattle Branch includes [redacted] who is a member of the [redacted] who is [redacted] member of the [redacted] b6 b7C

The Socialist Workers Party has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

CENTRAL DISTRICT YOUTH CLUB

On June 19, 1963, a source advised that [redacted] b6 b7C and [redacted] members of the Communist Party Youth Club [redacted] of CP), had helped an Ad Hoc Committee which, at its last meeting, had decided to call itself the Central District Youth Club (CDYC).

On August 9, 1963, this source advised the purpose of the CDYC is "to develop the political awareness of the people involved in order to broaden the mass movement towards Socialism."

On April 22, 1964, a second source stated membership in CDYC had dwindled to twenty-five members, most of whom were inactive.

On May 25, 1964, the first source advised the CP in Seattle continues to discuss the CDYC at its meetings in connection with attempts by the CP to carry out its objectives in the Negro community and the civil rights field. [redacted] b6 b7C and [redacted] who had [redacted] of the [redacted] are being [redacted] but will continue in [redacted]

The above source stated that factors which contributed to the decrease in activity of CDYC included the refusal of Neighborhood House, Inc. to continue use of its facilities for CDYC meetings, and announcement by the Seattle representative of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) that it no longer had any affiliation with CDYC, both of these events taking place during December, 1963.

WORKERS WORLD PARTY

On April 17, 1959, a source advised that on February 12, 1959, a Socialist Workers Party (SWP) minority group, under the [redacted] National Committee [redacted] split from the SWP. b6 b7C

The source stated that this minority group, referred to as the Marcyites, after many years of program and policy differences on varied issues concerning tactics and interpretation of political events, split from the SWP on the grounds that the Party was liquidating itself by departing from the Marxist precepts of Leon Trotsky and retreating from the fight for the world socialist revolution. The final issue which ultimately forced the split was the minority's opposition to the SWP regroupment policy which involved cooperation with the Communist Party (CP) periphery-individuals characterized by the minority as petty-bourgeois.

The minority program, according to the source, advocated unconditional defense of the Soviet Union and has as its goal the building of a revolutionary party with a complete proletarian orientation for the purpose of overthrowing capitalism in the United States and throughout the world.

On May 12, 1960, the source advised that this minority group had chosen the name Workers World Party.

On April 27, 1964, a second source advised that the Workers World Party, which maintains headquarters at 46 West 21st Street, New York, New York, supports the People's Republic of China in its ideological dispute with the Soviet Union.

The SWP and the CP have been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO ABOLISH THE HOUSE UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications" issued December 1, 1961, by the Committee on Un-American Activities, U.S. House of Representatives, page 115, contains the following citation regarding the National Committee to Abolish the Un-American Activities Committee (NCAUAC).

"Cited as a 'new organization' set up in the Summer of 1960 to lead and direct the Communist Party's 'Operation Abolition' campaign. Seven of the national leaders of this group have been identified as Communists."

(Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 1278 on the Truth About the Film "Operation Abolition," Part 1, October 3, 1961, p. 5.)

A source has advised that the NCAUAC changed its name on March 3, 1962, to include the word "House" in its name, thereby becoming known as the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee (NCAHUAC). A national meeting of this organization was held in Chicago, Illinois, on April 27 and 28, 1963.

SAs THOMAS J. DEAKIN and JOSEPH E. SPIVEY observed the AY street meeting on 6/30/64.

In Philadelphia there are a great many civil rights organizations, including the American Friends Service Committee, Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, Fellowship of Reconciliation, and other Quaker and pacifist type groups.

There is in this report reference to the booklet, "Manual for Direct Action" (Section IV, Miscellaneous), a specific text for the civil rights movement, published by Friends Peace Committee, an affiliate of AFSC, which includes information on demonstrations and what to do when arrested by law enforcement agencies, etc.

The AFSC has never been under investigation even though they have from time to time injected themselves into other civil rights issues including Communist, etc.

Philadelphia is origin of AFSC and we have collected a substantial amount of information in a dead jacket. On the other hand Philadelphia is of the opinion an investigation should not be conducted on the organization to collect information re its branches around the country. It is felt AFSC is not the type of organization the Bureau desires included in Section III.

Information concerning the Independent Citizens Committee (ICC) is included under Section I as ICC was initiated by the CPEPD; its main officers are CP members; and since ICC is the Party's chief activity in the political field.

Characterizations of subversive organizations, publications and individuals appear in the appendix of this report.

Characterizations of individuals are contained in pages 97a through 122; characterizations of organizations and publications follow thereafter.

In some instances, characterizations of individuals are included as part of the substantive data within the sections of the report, i.e., characterizations of CPEPD officials are included under I(A)2. Characterizations are also included in alphabetical sequence in the appendix.

Synopsis:

THIS REPORT COVERS THE PERIOD 1/1/63 THROUGH 10/15/64. Confidential informants have reported the following: in July 1963, THOMAS NABRIED, Chairman, CPEPD, stated that CPUSA concerned that Party seems to be isolated from Negro civil rights movement. DEC, CPEPD, meeting, 2/63, dealt exclusively with Negro question. BENJAMIN J. DAVIS, national CP functionary, attended all day conference at Philadelphia, 2/63, at which he concluded CPEPD is taking right direction on Negro front. CPUSA leaders reportedly angry at CPEPD officials in 5/63, for failure to institute local activity around Birmingham, Ala., racial situation. As of 7/63, CPEPD, had extremely limited involvement in Negro civil rights movement, and Party lagging behind movement rather than leading it. NABRIED has made no effort to rally CP behind CORE or NAACP. GUS HALL, General Chairman, CPUSA, spoke at Philadelphia, 7/63, stating that Party will concentrate on Negro people's movement, peace and economic struggle, and urged Party members to participate in MOW, 8/28/63. As of 6/64 NABRIED said there has been insufficient discussion and planning done by Party in civil rights area. In early 1964, CPEPD issued pamphlet concerning primary elections and praised announcement of Democratic Party that several Negroes were running for office. Last issue of Party youth publication "New Horizons for Youth," issued March 1964. Issues published in Philadelphia called for Negro voter registration; criticized Governor WALLACE of Alabama; condemned police brutality of Negroes, etc. Independent Citizens Committee initiated and controlled by CPEPD, has been very active in 1964 registering Negroes in predominantly Negro wards to vote in 1964 presidential elections. Philadelphia Fighters for Liberty and Justice, a POC front, distributes leaflets and holds street meetings in Negro ghettos, aimed at inciting Negroes against "white oppressors;" their propaganda closely follows Chinese CP line. Their leaflets mention police brutality, unemployment and inferior housing as they relate to Negroes [redacted], who is currently member [redacted] which has distributed literature among Negroes there, advocating third political party. Communist direction, influence and participation in racial demonstrations, disturbances, drives, pickets, etc., set out under Section II. Three SP-SDF members as of [redacted], were active in CORE; [redacted] local CORE official led civil rights panel discussion at ICC meeting, [redacted] former CP member, allegedly used CORE for [redacted] During 1963, [redacted] and [redacted] all former CP members, took part in NAACP activities. [redacted] and [redacted] CP members, were members of NAACP, [redacted] made [redacted] contribution SCLC during 1964. CPEPD has reportedly made no concerted effort to infiltrate SNCC.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. COMMUNIST PARTY, USA

1. Plans, Strategy, Party Line and the Like Made at National Meetings

Confidential Informant PH T-1 advised on January 17, 1963, that THOMAS NABRIED and FRANCES GABOW were preparing a rough draft of a statement to be delivered at a national Communist Party (CP) conference scheduled to be held in New York City in the latter part of January 1963. The report included statements that the CP has failed to lead the struggle for the Negro people and this has resulted in the growth of white chauvinism. It pointed out that a situation has developed where the Negro people no longer need a Marxist leadership, but feel they are capable of producing their own leadership. One of the conclusions of this statement was that Marxists have lost the role of leadership and must work to regain it.

Confidential Informant PH T-2 on June 5, 1963, advised that at a meeting of the CPUSA National Board and invited guests held at CPUSA headquarters, New York City, on that date, THOMAS NABRIED gave a report on the activities of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) in Philadelphia in connection with job discrimination against Negroes by such unions as the plumbers, electricians, and sheet metal workers who, according to NABRIED, followed a policy of banning Negroes from the regular jobs. NABRIED stated there had been "sit-ins" in the Mayor's Office, City Hall, Philadelphia, on the part of CORE and that picket lines had then been developed. NABRIED said this had occurred three weeks previously. An agreement was reached to call off the picket lines if qualified Negroes were accepted on the jobs. He said that when it became clear that CORE was winning a victory, the Philadelphia Branch of NAACP decided to organize a picket line around a school building construction site at 31st and Susquehanna Avenues. NABRIED commented that the two groups, CORE and the NAACP, were making "a lot of noise" but that so far as the masses of Negroes are concerned, the problems remain unchanged. (See sections II and III for additional information on CORE and the NAACP.)

Confidential Informant PH T-3 on [redacted] advised that [redacted] THOMAS NABRIED advised the national leadership of the CPUSA had expressed increased concern over the fact that the Party at that time appeared to be completely isolated from the Negro civil rights movement. According to NABRIED, a meeting of national leaders of the CPUSA was to be held on Monday, July 22, 1963, at which time instructions would be issued to district leaders regarding a CP program of activities for each district with an immediate goal to rally support for the August 28, 1963, March on Washington (MOW). (See section II for additional information on MOW.)

Confidential Informant PH T-4 advised on October 2, 1963, that THOMAS NABRIED of Philadelphia spoke at the October 2, 1963, session of the National Executive Committee, CPUSA, meeting held at 23 East 10th Street, New York City. He stated the Negro struggle in America is at a turning point; that the Negro masses are willing to fight and that the youth in today's struggle have shown enthusiasm, spirit, and dedication which should be recognized by the CP. NABRIED stated the providing of job opportunities is the most important and that the past performance of the CP in this area has been inadequate. He felt the Party Negro leaders should be "more open" in the civil rights movement in order to put forth Party ideas.

2. Plans, Strategy, Party Line, and the Like Made at District and Lower Level Meetings

Confidential Informant PH T-5 on February 8, 1963, advised that an enlarged District Executive Committee (DEC) meeting, Communist Party of Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware (CPEPD), was held February 6, 1963, at 3538 North Gratz Street in preparation for an all-day conference with BENJAMIN J. DAVIS on February 10, 1963.

There was a one-point agenda for this affair, namely, the Negro question. The report was given by FRANCES GABOW, Organization Secretary, CPEPD, and consisted of three major breakdowns:

(a). The struggle for integration led by the NAACP, Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING, and church groups;

(b). The nationalist movement represented by small businessmen "with petit bourgeois tendencies;"

(c). The "Muslim trend."

GABOW praised the first movement and criticized the second and third movements. She said an analysis must be made of why the CP has failed to make gains in re-establishing its ties with the Negro movement and the fact that membership of Negroes in the Party is at a low ebb.

PH T-5 on February 14, 1963, advised that an all-day conference was held February 10, 1963, at 327 South 63rd Street. This was an enlarged DEC, CPEPD, meeting and had as a special guest BENJAMIN J. DAVIS, from the National Office, CPUSA, who participated in the discussion.

FRANCES GABOW gave a report on the Negro question. She prefaced her remarks by welcoming "Comrade BEN DAVIS." In substance, GABOW gave the same report as the one she had made before the DEC, CPEPD, on February 6, 1963. She described the three major trends concerning Negroes as follows:

(a). Tokenism

This is supported by the elite bourgeoisie Negroes who are appointed and assigned to various positions and jobs: "Tokenism" represents the sum total of the concessions big business is willing to make to Negroes.

(b). Gradualism

The adherents of this group take the point of view that any gains should be made quietly and that the white people should not be aggravated in the process.

(c). Moderationism

GABOW made no specific comments to explain her views concerning this trend.

BEN DAVIS

GABOW said that the Party has not kept pace with the Negro people's movement and that the Marxist trend is sadly lacking. BENJAMIN J. ~~DAVIS~~ concluded that the CPEPD was taking the right direction on the Negro front. He recommended that GABOW's report and the discussion around it be written up and submitted to "Political Affairs" in order that other CP districts might profit from it.

BEN!

"Political Affairs" is self-identified as the theoretical organ of the CPUSA.

PH T-6 on February 19, 1963, advised that a membership meeting of the Unity Club, CPEPD, was held February 13, 1963, at 3323 West Cumberland Street. One of the members discussed the relationship of the CP with mass organizations. It was concluded that the CP and NAACP are not closely knit; that there is a gap which should be closed as the CP and the NAACP fight for the same objectives on several issues.

T-3 on May 8, 1963, advised that THOMAS NABRIED stated on May 4, 1963, that PHIL BART had been to see him over the weekend. BART stated the national leadership of the CPUSA is angry at the Philadelphia leaders of the CP for failure to institute local activity around the Alabama racial situation. The national leadership instructed that the CPEPD should form a permanent committee composed of CP and non-CP personnel and wage a continuous campaign utilizing such tactics as street corner meetings, organizing delegations to visit city officials, and campaigns to obtain food and clothing for Southern Negroes.

This same source stated that [redacted] NABRIED appointed [redacted] a member of the [redacted] to assume full responsibility for [redacted] such a committee. NABRIED stated he and FRANCES GABOW had agreed the committee should be [redacted] by someone already known in the political field and who is not known as a member of the CP. b6 b7C

Confidential Informant PH T-7 advised on June 3, 1963, that a meeting of the District Press Committee, CPEPD, was held on May 28, 1963, at 3537 North Gratz Street. NABRIED gave a report on a meeting of the National Press Committee, CPUSA, which had been held previously in New York City. According to NABRIED, the delegation from New York which was the largest showed a definite weakness in Negro work because there were no Negro representatives from the Harlem and Brooklyn, N.Y., areas which areas have heavy concentrations of Negroes. NABRIED also believed there was little or no CP activity among the Negro people in Harlem and Brooklyn, N.Y.

T-3 on July 22, 1963, advised that no action had been taken to organize the committee described above as proposed by the national leadership of the CP as directed by PHIL BART. The CPEPD has had extremely limited involvement in the current Negro civil rights movement and that this has been on an individual CP member basis. There has been no concerted activity on the part of the CPEPD and the Party is lagging behind the Negro civil rights movement rather than spearheading it.

T-3 on July 22, 1963, advised that THOMAS NABRIED for [redacted] has derided [redacted] NAACP, describing him as an opportunist. NABRIED has made no effort to rally the CPEPD behind the NAACP or CORE and appears to be rather cynical concerning the motives not only of [redacted] but of other civil rights leaders, both locally and nationally. NABRIED's position in the Party has been middle-of-the-road and he has not been receptive to drastic changes in policy or militant action on any issue. He appears to place more confidence in the older, more conservative elements of the NAACP and similar organizations and the less militant leaders in the Negro civil rights fields generally. b6 b7C

PH T-1 on July 23, 1963, advised that a press and fund meeting, CPEPD, was held July 23, 1963, at 1345 West Susquehanna Avenue. THOMAS NABRIED said that the Party has played an active role in the Negro struggle and will continue to do so. NABRIED said that the winning of civil rights for the Negro people is the completion of 100 years of struggle.

T-5 on July 25, 1963, advised THOMAS NABRIED called a meeting on July 23, 1963, at his residence, 1345 West Susquehanna Avenue, to discusss the press. NABRIED stated the Negro people's movement is at its highest level and as Marxists we know the struggle for integration will be won. After this struggle another struggle will be waged to destroy the capitalist system. The same people fighting now for integration will then be your enemy because this struggle will be against their class interest. Therefore, the CP must be strengthened and have an independent voice. This voice is "The Worker" which is one of the most important things that will assist the Party in this matter.

"The Worker" is an East Coast Communist publication.

PH T-5 on August 6, 1963, advised that a meeting sponsored by the CPEPD under the name "Current Events" was held at the Sheraton Motor Inn, 3900 Chestnut Street, on July 31, 1963. GUS HALL was guest speaker and was introduced by THOMAS NABRIED as "our leading Party spokesman." Most of those in attendance were Party members but there were a few friends of the Party present also. The theme of HALL's speech was "Looking Ahead."

According to HALL, the turn of events indicates that socialism is on the upgrade and capitalism is failing. The "miracle of Birmingham" is certainly a completion of the bourgeoisie revolution. The Negro people's movement shows the correctness of our having changed our line on the Negro people. Years ago the CP called for self-determination for the Negro people. After a re-evaluation this policy was changed and the Party projected a policy of integration. The Negro people's movement will be a deciding factor in the future of America. The Party must assess every new development. Therefore, the Party will concentrate on the Negro people's movement, peace, and the economic struggle. Informant added that invitations to the above meeting were sent out on a selective basis.

T-8 on August 7, 1963, advised that on July 31, 1963, a meeting sponsored by the CPEPD was held at the Sheraton Motor Inn, 39th and Chestnut Streets. THOMAS NABRIED was chairman and introduced the main speaker, GUS HALL. According to HALL, all demonstrations being carried on today in the United States on the part of the Negro people to gain equal rights were started years ago by the CP. In many instances, the status of the Party members involved was not made known but the Party was definitely fighting for equal rights for all the people. The CP has always been working for the civil rights of all. In this connection HALL urged those in attendance to attend the March on Washington on August 28, 1963.

T-5 on September 10, 1963, advised that the MOW on August 28, 1963, was a "huge success." Many organizations participated in this event. It was obvious that the MOW committee would not allow the CP to support or sponsor it so the Party instructed its Communist fronts and its individual members to participate. In Philadelphia the Communists worked with the Independent Citizens Committee (ICC), one of the supporting organizations.

The ICC is characterized in the appendix of this report.

T-5 on September 27, 1963, advised a meeting called by the CPEPD at the request of the national office, CPUSA, of all members involved in political work was held on September 14, 1963, at 5422 Chestnut Street. The only topic on the agenda concerned the political picture. It was revealed at this meeting that the ICC was formed as an organization with "left initiative," one that would express a left opinion. PHIL BART, Organizational Secretary, CPUSA, stated the main task of the Party must be the development of the Negro people's movement.

PH T-5 on November 26, 1963, advised that [redacted] b7D including PHIL BART from the national office, CPUSA. THOMAS NABRIED, Chairman, CPEPD, stated that the Party must examine its line, tactics and strategy to see if it has taken the correct approach. The Party must set up new goals for itself, must examine the tendency to liquidate; dues and sustainers must be collected, and clubs must be mobilized.

NABRIED outlined several immediate tasks and specifically stated that activity on the civil rights front will be increased and methods will be examined as to how to work best with CORE and other groups on this question.

A discussion was held concerning the need for recruitment and it was agreed that the main concentration point for Party rebuilding will be in the Negro and labor fields.

T-5 on February 27, 1964, advised that during the past six months the CPEPD has had no consistent or sustained program for infiltration of mass organizations; occasionally discussions are held concerning the need for Party members to join mass organizations but no followup is made.

T-3 on June 11, 1964, advised that in regard to CPEPD participation in civil rights THOMAS NABRIED stated in discussing the general lack of activity in the district that one of the most important points on the July District Conference agenda should be the initiation of a CP program of action around civil rights. NABRIED added that despite the fact he himself is a Negro and that the Party locally has a large number of Negro members there has been insufficient discussion and planning in this major area which is ripe for exploitation. When questioned further NABRIED was vague and obviously had not given the matter much thought on what action the local district should initiate.

T-5 on July 1, 1964, advised the CPEPD sponsored a seminar on June 27, 1964, at the Hamilton Motor Court, 39th and Chestnut Streets. HYMAN LUMER, National Educational Director, CPUSA, was the main speaker. At this seminar LUMER stated that while the Negro people's movement is revolutionary it will not lead to socialism. He explained this by saying this movement is not a movement solely of the working class. It is true it will help hasten the transition to socialism but the CP is needed to give the scientific approach to leading issues.

T-5 on July 22, 1964, advised a district conference of the CPEPD was held on July 11 and 12, 1964, at the Hamilton Motor Court, 39th and Chestnut Streets. This conference, requested by the national office, CPUSA, was held to evaluate the work and elect leadership. Delegates to this conference were elected on a club level. The keynote address was given by NABRIED in which he stated the Party must combat the idea that the Negro people's movement and struggle would replace the working class struggle in the transition to socialism. In discussing the past NABRIED stated the Party had participated in the Negro movement, it had participated in picket lines, fought for Negro representation and participated in the MOW. It was pointed out that 25 to 30 liberal Congressmen had to be re-elected this year to insure liberal legislation. As a result left forces must develop a voter registration drive.

On July 14, 1964, PH T-7 advised that at the district conference of the CPEPD held July 11-12, 1964, at the Hamilton Motor Court, 39th and Chestnut Streets, THOMAS NABRIED stated that if BARRY GOLDWATER is elected President the ultra-right movement in the United States will take over. This will be a deterrent to the civil rights gains made by the Negroes. According to NABRIED, the CP should become very active in the elections and whenever possible influence the workers, the Negroes, and all other persons to vote against GOLDWATER. The CP must work with all political groups including the Democratic Party and trade unions in order to stop the GOLDWATER campaign.

T-7 on August 21, 1964, advised that THOMAS NABRIED stated on August 13, 1964, that the ICC had been doing an excellent job in the voter registration drive. He then suggested that CP members should take an active part in the ICC registration drive. NABRIED proposed that all CP clubs should organize and work in conjunction with the ICC to get as many Negroes registered to vote as possible. Comments from the Democratic Party have been favorable. FRANCES GABOW stated that if GOLDWATER is defeated the CP can overnight become a truly mass movement.

3) Plans strategy, Party line as revealed in Party publications and other propaganda media, such as written directives and press releases.

On [redacted] PH T-9 who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished a folder entitled "The Primary Elections - What is New," [redacted] The envelope bore the return address of Room 708, 250 South Broad Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The reverse side of the folder reflects that it was issued by the Communist Party, Eastern Pennsylvania, Room 708, 250 South Broad Street, Philadelphia, Pa., 19102. This folder reads, in part, as follows:

"The Primary Elections - What is New

"The 1964 Primary Elections take place in an atmosphere of frustration, dissatisfaction, political anxiety and increasing economic problems. They come in a time of man's growing productivity; new opportunities for peace; advance in scientific development that opens new horizons for human achievement. But these advances come on the scene when poverty, deprivation, discrimination and exploitation for individual profit, are still in plague of nations and peoples. ...

"The tramping feet of a quarter of a million Negro and white civil rights marchers in Washington last August have been echoed by the many marchers throughout the land since that national demonstration. The cry, 'Freedom Now', is shattering the last chains of human bondage. ...

"Labor is slow in moving out independently on the political arena. Its recent defeat in the unemployment compensation struggle and the growing unemployment problems arising from automation, demands greater unity and the physical participation of the whole labor movement in politics. It appears that labor needs three new ingredients to enhance its fight against employers and to change the character of government interference:

"1. Close ties with the peoples movements fighting for peace, civil and democratic rights.

"2. Firm ties with the impoverished people living in the rural areas.

"3. Nominate and elect its own representatives.

"These have become political necessities. ...

"The announcement of a Negro slate in the Democratic primaries this year advances the fight for equality to a new height. This slate is the advance driving force in the field of independent politics in Philadelphia. It has received support from an important section of Negro life, as well as the Reform Democrats, the ADA, Independent Citizens Committee, liberal and progressive people. The call issued by the NAACP for Negro candidates and friends of Negro freedom to get into the race was answered by these candidates.

"Free Discussion - Guarantees Positive Solutions.

"The Communist Party welcomes the call of Senator FULBRIGHT for reexamination of our foreign policy. We welcome the call of President JOHNSON to wage a War Against Poverty. However, we must point out that full expression cannot be registered when barriers exist that were established in the periods of witch hunt. Such laws as the McCarran Law; the Smith Act; state laws such as the Musmanno Act; the O'Brien Act and others that prohibit Communists from equal participation in elections, are severe hinderances to finding productive and beneficial answers. Such laws maintain an atmosphere of fear and stigma that limits free discussion and participation.

"The Communist Party calls upon the people of our state to demand the repeal of all discriminatory legislation in the election laws. It is necessary now to nullify or repeal any and all legislation that hinders free democratic expression, opinion and elections.

"Despite the legal obstacles, the Communist Party will struggle to guarantee the broadest democratic discussion of issues in this election. Though we are barred from running our own candidates, we will participate in these elections to the best of our ability. ...

PH T-10 , who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on [redacted] that FRANCES GABOW and THOMAS NABRIED were at Communist Party Headquarters in Philadelphia, and were completing a mailing [redacted] concerning the 1964 Primary Election.

"New Horizons For Youth"

On February 6, 1964, PH T- 11 advised that in December, 1963, leaders of "New Horizons" were contemplating articles on civil rights for the magazine.

A characterization of "Youth Publications, Inc.," publisher of "New Horizons for Youth," is in the appendix.

The following issues of "New Horizons for Youth" have been published in 1963 and 1964:

Volume 3, Number 1
Volume 3, Number 2
Volume 4, Number 1
Volume 4, Number 2

The Volume 3, Number 1, issue of "New Horizons for Youth" contained an article entitled "Negro Voter Registration: A Report." This article stressed the need for enforcement of federal laws to encourage registration of Negro voters in the South.

The Volume 3, Number 2, issue of "New Horizons for Youth" contained an editorial in support of the August 28, 1963, March on Washington. It contained an article entitled "The Lesson of Birmingham" which had as an illustration a drawing of Governor WALLACE of Alabama with blood on his hands, four coffins and a church in the background. The drawing had the label "Pontius Wallace" and the caption" My hands are clean."

The issue of "New Horizons for Youth" numbered Volume 4, Number 1, featured "Civil Rights Struggles Continue in '64" with the following articles:

"Organize Voter Registration in the North," a report of a press conference with MARTIN LUTHER KING; an article entitled "Police Brutality Marks Danville Demonstration;" an article entitled "SNCC (Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee) Press Ga. Drive;" an article "Students Spur Chester Struggle" and an article about alleged discrimination in the Olympics, "Jim Crow Starts for U.S."

The last issue of "New Horizons for Youth," Volume 4, Number 2, which appeared in March 1964, contains an article about the New York school boycott entitled "Hector Travels Freedom Road" and an editorial in support of the boycott. It contained an article entitled "A letter from Alabama" about SNCC activities in Gadsden, Ala., with a headline over one page "Some Had Babies In Their Arms, But That Didn't Make Any Difference To The Troopers."

General Activities of the Independent Citizens Committee (ICC)
in Civil Rights Movement

A characterization of the ICC is contained in the Appendix Section of this report.

PH T-5 on October 8, 1963, advised that a meeting of the ICC was held October 1, 1963, at the Germantown Women's Club, Washington Lane and Germantown Avenue. A discussion on civil rights was held at this meeting.

On January 27, 1964, PH T-5 advised that the annual conference of the ICC was held January 25, 1964, at the Philadelphia Athletic Club, Broad and Wood Streets, Philadelphia, Pa. Although 250 people had registered for the conference, only 168 were in attendance at this affair. Included among the latter figure were 20 to 30 individuals who are known to be Communist Party (CP) members.

PH T-5 stated that [redacted], a member of the Communist Party of [redacted], was [redacted] of the conference. b6 b7C

The conference conducted six different panels, including civil rights, labor, youth, education, peace, and political action. [redacted] of the Congress of Racial Equality, was the [redacted] of the civil rights panel, while [redacted] was [redacted] of the Philadelphia Negro Trade Union Leadership Council [redacted] the labor panel under the [redacted] of [redacted].

PH T-5 advised that among the resolutions passed by the various panels were the following: Negro representation in the State Senate; to work for free world trade and ease the tension of the cold war; a shorter work week with less overtime; unity between the Negro and the white in the trade union movement.

On February 12, 1964, PH T-5 advised that on February 7, 1964, [redacted] contacted [redacted] who has [redacted] for a number of years (but who is not aware of [redacted] b6 b7C

[redacted] CP affiliation). [redacted] explained the ICC, its purposes and beliefs to [redacted] and of its efforts to break the "lily white" Senate in Harrisburg. [redacted] advised [redacted] the ICC would support him if he becomes a candidate. b6 b7C

On March 4, 1964, PH T- 5 advised that [redacted] the ICC held an affair at the Blue Horizon Auditorium, North Broad Street. [redacted] b6 b7C

On March 25, 1964, PH T- 5 advised that on March 18, 1964, [redacted] and [redacted] all CP members [redacted] attended an Independent Democratic Club Rally at 4209 Lancaster Avenue. At this rally, [redacted] told the people present that the ICC would endorse the complete civil rights slate. b6 b7C

PH T-5 on April 13, 1964, advised that on April 8, 1964, a fraction meeting of the CPEPD members, working in the ICC, was held at 234 West Johnson Street.

At this meeting, FRANCES GABOW instructed those present to get every person possible to work for the civil rights candidates. She proposed that the ICC concentrate in two main areas, the 28th and 24th Congressional Wards. GABOW said they should obtain sound equipment, set up telephone squads, and get poll watchers for the up-coming Primary.

FRANCES GABOW further added that she was working on an ICC statement concerning the state primary. She stated it would deal with unemployment, civil rights, peace, and youth.

B. OTHER COMMUNIST GROUPS

PH 100-47672
(1)

PHILADELPHIA DIVISION

On February 21, 1964, PH T-12 advised that a Philadelphia Branch Socialist Workers Party (PBSWP) meeting was held [redacted] b6 b7C Informant advised at this meeting it was decided to picket the Attorney General ROBERT F. KENNEDY when he is in Philadelphia on March 8, 1963, to receive a fellowship award.

Informant stated the picket line would be made up of individuals from the PBSWP, the Philadelphia Young Socialist Alliance (PYSA), the Fair Play for Cuba Committee (FPCC), and the Young Peoples Socialist League (YPSL).

On February 21, 1963, PH T-13 advised that at a PYSA meeting [redacted] b6 b7C whom the informant described as [redacted] of the PYSA, announced that the YSA was preparing leaflets for distribution to their friends and sympathizers requesting funds for preparation of posters and placards for picketing against the Attorney General on March 8, 1963. Informant advised that informant believed the members of the PYSA wanted to get active in this picket line, but were unable to ascertain whether or not any other group would actively participate.

The racial implications of this planned picket will be set out under II of this report.

COMMITTEE TO AID THE MONROE DEFENDANTS

On September 22, 1961, Confidential Informant PH T-14 advised that the Committee to Aid the Monroe Defendants (CAMD) had been organized by the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) in New York City, and intended to make the arrest of ROBERT F. WILLIAMS a racial issue throughout the United States by setting up various branches of the CAMD with SWP members directing the activities of Negroes in these branches.

According to the informant, the committee was formed by the SWP with the intention of making a national and international issue out of the current federal process outstanding against ROBERT FRANKLIN WILLIAMS, militant Negro leader of Monroe, N. C., who has been charged with interstate flight to avoid prosecution for the crime of kidnaping, in that he allegedly kidnaped Mr. and Mrs. BRUCE STEGALL during racial riots occurring in Monroe, N. C., on August 27, 1961.

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

Confidential Informants PH T-12 and PH T-13 advised on June 11, 1962, that from time to time the CAMD is mentioned at Philadelphia Branch, Socialist Workers Party (PBSWP) meetings as a worthy cause and one that should be supported, but no overt action is ever taken toward setting up a local CAMD branch in Philadelphia.

A characterization of the PBSWP is located in the Appendix section of this report.

On April 23, 1963, Confidential Informant PH T-15 [redacted] advised that [redacted] had been reported to be in Philadelphia as [redacted] of the organization Council Of Racial Equality (CORE). Informant stated [redacted] has been reported to be [redacted] at the St. Joseph's Baptist Church, located in the 1600 block of North 16th Street, Philadelphia, on [redacted] Informant stated he will be sponsored by the local branch of CAMD and CORE.

PROVISIONAL ORGANIZING COMMITTEE FOR A MARXIST-LENINIST COMMUNIST PARTY (POC)

AND

PHILADELPHIA FIGHTERS FOR LIBERTY AND JUSTICE (PFLJ)

Confidential Informant PH T-16 on August 11, 1964, advised that the PFLJ is a front organization of the POC.

Characterizations of the PFLJ and the POC appear in the appendix section of this report.

1) As noted in the above-referenced characterization of the PFLJ, PH T-15 advised that the POC held a National Congress on Equal Rights on August 31 and September 1, 1963, in New York City.

"The Marxist-Leninist Vanguard," which is self-identified as a publication of the POC, in its combined issue for October-November 1963, carried an article on page one entitled "Police Terror Hits Negro Masses." This article indicated that in the face of a vacuum in Negro leadership and police terror against Negroes, Philadelphia participants in the National Congress on Equal Rights have organized themselves into a committee to develop the program of that Congress. This committee is the Philadelphia Fighters for Liberty and Justice and the first task adopted has been the defense of SANDY SMITH. The article identified SMITH as a veteran Communist, a member of the POC and a militant leader in the struggle for Negro rights, who was arrested by the Philadelphia Police Department due to his participation in the mass struggles.

A two page throwaway dated November 20, 1963, self-identified as being issued by the PFLJ, states this organization came into being as the organized form for developing in Philadelphia the program of the National Congress on Equal Rights which was held August 31 and September 1, 1963, in New York City.

2) Confidential Informant PH T-15 advised on October 8, 1963, that the initial meeting of the PFLJ was held October 1, 1963. At this meeting [redacted] stated that the purpose of this organization would be different from that of the NAACP and CORE. He said this organization would be designed for struggle and it would attempt to organize the people around their common needs. The organization would stress that police brutality can only be combated by organized resistance and demonstrations. b6 b7C

PH T-16 and PH T-15 have advised on various dates since the inception of the PFLJ that its plans and strategy have been the distribution of leaflets and the holding of street corner meetings in predominantly Negro ghettos of Philadelphia (see Section II of this report for details of activities) aimed at inciting the Negroes to action against their "white oppressors." The nature of the propaganda as expressed by the members of the PFLJ closely follows the Chinese Communist line and frequently they resort to quoting Chinese Communist publications.

PH T-16 advised on August 3, 1964, that the PFLJ holds weekly meetings every Thursday evening.

PH T-16 advised on [redacted] that as of that date the officers of the PFLJ consisted of: [redacted] President; [redacted] Vice-President; [redacted] Recording Secretary; [redacted] Financial Secretary; and [redacted] Chairman, Educational Committee. b6 b7C

Confidential Informant PH T-16 advised on August 11, 1964, that the PFLJ advocates a militant struggle on the part of the Negro, but has formulated no specific form of action through which the "militant aspect" of this struggle can be effected.

PH T-16 advised that in the past, the PFLJ has confined itself to street corner meetings and the distribution of leaflets in an effort to alert the Negro community to the many wrongs to which they have been subjected. The three main topics discussed in these leaflets and at these meetings are police brutality, unemployment, and inferior housing.

PH T-16 stated that the PFLJ planned to hold weekly street corner meetings for the summer, which would deal with the aforementioned topics.

This informant advised that the PFLJ consists of eight to nine Negro members, and has no headquarters in the Philadelphia area, but holds weekly meetings at the homes of its members.

PH T- 16 advised that the POC has no headquarters in the Philadelphia area, but holds meetings at the homes of its members. He stated that the POC has five members in Philadelphia.

PH T- 16 advised on October 19, 1964, that, in reality, the PFLJ is synonymous with the Philadelphia Chapter of the POC and there are currently seven members. Informant noted that the name POC is never used any more in local meetings as it has developed a bad connotation due to adverse publicity, and when the members refer to the organization at all, they refer to it as the PFLJ. No meetings are held in the name of the POC and all meetings held are identified as meetings of the PFLJ.

Confidential Informant PH T-16 advised on September 11, 1964, that the above persons, with [redacted] of [redacted] and including in addition [redacted] were all voting delegates to the POC Sixth Conference held September 5-6, 1964, in New York City.

3. PH T-16 advised on July 23, 1964, that the PFLJ has no official organ but has issued various leaflets concerning topics of current interest, which leaflets are published in throwaway form.

PH T-16 made available on June 8, 1964, a PFLJ leaflet dated June 5, 1964, entitled "Memorial to the Negro Victims - Imperialist Oppression," which states that the main purpose of the PFLJ is to carry on a campaign of militant struggle against the policy of violence and brutality toward the Negro, which is the policy of the ruling circles.

PH T- 16 made available on June 29, 1964, a PFLJ leaflet which indicated that the PFLJ was formed for the purpose of getting the Negro people's struggle out of the hands of the Uncle Toms, the lackeys and the flunkies of the ruling class." The leaflet further stated that "the most important lesson that the Negro people must learn is that United States imperialism is the main enemy of oppressed peoples....

"We will fight for the right to assemble to bring our program of honest struggle to the Negro community...We will explain why so many of our people are out of work, underpaid, or on public assistance, and why there is no future in the USA for most of our youths or for the Negro people without a real struggle, not by the sham that is going on today. We will bring to the people a program of resistance to the oppression and the slanders of the people around the issues of increasing unemployment, increased living costs, relief harrassment and denial of public assistance...."

NORTH PHILADELPHIA COMMITTEE FOR EQUAL JUSTICE, ALSO KNOWN AS PHILADELPHIA COMMITTEE FOR EQUAL JUSTICE

PH T- 16 advised on March 12, 1963, that the North Philadelphia Committee for Equal Justice (NPCEJ) is controled by the Philadelphia Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC).

A characterization of the NPCEJ appears in the appendix of this report.

A characterization of the POC appears in the appendix of this report.

PH T- 16 advised on July 30, 1963, that the NPCEJ is a "dead" organization and has been replaced by the Philadelphia Fighters for Liberty and Justice.

A characterization of the Philadelphia Fighters for Liberty and Justice appears in the appendix of this report.

PH T- 15 advised on August 14, 1963, that a meeting of the NPCEJ was held on August 1, 1963, at 1501 Firth Street. At this meeting [redacted] read what he called a bill of indictment against Philadelphia authorities in regard to their double standard of justice enforced on the Negro people. He claimed that Negroes had been arrested on trumped up charges, beaten and murdered, and their assailants go free. b6 b7C

These abuses have been prevalent throughout the United States for the past 100 years and they must end for this is a new day of justice for the Negro people.

For an account of NPCEJ street meeting on August 3, 1963, see Section II.

PLANS, STRATEGY, AND LINE AS REVEALED IN PUBLICATIONS

The combined March-April-May 1962 issue of "Equal Justice News," which is self-identified as the monthly bulletin of the NPCEJ, contained an announcement that this newspaper was born to serve the best interests of the Negro community. The program of this bulletin is to give a clear voice to the grievances and viewpoints of the oppressed sector of the community, to challenge unjust policies, to give direction and organization to community struggles that shall make useful changes.

The "Equal Justice News," in its issue of March 1963, contained an article on page 1 entitled "Outlook '63." This article reflects that the NPCEJ is now in the process of drafting a plan of struggle. This program is not geared to this leader or that spokesman, but to the community. The program of struggle is based not on loud statements, but on propelling the community into action. This program would be aimed at ending the "jungle" label for certain areas of Philadelphia and stopping the "crime" and "citizen brutality" lies.

The same issue of the "Equal Justice News" on page 1 contains an article entitled "Equal Justice Committee Leader Comes to Trial March 5." This article discloses the arrest of SANDY SMITH and indicated the SANDY SMITH case is the case of the Negro community against police malpractice. It is the sharpest joining of this problem to date in the courts. It is up to the Negro Community and the supporters of "Equal Justice" to rally behind this case to force a victory for the community.

PROGRESSIVE LABOR MOVEMENT

Characterizations of the Progressive Labor Movement, also known as Progressive Labor, and of the Proletarian Communist Committee (PCC), appear in the appendix section of this report.

1. PH T-17 advised on June 9, 1964, b6 b7C that [redacted], a member of the [redacted] Informant further advised that [redacted] is on the National Steering Committee of the Progressive Labor Movement, whose headquarters are in New York City, and is [redacted] of the [redacted]

PH T-17 advised on June 9, 1964, b6 b7C that [redacted] a member of the [redacted] National Steering Committee of the Progressive Labor Movement and is [redacted] of the [redacted]

PH T-19 advised on May 18, 1964, that a meeting of what appeared to be the Steering Committee of the Progressive Labor group was held in New York City on May 16-17, 1964. Among the delegates present at the conference was [redacted] b6 of [redacted] b7C Reports were given by delegates from the various sections of the country reporting on the progress of Progressive Labor in their respective areas. The report from Pennsylvania indicated membership there consists of 18 to 20 persons and that plans have been discussed to expand this figure, and it was concluded that the most fertile field for new members appeared to be among the Negroes.

2. PH T-17 advised on September 9, 1963, that at b6 a regular meeting of the Progressive Labor Movement [redacted] b7C held August 31, 1963, during a discussion of WILLIAM EPTON's campaign for political office in New York, [redacted] stated he had received 50 pamphlets from the New York office of Progressive Labor urging the Negroes to start a third political party. [redacted] stated he was going to pass out these pamphlets to Negroes [redacted] He indicated that since this was to be an all black party, and [redacted], the Negroes from this area might become more interested and feel that the Progressive Labor Party was their friend. b6 b7C

On July 16, 1963, PH T-16 advised that [redacted] and [redacted] passed out Progressive Labor Club leaflets in the vicinity of Bainbridge Street between Broad and 19th Streets in Philadelphia, Pa., on July 8, 1963. b6 b7C

On July 1, 1964, PH T-20 advised that [redacted] of Progressive Labor [redacted], and [redacted] others met on June 27, 1964, [redacted] and discussed the world situation. [redacted] and a fellow member [redacted] a revolutionary position supporting the Chinese in the Russian-Chinese ideological dispute. They also made it plain that they support a revolutionary approach to the American scene and condemn not only the Russian Communist Party as sell-out artists, but also condemn the whole world-wide Communist movement with the exception of the Chinese. Informant noted that the "Peking Review" is the "bible" of this group. b6 b7C

On September 12, 1964, PH T-17 advised that on August 29, 1964, at a regular meeting of the Williamsport Progressive Labor Club, [redacted] said he wanted a discussion on the formation of a mass party built around the Progressive Labor Club, because when the Progressive Labor Club held its convention, he was greatly in favor of such a movement and would fight for the adoption of a resolution for such a step. He noted that now the forces of revolution were on the move, especially among the Negro groups and they (the Negroes) needed leadership. b6 b7C

3. On July 12, 1963, Chief JOHN GOOD, Williamsport, Pa. Police Department, made available two leaflets which had been given him by [redacted] These leaflets were issued by the Progressive Labor Club, 102 West Street, Williamsport, Pa., and had been received by [redacted] through the mail [redacted] One leaflet is a letter written by PAUL E. AULT of Duboistown, Pa., b6 b7C dated May 7, 1963, addressed to the editor of Letters to Readers, Williamsport Sun Gazette, Williamsport, Pa. This letter protests use of dogs by police in the United States against Negroes from Civil War days up to the present. The letter, in general, pitted the Negro workers against the white workers, and in an introduction at the top of the letter, AULT noted he had submitted this letter to the Williamsport Sun Gazette but that they had not printed it, although they editorially approved his discharge by Bethlehem Steel. The second leaflet was an undated open letter to the white workers of Pennsylvania, signed by the Progressive Labor Club of Williamsport. This called attention to Negro mass demonstrations throughout the South and North, decried the racist system of segregation and discrimination, and the use of violence, terror, police dogs and other tactics against the Negroes. The letter noted that discrimination is an integral part of U. S. capitalism and can only be completely eliminated by replacing the capitalist economical structure with a Marxist-Leninist Socialist one where people rather than profits are primary.

On various dates [redacted] PH T-17 identified the [redacted] PCC members as follows:

PH T-16 and PH T-17 on various dates prior to November 15, 1962, advised that the main activities of the PCC in Philadelphia and Williamsport consisted of promoting the program of a six-hour day with eight hours' pay.

PH T-16 advised on May 13, 1963, that the Philadelphia Chapter of the PCC and its Committee For a Six-Hour Day with Eight Hours' Pay had ceased to exist.

PH T-17 advised on May 9, 1963, that [redacted] is [redacted] of the [redacted] PCC; that the [redacted] PCC has no headquarters and continues to meet mainly at the residence of [redacted] b6 b7C

PH T-17 advised on April 24, 1960, that [redacted] was [redacted] of the PCC.

On September 19, 1963, PH T-17 advised that [redacted] is [redacted] is Treasurer; and [redacted] and [redacted] are members of the PCC.

The informant noted the PCC is a closed organization. No open activity is carried on by the organization and meetings are normally held in one of the residences of the members, usually that of [redacted]

According to the informant, [redacted] has indicated that, if the Progressive Labor Club evermeets their ideological requirements, then the PCC will be disbanded, and the Progressive Labor Club will take over.

The informant noted that the above persons are the inner circle of the Progressive Labor Club in [redacted] Pa. [redacted] noted [redacted] is [redacted] and [redacted] is [redacted] of the Progressive Labor Club. [redacted] further noted the Progressive Labor Club is an open organization and engages in open activities. The original goal of the PCC, which consisted of working for a six-hour day with eight hours' pay, has been taken over by the Progressive Labor Club.

On February 8, 1964, PH T-17 advised that the members and leaders of the PCC continue to be the same persons as noted above. The informant has noted on several occasions, up to the present date, that the PCC is a closed organization of members only and that these are the inner circle and the active leaders of the open organization, the Progressive Labor Club.

It should be noted that all activities of the above persons in the racial field have been done in the name of the open organization with which they are affiliated, the Progressive Labor Club. (See section on Progressive Labor Movement, this report.)

2) Inasmuch as the national organization and membership are identical to the local organization and membership, all information which would be included in this section has been set out under the one above.

3) As noted under the first section above, all activities of the PCC in the racial field have been conducted in the name of the open organization, with which the leaders are affiliated, the Progressive Labor Club.

"COMMITTEE TO PICKET ROBERT KENNEDY

"Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
February 19, 1963

"Dear Friend,

"On Friday night, March 8, 1963, ROBERT KENNEDY, the Attorney General of the United States, will receive the 1962 International Friendship Award of International House of Philadelphia.

"He will be presented the award at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel for 'imagination, compassion, and energy which he has demonstrated in his writings and public and private acts to inspire confidence in the future and faith and democracy among young people throughout the world.'

"ROBERT KENNEDY has prosecuted WILLIAM WORTHY, an Afro-American convicted for returning without a passport to this country from Cuba. ROBERT KENNEDY is denying Americans a basic right by refusing to lift the travel ban on Cuba. ROBERT KENNEDY participated as a member of the 'inner nine' who called the blockade of Cuba. Mr. KENNEDY has used the Mc Carran Act to outlaw the Communist Party and recently the Advance youth organization in New York. Mr. KENNEDY is guilty of a lack of action in supporting and/or protecting the students and young people in the South who are risking their lives to obtain their constitutional rights of citizenship. We do not believe that ROBERT KENNEDY deserves this award.

"There will be a meeting of the Committee to Picket ROBERT KENNEDY, Monday, February 25, 1963, at 8:00 p.m. at 3701 Powelton Avenue, Apartment 3A. You are asked to come and help in the building and organization of the picket line.

MARCH ON WASHINGTON
AUGUST 28, 1963

The "Evening Bulletin," a Philadelphia daily newspaper, in its issue of August 6, 1963, Two Star Final edition, page one, carried an article entitled "15,000 Sought From Here For Negro March." This article indicated that A. PHILIP RANDOLPH, the National Director of the March on Washington, August 28, 1963, on August 5, 1963 spoke to a meeting of more than 200 persons at the Philadelphia Fellowship Commission Auditorium, 260 South 15th Street. RANDOLPH called for 15,000 Philadelphians to take part in this massive civil rights march in Washington. He indicated the march would be a demonstration for racial equality throughout the nation. At this meeting more than 70 civil, labor, church and fraternal organizations pledged their support and attendance at the march.

PENN.
D.C.

PH T-5 advised on August 7, 1963, that a meeting of the Independent Citizens Committee (ICC) was held August 6, 1963, at 3617 Broad Street, Philadelphia, Pa., for the purpose of formulating plans for the March on Washington, August 28, 1963. At this meeting it was indicated the ICC had been asked to be a sponsor of the March on Washington but had to refuse because it would have meant subscribing $500. However, the ICC agreed to support the march. At this meeting the ICC voted to charter three buses for the march.

A characterization of the ICC is contained in the appendix of this report.

PH T-5 advised on August 12, 1963, that most of the members of the CPEPD taking part in the March on Washington would go in one of the three ICC chartered buses.

PH T-3 advised [redacted] that according to THOMAS NABRIED, the CPEPD is working with legitimate organizations, such as the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), b7D the NAACP, and church organizations. The CPEPD is working with these groups in an effort to make the march a success. According to NABRIED, this is typical throughout the country and follows CP policy. NABRIED added that the same technique is being used in New York City.

NABRIED also stated that the ICC has been very active in the Philadelphia area in support of the March on Washington. This group has worked in North and West Philadelphia and has utilized a sound truck. It has also had a telephone brigade in an effort to obtain participants in the March on Washington and to obtain funds to pay for the transportation of those unable to do so.

PH T-5 advised on August 23, 1963, that the ICC has been extremely active in connection with the March on Washington, August 28, 1963. This organization has been successful in their fund raising efforts and has paid the necessary $448 for three buses the organization has chartered. Through canvassing in the neighborhoods in North, West, and Northwest Philadelphia, the organization has now obtained enough participants to fill four buses. The ICC subcommittee handling the March on Washington feels that sufficient people can be recruited to fill a fifth bus.

The "Sunday Bulletin," which is the Sunday edition of the "Evening Bulletin," a Philadelphia newspaper, in its issue of August 25, 1963, on page one, section one, carried an article entitled "15,000 Negroes and Whites From Phila. to Join in Civil Rights March to Capital." This article indicated that according to estimates of the chairman of the Philadelphia March to Washington Committee, 10,000 Negroes and 5,000 whites from the Philadelphia area will participate in the March on Washington, August 28, 1963.

PH T-22 on August 23, 1963, advised that instructions had been issued by the district leaders of the CPEPD that "The Worker" is to be distributed on August 28, 1963, at Philadelphia bus and train departure points for the March on Washington. CPEPD club members and members of the Youth Club, CPEPD, are being asked to assist in this distribution, which will probably start at 5 a.m. on August 28, 1963.

"The Worker" is an East Coast Communist newspaper.

PH T-24 advised on September 2, 1963, that the Socialist Youth Union (SYU)-sponsored Ad Hoc Committee, known as the Nicetown Youth Committee for Jobs and Freedom March, had three busloads of individuals participate in the March on Washington, August 28, 1963.

A characterization of the Action For Youth, formerly known as the SYU, appears in the appendix section of this report.

PH T-25 advised on September 3, 1963, that the Philadelphia Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) will have as many of their comrades in the March on Washington as are able to get there.

The SWP has been cited by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Philadelphia Afro-American," a Philadelphia Negro newspaper, in its issue of September 14, 1963, on page one carried an article entitled "Final Tally, Phila. Marchers--37,000!" This article indicated that CECIL B. MOORE, Philadelphia NAACP President, stated last week that a final tally of local marchers in the historic Washington civil rights demonstration on August 28, 1963, reached a total of better than 37,000.

ATTEMPT TO INTEGRATE DELMAR VILLAGE,
FOLCROFT, PA., AUGUST 29, 1963

On August 30, 1963, Confidential Informant PH T-26 advised that FRANCES GABOW on that date contacted THOMAS NABRIED in regard to the disturbances which had arisen when a Negro family, [redacted] moved into an all-white community in Delmar Village, Folcroft, Pa. GABOW suggested and NABRIED agreed that the CPEPD initiate a letter, telephone, and telegram campaign urging Governor WILLIAM W. SCRANTON afford more police protection for [redacted] GABOW was of the opinion and NABRIED agreed martial law should be declared. b6 b7C PENN.

On August 31, 1963, the informant advised GABOW told NABRIED she had been up most of the previous night and had the campaign rolling. Attempts had been made to reach the Governor, newspapers had been called, Pennsylvania State Police at Barracks in Media, Harrisburg, and Philadelphia had been contacted, and they stated they were doing all in their power.

On September 5, 1963, Confidential Informant PH T-5 stated that at a meeting of the District Executive Committee, CPEPD, held September 4, 1963, at 1345 West Susquehanna Avenue, Philadelphia, NABRIED and GABOW gave a joint report on the Folcroft situation. GABOW said she had been in contact with CORE, who told her CORE was not getting involved in the situation inasmuch as the NAACP was already involved, and that action taken by CORE might be considered intervention by the NAACP. CORE had made suggestions, she said, but she did not elaborate.

Informant advised that while GABOW was claiming credit for herself and the CPEPD for obtaining additional police protection for [redacted] family, the CP actually had no influence in the Folcroft situation. Informant is of the opinion that GABOW is prone to exaggerate and is attempting to enhance her position in the Party and also to leave the impression that the CP played a large role in the Folcroft incident.

BOMBING OF 16TH STREET BAPTIST CHURCH,
BIRMINGHAM, ALA., SEPTEMBER 15, 1963

Confidential Informant PH T-26 advised September 15, 1963, FRANCES GABOW had on that date told THOMAS NABRIED she had been calling on the telephone to get people to telegraph a protest to President JOHN F. KENNEDY demanding he declare martial law in Birmingham, Ala., and for him to send the FBI to take over law enforcement in Birmingham as a result of the bombing of the 16th Street Baptist Church, Birmingham, Ala., September 15, 1963. She said also the FBI should bring the bombers to justice.

Confidential Informant PH T-5 advised September 17, 1963, a meeting was held September 16, 1963, under the sponsorship of CORE at the Presbyterian Church, Broad and Diamond Streets, Philadelphia. A number of groups were represented, including RAM, a group of young intellectual Afro-Americans having no formal organization or word description of the name, but who joined in pro-civil rights activity rather than initiating action, ICC, SWP, YSA, and CAMD. The consensus of the group was to cooperate and help the Birmingham victims according to their wishes rather than to undertake programs different than the Alabamians wanted. Any funds raised to help rebuild the church, it was decided, should be sent through CORE. They also advocated, according to Lt. [redacted] PEN N. Philadelphia Police Department, Intelligence Unit, pressuring Federal officials, instituting Federal martial law in Alabama, and also [redacted] of RAM, advocated sending guns to Alabama for the civil rights people, but this last suggestion was rejected by the group. b6 b7C

Confidential Informant PH T-6 also advised the same date that TOM NABRIED had sent a letter to President JOHN F. KENNEDY urging martial law be instituted in Alabama, Federal troops be sent to Alabama to restore law and order, arrest of Governor WALLACE for murder, and the removal of FBI Director J. EDGAR HOOVER from office for failure to arrest the perpetrators of the bombing. On September 18, 1963, the informant said this letter of NABRIED was to be mimeo-graphed with a space left open so that it could be signed and sent to KENNEDY after mass distribution. As of that time the letter, according to the informant, had not been circulated.

On September 19, 1963, Confidential Informant PH T-5 said TOM NABRIED wrote the letter in the form of a press release which he had sent to CORE, NAACP, and other civil rights and church groups in Philadelphia. The letter explained the bombing situation in Birmingham, Ala., and as a result urged: declaring of martial law in Alabama; arrest of Governor WALLACE; and replacement of Director J. EDGAR HOOVER of the FBI for dereliction of duty.

RACIAL DEMONSTRATION, RESULT OF KILLING BY PHILADELPHIA POLICE DEPARTMENT OF WILLIE PHILYAW, JR., ON OCTOBER 26, 1963, AND STREET MEETINGS SPONSORED BY THE NORTH PHILADELPHIA COMMITTEE FOR EQUAL JUSTICE

The following organizations, utilized in this section, are characterized in the Appendix of this report:

Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC)

Philadelphia Fighters for Liberty and Justice (PFLJ)

North Philadelphia Committee for Equal Justice (NPCEJ), also known as Philadelphia Committee for Equal Justice

Nation of Islam (NOI)

"The Philadelphia Evening and Sunday Bulletin," a Philadelphia, Pa., newspaper, in its issue for October 27, 1963, on Page one, Section B, carried a story regarding the shooting of WILLIE PHILYAW, JR., of 2210 North 19th Street, on the evening of October 26, 1963, at the corner of 19th Street and Susquehanna Avenue, by Philadelphia Police Officer JOHN TOURIGIAN. PHILYAW was suspected of shoplifting a ladies wrist watch from an Owl Drug Store on the corner of 19th Street and Susquehanna Avenue, where he had also purchased a knife, which he had in his possession when he was shot. Officer TOURIGIAN attempted to question PHILYAW regarding the theft of the watch. PHILYAW, according to the officer, lunged at him with the knife, and the officer shot and killed PHILYAW. Officer TOURIGIAN was threatened by a crowd which formed after the shooting. He called for police re-enforcements, and after their arrival, the crowd was dispersed.

"The Philadelphia Inquirer," a Philadelphia, Pa., newspaper, in its issue for October 29, 1963, on Page one, carried an article, which stated that on October 28, 1963, at about 6:30 p.m., a crowd of approximately 500 people gathered at the corner of 19th Street and Susquehanna Avenue to attend a meeting conducted by an organization identified as the NPCEJ. The crowd surged into the street at the end of an 85-minute meeting, in which the Philadelphia Police account of the fatal shooting of WILLIE PHILYAW, JR., was branded "a bare-faced lie." The article indicated the chief speaker at the meeting, a Vice-President of the NPCEJ, who identified himself to reporters as "H. MOSS," cited the text "An eye for an eye; a tooth for a tooth" over a loud speaker to the crowd.

The article indicated that at 7:40 p.m., MOSS pleaded for his audience to disperse quietly when it seemed the crowd was on the verge of rioting. The enraged crowd swarmed into Susquehanna Avenue from 16th to 19th Streets. The crowd had been inflamed by MOSS, who spoke from a sound truck only 100 feet from where PHILYAW had been shot by Police Officer TOURIGIAN, of the 22nd Police District. As the meeting ended and cars drove onto Susquehanna Avenue, the crowd surrounded these cars and threatened white drivers. Later, fast-moving gangs of teenagers systematically smashed store windows, looted the displays, and ran before police cars could reach them. At least 34 police vehicles were sent into the area to quell the rioting. More than 60 uniformed policemen were ordered to the area. Barricades were erected in front of the looted stores to prevent further vandalism. A pamphlet entitled "The Equal Justice News," issued by the NPCEJ, was blamed for a major portion of the trouble. This pamphlet gave a distorted account of the shooting of PHILYAW under the heading, "Punish Murder Cop; No More Whitewash!"

"The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin," in its issue of October 30, 1963, three-star sports edition, on Page one, carried an article entitled "Moore Blames Reds For Riots in North Philadelphia." This article indicated that CECIL B. MOORE, Chairman of the Philadelphia Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), stated today that the North Philadelphia riot on October 28, 1963, was Communist-inspired. He made the charge after receiving court permission to withdraw as counsel for SANDY SMITH. SMITH was to have gone to trial this morning on an 18-month-old charge of inciting to riot. The article indicated that when SMITH's case was called before Judge WILLIAM I. TROUTMAN, Attorney MOORE rose and told TROUTMAN, "I am filing an application to withdraw as his (SMITH's) attorney. I told him I was going to do this. I have served since his arrest (May 5, 1962) without fee. I have subsequently discovered that SMITH is a member of a Communist organization. For the last three months, this organization has been attacking me personally. On Monday night, as a result of an incident that occurred on Saturday, taking advantage of tensions in the area, he and several other men created havoc and a riot." PENN

MOORE handed Judge TROUTMAN a circular dated April 25, 1963, which described SMITH as a member of the NPCEJ and appealed for public support in his fight against the 1962 inciting to riot charge. MOORE stated, "They seem to be interested only in creating chaos and trying to work on people's emotions."

Assistant District Attorney BERNARD GOODHEART asked SMITH if he objected to MOORE's withdrawal, and SMITH said he did not. GOODHEART asked SMITH if he understood why MOORE wanted to retire from the case. "Yes," SMITH responded. In granting MOORE permission to withdraw, Judge TROUTMAN continued the trial to permit SMITH to obtain new counsel. PENN.

The article further indicated that later, outside of court, MOORE stated he had been referring to the street demonstrations by 500 Negroes growing out of the killing of WILLIE PHILYAW, JR. "This riot was Communist-inspired," MOORE said. A transcript in the 1962 arrest showed that SMITH was arrested at 16th and Master Streets after he allegedly interfered with two policemen while they were arresting an intoxicated man. The policemen asserted they warned SMITH he was "agitating" some 50 onlookers. They called re-enforcements to disperse the crowd. SMITH at that time described himself as a leader of the NPCEJ. He said the group was formed to work against police brutality.

PH T-15 advised on November 1, 1963, that on the night of October 31, 1963, there was a street meeting at 17th Street and Susquehanna Avenue, at which the PFLJ and the NPCEJ had a loud speaker attached to an automobile with speeches being made by HENRY MOSS, HAROLD ALLEN, and SANDY SMITH. The speakers talked to a crowd of 75 to 100 people in regard to the racial situation in North Philadelphia, resulting from the shooting of WILLIE PHILYAW. The speakers told the crowd the time was right for action, and the Negro of Philadelphia should no longer accept police brutality. The street meeting lasted from 7:15 p.m. until about 9:00 p.m., when the crowd was instructed to keep order and return to their homes without incident. The older people in the crowd dispersed quietly, but some of the teenagers were reluctant to leave, and wanted to take some immediate action; however, there were no incidents or disturbances. The informant advised that leaflets were passed out at this meeting, signed by the PFLJ and the NPCEJ, inviting the people to join in a march at 6:00 p.m. on November 1, 1963, from 17th Street and Susquehanna Avenue to the 22nd District Police Station. This march would be to protest police brutality in North Philadelphia and to bring this forcibly to the attention of the police department. After this street meeting, leaders of both groups got together and made plans for the demonstration to be conducted on November 1, 1963. They estimated 75 to 100 people would take part in the march, and a marshal would be designated for each eight to ten people to keep the march peaceful.

On November 1, 1963, Lieutenant [redacted] b6 b7C Commissioner's Office, Philadelphia Police Department, advised that the Philadelphia Police had covered the street meeting held on October 31, 1963, at 17th Street and Susquehanna Avenue. The PFLJ and the NPCEJ had a sound unit attached to an automobile, and speeches were made criticizing the police department severely for its handling of Negroes. The speakers exhorted the 75 to 100 people who gathered for the meeting to come forth and forcibly make known their demands to the police department in regard to its use of brutality. The crowd did not get out of hand, but they became quite excited at the type of inflammatory speeches made by speakers SANDY SMITH and HENRY MOSS. At about 8:30 p.m., the crowd was asked by the speakers to quietly return to their homes. The crowd did not immediately disperse, and some emotion was evident; however, there were no incidents and by 9:00 p.m., the area was clear.

On November 8, 1963, Inspector [redacted] and PENN. Lieutenant [redacted], both of the Philadelphia Police Department, advised there were 40 to 50 persons present at a demonstration on November 1, 1963, before the 22nd District Police Station. From this group, [redacted] and [redacted] entered the police station and presented a petition to the District Police Captain. This petition was presented "on behalf of the Negro people in Philadelphia." It demanded the arrest of Police Officer [redacted] and an end to "police brutality." The group of demonstrators was gathered by [redacted] and [redacted] during a march from 17th Street and Susquehanna Avenue to the 22nd District Police Station. The group consisted mostly of onlookers and curiosity seekers. The demonstration was orderly and no incidents occurred.

Inspector MEERS also advised that on November 2, 1963, the NPCEJ had about seven individuals speak on the general theme of police brutality at the corner of 19th Street and Susquehanna Avenue. These speakers attracted a crowd of 25 to 50 people; however, the crowd was orderly and no incidents occurred. Inspector MEERS did not know the identify of the individuals who spoke.

PH T-16 on July 30, 1964, stated that the North Philadelphia Committee for Equal Justice is a "dead" organization and has been replaced by the Philadelphia Fighters for Liberty and Justice.

MARCH ON 22ND DISTRICT POLICE STATION, PHILADELPHIA, PA., BY PHILADELPHIA FIGHTERS FOR LIBERTY AND JUSTICE (PFLJ), ON NOVEMBER 1, 1963

PH T-15, on November 8, 1963, advised that a meeting of the PFLJ was held on October 29, 1963, for the purpose of assisting in organizing a march on the 22nd District Police Station on November 1, 1963, and presenting demands to the Philadelphia Police Department. At this meeting [redacted] stated that order must be maintained by the marchers as any violence would defeat the purpose of the march. It was planned that [redacted] an [redacted] would enter the police station and present the demands after which the marchers would disperse.

HOWARD X FEARY

On November 8, 1963, Inspector MILLARD MEERS and Lt. [redacted] both of the Civil Disobedience Unit, Philadelphia Police Department and assigned directly to the office of Police Commissioner HOWARD R. LEARY, advised that 40 to 50 persons were present during a demonstration on November 1, 1963, before the 22nd District Police Station. From this group [redacted] and [redacted] entered the police station and presented a petition to the District Police Captain. This petition was presented "on behalf of the Negro people of Philadelphia." The petition demanded the arrest of one Philadelphia Police Officer and an end to "police brutality." The group consisted mostly of onlookers and curiosity-seekers.

On July 25, 1964, Lt. [redacted] Radio Room, Philadelphia Police Department, Philadelphia, Pa., advised that the PFLJ sponsored a demonstration at the intersection of 17th Street and Susquehanna Avenue, Philadelphia, from 7:20 p.m. to 8:15 p.m., that date. This demonstration was held for the purpose of protesting the alleged police brutality in Harlem, Brooklyn and Rochester, N.Y. Lt. [redacted] stated police on the scene estimated that a crowd of 20 to 60 people were present at various times during this demonstration.

Lt. [redacted] continued that HAROLD ALLEN addressed the crowd and protested police brutality in Harlem, Brooklyn, and Rochester, N.Y. ALLEN claimed the number of police and police cars in the area harassed his orderly meeting but noted that it would continue. ALLEN further stated that the Negro police were not there "to protect us," but were only "puppets of the white people."

Lt. [redacted] Commissioner's Office, Philadelphia Police Department, Philadelphia, Pa., advised on the same date that this demonstration was peaceful and there were no incidents or arrests.

RACIAL DEMONSTRATION, PICKET OF CHESTER SCHOOLS, CHESTER, PA.,
JANUARY 1964

On January 13, 1964, PH T-27 furnished a copy of Volume 4, Number 1, of "New Horizons For Youth."

On Page 9 of this publication appears an article entitled, "Students Spur Chester Struggle," with a by-line of LARRY GORDON. An Editor's Note states that as an example of the militant mass movement for the rights of Negro Americans, this article is printed as a first-hand account by a Swarthmore student who was involved in this struggle.

The article states in substance as follows:

At Chester, Pa., in the first week in November there was a dynamic mass movement for Negro rights with a broad base among working people in the community with strong support from Swarthmore students. As a result, 244 people were arrested in three days of sit-ins and stand-ins. The power structure of the city suffered its first defeat in 30 years when it was forced to meet demands of the Chester Committee for Freedom Now (CFFN) for immediate changes in the conditions at the all-Negro Franklin School. In October there seemed to be no potential for mass activity in the city, but STANLEY BRANCHE formed the Chester CFFN and several Swarthmore College students planned a campaign relating to the Franklin School. A letter was sent to the School Board by the CFFN demanding:

1. Cessation of classes in the boiler room of the building.

2. Transfer of students from the overcrowded school.

3. Improved out-of-class facilities.

4. Plans for a new school in the area.

The school was boycotted daily from November 4, 1963, until November 11, 1963, the deadline for the School Board meeting demands made in the letter. Mass action by CFFN resulted in a successful blockade, and the school was closed 9:00 a.m., November 12, 1963. The CFFN got no satisfaction from City Council of Chester or the School Board, and on November 13, 1963, mass demonstrations at the School Board building and City Hall resulted in the closing of City Hall and the arrests of 158 demonstrators, including the children and 40 Swarthmore College students.

The demonstrations proved effective, and city officials agreed to meet the CFFN demands. As a result of this success, the CFFN plans to consolidate their mass support by organizing block and community groups to carry out the civil rights struggles in every level. They will present to the power structure of Chester the demands of the people.

PICKETS DURING FEBRUARY 1964

On February 14, 1964, Confidential Informant PH T-28 reported that a picket, composed of five people, was held at the Philadelphia Democratic City Committee, 1421 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa., by the Emergency Committee to Aid the Monroe Freedom Fighters. Spokesman for this group, not identified, stated the organization was picketing the Democratic City Committee Headquarters because it was a Democratic administration and they wanted to bring the Monroe Case to the attention of the Democratic Party.

On February 17, 1964, Lieutenant [redacted] Special Investigations, Commissioner's Office, Philadelphia Police Department, Philadelphia, Pa., advised he had been informed that the Emergency Committee to Aid the Monroe Freedom Fighters was to hold three demonstrations on February 15, 1964. Lieutenant [redacted] later advised that no demonstrators showed up at any of the proposed demonstrations.

Lieutenant [redacted] stated on February 16, 1964, eight demonstrators, consisting of five Negro females and three Negro males, all unidentified, picketed the City Hall in Philadelphia, Pa., from 2:15 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. Lieutenant [redacted] stated that the demonstration was orderly, and it attracted very little attention.

On February 17, 1964, five pickets, consisting of three Negro females and two Negro males, all unidentified, picketed the United States Post Office at Philadelphia, Pa., from 3:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. These people carried the following signs:

"We Charge the Federal Government With Lynch Justice, Free the Monroe Defendants."

"Is America A Free Country -- Free the Monroe Defendants."

"With the Trial of Mae Mallory Comes the Trial of American Justice."

A spokesman for this group, not identified, stated the organization was discontinuing its demonstrations on February 17, 1964, inasmuch as the Negroes, who had been arrested in Monroe, N. C., were scheduled to go on trial on February 17, 1964.

Lieutenant [redacted] advised the signs carried by the pickets on February 17, 1964, were identical with the signs carried by the demonstrators on February 16, 1964, and that he believed the same people were involved in each demonstration. b6 b7C

Confidential Informant PH T-28 on May 25, 1964, advised that the Emergency Committee to Aid the Monroe Freedom Fighters and the Committee to Aid the Monroe Defendants suspended activities in March 1964, and are defunct organizations.

ACTION FOR YOUTH (AY) STREET MEETING,
JUNE 30, 1964

Action for Youth (AY) is characterized in the appendix.

PH T-30 on June 29, 1964, advised that [redacted] was planning a street meeting for the evening of June 30, 1964.

[redacted] PH T-27 on June 30, 1964, advised that, [redacted] the street meeting was to be held in front of the AY Clubhouse, 1426 West Bristol Street. The purpose of the meeting was to protest the treatment of civil rights workers in Mississippi.

On June 30, 1964, Special Agents of the FBI observed persons gathering at the AY Clubhouse beginning at about 6:30 p.m. At approximately 7 p.m., 19 individuals left the AY Clubhouse and proceeded to the corner of 16th and Bristol Streets. They carried a microphone with a portable speaker, placards, and an American Flag. Eleven of the persons were identified by a Special Agent of the FBI as follows:

FRANCES GABOW
AARON LIBSON
[redacted]
RITA GABOW
[redacted]

The street meeting was started at 7:45 p.m. by [redacted] [redacted] He discussed recent events concerning civil rights workers in Mississippi.

[redacted] said he had copies of a petition to be signed. It read as follows:

"This summer thousands of young people from all over the United States have gone to Mississippi to help Negro citizens to register to vote. For many years the racist Ku Klux Klan and White Citizens Council have terrorized Mississippians who try to carry out their responsibilities as citizens. Now, not only Negroes in Mississippi itself but these thousands of brave young people, both Negro and white, must fear the terror of the racists. The Federal Government in Washington, D. C., must protect the democratic rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. We demand, President JOHNSON, that you take every necessary step to guarantee the safety and right to vote of the people of Mississippi, even if this means the sending of U. S. troops there.

"NO MORE THREATS!

"NO MORE DISAPPEARANCES!

"NO MORE MURDERS OF THOSE WHO ONLY DEMAND THAT THE U. S. CONSTITUTION INCLUDE MISSISSIPPI!" b6 b7C

These petitions had room for ten names on each. [redacted] invited signers, but no one was observed to sign the petition.

There were no incidents, and the meeting ended about 8:15 p.m. Participants returned to the AY Clubhouse.

DEMONSTRATION, NEW YORK CITY, JULY 19, 1964

On July 20, 1964, PH T-27 advised that an eastern regional conference of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) was held in New York City on July 19, 1964. Among those present from Philadelphia were [redacted], and [redacted]. The conference ended at approximately 6 p.m. It was decided that those present at the conference participate in a demonstration protesting the police shooting of a Negro boy in New York City on July 16, 1964. Signs were prepared bearing the name of the W.E.B. DuBois Club. The group proceeded to a precinct police station near the funeral home where the boy's funeral was being held. After marching at the police station the group marched toward the funeral home. Shooting was heard as police broke up rioting at a picket line four blocks away. It was decided to go no further and the DCA demonstration broke up.

A characterization of the DCA appears in the appendix section of this report.

Planned Participation at Democratic National Convention, Atlantic City, N. J., August 1964, by Independent Citizens Committee (ICC)

A characterization of the ICC is contained in the Appendix Section of this report.

On August 24, 1964, PH T-5 advised the ICC was to attempt to form a motorcade to Atlantic City, N. J., if the Mississippi Freedom Party was not seated at the Democratic National Convention by August 26, 1964. The ICC members intended to merely take part in picketing, but had no intention of participating in lie-ins, sit-ins, etc.

PH T-5 subsequently advised on August 26, 1964, that at a special meeting of the ICC, held August 25, 1964, it was decided that the ICC would take no action whatever in connection with Democratic National Convention at Atlantic City, N. J.

Independent Citizens Committee's (ICC)
Voters Registration Drive, August 1964

A characterization of the ICC is contained in the Appendix Section of this report.

On August 13th and 14, 1964, PH T- 5 advised the ICC is currently spearheading a voters registration drive in the Philadelphia area, concentrating on Negro neighborhoods. The ICC is working directly with Democratic Ward leaders. The ICC is using a sound truck and has assisted in registering approximately 800 voters in the 52nd Ward, 50 in the 24th Ward, and several hundred in the Germantown area. The purpose of the campaign is to rally anti-GOLDWATER vote.

FRANCES GABOW, who was elected Political Action Secretary, Communist Party of Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware (CPEPD), in late July 1964, is spearheading the ICC campaign. Among those actively participating are [redacted], who with GABOW are members of the CPEPD. b6 b7C

PH T- 5 further stated financial support has been pledged by former Communist Party (CP) members, including [redacted] before it became defunct; [redacted] CPEPD; [redacted] and [redacted] former CP members. This group pledged [redacted] to the ICC registration campaign.

The Civil Rights Congress has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

RACIAL DISTURBANCE,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.,
AUGUST 28-31, 1964

Captain [redacted] Philadelphia Police Department, Philadelphia, Pa., on August 29, 1964, advised as follows:

At approximately 9:20 p.m., August 28, 1964, Officer [redacted] police officer, investigated a traffic tie-up at 22nd Street and Columbia Avenue, Philadelphia. A car was parked on the street blocking traffic, which was backed up for some distance. The occupants of the car were [redacted] and [redacted] She had her foot on the brake and refused to remove it or to move the car. [redacted] attempted to remove the woman from the car, but she resisted, and he informed her that she was under arrest. Several hundred people congregated at the scene. Patrolmen [redacted] and [redacted] attempted to remove the woman from the automobile, but she continued to resist, screaming and cursing and putting up a struggle. [redacted]

At 9:28 p.m., a patrol wagon arrived, and [redacted] and four other officers attempted to place her in this vehicle. She continued to struggle. [redacted] assisted the officers in placing her in the patrol wagon. [redacted]

At this point [redacted] resident of the area, charged out of the crowd and assaulted the officers. [redacted] was subdued and placed under arrest. This attracted an even larger crowd.

At approximately this point an individual known to the police as [redacted] began to harangue the crowd and [redacted] attempted to encourage them to violence on the police officers, claiming that the officers were using brutality and were killing the Negro woman. Later, [redacted] told the crowd that a woman had been killed by the police at 22nd Street and Columbia Avenue, Philadelphia, and urged the Negroes to retaliate against the police. Bricks and other objects were thrown from the roof tops and a police car was damaged by bricks thrown through the windows. Wholesale looting began after about 11:00 p.m., August 28, 1964. Approximately 500 police officers were in the area attempting to restore order on August 28, 1964.

As a result of the rioting and looting of August 28-29, 1964, Mayor JAMES H. J. TATE issued a curfew proclamation involving a 125-block area of North Central Philadelphia. This area covers about two square miles. b6 b7C

Captain [redacted] Philadelphia Police Department, advised on September 9, 1964, that the looting and rioting was concentrated on Columbia Avenue between 8th and 27th Streets. This is a shopping area and practically every place of business was damaged extensively. Businesses on Ridge Avenue, a diagonal street, between 20th and Columbia Avenue, also received extensive damage. Secondary targets of looters were on Girard Avenue between 12th and 13th Streets, and between 26th and 27th Streets; on the second day of rioting (August 29, 1964) 29th Street between York and Diamond Streets.

On Saturday, August 31, 1964, Police Commissioner HOWARD LEARY advised that as of 7:00 p.m., August 31, 1964, there were 1,395 police officers on duty in the riot area.

The Office of the City Representative advised that between 10:00 p.m., August 28, 1964, and 8:00 p.m., August 31, 1964, a total of 408 arrests were made in the riot area.

COMMUNIST PARTY OF EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA AND DELAWARE (CPEPD)

PH T-1 on August 29, 1964, advised that THOMAS NABRIED, in commenting on the racial disturbance in North Philadelphia, stated that it was the result of organized hooliganism. NABRIED said that he does not approve of police brutality, but if he were a policeman he would get the leaders of these bands of hooligans and make them confess what they are doing and show everybody what the true story is.

PH T-26 on August 29, 1964, advised that THOMAS NABRIED was furnished information regarding a meeting of Negro community leaders wherein a public request was made for an investigation by the FBI, based on the suspicions "that some organized groups" are behind the riots all over the country. As a result, NABRIED agreed to prepare a statement on behalf of the CPEPD to be issued on the morning of August 30, 1964.

PH T-5 on [redacted] advised that [redacted] informant had [redacted] visited the riot-torn area, but did not observe any present or former members of the CP participating in the riot or looting of the stores. Informant further advised [redacted] Informant added that the CPEPD had issued a statement reflecting that the CP had no connection with the racial disturbances. The informant added that the riot did not grow out of any civil rights movement, but was the work of hooligans. This was spontaneous, and the Negroes let loose their frustrations against the police, the landlords, and the general conditions in which they are forced to live.

PH T-6 on [redacted] advised that [redacted]

"The Worker" is an East Coast Communist publication.

The mid-week edition of "The Worker," issue of September 1, 1964, contained an article on Page one, Columns one and two, entitled, "Hunger and Anger Explode in Phila. Community Riot" by FRANCES GABOW. This article reflected that according to GABOW, the emotions of a hungry, angry people exploded in a Negro community of Philadelphia on Friday, August 28, 1964.

The article continued that violence and destruction were directed at those who had "robbed and sucked the blood" from the Negro people.

The article maintained that the disturbance was not a race riot or a civil rights demonstration; that the police were singled out for vengeance. The article maintained that for years the people in the North Philadelphia area have suffered "outrageous terror and indignation of a police force that has viewed the community as a jungle."

Also contained on Page one of the September 1, 1964, issue of the mid-week edition of "The Worker," Columns one - four, was an article captioned, "Pennsylvania Communist Party Declares Culprit in Riots is Official Apathy on Poverty."

The article stated that at 9:30 p.m. on Friday, August 28, 1964, several policemen moved in on a family argument between husband and wife and ordered the woman out of her automobile. Shortly after that, she was being manhandled, and this was the spark that ignited "an explosion of smouldering resentment and frustration in North Philadelphia."

This article stated that "indescribable poverty and degradation are the daily lot of its inhabitants."

The article stated that the Communist Party of Eastern Pennsylvania calls upon the people of North Philadelphia for constructive solutions to community problems and states, "We cannot condone irresponsible looting and destruction as a means of resolving the grievous injustices of capitalist exploitation." The article concluded, "The CP demands that Mayor TATE immediately call on City Council to:

1. Pass a new housing law that will raise the decent housing requirements.

2. Pass a rent control law.

3. Request a government-financed Federal housing program for the families of these communities to relieve the overcrowding.

4. Apply for a federally-financed jobs program based on beautification and needed public repairs.

5. Increase recreation and library facilities.

6. Demand state aid to increase relief payments so that minimum requirements of decent living standards are maintained.

7. Request federal and state aid to institute a free medical aid program for all unemployed and their families.

8. Make the policy advisory board a permanent body that includes elected community representatives. Wipe out all police brutality.

9. A nursery school program for all children of working mothers."

PH T-31 on September 3, 1964, advised that FRANCES GABOW, Political Action Secretary, CPEPD, and three other CPEPD members distributed approximately 200 copies of the September 1, 1964, mid-week edition of "The Worker" in the area where rioting took place in Philadelphia, Pa. About 45 copies were sold and the remainder were given away. Distribution was made from door-to-door. Copies of the following pamphlets were given away with issues of the mid-week edition of "The Worker" distributed:

"Economic Program, CPUSA"

"The Eleventh Hour - Defeat the New Fascist Threat" by GUS HALL

"Negro Freedom in the Interest of Every American" by GUS HALL

Distribution occurred between approximately 11:30 a.m. and 1:00 p.m., September 2, 1964. No incidents occurred during distribution. FRANCES GABOW supplied the copies of the mid-week edition of "The Worker" and the pamphlets mentioned above.

Prior to the distribution, the group met at the residence of THOMAS NABRIED, District Chairman, CPEPD, 1345 West Susquehanna Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa., at which time NABRIED said the CP condemns hoodlumism and looting and cannot condone destruction of property. NABRIED also said that if a racial disturbance had occurred in connection with a march on City Hall in protest of Negro economic and living conditions, the CP would have been in sympathy with such a disturbance.

PH T-32 on July 21, 1964, described GUS HALL as General Secretary, CPUSA.

PH T-33 on September 3, 1964, advised that [redacted] b7D

[redacted] advised that he never saw any persons he knew to have been members of the CP. Source blamed hoodlums and drug addicts for the racial disturbance.

PH T-1 on [redacted] advised that THOMAS NABRIED in commenting on the racial disturbance in Philadelphia stated that the Party had consistently put off discussions concerning the Negro problem, and that as a result CORE and other organizations have been formed "and the Party missed the boat." NABRIED said there is no solidarity among the Negro people and no political awareness, and that until there is Negro activity in politics there is nothing the Negro can do about current conditions.

NABRIED continued that the riots were caused by the "frustrated new generation of 20 to 25 year-olders." He said that from 35 to 45 per cent of this age group are out of work, and that they have criminal records since they were children. NABRIED said that as of 1954, there were 104,000 people living in the area, and now there are 250,000 "with the same compressed and oppressed conditions." NABRIED continued that instead of something being done to create jobs, the police force was multiplied, the people have been harassed constantly, and as a result riots had occurred. He commented, "There are preachers on every corner and everybody is trying to save souls, but nobody is saving their bodies." NABRIED maintained that the same conditions are to be found all over the country; that it is a pattern of frustrated youth.

NABRIED maintained that the program of city clean-up was geared toward the middle class, and that Center City Philadelphia is being cleaned up instead of the blighted areas.

NABRIED pointed out that there is another aspect that must be considered - that there are many people "doing something for kicks." He said there is something wrong when this sort of destruction takes place. NABRIED ended the discussion by stating that all people, irrespective of their political beliefs, must get together with a common perspective.

LABOR DAY RALLY
SEPTEMBER 13, 1964
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

On August 13, 1964, PH T-5 advised the ICC is holding a Labor Day Rally September 13, 1964, and among the groups to participate is CORE of Philadelphia. The ICC had been talking of this rally since June 1964. On August 12, 1964, the ICC committee planning the rally met at 20 South 12th Street with about 25 people present, including CPEPD members. Among the scheduled speakers was to be JAMES FARMER, National leader of CORE. A prime objective of the rally is to rally anti-Goldwater support.

PH T-5 advised August 27, 1964, that at a meeting of the Professional Club, CPEPD, held at 543 Juniper Street August 23, 1964, the Labor Day Rally scheduled for September 13, 1964, was discussed. It was stated that confusion had developed as to the appearance of JAMES FARMER, National CORE leader, and it was not known whether or not he would appear.

On September 23, 1964, PH T-29 advised the ICC sponsored Labor Day Rally was held September 13, 1964, at Independence Hall, 6th and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia. JAMES FARMER, National leader of CORE, did not participate but an ex-CORE member did speak on civil rights and the Negro. Informant advised CECIL B. MOORE, Philadelphia President of the NAACP, attended the rally and made a speech supporting President JOHNSON for election. He also called for greater opportunity for Negroes in housing, education and civil rights.

On February 11, 1964, Confidential Informant PH T-15 reported receipt of a leaflet, prepared by the captioned organization, listing a Philadelphia address of 3701 Powelton Street, Philadelphia. This leaflet gave information of two proposed demonstrations by this organization, the first to be held at Philadelphia City Hall on February 16, 1964, and the second to be held at the Federal Building in Philadelphia on February 17, 1964.

Confidential Informant PH T-12 advised on February 11, 1964, that the address 3701 Powelton Street is the residence of [redacted] a member of the Philadelphia Branch, Socialist Workers Party, and also [redacted] of the Philadelphia Young Socialist Alliance. b6 b7C

A characterization of the Philadelphia Young Socialist Alliance is found in the Appendix section of this report.

In the February 11, 1964, issue of the "Philadelphia Tribune" was contained an article, written by a BILL LINDER, entitled "Monroe Defendant Here Tells Tribune How He, Mrs. Mae Mallory, and Two Others Were Victimized by North Carolina Racists." This article says in part: NO. LOO.

"A nineteen-year-old youth, who faces a prison term in Monroe, N. C., recounted how he, ROBERT WILLIAMS, MAE MALLORY, RICHARD CROWDER, and JOHN LOWRY are being accused falsely of kidnaping a white couple. HAROLD REAPE, who was accompanied by SHIRLEY STOUTE, President of the Philadelphia Chapter of the Committee to Aid the Monroe Defendants, told how he; MAE MALLORY, a thirty-five-year-old mother of two, who was recently extradited from Ohio; RICHARD CROWDER; and JOHN LOWRY were mere pawns in the household that lent protection to the couple rather than being their kidnapers." Statement Regarding Subversives

The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, a daily newspaper of Philadelphia, on page one, dated October 30, 1963, carried a story headlined "MOORE blames Reds for riots in North Philadelphia." The story continues that CECIL B. MOORE, President, Philadelphia Branch, NAACP, said the riot in North Philadelphia, October 28, 1963, was Communist inspired.

The story continued MOORE was allowed by the court to withdraw as attorney for SANDY SMITH, whom MOORE alleged he represented without fee since SMITH's arrest May 5, 1962. MOORE presented to the court a circular, dated April 25, 1963, describing SMITH as a member of the North Philadelphia Committee for Equal Justice.

The story continued when originally arrested in May 1962, SMITH had said he was a leader of the North Philadelphia Committee for Equal Justice. MOORE said in court he had learned the North Philadelphia Committee for Equal Justice was Communist and that they had been attacking him personally during the past several weeks. He said that the North Philadelphia Committee for Equal Justice and the Communists were only interested in creating chaos and working on people's emotions and he did not want to represent a Communist. The court allowed MOORE to withdraw.

Communist Party Activity and Statements Regarding NAACP

On July 1, 1963, Confidential Informant PH T-31 advised a meeting sponsored by the CPEPD under the name of "Current Events Club" was held on June 26, 1963, at Boslover Hall, 701 Pine Street, at which PHIL BART was the principal speaker. BART was introduced as a spokesman for the CPUSA. He admitted the CP had taken no stand on the integration issue in the Southern United States but he said the CP is 100 per cent behind integration and the NAACP. He urged all to join the NAACP.

On June 20, 1963, confidential informant PH T-31 advised that at a meeting of the Unity Club, CPEPD, held on June 4, 1964, at 2229 West Page Street, the host criticized the CP because it had taken no public stand on the current racial situation in the Southern United States and Philadelphia, nor has the CP supported the NAACP in its fight to improve conditions for Negroes.

On June 4, 1964, Confidential Informant PH T-6 advised a Unity Club, CPEPD, meeting was held June 2, 1964, at 1345 West Susquehanna Avenue in Philadelphia and FRANCES GABOW said the NAACP in Philadelphia was doing a good job for the Negro people but the CP has no influence in the group. She said CP members should be known in the NAACP as Communists.

On June 8, 1964, Confidential Informant PH T-36 advised a meeting of the Unity Club, CPEPD, was held June 2, 1964, at 1345 West Susquehanna Avenue, Philadelphia. FRANCES GABOW said, during the meeting, that there are CP members in the NAACP in Philadelphia but they do not support the CP line in the NAACP. This makes them weak in their CP ideological outlook.

On June 10, 1964, Confidential Informant PH T-37 advised a Unity Club, CPEPD, meeting was held June 2, 1964, at 1345 West Susquehanna Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa. FRANCES GABOW said, during the meeting, that there were CP members in the NAACP but they do not follow the CP line in the NAACP.

Confidential Informant PH T- 5 advised on August 20, 1964, the CPEPD District Board met at 5117 North Warnock Street in Philadelphia on July 22, 1964. At the meeting, [redacted] was designated as [redacted] among other policy appointments. THOMAS NABRIED said the Board would have to discuss sending more Party people into the NAACP. b6 b7C

Statements Before
Subversive Groups

On July 14, 1963, Confidential Informant PH T-38 advised that a meeting of the ICC was held June 28, 1963, at the China Village Restaurant, 917 Race Street, Philadelphia. Penn: [redacted] of the [redacted] NAACP, spoke. He said the disagreements between CORE and the NAACP in Philadelphia had been ironed out and that joint efforts of the two have resulted in putting Negro craftsmen to work. He alleged that contractors and unions in Philadelphia had said Negro craftsmen did not apply for jobs but there is now a list of qualified Negro workers in his hands, which solves this problem.

[redacted] On October 30, 1963, PH T-15 advised that a meeting of the North Philadelphia Committee for Equal Justice was held October 29, 1963, at the Egyptian Center, 2340 Columbia Avenue, Philadelphia. Among about 40 people present was [redacted] PENN. [redacted] The group discussed the action to be taken in regard to the recent killing of a young Negro by an officer of the Philadelphia Police Department. [redacted] and the [redacted] of the meeting, [redacted] got into an argument PENN and [redacted] called all the North Philadelphia Committee for Equal Justice, communists.

On February 12, 1964, Confidential Informant PH T-5 advised the ICC held a conference February 9, 1964, at the YMCA, Broad and Stiles Streets, Philadelphia, with other organizations interested in political action. Among those speaking was [redacted] PENN [redacted] of the NAACP, Political Action Committee. He said he was running for the State Legislature in the coming election for the 28th Ward and wanted Negro support and representation.

SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE (SCLC)

On March 1, 1963, Confidential Informant PH T-23 advised that on February 23, 1963, a social dinner sponsored by the Southwest Club, CPEPD, to raise funds on behalf of the CP Defense Fund was held at 5422 Chestnut Street. A profit of $55.00 was realized, and $10.00 was to be sent to Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING for use in his SCLC Movement.

"The Philadelphia Inquirer," a daily newspaper, in the issue dated August 6, 1964, Final City Edition, page 5, carried an article headlined "KING Seeks New Vote Issues To Beat GOLDWATER." The story was based on a letter that Judge RAYMOND PACE ALEXANDER, Common Pleas Court, Philadelphia, had received from Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., President, SCLC. Dr. KING in the letter objected to Senator BARRY GOLDWATER on issues other than race, and said an issue must be raised against GOLDWATER to which liberals could rally. PENN.

Dr. KING's letter was in reply to a communication from Judge ALEXANDER, who requested a moratorium on needless civil rights demonstrations during the Presidential Campaign. It was ALEXANDER's opinion demonstrations would be harmful to the Negro cause, which is already threatened by the pro-GOLDWATER "white backlash." Dr. KING's letter also shared Judge ALEXANDER's concern of electing Senator BARRY GOLDWATER by the right-wing forces.

Dr. KING's letter also acknowledged Judge ALEXANDER's $1,000 contribution to the SCLC. Judge ALEXANDER had also offered to speak before groups which endorsed Dr. KING's non-violent approach to civil rights groups.

THE STUDENT NON-VIOLENT COORDINATING COMMITTEE

For purposes of brevity, the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee will be abbreviated by the initials SNCC when appropriate.

Philadelphia Confidential Informant PH T-39 advised on December 13, 1963, that on December 4, 1963, a pamphlet was made available regarding SNCC, which described SNCC as not being a membership organization, but rather an agency attempting to stimulate and foster the growth of local protest movements.

On September 9, 1964, Philadelphia Confidential Informant T-24 advised Philadelphia Friends of SNCC maintain an office at 5922 Lansdowne Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa., under the direction of [redacted] member, and [redacted] This organization is affiliated with the national office of SNCC in Atlanta, Ga. At meetings of SNCC officials, [redacted] has resented the local office of SNCC. All local activities are planned [redacted] with the national office. b6 b7C

According to this source, Philadelphia Friends of SNCC participated in the silent vigil at the National Democratic Convention in Atlantic City at the specific request of COFO. The local branch also financially assists the national office of SNCC, [redacted] which is collected through contributions received from people in the Philadelphia area. b6 b7C b7D

On [redacted] Confidential Informant T-40 [redacted] Among the names [redacted] was that of [redacted] It is to be noted [redacted] numerous names of individuals [redacted] representing nearly all walks of life.

Philadelphia Confidential Informant PH T-5 advised in 1950 and 1951, [redacted] was the [redacted] of the [redacted] Fellowship Community Council of [redacted] Philadelphia, formed for the purpose of improving and beautifying the neighborhood. Source said efforts of the Communist Party to infiltrate this group were unsuccessful. b6 b7C

Philadelphia Confidential Informant PH T-42 advised on July 3, 1963, that [redacted] made out a check in the amount of [redacted] to the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee on [redacted]. This check was subsequently deposited at a bank in Atlanta, Georgia. b6 b7C

Philadelphia Confidential Informant PH T-42 advised on April 6, 1964, that [redacted] made a check payable to the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee in the amount of [redacted] on [redacted]. This check was endorsed "SNVCC, [redacted] First Pennsylvania Banking and Trust Co."

Philadelphia Confidential Informant PH T-38 advised on January 6, 1964, that at a meeting of the Militant Labor Forum held December 20, 1963, a tall, thin Negro male was introduced as representing SNCC. He recited the struggle of the Negro. He made suggestions as to what could be done to improve their lot.

Philadelphia Confidential Informant PH T-12 advised on October 20, 1964, that the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) is technically forbidden to use the name "Socialist" on Pennsylvania ballots, so instead uses the names Militant Workers Party, Militant Labor Forum, or Militant Labor Party as its name.

On February 28, 1964, Philadelphia Confidential Informant PH T-3 advised that at an enlarged meeting of the CPEPD on February 25, 1964, FRANCES GABOW, Organization Secretary, CPEPD, discussed the Independent Citizens Committee (ICC) which was to sponsor a speech [redacted] b6 b7C

GABOW mentioned that local representatives of SNCC tried very hard to kill the program even though all the funds raised were to be turned over to SNCC. GABOW said that SNCC, the Fellowship House and other local groups apparently received word that the ICC was a Communist led organization.

GABOW said the Party will know more about how it stands in regard to influencing the civil rights and political groups in the city after the affair on February 29th.

On March 4, 1964, Philadelphia Confidential Informant PH T-3 advised that on February 29, 1964, the ICC held an affair at the Blue Horizons Ballroom, North Broad Street. This affair, which featured [redacted] as the main speaker, appeared to be fairly successful as there were approximately 500 people in attendance. b6 b7C

[redacted]

According to THOMAS NABRIED, District Chairman, CPEPD, the affair was a success financially and well over $700 was turned over to SNCC. NABRIED, who advised of the financial success of the affair on Sunday, March 1, 1964, indicated that he was not too satisfied with the way the meeting was conducted. He complained that the spirit of the meeting was not militant enough, and that the Negro population of Philadelphia did not show up in force. He said that most of those present belonged to the progressive Jewish element and he felt that this distracted from the militant mood of the speakers. Prior to and subsequent to the affair, [redacted] and [redacted], along with some help from FRANCES GABOW, attempted to sell copies of "The Worker" outside the meeting place. They were able to sell 30 copies at 15¢ each.

The source said there were several members of the Party in attendance.

On March 12, 1964, PH T-5 advised that [redacted]

[redacted]

PH T-5 advised that [redacted] Source said that about 70 people showed up and noticed that there were [redacted] members of the CPEPD in attendance at the reception as well as many ex-members of the Party. The source said all money cleared at this affair was donated to SNCC.

American Friends Service Committee (AFSC);
Friends Peace Committee

On July 28, 1964, PH T-43 furnished a copy of a "Manual for Direct Action," published by the Friends Peace Committee, 1520 Race Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The authors of this manual are MARTIN OPPENHEIMER and GEORGE LAKEY. Biographical data concerning them, as contained in the manual, reflected that MARTIN OPPENHEIMER is Assistant Director of the Studies Program, American Friends Service Committee (AFSC) and will be Assistant Professor of Sociology at Haverford College during the 1964-1965 school year. He wrote his doctoral dissertation on the Sit-In Movement and has had practical experience in direct action training with Philadelphia Congress of Racial Equality (CORE).

GEORGE LAKEY is described as Executive Secretary of the Friends Peace Committee and author of a book on nonviolent action. He wrote his Master's Thesis in sociology at the University of Pennsylvania on the subject of nonviolence. He was reportedly arrested during the Chester, Pa., civil rights demonstration in April 1964, and spent time at Broadmeadows Prison, Delaware County, Pa.

The stated purpose of this manual (134 pages) is to make available the experiences of other people in the civil rights movement and to share this knowledge with other people in order to avoid mistakes and failures in the future. The manual goes on to explain various aspects of "direct action" in regard to civil rights demonstrations, picket lines, etc., under the following headings:

The Community
Setting Up An Organization
Citizen Education and Voter Registration
The Workshop in Direct Action
Direct Action Tactics
Counter Demonstration Operations
Arrest and the Courts
Jail
Nonviolence and Armed Defense

Bibliographical Essay
and
First Ten Amendments to United States Constitution plus selected criminal and civil statutes

Under the heading "Setting Up An Organization," the manual states that all organizations have three primary functions - policy making, organization, and education (including both education of the group itself and public relations). The civil rights group must be organized into a caucus; a floor leader must be designated; members should be scattered throughout the audience; and the best speaker should be saved until last (when working as a minority in another group).

The manual then cites several specific points, some of which are taken from CHARLES WALKER's "Organizing for Nonviolent Direct Action."

Under the section "Biographical Notes," there are cited several authors and brief comments on their books. This literature deals with Negro protests, migration of Southern Negroes to Northern cities, Negro separation, and Negroes' cultural contributions, trade unions, and related matters.

Among the books and authors mentioned are "Negro Slave Revolts in the United States" by HERBERT APTHEKER, and "Negro Leader in Time of Crisis" by W. E. B. DU BOIS.

The back cover of the manual contains a statement by BAYARD RUSTIN, which states in part as follows: "At long last here is a much-needed practical training manual for non-violent direct action... It should be carefully studied by every activist in civil rights and related causes... The volume should be read by everyone interested in the real meaning of the current civil rights struggle."

CHARACTERIZATION OF INDIVIDUALS

CHARACTERIZATION OF INDIVIDUALS

RAYMOND PACE ALEXANDER:

The September 17, 1931, issue of the "Moscow News," an English-language, Communist newspaper, published in Moscow, Russia, carried an article, captioned "Communism is the Only Hope of the Negro People," which is set out, in part, as follows:

"'Soviet Russia is the only country that offers liberty and equality to all people black and white. When I go home to America, I shall tell my people, the Negroes, that their salvation lies in Communism.' This from RAYMOND PACE ALEXANDER and his young wife, both attorneys from Philadelphia now in Moscow. 'There has been a tremendous Negro movement toward Communism in the past few years,' ALEXANDER declared. 'Our people have been coming to us asking us questions about Socialism, anxious to know if the Socialist Government in Russia was as it was painted. I came to find out so that I could give them first-hand information. I shall tell them that Communism offers the only government of the masses.' ALEXANDER, a graduate of Harvard University, has been President of the National Bar Association of America, the only national association for Negro lawyers..."

The November 30, 1946, edition of the Philadelphia "Afro-American" carried an article captioned "Civil Rights Unit to be Formed Here." This article stated that a two-day conference to organize a Philadelphia Chapter of the Civil Rights Congress would be held December 13 and 14, 1946. The article stated that RAYMOND PACE ALEXANDER, Attorney, would serve as Chairman during a luncheon meeting on Saturday, the Fourteenth, at the Jefferson Room of the Adelphia Hotel, Thirteenth and Chestnut Streets.

The Civil Rights Congress has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The April 1, 1944, issue of the Philadelphia "Tribune" newspaper contained an article, which stated that Attorney RAYMOND PACE ALEXANDER was one of the lecturers of the Philadelphia School of Social Science and Art courses, Spring Term, which was to begin on April 10.

The Philadelphia School of Social Science and Art has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

Confidential Informant PH T- 44 in May 1952 advised that he did not know ALEXANDER to ever have been a member of the Communist Party; but that from about 1940 until 1945, he knew him to be a sympathizer of the Communist Party. The informant added that ALEXANDER was probably a sympathizer because of the Party's support of the Negro race and allied issues, and that he, the informant, felt that ALEXANDER was an opportunist. The informant also stated that he had heard ALEXANDER's name mentioned on a number of occasions [redacted] as a supporter of various parts of the Communist Party policy during the above-mentioned period. b7D

Confidential Informant PH T- 8 in mid June 1958 advised that a dinner was held on June 7, 1958, at the China Village, 917 Race Street, Philadelphia, Pa., in celebration of the victory of the Philadelphia Smith Act defendants. Approximately 250 people attended. During the dinner, JOSEPH ROBERTS spoke, stating he wished to thank everyone who had a hand in helping the Philadelphia Smith Act defendants win their freedom. Included among those specifically named was RAYMOND PACE ALEXANDER. [redacted] was one of the Philadelphia Smith Act Defendants. b6 b7C

C., which ruled that the Federal Communications Commission had to deny MORTON BORROW a license for refusing the answer whether he was or ever had been a member of the Communist Party or whether he had ever belonged to an organization advocating violent overthrow of the Federal Government. The article identified BORROW as a shop steward for the American Communications Association, which was expelled from the Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO) on the grounds that it followed the Communist Party line.

Confidential Informant PH T-43 on March 19, 1957, advised that a symposium, entitled "What's Ahead for the American Left?" was held at 124 South Twelfth Street, Philadelphia, Pa., on March 15, 1957. In addition to speakers from the Communist Party, the Socialist Workers Party, and other leftist groups, CHARLES WALKER spoke as a representative of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, a pacifist-type group. He stated there is a long way to go before a real socialist movement is established; that the situation is one of human values, not revolution.

He noted that the aim is for justice and brotherhood; that secret police, spies, etc., foisted on the people as a temporary emergency, are all part of violence and war itself is the enemy. He stated he desired nonviolent revolution. He said that any premature plans for union of socialist groups would fail; the Communist Party has been discredited; and that the American left is safe only by use of nonviolence.

An article in the "Sunday Bulletin," the Sunday edition of a daily Philadelphia newspaper, of December 15, 1963, captioned "Quakers Provide the Mainspring of the Peace Movement Here," quoted CHARLES WALKER as saying, "The Communist movement in the United States is dead, they have no influence..." b7C

On [redacted] testified before the Subversive Activities Control Board [redacted] that [redacted] had been Communist Party (CP) members for the past [redacted] years during which time [redacted] advised the SYU was the Philadelphia affiliate of the Progressive Youth Organizing Committee. [redacted] advised this group had been known during 1957 and 1958 first as the "Winter Discussion Series 1957-1958" and later as the "Sunday Study Group."

A source advised on March 19, 1958 the above group adopted the name, Socialist Youth Union of Philadelphia (SYU) at a meeting held March 16, 1958.

A second source advised on April 25, 1958 that DOROTHY RUBIN, a member of the Youth Club, Communist Party of Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware (CPEPD), reporting on CP youth to the Fourth Congressional District Section Committee, CPEPD, on April 23, 1958 stated the purpose of the SYU was to train young selected progressives for ultimate development into good Marxist-thinking CP members who will be capable of assuming leadership in the CP.

On January 6, 1961 a third source advised the SYU had changed its name to Youth for Equality and Peace (YEP), then decided against this name and reverted to SYU.

On June 21, 1963 a fourth source advised SYU maintains a headquarters at 1426 West Bristol Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

On May 7, 1964 a fifth source advised that this group changed its name to Action for Youth (AFY) on October 11, 1963. The source advised the group still maintains its headquarters at 1426 West Bristol Street, Philadelphia, Pa., and continues to be the Philadelphia affiliate of the Progressive Youth Organizing Committee (PYOC).

ADVANCE, An Organization of Progressive Youth

A confidential source advised on February 18, 1960 that Advance was organized at a founding convention held in New York City on February 13-14, 1960.

A second confidential source advised on March 2, 1960, that the Declaration of Principles adopted at the founding convention of Advance included the following pertinent points: a stand for peace and total disarmament; equal rights; anti-discrimination; struggles against forces of opposition to the Bill of Rights; an organized approach to Marxist theory; inform prospective applicants of the group's Declaration of Principles. This source stated that the Declaration of Principles was believed by the Communist Party, United States of America (CP,USA) Secretariat to be essentially the line of the National CP leadership. b6 b7C

[redacted] advised on [redacted] that at a meeting of the New York District CP Youth Commission held April 3, 1961, a slate of officers to be presented at the Advance Convention scheduled for April 8-9, 1961, was discussed. It was pointed out that the CP desired all Party members to support this slate which included [redacted], President; [redacted] for First Vice President; and [redacted] as Second Vice President. N.Y.

[redacted] advised on April 10, 1961, that at the Advance Convention held on April 9, 1961, [redacted] was elected President, [redacted] as Organizational Vice President, and [redacted] as Executive Vice President. N.Y.

[redacted] advised on February 7, 1961, that [redacted] was appointed [redacted] of the New York District CP Youth Commission at a meeting of the Youth Commission held on February 6, 1961. N.Y.

A third confidential source advised on March 14, 1961, that [redacted] was as of that date, on the payroll of the [redacted] CP.

A fourth confidential source advised on February 2, 1961, that [redacted] was approved as a member of the [redacted] CP Youth Commission at a meeting of the [redacted] CP Board held on that date.

A fifth confidential source advised on April 23, 1962, that Advance maintains an office and clubrooms at 82 Second Avenue, New York City.

AMERICAN COMMUNICATIONS ASSOCIATION (ACA)

The April 1964 issue of the "ACA News," official publication of the American Communications Association (ACA), shows that the ACA is located at 18 John Street, New York, N. Y.

The "Report of the Internal Executive Board, ACA, CIO," at the Fifth National Convention, Chicago, Ill., April 8-13, 1940, discloses that the ACA had its origin at the Third National Convention of the American Radio Telegraphists Association (ARTA) held in New York City in August 1937. At this convention, it was agreed to change the name of the union from ARTA to ACA. This change was ratified by the Union members on March 10, 1938.

The "Directory of National and International Labor Unions in the United States, 1955," published by the U. S. Department of Labor, lists on page 4, unions expelled from the Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO) on charges of Communist domination. ACA was listed as having been expelled on June 15, 1950.

COMMITTEE TO AID THE MONROE DEFANDANTS (CAMD)

A source advised on October 30, 1961, that the CAMD was formed during September, 1961, by the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) in New York City. The SWP originally proposed the formation of this committee during discussions with various left-wing and liberal tendencies and offered a sum of money to initiate activities.

Source stated that the SWP, however, was unsuccessful in forming a committee of various tendencies and proceeded to organize the CAMD and promote its activities under the domination and control of the SWP.

The aims of the CAMD, according to the source, are to afford financial support and counsel for ROBERT F. WILLIAMS and four other defendants who were involved in a racial incident on August 27, 1961 at Monroe, N. C. The SWP hopes to dramatize this incident nationally and internationally through the CAMD and thus attract individuals to the SWP aims and principles by playing a leading role in the integration struggle.

The headquarters of the CAMD are located in Suite 117, 141 Broadway, New York 6, N. Y.

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

(1)

EMERGENCY COMMITTEE TO AID THE MONROE FREEDOM FIGHTERS (ECAMFF)

b6
b7C

A confidential source advised on February 12, 1964, that the ECAMFF is identical with the Committee to Aid the Monroe Defendants (CAMD), and that the ECAMFF is merely a new name to hide the connection between the CAMD and the Socialist Workers Party (SWP). This source stated that [redacted] a member of the [redacted] Branch of the SWP (PBSWP), is [redacted]

A second confidential source advised on March 16, 1964 that the CAMD and the ECAMFF in Philadelphia are controlled by the PBSWP, of which [redacted] is an active member.

The second source on May 25, 1964 advised that the ECAMFF and the CAMD suspended activities in March, 1964 and are defunct organizations.

The Socialist Workers Party has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE

The April 6, 1960 edition of "The New York Times" newspaper contained a full-page advertisement captioned "What Is Really Happening In Cuba", placed by the Fair Play for Cuba Committee (FPCC). This advertisement announced the formation of the FPCC in New York City and declared the FPCC intended to promulgate "the truth about revolutionary Cuba" to neutralize the distorted American press.

"The New York Times" edition of January 11, 1961, reported that at a hearing conducted before the United States Senate Internal Security Subcommittee on January 10, 1961, Dr. Charles A. Santos-Buch identified himself and Robert Taber as organizers of the FPCC. He also testified he and Taber obtained funds from the Cuban Government which were applied toward the cost of the aforementioned advertisement.

On May 16, 1963, a source advised that during the first two years of the FPCC's existence there was a struggle between Communist Party (CP) and Socialist Workers Party (SWP) elements to exert their power within the FPCC and thereby influence FPCC policy. This source added that during the past year there had been a successful effort by FPCC leadership to minimize the role of these and other organizations in the FPCC so that their influence as of May, 1963, was negligible.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

On May 20, 1963 a second source advised that Vincent "Ted" Lee, FPCC National Office Director, was then formulating FPCC policy and had indicated that he had no intention of permitting FPCC policy to be determined by any other organization. This source stated that Lee believed that the FPCC should advocate resumption of diplomatic relations between Cuba and the United States and should support the right of Cubans to manage their revolution without interference from other nations. Lee did not advocate supporting the Cuban revolution per se.

The November 23, 1963 edition of "The New York Times" reported that Senator Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut had called FPCC "the chief public relations instrument of the Castro network in the United States." It is to be noted that Senator Dodd was a member of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee which twice conducted hearings on the FPCC.

The December 27, 1963 edition of "The New York World Telegram and Sun" newspaper stated that the pro-Castro FPCC was seeking to go out of business and that its crime activity during its lifetime had been sponsorship of pro-Castro street rallies and mass picket lines, and the direction of an active propaganda mill highlighting illegal travel-to-Cuba campaigns. Its comparatively brief span of life was attributed to mounting anti-Castro American public opinion, the 1962 Congressional hearings which disclosed FPCC financing by Castro's United Nations Delegation, and ultimately, the bad publicity which the FPCC received from disclosure of activities on its behalf by suspected presidential assassin Lee H. Oswald.

On February 6, 1964 the previously mentioned second source advised that V. T. Lee had recently remarked that the FPCC was dead and that there were no plans to organize another similar organization.

On April 13, 1964 a third source advised that there had not been any FPCC activity in many months and that the FPCC had been dissolved.

INDEPENDENT CITIZENS COMMITTEE (ICC)

A source advised the Independent Citizens Committee (ICC) was initiated and formed by the Communist Party, Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware (CPEPD), in October, 1962, to build a left-center organization which would be able to initiate political activity. As of May 4, 1964, the policies of the ICC were dominated by the CPEPD through Communist Party members who were officers and members of the ICC.

(1)

Formerly Workers Party (WP)

The May 4, 1942 issue of "Labor Action", then an official publication of the Workers Party (WP), carried an article which reflected that the WP was formed in April, 1940, as a result of a split within the leadership of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP). The article stated that when the Hitler-Stalin Pact was signed and Poland invaded, the minority group within the SWP, in proclaiming the formation of the WP, condemned the pact as being imperialistic in nature and stated it would not support either imperialist camp.

The April 25, 1949 issue of "Labor Action" contained an account of the Fifth National Convention of the WP, held March 24-27, 1949, in New York City, which reflected the change of name of the organization from the WP to the Independent Socialist League (ISL) in order to emphasize the character of the group as a propaganda group for the spreading of socialist ideas and not as a full-fledged political party.

The July 14, 1958 issue of "Labor Action", an official publication of the ISL, contained an article captioned "The ISL Program in Brief." The articles indicated: "The ISL stands for socialist democracy and against the two systems of exploitation which now divide the world: capitalism and Stalinism. The ISL, as a Marxist movement, looks to the working class and its ever-present struggle as the basic progressive force in society. The ISL is organized to spread the ideas of socialism in the labor movement and among all other sections of the people. There can be no lasting and genuine democracy without socialism and there can be no socialism without democracy."

The September 22, 1958 issue of "Labor Action" contained an undated statement signed by the Political Committee of the ISL which indicated that the ISL had been dissolved. The statement urged former ISL members to join the Socialist Party-Social Democratic Federation.

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

NORTH PHILADELPHIA COMMITTEE FOR EQUAL JUSTICE
aka Philadelphia Committee for Equal Justice

A source advised on June 25, 1963 that the North Philadelphia Committee for Equal Justice (NPCEJ) was originated and is controlled by the Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC).

Since its inception in April, 1960, the NPCEJ has been one of the main activities of the POC in Philadelphia, although the POC has attempted to remain in the background. The activities of the NPCEJ have consisted of conducting street corner meetings and distributing leaflets and petitions protesting police brutality against Negroes in Philadelphia. The NPCEJ continues to be active in Philadelphia.

A second source advised on January 14, 1964, that the NPCEJ is now completely inactive.

PHILADELPHIA BRANCH, SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY

A source advised on May 25, 1964 that the Philadelphia Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (PBSWP) is an affiliate of the National SWP, which maintains headquarters at 116 University Place, New York, N. Y. and, as such, follows the aims and purposes of the National SWP. The source advised that the PBSWP, which has been an active organization in Philadelphia since 1940, does not have a headquarters at the present time but utilizes residences of various members for meetings and functions. The source added that the PBSWP utilizes the name "Militant Labor Forum" for public affairs and "Workers Party" as a ballot name when running candidates for public office.

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

PHILADELPHIA BRANCH, YOUNG SOCIALIST LEAGUE

On October 26, 1956, a confidential source advised that the Young Socialist League (YSL) had recently formed a branch of the National YSL in Philadelphia, which branch held its first meeting in Philadelphia on October 7, 1956. On June 25, 1958 this source advised that the YSL still maintains a branch in Philadelphia.

This source on October 8, 1958 advised that the Philadelphia Branch of the YSL in September, 1958, had disbanded and merged with the Philadelphia Branch of the Young Peoples Socialist League (YPSL). The YPSL is publicly known as the Youth Affiliate of the Socialist Party, Socialist Democratic Federation.

PHILADELPHIA CHAPTER, FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE

A source advised on April 3, 1961 that the Philadelphia Chapter, Fair Play for Cuba Committee (FPCC), was formed on February 5, 1961 and is a branch of the national organization of the Fair Play For Cuba Committee.

The main purpose in organizing the FPCC was to rally public opinion in the United States against any effort to overthrow Fidel Castro.

The Philadelphia Chapter membership consists of elements of socialist-type groups, such as the Socialist Workers Party (SWP), but no one faction dominates the operation of this organization.

A second source advised on May 28, 1962 that the Philadelphia Chapter, FPCC, has been relatively inactive since dismissal of charges against four FPCC picketers arrested in April, 1961. Activities are confined to small gatherings in private homes, and there have been no recent large membership meetings.

On May 10, 1963 the second source reported that due to lack of funds, the Philadelphia Chapter, FPCC, has fallen into complete inactivity. Attempts in 1963 to hold social functions in private homes have failed to generate either interest or support.

The first source on May 25, 1964 advised that the Philadelphia Chapter, FPCC, is completely inactive.

PHILADELPHIA FIGHTERS FOR LIBERTY AND JUSTICE

On November 22, 1963 a source advised that the initial meeting of the Philadelphia Fighters for Liberty and Justice (PFLJ) was held on October 1, 1963, at which time the meeting agreed to the selection of temporary officers.

At a meeting of the PFLJ on November 12, 1963, the organization president stated the purpose of the organization is to form a militant organization dedicated to struggle which shall seek the end to Negro oppression and exploitation in a realistic manner.

A two-page throwaway dated November 20, 1963, self-identified as being issued by the PFLJ, states this organization came into being as the organized form for developing in Philadelphia the program of the National Congress on Equal Rights which was held August 31 - September 1, 1963, in New York City.

On September 3, 1963, a second source advised that the Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC) held a National Congress on Equal Rights on August 31 - September 1, 1963, in New York City.

A third source on May 4, 1964 advised that the PFLJ is currently active in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA YOUNG SOCIALIST ALLIANCE, formerly known as Young Socialist Club of Philadelphia

On June 24, 1963 a source advised that youth of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP), the Communist Party (CP), and other socialist-type organizations formed a new youth organization in November, 1957 known as the Young Socialist Club of Philadelphia (YSCP). By 1960 the SWP had obtained complete control of this organization; the youth from the other organizations had dropped out; and its name was changed to the Philadelphia Young Socialist Alliance (PYSA).

On May 25, 1964 a second source advised the PYSA is dominated and controlled in its leadership and ranks by members of the Philadelphia Branch, Socialist Workers Party (PBSWP). It has no permanent headquarters but utilizes the residences of various members for meetings, functions and mailing addresses.

The SWP and the CP have been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

PROGRESSIVE LABOR MOVEMENT, aka
Progressive Labor Party
"Progressive Labor"

A source advised on July 2, 1962 that Progressive Labor groups held a conference in New York City on July 1, 1962, where Milton Rosen acted as chairman. He read a statement at this conference setting forth their intention to form a new Marxist-Leninist party in the United States. Rosen stated that a more formal organization was necessary, one which would provide a framework for all who wanted to join in a united effort to build an American vanguard. The forces of this new organization are to consolidate all existing forces around Progressive Labor and organize additional forces, expand and improve political activities, win additional forces to an outlook of Marxism-Leninism and increase the open advocacy of socialism, develop a significant Marxist-Leninist program for the new party, and organize a collective organization of leaders and members.

"The Worker", an East Coast Communist newspaper, issue of January 7, 1962, page 10, column 3, reported the expulsion of Milton Rosen, former Labor Secretary of the New York State Communist Party, United States of America.

A second and third source advised in February, 1963 that this new Marxist-Leninist party had not yet been organized on a formal basis, but that Progressive Labor groups had been formed in several localities in line with the proposals of Milton Rosen. The sources advised as of February, 1963, that the leaders of this group were referring to it as the Progressive Labor Movement.

A fourth source advised on March 15, 1964, that the Progressive Labor Movement follows, supports and is politically orientated toward the Communist Party line of Red China rather than that of the Soviet Union.

A fifth source advised on March 28, 1964, that at a Progressive Labor Movement meeting held in New York City on that date, it was announced that the Progressive Labor Movement would try to hold a national convention in New York City in September, 1964, to organize the Progressive Labor Movement on a more formal basis into a Progressive Labor Party.

The fifth source also advised that the Progressive Labor Movement publishes a monthly magazine called "Progressive Labor" and also a quarterly theoretical publication called the "Marxist-Leninist Quarterly." The source also advised that starting June 1, 1964, the Progressive Labor Movement would start publishing a weekly newspaper in New York City.

The March, 1964 issue of "Progressive Labor" sets forth that it is published monthly by the Progressive Labor Company, General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn 1, New York.

PROLETARIAN COMMUNIST COMMITTEE (PCC)

A source advised on January 11, 1960 that the National Chairman, JOSEPH DOUGHER, of the Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC), met with other POC members on January 9, 1960 in Philadelphia, Pa. and decided to drop out of the POC and form an organization known as the Proletarian Communist Committee with the goal of building a vanguard Communist Party which will carry on the workers' struggle.

A second source advised on April 10, 1964 that the primary activity of the Proletarian Communist Committee centers in the Williamsport, Pa. area; that PCC has no headquarters there, but meets at homes of individual members.

PROVISIONAL ORGANIZING COMMITTEE FOR A MARXIST-LENINIST COMMUNIST PARTY (POC); aka Provisional Organizing Committee for the Reconstitution of a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party; Provisional Committee to Reconstitute the Communist Party, USA

On August 21, 1958, a source advised that a left caucus conference was held in New York City on August 16-17, 1958, with representatives present from Philadelphia and Williamsport, Pa. At this conference the Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC) was formed and JOSEPH DOUGHER was elected National Vice-Chairman.

On August 20, 1958, a meeting of the members of the Left Faction of the Communist Party, Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware (CPEPD), was held in Philadelphia, Pa., with JOSEPH DOUGHER serving as chairman. At this meeting the Philadelphia group of the POC was established.

On May 4, 1964, the source advised that the Philadelphia Branch of the POC is still active and has been controlled and dominated by the National Officers of the POC since its formation.

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," revised and published as of December 1, 1961, by the Committee on Un-American Activities, U. S. House of Representatives, documents the Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC) as follows:

> "Found to be 'a new Communist splinter group.' The Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party 'also known as the POC  was formed in August 1958 by a number of Communist Party members who were dissatisfied with the trends and policies of the party and, while within it, had referred to themselves as the Marxist-Leninist Caucus.'
>
> "'The leaders and participants in the Provisional Organizing Committee group had been expelled from the Communist Party on the technical charge of "disruptive, factional, anti-party activities."

"'The POC group is composed largely of extreme left-wing elements from the Communist Party. Throughout the party's history, there have been contending right- and left-wing factions which, in period of turmoil such as the party has gone through in the recent past, have fought for control. The POC elements lost out in this recent struggle within the U. S. party ***.'

"'The one fact that is completely clear today is that the POC group is made up of hard-core, dedicated, and extremist Communists who, despite their present differences with the Communist Party leadership, are intent upon doing all within their power to speed the achievment of the goals of international communism."

(Committee on Un-American Activities, Annual Report for 1959, House Report 1251, February 8, 1960, pp. 69 and 70.)

NATION OF ISLAM, formerly referred to as the Muslim Cult of Islam, aka Muhammad's Temples of Islam

In January, 1957, a source advised Elijah Muhammad has described his organization on a nationwide basis as the "Nation of Islam", (NOI) and "Muhammad's Temples of Islam."

On May 8, 1964 a second source advised Elijah Muhammad is the national leader of the NOI; Muhammad's Temple of Islam No. 2, 5335 South Greenwood Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, is the national headquarters of the NOI; and in mid-1960, Muhammad and other NOI officials, when referring to Muhammad's organization on a nationwide basis, commenced using either "Mosque" or "Temple" when mentioning one of "Muhammad's Temples of Islam."

The NOI is an all-Negro organization which was originally organized in 1930 in Detroit, Michigan. Muhammad claims to have been selected by Allah, the Supreme Being, to lead the so-called Negro race out of slavery in the wilderness of North America by establishing an independent black nation in the United States. Members following Muhammad's teachings and his interpretation of the "Koran" believe there is no such thing as a Negro; that the so-called Negroes are slaves of the white race, referred to as "white devils", in the United States; and that the white race, because of its exploitation of the so-called Negroes, must and will be destroyed in the approaching "War of Armageddon."

In the past, officials and members of the NOI, including Muhammad, have refused to register under the provisions of the Selective Service Acts and have declared that members owe no allegiance to the United States.

On May 6, 1958 the first source advised Muhammad had, upon advice of legal counsel, tempered his personal statements and instructions to his ministers concerning the principles of his organization in order to avoid possible prosecution by the United States Government; however, he did not indicate any fundamental changes in the teachings of his organization.

On May 7, 1964 a third source advised Muhammad had, early in July, 1958, decided to de-emphasize the religious aspects of the teachings of Islam and to stress the economic benefits to be derived by those Negroes who joined the NOI. This policy change, according to Muhammad, would help him acquire additional followers and create more interest in his programs.

W. E. B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA

A source has advised that on October 26-27, 1963 a conference of members of the Communist Party (CP), including National Functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates to this meeting were cautioned against the germ of anti-Soviet and anti-CP ideologies. These delegates were also told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second conference of over 20 persons met in Chicago on December 28-29, 1963 for the purpose of initiating a "call" to the new youth organization and planning for a founding convention to be held in June, 1964.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964 at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W. E. B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attemded this convention. The aims of this organization, as set forth in the preamble to the constitution, are, "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful co-existence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that these solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anti-communism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people. As young people in the forces struggling for democracy, we shall actively strive to defeat these reactionary and neo-fascist elements and to achieve complete freedom and democracy for all Americans, thus enabling each individual to freely choose and build the society he would wish to live in. Through these struggles we feel the American people will realize the viability of the socialist alternatives."

The constitution further states that this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals or if five or more people so desire, a chapter can be formed which shall in turn be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

The second source has also advised that at the founding convention it was voted that the organization should be temporarily headquartered in San Francisco, California, although no specific physical location was decided upon. This same source advised on June 29, 1964 that the temporary headquarters of this organization is 1007 McAllister Street, San Francisco, which is the headquarters of the W. E. B. DuBois Club of San Francisco.

Both sources have advised that at the founding convention two officers were elected:

PHILIP CHAPIN DAVIS, President, and
CARL ELLENGER BLOICE, Publications Chairman

A third source has advised that on October 26, 1962 PHILIP DAVIS attended a CP recruiting class held at 1579 Scenic Avenue, Berkeley, California.

A fourth source has advised that CARL BLOICE, reporter for the "People's World" newspaper, was, on April 3, 1964, elected to the newly organized San Francisco County Committee of the CP.

The "People's World" is a West Coast communist newspaper published weekly in San Francisco, California.

YOUNG SOCIALIST ALLIANCE

The May, 1960 issue of the "Young Socialist" (YS), page 1, column 3, disclosed that during April 15-17, 1960, a national organization entitled "The Young Socialist Alliance" (YSA) was established at Philadelphia, Pa. This issue stated that this organization was formed by the nationwide supporter clubs of the publication YS.

The above issue, page 6, set forth the Founding Declaration of YSA. This declaration stated that the YSA recognizes the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) as the only existing political leadership on class struggle principles, and that the supporters of the YS have come into basic political solidarity with the SWP on the principles of revolutionary socialism.

A source advised on May 6, 1964 that the original YSA was an organization formed during October, 1957, in New York City by youth of various left socialist tendencies, particularly members and followers of the SWP. The leaders of this group were the guiding forces in the establishment of the national organization.

The source further advised on May 6, 1964 that the YSA is dominated and controlled on a national basis by the SWP through having SWP members comprise exclusively the National Executive Committee (NEC) and through an official SWP representative at all YSA NEC meetings. The YSA, in reality, is the youth and training section of the SWP and the main source of new SWP members.

The headquarters of the YSA are located in Room 631, 41 Union Square West, New York City.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

YOUTH PUBLICATIONS, INCORPORATED
(Publisher of "New Horizons for Youth)

A source advised that on May 15, 1960 the National Executive Committee of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), endorsed a project presented by MORTIMER DANIEL RUBIN, National Youth Director, CPUSA, calling for a youth publication, "New Horizons." RUBIN stated that this publication will deal with youth questions and while it will not be labeled Marxist, it will use a Marxist analysis on all issues. PENN

Another source advised on June 2, 1960 that the title of the youth publication "New Horizons", had been changed to "New Horizons for Youth."

Records of the New York County Clerk's Office, New York, New York, reflect that Youth Publications, Incorporated, was incorporated in the State of New York on May 17, 1960.

The Volume 1, Number 8, May, 1961 issue of "New Horizons for Youth", indicated that it is published by Youth Publications, Incorporated, 799 Broadway, New York, New York.

The Volume 4, Number 1 issue of "New Horizons for Youth", published during January, 1964, indicates that LIONEL LIBSON is the editor and the place of publication is 1426 Bristol Street, Philadelphia 40, Pa. PENN

On May 7, 1964, a third source advised that LIONEL LIBSON was a member of the Youth Club, Communist Party of Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware (CPEPD); that he was moved by the CP to New York to work on "New Horizons for Youth"; and when "New Horizons for Youth" moved to Philadelphia, LIBSON returned to Philadelphia as editor and is again a member of the Youth Club, CPEPD.

APPENDIX
I

FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE

The April 6, 1960, edition of "The New York Times" newspaper contained a full-page advertisement captioned "What Is Really Happening In Cuba," placed by the Fair Play for Cuba Committee (FPCC). This advertisement announced the formation of the FPCC in New York City and declared the FPCC intended to promulgate "the truth about revolutionary Cuba" to neutralize the distorted American press.

"The New York Times" edition of January 11, 1961, reported that at a hearing conducted before the United States Senate Internal Security Subcommittee on January 10, 1961, Dr. CHARLES A. SANTOS-BUCH identified himself and ROBERT TABER as organizers of the FPCC. He also testified he and TABER obtained funds from the Cuban Government which were applied toward the cost of the aforementioned advertisement.

On May 16, 1963, a source advised that during the first two years of the FPCC's existence there was a struggle between Communist Party (CP) and Socialist Workers Party (SWP) elements to exert their power within the FPCC and thereby influence FPCC policy. This source added that during the past year there had been a successful effort by FPCC leadership to minimize the role of these and other organizations in the FPCC so that their influence as of May, 1963, was negligible.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

On May 20, 1963, a second source advised that VINCENT "TED" LEE, FPCC National Office Director, was then formulating FPCC policy and had indicated that he had no intention of permitting FPCC policy to be determined by any other organization. This source stated that LEE believed that the FPCC should advocate resumption of diplomatic relations between Cuba and the United States and should support the right of Cubans to manage their revolution without interference from other nations. LEE did not advocate supporting the Cuban revolution per se.

2

The November 23, 1963, edition of "The New York Times" reported that Senator THOMAS J. DODD of Connecticut had called FPCC "the chief public relations instrument of the Castro network in the United States." It is to be noted that Senator DODD was a member of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee which twice conducted hearings on the FPCC.

The December 27, 1963, edition of "The New York World Telegram and Sun" newspaper stated that the pro-Castro FPCC was seeking to go out of business and that its prime activity during its lifetime had been sponsorship of pro-Castro street rallies and mass picket lines, and the direction of an active propaganda mill highlighting illegal travel-to-Cuba campaigns. Its comparatively brief span of life was attributed to mounting anti-Castro American public opinion, the 1962 Congressional hearings which disclosed FPCC financing by Castro's United Nations Delegation, and ultimately, the bad publicity which the FPCC received from disclosure of activities on its behalf by suspected presidential assassin LEE H. OSWALD.

On February 6, 1964, the previously mentioned second source advised that V. T. LEE had recently remarked that the FPCC was dead and that there were no plans to organize another similar organization.

On April 13, 1964, a third source advised that there had not been any FPCC activity in many months and that the FPCC had been dissolved.

FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE -
TAMPA BAY CHAPTER;
FAIR PLAY STUDY GROUP

The Sunday "Tampa Tribune" newspaper for May 15, 1960, carried an advertisement captioned "What Is Really Happening in Cuba?," which purported to show the United States press had given a false picture of conditions in Cuba with regard to communism, confiscation of property, and chaotic living conditions. The advertisement was signed "The Fair Play for Cuba Committee, 60 East 42nd Street, New York 17, New York," (FPCC).

On June 24, 1960, [redacted] placed the afore-mentioned advertisement in the "Tampa Tribune" using funds contributed by pro-Cuban groups in Tampa. [redacted] said there was no FPCC in Tampa on that date. b6 b7C

On [redacted], a source advised that [redacted] men and women met and organized the Tampa Bay Chapter of the FPCC. This source subsequently advised the Tampa Bay Chapter of FPCC was affiliated with the national organization known as the Fair Play for Cuba Committee of the Institute for the Improvement of Inter-American Relations, Incorporated, 799 Broadway, New York City, having contributed funds and submitted financial reports to the national organization. The same source reported June 2, 1961, that a charter from the national FPCC was presented to the Tampa Bay Chapter [redacted] b7D

This source advised thereafter the Tampa Bay Chapter continued to hold meetings and to act in pursuance of the same aims as the national FPCC until April 12, 1964, when the membership voted to stop using the FPCC name because of the national FPCC organization's having been dissolved. Tampa members decided they would continue to meet as a study group on Latin-American affairs, and [redacted] 1964, this group chose to name itself the Fair Play Study Group.

PROGRESSIVE LABOR MOVEMENT, also known as Progressive Labor Party, "PROGRESSIVE LABOR"

A source advised on July 2, 1962, that Progressive Labor groups held a conference in New York City on July 1, 1962, where Milton Rosen acted as chairman. He read a statement at this conference setting forth their intention to form a new Marxist-Leninist party in the United States. Rosen stated that a more formal organization was necessary, one which would provide a framework for all who wanted to join in a united effort to build an American vanguard. The forces of this new organization are to consolidate all existing forces around Progressive Labor and organize additional forces, expand and improve political activities, win additional forces to an outlook of Marxism-Leninism and increase the open advocacy of socialism; develop a significant Marxist-Leninist program for the new party, and organize a collective organization of leaders and members.

"The Worker," an east coast communist newspaper, issue of January 7, 1962, page ten, column three, reported the expulsion of Milton Rosen, former Labor Secretary of the New York State Communist Party, United States of America.

A second and third source advised in February, 1963, that this new Marxist-Leninist party had not yet been organized on a formal basis, but that Progressive Labor groups had been formed in several localities in line with the proposals of Milton Rosen. The sources advised as of February, 1963, that the leaders of this group were referring to it as the Progressive Labor Movement.

A fourth source advised on March 15, 1964, that the Progressive Labor Movement follows, supports and is politically orientated toward the Communist Party line of Red China rather than that of the Soviet Union.

2

A fifth source advised on March 28, 1964, that at a Progressive Labor Movement meeting held in New York City on that date, it was announced that the Progressive Labor Movement would try to hold a national convention in New York City in September, 1964, to organize the Progressive Labor Movement on a more formal basis into a Progressive Labor Party.

The fifth source also advised that the Progressive Labor Movement publishes a monthly magazine called "Progressive Labor" and also a quarterly theoretical publication called the "Marxist-Leninist Quarterly." The source also advised that starting June 1, 1964, the Progressive Labor Movement would start publishing a weekly newspaper in New York City.

The March, 1964, issue of "Progressive Labor" sets forth that it is published monthly by the Progressive Labor Company, General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn 1, New York.

NATIONAL GUARDIAN

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," revised and published as of December 1, 1961, prepared and released by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., contains the following concerning the "National Guardian":

"National Guardian

"1. 'Established by the American Labor Party in 1947 as a "progressive" weekly. Although it denies having any affiliation with the Communist Party, it has manifested itself from the beginning as a virtual official propaganda arm of Soviet Russia.'
(Committee on Un-American Activities, Report, 'Trial by Treason: The National Committee to Secure Justice for the Rosenbergs and Morton Sobell,' August 25, 1956, p. 12)"

B. SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY [redacted]

As of September, 1963, the Milwaukee Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP), had not organized in support of the current Negro civil rights movement, but recently [redacted] had stated that the Milwaukee Branch should get into and assist some of the local civil rights organizations which are fighting for Negro rights. Three or four members of the Milwaukee Branch have joined various Negro picket lines demonstrations held by various groups during the previous four months period in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, but this was doneon an individual basis and not as an organized effort of the Milwaukee Branch, SWP. (Source: MI T-3, May 4, 1964) (U)

A characterization of the Milwaukee Branch of the Socialist Workers Party is contained in the appendix hereto.

During the past six months, most of the activity of the Milwaukee Branch of the SWP was concerned with the Negro civil rights movement in Milwaukee. Some of the civil rights groups, such as the NAACP and CORE have held a number of demonstrations protesting de facto segregation in Milwaukee public schools and have protested the presidential campaign of Governor GEORGE WALLACE of Alabama in various cities in Wisconsin. Members of the Milwaukee Branch have participated in these demonstrations, but took no position of leadership. Each member of the Milwaukee Branch, SWP, is required to join some civil rights group and participate in its activities as a part of his work in behalf of the SWP. (U)

(Source: MI T-3, May 4, 1964) (U)

On July 26, 1964, at a meeting of the Milwaukee Chapter of the SWP, [redacted] stated that it was necessary for militant whites, such as the SWP, to hold membership in the Negro civil rights organizations, because the Negro was not capable of thinking. (U) b6 b7C

(Source: MI T-3, August 5, 1964) (U)

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

A. DEMONSTRATION AT MILWAUKEE SCHOOL BOARD MEETING, MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN, SEPTEMBER 1, 1964

Source advised that members of the Student Non-violent Co-ordinating Committee (SNCC) at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, planned to attend and demonstrate at a meeting of the Milwaukee School Board at 5225 West Vliet Street, Milwaukee, between 7:30 and 8:00 p.m., September 1, 1964. (U)

(Source: MI T-7, September 1, 1964) (U)

On September 1, 1964, Detective [redacted] Milwaukee Police Department, advised that he was aware of this proposed demonstration. He stated it was to be held in connection with de facto segregation in the Milwaukee schools. He continued that members of the SNCC had contacted individuals in the Negro residential area of Milwaukee on a house-to-house basis concerning this demonstration, but their plea was not well received, and, as a result, the members of SNCC did not expect a large turnout for the demonstration. Detective [redacted] stated the demonstrators did not plan to enter the school board building. He stated his department intended to be present during the demonstration.

On September 1, 1964, Confidential Informants, who are aware of certain phases of Communist Party activities in the State of Wisconsin, advised they had no knowledge of any planned demonstrations at Milwaukee or any CP participation in any demonstrations.

On September 2, 1964, Detective [redacted], Milwaukee Police Department, advised that a demonstration was held by members of the SNCC at a meeting of the Milwaukee School Board, 5225 West Vliet Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, on September 1, 1964. The demonstration consisted of about fifty individuals in front of the school board building in an orderly demonstration. Approximately twelve of the older individuals in the group entered the building and the room in which the school board was meeting. The meeting began at 8:00 p.m., and shortly after 9:00 p.m. two of the older members present in the room interrupted the meeting by singing a freedom song. Detective [redacted] stated the meeting was recessed and the demonstrators left the room at the request of the police officers, after which the meeting resumed. Detective [redacted] stated the demonstrators continued to picket outside the building. He stated that, except for the interruption of the committee hearing, the entire demonstration was conducted in an orderly manner. He pointed out that the school board, at the meeting of September 1, 1964, took up a report from the Committee on Equality of Educational Opportunity, which, in effect, reaffirmed the board's position that compensatory education, rather than pupil integration, was the answer to the problem of inner core schools. The demonstration inside the board room occurred after some discussion of a resolution of a board member for education in a "multi-racial" setting.

The "Milwaukee Sentinel", a daily newspaper of general circulation in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, area, issue of September 2, 1964, Part 2, Page 1, carries an article relating to the demonstration of September 1, 1964, captioned "Singing Interrupts School Board Again." This article identifies the two individuals who interrupted the meeting as CECIL BROWN, JR., and the Reverend LEO CHAMPION, Associate Minister of the Jerusalem Missionary Baptist Church, 1223 West Walnut Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

A demonstration by members of the Student Non-Violent Co-ordinating Committee (SNCC), now known as the Student National Action Committee (SNAC), was held on September 1, 1964, at the Milwaukee School Board, 5225 West Vliet Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, protesting de facto segregation in Milwaukee public schools, [redacted] the adult [redacted] of this club, shortly before the proposed demonstration, had discussed with one [redacted] a member of the Milwaukee Branch of the SWP, the possibility of deliberately causing the arrest of SNAC members in order to attract attention to the cause being promoted by this club. (U)

[redacted] of the Milwaukee Branch of the SWP objected to this procedure since [redacted] of SNAC and [redacted] an SWP member, was [redacted] whose future could be ruined by such an arrest. (U)

(Source: MI T-3 September 24, 1964) (U)

During September, 1956, [redacted] Communist Party Club [redacted] Milwaukee, Wisconsin said [redacted] held a long talk with [redacted] who told [redacted] would accept CP support as a candidate for public office, but that the CP should not put his name on its literature. (U)

(Source: MI T-8, September 1956) (U)

B. DEMONSTRATION AT TALK BY GOVERNOR GEORGE WALIACE AT PFISTER HOTEL, MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN, SEPTEMBER 17, 1964

On September 17, 1964, the Milwaukee Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation received a telephone call from a man who declined to give his name. He said he was calling the FBI to warn of possible trouble that night at a talk to be given in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, by Alabama Governor GEORGE WALLACE, at the Pfister Hotel. He added that the "trouble" would involve "CORE" and outside agitators." When asked the source of his information, he responded by saying only "I heard rumbles." He refused to be more specific.

On September 17, 1964, Detective [redacted], Milwaukee Police Department advised he understood a local organization, Student Non-Violent Co-ordinating Committee (SNCC) planned to picket the hotel in protest against the Governor's talk, but the police had received no word that anything other than an orderly demonstration might transpire. b6 b7C

On September 17, 1964, Detective [redacted] Milwaukee Police Department advised that the demonstration would be led by [redacted] the group's [redacted] and [redacted] the group's [redacted] a member of the Socialist Workers Party. Detective [redacted] continued that a local meat cutters union, [redacted] planned to picket Governor WALLACE, and [redacted] demonstrators would themselves be picketed, he understood, by a group of University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee students, their specific identities unknown. Detective [redacted] emphasized that the police had no word of possible disturbance with the demonstration.

On September 17, 1964 [redacted] of [redacted] advised that, to his knowledge, no member of CORE planned any demonstration at the time of Governor WALLACE's talk.

On September 21, 1964, Detective [redacted] Milwaukee Police Department, advised that no disorder of any kind occurred at the talk given by Alabama Governor GEORGE WALLACE on the evening of September 17, 1964. He stated that both the audience and demonstrators were orderly at the talk, which took place in the Fern Room of the Pfister Hotel. He stated no disturbance occurred after the talk, when Governor WALLACE held a conference in the Loraine Room of the Schroeder Hotel, Milwaukee, where he was registered.

On September 15, 1964, issue of the "Milwaukee Sentinel," Part 2, page1, carries an article captioned "MAIER REFUSES TO LEAD PICKETS." This article states that a demand by a civil rights organization that Mayor MAIER lead a picket line in protest against Alabama Governor GEORGE WALLACE brought a refusal and a conterdemand Monday from the mayor. It states that Miss PAMELA KIRKLAND, Chairman of a group calling itself the Student Non-violating Co-ordinating Committee (SNCC) had written the mayor to "demand that you, as a responsible leader of both the Democratic party and the city, lead our picket line." She said the organization planned to picket WALLACE when he spoke the following Thursday night in the Pfister Hotel, Milwaukee. The Mayor refused the demand and demanded that the organization review its intentions. The article states that Miss KIRKLAND said the implication of the Mayor's reply was that "racist leaders in his own political party should be ignored." She said it was the position of civil rights groups that it was "totally incorrect and dangerous for us to ignore a southern Democrat who is notoriously racist." She continued, "Milwaukee voters should be shown where its elected leaders stand on such a controversial question."

The article states that a staff member of SNCC, at its Atlanta, Georgia, headquarters, Miss BETTY GARMAN, co-ordinator for Friends of SNCC, said that Milwaukee does not have an official SNCC group. She said she had heard of the Milwaukee group that uses the SNCC name and planned to check into the matter. She continued that SNCC charters are not granted in northern cities, but that Friends of SNCC are organized in the north, and these groups are for the purpose of supporting the southern organizations and are not organized for purposes of direct action. The article continues that Miss KIRKLAND stated that the local group had applied to national headquarters for a charter, but had received no response. She said the members wanted to be a direct action group rather than a Friend of SNCC organization. The article also states that CECIL BROWN, JR., 1719 West Center Street, is adviser for the local group.

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

As of October 19, 1964, the CPW had placed no members in the NAACP, CORE, SNCC (also known as SNAC) or the Negro American Labor Council (NALC). From time to time, members of the CPW have participated in various demonstrations by some of the above-named groups, but they took no active part in the preparation or planning of the demonstrations, and were not invited to participate, but merely joined the ranks of the demonstrators at the scene. Such participation was on an individual basis, and was not done as a group effort.

(Source: MI T-1, October 19, 1964) (U)

As of October 29, 1964, the following members of the Milwaukee Branch, SWP, were members of the organizations shown:

None of the members of the SWP named above, have made any attempts to become officers in, or to exert any force or influence in the civil rights organizations which they have joined. Their activity in these organizations is limited to membership and participation in legitimate demonstrations. The SWP, as an organization, exerts no control over any civil rights organizations or groups in the area.

MILWAUKEE BRANCH OF THE SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY

During May, 1964, a source advised that the Milwaukee Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) was founded in 1940 and is affiliated with and follows the aims and purposes of the National SWP.

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

On October 26, 1964, Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) observed the following:

From 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., a peak number of 250 individuals demonstrated on 8th Avenue between 50th and 51st Streets, New York City, in protest of a political rally for Senator Barry M. Goldwater, which was being held at Madison Square Garden, 50th Street and 8th Avenue, New York City.

The demonstrators carried placards identifying themselves as affiliated with the Downtown, Queens College, City College of New York, New York City and Bronx Chapters of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE). In addition some of the demonstrators distributed literature and carried signs showing their affiliation with the W.E.B Du Bois Clubs of America and Youth Against War and Fascism (YAWF). Placards carried by these demonstrators called for the defeat of Goldwater in the presidential election.

From 7:45 p.m. to 8:15 p.m., on October 26, 1964, [redacted] of the National Renaissance Party (NRP), with six other individuals distributed pro-Goldwater literature bearing the NRP name and address, 10 West 90th Street, New York City. This literature was distributed at the corner of 49th Street and 8th Avenue, New York City.

There were no incidents at either the CORE picketing or the NRP literature distribution.

When the CORE picketing at 50th Street and 8th Avenue, New York City, concluded at 9:30 p.m., on October 26, 1964, these pickets proceeded south to 49th Street, where a large number of Goldwater supporters were assembled outside Madison Square Garden, New York City, between 8th and 9th Avenues, New York City, listening to Senator Goldwater's address by means of loud-speakers. The CORE pickets attempted to mingle with the crowd of Goldwater people but were dispersed by the New York City Police Department.

Senator Goldwater's address before a capacity crowd in Madison Square Garden, New York City, concluded at 10:00 p.m. on October 26, 1964.

1.

NATIONAL RENAISSANCE PARTY

On July 16, 1963, a source stated that the National Renaissance Party (NRP) is an anti-semitic, anti-Christian, anti-Negro, and neo-Fascist organization, with activities generally confined to the New York City area. It was founded in 1949, by James H. Madole, who is in complete control of the party. The party's main function is distribution of the National Renaissance Bulletin on a bi-monthly basis and distribution of pro-Arab literature obtained from official Arab establishments in New York City.

The source further stated that the headquarters for the NRP is located in the residence of James H. Madole at 10 West 90th Street, New York City.

The Un-American Activities Committee of the United States House of Representatives in a Preliminary Report dated December 17, 1954, stated NRP activities and propaganda are clearly subversive and un-American.

On July 30, 1964, Detective [redacted] Bureau of Special Services, New York City Police Department, advised that all activities of the NRP have ceased and apparently will not resume for some time since James H. Madole is presently serving a two year sentence imposed on him on July 16, 1964, on a charge of riot.

A confidential source advised on August 22, 1962, that the Youth Against War and Fascism (YAWF), formerly known as the Anti-Fascist Youth Committee, was established by the Workers World Party (WWP) in the summer of 1962, to bring college youth into the periphery of WWP activities and thereby gain recruits for the organization.

The confidential source advised on May 13, 1964, that the YAWF utilizes Post Office Box 1703, Grand Central Station, New York, New York, as its mailing address and WWP Headquarters, 46 West 21st Street, New York, New York, for administrative activities.

WORKERS WORLD PARTY

On April 17, 1959, a confidential source advised that on February 12, 1959, a Socialist Workers Party (SWP) minority group, under the leadership of National Committee member, Sam Ballan, split from the SWP.

The source stated that this minority group, referred to as the Marcyites, after many years of program and policy differences on varied issues concerning tactics and interpertation of political events, split from the SWP on the grounds that the Party was liquidating itself by departing from the Marxist precepts of Leon Trotsky and retreating from the fight for the world socialist revolution. The final issue which ultimately forced the split was the minority's opposition to the SWP regroupment policy which involved cooperation with the Communist Party (CP) periphery - individuals characterized by the minority as petty-bourgeois.

The minority program, according to the source, advocated unconditional defense of the Soviet Union and has as its goal the building of a revolutionary party with a complete proletarian orientation for the purpose of overthrowing capitalism in the United States and throughout the world.

On May 12, 1960, the source advised that this minority group had chosen the name Workers World Party.

On April 27, 1964, a second source advised that the Workers World Party, which maintains headquarters at 46 West 21st Street, New York, New York, supports the People's Republic of China in its ideological dispute with the Soviet Union.

The SWP and the CP have been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

Sources of this Bureau whose identities are concealed in this document have furnished reliable information in the past.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

(A) COMMUNIST PARTY, USA

1) The Minnesota-Dakotas District of the Communist Party, USA (MDD, CP) includes the states of Minnesota, and North and South Dakota.

There have been no known directives or policy statements handed down by the national leaders of the CP, USA placed in effect among the CP clubs in this district. National CP leaders, who have visited in this area during the past two years, have not advocated a particular course of action in regard to the civil rights or Negro movement in this district.

MP T-1 on October 28, 1964
MP T-2 on October 28, 1964
MP T-3 on October 26, 1964
MP T-4 on October 30, 1964

2) During the past two years District Committee meetings of the MDD, CP have been held on a regular basis and there has been no significant activity on the part of members of the MDD, CP as an organization in the civil rights or Negro movement. No firm policy has ever been established on a local or district level. There is no evidence that the CP in this district has in any way influenced any significant activity in the metropolitan Twin Cities area during the past several years, although at a meeting of the District Board of the MDD, CP held as recently as October 26, 1964, a discussion of the civil rights movement was on the agenda, and it was concluded that perhaps in a few weeks the CP should begin to take a more active part in racial and civil rights matters in this area.

MP T-1 on October 28, 1964

No policy statements as such have been issued at district meetings of the MDD, CP and CP clubs in the Twin Cities area as well as rural Minnesota. District leaders have not been known to issue statements of policy regarding infiltration of racial groups in this district and no firm policy has been set out by the leadership as far as the civil rights issue is concerned.

MP T-3 on October 26, 1964
MP T-4 on October 30, 1964
MP T-5 on October 21, 1964
MP T-6 on October 21, 1964

b6

[redacted] advised Special Agent WILLIAM P. EFFERTZ on October 21, 1964, that he has no information to indicate that the CP as an organization or individuals having CP affiliation exert any real influence or control in any of the local Negro organizations in the Twin Cities area.

[redacted] advised on October 21, 1964, that he has no information which would show that the CP members in this area or the CP as an organization exercises any degree of control in the local branch of the NAACP.

(B) OTHER COMMUNIST GROUPS

1) and 2) Comments under this section relate to activities of the Socialist Workers Party, Twin Cities Branch, (TCB-SWP), a characterization of which appears in the appendix attached hereto.

The local TCB-SWP currently and for a number of years has not as an organization promoted or organized any activities which have been directed toward gaining influence or control in any of the local racial organizations. No policy directives have been instituted by the national headquarters of the SWP in the TCB.

MP T-8 on October 21, 1964
MP T-9 on October 28, 1964

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

(A) MARCH ON WASHINGTON, AUGUST 28, 1963

1) ROSE RENAUD, Secretary, MDD, CP, and [redacted] a member of the [redacted], CP, in August, 1963, urged participation in the March on Washington, a demonstration in connection with civil rights legislation , by CP leaders. A group of substantial citizens in the community organized a local delegation to participate in this demonstration and as a result of extreme vigilance on the part of those persons in charge arranging transportation, those individuals, including ROSE RENAUD, who were suspected of being or known to be CP members, were not afforded passage with the official delegation from the Twin Cities. ROSE RENAUD and another CP member attempted to accompany the Minneapolis delegation, however, they were not permitted to attend as legal delegates. RENAUD attended the demonstration by traveling to Washington, D.C. on her own, apart from the official delegation and had no actual association with the groups from the Twin Cities while in Washington, D.C. Although the CP, on behalf of a few individual members, expressed interest in this delegation, they exercised no influence or control whatsoever in deciding what delegates were to attend or what activities, if any, were to be participated in while in Washington, D.C.

MP T-1 on October 28, 1964

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

(A) NAACP

1) The CP as an organization has made absolutely no effort to influence the NAACP in this area since this organization for the most part is composed of a number of sophisticated people, both Negro and white, who would object very strenously to any attempt at Communist infiltration.

MP T-1 on October 28, 1964

2) On an individual basis, not by Party directive, several members of the TCB-SWP participate in the activities of the NAACP in the Twin Cities area and hold membership but are not officers. Their membership in this organization is for the most part a personal matter with each individual, and they are not involved in this activity because of any known directive from the TCB-SWP. They are in no way attempting to gain control of the group under orders of the TCB-SWP and hold no positions of influence. Those TCB-SWP members who are known to belong to the NAACP include [redacted]

b6

(B) CONGRESS OF RACIAL EQUALITY (CORE)

1) CORE, as an organization, is known to be completely off limits for members of the MDD, CP because there are, among members of this club, a number of individuals believed to have Socialist or Trotskyite leanings. The MDD, CP leadership specifically feels that as long as individuals [redacted] are believed to have effective influence in CORE, the CP members could make no progress in any attempt to infiltrate that organization.

A characterization of the American Socialist Club is contained in the appendix attached hereto.

In September, 1963, [redacted] attended a meeting at the headquarters of the TCB-SWP in Minneapolis, Minnesota, the stated purpose of which was to protest the threat to civil liberties by the House Un-American Activities Committee.

MP T-7 on September 14, 1963

2) Since late 1963 several members of the TCB-SWP have shown interest in working toward the organization of a CORE chapter in the Twin Cities area. [redacted] and [redacted] are known to have been so inclined, however, neither individual is known to have been accepted into the CORE group as far as any significant position of leadership. They have, therefore, been unable to exert any real control or influence in the group and are, for the most part, nominal members thereof.

MP T-10 on September 16, 1963

An article appearing in the October 17, 1963, issue of the "Minneapolis Spokesman" identified Mr. JAMES WILLIS, attorney at law, as the chairman of the Twin Cities chapter of CORE, elected at the first election of the officially constituted group held in Minneapolis, Minnesota, October 13, 1963. WILLIS was identified in the article as a graduate of McKinley Law School, Canton, Ohio, who came to Minneapolis from Massilon, Ohio, in 1957; was formerly a member of the staff of the Clerk of Hennepin County District Court; and a member of the Minnesota State Bar since 1959.

This article identified HERSCHEL KAMINSKY, 822 Seventh Street Southeast, Minneapolis, as having been elected to position of trustee in the Twin Cities chapter of CORE.

[redacted] on October 20, 1963, was identified as a member of the [redacted] Twin Cities Chapter of CORE.

[redacted] was identified as a member of the [redacted] of this group.

MP T-12 on October 25, 1963.

An article appearing in the "Minneapolis Tribune," a daily newspaper published in Minneapolis, Minnesota, dated February 3, 1964, captioned, "Policy Disputed--20 Twin Cities CORE Members Walk Out," revealed that at a meeting of the group held Sunday evening, February 2, 1964, about twenty members described as almost half the group's active membership disassociated themselves from the civil rights organization. Included in the walkout were the group's Vice Chairman, ROBERT L. WYNN, JR.; the Treasurer, Secretary and two trustees. The article quotes WYNN as stating the mass withdrawal was in protest of what he called, failure of the local group to conform to the philosophy of the national CORE organization.

CONGRESS OF RACIAL EQUALITY

The article further reflects that an immediate factor in the walkout was a disagreement of how the group should proceed in dealing with the Minneapolis school board in connection with alleged discrimination in teacher hiring practices.

The article further revealed that the local chapter's application for a charter from the national organization of CORE was pending and that the walkout group would ask the national organization to "defer action for the time being" on the application.

At a meeting of the TCB-SWP held February 12, 1964, [redacted] reported to the membership that [redacted] appeared before the Minneapolis School Board meeting held during the previous week wearing black arm bands as requested by CORE. This group was protesting the discrimination by the school board in the case involving the application for employment and hiring of three Negro teachers.

MP T-8 on February 20, 1964

At this same meeting of the TCB-SWP, February 12, 1964 [redacted] reported to the membership that no action would be taken at the time by members of the TCB-SWP in regard to CORE other than to attend meetings and report to the membership of the TCB-SWP.

Congress of Racial Equality

MP T-10 on February 20, 1964

On September 3, 1964, [redacted] advised that this group has not as yet been recognized with a charter from the national organization; that the organization as such and its leadership are opposed to any Communist influence within the organization; for example, the membership of [redacted] in the group [redacted] when it was learned [redacted] was a Socialist. [redacted] advised that every possible effort is being made to keep those individuals suspected of having Socialist leanings or Communist leanings from assuming positions of influence or leadership in the organization.

TWIN CITIES BRANCH
SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY

A source advised on various dates between June and October, 1960, that the Twin Cities Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (TCB-SWP) is an affiliate of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP).

A second source advised on May 13, 1964, that the TCB-SWP was formed on August 21, 1955, through the merging of the Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minnesota, branches of the SWP. This merger was effected with the approval and under the direction of the national office of the SWP.

At present, the TCB-SWP is fully organized and operates in headquarters located in Room 240 at 704 Hennepin Avenue, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

The TCB-SWP follows and attempts to implement the aims and purposes of the national organization of the SWP.

The Socialist Workers Party (SWP) has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

MINNESOTA FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE

A source advised on May 10, 1962, that the Minnesota Fair Play for Cuba Committee (MFPCC) was organized at Minneapolis, Minnesota, on March 12, 1961, through the election of officers at a meeting held at 1425 University Avenue Southeast, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

This source stated on May 10, 1962, that the President and Treasurer of the MFPCC are both Socialist Workers Party (SWP) members. Through these officers the Twin Cities Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (TCB-SWP) exercises complete control over the committee.

This source stated on May 10, 1962, that although the MFPCC is fully organized, it is at present dormant with no plans for reactivation.

A second source advised on May 29, 1962, that the purpose of the MFPCC is to disseminate information favorable to Cuba as furnished by the national organization of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee (FPCC) to which the MFPCC is tied.

This source advised on May 23, 1963, that the MFPCC has not been operational or effective for some time. At present the organization is defunct.

A third source advised on various dates between June and October, 1960, that the TCB-SWP is an affiliate of the SWP.

The Socialist Workers Party (SWP) has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

APPENDIX

AMERICAN SOCIALIST CLUBS, formerly known as the Socialist Union of America

A source, on November 8, 1954, advised the Socialist Union of America (SUA) was formed by a minority group which broke away from the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) primarily because the minority group believed the SWP should enter the Communist Party (CP) and other left-wing groups with the intention of swinging those groups "right or left," thereby making a revolution possible in a shorter time. The SUA was formally organized at the Midwest Founding Conference held November 21, 1953, at Detroit, Michigan.

A second source, on May 4, 1959, advised that during a conference of the SUA held in Chicago, Illinois, on June 1 and 2, 1957, the SUA was dissolved and the American Socialist Clubs (ASC) was organized as its successor.

The conference adopted a statement of purpose indicating its objectives were the education and organization of new socialist forces to prepare the way for building a new movement of democratic socialism in the United States and to support its monthly magazine, the "American Socialist" (AS), as a prime force in such education.

A third source advised on November 24, 1959, that at an ASC meeting held in Detroit, Michigan, in November, 1959, it was decided to abolish the ASC and discontinue publishing the AS.

A fourth source advised on January 5, 1960, that the office of the ASC located at 857 Broadway, New York 3, New York, was closed as of December 31, 1959.

The SWP and the CP have been designated by the Attorney General pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

"AMERICAN SOCIALIST"

A source, on May 4, 1959, advised that the "American Socialist" (AS) was a monthly magazine which was controlled by the Socialist Union of America (SUA) from January, 1954, to June, 1957, and had been controlled by the American Socialist Clubs (ASC) since July, 1957.

A second source advised on November 24, 1959, that at an ASC meeting held in Detroit, Michigan, in November, 1959, it was decided to abolish the ASC and discontinue publishing the AS.

The December, 1959, issue of the AS contained an editorial announcing that it was the last issue of the magazine.

RE: Bureau letter to Albany dated 8/28/64.

In accordance with instructions set out in referenced Bureau letter, the Houston Office has thoroughly reviewed all files pertaining to investigation of the CP, USA, and all pertinent files in the racial matter classification. As a result of this file review, it has been determined there has been no activity in the territory covered by the Houston Office during the period 1/1/63 to 11/1/64 which falls within the criteria set out in referenced Bureau letter.

As a general summary of the situation within the Houston territory, it is pointed out the Communist Party (CP) has been virtually inactive in the Houston territory since 1959. There have been no CP club meetings held in Houston since 1959, although state leaders have held three or four meetings of the CP State Committee at Houston subsequent to 1959 in an unsuccessful effort to stimulate interest at Houston.

There are presently [redacted] individuals carried as bona fide CP members at Houston, and their activities have been limited to receiving literature and maintaining infrequent personal contacts with CP members [redacted] individuals, [redacted] discloses no indication they have attempted to inject themselves in or otherwise participate in any racial activities. Review of pertinent files in the racial matters field likewise discloses there have been no racial incidents or threats of violence in the Houston territory during the above period. Racial integration of schools, public accommodations and public facilities has progressed quietly in the Houston territory without any difficulties. No Klan or hate type groups have succeeded in establishing organizations in the Houston territory.

Accordingly, an investigative report is not being submitted by the Houston Office, in accordance with the instructions set out in referenced Bureau letter. In the event any pertinent information of interest to this program is developed in the future the Bureau will be promptly advised and pertinent information will be included in the next quarterly communication.

ReATrad to Bureau and New York 10/30/64 which reported that plans were under way for a meeting to be held in Atlanta, Georgia, some weekend soon which will be attended by Martin Luther King, Jr., [redacted] and an individual referred to as "our mutual friend." The latter individual will likely be Stanley David Levison as Levison is frequently referred to in such terms by [redacted] and King.

Bearing in mind the extreme importance of gathering factual information concerning the King-Levison relationship, recipient offices should be extremely alert to all available information concerning any forthcoming meeting between King and [redacted] which might also be attended by Levison. New York should initiate appropriate discreet spot checks of [redacted] and Levison for the next few weekends and for a day or two preceding the weekends.

The Bureau should be kept promptly advised of all pertinent developments in this matter.

BUDED: 11/1/64

Re Bureau letter entitled "COMMUNIST PARTY, USA, NEGRO QUESTION, COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS, INTERNAL SECURITY - C" dated 8/28/64.

All pertinent files in the Albuquerque Office have been reviewed, and no indications noted of any Communist influence in the racial movement in the State of New Mexico during the period 1/1/63 to date. The State of New Mexico has been practically void of any racial problems during this period and all action taken in this field appears to have been on a legitimate basis.

[redacted] on 10/19/64, [redacted] and [redacted] on 9/14/64, individually advised in their opinions there is no CP, USA organization currently operating in the State of New Mexico. These informants further stated that no CP, USA organization on a club or state level has operated in the State of New Mexico since the latter part of the 1950's. b7D

[redacted] on 2/27/61 advised that to [redacted] knowledge there was no CP, USA organization then operating in the State of New Mexico. [redacted] has furnished both reliable and unreliable information in the past. The other informants mentioned above have furnished reliable information in the past.

Informants of other offices have furnished information in the past reflecting there has not been a CP, USA organization operating in the State of New Mexico since the late 1950's.

Albuquerque informants have been alerted to immediately report to Albuquerque Office any and all information coming to their attention concerning the possible influence by Communists in the racial movement in the State of New Mexico.

Based on the above, it would appear there is no CP, USA organization currently operating in the State of New Mexico, and accordingly it follows there can be no infiltration by the CP, USA directed toward the racial movement in this state. [redacted] on 10/19/64 and [redacted] and [redacted] on 9/14/64, individually advised the CP, USA members, as well as those in sympathy with the CP, USA, reside in widely separated areas throughout the State of New Mexico. According to these informants, these individuals have no consistent policies as to racial matters, and in view of their widely separated residential areas, have little influence in any groups in the State of New Mexico. b7D

Based upon a review of Albuquerque files, there are no known chapters of splinter and off-shoot groups, such as the Socialist Workers Party, Progressive Party, and the like, operating in the State of New Mexico.

This matter will be given preferred, continuous attention and all practical investigation will be conducted in order to exploit any possible Communist influence in the racial movement in the State of New Mexico.

Albuquerque's file review and investigation of captioned matter are completely negative and accordingly no report is being submitted.

A source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on October 10, 1964, that a rally sponsored by the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM) was held on that date at 126th Street and Lenox Avenue, New York City between 4:45 PM and 6:00 PM.

The theme of the rally was "Free The Harlem Six" a reference to six Harlem individuals recently arrested by the New York City Police Department for murder.

The source advised that there were four speakers at this rally the first of whom was William Epton.

Epton stated he wanted everyone to know that he believed in revolution and the overthrow of the government. According to Epton, this is the only way the black people can be free since the United States Government is the oppressor. Epton said there were six youths who were picked up for murder on 125th Street, New York City; taken to the police station and beaten. Epton further stated that these six youths are now in the Brooklyn House of Detention and the District Attorney won't let them have their own defense council, but instead has appointed their council for defense.

Epton further stated that the Harlem Defense Council was glad to be back on the street once again.

ENCLOSURE

Progressive Labor Movement

Epton stated that "we" are going to start a rent strike committee and wage war against the slum landlords.

The source advised that the next speaker was Dave Douglas who stated that there is going to be less jobs, therefore, more unemployment which will cause the people to either join the Army or turn to the bars and start drinking or may even end up taking dope. Douglas stated that dope is not a habit. It is like any other disease which could be cured by a medicine. According to Douglas the government knows about this medicine but won't let it be used.

The source advised that the other speakers were Bill McAdoo and Les Edmonds. Edmonds represented the Freedom Now Party.

The source advised that all of the above in their talks spoke about the political situation saying that President Johnson, Goldwater, John F. Kennedy and Robert F. Kennedy are Fascists. They also stated that there is no choice for President as both Johnson and Goldwater are Fascists.

The speakers also stated that in regard to Robert F. Kennedy, he did not do anything when he was Attorney General nor did he do anything for the people in Birmingham, Alabama.

A second source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished substantially the same information as above and added that Bill Epton stated that his arrest in New York City was illegal and that this was the first time in two months that he had been allowed to speak in Harlem.

The second source further advised that in regard to Dave Douglas, Douglas stated that the United States was wrong in Cuba and Viet Nam. Douglas also defended Bill Epton and stated that Epton's arrest was illegal.

Progressive Labor Movement

The second source also stated that Bill Mc Adoo in his talk stated that the arrest of the Harlem six as well as the arrest of Bill Epton was illegal and the people in Harlem were fighting the Mayor and the police and further that Harlem should be under black control.

A third source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on October 12, 1964, that a meeting of the PLM had been held on October 10, 1964, at 126th Street and Lenox Avenue, New York City and furnished substantially the same information in regard to the meeting as that furnished by the first and second sources.

A characterization of the PLM is attached hereto.

A fourth source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, on October 4, 1961, advised that as of November, 1961 [redacted] was a member of the [redacted] Communist Party. b6 b7C

The fourth source also advised on November 16, 1962, that [redacted] becoming active in the PLM.

A fifth source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 8, 1961 that [redacted] was known to be a member of the [redacted] Communist Party.

Progressive Labor Movement

David Douglas identified himself as a member of the Harlem Progressive Labor Club during a speech he made on August 6, 1964, at a PLM demonstration at 100th Street and Amsterdam Avenue, New York City.

A sixth source, who has furnished reliable information in the past advised on July 29, 1964, that the Harlem Defense Council was formed by the PLM in New York City as a front organization with its main objective to get recruits for the PLM.

The source used in characterization of the PLM attached hereto have furnished reliable information in the past.

PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY,
PROGRESSIVE LABOR MOVEMENT,
"PROGRESSIVE LABOR"

A source advised on July 2, 1962, that Progressive Labor groups held a conference in New York City on July 1, 1962, where MILTON ROSEN acted as chairman. He read a statement at this conference setting forth their intention to form a new Marxist-Leninist party in the United States. ROSEN stated that a more formal organization was necessary, one which would provide a frame-work for all who wanted to join in a united effort to build an American vanguard. The forces of this new organization are to consolidate all existing forces around Progressive Labor and organize additional forces; expand and improve political activities; win additional forces to an outlook of Marxism-Leninism and increase the open advocacy of socialism; develop a significant Marxist-Leninist program for the new party; and organize a collective organization of leaders and members.

"The Worker," an East Coast Communist newspaper, issue of January 7, 1962; Page Ten, Column Three, reported the expulsion of MILTON ROSEN, former Labor Secretary of the New York State Communist Party, from the Communist Party, United States of America.

A second and third source advised in February, 1963, that this new Marxist-Leninist party had not yet been organized on a formal basis, but that Progressive Labor groups had been formed in several localities in line with the proposals of MILTON ROSEN. The sources advised as of February, 1963, that the leaders of this group were referring to it as the Progressive Labor Movement.

A fourth source advised on March 15, 1964, that the Progressive Labor Movement follows, supports, and is politically orientated toward the Communist Party line of Red China rather than that of the Soviet Union.

A fifth source advised on March 28, 1964, that at a Progressive Labor Movement meeting held in New York City on that date, it was announced that the Progressive Labor Movement would try to hold a national convention in New York City in September, 1964, to organize the Progressive Labor Movement on a more formal basis into a Progressive Labor Party.

The fifth source also advised that the Progressive Labor Movement publishes a monthly magazine called, "Progressive Labor" and also a quarterly theoretical publication called the "Marxist-Leninist Quarterly." The source also advised that starting June 1, 1964, the Progressive Labor Movement would start publishing a weekly newspaper in New York City.

The March, 1964, issue of "Progressive Labor" sets forth that it is published monthly by the Progressive Labor Company, General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn 1, New York.

1. APPENDIX

FREEDOMWAYS ASSOCIATES, INCORPORATED

The records of the New York Secretary of State, Albany, New York, show that the certificate of incorporation of Freedomways Associates, Incorporated, was filed on March 2, 1961.

The Spring, 1964, issue of "Freedomways" is self-described as "A Quarterly Review of the Negro Freedom Movement" published by Freedomways Associates, Incorporated, 799 Broadway, New York City.

On May 24, 1961, a source advised that a report was given on "Freedomways" at a meeting of the National Board, Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), held on May 24, 1961. It was stated that the original plan called for the publication to be openly Marxist, but that it was later decided it would not be avowedly a Marxist publication. Editorials are in the hands of a mixed group of Marxists and non-Marxists. It was stated that the central purpose of "Freedomways" is to develop a theory and positive criticism of currents in the Negro movement, as well as to raise the level of understanding and discussion taking place in Negro life today and to project a socialist and pro-Soviet orientation.

On May 25, 1961, another source advised that "Freedomways" was set up for the CPUSA by JAMES JACKSON, a member of the National Committee of the CPUSA.

VISIT TO LOS ANGELES BY
OCTOBER 26, 1964

On October 26, 1964, the Los Angeles evening "Herald-Examiner", a large daily metropolitan evening newspaper, reported that Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. would visit Los Angeles as a guest of local civil rights and church groups. A spokesman for sponsoring organizations stated that Dr. King would travel in a motorcade in a person-to-person tour to get out the vote. The article noted that Dr. King's visit was part of a non-partisan, cross-country tour of major urban centers, which Dr. King has undertaken to insure that the large number of citizens who are registered to vote in the coming election turn out at the polls on November 3. The article noted that Dr. King would make a major address at an all-citizens rally at South Park, Los Angeles, at 6:00 P.M. (October 27, 1964).

The Los Angeles "Times", a large daily metropolitan morning newspaper, on October 27, 1964, reported that Dr. King, on Monday, October 26, 1964, stated that civil rights demonstrations will resume after the November 3 election, "in situations that demand them". The article quoted Dr. King as stating, "We did call a moratorium on demonstrations for the campaigns, but naturally after the election, there will be a renewal of demonstrations in situations that demand them as long as the evils are there." The article disclosed Dr. King, recent winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, arrived at International Airport, Los Angeles (October 26, 1964), and spoke briefly at a press conference. The article stated he was scheduled for a number of personal appearances throughout the Los Angeles area on October 27, 1964, his final appearance being at Los Angeles City College at 3:00 P.M.

CIRM

Your airtel 10/26/64 "CIRM; Anti-Goldwater Rally Union Square, NYC, 10/25/64, RM," furnished the Bureau copies of a letterhead memorandum (LHM) of same date. Corrective action was indicated relative to the LHM and by Buairtel 10/27/64 your attention was directed to the specifics relative to corrective action. Two matters were involved. First, the LHM had not been classified and it appeared that it should have been; your reconsideration of the matter of classification was requested. Secondly, the reliability of sources used in the Appendix was not indicated as required; advice was requested as to what should be added to the LHM. It is noted that the LHM was five pages in length.

Your airtel 10/29/64 furnished the Bureau copies of a corrected LHM. A comparison of the corrected LHM with the original one revealed the following changes. The corrected LHM was classified "Confidential" thus necessitating the addition of the classification to each page and the addition of the Group 1 data to page one. A statement was added to page three (last page prior to Appendix) to the effect that the confidential sources utilized in the Appendix have furnished reliable information in the past. In addition, the penultimate paragraph of page two was changed to indicate that certain information was furnished by [redacted] b7D whose identity need not be concealed. It had originally been reported as information from a confidential source.

It appears to the Bureau that the corrective action indicated in this instance could have been considerably streamlined by advising the Bureau that the confidential data was to be added and that the new statement on page three was to be added. The only page which needed retyping was page two. Therefore, it would not have been necessary to furnish the Bureau ten copies each of four retyped pages as was done.

Title: COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS
(ALBANY DIVISION)

Character: INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Synopsis:

In July 1963 the Capital District CP Section (CDCP) agreed that the CP had a good chance to work among Negroes because of the Negro struggle for equal rights. However, ROBERT THOMPSON, NY District CP Organizer, was displeased over lack of CP work in the area of civil rights and Negro participation in local activities. In July 1964 a source reported that at various times the CDCP had advocated that CP members should take an active part in the local NAACP; but that no specific plans had ever been formulated or any action taken in this regard by the CP leadership. Data set out re communist influence in March on Albany (MOA), 3/10/64. Sponsoring or supporting organizations for the MOA were the NYS NAACP, Citizens Committee for $1.50 Minimum Wage, NYC Committee for Decent Housing, Congress of Puerto Rican Municipalities, District 65 - Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union, National Association for Puerto Rican Civil Rights and the Congress of Racial Eqality. Demands of the MOA were reported as follows: $1.50 minimum hourly wage law statewide, legalized rent strikes, unemployment insurance for voluntary hospital workers, state human rights law protection for hospital workers, an end to bias in apprenticeship program, state aid for quality integrated education, no literacy tests for voting, free tuition at city colleges, massive low cost public housing. At the MOA on 3/10/64 3000-3500 demonstrators congregated in Albany, N.Y. Most were from NYC and others represented 34 cities in NYS. The affair was orderly and without incident, lasting from 10:00 AM to 4:00 PM. It included a rally at a local armory, a street parade to the State Capitol with speeches and interviews with Governor ROCKEFELLER and NYS Legislators. General results of demonstration considered disappointing by spokesman. BAYARD RUSTIN of NYC said the NAACP had asked him to direct and organize the MOA. GILBERTO GERENA VALENTIN, representing the Congress of Puerto Rican Municipalities, was one of the speakers.

DETAILS:

I. Communist Strategy

(A) Communist Party (CP), USA

Confidential Informant AL T-1 advised on July 8, 1963 that a meeting of the Capital District Communist Party Section (CDCP) was held on June 28, 1963 at which time those present agreed the CP had a good chance to work among Negroes because of the Negro struggle for equal rights.

On July 31, 1963, Confidential Informant AL T-2 reported that at a meeting of the CDCP on July 28, 1963 ROBERT THOMPSON expressed displeasure over the lack of CP work in the area of civil rights and Negro participation in local activities.

On February 11, 1963, Confidential Informant AL T-3 identified ROBERT THOMPSON as Organizer of the New York District of the CP as of February 1963.

On July 2, 1964, AL T-3 stated that at various times the meetings of the CDCP advocated that CP members should take an active part in the local National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP); however, no specific plans had ever been formulated or action taken regarding this matter by the CP leadership.

II. Communist Tactics

(A) March on Albany, New York (MOA), March 10, 1964

On [redacted] Confidential Informant AL T-4 furnished information indicating that [redacted] contacted BAYARD RUSTIN [redacted] RUSTIN stated the NAACP had asked him to direct and organize the MOA. He said the NAACP wanted him to remain independent and work behind the scenes. b6 b7C NK

Confidential Informant AL T-5 on May 22, 1958 advised [redacted] was a member of the NK

[redacted] of the Young Socialist League (YSL). b6 b7C b7D

A characterization of the YSL appears in the appendix.

On June 22, 1958, Confidential Informant AL T-6 advised that information made available [redacted] that [redacted] was a member of the [redacted]

The same source, [redacted] made available a "Young Peoples Socialist League (YPSL) letter [redacted]

A characterization of the YPSL appears in the appendix.

The "New York Herald Tribune" issue of August 14, 1963, page 7, column 1, contained an article captioned "Thurmond Assails a Leader of March". The article stated that in answer to charges Senator STROM THURMOND made, BAYARD RUSTIN admitted joining the Young Communist League (YCL) in 1936. RUSTIN also reportedly stated that he broke completely with the YCL in June 1941.

The YCL has been designated by the Attorney General pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker" issue of February 25, 1957, page 1, column 1, contained an article which stated that BAYARD RUSTIN, Executive Secretary, War Resistors League, was one of eight non - communist observers at the CP national convention in 1957.

> The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast communist newspaper which suspended publication January 13, 1958.

On February 27, 1964, Confidential Informant AL T-8 furnished a letter of the Emma Lazarus Federation of Jewish Women's Clubs(ELF) [redacted] b7D urging each ELF group to send delegates to the MOA. The letter stated the city peoples tenant organizations and the Citizens Committee for $1.50 Minimum Wage in New York State had united for the March. The letter further stated civil rights organizations may join them to lobby for legislation on rent and housing matters; $1.50 minimum wage and an increase in budget for public school education as necessary to achieve public school integration and raise the quality of schools.

> A characterization of the ELF appears in the appendix.

On March 4, 1964, Lieutenant [redacted] b6 b7C Bureau of Special Services, New York City Police Department, advised that on February 9, 1964, a rally was held at the Salem Methodist Church, 129th Street and Seventh Avenue, New York City, sponsored by the Citizens Committee for a $1.50 Minimum Hourly Wage in New York State. The principal speaker at this rally was A. PHILIP RANDOLPH, Chairman of the aforementioned Committee, who stated:

> "I call for a March on Albany to support our demands for a decent minimum wage in New York State. I urge you who are here today and all other socially conscious individuals and organizations in the state to join in this crusade."

Lieutenant [redacted] stated that some of the other speakers at the rally on February 9, 1964 who pledged their support of the March proposal by RANDOLPH were ALEXANDER J. ALLEN, Executive Director of the Urban League; Reverend RICHARD A. WILDEBRAND, President, New York Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP); Dr. EUGENE T. REED, President, New York State Conference of the NAACP; CLEVELAND ROBINSON, Secretary-Treasurer, District 65, Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union (RWDSU), and GILBERTO GERENA VALENTIN, President of the Puerto Rican Parade.

b6
b7C

NK NK NK GILBERTO GERENA CPMEMBER

The "New York Herald Tribune", February 17, 1964, page 1, in an article entitled "New March by Puerto Ricans Here" described GILBERTO GERENA VALENTIN as Executive Secretary, National Association for Puerto Rican Civil Rights.

Confidential Informant AL T-9 advised in February 1953 that [redacted] had been in attendance at a CP meeting held [redacted] in New York City. This source advised [redacted] for the CP of [redacted] but was at odds with certain members of the CP because he felt they were not doing what they could to assist the CP [redacted]

b6
b7C

The "New York Times", February 19, 1964, page 1, in an article concerning boycott demonstrations at New York City public schools stated that GILBERTO GERENA VALENTIN publically denied charge that he had been a communist. He denounced this charge as "irresponsible and without foundation".

Lieutenant [redacted] stated that the MOA was sponsored by the aforementioned Committee; the City-Wide Committee for Decent Housing; District 64, RWDSU; the National Association for Puerto Rican Civil Rights; and the New York State Counnil of NAACP branches. b6 b7C

The director of the March on Albany was identified as BAYARD RUSTIN, who has his headquarters on the 7th floor at 13 Astor Place, New York City, which address houses the RWDSU.

Lieutenant [redacted] stated that on March 2, 1964 RUSTIN was interviewed by a representative of the New York City Police Department and stated that it was expected that about 2000 people would arrive in Albany on March 10, 1964 to participate in the MOA. RUSTIN stated that the purpose of the March will be of a non-violent nature, will be to make demands for: 1. a $1.50 minimum hourly wage law statewide. 2. legalizing rent strikes. 3. unemployment insurance for voluntary hospital workers. 4. state human rights law protection for hospital workers. 5. an end to bias in apprenticeship programs. 6. state aid for quality integrated education. 7. no literacy tests for voting. 8. free tuition at city colleges and 9. massive low cost public housing.

Lieutenant [redacted] stated that as of March 4, 1964 the New York City Police Department had estimated that about 1700 people and 500 people by bus and train respectively would arrive in Albany on March 10, 1964 to participate in captioned activity.

On March 4, 1964, [redacted] advised that CORE will participate in the MOA and that he felt an estimated 3000 persons would journey to Albany on March 10, 1964 to participate. [redacted] stated that the major portion [redacted] would be from the New York City area but stated that groups from cities throughout New York State, such as Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse, would also send representatives to Albany on March 10, 1964.

b6

On March 11, 1964, Lieutenant [redacted] New York State Police Headquarters, Albany, advised that demonstration took place in Albany on March 10, 1964 as scheduled. It being noted that on that date the central and western regions of New York State experienced sleet, freezing rain and snow, the demonstrations numbered an estimated 3000 - 3500 persons, according to Lieutenant [redacted] He stated a number of buses of demonstrators coming from Buffalo and Utica, New York turned back because of hazardous road conditions.

[redacted] stated that based on observation of representatives of the New York State Police and the Albany Police Department, it was determined that the demonstrations were orderly and without incident and specifically there were no "sit-ins".

He stated the demonstrators were in the city of Albany from approximately 10:00 AM until the conclusion of their activities at 4:00 PM, when they departed via chartered bus and railroad.

Concerning the demonstration local press stories reported the following information:

Approximately 34 cities in New York State were represented. Most of the demonstrators were from the New York City area.

The MOA was sponsored by the New York State NAACP represented by Dr. EUGENE T. REED, President.

Co-sponsoring organizations and their representatives in the demonstration were identified as follows:

Citizens Committee for $1.50 Minimum Wage - A. PHILIP RANDOLPH, Chairman

New York City Committee for Decent Housing - JESSE GRAY, Chairman

Congress of Puerto Rican Municipalities - GILBERTO VALENTIN, President

CORE - JAMES FARMER, Director

District 65, RWDSU - DAVID DIVINGSTON, President

The coordinator for the demonstration was BAYARD RUSTIN, leader of the March on Washington, August 22, 1963.

Demonstrators pressed for approval of these demands:

a $1.50 an hour minimum wage in New York State legalized rent strikes

unemployment insurance for workers in non-profit hospitals laws protecting such hospital workers against discrimination

a ban on discrimination in apprenticeship programs state aid for "quality integrated education" elimination of literacy tests for voters free tuition at city colleges massive low cost public housing

The day's activity included a rally at the National Guard Armory, a street parade to the Capitol with speeches and interviews with Governor ROCKEFELLER and members of the New York State Legislature.

Following a meeting of demonstration leaders with the Governor, A. PHILIP RANDOLPH told newsmen that on the whole the committee was disappointed with the results. He said it was not believed the Governor was fully aware of the extent of the suffering of the Negroes and Puerto Ricans and that his group was unable to impress upon Governor ROCKEFELLER the emergency nature of those problems. He asserted the Governor expressed the belief that the $1.50 minimum wage law would not be passed by the current legislature. RANDOLPH said, however, the Governor showed an interest in extending collective bargaining rights to hospital employees on a statewide basis and to bring such workers under protection of state unemployment and anti-discrimination laws.

RANDOLPH said the Governor seemed friendly toward the idea of improving the quality of integrated education but "took no definite position; said he felt housing problems would be effectively dealt with if present laws were enforced" and indicated he would "look into the matter" of literacy tests.

The Albany, New York daily newspaper "Times Union" of March 11, 1964, page 8, reported one of the most fiery addresses at the rally was given by JESSE GRAY, Chairman of the New York City Committee for Decent Housing who was quoted as stating "while we're being "studied and X-rayed, rats are eating our children". It was reported GRAY declared that action on housing would be taken if notice was served on landlords that unless conditions are improved rent would not be paid.

GILBERTO VALENTIN reportedly won rounds of applause when he stated "if JESSE GRAY has a rent strike in Harlem, there may be a rent strike in the City of New York". It was further reported that DAVID LIVINGSTON declared that politicians of New York State were offering nothing but "sweet words". He demanded that the Governor recall the legislature after close of the present session to "deal with sweat shop wages".

In his speech before the group this article reported BAYARD RUSTIN declared "we won't win with a one day demonstration alone. Be prepared to come back again and again".

The Albany daily newspaper "Knickerbocker News" issue of March 10, 1964, page 1, also reported on the demonstration at the Capitol on that date. This article stated that in a key note address at the mass rally Dr. EUGENE T. REED in speaking of the injustices suffered by the Negroes and Puerto Ricans declared "we are literally being choked to death by discriminatory practices in every hamlet in America. I submit that what is needed is for Americans of good will to be 'political party' blind when in the voting booths. Since there are good and bad parties, let's reward the good and punish the bad".

This article also referred to a press conference held on the same date by Dr. REED at which he "lashed out" at two recently enacted state laws that give police additional powers of search. The article noted that the bills, called the "Knock Knock" and the "Stop and Frisk" laws, permit police to stop a person "reasonably" suspected of a crime and execute a special search warrant without notice.

Concerning these laws Dr. REED was reported as stating "they're bad in particular for Negroes and Puerto Ricans but they're bad also for white people. I am going to raise all kinds of hell. We're not going to tolerate any police officer taking our Negro women and frisking them for their own pleasure". It was reported that REED said he believed the laws to be unconstitutional.

The March 1, 1954 issue of the "Young Socialist Challenge", published as page 3 of "Labor Action", an official publication of the Independent Socialist League (ISL), contained an article concerning the creation of the Young Socialist League (YSL), which pointed out that at a unity conference occurring February 12-14, 1954, at Labor Action Hall, New York, New York, a merger occurred between the Young Peoples Socialist League (YPSL) and the Socialist Youth League (SYL). The new organization was named the YSL.

On April 9, 1956, another confidential source advised as follows:

The YSL has frequently worked in close sympathetic cooperation with the ISL toward similar objectives, although each major issue given mutual consideration is decided upon by these organizations individually. The YSL serves as an apprenticeship for the ISL, but the ISL selection of members from YSL ranks is made on an individual and personal basis. In many instances YSL members are also members of the ISL. The YSL and the ISL utilize the same printing house in New York City and the YSL publication is printed as an insert in "Labor Action". Frequently, lecturers before the YSL are ISL members.

The September 22, 1958 issue of "Young Socialist Challenge", which appeared as page 5 of "Labor Action", contained an undated statement from the National Action Committee of the YSL which indicated that the YSL had been dissolved. The statement appeared under the caption "Join the Young Peoples Socialist League".

The YPSL is publicly known as the youth affiliate of the SP - Social Democratic Federation.

"The Jewish Fraternalist" dated October 1947 self identified as the official publication of the Jewish People's Fraternal Order (JPFO) of the International Workers Order (IWO), on page 6, contained an article which reflected that the Emma Lazarus Division (ELD) of the JPFO was to hold its first national convention in New York City on November 15 and 16, 1947, after having been first established at a National Women's Conference called 3 years previously by the JPFO.

The "Morning Freiheit" on January 25, 1951, contained a report of the National Convention of the ELD of the JPFO which took place in New York City on January 20 and 21, 1951. At this convention it was noted that the ELD changed its name to Emma Lazarus Federation of Jewish Women's Clubs (ELF) and adopted a new constitution.

On April 25, 1963, a source advised that the ELF is one of several mass organizations comprising the Jewish cultural progressive movement. [redacted] who is a member of the [redacted] is the leading force in the organization, [redacted] is largely made up of communists. b6 b7C

The source stated that the ELF claims to be for peace and interested in protecting the rights of the foreign born. It is against the BEN GURION government of Israel, bomb testing, anti-Semitism, Negro discrimination and the rearmament of West Germany.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

The source related that the ELF renders support to and receives support from the "Morning Freiheit" and other Jewish progressive organizations.

The source also stated that the ELF is recognized by the CP, USA as an important progressive national organization of women.

The address of the national office of the ELF is 160 5th Avenue, room 911, New York City.

The IWO and JPFO have been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," revised and published as of December 1, 1961, to supersede Guide published on January 2, 1957, prepared and released by the Committee on Un-American Activities, U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., contains the following concerning the "Morning Freiheit:"

"1. A 'Communist Yiddish daily'. (Attorney General FRANCIS BIDDLE, Congressional Record, September 24, 1942, p. 7686).

"2. 'The Freiheit has been one of the rankest organs of communist propaganda in this country for almost a quarter of a century'.

CIRM

Reurlet 11/2/64 which enclosed ten copies of a letterhead memorandum (LHM) relating to Martin Luther King, Jr.'s, visit to Detroit, Michigan.

It is reported in the LHM that during King's speeches in Detroit, he stated he was opposed to the "Freedom Now Party." There followed a statement to the effect that characterization of "Freedom Now Party" appears in the Appendix to the LHM. The LHM, as received, consisted of a single page. No Appendix was included.

It is obvious, therefore, that the LHM, as submitted, cannot be disseminated by the Bureau. By return airtel, furnish the Bureau a revised LHM which should delete the reference to the fact that a characterization of the "Freedom Now Party" appears in the Appendix. In this connection, it should be noted that characterizations must be Bureau approved before they may be included in an Appendix. There is no Bureau approved characterization of the "Freedom Now Party." It is, therefore, suggested that in the revised LHM to be submitted, there be included a very brief statement identifying the "Freedom Now Party" if that Party is mentioned.

On October 26, 1964, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that he learned that [redacted] in contact with [redacted] according to the source, discussed [redacted] the latest developments concerning the article by Martin Luther King, Jr. (President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC)) which is scheduled to appear in the November 3, 1964 issue of "The Saturday Evening Post." She said that [redacted] wrote a letter to "The Saturday Evening Post" in which he referenced a telegram he had sent to the magazine publisher on October 20, 1964, in behalf of King. According to the source, the text of the telegram was in fact as follows: b6 b7C

"Confirming telephonic advices by 'us' [redacted] Martin Luther King, Jr., you have no authority to publish and distribute any materials or articles under the authorship of King. Should you disregard these advices you will be held accountable and responsible for all consequences."

Re: Communist Influence in

According to the source, [redacted] told [redacted] the article by King was going to "run without changes."

In reverting to the letter of [redacted] said it referenced a telephonic agreement between [redacted] and [redacted] of "The Saturday Evening Post," which provided that the printing of the article would be held in abeyance, and a new text of the middle section of King's article would be accepted. This agreement was breached and the original text was being printed, according to [redacted]

With reference to the consternation over King's article, on October 20, 1964, a second confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Bayard Rustin (Deputy Director of the March on Washington) said the article was, in fact, written by [redacted]. He said the article in its original text contained a statement by King that irresponsible leaders took over the civil rights movement following the March on Washington. According to Rustin, King gave permission to print without even reading the article. This statement, if allowed to stand, would cause serious trouble in the civil rights movement, Rustin said.

According to [redacted] concluded his letter by stating that in view of the public interest in the subject matter (the article) it was shocking that a responsible periodical could so flagrantly violate its clear agreement, and make light of genuine concern of King. He then demanded that "The Saturday Evening Post" cease and desist from publishing the November 3, 1964 article or any other under King's name unless they strictly follow the text delivered to [redacted] He said the magazine would be held accountable for all consequences. (U)

On October 22, 1964, confidential source number 2 advised that on that date, Rustin and Wachtel were in contact about King's article. In that regard, Wachtel told Rustin to inform King that most of the article was correct and that they (Rustin and Wachtel) had corrected the inaccuracies they had found. (U)

[redacted] in reply to the contents of [redacted] letter, said, "You can't force a magazine to run the text." He said he did not know who was advising Harry Wachtel, adding that he (Wachtel) did not have a leg to stand on. [redacted] replied that the whole thing (the article) had been mismanaged, and that Wachtel was trying to cover himself in the event King was questioned about the article, then Wachtel could say that "we" tried to enjoin the magazine from publishing it. [redacted] in conclusion, [redacted] was trying to "kill the article." (U)

[redacted] told [redacted] he was trying to get something in writing in case there should be a "backfire" from the article. (U)

Communist Influence In Racial Matters

In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned: "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights". In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party". He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states. (U)

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450. (U)

The "Daily Worker", February 11, 1957, page 1 column 2, reported that Bayard Rustin, Executive Secretary, War Resisters League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), held in New York City, on February 9-12, 1957. (U)

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958. (U)

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 25, 1963, that during a meeting of the National Board, CP, USA, on that date, Benjamin J. Davis remarked that, "Rustin calls me constantly--openly." (U)

Another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 19, 20, 1964, that Bayard Rustin contacted Benjamin J. Davis on those dates (U) and sought his advice as to how he could escape from a speaking engagement to which he was committed. On the latter contact, Davis told Rustin that he was working on his request and had contacted friends who had contacts with the group to which Rustin was to speak. (U)

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on January 21, 1964, that as of that date, Benjamin J. Davis was National Secretary of the CP, USA. (U)

"The New York Times", August 24, 1964, page 27, column 4, reports that Benjamin J. Davis, National Secretary, CP, USA, died in New York City on the night of August 22, 1964. (U)

A confidential source of this Bureau who has furnished reliable information in the past supplied the following information concerning a contact between Martin Luther King, Jr., and [redacted] said that now that the election is over they should think about what form "of struggle they should use," adding that he had been discussing it with "our friend." [redacted] said that he had heard rumors from responsible Democratic people in New York that King may be offered an official role in the Administration. [redacted] told King that King should think about this and that King must translate his moral influence into political power. King replied that he would think about the matter, taking into consideration "the movement and my personal goal." [redacted] also told King that King should think about what role "our friend" can play in this period, commenting that "our friend" had been helpful and has abided by the "decisions." [redacted] expressed the belief that "our friend" should be given some role inasmuch as "we're not in the same situation as we were with the Kennedy Administration." [redacted] also referred to the fact that the Civil Rights Bill is now the law. King replied "Good, after the election it would be a new situation."

[redacted] is [redacted] to King and in the [redacted] According to confidential sources of this Bureau who have furnished reliable information in the past King and [redacted] frequently refer to Stanley David Levison by the term "our friend" and [redacted] between King and Levison. As of July, 1[redacted] Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, USA.

Title: COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS 4

Character: INTERNAL SECURITY - C 4

Synopsis:

Strategy of Southern California District Communist Party (SCDCP) and W. E. B. Du Bois Clubs of America in Los Angeles (LA) district in racial matters set forth. Strategic approach of LA Local, Socialist Workers Party, Los Angeles Local - News and Letters Committees, Provisional Organizing Committee For a Marxist - Leninist Communist Party (POC), Young Socialist Alliance (LAB - YSA), and Workers World Party set out. Details of communist tactics and participation in demonstrations with racial overtones related. Efforts of communist penetration and influence in National Association For The Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), United Civil Rights Committee (UCRC), Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), March on Washington, Mississippi Summer Project, Non-Violent Action Committee (N-VAC), and Los Angeles Friends of Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) set out. [redacted] informants, [redacted] advised that SCDCP has been interested in racial situation for several years. These informants advised these proposals and plans of action have been subject of discussion. Informants stated SCDCP leadership in recent months has admitted that CP-USA has been without effective leadership in the Civil Rights struggle and are without any effective plan to gain the CP-USA or SCDCP a position of leadership in the Civil Rights Movement. DETAILS:

The purpose of this report is to show any communist influence in racial matters in the Los Angeles, California area. 4

With this in mind, a series of names of individuals appear in instant report for two reasons. One reason is to reflect their status as officers or people of responsibility in organizations of a racial nature. The other is to show the names of individuals having subversive affiliations who are influential in activities or demonstrations mentioned in the report. 4

For the purpose of facilitating the reporting of this information, characterizations of individuals has been reflected in a few instances where the information is recorded for the purpose of clarifying the relationship of the individual through the particular activity. In the majority of cases, however, the names appear in an alphabetical glossary which will be found toward the end of the report. In some instances individuals who are officers of particular organizations will not be characterized as their only reason for being included is that they are officers of an organization and there is no pertinent information concerning them. 4

Organizations when cited by the U. S. Attorney General pursuant to Executive Order 10450 will be described in this report, following the listing of the organization. If no citation appears, the characterization of the organization will appear in the appendix pages at the end of the report where pertinent and available. 4

On January 23, 1963, there was a joint meeting held in Los Angeles by the Mexican and Negro Commissions, SCDCP, to discuss the coming 9th Councilmanic elections in Los Angeles, and to decide whether to support the Negro candidate, or one of the Mexican candidates for office. No conclusion or agreement was reached. (U)

LA T-5 (2/20/63) U

Informant advised that the Negro Commission of the SCDCP has been almost inactive during recent months, meeting only on infrequent occasions, with short notice, to work on one particular item or activity. No regularly scheduled meetings of the Negro Commission are being held. (U)

A Discussion Unlimited [redacted] sponsored forum meeting was held on February 22, 1963, at the First Unitarian Church of Los Angeles (see appendix under Communist Infiltration of the First Unitarian Church of Los Angeles), 2936 West 8th Street, Los Angeles. The topic of this forum meeting was "Alternative Paths to Negro Freedom." BENJAMIN K. DAVIS, described by LA T-4 as National Secretary, CP, USA; described by LA T-20 as a member of the National Executive Committee, CP, USA; and described by both LA T-20 and LA T-23 as a Spokesman for the CP, USA; was one of the panel of four speakers at this meeting. The other three panel speakers were representatives, respectively, of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), the Nation of Islam (NOI) (see appendix) and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). U

LA T-4 advised that DAVIS spoke to the effect that the best path to Negro freedom is the unification of all Negro organizations; that an attempt should be made to get the present administration to pass legislation banning what he called "Jim Crowism"; and he concluded by stating to the effect that if complete integration and freedom for the Negro cannot be attained by peaceful means, that the Negro would use other methods as did the American people in 1776. U

LA T-20 advised that DAVIS spoke primarily on the role of the CP and its program of civil rights for the Negro people. 4

LA T-20 (3/6/63) 4

A joint meeting of the SCDCP Negro Commission and the Moranda Smith Section, SCDCP, was held on February 25, 1963 at 2128 3rd Avenue, Los Angeles, for the purpose of hearing a report by BEN DAVIS (supra) concerning the position of the CP relative to the present day struggles of the Negro. DAVIS observed that the CP is not leading the fight for full liberation of the Negro on all levels of the American scene and that the Negro is not looking to the CP for leadership in this fight. DAVIS stated that the CP must let its voice be heard in that fight through a concrete program of direct action toward liberating the Negro from all forms of oppression. (U)

LA T-1 (2/26/63) 4

At a meeting of the Youth Commission, SCDCP, on February 17, 1963, the question of working in mass organizations was raised and discussed at length. It was the concensus of the speakers that the following points were mandatory: (U)

1. An understanding of the different facets.

2. The real struggle is against segregation within white organizations.

3. People are looking for leadership and will seek out the best contributor. (U)

4. The effort must be part of and not isolated from the people's movement, such as churches and other organizations. The church, especially in the Negro youth, is considered to be the main source of struggle among the Negro people.

LA T-7 (3/22/63) (U)

In March, 1963, at a meeting of the Section Committee of the Moranda Smith Section, SCDCP, made up for the most part of Negroes, BILL TAYLOR, Chairman of the Negro Commission, SCDCP, complained that the CP is not getting the proper support from the Negro people, and that more work should be done in this area. (U)

LA T-6 (4/19/63)

DOROTHY HEALEY, Chairman of the SCDCP, announced on April 18, 1963, that the SCDCP would immediately embark on a program of complete support for the members of the Nation of Islam then on trial in Los Angeles on assault charges arising out of a riot with Los Angeles Police officers in April, 1962. (U)

According to HEALEY, this program of support would start immediately with a series of articles to appear in the "People's World"(PW) and would include direct support in the form of white picket lines. HEALEY said that this should provide an excellent vehicle to promote other phases of the Communist Party's program, including civil rights, discrimination, and unemployment. (U)

The PW is a west coast communist weekly newspaper. 4

Since March, 1963, members of the Negro Commission of the SCDCP have been discussing a resolution on Negro work prepared by the Communist Party of Northern California to replace the outmoded Negro resolution passed at the last National Convention of the CP, USA. CYRIL BRIGGS, member of the Negro Commission of the SCDCP, was given the responsibility of working on revisions and additions to the resolution prepared by the Northern California group, and prepared a draft. At a meeting of the Commission held in May, 1963, most of the members of the Negro Commission agreed with his statement that most of the Negro cadre left the CP because of white chauvinism. BILL TAYLOR, Chairman, was critical of the draft for oversimplifying the situation in the Negro community in relation to the CP, stating there was some talk of what the CP had done but little relationship to what the CP is doing. He said CP people should put up more of a struggle to attain leadership in other organizations and take a more definite stand for the CP in the Negro community. (U)

BRIGGS said his draft resolution also emphasized support of the Negro's right to self-defense in places such as Birmingham and the support that the Party should give to those Negroes who wanted to stand up and fight with guns and other means when they were trampled on, instead of just Party support for the non-violent movement. (U)

In May, 1963, BRIGGS, TAYLOR and [redacted] the latter a member of the [redacted] and of the [redacted] of the CP, USA, were assigned to draw up the final draft. (U)

LA T-63 (6/25/63) (U)

A meeting of the Jewish Commission, SCDCP, was held in Los Angeles on June 24, 1963. BEN DOBBS was main spokesman at this meeting and was present as Executive Secretary of the SCDCP. The theme of the meeting was the racial question, both nationally and locally. (U)

Without mentioning the names of individuals responsible, but speaking in the name of the SCDCP, DOBBS stated in effect that the SCDCP had attempted to establish rapport with the United Civil Rights Committee (UCRC) in their efforts and activities regarding integration in Los Angeles. He related that the CP was rebuffed and rejected by the UCRC in "no uncertain terms", with the UCRC questioning the motives of the Party. DOBBS said that even though the Party was rejected, it must continue its attempts in this regard. (U)

LA T-63 (6/25/63) (U)

BEN DOBBS, Executive Secretary of the SCDCP, on June 24, 1963, outlined the CP program in this District as it bears on the current campaign for integration and civil rights. He stressed the following points: (U)

The insistence on bringing Federal action to bear in the campaign for civil rights and the issuance by the President of a proclamation on the matter.

To render full support to civil rights legislation already on the books and to proposed civil rights legislation. (U)

To campaign against any and all violations of civil rights provisions of the Constitution.

To petition the Supreme Court for a clarification of its decision on school desegregation insofar as the phrase "full deliberate speed," is concerned.

Bring pressure to end de facto segregation in the North

Campaign for a national fair employment practices bill. (U)

DOBBS urged that the foregoing program be carried by Party leaders and members into all their mass organizational activities and contacts. (U)

LA T-13 (6/19/63) (U)

At a meeting of the Negro Commission, SCDCP, held on June 18, 1963, it was generally agreed that the CP is playing practically no role whatsoever in the Negro campaign for civil rights in the Los Angeles area. TAYLOR urged that the CP make a definite effort to involve women's fraternal and peace organizations as well as other youth, community, and Negro organizations, in the civil rights campaign. (U)

LA T-6 (6/24/63) (U)

The SCDCP considers the "People's World" (PW), a west coast communist weekly newspaper, to be a potent weapon in the struggle for civil rights, particularly in the Negro community and among Negro ministers. This source further observed that the party would like to "keep the pot boiling" through demonstrations supporting the Congress of Racial Equality, through youth clubs, and through individual members of the Moranda Smith Section SCDCP, which is predominantly Negro. An informant advised on July 2, 1963, that at a CP club meeting recently held in the Moranda Smith Section, SCDCP, a discussion was held on the CP role in the Negro integration movement in the Los Angeles area. SHIRLEY TAYLOR, chairman of the club and [redacted] in the SCDCP, reported that the Party is lagging behind in the local civil rights and integration program. She said the Party had not been able to "latch on" as a leader in the movement. According to [redacted] the Party is trying to figure out how and when it can interject itself as a leading factor in integration activities. (U) [redacted]

LA T-10 (7/11/63)

A source advised on July 11, 1963, that at a recent meeting of the Watts CP Club, DOROTHY HEALEY, Chairman, SCDCP, spoke on the Los Angeles integration movement. She stated that Party members should give the Negro people all assistance possible in their demonstrations. She urged all members to be active in Negro affairs and to render leadership when possible. HEALEY observed that one reason why the Negroes are moving in their campaign for integration is the fact that the Negro churches serve as a center for their activities. She contrasted the Negroes with the Mexican-American people, stating that the latter are, for the most part, devout Catholics, and their Church does not believe in such activity. According to HEALEY, the Catholic Church runs the lives of most Mexican-Americans both physically and religiously, and they will not move until the Church tells them to.

LA T-64 (7/19/63) (U)

At a meeting of the Orange County Club of the SCDCP, held in early July, 1963, BILL TAYLOR, Field Representative of the SCDCP, gave a report on the integration movement. He said much more was being accomplished than was originally intended. He said the original intent of the movement was to abolish 'Jim Crow' on buses. As each step was accomplished, another was set in motion. He said these steps came from the grass roots more often than from the officials in the organizations such as the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Congress on Racial Equality, etc. He said that nonviolence was the intention, but that some of the people would fight back if attacked by the opposing forces. He said the role of the CP was to stay in the background and to work through the organizations to which they belong. (U)

LA T-20 (7/19/63)

At a Section Leadership meeting of the Moranda Smith Section, SCDCP, held on July 15, 1963, discussion was held on an article written by JAMES JACKSON, member of the National Committee of the CP, USA, and Editor of "The Worker", an east coast communist newspaper. The article concerned the "Black Muslims" and the Negro people's freedom movement . JACKSON was critical of the Muslims and labeled them as "Racials". The article was read by [redacted] member of the [redacted] Section, and of the National Committee, CP, USA, and [redacted] said [redacted] was in complete disagreement with JACKSON, criticizing him severely for his stand in relation to the Muslims. [redacted] said that BENJAMIN DAVIS, national CP functionary, had said the CP could work along with the Muslims on certain issues, which the CP, as a whole has agreed to do, and that JAMES JACKSON should be highly challenged by the CP for his writings against the Muslims. (U) b6 b7C

It was agreed that the Moranda Smith Section would direct a written challenge to the National Committee of the CP against the views of JACKSON. (U)

LA T-9 (8/7/63) (U)

At a section committee meeting of the SCDCP, held in Los Angeles in late July, 1963, BEN DOBBS, Executive Secretary of the SCDCP, stated that no known Communists are leading the civil rights movement and that the CP cannot take credit for top leadership. He said that over the years the CP has worked in many organizations supporting the Negro people in their fight for civil rights, and that this work has had some effect on the present movement. (U)

LA T-6 (9/16/63) (U)

Informant advised that the District Board, SCDCP, met on September 5, 1963, in a special meeting called to discuss work in the Mexican community. It was pointed out that Mexican-Americans constitute the largest minority group in Los Angeles, and they have recently been successful in electing representatives to Congress and the California State Assembly. This has resulted in an increasingly high level of political consciousness in the Mexican community. Instrumental in this increasing political awareness, according to the SCDCP Board, has been the work of the Mexican-American Political Association. Other Mexican groups and organizations discussed were the GI (U)

Forum, Community Service Organization and the Council of Mexican Affairs. Some discussion was had relative to organizing a leftist group in the Mexican community, but it was agreed that there were already sufficient organizations in existence and the Party should concentrate in working in those mass organizations. The Board estimated that there was probably not more than a dozen Mexican CP members in the SCDCP, and stressed the need for Party members to render assistance to the SCDCP Mexican Commission. (U)

It was also agreed that additional forces from the Party, particularly Negro comrades, should be assigned to work in the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE). [redacted] stated that the problem with CORE is that it is dominated by a group which refuses to be objective and which launches demonstrative actions which sometimes force costly retreats. It was further agreed at the meeting that the emphasis in this field should be changed from "blockbusting" to "checker-board" housing integration, with concentration on lower and middle class housing and rental units, rather than on high-cost housing. [redacted] desired to establish District-wide coordination in this field of activity through this special committee. (U)

At a section council meeting of the Southern California District Communist Party (SCDCP), held in Los Angeles in early October, 1963, a report was given concerning recent developments in the Negro community. At an enlarged meeting of Section Organizers of the SCDCP, held in Los Angeles on October 23, 1963, DOROTHY HEALEY, Chairman, SCDCP, in speaking of the Negro struggle, stated that the main reason that the Negro movement is ahead today in its campaign for civil rights is because of the (U) fact that the movement has taken to the streets in its demonstrations. She continued that on the other hand, the CP should not fail to recognize that with the growth of the Negro people's movement in the United States, a reaction in the form of the growth of the ultra-right has also been produced. She stated that the CP must sharpen the militancy and the awareness of the trade unions of this growing ultra-right menace and must show that the campaign against civil rights is also a campaign against labor. (U)

LA T-10 (10/14/63) (U)

A Section Leadership meeting of the Moranda Smith Section, SCDCP, was held in Los Angeles in early October, 1963. BILL TAYLOR, a leading Negro functionary in the SCDCP, reported at this meeting that a gigantic power struggle was taking place between the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), and the National Association For The Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), for the leadership of the Negro Freedom movement and that the CP should unify or attempt to unify this leadership. TAYLOR also stated that all CP members should attend school board meetings and express their opinions on the racial struggle; that CP members should start a letter writing and telegram campaign to aid in getting the Civil Rights Bill passed; and that CP members should demand that their labor unions set up civil rights committees. (U)

LA T-20 (10/24/63) (U)

At the above mentioned Section Leadership meeting of the Moranda Smith Section, SCDCP, held in Los Angeles in early October, 1963, BILL TAYLOR, Field Representative for the SCDCP, stated that the CP membership in general is needed to push demands for civil rights and complete freedom for the Negro people. He continued that letters must be sent to U. S. Legislators to further develop the August 28, 1963, Negro Freedom march to Washington, D. C.; and that a push must also be made in trade unions in the struggle for jobs for Negroes. (U)

(The term "Black Muslims" refers to members of the Nation of Islam). (U)

[redacted] further reported that several proposals were made at the recent meeting of SCDCP section organizers among which were the following: (U)

That there be a fight for the creation of new jobs for Negro people; that there be a fight for a shorter work week;

that there be concrete support in labor unions in terms of security and apprenticeship for Negro workers;

that the CP find a way in all mass organizations to unite with the Negro Freedom movement and build the CP. (U)

[redacted] further informed that on the issue of the Christmas boycott nationally in commemoration of the Negro children who were killed in a recent bombing in Alabama, that a campaign is proposed to all mass organizations to get out leaflets and letters in support of a national Christmas boycott in terms of no purchasing of gifts, toys, Christmas cards and the like, in order to bring about economic pressure on big business to support the Negro Freedom movement. LA T-5 (10/29/63)

A meeting of SCDCP Section Organizers was held during the latter part of October, 1963, with DOROTHY HEALEY, Chairman, SCDCP present to give the principal report on the status of the Party. Among other remarks, HEALEY stated that the Party must resolve its own difficulties in order to be able to assist the mass movement. She said the membership must develop and express the concept of class unity and recognize that no class unity is possible without Negro-white unity. This unity must be expressed around the struggle for jobs, against automation, shorter work week, etc. She named the "three key struggles" in mass work as civil rights, jobs and peace. (U)

HEALEY stated that the major lesson for labor to be learned from the Negro movement is that the Negro masses "took to the streets" and the impact of their revolutionary struggles has forced Congress to consider civil rights legislation. She observed that the "do-nothing" attitude of labor has not achieved such results. (U)

LA T-6 (11/27/63)

Informant advised that the SCDCP Mexican Commission is reassessing the Party's role in the Mexican-American Political Association (MAPA). It was noted that the MAPA is gradually growing in its respectability and importance, particularly as a result of the attendance of Governor BROWN at the last convention of MAPA, and because other organizations are beginning to recognize MAPA as an important political force. It was also noted that MAPA would take on a "less progressive" note because of the leadership of its present full time organizer who is well known as a friend of many important politicians. The feeling was that as a result of these developments the Party would have to take a less dominant position in MAPA. DOROTHY HEALEY, Chairman, SCDCP, stated that there is need for a communist and left wing caucus in MAPA. She noted that the SCDCP is the only District with any Mexican representation and that it would therefore, be necessary for Southern California members to take the initiative in setting up such a caucus based on their own contacts in MAPA. HENRY WINSTON, a national functionary of the CP, USA, was present and spoke to the effect that if integration of the Negro people is to be fully achieved in the United States, it can only be done by such organizations as the CP, NAACP, the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and other such organizations all working together. SPONSORED SPEAKERS y

LA T-49 (4/9/63) y

LEROY MC RAE, YSA National Organizational Secretary, reporting on his national tour stopover in Los Angeles from February 19 to February 23, 1963, said he had addressed a scheduled meeting of 50 persons on the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA) on February 20, 1963. y

The UCLA Campus daily publication, the "Daily Bruin", for February 21, 1963, on page three carried an article entitled "Freedom Rider Mc Rae Decries Federal Gradualism". This article stated that "Leroy Mc Rae, one of the freedom riders, spoke on campus February 20, 1963"; he said that "The entire program of 'gradualism' in the area of civil rights is simply a promise of equality" and "is a dodge the Federal Government uses to justify its own indecisive action on civil rights". y

At a meeting of the Los Angeles Local - Socialist Workers Party (LAL-SWP), on February 20, 1963, at 1702 East Fourth Street, Los Angeles, California, LEROY MC RAE reported on his recent trans-continental tour speaking before YSA and other youth groups similarly inclined in the southern and middle United States areas; the announced objective of his tour was to solidify the SWP and YSA participation in minority group activities. y

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450. y

LA T-19 (12/16/63) y

On November 15, 1963, CLIFTON DE BERRY, sponsored by the YSA, spoke at UCLA to about 30 persons on Negro Rights. He stated that he was a candidate for the Office of Councilman in Brooklyn, New York. He said he believed the Negro communities should be able to take up arms in order to defend themselves; he cited examples of instances in which Negroes were armed and he claimed that this condition led to less violence. y

PUBLICATION "REPLY"

LA T-41 (2/13/63) (U) b6 b7C

At a meeting of the LAL-SWP [redacted] at 1702 East Fourth Street, Los Angeles, [redacted] said that the LAB-YSA was publishing a monthly paper called "Reply" which the YSA was going to use for its campus work, primarily at UCLA. (U)

The YSA's publication, "Young Socialist REPLY," Volume One, Number One, dated February 4 - 17, 1963, carries an article on the front page entitled "Why REPLY?". It states in part... "In establishing REPLY, it is our aim to bring Marxist views and analyses before an increasingly broader segment of the University population.....This newspaper will reply to attacks on human rights at all levels, and attacks on student, minority, and working class organizations and movements in particular. In our pages we will report on and discuss developments in the witch-hunt, the student movement, the struggle for Negro equality, and the Cuban Revolution. In the coming months we will bring our ideas into the forum of the University to be accepted or to be rejected, but to receive a hearing".

Publication of the YSA's "REPLY" was discontinued after the May - July, 1963, issue.

FORUM, NEGRO MATTERS

LA T-19 (6/26/63)

A YSA press release, undated, announced a YSA-Sponsored All-Negro Panel Forum on the "AFRO-American Revolt" at 5 Dudley Place, Venice, California, (no date indicated). The speakers were announced as including OTTO FARRAR of the "Militant Labor Forum" and GEORGE DAVIS.
